37 ¶ Who is he [e]that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the [17]LORD commandeth it not?
38 Out of the mouth of the Most High proceedeth not [f]evil and good?
39 [g]Wherefore doth a living man [18]murmur, [h]a man for the punishment of his sins?
40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to JEHOVAH.
41 [i]Let us lift up our heart with our hands to God in the heavens.
42 [k]We have transgressed and have rebelled: thou hast not pardoned.
43 Thou hast covered [19]thyself in anger, and persecuted us: [l]thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.
44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, [m]that our prayer [20]might not pass through.
45 Thou hast made us as the [n]offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.
46 [o]All our enemies have opened their mouths against us.
47 [p][21]Terror and a snare [22]have come upon us, [q]desolation and destruction.
48 [r]Mine eye runneth down with [23]streams of water for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
49 [s]Mine eye trickleth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission,
50 Until JEHOVAH [t]look down, and behold from heaven.
51 Mine eye [24]paineth my [25]soul ‖because of all the daughters of my city.
52 Mine enemies chased me [26], like a bird, [u]without cause.
53 They have cut off my life [x]in the dungeon, and [y]cast a stone upon me.
54 [z]Waters flowed over my head; then [a]I said, I am cut off.
55 ¶ [b]I called upon thy name, O JEHOVAH, out of the lowest dungeon.
56 [c]Thou [27]wilt hear my voice: hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.
57 Thou [d]drewest near in the day [28]when I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.
58 O LORD, thou hast [e][29]maintained the causes of my soul; [f]thou hast redeemed my life.
59 O JEHOVAH, thou hast seen my wrong: [g]judge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their [h][30]devices against me.
61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O JEHOVAH, and all their [31]devices against me;
62 The lips of those who rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.
63 Behold their [i]sitting down, and their rising up; [k]I am their music.
64 ¶ [l]Render to them a recompence, O JEHOVAH, according to the work of their hands.
65 Give them [32]blindness of heart, thy curse to them.
66 Persecute and destroy them in anger [m]from under the [n]heavens of JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Zion bewaileth her pitiful estate. 13 She confesseth her sins. 21 Edom is threatened. 22 Zion is comforted.

HOW is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out [e][1]at the head of every street.
2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed [b]as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!
3 Even the [2]jackals †draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people [3]hath become cruel, [c]like the ostriches in the [4]desert.
4 [d]The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: [e]the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it to them.
5 Those who did feed [5]on dainties are desolate in the streets: those who were brought up in scarlet [f]embrace dunghills.
6 For the ‖punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom, which

7 Her Nazarites were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than [8]rubies, their [9]appearance was like sapphire:

8 Their visage is †[h]blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: [i]their skin [10]sticketh to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 [11]Those slain with the sword are better than [12]those slain [13]by hunger: for these †pine away, [14]pierced through for want of the fruits of the field.

10 [k]The hands of the [l][15]tender-hearted women have [16]boiled their own children: they were their [m]meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 JEHOVAH hath accomplished his fury; [n]he hath poured out his fierce anger, and [o]hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy [17]would have entered [18] the gates of Jerusalem.

13 ¶ [p]For the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, [q]who have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her,

14 They have wandered [19]like blind men in the streets, [r]they have polluted themselves with blood, ‖[s]so that men could not touch their garments.

15 They cried to them, Depart ye; [20] ‖[t]unclean; depart, depart, touch not: when they fled away and wandered, they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.

16 The ‖anger of JEHOVAH hath [21]scattered them; he will no more regard them: [u]they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, [w]our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.

18 [x]They [22]laid snares for our steps, [c]so that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for [y]our end is come.

19 Our persecutors are [z]swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us on the mountains, they laid wait for us in the [23]desert.

20 The [a]breath of our nostrils, the anointed of JEHOVAH, [b]was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.

21 ¶ [c]Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, who dwellest in the land of Uz; [d]yet the cup [24] shall pass through to thee: thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

22 ¶ [e]‖The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion; he will no more carry thee away into captivity: [f]he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom; he will ‖[25]uncover thy sins.

CHAPTER V.

A pitiful complaint of Zion in prayer to God.

[a]REMEMBER, O JEHOVAH, what [1]hath come upon us: [2]look attentively, and behold [b]our reproach.

2 [c]Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are [3]like widows.

4 We have drunk our water for money; our wood †is sold to us.

5 [d]†Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.

6 [e]We have given the hand [f]to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 [g]Our fathers have sinned, and [h]are [4]no more; and we have borne their iniquities.

8 [i]Servants have ruled over us: there is [5]no one who doth deliver us [6]from their hand.

9 We got our bread with the peril of our lives because of the sword of the [7]desert.

10 Our [k]skin was black like an oven because of the ‖terrible famine.

11 [l]They [8]violated the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes [9]were hanged up by their hand: [m]the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men [n][10]for the mill, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their music.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased; our dance is turned into mourning.

16 [o]†The crown is fallen from our head: wo to us, that we have sinned!

17 For this [p]our heart is faint; [q]for these things our eyes are dim, 18 [11]For mount Zion, which is desolate; the foxes walk on it.

19 Thou, O JEHOVAH, [r]remainest for ever; [s]thy throne from generation to generation.

20 [t]Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us †so long [u]a[12] time?

21 [w]Turn thou us to thyself, O JEHOVAH, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old.

22 [12]For shouldest thou utterly reject us; shouldest thou be very angry with us?

CHAPTER I.

1 The time of Ezekiel's prophecy at Chebar. 4 His vision of four cherubim, 15 of the four wheels, 26 and of the glory of God.

NOW it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the †captives [a]by the river [1] Chebar, that [b]the heavens were opened, and I saw [c]visions of God.

2 On the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of [d]king Jehoiachin's captivity,

3 The word of JEHOVAH came expressly to †[2]Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and [e]the hand of JEHOVAH was there upon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, [f]a whirlwind came [g]out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itself, and a brightness was

5 [h]Also [9]from the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And [i]this was their appearance; they had [h]the likeness of a man.

6 And [10]each one had four faces, and [11]each one had four wings.

7 And their [12]legs were straight [13]legs; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled [l]like the colour of burnished brass.

8 [m]And they had the [14]hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 [n]Their wings were joined one to another; [o]they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 As for [p]the likeness of their faces, they four [q]had the face of a man, [r]and the face of a lion, on the right side: [s]and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; [t]they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were [15]spread out above; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and [u]two covered their bodies.

12 And [x]they went every one straight forward; [y]whither the spirit was to go, they went; and [z]they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, [a]and like the appearance of lamps: it [16]went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures [b]ran and returned [c][17]like the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold [d]one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with its four faces.

16 [e]The appearance of the wheels and their work was [f]like to the colour of a [18]beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides: [g]and they [19]turned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful; and their ‖rings were [h]full of eyes [20]around those four.

19 And [i]when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 [k]Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go; and the wheels were lifted up over against them: [l]for the spirit ‖of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 [m]When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit ‖of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 [n]And the likeness of [21]a firmament [22]above the heads of the living creature was [23]like the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one towards the other:

o ch. 8. 3. Jer. 1. 9.

[24]each one had two, which covered on this side, and [25]each one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.

24 [o]And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, [p]like the noise of great waters, [26]like [q]the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, [27]like the noise of a host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament which was [28]above their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ [r]And above the firmament that was over their heads was [29]a likeness of a throne, [s]as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and on the likeness of the throne was [30]a likeness as the appearance of a man above on it.

27 [t]And I saw as the colour of amber, [31]like the appearance of fire [32]around within it, from the appearance of his loins even upwards, and from the appearance of his loins even downwards, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness [33]around.

28 [u][34]Like the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness [35]around. [x]This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of JEHOVAH. And when I saw it, [y]I fell on my face, and I heard a voice of one who spoke.

CHAPTER II.

1 Ezekiel's commission. 6 His instruction. 9 The roll of his heavy prophecy.

AND he said to me, Son of man, [e]stand on thy feet, and I will speak to thee.

2 And [b]the spirit entered into me when he spoke to me, and set me on my feet, ‘so’ that I heard him who spoke to me.

3 And he said to me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious [†]nation that hath rebelled against me: [c]they and their fathers have transgressed against me, [1] to this very day.

4 [d]For they are [†]impudent children and stiff-hearted. I do send thee to them; and thou shalt say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

5 [e]And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet [f]shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 ¶ And thou, son of man, [g]be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though ‖[h]briers and thorns [2]are with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: [i]be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, [k]though they [3]are a rebellious house.

7 [l]And thou shalt speak my words to them, [m]whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are [4] rebellious.

8 But thou, son of man, hear what I say to thee; Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and [n]eat that ‘which’ I give thee.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, [o]a hand was sent to me; and lo, [p]a roll of a book was therein;

10 And he spread it before me: and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and wo.

CHAPTER III.

1 Ezekiel eateth the roll. 4 God encourageth him. 15 God sheweth him the rule of prophecy. 22 God shutteth and openeth the prophet's mouth.

MOREOVER he said to me, Son of man, eat that 'which' thou findest; [a]eat this roll, and go speak to the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said to me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll which I give thee. Then did I [b]eat it; and it was in my mouth [c][1]like honey for sweetness.

4 ¶ And he said to me, Son of man, go, get thee to the house of Israel, and speak with my words to them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people †of a strange speech and of a hard language, but to the house of Israel;

6 Not to many people †of a strange speech and of a hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. ‖Surely, [d]had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened to thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken to thee; [e]for they will not hearken to me: [f]for all the house of Israel are †impudent and hard-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face [2]firm against their faces, and thy forehead [3]firm against their foreheads.

9 [g]As [4]a diamond, harder than flint have I made thy forehead: [h]fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they [5]are a rebellious house.

10 Moreover he said to me, Son of man, all my words which I shall speak to thee receive in thy heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to those of the captivity, to the children of thy people, and speak to them, and tell them, [i]Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then [k]the spirit [6]lifted me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of JEHOVAH from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures who †touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So [l]the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went †in bitterness, in the †heat of my spirit; but [m]the hand of JEHOVAH was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to those of the captivity at Tel-abib, who dwelt by the river [7]Chebar, and [n]I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

17 [o]Son of man, I have made thee [p]a watchman to the house of Israel: therefore hear the word [8]from my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say to the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man [q]shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; [r]but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, When a [s]righteous man doth turn from his †righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ [t]And the hand of JEHOVAH was there on me; and he said to me, Arise, go forth [u]into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and behold, [x]the glory of JEHOVAH stood there, [9]like the glory which I [y]saw by the river [10]Chebar: [z]and I fell on my face.

24 Then [a]the spirit entered into me, and set me on my feet, and spoke with me, and said to me, Go, shut thyself within thy house.

25 [11]And thou, O son of man, behold, [b][12]bands shall be put upon thee, and [13]thou shalt be bound with them, and thou shalt not go out among them:

26 And [c]I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, 'so' that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them †a reprover: [d]for they are a rebellious house.

27 [e]But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say to them, [f]Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; He who heareth, let him hear; and he who forbeareth, let him forbear: [g]for they are a rebellious house.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Under the type of a siege is shewed the time from the defection of Jeroboam to the captivity. 9 By the provision of the siege, is shewed the hardness of the famine.

THOU also, son of man, take thyself a [1]tile, and lay it before thee, and portray upon it [2]a city, even Jerusalem;

2 And lay siege against it, and build a [3]tower against it, and cast 'up' a mount against it; set [4]a camp also against it, and set ‖battering rams against it [5]around.

3 Moreover take thou to thyself ‖an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. [a]This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Lie thou also on thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days which thou shalt lie on it thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have [6]appointed for thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: [b]so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee †each day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face towards the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

9 ¶ Take thou also to thyself wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and ‖fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thyself bread thereof, according to the number of the days which thou shalt lie on thy side; three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And thy [7]food which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with [8]ordure proceeding from man, in their sight.

13 And JEHOVAH said, Even thus [d]shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, [e]Ah Lord JEHOVAH! behold, [9]I have not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of [f]that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there [5]abominable flesh into my mouth.

15 Then he said to me, Lo, I have given thee cow's [10]ordure for man's [11]ordure, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover he said to me, Son of man, behold, I will break the [h]staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall [i]eat bread by weight, and with care; and they shall [k]drink water by measure, and with astonishment:

17 That they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and [l] [12]pine away for their iniquity.

CHAPTER V.

1 Under the type of hair, 5 is shewed the judgment of Jerusalem for their rebellion, 12 by famine, sword, and dispersion.

AND thou, son of man, take thyself a sharp knife, take thee a barber's razor, [a]and cause it to pass [1]over thy head and [2]over thy beard: then take thyself balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 [b]Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of [c]the city, when [d]the days of the siege [3]shall have been fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with [4]the knife: and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind; and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 [e]Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy †skirts.

4 Then take of them again, and [f]cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire: for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; This is Jerusalem; I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are [5]around her.

6 And she hath changed my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my [6]ordinances more than the countries which are [7]around her: for they have refused my judgments and my [8]ordinances, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because ye [9]raged more than the nations which are [10]around you, and have not walked in my [11]ordinances, neither have kept my judgments, [g]neither have done according to the judgments of the nations who are [12]around you;

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.

9 [h]And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and the like to which I will not do any more, because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers [i]shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I [k]scatter [13]towards all the winds.

11 [14]Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Surely, because thou hast [l]defiled my sanctuary with all thy [m]detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; [n]neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pity.

12 ¶ [o]A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, [15]or with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and [p]I will scatter a third part [16]towards all the winds, and [q]I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger [r]be accomplished, and I will [s]cause my fury to rest on them, [s]and I will be comforted: [t]and they shall know that I JEHOVAH have spoken it in my zeal, when I 'shall' have accomplished my fury [17]upon them.

14 Moreover, [z]I will make thee [18]a desolation, and a reproach among the nations who are [19]around thee, in the sight of all who pass by.

15 So it shall be a [y]reproach and a [20]reviling, a warning and an astonishment to the nations who are [21]around thee, when I shall execute judgments [22]upon thee in anger, and in fury, and in [z]furious rebukes. I JEHOVAH have spoken it.

16 When I shall [a]send upon them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, [23] which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your [b]staff of bread:

17 [24]And I will send upon you famine and [c]evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and [d]pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee. I JEHOVAH have spoken it.

CHAPTER VI.

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face towards the [b]mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

3 And say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord JEHOVAH: Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to the mountains, and to the hills, to the [1]streams, and to the valleys; Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you and [c]I will destroy your high places.

5 And I will †lay the dead carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones [2]around your altars.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and 'that' your idols may be broken and cease, and 'that' your images may be cut down, and 'that' your works may be abolished.

7 And 'that' the slain [3]may fall in the midst of you, and 'that' [e]ye [4]may know that I am JEHOVAH.

8 ¶ [f]Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some who shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And [5]those of you who escape shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, because [g]I am broken with their [6]lewd heart, which hath departed from me, and [h]with their eyes which go [7]lewdly after their idols: and [i]they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am JEHOVAH, and that I have not said in vain that I would do this evil to them.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Smite [k]with thy hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel! [l]for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off shall die [8]by the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: [m]thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then [n]shall ye know that I am JEHOVAH, when their slain men shall be among their idols [9]around their altars, [o]on every high hill, [p]on all the tops of the mountains, and [q]under every green tree, and under every thick [10]oak, the place where they did offer sweet [11]odour to all their idols.

14 So will I [r]stretch out my hand on them, and make the land desolate, yea, ‖more desolate than the [12]desert towards [s]Diblath, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The final desolation of Israel. 16 The mournful repentance of them that escape. 20 The enemies defile the sanctuary because of the Israelites' abominations. 23 Under the type of a chain is shewed their miserable captivity.

MOREOVER the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to the land of Israel; [a]An end, the end is come on the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come on thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and [b]will judge thee according to thy ways, and will †recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And [c]mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: [d]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

5 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come: it †watcheth for thee; behold, it is come.

7 [e]The [1]change is come on thee, O thou that dwellest in the land: [f]the time is come, the day of [2]consternation is near, and not the [3]rejoicing of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly [g]pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: [h]and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.

9 And 'mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompense †thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations which are in the midst of thee; [i]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come: [j]the change is gone forth; the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 [m]Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their ‖multitude, nor of any of ‖theirs: [n]neither shall there be wailing for them.

12 [o]The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is on all the multitude thereof.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, †although they were yet alive: for the vision is [4]concerning the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return; neither shall any strengthen himself [5]by †the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is on all the multitude thereof.

15 [p]The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he who is in the field shall die with the sword; and he who is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 ¶ But [q][6]those of them who are to escape shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them [7]clamouring, every one for his iniquity.

17 All [r]hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall †be weak as water.

18 They shall also [s]gird themselves with sackcloth, and [t]horror shall cover them; and shame shall be on all faces, and baldness on all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be †[8]like an unclean thing: their [u]silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of JEHOVAH: they shall not satisfy their [9]appetites, neither fill their bowels: ‖because it [10]was [x]the stumbling-block of their iniquity.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: [y]but they made the images of their abominations and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I [11]made it an unclean thing to them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a [12]booty; and they shall pollute it.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Ezekiel, in a vision of God at Jerusalem, 5 is shewed the image of jealousy, 7 the chambers of imagery, 13 the mourners for Tammuz, 15 the worshippers towards the sun. 18 God's wrath for their idolatry.

[1]NOW it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, and [a]the elders of Judah sat before me, that [b]the hand of the Lord JEHOVAH fell there upon me.

2 [c]Then I beheld, and lo a likeness [2]like the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downwards, fire; and from his loins even upwards, [3]like the appearance of brightness, [d][4]like the colour of amber.

3 And he [e]put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and [f]the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heavens, and [g]brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate which looketh towards the north; [h]where was the seat of the [5]idol of jealousy, which [i]provoketh to jealousy.

4 And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I [k]saw in the plain.

5 ¶ Then said he to me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way towards the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar this [6]idol of jealousy in the [7]entrance.

6 He said furthermore to me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations which the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far [8] from my sanctuary? but turn thyself yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he to me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said to me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations which they do here.

10 So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall [9]around.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the [10]elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with [11]each man his censer in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he to me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the [12]elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, [13]each man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, [l]JEHOVAH seeth us not; JEHOVAH hath forsaken the earth.

13 ¶ He said also to me, Turn thyself yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations which they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of JEHOVAH's house which was towards the north; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 ¶ Then said he to me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thyself yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of JEHOVAH's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of JEHOVAH, [m]between the porch and the altar, [n]were about five and twenty men, [o]with their backs towards the temple of JEHOVAH, and their faces towards the east; and they worshipped [p]the sun towards the east.

17 ¶ Then he said to me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? ‖Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have [q]filled the land with violence, and have [14]continually provoked me [15]: and lo, they put the branch to their [16]nose.

18 [r]Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine [s]eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they [t]cry in [17]my hearing with a loud voice, yet I will not hear them.

CHAPTER IX.

1 A vision, whereby is shewed the preservation of some, 5 and the destruction of the rest. 8 God cannot be entreated for them.

HE cried also in [1]my hearing with a loud voice, saying, Cause those who have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, †which lieth towards the north, and every man †a slaughter-weapon in his hand; [a]and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkstand †by his side: and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And [b]the glory of the God of Israel [2]had gone up from the cherub whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, who had the writer's inkstand by his side;

4 And JEHOVAH said to him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and †set [c]a mark upon the foreheads of the men [d]who sigh and who cry for all the abominations which [3]are done in the midst thereof.

5 ¶ And to the others he said in †my hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: [e]let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity:

7 And he said to them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to pass while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I [k]fell on my face, and cried, and said, [l]Ah Lord JEHOVAH! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he to me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great, and [m]the land is †full of blood, and the city full of ‖[5]wrong: for they say, [n]JEHOVAH hath forsaken the earth, and [o]JEHOVAH seeth not.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen, who had the inkstand by his side, †reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAPTER X.

1 The vision of the coals of fire, to be scattered over the city. 8 The vision of the cherubim.

THEN I looked, and behold, in the [e]firmament which was above the head of the cherubim there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, [1]like the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 [b]And he spoke to the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill †thy hand with [c]coals of fire from between the cherubim, and [d]scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 [e][2]Now the glory of JEHOVAH [3]had been lifted from the cherub, and [4]was standing over the threshold of the house; and [f]the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of JEHOVAH's glory.

5 And the [g]sound of the cherubim's wings was heard even to the outer court, as [h]the voice of [5] Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubim; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub †stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim to the fire which was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him who was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ [i]And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 [k]And when I looked, behold [6] four wheels by the cherubim, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was [7]like the colour of a [8]beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 [m]When they went, they went on their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole †body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and [n]the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels which they four had.

13 As for the wheels, ‖it was cried to them in my hearing, [9]O wheel!

14 [o]And [10]each one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubim were lifted up. This is [p]the living creature which I saw by the river [11] Chebar.

16 [q]And when the cherubim went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 [r]When they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit ‖of the living creature was in them.

18 Then [s]the glory of JEHOVAH [t]departed from [12] the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim.

19 And [u]the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and [13]each stood at the door of the east gate of JEHOVAH's house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 [x]This is the living creature which I saw under the God of Israel [y]by the river [14] Chebar; and I knew that they were the cherubim.

21 [z][15]Each had four faces [16], and [17]each one four wings; [a]and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And [b]the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: [c]they went every one straight forward.

MOREOVER, [a]the spirit lifted me up, and brought me to [b]the east gate of JEHOVAH's house, which looketh eastward: and behold [c]at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he to me, Son of man, these are the men who devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:

3 Who say, ‖It is not [d]near; let us build houses: [e]this city is the caldron, and we [1]are the flesh.

4 ¶ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

5 And [f]the Spirit of JEHOVAH fell upon me, and said to me, Speak; Thus saith the LORD; Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

8 Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

9 And I will bring you [3]from the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and [k]will execute judgments among you.

10 [l]Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in [m]the [4]region of Israel; [n]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

11 [o]This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in the [5]region of Israel:

12 And [p]ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH: ‖for ye have not walked in [6]mine ordinances, neither executed my judgments, but [q]have done [7]according to the manners of the heathen who are [8]around you.

13 ¶ And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that [r]Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then [s]fell I down on my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord JEHOVAH! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly, are those to whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, [9]Remove far from JEHOVAH: to us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, [t]yet will I be to them [10]like a sanctuary for a short time in the countries where they shall 'have' come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [u]I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you [11]from the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and [x]they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And [y]I will give them one heart, and I will put [z]a new spirit within you; and I will take [a]the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh:

20 [b]That they may walk in [12]mine ordinances, and keep [13]my judgments, and do them: [c]and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for those whose heart walketh after the [14]desire of their detestable things and their abominations, [d]I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

22 ¶ Then did the cherubim [e]lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

23 And [f]the glory of JEHOVAH went up from the midst of the city, and stood [g]on the mountain [h]which is on the east side of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards [i]the spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to those of the captivity. So the vision which I had seen went up from me.

25 Then I spoke to those of the captivity all the things which JEHOVAH had shewed me.

CHAPTER XII.

THE word of JEHOVAH also came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of [a]a rebellious house, who [b]have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: [c]for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thyself ‖stuff for [1]captivity, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight; it may be they will consider, though they [2]are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, [3]like stuff for [4]captivity: and thou shalt go forth [5]in the evening in their sight, †as those who go forth into captivity.

5 †Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it on thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: [d]for I have set thee for a sign to the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I [6]had been commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captivity, and in the evening I †digged through the wall with my hand; I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bore it on my shoulder in their sight.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of JEHOVAH to me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, [e]the rebellious house, said to thee, [f]What doest thou?

10 Say thou to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; This [g]burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel who are among them.

11 Say, [h]I am your sign: [7]as I have done, so shall it be done to them: †[i]they shall remove and go into captivity.

12 And [k]the prince who is among them shall bear on his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My [l]net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and [m]I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And [n]I will scatter towards every wind all who are [8]around him to help him, and all his bands; and [o]I will draw out the sword after them.

15 [p]And they shall know that I am JEHOVAH, when I shall [9]have scattered them among the nations, and dispersed them in the countries.

16 [q]But I will leave [†]a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

17 ¶ Moreover the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, [r]eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with [10]anxiety;

19 And say to the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH [11]concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel; They shall eat their bread with [12]anxiety, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may [s]be desolate from [†]all that is therein, [t]because of the violence of all those who dwell therein.

20 And the cities which are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

21 ¶ And the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb which ye have in the land of Israel, saying, [u]The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say to them, [x]The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For [y]there shall be no more any [z]vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am JEHOVAH: I will speak, and [a]the word which I shall speak shall come to pass; it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

26 ¶ Again the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

27 [b]Son of man, behold, those of the house of Israel say, The vision which he seeth is [c]for many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times which are far off.

28 [d]Therefore say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 The reproof of lying prophets, 10 and their untempered mortar. 17 Of prophetesses and their pillows.

AND the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who prophesy, and say thou to [a]†those who prophesy [1]from their own [b]hearts, Hear ye the word of JEHOVAH;

3 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Wo to the foolish prophets, who †follow their own spirit, ‖and have seen nothing!

4 O Israel, thy prophets are [c]like the [2]foxes in the deserts.

5 Ye [d]have not gone up into the ‖gaps, neither †made up the hedge for the house of Israel to stand in the battle in the day of JEHOVAH.

6 [e]They have seen [3]falsehood, even lying divination, saying, JEHOVAH saith: [4]when JEHOVAH hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not seen a [5]false vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, [6]when ye say, JEHOVAH saith it, [7]though I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because ye have spoken [8]falsehood, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

9 And my hand shall be on the prophets who see [9]falsehood, and who divine lies: they shall not be in the ‖assembly of my people, [f]neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, [g]neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; [h]and ye shall know that I am the Lord JEHOVAH.

10 ¶ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, [i]Peace; and there was no peace; and one built up ‖a wall, and lo, others [k][10]plastered it with untempered mortar:

11 Say to those who [11]plaster it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: [l]there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, [12]will it not be said to you, Where is the [13]plastering wherewith ye have [14]plastered it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to [15]finish it.

14 So will I break down the wall which ye have [16]plastered with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be [17]uncovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be [18]destroyed in the midst thereof: [m]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon those who have [19]plastered it with untempered mortar, and will say to you, The wall is no more, neither those who [20]plastered it;

16 [21]Even the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who [n]see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

17 ¶ Likewise, thou son of man, [o]set thy face against the daughters of thy people, [p]who prophesy [22]from their own heart; and prophesy thou against them,

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Wo to the women who sew pillows to all [23]elbows, and make [24]cushions on the head of every stature to hunt [25]persons! Will ye [q]hunt the [26]persons of my people, and will ye save the [27]persons alive who come to you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people [r]for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the [28]persons who should not die, and to save the [29]persons alive who should not live, by your lying to my people who [30]listen to your lies?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the [31]persons ‖to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the [32]persons go,

CHAPTER XIV.

1 God answereth idolaters according to their own heart. 6 They are exhorted to repent, for fear of judgments, by means of seduced prophets. 12 God's irrevocable sentence of famine, 15 of noisome beasts, 17 of the sword, 19 and of pestilence. 22 A remnant shall be reserved for example of others.

THEN [a][1]some of the elders of Israel came to me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put [b]the stumbling-block of their iniquity before their face: [c]should I be inquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak to them, and say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Every man of the house of Israel who setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I JEHOVAH will answer him who cometh according to the multitude of his idols;

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Repent, and turn [2] from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger who sojourneth in Israel, who separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to inquire of him concerning me; I JEHOVAH will answer him by myself:

8 And [d]I will set my face against that man, and will make him a [e]sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; [f]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

9 And if [3]the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I JEHOVAH [5]have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand on him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even [4]like the punishment of him who seeketh to him;

11 That the house of Israel may [h]go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions; [i]but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

12 ¶ The word of JEHOVAH came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then I will stretch out my hand upon it, and will break the [k]staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 [l]Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver [5]only their own souls [m]by their righteousness, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

15 ¶ If I cause [n][6]evil beasts to pass through the land, and they [7]bereave it, so that it be desolate, ‘so’ that no man [8]can pass through because of the beasts:

16 [o]Though these three men were †in it, as I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, they [9]should deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only [10]should be delivered, but the land [11]should be desolate.

17 ¶ Or if [p]I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I [q]cut off man and beast from it:

18 [r]Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, they [12]should deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only [13]should be delivered themselves.

19 ¶ Or if I send [s]a pestilence into that land, and [t]pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 [u]Though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, they [14]should deliver neither son nor daughter; they [15]should only deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; ‖How much more when [x]I send my four [16]grievous judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the [17]evil beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?

22 ¶ [y]Yet, behold, therein shall be left a remnant which shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth to you, and [z]ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil which I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all which I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their ways and their doings; and ye shall know that I have not done [a]without cause all which I have done in it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XV.

1 By the unfitness of the vine branch for any work 6 is shewed the rejection of Jerusalem.

AND the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [1]How is the vine-tree [2]better than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, [c]it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the [3]middle of it is burned. †Is it [4]fit for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was †[5]fit for no work: how much less shall it be [6]fit yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Under the similitude of a wretched infant is shewed the natural state of Jerusalem. 6 God's extraordinary love towards her. 15 Her monstrous whoredom. 35 Her grievous judgment. 44 Her sin, matching her mother, and exceeding her sisters, Sodom and Samaria, calleth for judgments. 60 Mercy is promised her in the end.

AGAIN the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to Jerusalem; Thy †[1]nativity [b]and thy [2]birth was of the land of Canaan; [c]thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother a Hittite.

4 And as for thy [3]birth, [d]in the day thou wast born thy navel-'cord' was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water ‖to [4]cleanse thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor [5]swathed at all.

5 [6]No eye pitied thee, to do any of these to thee, to have compassion on thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, [7]in the loathing of thy person, in the day [8]when thou wast born.

6 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee [9]trodden under foot in thine own blood, I said to thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live; yea, I said to thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

7 [e]I have †caused thee to [10]increase like the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and [11]become great, and thou [12]hast attained to †excellent ornaments: thy breasts are [13]formed, and thy hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; [f]and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore to thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, and [g]thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy †blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with embroidered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee [14]around with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I [h]put bracelets on thy [15]wrists, [i]and a [16]collar on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy †forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown on thy head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and embroidered work; [k]thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou wast exceedingly [l]beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And [m]thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

15 ¶ [n]But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, [o]and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy [17]lewdness on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 [p]And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images †of men, and didst commit [18]lewdness with them.

18 And [19]didst take thine embroidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 [q]My [20]food also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for †a sweet [21]odour: and thus it was, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

20 [r]Moreover, thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou [22]hadst borne to me, and these hast thou sacrificed to them †to be devoured. Is this of thy [23]lewdness a small matter,

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire [24]to them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy [25]lewdness thou hast not remembered the days of thy 'youth, 'when thou wast naked and bare, and wast [26]trodden under foot in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass, after all thy wickedness, (wo, wo to thee! saith the Lord JEHOVAH;)

24 That [u]thou hast also built [27]for thyself a brothel house, and [z]hast made thee a high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place [y]at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one who passed by, and multiplied thy [28]lewdness.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with [a]the Egyptians thy neighbours, great [29]men; and hast increased thy [30]lewdness, to provoke me[31].

27 Behold, therefore I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee to the will of those who hate thee, [c]the ‖daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 [b]Thou hast played the [32]harlot also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast, moreover, multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan [e]to Chaldea; and yet 'with this' thou wast not satisfied[33].

30 How weak is thy heart, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious, [34]lewd woman;

31 ‖In that [d]thou buildest [35]thy brothel house at the head of every way, and makest thy high place in every street; and hast not been as a harlot, in that thou scornest hire;

33 They give gifts to all [36]harlots: but [a]thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and [†]hirest them, that they may come to thee on every side for thy [37]lewdness.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy [38]lewdness, whereas none followeth thee to commit [39]lewdness: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given to thee; therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of JEHOVAH:

36 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because thy [40]money was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy [41]lewdness with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by [f]the blood of thy children, whom thou didst give to them;

37 Behold, therefore, [g]I will gather all thy lovers, [42]to whom thou hast been pleasing, and all those whom thou hast loved, with all those whom thou hast hated; I will even gather them [43]around against thee, and will discover thy nakedness to them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

38 And I will judge thee, †as [h]women who break wedlock and [i]shed blood are judged; and I will give thee blood in fury and jealousy.

39 And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down [k]44thy brothel house, and shall break down thy high places: [l]they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take †thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 [m]They shall also bring up a company against thee, [n]and they shall stone thee with stones, and [45]cut thee in pieces with their swords.

41 And they shall [o]burn thy houses with fire, and [p]execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to [q]cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.

42 So [r]will I make my fury towards thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because [s]thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; behold, therefore, [t]I also will recompense thy way upon thy head, saith the Lord JEHOVAH: and thou shalt not commit this [46]wickedness above all thine abominations.

44 ¶ Behold, every one who useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, who loathed her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, who loathed their husbands and their children: [u]your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister [47]was Samaria, she and her daughters who [48]dwelt at thy left hand: and [x]†thy younger sister, who [49]dwelt at thy right hand, [50]was Sodom and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked [51]in their ways, nor done [52]according to their abominations: but ‖as if that were 'loathed as' a very little thing, [y]thou wast corrupted more than they, in all thy ways.

48 As I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, [z]Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, [a]fulness of bread, and [53]quiet ease was in her and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and [b]committed abomination before me: therefore [c]I took them away [54]according to that which I saw[55].

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins: but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and [d]hast justified thy sisters [56]by all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Thou also, who hast [57]condemned thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sins which thou hast committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 [e]When I shall bring again their captivity, [f]the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them:

54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art [g]a comfort to them.

55 When thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not †mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy †pride, 57 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of thy [h]reproach [58]from the daughters of †Syria, and all that are [59]around her, [i]the daughters of the Philistines, who ‖despise thee round about.

58 [k]Thou hast †borne thy [60]wickedness and thine abominations, saith JEHOVAH.

59 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, who hast [l]despised [m]the oath [61]by breaking the covenant.

60 ¶ Nevertheless, I will [n]remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish [62]with thee [o]an everlasting covenant.

61 Then [p]thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them to thee for [q]daughters, [r]but not by thy covenant.

62 [s][63]For I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am JEHOVAH:

63 That thou mayest [t]remember, and be confounded, [u]and never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame, when I [64]shall have been pacified towards thee for

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Under the parable of two eagles and a vine, 11 is shewed God's judgment upon Jerusalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiseth to plant the cedar of the gospel.

AND the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a [1]riddle, and speak a parable to the house of Israel;

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [a]A great eagle with great wings, long-winged, full of feathers, who had †[2]various colours, came to Lebanon, and [b]took the highest branch of the cedar:

4 He cropped off the top of its young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and †planted it in [c]a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, and set it [d][3]like a willow-tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine [e]of low stature, whose branches turned towards him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth [4]green boughs.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and behold, [f]this vine did bend its roots towards him, and shot forth its branches towards him, that he might water it by the [5]beds of its plantation.

8 It was planted in a good [6]field by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Shall it prosper? [g][7]will he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all [8]its shooting forth, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? [h]shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the [9]beds where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

12 Say now to [i]the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? Tell them, Behold, [k]the king of Babylon [10]came to Jerusalem, and [11]took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon;

13 [l]And [12]took 'one' of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, [m]and †[13]took an oath of him: he [14]took also the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be [n][15]low, that it might not lift itself up, †but that by keeping [16]his covenant it might stand.

15 But [o]he rebelled against him [17]by sending his ambassadors into Egypt, [p]that they might give him horses and [18]many people. [q]Shall he prosper? shall he escape who doeth such things? or, shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, Surely [r]in the place where the king dwelleth who made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he broke, [19]with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

18 Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when lo, he had [u]given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

20 And I will [x]spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and [y]will [22]contend with him there for his trespass which he hath trespassed against me.

23 [d][23]On a lofty mountain of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and [e]under it shall dwell all fowls of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I JEHOVAH [f]have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: [g]I JEHOVAH have spoken and [24]will do it.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 God reproveth the unjust parable of sour grapes. 5 He sheweth how he dealeth with a just father: 10 with a wicked son of a just father: 14 with a just son of a wicked father: 19 with a wicked man repenting: 24 with a just man revolting. 25 He defendeth his justice, 31 and exhorteth to repentance.

THE word of JEHOVAH came to me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The [a]fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: [b]the soul that sinneth, he shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and do †that which is lawful and right,

6 [c]And hath not eaten on the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath [d]defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to [e]a [1]removed woman,

7 And hath not [f]oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his [g]pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath [h]given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment;

8 He who hath not given forth on [i][2]interest neither hath taken any increase, who hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, [h]hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 Hath walked in [3]mine ordinances, and hath kept my judgments, [4]by dealing truly; he is just, he shall surely [t]live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

10 ¶ If he beget a son who is a ‖robber, [m]a shedder of blood, and ‖who doeth the like to any one of these things,

11 And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten on the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath [n]committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth on [5]interest, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; [o]his †blood shall be on him.

14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a son, who seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not [6]the like,

15 [p]Who hath not eaten on the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, †hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 Who hath [7]turned his hand from the poor, who hath not received [8]interest nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in [9]mine ordinances; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even [q]he shall die [10]for his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? [r]doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all [11]mine ordinances, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 [s]The [12]soul that sinneth, it shall die. [t]The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: [u]the righteousness of the righteous shall be on him, [x]and the wickedness of the wicked shall be on him.

21 But [y]if the wicked will turn from all his sins which he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

22 [z]All his transgressions which he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned to him: [13]by his righteousness which he hath done he shall live.

23 [a]Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord JEHOVAH: and not that he should [14]turn from his ways, and live?

24 ¶ But [b]when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations which the wicked man doeth, shall he live? [c]All his righteousness which he hath done shall not be [15]remembered: for his trespass which he hath trespassed, and [16]for his sin which he hath sinned, [17]for them shall he die.

25 ¶ Yet ye say, [d]The way of the [18]LORD is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel; Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 [e]When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth [19]for them; for his iniquity which he hath done, shall he die.

27 Again, [f]when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness which he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his [20]soul alive.

28 Because he [g]considereth and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

29 [h]Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the LORD is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 [i]Therefore, I will judge you, O house of Israel, [21]each one according to his ways, saith the Lord JEHOVAH. [k]Repent, and turn [22] from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.

31 ¶ [l]Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed: and make you a [m]new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For [n]I have no pleasure in the death of him who dieth, saith the Lord JEHOVAH: wherefore turn[23], and live ye.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 A lamentation for the princes of Israel, under the parable of lions' whelps taken in a pit, 10 and for Jerusalem, under the parable of a wasted vine.

MOREOVER, [a]take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, What is thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

3 And she brought up one of her whelps: [b]he became a young lion, and he learned to [1]tear the prey: he devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains to the land of [c]Egypt.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took [d]another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 [e]And he went up and down among the lions, [f]he became a young lion, and learned to [2]tear the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew their [3]palaces and he laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and [4]all therein, by the noise of his roaring.

8 [g]Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: [h]he was taken in their pit.

9 [i]And they put him in [5]custody ‖in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into 'strong' holds, that his voice [6]might no more be heard on [k]the mountains of Israel.

10 ¶ Thy mother [7]was [l]like a vine ‖in thy [8]likeness, planted by the waters: she was [m]fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of those who bore rule, and her [n]sta-

CHAPTER XX.

1 God refuseth to be consulted by the elders of Israel. 5 He sheweth the story of their rebellions in Egypt, 10 in the wilderness, 27 and in the land. 33 He promiseth to gather them by the gospel. 45 Under the name of a forest he sheweth the destruction of Jerusalem.

AND it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that [a1]some of the elders of Israel came to inquire of JEHOVAH, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of JEHOVAH to me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, [b]I will not be inquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou ‖[c]judge them, son of man? wilt thou judge them? [d]cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 ¶ And say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; In the day when [e]I chose Israel, and ‖lifted up my hand to the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself [f]known to them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up my hand to them, saying, [g]I am JEHOVAH your God;

6 In the day [2]when I lifted up my hand to them, [h]to bring them forth [3]from the land of Egypt into a land which I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, [i]which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I to them, [k]Cast ye away every man [l]the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with [m]the idols of Egypt: I am JEHOVAH your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken to me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will [n]pour out my fury upon them, [4]by accomplishing my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 [o]But I [5]acted for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted [6]in the sight of the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known to them, [7]by bringing them forth [8]from the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore, I [p]caused them to go forth [9]from the land of Egypt, and brought them into the [10]desert.

11 [q]And I gave them [11]mine ordinances, and †shewed them my judgments, [r]which if a man do, he shall even live [12]in them.

12 Moreover, also I gave them my [s]sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am JEHOVAH who sanctify them.

13 But the house of Israel [t]rebelled against me in the [13]desert: they walked not in [14]mine ordinances, and they [u]despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them: and my sabbaths they greatly [x]polluted: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them in the [y15]desert, to consume them.

14 [z]But I [16]acted for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted [17]in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also [a]I lifted up my hand to them in the [18]desert, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, [b]which is the glory of all lands;

16 [c]Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in [19]mine ordinances, but polluted my sabbaths: for [d]their heart went after their idols.

17 [e]Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the [20]desert.

18 But I said to their children in the [21]desert, Walk ye not in the [22]ordinances of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols:

19 I am JEHOVAH your God; [f]walk in [23]mine ordinances, and keep my judgments, and do them;

22 [l]Nevertheless, I withdrew my hand, and [m28]acted for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up my hand to them also in the [29]desert, that [n]I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries;

24 [o]Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised [30]mine ordinances, and had polluted my sabbaths, and [p]their eyes were after their father's idols.

25 Wherefore [q]I gave them also [31]ordinances which were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live;

45 ¶ Moreover the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

46 [u]Son of man, set thy face towards the south, and drop thy word towards the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field;

47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of JEHOVAH; Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, [z]I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour [y]every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces [z]from the south to the north shall be burned therein.

48 And all flesh shall see that I JEHOVAH have kindled it: it shall not be quenched

49 Then said I, Ah Lord JEHOVAH! they say [55]concerning me, Doth he not speak parables?

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Ezekiel prophesieth against Jerusalem with a sign of sighing. 8 The sharp and bright sword, 18 against Jerusalem, 25 against the kingdom, 28 and against the Ammonites.

AND the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 [a]Son of man, set thy face towards Jerusalem, and [b]drop thy word towards the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee [c]the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth [1]from its sheath against all flesh [d]from the south to the north:

5 That all flesh may know that I JEHOVAH have drawn forth my sword [2]from its sheath: it [e]shall not return any more.

6 [f]Sigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loins; and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be, when they say to thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt answer, For the [3]news, because it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and [g]all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees †shall be weak [4]like water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

8 ¶ Again the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith JEHOVAH; Say, [h]A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also [5]polished:

10 It is sharpened to make a [6]great slaughter, it is [7]polished that it may glitter; should we then make mirth? ‖it contemneth the rod of my son, [8]like every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be [9]polished, that it may be handled: this sword is sharpened, and it is [10]polished, to give it into the hand of [i]the slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man: for it shall be on my people, it shall be on all the princes of Israel: ‖terrors by reason of the sword shall be on my people: [h]smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 [11]For it is [i]tried, and what if the sword [12]despise even the rod? [m]it shall be no more, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

14 Thou, therefore, son of man, prophesy, and [n]smite thine †hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain: it is the sword of the great men who are slain, which entereth into their [o][13]inner chambers.

15 I have set the ‖point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and [14]the causes of ruin be multiplied: ah! [p][15]thou art made bright, [16]thou art ‖wrapped up for the slaughter.

16 [q]Go [17] one way or ‘the’ other, either on the right hand, †or on the left, whithersoever thy face is set.

17 I will also [r]smite my hands together, and [s]I will cause my fury to rest: I JEHOVAH have said it.

18 ¶ The word of JEHOVAH came to me again, saying,

19 Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come: both [18] shall come forth [19]from one land: and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to [t][20]Rabbah of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jerusalem the [21]fortified.

21 For the king of Babylon stood at the †parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination; he [22]shook his arrows together, he consulted with †images, he looked on the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to appoint [23]battering rams, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to [u]lift up the voice with shouting, [x]to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast ‘up’ a mount, and to build a [24]tower.

23 And it shall be to them [25]like a false divination in their sight, ‖to those who [y]have sworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are [26]uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because [27] that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And thou, [z]profane wicked prince of Israel, [a]whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end,

26 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: [28]this shall not be the same: [b]exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 †I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: [c]and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it ‘to’ him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH [d]concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach; even say thou, [e][29]O sword, [30]O sword, [31]thou art drawn: for the slaughter [32]thou art polished, to consume because of the glittering:

29 While they [f]see [33]falsehood concerning thee, while they divine a lie [34]concerning thee, to bring thee upon the necks of those who are slain, of the wicked, [g]whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 ‖[h]Shall I cause it to return into its sheath? [i]I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, [k]in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will [l]pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will [m]blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of ‖[35]brutal men, [36] skilful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; [n]thou shalt be no more remembered: for I JEHOVAH have spoken it.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 A catalogue of sins in Jerusalem. 13 God will burn them as dross in his furnace. 23 The general corruption of prophets, priests, princes, and people.

1 AND the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Now, thou son of man, [a]wilt thou ‖judge, wilt thou judge [b]the †bloody city, [2]and †shew her all her abominations?

3 Then say thou, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols against herself to defile herself.

4 Thou art become guilty [3]by thy blood which thou hast [c]shed; and hast defiled thyself [4]by thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even to thy years: [d]therefore have I made thee a reproach to the heathen, and a [5]derision to all countries.

5 Those that [6]are near, and those that [7]are far from thee, shall mock thee, who art †infamous and much [8]disturbed.

6 Behold, [e]the princes of Israel, every one were in thee to their †power to shed blood.

7 In thee have they [f][9]despised father and mother: in the midst of thee have they [g]dealt by ‖oppression with the stranger: in thee have they [10]oppressed the fatherless and the widow.

8 Thou hast [h]despised my holy things, and hast [i]profaned my sabbaths.

9 In thee are †[k]men who carry tales to shed blood: [l]and in thee they eat on the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.

10 In thee have they [m][11]uncovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her who was [n]set apart for pollution.

11 And ‖one hath committed abomination [o]with his neighbour's wife; and ‖another [p]hath ‖lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in thee hath humbled his [q]sister, his father's daughter.

12 In thee [r]have they taken [12]bribes to shed blood; [s]thou hast taken [13]interest and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and [t]hast forgotten me, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

13 ¶ Behold, therefore I have [u]smitten my hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.

shall deal with thee? [y]I JEHOVAH have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And [z]I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and [a]will consume thy [15]pollution out of thee.

16 And thou ‖shalt take thine inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and [b]thou shalt know that I am JEHOVAH.

17 And the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, [c]the house of Israel is to me become dross: they are all brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are even the †dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH, Because ye [16]have all become dross, behold, therefore I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

20 †As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and [d]blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I JEHOVAH have [e]poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

24 Son of man, say to her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 [f]There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion [17]tearing the prey; they [g]have devoured [18]persons; [h]they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 [i]Her priests have †violated my law, and have [k]profaned my holy things: they have [19]made no [l]difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hidden their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her [m]princes in the midst thereof are like wolves [20]tearing the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy [21]persons, to get dishonest gain.

28 And [n]her prophets have [22]plastered them with untempered mortar, [o]seeing [23]falsehood, even divining lies to them, saying, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH, when JEHOVAH hath not spoken.

29 [p]The people of the land have used ‖oppression, and exercised robbery, and have [24]oppressed the poor and needy: yea, they have [q]oppressed the stranger †wrongfully.

30 [r]And I sought for a man among them, who [25]might [s]make up the hedge, and [t]stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore, have I [u]poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: [x]their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 The [1]lewdness of Aholah and Aholibah. 22 Aholibah is to be plagued by her lovers. 36 The prophet reproveth the adulteries of them both, 45 and sheweth their judgments.

THE word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were [a]two women, the daughters of one mother:

3 And [b]they committed [2]lewdness in Egypt; they committed [3]lewdness in [c]their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the [4]paps of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister; and [d]they [5]became mine, and they bore sons and daughters. Thus were their names; Samaria is ‖Aholah, and Jerusalem ‖Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on [e]the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Who were clothed with blue, [6]governors and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she †[7]played the harlot with them, with all those who were †the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted; with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither left she her [8]lewdness brought [f]from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their [9]lewdness upon her.

9 Wherefore, I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the [5]Assyrians, on whom she doted.

10 These [h][10]uncovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became †famous among women; [11]because they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And [i]when her sister Aholibah saw this, [k]†she was more corrupt in her [12]doting than she, and in her [13]lewdness †more than her sister in her [14]lewdness.

12 She doted on the [l]Assyrians her neighbours, [m][15]governors and rulers clothed [16]perfectly, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way;

14 And that she increased her [17]lewdness: for when she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in [18]dyed attire on their heads, all of them princes [19]in appearance, after the [20]likeness of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity:

16 [n]And †as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted on them, and sent messengers to them into Chaldea.

17 And the †Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their [21]lewdness, and she was polluted with them, and [o]her mind was †alienated from them.

18 So she [22]uncovered her lewdness, and [23]uncovered her nakedness: then [p]my mind was alienated from her, [24] as my mind [25]had been alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her [26]lewdness, by calling to remembrance the days of her youth, [q]wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted on their paramours,

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the [29]wickedness of thy youth, in bruising thy [30]paps by the Egyptians for the [31]breasts of thy youth.

22 ¶ [s]Therefore, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [s]Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side;

23 The Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, [t][32]Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: [u]all of them desirable young men, [33]governors and rulers, [34]warriors and renowned, all of them riding on horses.

24 And they shall come against thee with [35]weapons, chariots, and carriages, and with an assembly of people, who shall set against thee [36]shield and [37]buckler and helmet [38]around: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy [39]remnant shall be devoured by the fire.

26 [x]They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy †fair jewels.

27 Thus [y]will I make thy [40]wickedness to cease from thee, and [z]thy [41]lewdness brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes to them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of those [a]whom thou hatest, into the hand of those [b]from whom thy mind is alienated:

29 And they shall deal with thee [42]in hatred, and shall take away all [43]thine earnings, and [c]shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy [44]lewdness shall be [45]uncovered, both thy [46]wickedness and thy [47]lewdness.

30 I will do these things to thee, because thou hast [d]gone [48]lewdly after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; therefore will I give her [e]cup into thy hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, [f]which is deep and large: [f]thou shalt be laughed [49]at and [50]derided; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt [g]even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because thou [h]hast forgotten me, and [i]cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy [51]wickedness and thy [52]lewdness.

36 ¶ JEHOVAH said, moreover, to me; Son of man, wilt thou [k]‖judge Aholah and Aholibah? [53]then, [l]declare to them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and [m]blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, [n]whom they bore to me, to pass for them through the fire, to devour them.

38 Moreover, this they have done to me: they have defiled my sanctuary on the same day, and [o]have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and lo, [p]thus have they done in the midst of my house.

40 And furthermore, [54]ye have sent for men †to come from far, [q]to whom a messenger was sent; and lo, they came: for whom thou didst [r]wash thyself, [r]paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments,

41 And satest upon a †stately [s]bed, and a table prepared before it, [u]whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men †of the common sort were brought ‖Sabeans from the [55]desert, who put bracelets upon their [56]wrists, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I to her who was old in adulteries, Will they now commit †[57]lewdness with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in to her, as they go in to a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in to Aholah and to Aholibah, the [58]wicked women.

45 ¶ And the [59]just men, they shall [z]judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women who shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and [y]blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [z]I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them †to be removed and [60]plundered.

47 [a]And the company shall stone them with stones, and [61]cut them in pieces with their swords; [b]they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus [c]will I cause [62]wickedness to cease out of the land, [d]that all women may be taught not to do [63]according to your [64]wickedness.

49 And they shall recompense your [65]wickedness upon you, and ye shall [e]bear the sins of your idols: [f]and ye shall know that I am the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Under the parable of a boiling pot, 6 is shewed the irrevocable destruction of Jerusalem. 15 By the sign of Ezekiel not mourning for the death of his wife, 19 is shewed the calamity of the Jews to be beyond all sorrow.

AGAIN in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this [1]very day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem [a]this [2]very day.

3 [b]And utter a parable to the rebellious house, and say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [c]Set on a pot, sĕt it on, and also pour water into it:

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and [3]pile also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them [4]boil the bones of it therein.

6 ¶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Wo to [d]the bloody city, to the pot whose [6]rust is therein, and whose [6]rust is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; let no [e]lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a rock; [f]she poured it not on the ground, to cover it with dust;

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; [g]I have set her blood on the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [h]Wo to the bloody city! I will even make the pile [7] great.

10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then set it empty on the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that [i]the filthiness of it may be [8]melted in it, that the [9]rust of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great [10]rust went not forth [11]from her: her [12]rust shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is [13]wickedness: because I 'would' have [14]cleansed thee, and thou wast not [15]cleansed, thou shalt not be [16]cleansed from thy filthiness any more [k]till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 [l]I JEHOVAH have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, [m]neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

15 ¶ Also the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a [17]stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears †run down.

17 †Forbear to [18]groan, [n]make no mourning for the dead, [o]bind [19]thy turban on thee, and [p]put on thy shoes on thy feet, and [q]cover not thy †[20]beard, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spoke to the people in the morning: and at [21]evening my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 ¶ And the people said to me, [r]Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

21 Speak to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, [s]I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, [t]the desire of your eyes, and [22]the beloved of your soul; [u]and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done: [x]ye shall not cover your [23]beards, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your [24]turbans shall be on your heads, and your shoes on your feet: [y]ye shall not mourn nor weep: but [z]ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one towards another.

24 Thus [a]Ezekiel is to you a sign: according to all which he hath done shall ye do: [b]and when this cometh, [c]ye shall know that I am the Lord JEHOVAH.

25 Also, thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them [d]their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and †that whereon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters,

26 That [e]he who escapeth in that day shall come to thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?

27 [f]In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him who is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: and [g]thou shalt be a sign to them; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXV.

1 God's vengeance, for their insolency against the Jews, upon the Ammonites; 8 upon Moab and Seir; 12 upon Edom, 15 and upon the Philistines.

THE word of JEHOVAH came again to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face [b]against the Ammonites, and prophesy against them;

3 And say to the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord JEHOVAH; Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [c]Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the †men of the east for a possession, and they shall set their [1]villages in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make [d]Rabbah [e]a [2]pasture for camels, and the Ammonites a couching-place for flocks: [f]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

6 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because thou [g]hast clapped thy †hands, and stamped with the †feet, and [h]rejoiced in †heart with all [3]thine arrogance against the land of Israel;

7 Behold, therefore I will [i]stretch out my hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for ‖a spoil to the heathen; and I will cut thee ˙off from the [4]nations, and I will cause thee to perish [5]from the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am JEHOVAH.

8 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because that [k]Moab and [l]Seir [6] say, Behold, the house of Judah is like to all the heathen;

9 Therefore, behold, I will open the †side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,

10 [m]To the men of the east [7]against the Ammonites, and will give them in possession, that the Ammonites [n]may not be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Moab; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

house of Judah †by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and avenged himself on them;

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [q]Because [r]the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with [10]an arrogant heart, to destroy it ‖for the old hatred;

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, [t]I will stretch out my hand on the Philistines, and I will cut off the [t]Cherethims, [u]and destroy the remnant of the ‖sea coast.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 [1]Tyre, for insulting against Jerusalem, is threatened. 7 The power of Nebuchadrezzar against her. 15 The mourning and astonishment of the sea at her fall.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, that the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]because that [2]Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, [b]Aha, she is broken who was the gates of the people: [3]she is turned to me: I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against thee, O [4]Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth its waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of [5]Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her [6]earth from her, and [c]make her like [7]a dry rock.

5 She shall be a place for the spreading of nets [d]in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH: and she shall become a [8]booty to the nations.

6 And her daughters who are in the field shall be slain by the sword; [e]and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I will bring upon [9]Tyre, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, [f]a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and [10]many people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall [g]make a [11]tower against thee, and ‖cast 'up' a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 And he shall set [12]the strokes of his battering rams against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses, their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the [13]carriages, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, †as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he [14]trample all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong [15]forts shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy †thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones, and thy timber, and [16]thine earth, in the midst of the water.

13 [h]And I will cause the noise of 'thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And [i]I will make thee like [17]a dry rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon; thou shalt' be built no more: for I JEHOVAH have spoken it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to [18]Tyre; Shall not the isles [l]shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the [m]princes of the sea shall [n]come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their embroidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with †trembling; [o]they shall sit on the ground, and [p]shall tremble [19]every moment, and [q]be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a [r]lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited †[20]by seafaring men, the renowned city, who wast [s]strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, who cause their terror to be on all that [21]frequent her!

18 Now, shall [t]the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles which are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities which are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down [u]with those who descend into the pit, [22]to the people of old time, and shall set thee in the [23]lowest parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with those who go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I shall set glory [z]in the land of the living;

21 [y]I will make thee †a terror, and thou shalt be no more: [z]though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the [16]fierce warriors were in thy towers: they hanged their shields on thy walls round about; they have made [i]thy beauty perfect.

12 [k]Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the [17]abundance of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy fairs.

13 [l][18]Greece, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded [m]the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy ‖market.

14 They of the house of [n]Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses and horsemen and mules.

15 The men of [o]Dedan were thy merchants; many isles were the merchandise [19]at thy hand: they brought thee for a present, [20]horns of ivory and ebony.

16 Syria was thy merchant by reason of the [21]abundance of †the wares of thy making: they [22]traded in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and embroidered work, and fine linen, and ‘red’-coral, and †[23]rubies.

17 Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy merchants: they traded, in thy market, [p]wheat of [q]Minnith and [24]sweet cakes, and honey, and oil, and [r]‖balm.

18 Damascus was thy merchant in the [25]abundance of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of [26]Helbon, and white wool.

19 Dan also and [27]Greece ‖with yarn, traded in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia, and [28]sweet cane, were in thy market.

20 [t]Dedan was thy merchant in [29]carpets for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the princes of [t]Kedar, [30]traded with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of [u]Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they [31]traded in thy fairs with [32]the best of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.

23 [x]Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of [y]Sheba, Asshur, and Chilmad, were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in ‖all [33]costly garments, in blue [34]mantles, and embroidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.

25 [z]The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market; and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious [a]in the midst of the seas.

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: [b]the east wind hath broken thee in the †midst of the seas.

27 Thy [c]riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy [35]sailors, thy calkers, and the [36]barterers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, who are in thee, ‖and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the †midst of the seas, in the day of thy ruin.

28 The ‖suburbs [d]shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy [37]sailors.

29 And [e]all who handle the oar, the mariners, and all the [38]sailors of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land;

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard [39]over thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall [f]cast up dust upon their heads, they [g]shall [40]roll themselves in the ashes:

31 And they shall [h]make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird themselves with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they shall [i]take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, [k]What city is like [41]Tyre, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 [l]When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when [m]thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, [n]thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 [o]All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall [42]shudder, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people [p]shall hiss at thee; [q]thou shalt be †a terror, and [43]shalt be no more for ever.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 God's judgment on the prince of [1]Tyre for his sacrilegious pride. 11 A lamentation of his great glory corrupted by sin. 20 The judgment of Zidon. 24 The restoration of Israel.

3 Behold, [d]thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret which they can hide from thee:

4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thyself riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures:

5 †[e]By thy great wisdom and by thy traffick, hast thou increased thy riches, and thy heart is lifted up because of thy riches:

VAH; Because thou hast set thy heart [4]like the heart of God;

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, [f]the [5]mighty of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

8 They shall bring thee down to the [6]pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of those who are slain in the midst of the seas.

9 Wilt thou yet [6]say before him who slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him who ‖slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of [h]the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

12 Son of man, [i]take up a lamentation [7]over the king of [8]Tyre, and say to him, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [k]Thou sealest up the [9]perfect form, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in [l]Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was thy covering, the [10]ruby, topaz, and the diamond, the ‖beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the ‖emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of [m]thy tabrets and of thy pipes, was prepared in thee in the day [11]when thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed [n]cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast on [o]the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast [12]upright in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the [13]abundance of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane [14]from the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, [p]O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 [q]Thy heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy [15]splendour: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes on the earth in the sight of all those who behold thee.

19 All those who know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: [r]thou shalt be †a terror, and [16]shalt be no more for ever.

20 ¶ Again the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

21 Son of man, [s]set thy face [t]against Zidon, and prophesy against her,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [u]Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and [x]they shall know that I am JEHOVAH, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be [y17]reverenced on account of her.

23 [z]For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be [16]punished in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more [a]a pricking brier to the house of Israel, nor any [19]wounding thorn of all those who are [20]around them who despised them; and they shall know that I am the Lord JEHOVAH.

25 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; When I shall have [b]gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be [c21]reverenced on account of them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land which I have given to my servant Jacob.

26 And they shall [d]dwell ‖safely therein, and shall [e]build houses, and [f]plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I 'shall' have executed judgments on all those who ‖despise them [22]around them; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH their GOD.

CHAPTER XXIX.

1 The judgment of Pharaoh for his treachery to Israel. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restoration thereof after forty years. 17 Egypt the reward of Nebuchadrezzar. 21 Israel shall be restored.

IN the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and [b]against all Egypt:

3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [c]Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great [d1]crocodile that lieth in the midst of his rivers, [e]who hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.

4 But [f]I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick to thy scales, and I will bring thee up [2]from the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick to thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee [3] in the [4]desert, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the †open fields; [g]thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: [h]I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am JEHOVAH, because they have been a [i]staff of reed to the house of Israel.

7 [k]When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rend all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou [5]didst break, and [6]madest all their loins to be at a stand.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I will bring [l]a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold, therefore I am against thee, and against thy rivers, [m]and I will make the land of Egypt †utterly waste and desolate, [n]from [7]Migdol to †Syene, even to the border of Ethiopia.

11 [o]No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

14 And I will bring again the [s]captives of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their ‖habitation; and they shall be there a †[r]base kingdom.

15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, 'so' that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more [t]the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord JEHOVAH.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, [t]Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against [9]Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was [10]made smooth: yet had he no wages, nor his army, for [11]Tyre, for the service which he had served against it:

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall take her multitude, and †take her spoil, and take her [12]booty; and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt ‖for his labour wherewith he [u]served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

21 ¶ In that day [x]will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee [y][13]an opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXX.

1 The desolation of Egypt and her helpers. 20 The arm of Babylon shall be strengthened to break the arm of Egypt.

THE word of JEHOVAH came again to me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [a]Howl ye, [1]Alas for the day!

3 For [b]the day is near, even the day of JEHOVAH is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time of the [2]nations.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and [3]terror shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they [c]shall take away her multitude, and [d]her foundations shall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia, and †Libya, and [4]Lud, and [e]all the mingled people, and [5]Chub, and the †men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith JEHOVAH; They also who uphold Egypt shall fall; and the pride of her power shall come down: [f]from [6]Migdol to Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

7 [g]And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries which are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities which are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am JEHOVAH, when I 'shall' have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall [7]have been †destroyed.

9 In that day [h]shall messengers go forth from me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid, and [8]terror shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for, lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [i]I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, [k]the [9]mighty of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And [l]I will make the rivers †dry, and [m]sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and †all which is therein, by the hand of strangers: I JEHOVAH have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I will also [n]destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease [10]from Noph; [o]and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt: [p]and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make [q]Pathros desolate, and will set fire in [r]‖Zoan, [s]and will execute judgments in [11]No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon ‖Sin, the strength of Egypt; and [t]I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will [u]set fire in Egypt: Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.

17 The young men of ‖Aven and of ‖[12]Pibeseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 [x]At [13]Tehaphnehes also the day shall be ‖darkened, when I shall break there the [14]burden-staves of Egypt: and the [15]pride of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

20 ¶ And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

21 Son of man, I have [y]broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, [z]it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a [16]bandage to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will [a]break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall [17]from his hand.

23 [b]And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly-wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and [c]they shall know that I am JEHOVAH, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 [d]And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries; and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXI.

1 A relation to Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude; [a]Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

3 ¶ [b]Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon †with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of a high stature; and his [1]foliage was among the thick boughs.

4 [c]The waters ‖made him great, the deep ‖set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her [2]streams to all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore, [d]his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the [3]abundance of waters, ‖when he shot forth.

6 All the [e]fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the [f]garden of God could not hide him: the [4]cypress-trees were not like his boughs, and the [5]plane-trees were not like his branches; [6]no tree in the garden of God was like to him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, which were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because thou hast lifted up thyself in height, and he hath shot up his [7]foliage among the thick boughs, and [g]his heart is lifted up [8]by his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the [9]mighty one of the heathen; †he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, [h]the [10]strong nations, have cut him off, and have left him: [i]on the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the [11]streams of the land; and all the people of the earth [12]have gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 [k]On his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be on his branches:

14 [13]So that none of all the trees by the waters, 'may' exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their [14]foliage among the thick boughs, neither their trees ‖stand up in their height, all that drink water: for [l]they are all delivered to death, [m]to the [15]lower parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with those who go down to the [16]pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; In the day when he went down to the [17]grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the [18]streams thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon †to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to [n]shake at the sound of his fall, when I [o]cast him down to [19]hell with those who descend into the pit: and [p]all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, [q]shall be comforted in the [20]lower parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into [21]hell with him, to those who [22]are slain with the sword; and those that were his arm, who [r]dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the [23]nations.

18 ¶ [s]To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden to the [24]lower parts of the earth: [t]thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with those who [25]are slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXII.

1 A lamentation for the fearful fall of Egypt. 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. 17 It shall be brought down to hell, among all the uncircumcised nations.

AND it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say to him, [b]Thou art like a young lion of the nations, [c]and thou art [1]like a [2]crocodile in the seas: and thou [3]didst burst forth with thy rivers, and [4]disturb the waters with thy feet, and [d]fouledst their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I will therefore [e]spread out my net over thee with a company of many people; and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then [f]will I leave thee on the land, I will cast thee forth on the open field, and [g]will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain on thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh [h]on the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood ‖the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the [5]streams shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall [6]extinguish thee, [i]I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the †bright lights of heaven will I make †dark over thee, and set darkness on thy land, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

9 I will also [7]trouble the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people [h]amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and [i]they shall tremble [8] every moment, [9]each man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ [m]For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, [n]the [10]strong nations, all of them: and [o]they shall spoil the [11]pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters; [p]neither shall the foot of man [12]disturb them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts [13]disturb them.

14 Then will I make their waters [14]subside, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country shall be †destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all those who dwell therein, [q]then shall they know that I am JEHOVAH.

16 This is the [r]lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

17 ¶ It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and [s]cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the [15]mighty nations, to the [16]lower parts of the earth, with those who go down into the pit.

19 [t]Whom dost thou pass in beauty? [u]go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of those who are slain by the sword: ‖she is delivered to the sword: draw her [‘]away' and all her multitudes.

21 [x]The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of [17]hell with those who help him: they are [y]gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 [z][18]Assyria is there and all her company: his graves are [19]around him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword:

23 [a]Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is [20]around her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who [b]caused ‖terror in the land of the living.

24 There is [c][21]Elam and all her multitude [22]around her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who are [d]gone down uncircumcised into the [23]lower parts of the earth, [e]who caused their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their shame with those who go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a [24]couch in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are [25]around him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with those who go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of [26]the slain.

26 There is [f]Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are [27]around him: all of them [g]uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

27 [h]And they shall not lie with the mighty who are fallen of the uncircumcised, who are gone down to [28]hell †with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be on their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with [29]those slain [30]by the sword.

29 There is [i]Edom, her kings, and all her princes, who with their might are †laid by [31]those slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with those who go down to the pit.

30 [k]There [32]are the [33]anointed of the north, all of them, and all the [l]Zidonians, who are gone down with the slain; with their terror they are ashamed of their might; and they lie uncircumcised with [34]those slain by the sword, and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be [m]comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

32 For I have caused my terror in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with [35]those slain [36]by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, in warning the people, 7 Ezekiel is admonished of his duty. 10 God sheweth the justice of his ways towards the penitent, and towards revolters. 17 He maintaineth his justice. 21 Upon the news of the taking of Jerusalem he prophesieth the desolation of the land. 30 God's judgment upon the mockers of the prophets.

AGAIN the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to [a]the children of thy people, and say to them, [b]†When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their [1]borders, and set him for their [c]watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people;

4 Then, †whoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come and take him away, [d]his blood shall be on his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be on him. But he who taketh warning shall deliver his [2]soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, [e]he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 ¶ [f]So thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman to the house of Israel; therefore thou shalt hear the word [3]from my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say to the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak to the house of Israel; Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we [e]pine away [4]for them, [h]how [5]can we then live?

11 Say to them, As I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, [i]I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for [k]why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, say to the children of thy people, The [l]righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness of the wicked, [m]he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; [n]if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, [6]none of his righteousnesses shall [7] be remembered; but for his iniquity which he hath committed, he shall die for it.

14 Again, [o]when I say to the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do †that which is lawful and right;

15 If the wicked [p]restore the pledge, [q]give again that 'which' he had robbed, walk in [r]the [8]ordinances of life, without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 [s]None of his sins which he hath committed shall be mentioned to him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

17 ¶ [t]Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the [9]LORD is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 [u]When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 ¶ Yet ye say, [x]The way of the [10]LORD is not equal. O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one [11]according to his ways.

21 ¶ And it came to pass in the twelfth year [y]of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, [z]that one who had escaped [12]from Jerusalem came to me, saying, [a]The city is smitten.

22 Now [b]the hand of JEHOVAH [13]had been on me in the evening, before he who [14]had escaped came; and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; [c]and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

23 Then the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

24 Son of man, [d]those who inhabit those [e]wastes of the land of Israel speak, saying, [f]Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: [g]but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Wherefore, say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [h]Ye eat with the blood, and [i]lift up your eyes towards your idols, and [k]shed blood: and shall ye possess the land?

26 Ye [15]trust in your sword, ye work abomination, and ye [m]defile [16]each one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land?

27 Say thou thus to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; As I live, surely [n]those who are in the wastes, shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field, [o]will I give to the beasts †to be devoured, and those who [17]are in the [18]fortresses and [p]in the caves, shall die [19]by the pestilence.

28 [q]For I will lay the land †most desolate, and the [r][20]pride of her strength shall cease; and [s]the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, 'so' that [21]no one shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am JEHOVAH, when I 'shall' have laid the land most desolate [22]on account of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 ¶ Also, thou son of man, the children of thy people still are talking ‖[23]concerning thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and [t]speak one to another, [24]each one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what the word is which cometh forth from JEHOVAH.

31 And [u]they come to thee †as the people cometh, and ‖they [z]sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: [y]for with their mouth †they shew much love, but [z]their heart goeth after their [25]unjust gain.

32 And lo, thou art to them [26]like †a very lovely song of one who hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 [a]And when this cometh to pass, (lo, it will come,) then [b]shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of JEHOVAH;

8 As I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock [t]became [u]food for every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, [m]but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock;

9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of JEHOVAH;

10 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against the shepherds; and [n]I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock; neither shall the shepherds [o]feed themselves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be [v]food for them.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 †As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day [s]when he is among his sheep which are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in [p]the cloudy and dark day.

13 And [q]I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them on the mountains of Israel by the [9]streams, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 [r]I will feed them in a good pasture, and on the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: [s]there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a [10]fertile pasture shall they feed on the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

16 [t]I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was [11]weak: but I will destroy [u]the fat and the strong; I will feed them [x]with [12]punishment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [y]Behold, I judge between †cattle and cattle, between the rams and the †he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures? and to have drunk of the [13]settled waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet; and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to them; [z]Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and between the lean cattle.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the [14]weak with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad;

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and [a]I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23 And I will set up one [b]Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, [c]even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And [d]I JEHOVAH will be their God, and my servant David [e]a prince among them; I JEHOVAH have spoken it.

25 And [f]I will make with them a covenant of peace, and [g]will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they [h]shall dwell safely in the [15]waste regions, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places [16]around [i]my hill [k]a blessing; and I will [l]cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be [m]showers of blessing.

27 And [n]the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am JEHOVAH, when I 'shall' have [o]broken the [17]bows of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those [18]who [p]reduced them to servitude.

28 And they shall no more [q]be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them; but [r]they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a [s][19]branch ‖of renown, and they shall be no more †consumed with hunger in the land, [t]neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they know that [u]I JEHOVAH their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

31 And ye my [x]flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXV.

The judgment of mount Seir for their hatred of Israel.

MOREOVER the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face against [b]mount Seir, and [c]prophesy against it,

3 And say to it, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, O mount Seir, I am against thee, and [d]I will stretch out my hand against thee, and I will make thee †most desolate.

4 [e]I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am JEHOVAH.

5 [f]Because thou hast had [1]an ‖old hatred, and hast †[2]delivered up the children of Israel [3]to the †force of the sword in the time of their calamity, [g]in the time [4]when their iniquity had an end:

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, I will prepare thee [5]for blood, and blood shall pursue thee: [h]since thou hast not hated blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir †most desolate, and cut off from it [6]him who passeth [6]through and him who returneth.

8 [k]And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: on thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy [7]streams, shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 [l]I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return: [m]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will [n]possess it; ‖[8]though [o]JEHOVAH was there:

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord

JEHOVAH, I will even do [p]according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used [q]from thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I ‘shall’ have judged thee.

12 [r]And thou shalt know that I am JEHOVAH, and that I have heard all thy [10]revilings which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given ‘to’ us †to consume.

13 Thus [r]with your mouth ye have †boasted against me, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [s]When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate.

15 [t]As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do to thee: [u]thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it: and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

1 The land of Israel is comforted, both by destruction of the heathen, who spitefully used it, 8 and by the blessings of God promised to it. 16 Israel was rejected for their sin, 21 and shall be restored without their desert. 25 The blessings of Christ's kingdom.

ALSO, thou son of man, prophesy to the [a]mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of JEHOVAH:

2 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because [b]the enemy hath said against you, Aha, [c]even the ancient high places [d]are ours in possession:

3 Therefore, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; †Because they have made you desolate, and [1]panted for you on every side, that ye might be a possession to the residue of the heathen, [e]and ‖ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people:

4 Therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord JEHOVAH; Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to the mountains, and to the hills, to the ‖[2]streams, and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities which are forsaken, which [f]became a prey and [g]derision to the residue of the heathen that are [3]around;

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [h]Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all [4]Edom, [i]which have appointed my land [5]for their possession with the joy of all their heart, with [6]arrogant minds, to cast it out for a [7]booty.

6 Prophesy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains, and to the hills, to the [8]streams, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have [k]borne the shame of the heathen:

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I have [l]lifted up my hand: Surely the heathen who are [9]around you, they shall bear their shame.

8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people of Israel; for they are [10]near to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn to you, and ye shall be tilled and sown:

10 And I will multiply men on you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and [m]the wastes shall be builded:

11 And [n]I will multiply on you man and beast; and they shall increase and bring fruit: and I will settle you [11]according to your old [12]conditions, and will do better [13]for you than at your beginnings: [o]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk on you, even my people Israel; [p]and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth [q]bereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Because they say to you, [r]Thou land devourest [14] men, and hast bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore, thou shalt devour men no more, neither ‖bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

15 [s]Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

16 ¶ Moreover the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, [t]they defiled it by their own way and by their doings: their way was before me [15]like [u]the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore, I poured my fury upon them [x]for the blood which they had shed on the land, and for their idols [16]with which they had polluted it:

19 And I [y]scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: [z]according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered [17]among the heathen, whither they went, they [a]profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of JEHOVAH, and [18]have gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But, I had pity [b]for my holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore, say to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, [c]but for my holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am JEHOVAH, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, when I shall be [d][19]reverenced among you in their sight.

24 For [e]I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you [19]from all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 ¶ [f]Then will I sprinkle clean water on you, and ye shall be clean: [g]from all your [20]uncleanness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you.

26 A [h]new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land which was desolate [23]has become like the garden of [u]Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities [24]have been fortified, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen who are left [25]around you shall know that I JEHOVAH build the ruined places, and plant that which was desolate: [x]I JEHOVAH have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [y]I will yet for this be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them; I will [z]increase them with men like a flock.

38 As the †holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her solemn feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

1 By the resurrection of dry bones, 11 the dead hope of Israel is revived. 15 By the uniting of two sticks, 18 is shewed the incorporation of Israel into Judah. 20 The promises of Christ's kingdom.

THE [a]hand of JEHOVAH was on me, and carried me out [b]in the Spirit of JEHOVAH, and set me down in the midst of the valley, [1]and it was full of bones.

2 And 'he' caused me to pass by them [2]around: and behold, there were very many in the open ‖valley; and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said to me, Son of man, can these bones live? and I answered, O Lord JEHOVAH, [c]thou knowest.

4 Again he said to me, Prophesy [3]over these bones, and say to them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of JEHOVAH.

5 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH to these bones; Behold, I will [d]cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put [4]breath in you, and ye shall live; [e]and ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to its bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he to me, Prophesy to the ‖[5]wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [f]Come from the four [6]winds, O breath, and [7]blow on these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, [g]and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up on their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said to me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, [h]Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our part.

12 Therefore prophesy and say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, [i]O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up [8]from your graves, and [k]bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am JEHOVAH, when I 'shall' have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up [9]from your graves, 14 And [l]shall 'have' put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall [10]have placed you in your own land: then shall ye know that I JEHOVAH have spoken it, and performed it, saith JEHOVAH.

15 ¶ The word of JEHOVAH came again to me, saying,

16 Moreover, thou son of man, [m]take thyself one stick, and write on it, For Judah, and for [n]the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write on it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions:

17 And [o]join them one to another into one stick; and they shall become one in thy hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people shall speak to thee, saying, [p]Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?

19 [q]Say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I will take [r]the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his [11]companions, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in my hand.

20 ¶ And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thy hand [s]before their eyes.

21 And say to them, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, [t]I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they [12]have gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land:

22 And [u]I will make them one nation in the land on the mountains of Israel; and [x]one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:

23 [y]Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

1 The army, 8 and malice of Gog. 14 God's judgment against him.

AND the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

2 [a]Son of man, [b]set thy face against [c]Gog, the land of Magog, ‖the chief prince of [d]Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal:

4 And [e]I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, [f]all of them clothed [1]perfectly, even a great company with [2]shields and [3]bucklers, all of them handling swords:

5 Persia, Ethiopia, and ‖Libya with them; all of them with [4]buckler and helmet:

6 [g]Gomer, and all his bands; the house of [h]Togarmah of the [5]northern regions, and all his bands: and many people with thee.

7 [i]Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou, and all thy company that are assembled to thee, and be thou a guard [6]for them.

8 ¶ [k]After many days [l]thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, [m]and is gathered out of many people, [7]on [n]the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it [8]hath been brought forth out of the nations, and they shall [o]dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt [9]arise [p]like a storm, thou shalt come [q]like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt ‖[10]devise an evil [11]device:

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages; I will [r]go to those who are at rest, [s]who dwell ‖safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,

12 †To take a spoil, and to take a prey; to turn thy hand upon [t]the desolate places which are now inhabited, [u]and on the people who are gathered out of the nations, who have gotten cattle and goods, who dwell [12]on the †height of the land.

13 [x]Sheba, and [y]Dedan, and the merchants [z]of Tarshish, with all [a]the young lions thereof, shall say to thee, [13]Hast thou come to take a spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to take a [14]booty? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil?

14 ¶ Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [b]In that day when my people of Israel [c]dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it?

15 [d]And thou shalt come from thy place [15]from the [16]northern regions, thou, [e]and many people with thee, all of them riding on horses, a great company, and a mighty army:

16 [f]And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, [17]like a cloud to cover the land; [g]it shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, [h]that the heathen may know me, when I shall be [18]reverenced through thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time †by my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days many years, that I would bring thee against them?

18 And it shall come to pass at the same time when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, that my fury shall come up in my face.

19 For [i]in my jealousy [k]and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, [l]Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel;

20 So that [m]the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men who are on the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, [n]and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the ‖[19]craggy places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will [o]call for [p]a sword against him through all my mountains, saith the Lord JEHOVAH: [q]every man's sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will [r][20]contend against him with [s]pestilence and with blood; and [t]I will rain on him, and on his bands, and on the many people who are with him, an overflowing [21]shower, and [u]great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I magnify myself, and [x][22]show myself to be holy; [y]and I will be known in the [23]sight of many nations, and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

1 God's judgment upon Gog. 8 Israel's victory. 11 Gog's burial in Hamon-gog. 17 The feast of the fowls. 23 Israel having been plagued for their sins, shall be gathered again with eternal favour.

THEREFORE, [a]thou son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal:

2 And I will turn thee back, and ‖ [1]lead thee, [b]and will cause thee to come up from †the [2]northern regions, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 [c]Thou shalt fall on the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy bands, and the people who [3]are with thee: [d]I will give thee to the ravenous birds of every †sort, and to the beasts of the field, †to be devoured.

5 Thou shalt fall on †the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

6 [e]And I will send a fire on Magog, and among those who dwell ‖carelessly in [f]the [4]distant regions: and they shall know that I am JEHOVAH.

7 [g]So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Israel; and I will not let them [h]pollute my holy name any more: [i]and the heathen shall know that I am JEHOVAH, the Holy One in Israel.

8 ¶ [k]Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord JEHOVAH; this is the day [l]of which I have spoken.

9 And those who dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the [5]bucklers, and the [6]shields, the bows and the arrows, and the ‖handstaves, and the [7]lances, and they shall ‖burn them with fire seven years:

10 So that they shall take no wood [8]from the field, neither cut down any [9]from the forests; for they shall burn the weapons with fire: [m]and they shall spoil those who spoiled them, and rob those who robbed them, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

11 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give to Gog a place there of graves in Israel, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea: and it shall stop the ‖noses of the passengers: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of [10]The-Multitude-of-Gog.

12 And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying [11] them, [n]that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them: and it shall be to them a renown 'in' the day [12]when [o]I shall be glorified, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

14 And they shall [13]separate †men of continual employment, passing through the land to bury with the passengers those who remain on the face of the earth, [p]to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search.

15 And the passengers who pass through the land, when any 'one' seeth a man's bone, then shall he †set up a [14]pillar by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of [15]The-Multitude-of-Gog.

16 And also the name of the city shall be [16]The-Multitude. Thus shall they [q]cleanse the land.

17 ¶ And, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [r]Speak to [17]the fowls of every wing, and to every beast of the field, [s]Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my ‖sacrifice which I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice [t]on the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 [u]Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of †goats, of bullocks, all of them [x]fatlings of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye [18]are full, and drink blood till ye [19]are drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 [y]Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and [20]riders, [z]with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

21 [a]And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment which I have executed, and [b]my hand which I have laid upon them.

22 [c]So the house of Israel shall know that I am JEHOVAH their God from that day and forward.

23 ¶ [d]And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity: because they trespassed against me, therefore [e]hid I my face from them, and [f]gave them into the hand of their enemies: so they all fell by the sword.

24 [g]According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions have I done to them, and hidden my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [h]Now will I bring again the [21]captives of Jacob, and have mercy on the [i]whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for my holy name;

26 [k]After that they 'shall' have borne their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they [l]dwelt safely in their land, and none made them afraid.

27 [m]When I 'shall' have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and [n]am [22]reverenced through them in the sight of many nations;

28 [o]Then shall they know that I am JEHOVAH their God, †who caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them to their own land, and have left none of them any more there.

29 [p]Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have [q]poured out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was [c]like the appearance of brass, [f]with a line of flax in his hand, [g]and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said to me, [h]Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thy heart on all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them to thee art thou brought hither: [i]declare all which thou seest to the house of Israel.

5 And behold [k]a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long by the cubit and a hand-breadth: [3]and he measured the breadth of the building, one reed: and the height, one reed.

6 ¶ Then came he to the gate †which looketh towards the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad; and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every [4] chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad; and between the [5] chambers were five cubits: and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the [6] chambers of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the [7]entrance of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

12 The [8]border also before the [9] chambers was one cubit on this side, and the [10]border was one cubit on that side: and the [11] chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of one [12] chamber to the roof of another; the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.

14 He made also posts of threescore cubits, even to the post of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance to the face of the porch of the inner gate were fifty cubits.

16 And there were [l]††[13]latticed windows to the [14] chambers, and to their posts within the gate [15]around, and likewise to the [16]cornices: and windows were [17]around ‖inward: and on each post were palm-trees.

17 Then brought he me into [m]the outward court, and lo, there were [n]chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about: [o]thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the [18]front of the lower gate to the [19]front of the inner court ‖without, a hundred cubits eastward and northward.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court †that looked towards the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

21 And the [20] chambers thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the [21]cornices thereof were [22]according to the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their [23]cornices, and their palm-trees, were [24]according to the measure of the gate that looketh towards the east: and they went up to it by seven steps; and the [25]cornices thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate towards the north, and towards the east: and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me towards the south, and behold a gate towards the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the [26]cornices thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it and in the [27]cornices thereof [28]around, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the [29]cornices thereof were before them: and it had palm-trees, one on this side, and another on that side, on the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court towards the south: and he measured from gate to gate towards the south a hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures;

29 And the [30] chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the [31]cornices thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the [32]cornices thereof [33]around: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were [p]five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits †broad.

31 And the [34]cornices thereof were towards the outer court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof: and the [35]ascent to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ And he brought me into the inner court towards the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the [36] chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the [37]cornices thereof, were according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the [38]cornices thereof [39]around: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the [40]cornices thereof were towards the outward court; and palm-trees were on the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the [41]ascent to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ And he brought me to the north gate, and measured it according to these measures;

36 The [42] chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the [43]cornices thereof, and the windows to it [44]around: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were towards the outer court; and palm-trees were on the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the [45]ascent to it had eight steps.

38 And the chambers, and the [46]entrances thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they [47]cleansed the burnt-offering.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt-offering, and [q]the sin-offering, and [r]the trespass-offering.

40 And at the side without, ‖as one goeth up to the [48]entrance of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt-offering, of a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high: whereon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt-offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were ‖hooks, a hand broad, fastened [49]around: and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of [s]the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was towards the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect towards the north.

45 And he said to me, This chamber, whose prospect is towards the south, is for the priests, [t]the keepers of the ‖charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is towards the north, is for the priests, [u]the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of [x]Zadok among the sons of Levi, who come near to JEHOVAH to minister to him.

47 So he measured the court, a hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad, [50]square; and the altar which was before the house.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 [y]The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were [z]pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAPTER XLI.

The measures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

1 AND he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on [2] one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the ‖door was ten cubits; and the sides of the door were five cubits on [3] one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits: and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door, two cubits; and the door, six cubits; and the breadth of the door, seven cubits.

4 So [a]he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said to me, This is the most holy place.

5 [4]And he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of [5]each side-chamber, four cubits, [6]around the house on every side.

6 [b]And the side-chambers were three, †one [7]against another, and ‖thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might †have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And †[c]there was an enlarging, and a winding about still upwards to the side-chambers: for the winding about of the house went still upwards [8]around the house; therefore the breadth of the house was still upwards, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the [9]middle.

8 I saw also the height of the house [10]around: the foundations of the side-chambers were [d]a full reed of six [11]great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chamber without, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the width of twenty cubits [12]around the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side-chambers were towards the place which was left, one door towards the north, and another door towards the south: and the breadth of the place which was left was five cubits [13]around.

12 Now the building which was before the separate place at the end towards the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick [14]around, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, a hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, a hundred cubits long;

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place towards the east, a hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place which was behind it, and the [15]columns thereof on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits, with the inner temple, and the porches of the court;

16 The [16]thresholds, and [e]the [17]latticed windows, and the [18]columns around on their three stories, over against the [19]threshold, †ceiled with wood [20]around, ‖and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered;

17 To that above the door, even to the inner house, and without, and by all the wall [21]around within and without by †measure.

18 And it was made [f]with cherubim and palm-trees, so that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub; and every cherub had two faces;

THEN he brought me [1] into the outer court, the way towards the north: and he brought me into [a]the chamber which was over against the separate place, and which was before the building towards the north.

2 Before the length of a hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the outer court, [2]were [b]columns against [3]columns in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors towards the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the [4]columns ‖were higher than these, ‖than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars [5]like the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was [6]drawn in more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall which was without over against the chambers, towards the outer court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and lo, before the temple were a hundred cubits.

9 And ‖from under these chambers was ‖the [7]entrance on the east side, ‖as one goeth into them from the outer court.

11 And [c]the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were towards the north, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers which were towards the south was a door [9]at the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall towards the east, as one entereth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he to me, The north chambers and the south chambers which are before the separate place, they [10]are holy chambers, where the priests who approach to JEHOVAH [d]shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and [e]the [11]meal-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; for the place is holy.

14 [f]When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy; and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to [12]the place which is for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth towards the gate whose prospect is towards the east, and measured it [13]around.

16 He measured the east †side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed [14]around.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed [15]around.

18 He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

19 ¶ He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: [g]it had a wall [16]around, [h]five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAPTER XLIII.

1 The returning of the glory of God into the temple. 7 The sin of Israel hindered God's presence. 10 The prophet exhorteth them to repentance, and observation of the law of the house. 13 The measures, 18 and the ordinances of the altar.

[1]AND he brought me to the gate, even the gate [a]which looketh towards the east:

2 [b]And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and [c]his voice was like a noise of many waters: [d]and the earth shone with his glory.

3 And it was [e]according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision which I saw ‖when I came [f]to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision which I saw [g]by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face.

4 [h]And the glory of JEHOVAH came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is towards the east.

5 [i][2]And the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, [k]the glory of JEHOVAH filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking to me [3]from the house; and [l]the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said to me, Son of man, [m]the place of my throne, and [n]the place of the soles of my feet, [o]where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and my holy name, shall the house of Israel [p]no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their [q]lewdness, nor by [r]the carcasses of their [s]kings in their high places.

8 [t]In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their post by my posts, ‖and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now, let them put away their [u]lewdness, and [x]the carcasses of their kings, far from me, [y]and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou son of man, [z]shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the ‖pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all which they have done, shew them the form of the house, and the [7]structure thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the [8]entrances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is [9]a law of the house; On [z]the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof [10]around shall be most holy. Behold, this is [11]a law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the altar [12]by the cubits: [v]The cubit is a cubit and a hand-breadth; even the †[13]cavity shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the †edge thereof [14]around shall be a span: and this shall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the [15]cavity on the ground even to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So †the altar shall be four cubits; and from †the altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four [16]squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the [17]cavity thereof shall be a cubit [18]around; and [z][19]its steps shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said to me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to [a]sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to [b]the priests the Levites who are of the seed of Zadok, who approach to me, to minister to me, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, [c]a young bullock for a sin-offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and on the border [20]around: thus shalt thou cleanse and [21]purify it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin-offering, and he [d]shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, [e]without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin-offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before JEHOVAH, [f]and the priests shall cast salt on them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering to JEHOVAH.

25 [g]Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin-offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

26 Seven days shall they [22]cleanse the altar and purify it; and they shall †consecrate themselves.

27 [h]And when these days are expired, it shall be, that on the eighth day, and [23]forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings on the altar, and your [24]thank-offerings: and I will [i]accept you, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XLIV.

1 The east gate assigned only to the prince. 4 The priests reproved for polluting of the sanctuary. 9 Idolaters uncapable of the priest's office. 15 The sons of Zadok are accepted thereto. 17 Ordinances for the priests.

THEN he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward sanctuary [a]which looketh towards the east; and it was shut.

2 Then said JEHOVAH to me; This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; [b]because JEHOVAH the God of Israel hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he shall sit in it to [c]eat [1]food before JEHOVAH; [d]he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then he brought me the way of the north gate before the house: and I looked, and [e]behold, the glory of JEHOVAH filled the house of JEHOVAH: [f]and I fell on my face.

5 And JEHOVAH said to me, [g]Son of man, †mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all which I say to thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of JEHOVAH, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the [2]entrance of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the [h]rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; O ye house of Israel, [i]let it suffice you of all your abominations;

7 [k]In that ye have brought [3] †[l]strangers, [m]uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer [n]my bread, [o]the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant because of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not [p]kept the charge of my holy things: but ye have set keepers of my ‖charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [q]No stranger, uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 [r4]But the Levites who are gone away far from me, when Israel went astray, who went astray away from me after their idols; they shall even bear their iniquity.

11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, [s]having charge at the gates of the house, and ministering to the house: [t]they shall slay the burnt-offering and the sacrifice for the people, and [u]they shall stand before them to minister to them.

12 Because they ministered to them before their idols, and [w]†caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity; therefore have I [x]lifted up my hand against them, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 [y]And they shall not come near to me, to [5]perform the office of a priest to me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, in the most holy place: but they shall [z]bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them [a]keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all which shall be done therein.

15 ¶ [b]But the priests the Levites, [c]the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of my sanctuary [d]when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister to me, and they [e]shall stand before me to offer to me [f]the fat and the blood, saith the Lord JEHOVAH:

16 They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to [g]my table, to minister to me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, [h]they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 [i]They shall have linen [6]turbans on their heads, and shall have linen [7]drawers on their loins; they shall not gird themselves ‖†with any thing that causeth sweat.

19 And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, [k]they shall put off their garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments; and they shall [l]not sanctify the people with their garments.

20 [m]Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only [8]trim their heads.

21 [n]Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a [o]widow, nor her that is †put away: but they shall take [9]virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow †who had a priest before.

23 And [p]they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And [q]in controversy they shall stand in judgment; and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall [r]keep my laws and [10]mine ordinances in all my [s]solemn' assemblies; [t]and they shall hallow my sabbaths.

25 And they shall come [11]by no [u]dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister who hath had no husband, they may defile themselves.

26 And [v]after he is cleansed, they shall reckon [12]for him seven days.

27 And on the day [13]when he goeth into the sanctuary, [w14]into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, [x]he shall offer his sin-offering, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

28 And it shall be to them for an inheritance; I [y]am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel: I am their possession.

29 [z]They shall eat the [15]meal-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; and [a]every ‖dedicated thing in Israel shall be theirs.

30 And the ‖[b]first of all the first-fruits of all things, and every oblation of all, of every sort of your oblations, shall be the priest's: ye [c]shall also give to the priest the first of your [16]meal, [d]to cause the blessing to rest in thy house.

31 The priests shall not eat of any thing which is [e]dead of itself, or torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

CHAPTER XLV.

1 The portion of land for the sanctuary, 6 for the city, 7 and for the prince. 9 Ordinances for the prince.

MOREOVER, †when ye shall [a]divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall [b]offer an oblation to JEHOVAH, †a holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand. This shall be holy in all the borders thereof [1]around.

2 Of this there shall be for the sanctuary [c]five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, square [2]around; and fifty cubits [3]around for the ‖suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: [d]and in it shall be the sanctuary and the most holy place.

4 [e]The holy portion of the land shall be for the priests the ministers of the sanctuary, who shall come near to minister to JEHOVAH: and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary.

5 [f]And the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth, shall also the Levites, the ministers of the house, have for themselves, for a possession for [g]twenty chambers.

6 ¶ [h]And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 ¶ [i]And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward: and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west border to the east border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in Israel: and [a]my princes shall no more oppress my people; and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [b]Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: [m]remove violence and [4]oppression, and execute judgment and justice, take away your †exactions from my people, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

10 Ye shall have just [n]balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: the measure thereof shall be [5]according to the homer.

12 And the [o]shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels 'together,' shall be your maneh.

13 This is the [6]heave-offering which ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah of a homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah of a homer of barley;

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is a homer of ten baths: for ten baths are a homer:

15 And one ‖lamb [7]from the flock, out of two hundred, out of the [8]watered pastures of Israel, for a [9]meal-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for [10]thank-offerings, [p]to make [11]atonement for them, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

16 All the people of the land †shall give this oblation ‖for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt-offerings, and [12]meal-offerings, and drink-offerings, in the feasts, and in the new-moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the [13]meal-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the [14]thank-offerings, to make [15]atonement for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; In the first month, on the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and [q]cleanse the sanctuary:

19 [r]And the priest shall take 'some' of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it on the posts of the house, and on the four corners of the settle of the altar, and on the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month [s]for every one who erreth, and for him who is [16]foolish: so shall ye [17]make atonement for the house.

21 [t]In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And on that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land [u]a bullock for a sin-offering.

23 And [x]seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt-offering to JEHOVAH, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; [y]and a kid of the goats daily for a sin-offering.

24 [z]And he shall prepare a [18]meal-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the [19]same in the [c]feast of the seven days, according to the sin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the [20]meal-offering, and according to the oil.

CHAPTER XLVI.

1 Ordinances for the prince in his worship, 9 and for the people. 16 An order for the prince's inheritance. 19 The courts for boiling and baking.

THUS saith the Lord JEHOVAH; The gate of the inner court that looketh towards the east, shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath it shall be opened, and on the day of the new-moon it shall be opened.

2 [a]And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt-offering and his [1]thank-offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: then he shall go forth; but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the door of this gate before JEHOVAH on the sabbaths and on the new-moons.

4 And the burnt-offering which [b]the prince shall offer to JEHOVAH on the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 [c]And the [2]meal-offering shall be an ephah for a ram, and the [3]meal-offering for the lambs †as he shall be able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And on the day of the new-moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a [4]meal-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs according as [5]he is able, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

8 [d]And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land [e]shall come before JEHOVAH in the solemn feasts, he who entereth in by the way of the north gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he who entereth by the way of the south gate, shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince in the midst of them, when they go in, shall go in; and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11 And on the feasts and on the solemnities [f]the [6]meal-offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now, when the prince shall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or [7]thank-offerings voluntarily to JEHOVAH, [g]one shall then open 'for' him the gate which looketh towards the east, and he shall prepare his burnt-offering and his [8]thank-offerings, as he did on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

13 [h]Thou shalt daily prepare a burnt-offering to JEHOVAH of a lamb †of the first year without blemish: thou shalt prepare it †every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a [9]meal-offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of a hin of oil, to [10]moisten the fine flour; a [11]meal-offering continually by a perpetual ordinance to JEHOVAH.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the [12]meal-offering, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt-offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; If the prince give a gift to any of his sons, the inheritance thereof shall be his sons'; it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to [i]the year of liberty; afterwards, it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons' for them.

18 [13]But [k]the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance by oppression, to thrust them out of their possession; but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ [14]And he brought me through the [15]entrance, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked towards the north: and behold, there was a place on the two sides westward.

20 Then said he to me, This is the place where the priests shall [l]boil the trespass-offering and the sin-offering, where they shall [m]bake the [16]meal-offering; that they bear them not out into the outer court, [n]to sanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me [17] into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, †in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts ‖[18]joined of forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four †corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a row of building [19]around in them, [20]around those four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows [21]around.

24 Then said he to me, These are the places of those who boil, where the ministers of the house shall [o]boil the sacrifice of the people.

CHAPTER XLVII.

1 The vision of the holy waters. 6 The virtue of them. 13 The borders of the land. 22 The division of it by lot.

1 AND he brought me again to the door of the house; and behold, [a]waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the [2]front of the house stood towards the east, and the waters came down from [3]below, from the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.

2 Then he brought me [4] the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without to the outer gate by the way which looketh eastward; and behold, there [5]dropped out waters on the right side.

3 And when [b]the man which had the line in his hand, went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the †waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterwards he measured a thousand; and it was a river which I could not pass[6]: for the waters were risen, †waters to swim in, a river which could not be passed[7].

6 ¶ And he said to me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now, when I had returned, behold, at the †bank of the river were very many [c]trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then said he to me, These waters [8]flow out towards the east country, and go down into the ‖desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the †rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great [9]abundance of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed: and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand [10]by it from En-gedi even to En-eglaim; they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be according to their kinds, [11]like the fish [d]of the great sea, exceedingly many.

11 But the miry places thereof and the marshes thereof ‖shall not be healed; they shall be given to salt.

12 And [e]by the river on the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, †shall grow all trees for [12]food, [f]whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be [13]exhausted: it shall bring forth ‖[14]early fruit according to its months, because their waters they [15]flowed from the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for [16]food, and the leaf thereof ‖for [g]medicine.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel: [h]Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning [17] which I ‖[i]lifted up my hand to give it to your fathers: and this land shall [k]fall to you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land towards the north side, from the great sea, [l]the way of Hethlon, as men go to [m]Zedad;

16 [n]Hamath, [o]Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; ‖Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coast of [18]Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be [p]Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus, and the north northward, and the border of Hamath. And this is the north side.

18 And the east side ye shall measure †from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border to the east sea. And this is the east side.

19 And the south side southward, from Tamar even to [q]the waters of ‖strife in Kadesh, the ‖[19]torrent to the great sea. And this is the south side ‖southward.

20 The west side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath. This is the west side.

21 So shall ye divide this land to you according to the tribes of Israel.

22 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance to you, [r]and to the strangers who sojourn among you, who shall beget children among you: [s]and they shall be to you as 'though' born in the country among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

23 And it shall come to pass, that in whatever tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

1, 23 The portions of the twelve tribes, 8 of the sanctuary, 15 of the city and suburbs, 21 and of the prince. 30 The dimensions and gates of the city.

NOW these are the names of the tribes. [a]From the north end to the [1]place of the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus northward, to the [2]place of Hamath; (for these are his sides east and west;) [†]a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan, from the east side to the west side, a portion for Asher.

3 And by the border of Asher, from the east side even to the west side, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, a portion for Manasseh.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even to the west side, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west side, a portion for Judah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Judah, from the east side to the west side, shall be [b]the offering which ye shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side to the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The oblation which ye shall offer to JEHOVAH shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the priests, shall be this holy oblation; towards the north five and twenty thousand in length, and towards the west ten thousand in breadth, and towards the east ten thousand in breadth, and towards the south five and twenty thousand in length; and the sanctuary of JEHOVAH shall be in the midst thereof.

11 [c]‖It shall be for the priests who are sanctified of the sons of Zadok; who have kept my ‖charge, who went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, [d]as the Levites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land which is offered shall be to them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over against the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 [e]And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first-fruits of the land: for it is holy to JEHOVAH.

15 ¶ [f]And the five thousand, which are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be [g]a profane place for the city, for dwelling, and for suburbs, and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be towards the north two hundred and fifty, and towards the south two hundred and fifty, and towards the east two hundred and fifty, and towards the west two hundred and fifty.

18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion; and the increase thereof shall be for food to those who serve the city.

19 [h]And those who serve the city shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation [3]square, with the possession of the city.

21 ¶ [i]And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city, over against the five and twenty thousand of the oblation towards the east border, and westward over against the five and twenty thousand towards the west border, over against the portions for the prince: and it shall be the holy oblation; [k]and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.

22 [4]And from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

23 As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side to the west side, Benjamin shall have †a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon shall have a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side to the west side, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar to [l]the waters of †strife in Kadesh, and to the [5]torrent towards the great sea.

29 [m]This is the land which ye shall divide by lot to the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

¶ THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

CHAPTER I.

1 Jehoiakim's captivity. 3 Ashpenaz taketh Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. 8 They refusing the king's portion do prosper with pulse and water. 17 Their excellency in wisdom.

IN the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah [a]came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the [1]LORD gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with [b]part of the vessels of the house of God: which he carried [c]into the land of Shinar to the house of his god; [d]and he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

3 ¶ And the king spoke to Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, and of the [2]royal family, and of the [3]princes;

4 Children [e]in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and [4]discerning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and [f]whom they might teach the [5]learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily provision of the king's [6]food, and of †the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might [g]stand before the king.

6 Now, among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

7 [h]To whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: [i]for he gave to Daniel the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.

8 ¶ But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself [k]with the portion of the king's [7]food, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore, he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now [l]God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said to Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your [8]food and your drink: for why should he see your faces 'in a' †worse [9]condition than the children who are of your ‖[10]age? then [11]will ye make me [12]forfeit my head to the king.

11 Then said Daniel to [13]the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, ten days; and let them give us †[14]vegetables †to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children who eat of the portion of the king's [15]food: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he [16]hearkened to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children who ate the portion of the king's [17]food.

16 [18]And the steward took away the portion of their [19]food, and the wine which they should [20]have drunk; and gave them [21]vegetables.

17 ¶ As for these four children, [m]God gave them [n]knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and ‖Daniel had [o]understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days [22]when the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king [23]talked with them: and among them all was found [24]no one like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore [p]stood they before the king.

20 [q]And in all matters of †wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and [25]enchanters who were in all his [26]kingdom.

21 [r]And Daniel continued even to the first year of king Cyrus.

CHAPTER II.

1 Nebuchadnezzar, forgetting his dream, requireth it of the Chaldeans, by promises and threatenings. 10 They acknowledging their inability are judged to die. 14 Daniel obtaining some respite findeth the dream. 19 He blesseth God. 24 He staying the decree is brought to the king. 31 The dream. 36 The interpretation. 46 Daniel's advancement.

AND in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, [a]wherewith his spirit was troubled, and [b]his sleep [1]left him.

2 [c]Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the [2]enchanters, and the Chaldeans, [3] to shew the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said to them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in [4]Syriac, [d]O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known to me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be [a]†cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.

6 [b]But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and ‖rewards and great honour: therefore, shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it.

8 The king answered and said, I know [c]certainly that ye would †gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But, if ye will not make known to me the dream, [d]there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.

10 ¶ The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man on the earth who can shew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, [e]who hath asked such [f]a thing of any magician, or [g]enchanter, or Chaldean.

11 And it is a [h]difficult thing which the king requireth and there is no other who can shew it before the king, [i]except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain; and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be slain.

14 ¶ Then Daniel †answered with [k]prudence and wisdom to Arioch the ‖†captain of the king's guard, who [l]had gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon:

15 He answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions:

18 [m]That they would desire mercies †of the God of heaven concerning this secret; ‖that Daniel and his [n]companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19 ¶ Then was the secret revealed to Daniel [o]in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered and said, [p]Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: [q]for wisdom and might are his:

21 And he changeth the [r]times and the seasons; [s]he removeth kings, and setteth up kings; [t]he giveth wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those who know understanding:

22 [u]He revealeth the deep and [v]hidden things: [w]he knoweth what is in the darkness, and [x]the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast made known to me now what we [y]desired of thee: for thou hast now made known to us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore, Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus to him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew to the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus to him, †I have found a man of the †captives of Judah, who will make known to the king the interpretation.

26 The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known to me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath [16]asked, the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the sooth-sayers, cannot shew to the king;

28 [z]But, there is a God in heaven who revealeth secrets, and †maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar [a]what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head on thy bed, are these;

29 [17]Thou—O king, thy thoughts †came into thy mind on thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: [b]and he who revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass.

30 [c]But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me [18]by any wisdom which I have more than any living, but [19]so that the interpretation should be made known to the king, [d]and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

31 ¶ Thou, O king, [20]wast looking, and behold a great image. This great image, whose brightness was [21]great, stood before thee; and the [22]appearance thereof was terrible.

32 [e]This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his ‖thighs of brass,

33 His legs of iron, his feet partly of iron and partly of clay.

34 Thou [23]didst see till that a stone was cut out ‖[f]without hands, which smote the image on his feet which were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became [g]like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, [h]so that [i]no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image [j]became a great [24]mountain, [k]and filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 [l]Thou, O king, art a king of kings: [m]for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and [25]authority, and glory.

38 [n]And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. [o]Thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise [p]another kingdom [q]inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

43 And whereas thou [32]didst see iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave †one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in †the days of these kings [r]shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, [s]which shall never be destroyed: and the †kingdom shall not be left to other people, [t]but it shall break in pieces and [33]consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

45 [u]Forasmuch as thou [34]didst see that the stone was cut out of the mountain ‖without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass †hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 ¶ [x]Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation [y]and sweet odours to him.

47 The king answered to Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, [z]and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.

48 Then the king made Daniel a great man, [a]and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and [b]chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel requested of the king, [c]and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel [d]sat in the gate of the king.

CHAPTER III.

1 Nebuchadnezzar dedicateth a golden image in Dura. 8 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego are accused for not worshipping the image. 13 They, being threatened, make a good confession. 19 God delivereth them out of the furnace. 26 Nebuchadnezzar seeing the miracle blesseth God.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the [1]valley of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the [2]lawyers, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the [3]lawyers, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image which Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then a herald cried †aloud, To you †it is commanded, [e]O people, nations, and languages,

5 That at [4]the time when ye hear the sound of the [5]horn, flute, harp, [6]lyre, psaltery, ‖†[7]bagpipe, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image which Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6 And whoever falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour [h]be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore, at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the [8]horn, flute, harp, [9]lyre, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the people, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans [e]came near, and accused the Jews.

9 They spoke and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, [d]O king, live for ever.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man who shall hear the sound of the [10]horn, flute, harp, [11]lyre, psaltery, and [12]bagpipe, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image:

11 And whoever falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 [e]There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, †have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king.

14 Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said to them, Is it [13]your purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready [14]at the time when ye hear the sound of the [15]horn, flute, harp, [16]lyre, psaltery, and [17]bagpipe, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made; [f]well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; [g]and who is that God that [18]will deliver you [19]from my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, [h][20]we are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us [21]from thy hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known to thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchadnezzar †full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace [22] seven times more than it was [23]usually heated.

20 And he commanded the †most mighty men who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their [24]wide drawers, their [25]under drawers, and their [26]mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the king's †commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the ‖flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound in the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spoke, and said to his ‖counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said to the king, [27]Certainly, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, [h]walking in the midst of the fire, and †they have no hurt: and the [28]appearance of the fourth is like [29]the Son of God.

26 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the †mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spoke, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth [30]from the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, [m]on whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was a hair of their head singed, neither were their [31]wide drawers changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spoke, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants who [n]trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 [o]Therefore, †I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, who speak †any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be [p]†cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a [32]manure-heap: [q]because there is no other god who can deliver [33]thus.

30 Then the king †promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Nebuchadnezzar confesseth God's kingdom, 4 maketh relation of his dream, which the magicians could not interpret. 8 Daniel heareth the dream. 19 He interpreteth it. 28 The story of the event.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR the king, [a]to all people, nations, and languages, who dwell on all the earth; Peace be multiplied to you.

2 †I thought it good to shew the signs and wonders [b]which the high God hath wrought towards me.

3 [c]How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is [d]an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 ¶ I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace:

5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, [e]and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head [f]troubled me.

6 Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream.

7 [g]Then came in the magicians, the [1]enchanters, the [2]astrologers, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known to me the interpretation thereof.

8 ¶ But at [3] last Daniel came in before me, [h]whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, [i]and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and before him I told the dream, saying,

9 O Belteshazzar, [k]master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of my head in my bed; †I saw, and behold [l]a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached to heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth:

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and on it was [4]food for all: [m]the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed [5]from it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head on my bed, and behold, [n]a watcher and [o]a holy one came down from heaven;

14 He cried †aloud, and said thus, [p]Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: [q]let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a [6]fetter of iron and brass, [7]among the tender grass of the field; and let [8]him be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts [9]among the grass of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given to him; and let seven [r]times pass over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: [10]so [s]that the living may know [t]that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen. Now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, [u]forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation: but thou art able; [x]for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel, [y]whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king spoke, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered, and said, My lord, [z]the dream be to those who hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 [a]The tree [11]which thou didst see, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached to the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and on it was [12]food for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and on whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 [b]It is thou, O king, who art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth to heaven, [c]and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 [d]And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a [13]fetter of iron and brass, [14]among the tender grass of the field; and let [15]him be wet with the dew of heaven, [e]and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which [16]hath come upon my lord the king:

25 That they [17]will [f]drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee [g]to eat grass [18]like oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, [h]till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and [i]giveth it to whomsoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure to thee, after that thou shalt have known that the [k]heavens do rule.

27 Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to thee, and [l]break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the [19]afflicted; [m][20]that it may be ‖[n]a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked ‖[21]on the palace of the kingdom of Babylon.

30 The king [o]spoke, and said, Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty?

31 [p]While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell [q]a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken; The kingdom is departed from thee:

32 And [r]they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass [22]like oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, [23]that thou mayest know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.

34 And [s]at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes to heaven, and mine understanding returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him [t]that liveth for ever, whose dominion is [u]an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation:

35 And [z]all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and [y]he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and [z][24]no one can stay his hand, or say to him, [a]What doest thou?

36 At the same time my reason returned to me: [b]and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and [25]splendour returned to me; and my counsellors and my [26]nobles petitioned me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent [27]greatness was [c]added to me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven, [d]all whose works are [28]sure, and his ways judgment: [e]and those who walk in pride he is able to abase.

CHAPTER V.

1 Belshazzar's impious feast. 5 A handwriting, unknown to the magicians, troubleth the king. 10 At the commendation of the queen, Daniel is brought. 17 He, reproving the king of pride and idolatry, 25 readeth and interpreteth the writing. 30 The monarchy is translated to the Medes.

BELSHAZZAR the king [a]made a great feast to a thousand of his [1]nobles, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels [b]which his ‖father Nebuchadnezzar had †taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king, and his [2]nobles, his wives, and his concubines, might drink [3]therefrom.

3 Then they brought the golden vessels [4]which had been taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king, and his [5]nobles, his wives, and his concubines, drank [6]from them.

4 They drank wine, [c]and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 ¶ [d]In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the [7]palm of the hand which wrote.

6 Then the king's †countenance †was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the ‖†joints of his loins [8]became weak, and his [9]knees smote one against another.

7 [f]The king cried †aloud to bring in [g]the [9]enchanters, the [10]astrologers, and the sooth-sayers. And the king spoke and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with [11]purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, [h]and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the king's wise men: [i]but they could not read the writing, [12]and make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly

10 ¶ Now, the queen by reason of the words of the king and his [14]nobles came into the banquet-house: and the queen spoke and said, [i]O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed:

11 [m]There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy ‖father, light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy ‖father, the king, I say, thy father, made [n]master of the magicians, [15]enchanters, [16]astrologers, and sooth-sayers:

14 I have even heard of thee, that [q]the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom [21]are found in thee.

15 And now [r]the wise men, the [22]enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing:

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canst †make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: [s]now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with [23]purple, and have a chain of gold [24]around thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 ¶ Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy ‖rewards to another; yet I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, [t]the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour:

19 And for the majesty which he gave him, [u]all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew; and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he set up; and whom he would he put down.

20 [x]But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened ‖in pride, he was †[25]brought down from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him:

21 And he was [y]driven from the sons of men; and ‖his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; [z]till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, [a]hast not humbled thy heart, though thou knewest all this;

23 [b]But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy [26]nobles, thy wives and thy concubines, have drank wine [27]from them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, [c]which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, [d]and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified.

24 Then was the [28]palm of the hand sent from him; and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing which was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.

27 TEKEL; [e]Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PERES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the [f]Medes and [g]Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with [29]purple, and put a chain of gold [30]around his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, [h]that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 ¶ [i]In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

31 [k]And Darius the Median took the kingdom, †being ‖about threescore and two years old.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Daniel is made chief of the presidents. 4 They conspiring against him obtain an idolatrous decree. 10 Daniel, accused of the breach thereof, is cast into the lions' den. 18 Daniel is saved. 24 His adversaries devoured, 25 and God magnified by a decree.

IT pleased Darius to set [a]over the kingdom a hundred and twenty princes, who should be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over these three presidents; of whom Daniel was first: that the princes might give accounts to them, and the king [1]might have no damage.

3 Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, [b]because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole [2]kingdom.

4 ¶ [c]Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find no occasion nor [3]crime; [4]because he was faithful, neither was there any error or [5]crime found [6]against him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the [7]law of his God.

6 Then these presidents and princes ‖assembled together to the king, and said thus to him, [d]King Darius, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains, have consulted together to establish a royal [8]decree, and to make a firm ‖[9]prohibition, that whoever shall ask a petition [10]from any God or man for thirty days, [11]except from thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the [12]prohibition, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the [e]law of the Medes and Persians, which †altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing, [13]even the prohibition.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber [f]towards Jerusalem, he kneeled on his knees [g]three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did [14]formerly.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 [h]Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's decree; Hast thou not signed a [15]prohibition, that every man who shall ask a petition [16]from any God or man within thirty days, [17]except from thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is [18]certain, [i]according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, [k]who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, [l]regardeth not thee, O king, nor the [19]prohibition which thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, [m]was [20]greatly displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled to the king, and said to the king, Know, O king, that [n]the law of the Medes and Persians is, That no [21]prohibition nor [22]decree which the king establisheth may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spoke and said to Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 [o]And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; [p]and the king sealed it with his own [23]seal-ring, and with the [24]seal-ring of his [25]nobles; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 ¶ Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither [26]did he allow his concubines to come before him: [q]and his sleep [27]fled from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste to the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice to Daniel: and the king spoke and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, [r]is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel to the king, [s]O king, live for ever.

22 [t]My God hath sent his angel, and hath [u]shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: [28]because before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceedingly glad [29]concerning him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den.

So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, [z]because he believed in his God.

24 ¶ And the king commanded, [y]and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, [z]their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and broke all their bones in pieces [30]before they reached the bottom of the den.

25 ¶ [a]Then king Darius wrote to all people, nations, and languages, who dwell on all the earth; Peace be multiplied to you.

26 [b]I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men [c]tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: [d]for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be [e]destroyed, and his dominion shall be even to the end.

27 He delivereth and rescueth, [f]and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the †power of the lions.

28 [31]And this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, [g]and in the reign of [h]Cyrus the Persian.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Daniel's vision of four beasts. 9 of God's kingdom. 15 The interpretation thereof.

IN the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, [a]Daniel †had a dream and [b]visions of his head on his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the ‖matters.

2 Daniel spoke and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven [i]rushed upon each other on the great sea.

3 And four great beasts [c]came up from the sea, [2]different one from another.

4 The first was [d]like a lion, and had eagle's wings; I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked 'off,' ‖and it was lifted up from the earth, and made 'to' stand on the feet [3]like a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

5 [e]And behold another beast, a second, like [4]a bear, and ‖it raised up itself [5]on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus to it, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this, I beheld, and lo, another, like a leopard, which had on the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also [f]four heads; and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold [g]a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and exceedingly strong; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and broke in pieces, and [6]trampled the residue with [7]its feet: and it was [8]different from all the beasts which were before it; [h]and it had ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, [i]there came up among them another little horn, before which there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes [k]of man, [l]and a mouth speaking [9]great things.

9 ¶ [m]I beheld till the thrones were [10]placed, and [n]the Ancient of days did sit, [o]whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool:

his throne was like [11]flames of fire, [p]and his wheels [12]like burning fire.

10 [q]A fiery [13]stream [14]flowed and came forth from before him: [r]thousand thousands ministered to him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: [s]the judgment [15]sat, and the books were opened.

11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: [t]I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As [16]to the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet †their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, [u]one like [17]the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to [x]the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 [y]And there was given 'to' him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all [z]people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is [a]an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom, that which shall not be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel [b]was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my †body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the truth [18]concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 [c]These great beasts, which are four, are four [19]kings, which shall arise [20]from the earth.

18 But [d]the [21]saints of the †Most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of [e]the fourth beast, which was [22]different †from all the others, exceedingly dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, broke in pieces, and [23]trampled the residue with his feet;

20 And [21]concerning the ten horns which were on his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even [25]concerning that horn which had eyes, and a mouth that spoke very great things, whose look was [26]bolder than his [27]companions.

21 I [28]had seen, [f]and the same horn 'had' made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 [g]Until the Ancient of days came, [h]and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came when the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said; The fourth beast shall be [i]the fourth kingdom on earth, which shall be [29]different from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 [k]And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings who shall arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be [30]different from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

25 [l]And he shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall [m]31]oppress the saints of the Most High, and [n]32]expect to change times and [33]laws: and [o]they shall be given into his hand [p]until a time and times and the dividing of time.

26 [q]But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion to consume and to destroy it to the end.

27 And the [r]kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, [s]whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, [t]and all ‖dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, [u]my [34]thoughts much troubled me, and my countenance changed on me: but I [x][35]kept the matter in my heart.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Daniel's vision of the ram and he-goat. 13 The two thousand three hundred days of sacrifice. 15 Gabriel comforteth Daniel, and interpreteth the vision.

IN the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, [1] me Daniel, after that which appeared to me [a]at [2] first.

2 And I saw in a vision; and it came to pass, when I saw, that I was at [b]Shushan in the [3]palace, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than †the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; so that no beasts [4]could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver [5]from his power; [c]but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and ‖touched not the ground: and the goat had †[d]a [6]conspicuous horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran to him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close to the ram; and he was [7]enraged against him, and smote the ram, and broke his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and [8]trampled on him: and there was none that could deliver the ram [9]from his power.

8 Therefore, the he-goat [10]became very great: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and for it, came up [e]four [11]conspicuous ones towards the four winds of heaven.

9 [f]And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which [12]became exceedingly great, [g]towards the south, and towards the east, and towards the [h][13]beautiful land.

10 [i]And it [14]became great, even ‖to [k]the host of heaven; and [l]it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and [15]trampled on them.

11 Yea, [m]he magnified himself even ‖to [n]the prince of the host, [o]and ‖by him [p]the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the [16]place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And [q]‖a host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and [17]he cast down [r]the truth to the ground: and [18]he [s]practised, and prospered.

13 ¶ Then I heard [u]one saint speaking, and another saint said to ‖†that certain saint who spoke, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression ‖[19]that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?

14 And he said to me, Until two thousand and three hundred †days; then shall the sanctuary be †cleansed.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, and [y]sought for the meaning, then behold, there stood before me ‘one’ [z][20]like the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice [a]between the banks of Ulai, who called, and said, [b]Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and [c]fell on my face: but he said to me, Understand, O son of man: for at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 [d]Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face towards the ground: [e]but he touched me, and †set me upright.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors †[26]shall have fulfilled their sins, a king [m]of [27]shameless countenance, and understanding dark sentences, [n]shall [28]arise.

24 And his power shall be mighty, [o]but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, [p]and shall prosper, and practise, [q]and shall destroy the mighty and the †holy people.

25 And [r]through his [29]cunning also he shall cause craft to prosper [30]by his hand; [s]and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and [31]through security shall destroy many: [t]he shall also [32]arise against the Prince of princes; but he shall be [z]broken without hand.

26 [y]And the vision of the [33]evening and the morning which was told is true: [z]wherefore [34]shut thou up the vision; for it shall be for many days.

27 [a]And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; afterward I [35]arose, [b]and did the king's business; and I was astonished at the vision, [c]but none understood it.

2 In the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, [3]concerning which the word of JEHOVAH came to [b]Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3 ¶ [c]And I set my face to the [4]Lord GOD, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes:

4 And I prayed to JEHOVAH my God, and [5]confessed, and said, O [d][6]Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and [7]kindness to those who love him, and to those who keep his commandments;

5 [e]We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments:

6 [f]Neither have we hearkened to thy servants the prophets, who spoke in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O [8]Lord, [g]righteousness ‖belongeth to thee, but to us [9]shame of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near, and who are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O [10]Lord, to us belongeth [h][11]shame of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 [i]To the [12]Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him;

10 [k]Neither have we obeyed the voice of JEHOVAH our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, [l]all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath which is written in the [m]law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath [n]confirmed his words, which he spoke against us, and against our judges who judged us, by bringing on us a great evil: [o]for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done [13]to Jerusalem.

13 [p]As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil [14]hath come on us: [q]yet †[15]we entreated not JEHOVAH our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath JEHOVAH [r]watched [16]over the evil, and brought it upon us: [s]for JEHOVAH our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: [t]for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O [17]Lord our God, [u]who hast brought thy people forth [18]from the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast †gotten thyself [z]renown, as at this day; [y]we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O [19]Lord, [z]according to all thy [20]compassion, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, [a]thy holy mountain: because for our sins, [b]and for the iniquities of our fathers, [c]Jerusalem and thy people [d][21]have

27 And he shall [36]make [l]a firm covenant with [m]many for one week; and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the [37]meal-offering to cease, ‖and for the overspreading of [n]abominations, he shall make it desolate, [o]even until the consummation, and that [38]which is decreed shall have been poured ‖upon the desolate.

2 In those days I Daniel was mourning three [2] weeks.

3 I ate no †pleasant [3]food, neither came flesh nor wine into my mouth, [e]neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is [f]Hiddekel;

5 Then [g]I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and [h]behold †a [4] man clothed in linen, whose loins were [i]girded with [k][5]precious gold of Uphaz:

6 His body also was [l]like the [6]beryl, and his face [m][7]like the appearance of lightning, [n]and his eyes [8]like lamps of fire, and his arms [o]and his feet like in colour to polished brass, [p]and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel [q]alone saw the vision: for the men who were with me saw not the vision; but a great [9]trembling fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, [r]and there remained no strength in me: for my ‖[s]comeliness was turned on me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: [t]and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face towards the ground.

10 ¶ [u]And behold, a hand touched me, which †set me on my knees and on the palms of my hands,

11 And he said to me, O Daniel, [x]†a man greatly beloved, understand the words which I speak to thee, and †stand upright: for to thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word to me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he to me, [y]Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day [10]when thou didst [11]set thy heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, [z]thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 [a]But the prince of the kingdom of Persia [12]withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, [b]Michael, ‖one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people [c]in the latter days: [d]for yet the vision is for many days.

15 And when he had spoken such words to me, [e]I set my face towards the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And behold, [f]one like the similitude of the sons of men [g]touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spoke, and said to him who stood before me, O my lord, by the vision [h]my [13]sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can ‖the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as [14]to me, [15]immediately there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

CHAPTER X.

1 Daniel having humbled himself seeth a vision.
10 Being troubled with fear he is comforted by the angel.

IN the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed to Daniel,

19 [t]And said, O man greatly beloved, [k]fear not: peace be to thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken to me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come to thee? and now will I return to fight [l]with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is [16]recorded in the [17]writing of truth: and there is [18]no one who †aideth me in these things, [m][19]except Michael your prince.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The overthrow of Persia by the king of Greece. 5 Leagues and conflicts between the kings of the south and of the north. 30 The invasion and tyranny of the Romans.

ALSO I, [a]in the first year of [b]Darius the Mede, even I, stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there [1]will yet arise three kings in Persia; and the fourth [2]will be far richer than they all: and [3]according to his strength through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of [4]Greece.

3 And [c]a mighty king shall stand up, who shall rule with great dominion, and [d]do according to his will.

4 And when he shall [5]arise, [e]his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided towards the four winds of heaven; [6]but not to his posterity, [f]nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others besides those.

5 ¶ And the king of the south shall be strong, [7]and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And [8]after some years they †shall join themselves together; for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make [9]peace: but she shall not retain the power of the arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm: but she shall be given up, and those who brought her, and ‖he who begot her, and he who strengthened her in these times.

7 But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up ‖in his [10]stead, who shall come [11]with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods, with their [12]molten images, and with †their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

9 [13]Thus the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sons shall [14]make war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come, [s]and overflow, and pass through: ‖then shall he [15]again make war, [h]even to his fortress.

11 And the king of the south shall be [16]enraged, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude; but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up; and he shall cast down many ten thousands: but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north shall [17]again set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come †after certain years with a great army and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the [18]oppressors of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision; but they shall [19]fail.

15 [20]And the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the [21]fortified cities: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither †his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand

16 But he who cometh [22]against him [i]shall do according to his own will, and [k][23]no one shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the ‖†[24]beautiful land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also [l]set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and ‖upright ones with him; thus shall he do: and he shall give him the daughter of women, †corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, [m]neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face to the [25]isles, and shall take many: but a [26]leader †for his own behalf shall cause †the reproach offered by him to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the [27]fortress of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, [n]and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up ‖in his [28]stead †an exactor of tribute in the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in †anger, nor in battle.

21 And ‖in his [29]stead [o]shall stand up a [30]despised person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 [p]And with the arms of a flood shall they be overflowed from before him, and shall be broken; [q]yea, also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him [r]he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter [31]the quiet and fertile places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall [32]contrive his devices against the [33]fortresses, even for a time.

25 And he shall [34]rouse up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall [35]prepare war for battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall [36]contrive devices against him.

26 [37]Even those who eat his food shall destroy him, and his army shall [t]overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings' †hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for [a]yet the end shall be at the time appointed.
28 Then shall he return into his land with great riches; and [b]his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.
29 At the time appointed he shall [38]again come toward the south; [z]but it shall not be [39]like the former, [c]or [40]like the latter.
30 ¶ [b]For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be [41]faint-hearted, and return, and [42]be angry [c]against the holy covenant: [43]thus shall he do; he shall even return, and have intelligence with those who forsake the holy covenant.
31 And arms shall stand on his part, [c]and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that ‖maketh desolate.
32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he ‖corrupt by flatteries: but the people who do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits.
33 [i]And those who understand among the people shall instruct many: [k]yet they shall [44]fail by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, [45]some days.
34 Now when they shall [46]fail, they shall be [47]helped with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.
35 And some of those of understanding shall [48]fail, [m]to [49]purify ‖them, and to [50]cleanse, and to make them white, [o]even to the time of the end: [p]because it is yet for a time appointed.
36 And the king [q]shall do according to his will; and he shall [r]exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak [51]wonderful things [s]against the God of gods, and shall prosper [t]till the indignation be accomplished: for that which is [52]decreed shall be done.
37 Neither shall he regard the [53]gods of his fathers, [u]nor the desire of women, [x]nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.
38 But †in his [54]stead shall he honour the god of ‖†forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and †pleasant things.
39 Thus shall he do in the †[56]fortresses with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for †gain.
40 [y]And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him: and the king of the north shall come against him [z]like a [56]tempest, with chariots, [a]and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, [b]and shall overflow and pass over.
41 He shall enter also into the †[57]beautiful land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, [c]even Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.
42 He shall †stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape.
43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be [d][58]in his company.
44 But [59]reports from the east and [60]from the north shall trouble him: therefore he shall go forth with great fury to [61]ruin, and utterly to [62]destroy many.
45 And he shall plant the [63]pavilions of his palace between the seas on [e]the ‖†[64]beautiful holy mountain: [f]yet he shall come to his end, and [65]no one shall help him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Michael shall deliver Israel from their troubles.
5 Daniel is informed of the times.

AND at that time shall [a]Michael stand up, the great prince who standeth 'up' for the children of thy people: [b]and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people [c]shall be delivered, every one who shall be found [d]written in the book.
2 And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, [e]some to everlasting life, and some to shame [f]and everlasting [1]abhorrence.
3 And [g]those who are ‖wise, shall [h]shine [2]like the brightness of the firmament; [i]and those who turn many to righteousness, [k][3]like the stars for ever and ever.
4 [l]But thou, O Daniel, [m][4]shut up the words, and seal the book, even to [n]the time of the end: many shall [5]run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.
5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood two others, the one on this side of the †bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank [o]of the river.
6 And one said to [p]the man clothed in linen, who was [6]over the waters of the river, [q]How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?
7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was [7]over the waters of the river, when he [r]held up his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by him [s]who liveth for ever, [t]that it should be for a time, times, and ‖a half; [u]and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of [x]the holy people, all these things shall be finished.
8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?
9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are [8]shut up and sealed [y]till the time of the end.
10 [z]Many shall be [9]cleansed, and made white, and [10]purified; [a]but the wicked [11]will do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but [b]the wise shall understand.
11 And from the time [c][12]when the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and †the abomination that ‖maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.
12 [13]Happy is he who waiteth, and [14]attaineth to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.
13 But [d]go thou thy way till the end be: ‖[e]for thou shalt rest, [f]and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

¶ HOSEA.

CHAPTER I.

1 Hosea, to shew God's judgment for spiritual [1]lewdness, taketh Gomer, 4 and hath by her Jezreel, 6 Lo-ruhamah, 8 and Lo-ammi. 10 The restoration of Judah and Israel.

THE word of JEHOVAH which came to Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel.

2 The beginning of the word of JEHOVAH by Hosea. [2]Now JEHOVAH said to Hosea, [a]Go, take to thyself a wife of [3]lewdness and children of [4]lewdness; for [b]the land hath committed great [5]lewdness, 'by' departing from JEHOVAH.

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; who conceived, and bore him a son.

4 And JEHOVAH said to him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, [c]and I will †avenge the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, [d]and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease.

5 [e]And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 ¶ And she conceived again, and bore a daughter. And God said to him, Call her name ‖Lo-ruhamah: [f]for †I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; ‖but I will utterly take them away.

7 [g]But I will have mercy on the house of Judah, and will save them by JEHOVAH their God, and [h]will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 ¶ Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bore a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name ‖Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 ¶ Yet [i]the number of the children of Israel shall be [7]like the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; [k]and it shall come to pass, that ‖in the place where it was said to them, [l]Ye are not my people, there it shall be said to them, Ye are [m]the sons of the living God.

11 [n]Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one [8]chief, and they shall come up [9]from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

CHAPTER II.

1 The idolatry of the people. 6 God's judgments against them. 14 His promises of reconciliation with them.

SAY ye to your brethren, ‖Ammi; and to your sisters, ‖Ruhamah.

2 [1]Contend with your mother, [2]contend; for [a]she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her [b][3]lewdness from her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts;

3 Lest [c]I strip her naked, and set her as in the day [4]when she was [d]born, and make her [e][5]like a desert, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with [f]thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy on her children; for they [6]are the [5]children of [7]lewdness.

5 [h]For their mother hath played the harlot: she who conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, [i]who give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my †drink.

6 ¶ Therefore, behold, [k]I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and †make a wall, 'so' that she shall not find her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, [l]I will go [8]back to my [m]first husband; for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not [n][9]consider that [o]I gave her corn, and 'new' wine, and 'fresh' oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, ‖which they [10]wrought for Baal.

9 Therefore, will I [11] [p]take [12]back my corn in the time thereof, and my 'new' wine in the season thereof, and will [13]take away my wool and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

10 And now [q]will I [14]expose her [15]shameful deed in the sight of her lovers, and [16]no one shall deliver her [17]from my hand.

11 [r]I will also cause all her [18]joy to cease, her [s]feast days, her new-moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will †destroy her vines and her fig-trees, 'whereof she hath said, These are my [19]gifts which my lovers have given me: and [t]I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit on her the days of Baalim, wherein she burned incense to them, and she [x]decked herself with her ear-rings and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith JEHOVAH.

14 ¶ Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and [y]bring her into the [20]desert, and speak ‖†comfortably to her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and [z]the valley of Achor for a [21]gate of hope: and she shall sing there, as in [a]the days of her youth, and [b]as in the day when she came up [22]from the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be in that day, saith JEHOVAH, that thou shalt call me [23]My husband; and shalt call me no more ‖Baali.

17 For [c]I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be [24]mentioned by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a [d]covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and [e]I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the [25]land, and will make them to [f]lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee to myself for ever; yea, I will betroth thee to myself in righteousness, and in judgment, and in [26]kindness, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee to myself in faithfulness: and [g]thou shalt know JEHOVAH.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, [h]I will hear, saith JEHOVAH, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth;

22 And the earth shall hear the corn, and the 'new' wine, and the 'fresh' oil; [t]and they shall hear Jezreel.

23 And [u]I will sow her [27]for myself in the [28]land; [v]and I will have mercy on her who had not obtained mercy; and I [w]will say to those who were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAPTER III.

1 By the expiation of an adulteress, 4 is shewed the desolation of Israel before their restoration.

THEN said JEHOVAH to me, [x]Go [1]again, love a woman beloved by her [y]friend, yet an adulteress, according to the love of JEHOVAH towards the children of Israel, who look to other gods, and love [2]raisin-cakes.

2 So I bought her [3]for myself with fifteen [4]shekels of silver, and [5]with a homer [6] and a †half [7] of barley:

3 And I said to her, Thou shalt [z]abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man: so will I also be for thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall abide many days [a]without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without †an image, and without an [b]ephod, and without [c]teraphim:

5 Afterwards shall the children of Israel return, and [d]seek JEHOVAH their God, and [e]David their king; and shall [8]reverence JEHOVAH and his goodness in the [f]latter days.

CHAPTER IV.

1 God's judgments against the sins of the people, 6 and of the priests, 12 and against their idolatry. 15 Judah is exhorted to take warning by Israel's calamity.

HEAR the word of JEHOVAH, ye children of Israel: for JEHOVAH hath a [a]controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor [b]knowledge of God in the land.

2 [1]Cursing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, [2] break [3]forth, and †blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore, [c]shall the land mourn, and [d]every one who dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

4 Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another: for thy people are [4]like those [e]who strive with the priest.

5 Therefore, shalt thou fall [f]in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will †destroy thy mother.

6 ¶ [g]My people are †destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, 'so' that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 [h]As they were increased, so they sinned against me: [i]therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 They eat up the sin of my people, and they †set their heart on their iniquity.

9 And [5]it shall be, [k][6]as with the people, [7]so with the priest: and I will †punish them for their ways, and †reward them 'for' their doings.

10 For [l]they shall eat, and not [8]be satisfied: they shall commit [9]lewdness, and shall not increase: because they have [10]ceased to take heed to JEHOVAH.

11 [11]Lewdness and wine and new wine [m]take away the [12]understanding.

12 ¶ My people ask counsel [13]from their [n][14]blocks, and their staff declareth to them: for [o]the spirit of [15]lewdness hath caused them to err, and they have gone [16]lewdly from under their God.

13 [p]They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains, and burn incense on the hills, under oaks and [17]almond-trees and [18]turpentine-trees, because the shadow thereof is good: [q]therefore your daughters shall [19]play the harlot, and your spouses shall commit adultery.

14 ‖I will not punish your daughters when they [20]play the harlot, nor your spouses when they commit adultery; for 'they' themselves are separated with [21]lewd women, and they sacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that [r]doth not understand shall ‖fall.

15 ¶ Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend; [s]and come ye not to Gilgal, neither go ye up to [t]Beth-aven, [u]nor swear, 'As' JEHOVAH liveth.

16 For Israel [x][22]draweth back [23]like a stubborn heifer: now JEHOVAH will feed them [24]like a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols: [y]let him alone.

18 Their [25]revelling is finished: they have committed [26]lewdness continually: [z]her †rulers with shame do love, Give ye.

19 [a]The wind hath [27]seized her with its wings, and [b]they shall be ashamed [28]on account of their sacrifices.

CHAPTER V.

1 God's judgments against the priests, the people, and the princes of Israel, for their manifold sins, 15 until they repent.

HEAR ye this, O priests; and hearken, ye house of Israel; and give ye ear, O house of the king; for judgment is towards you, because [a]ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 [1]By sacrifice they transgress deeply, and I will bring chastisement on them all.

3 [c]I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hidden from me: for now, O Ephraim, [d]thou [2]playest the harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 †‖They will not [3]endeavour to turn to their God: for [e]the spirit of [4]lewdness is in the midst of them, and they have not [5]regarded JEHOVAH.

5 And [f]the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity; Judah also shall fall with them.

6 [g]They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek JEHOVAH; but they shall not find him; he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have [h]dealt treacherously against JEHOVAH: for they have begotten strange children: now shall [i][6]the new-moon devour them with their portions.

8 [k]Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: [l]cry aloud at [m]Beth-aven, [n][7]behind thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The princes of Judah were like those who [o]remove the [8]land-mark: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is [p]oppressed and broken [9]by judgment, because he willingly walked after [q 10]a commandment.

12 Therefore will I be to Ephraim [11]like a moth, and to the house of Judah [12]like ‖rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his [s]wound, then went Ephraim [t]to the Assyrian, [u]and sent ‖to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For [x]I will be to Ephraim [13]like a lion, and [14]like a young lion to the house of Judah: [y]I, even I, will tear and go away; I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15 ¶ I will go [15]back to my place, †till [z]they [16]suffer for their offence, and seek my face: [a]in their affliction they will seek me early.

CHAPTER VI.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A complaint of their untowardness and iniquity.

COME, and let us return to JEHOVAH: for [a]he hath torn, and [b]he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 [c]After two days will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his [1]presence.

3 [d]Then shall we know, if we follow on to know JEHOVAH: his going forth is prepared [e 2]like the morning; and [f]he [3]will come to us [g 4]like the shower, like the latter and former rain to the earth.

4 ¶ [h]O Ephraim, what shall I do to thee? O Judah, what shall I do to thee? for your ‖goodness is [i 5]like a morning cloud, and [6]like the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them [k]by the prophets; I have slain them by [l]the words of my mouth: ‖and thy judgments are [7]like the light which goeth forth.

6 For I desired [m]mercy [8]rather [n]than sacrifice: and the [o]knowledge of God more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they ‖like men [p]have transgressed the covenant: there [q]have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 [r]Gilead is a city of those who work iniquity, and [9]hath footsteps of blood.

9 And as troops of robbers [s]lie in' wait for a man, so [s]the company of priests murder in the way [10]to Shechem: for they commit [11]crimes.

10 I have seen [t]a horrible thing in the house of Israel: there is [u]the [12]lewdness of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also, O Judah, [x]he hath set a harvest for thee, [y]when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAPTER VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sins. 11 God's wrath against them for their hypocrisy.

WHEN I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was [1]revealed, and the †wickedness of Samaria: for [a]they commit falsehood: and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers †spoileth without.

2 And they †consider not in their hearts, that I [b]remember all their wickedness: now [c]their own doings have beset them [2]around; they are [d]before my face.

5 In the day of our king the princes have made him sick with [5]the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have ‖made ready their heart like an oven, while they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They [6]have all heated themselves like an oven, and have devoured their judges; [g]all their kings [h]are fallen: [i]there is none among them that calleth to me:

12 When they shall go, [q]I will spread my net [11]over them; I will bring them down [12]like the fowls of the heaven; I will chastise them, [r]as their congregation hath heard.

4 [f]They have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I [3]approved it not: [g]of their silver and their gold have they made themselves idols, that they might be cut off.

5 ¶ Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast [4]them off; mine anger is kindled against them: [h]how long will it be [5]before they attain to innocency?

6 For from Israel was it also: the workman made it; therefore it is not God: [6]for the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For [a]they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no ‖stalk: the bud shall yield no meal: if [7]by chance it yield, [b]the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 [c]Israel is swallowed up: now shall they be among the Gentiles [m]as a vessel [8]which is not desired.

9 For [n]they are gone up to Assyria, [o]a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim [p]hath hired †lovers.

10 [9]But though they have hired among the nations, now [q]will I gather them, and they shall ‖sorrow ‖a little for the burden of [r]the king [10]and princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made [s]many altars to sin, altars shall be to him [11]for sin.

12 I have written to him [t]the great things of my law, but they were [12]esteemed like a strange thing.

13 [u]‖They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; [x]but JEHOVAH accepteth them not; [y]now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: [z]they shall return to Egypt.

14 [a]For Israel hath forgotten [b]his Maker, and [c]buildeth [13]palaces; and Judah hath multiplied [14]fortified cities: but [d]I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the [15]castles thereof.

CHAPTER IX.

The distress and captivity of Israel for their sins and idolatry.

REJOICE not, O Israel, for joy, [1]like other people: for thou [e]hast gone [2]lewdly from thy God, thou hast loved a [3]reward ‖on every corn-floor.

2 [4]The floor and the [5]wine-vat shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in [6]JEHOVAH'S land; [e]but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and [f]they shall eat unclean things [g]in Assyria.

4 [h]They shall not offer wine-offerings to JEHOVAH, [i]neither shall they be pleasing to him: [k]their sacrifices shall be to them as the bread of mourners; all who eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread [l]for their [4]soul shall not come into the house of JEHOVAH.

5 What will ye do in [m]the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of JEHOVAH?

6 For lo, they are gone because of †destruction: [n]Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: ‖†the pleasant [o]'things' [5]purchased for their silver, [o]nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their [6]habitations.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, †[p]the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The [q]watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and [7]destruction ‖in the house of his God.

9 [r]They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of [s]Gibeah: [8][t]He will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the [9]desert; I saw your fathers [10]like [u]the first ripe 'fig' on the fig-tree [x]at its first time: but they went to [y]Baal-peor, and [z]separated themselves [c]to that shame; [b]and their abominations were according [11]to their love.

11 As [12]to Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird, from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 [c]Though they bring up their children, yet [d]will I bereave them, [13]not a man shall be left: yea, [e]wo [14] to them when I [f]depart from them!

13 [15]I saw Ephraim [g]like Tyre, planted in a [16]fertile place: [h]but Ephraim shall bring forth his children [17]for the murderer.

14 Give them, O JEHOVAH: what wilt thou give? give them [i]a †miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness [k]is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: [l]for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them [18]from my house, I will love them no more: [m]all their princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, [n]though they bring forth, yet will I slay even †the beloved [19]whom they bring forth.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken to him: and they shall be [o]wanderers among the nations.

CHAPTER X.

Israel is reproved and threatened for their impiety and idolatry.

ISRAEL is [a][1]a spreading vine, he bringeth forth fruit to himself: according to the [2]abundance of his fruit [b]he hath increased the altars; according to the goodness of his land [c]they have made goodly †images.

2 Their heart is [d][3]deceitful; now shall they be [4]punished: he shall †break down their altars, he [5]will spoil their images.

3 [e]For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not JEHOVAH; what then [6]can a king do [7]for us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant: thus judgment springeth up [f][8]like the poppy in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear because of [g]the calves of [h]Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and ‖the [9]idol-priests thereof [10]shall tremble over it, [i]for the glory thereof, because it [11]hath departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried to Assyria, for a present to [k]king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed [l]of his own counsel.

7 [m]As for Samaria, her king is cut off [12]like the foam on †the water.

8 [n]The high places also of Aven, [o]the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: [p]the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; [q]and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 [r]O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood: [s]the battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 [t][13]According to my desire [14]I will chastise them; and [u]the people shall be gathered against them; [15]and they shall bind them for their two iniquities.

11 And Ephraim is [16]like [x]a heifer that is [17]trained, and loveth to tread out the [18]grain; but I passed over on †her fair neck: I will [19]yoke Ephraim; Judah shall plough, and Jacob shall [20]harrow his clods.

12 [y]Sow [21]for yourselves in righteousness, reap [22]according to mercy; [z]break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain [23]righteousness on you.

13 [a]Ye have ploughed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 [b]Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be [24]destroyed, as Shalman [25]destroyed [c]Beth-arbel in the day of battle: [d]the mother was dashed in pieces [26]with her children.

15 So shall Beth-el do to you because of †your great wickedness: in [27]the morning [e]shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The ingratitude of Israel to God for his benefits. 5 His judgment. 8 God's mercy toward them.

WHEN [a]Israel was a child, then I loved him, and [b]called my [c]son [1]from Egypt.

2 As they called them, so they went from them: [d]they sacrificed to Baalim, and burned incense to graven images.

3 [e]I taught Ephraim also to [2]walk, taking them by their arms; but they [3]considered not that [f]I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and [g]I was to them [4]like those who †take off the yoke on their jaws, and [h]I [5]gently fed them.

5 ¶ [i]He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king, [k]because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, [l]because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to [m]backsliding from me: [n]though they called them to the Most High, †none at all would exalt him.

8 [o]How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I [6]abandon thee, Israel? how shall I make thee [7]like [p]Admah? how shall I set thee [8]like Zeboim? [q]my heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not [9]again destroy Ephraim: [r]for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not [10]come in wrath.

10 They shall walk after JEHOVAH: [s]he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall [11]hasten [t]from the west.

11 They shall [12]hasten like a bird [13]from Egypt, [u]and [14]like a dove [15]from the land of Assyria: [x]and I will place them in their houses, saith JEHOVAH.

12 [y]Ephraim [16]encompasseth me around with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful ‖with the saints.

CHAPTER XII.

1 A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. 3 By former favours he exhorteth to repentance. 7 Ephraim's sins provoke God.

EPHRAIM [a]feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east wind: he daily increaseth lies and desolation; [b]and they [1]make a covenant with the Assyrians, and [c]oil is carried into Egypt.

2 [d]JEHOVAH hath also a controversy with Judah, and will †punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 ¶ He took his brother [e]by the heel [2]at the birth, and by his strength he [f][3]strove with God:

4 Yea, he [4]strove with the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication to him: he found him in [g]Beth-el, and there he spoke with us;

5 Even JEHOVAH God of hosts; JEHOVAH is his [h]memorial.

6 [i]Therefore, turn thou to thy God: keep [5]kindness and [6]justice, and [k]wait [7]for thy God continually.

7 ¶ He is ‖a merchant, [l]the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to ‖oppress.

8 And Ephraim said, [m]Yet I am become rich, I have found [8]myself substance: ‖in all my labours they shall find no iniquity in me [9]which is sin.

9 And [n]I [10] JEHOVAH thy God from the land of Egypt [o]will yet make thee to dwell in [11]tents, as in the days of the solemn feasts.

10 [p]I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, †by the ministry of the prophets.

11 [q]Is there iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in [r]Gilgal; yea, [s]their altars are [12]like heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 [13]Now Jacob [t]fled into the country of Syria, and Israel [u]served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 [x]And by a prophet JEHOVAH brought Israel [14]from Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved.

14 [y]Ephraim provoked him [15] †most bitterly: therefore [16]will he leave his †blood on him, [z]and his [a]reproach shall his [17]Lord return to him.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Ephraim's glory, by reason of idolatry, vanisheth. 5 God's anger for their unkindness. 9 A promise of God's mercy. 15 A judgment for rebellion.

WHEN Ephraim spoke trembling, he exalted himself in Israel; but [a]when he offended [1]through Baal, he died.

2 And now †they sin more and more, and [b]have made themselves molten images of their silver, and idols according to their [2]skill, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let ‖the men who sacrifice [c]kiss the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be [d][3]like the morning cloud, and [4]like the early dew which passeth away, [e][5]like the chaff which is driven with the whirlwind [6]from the 'threshing'-floor, and [7]like the smoke [8]from the chimney.

4 Yet [f]I am JEHOVAH thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt [9]acknowledge no God but me: for [g]there is no saviour besides me.

5 ¶ [h]I [10]acknowledged thee in the [11]desert, [i]in the [12]thirsty land.

6 [k]According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore [l]have they forgotten me.

7 Therefore [m]I will be to them [13] a lion: [14] [n]a leopard by the way, will I [15]watch them.

8 I will meet them [o][16]like a bear [17] be-

CHAPTER XIV.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A promise of God's blessing.

O ISRAEL, [a]1turn to JEHOVAH thy God; [b]for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and turn to JEHOVAH: say to him, [2]Forgive all iniquity, and ‖receive us [3]kindly: so will we render the [c]4sacrifices of our lips.

3 [d]5Assyria shall not save us; [e]we will not ride on horses: [f]neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: [g]for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

4 ¶ I will heal [h]their backsliding, I will love them [i]freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I will be [6]like [k]the dew to Israel: he shall [7]blossom like the lily, and [8]strike down his roots [9]like Lebanon.

6 His branches †shall spread, and [l]his beauty shall be [10]like the olive-tree, and [m]his smell [11]like Lebanon.

7 [n]Those who dwell under his shadow shall [12]again revive like the corn, and ‖grow [13]like the vine: the ‖scent thereof shall be [14]like the wine of Lebanon.

8 Ephraim shall say, [o]What have I to do any more with idols? [p]I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green [15]cypress-tree. [q]From me is thy fruit found.

9 [r]Who is wise, [16]for he shall understand these things? prudent, [17]for he shall know them? for [s]the ways of JEHOVAH are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall [18]stumble therein.

¶ JOEL.

CHAPTER I.

1 Joel, declaring sundry judgments of God, exhorteth to observe them, 8 and to mourn. 14 He prescribeth a fast for complaint.

THE word of JEHOVAH which came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. [a]Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 [b]Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 [c]†That which the [1]palmer-worm hath left hath the [2]locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the [3]canker-worm eaten; and that which the canker-worm hath left hath the [4]caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the [5]sweet wine; [d]for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For [e]a nation [6]hath come up upon my land, strong, and without number, [f]whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the [7]jaw-teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath [g]laid my vine waste, and †barked my fig-tree: he hath made it [8]quite bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white.

8 ¶ [h]Lament like a [9]bride girded with sackcloth for [i]the husband of her youth.

9 [k]The [10]meal-offering and the drink-offering is cut off from the house of JEHOVAH; the priests, JEHOVAH's ministers, mourn.

10 The field is wasted, [l]the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted: [m]the new wine is ‖dried up, the 'fresh' oil languisheth.

11 [n]Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen; howl, O ye vine-dressers, for the wheat and for the barley; because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 [o]The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth; the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field, are withered: because [p]joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 [q]Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests: howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for [r]the [11]meal-offering and the drink-offering is withholden from the house of your God.

14 ¶ [s]12Appoint ye a fast, call [t]a ‖solemn assembly, gather the elders and [u]all the inhabitants of the land into the house of JEHOVAH your God, and cry to JEHOVAH, 15 [x]Alas for the day! for [y]the day of JEHOVAH is [13]near, and [14]like destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the [15]food cut off before our eyes, yea, [z]joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The †[16]seeds are dried up under their clods, the [17]store-houses are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How [18] [a]the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O JEHOVAH, [b]to thee will I cry: for [c19]a fire hath devoured the ‖pastures of the [20]waste region, and [21]a flame hath burned all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field [d]cry also to thee: for [e]the [22]streams of water are dried up, and [23]a fire hath devoured the pastures of the [24]waste region.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sheweth to Zion the terribleness of God's judgment. 12 He exhorteth to repentance, 15 prescribeth a fast, 18 promiseth a blessing thereon. 21 He comforteth Zion with present, 28 and future blessings.

[a]BLOW ye the ‖trumpet in Zion, and [b]sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for [c]the day of JEHOVAH cometh, for it is [1]near;

2 [d]A day of darkness and [2] gloominess, a day of clouds and [3] thick darkness, [4]like the morning spread upon the mountains: [e]a great [5]and strong people; [f]there hath [6]never been the like, neither shall 'there' be any more after it, even to the years †of many generations.

3 [g]A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is [7]like [h]the garden of Eden before them, [i]and behind them a desolate [8]waste; yea, and nothing shall escape them.

4 [h9]Their appearance is like the appearance of horses; and [10]like horsemen so shall they run.

5 [l]Like the [11]rattling of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, [m]as a strong people set in battle-array.

6 Before [12]them the people shall [13]tremble: [n]all faces shall gather †blackness.

7 They shall run like mighty men; they shall climb the wall like men of war; and they shall march every one on his ways, and they shall not break their ranks:

8 Neither shall one thrust another; they shall walk every one in his path: and when they fall on the [14]dart, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall run [15]through the city; they shall run upon the wall, they shall climb [16] upon the houses; they shall [o]enter in at the windows [p]like a thief.

10 [q]The earth shall quake before them; the heavens shall tremble: [r]the sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining:

11 [s]And JEHOVAH shall utter his voice before [t]his army: for his camp is very great: [u]for he is strong who executeth his word: for the [x]day of JEHOVAH is great and very terrible; and [y]who can [17]endure it?

12 ¶ [18]Yet now, saith JEHOVAH, [z]Turn ye [19] to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning:

13 And [a]rend your heart [20]rather than [b]your garments, and turn to JEHOVAH your God: for he is [c21]compassionate and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

14 [d]Who knoweth [22]but he will [23]turn and repent, and leave [e]a blessing behind him; even [f]a [24]meal-offering and a drink-offering [25]for JEHOVAH your God?

15 ¶ [g]Blow the trumpet in Zion, [h26]appoint a fast, call a solemn assembly:

16 Gather the people, [i27]purify the congregation, [k]assemble the elders, [l]gather the children, and [28]the sucklings: [m]let the bridegroom go forth [29]from his chamber, and the bride [30]from her nuptial-bed.

17 Let the priests, the ministers of JEHOVAH, weep [n]between the porch and the altar, and let them say, [o]Spare thy people, O JEHOVAH, and give not [31]thine inheritance to reproach, [32]to be a by-word among the heathen: [p]wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

18 ¶ Then will JEHOVAH [q]be jealous for his land, [r]and pity his people.

19 Yea, JEHOVAH will answer and say to his people, Behold, I will send you [s]corn, and 'new' wine, and 'fresh' oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:

20 But [t]I will remove far off from you [u]the northern army, and will drive it into a 'dry' land [33] and desolate, with [34]its front [x]towards the eastern sea, and [35]its rear [y]towards the [36]western sea; and [37]its ill odour shall come up, and [38]its stench shall come up, because it hath done great things.

21 ¶ Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for JEHOVAH will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, [z]ye beasts of the field: for [a]the pastures of the [39]waste region do spring, for the tree beareth its fruit, the fig-tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and [b]rejoice in JEHOVAH your God: for he hath given you ‖the former rain †[40]in just measure, and he [c]will cause to come down for you [d]the [41]showers, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

24 And the 'threshing'-floors shall be full of [42]grain, and the vats shall overflow with 'new' wine and 'fresh' oil.

25 And I will restore to you the years [e]that the [43]locust hath eaten, the [44]canker-worm, and the [45]caterpillar, and the [46]palmer-worm, [f]my great army which I sent among you.

26 And ye shall [g]eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of JEHOVAH your God, [47]because he hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 [h]And ye shall know that I am [i]in the midst of Israel, and that [k]I am JEHOVAH your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

28 ¶ [l]And it shall come to pass afterwards, that I [m]will pour out my Spirit on all flesh; [n]and your sons and [o]your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also on [p]the servants and on the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit.

30 And [q]I will shew wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 [r]The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, [s]before the great and the terrible day of JEHOVAH come.

CHAPTER III.

1 God's judgments against the enemies of his people. 9 God will be known in his judgment. 18 His blessing upon the church.

FOR behold, [a]in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the [1]captives of Judah and Jerusalem,

2 [b]I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into [c]the valley of Jehoshaphat, and [d]will [2]contend with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and [3]divided my land.

3 And they have [e]cast lots for my people; and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.

4 [4]And now what have ye to do with me, [f]O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the [5]regions of Philistia? [g]will ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompense on your own head;

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly †pleasant things.

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold to †the [6]Greeks, that ye might remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, [h]I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompense on your own head:

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters [7]by the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the [i]Sabeans, to a [8]nation [k]far off: for JEHOVAH hath spoken it.

9 ¶ [l]Proclaim ye this among the [9]heathen; †Prepare war, wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near; let them come up:

10 [m]Beat your [10]plough-shares into swords, and your ‖pruning-hooks into spears: [n]let the weak say, I am strong.

11 [o]Assemble yourselves, and come, all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: [11]thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD.

12 Let the heathen be awakened, [q]and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to [r]judge all the heathen [12]around.

13 [s]Put ye in the sickle, for [t]the harvest is ripe: come, [13]go down; for the [u]press is full, the vats overflow; for their wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in [z]the valley of ‖[14]judgment: for [y]the day of JEHOVAH is near in the valley of [15]judgment.

15 The [z]sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16 JEHOVAH also shall [a][16]shout from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and [b]the heavens and the earth shall shake: [c]but JEHOVAH will be the †[17]refuge of his people, and [18]a fortress to the children of Israel.

17 So [d]shall ye know that I am JEHOVAH your God dwelling in Zion [e]my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be †holy, and there shall no [f]strangers pass through her any more.

18 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall [g]drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, [h]and all the [19]streams of Judah shall †flow with waters, and [i]a fountain shall come forth [20]from the house of the LORD, and shall water [k]the valley of Shittim.

19 [l]Egypt shall be a desolation, and [m]Edom shall be a desolate [21]waste, for the violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall ‖dwell [n]for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will [o]cleanse their blood which I have not cleansed: [p]‖for JEHOVAH dwelleth in Zion.

¶ AMOS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Amos sheweth God's judgment upon Syria, 6 upon the Philistines, 9 upon [t]Tyre, 11 upon Edom, 13 upon Ammon.

THE words of Amos, [a]who was among the herdmen of [b]Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel [c]in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of [d]Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the [e]earthquake.

2 And he said, JEHOVAH will [f][2]shout from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of [g]Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of [h]Damascus, ‖and for four, I will not ‖turn away the punishment thereof; [i]because they have threshed Gilead with threshing [3]sledges of iron:

4 [k]But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will break also the [l]bars of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from ‖the [4]valley of Aven, and him who holdeth the sceptre from ‖the house of Eden: and [m]the people of Syria shall go into captivity [n]to Kir, saith JEHOVAH.

6 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of [o]Gaza, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they ‖carried away [5]captives the whole captivity, [p]to deliver them up to Edom:

7 [q]But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour the palaces thereof:

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant [r]from Ashdod, and him who holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon, and I will [s]turn my hand against Ekron: and [t]the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

9 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of [u][6]Tyre, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: [x]because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom, and remembered not †the brotherly covenant:

10 [y]But I will send a fire on the wall of [z]Tyre, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of [z]Edom, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because he did pursue [a]his brother [b]with the sword, and †did cast off all pity, [c]and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

12 But [d]I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of [e]the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they have ‖[f]ripped up the women with child, of Gilead, [g]that they might enlarge their border:

14 But I will kindle a fire on the wall of [h]Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, [i][g]amidst shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind:

15 And [k]their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER II.

1 God's wrath against Moab, 4 upon Judah, 6 and upon Israel. 9 God complaineth of their unthankfulness.

THUS saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of [a]Moab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof, because he [b]burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime:

2 But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of [c]Kirioth: and Moab shall die [1]amidst tumult, [d]with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet:

3 And I will cut off [e]the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith JEHOVAH.

4 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: [f]because they have despised the law of JEHOVAH, and have not kept his [2]ordinances, and [g]their [3]idols caused them to err, [h]after [4] which their fathers have walked:

5 [i]But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH; For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because [k]they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes;

7 Who pant [5]for the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and [l]turn aside the [6]right of the [7]afflicted: [m]and a man and his father will go in to the same ‖maid, [n]to [8]dishonour my holy name:

8 And they lay themselves down upon clothes [o]laid to pledge [p]by every altar, and they drink the wine of [9]those fined in the house of their gods.

9 ¶ Yet destroyed I the [q]Amorite before them, [r]whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I [s]destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Also [t]I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and [u]led you forty years [10]in the desert, that ye might possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised up 'some' of your sons for prophets, and 'some' of your young men for [z]Nazarites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith JEHOVAH.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, [y]saying, Prophesy not.

13 [z]Behold, ‖I am pressed under you, as a cart is pressed which is full of sheaves.

14 [a]Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not [11]exert his force, [b]neither shall the mighty deliver †himself:

15 Neither shall he stand who handleth the bow; and he who is swift of foot shall not deliver himself: [c]neither shall he who rideth the horse deliver himself.

16 And he who is †courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER III.

1 The necessity of God's judgment against Israel. 9 The publication of it, with the causes thereof.

HEAR this word which JEHOVAH hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 [a]You only have I [1]acknowledged of all the families of the earth: [b]therefore I will †punish you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together, [2]unless they are agreed?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion †cry [3]from his den, if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall into a snare on the earth, where no gin is 'set' for him? [4]will one take up a snare from the earth, [5]even when it hath taken nothing at all?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people ‖not be afraid? [c]shall there be [6]calamity in the city, ‖and JEHOVAH hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord JEHOVAH will do nothing, but [d]he revealeth his secret 'counsel' to his servants the prophets.

8 [e]The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord JEHOVAH hath spoken, [f]who [7]would not prophesy?

9 ¶ [8]Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves on the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the ‖oppressed in the midst thereof.

10 For they [g][9]care not to do right, saith JEHOVAH, who store up violence and ‖robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; [h]An adversary [10] shall be even [11]around the land; and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be [12]plundered.

12 Thus saith JEHOVAH: As the shepherd †taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear: so shall the children of Israel be taken out [13]who sit in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in [14]a damask couch.

13 Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, the God of hosts,

CHAPTER IV.

1 He reproveth Israel for oppression, 4 for idolatry, 6 and for their incorrigibleness.

HEAR this word, ye [a]heifers of Bashan, who are on the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 [b]The Lord JEHOVAH hath sworn by his holiness, that lo, the days shall come upon you, [2]when he will take you away [c]with hooks, and your posterity with fish-hooks.

3 And [d]ye shall go out at the breaches, every [3]one at that which is before her; and ‖ye shall cast them into the [4]castle, saith JEHOVAH.

4 ¶ [e]Come to Beth-el and transgress: at [f]Gilgal multiply transgression; and [g]bring your sacrifices every morning, [h]and your tithes [5]every †three years:

5 [i]And †offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publish [k]the free-'will'-offerings: [l]for †this [6]pleaseth you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

6 ¶ And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: [m]yet have ye not returned to me, saith JEHOVAH.

7 And also I have withholden the [7]showers from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain on one city, and caused it not to rain on another city: one piece was rained on, and the piece [8]on which it rained not withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered to one city, to drink water; but they were not satisfied: [n]yet have ye not returned to me, saith JEHOVAH.

9 [o]I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: ‖when your gardens and your vineyards and your fig-trees and your olive-trees increased, [p]the [9]locust devoured them: yet have ye not returned to me, saith JEHOVAH.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence ‖[q]after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, †and have taken away your horses; and I have made the [10]ill odour of your camps to come up to your nostrils: [r]yet have ye not returned to me, saith JEHOVAH.

11 I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew [s]Sodom and Gomorrah, [t]and ye were [11]like a fire-brand plucked out of the burning: [u]yet have ye not returned to me, saith JEHOVAH.

12 Therefore, thus will I do to thee, O Israel: and because I will do this to thee, [x]prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he who formeth the mountains, and createth the ‖wind, [y]and declareth to man what his thought is, [z][12]he maketh the morning darkness, [a]and [13]walketh on the high places of the earth, [b]JEHOVAH, The God of hosts, is his name.

CHAPTER V.

1 A lamentation for Israel. 4 An exhortation to repentance. 21 God rejecteth their hypocritical service.

HEAR ye this word which I [a][1]utter against you, [2]a lamentation, O house of Israel.

2 The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more arise: she is [3]cast down on her land; there is [4]no one to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH; The city [5]which sent out a thousand shall leave a hundred, and that which [6]sent forth [7]a hundred shall leave ten, to the house of Israel.

4 ¶ For thus saith JEHOVAH to the house of Israel, [b]Seek [8] me, [c]and ye shall live:

5 But seek not [d]Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not 'over' to 'Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and [f]Beth-el shall come to [9]nothing.

6 [g]Seek JEHOVAH, and ye shall live: lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 Ye who [h]turn judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness on the earth,

8 Seek him who maketh the [i]seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into [10] morning, [k]and maketh the day dark with night: who [l]calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out on the face of the earth: [m]JEHOVAH is his name:

9 [11] Who bringeth destruction suddenly upon the strong, and bringeth desolation upon the fortress.

10 [n]They hate him who rebuketh in the gate, and they [o]abhor him who speaketh uprightly.

11 [12]Therefore, because ye trample on the poor, and ye take from him [13]gifts of grain: [p]ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted †pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink 'the' wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins: [q]they afflict the just, they take ‖a bribe, and they [r]turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore, [s]the prudent shall keep silence in that time; for it [14]shall be an evil time.

14 Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so JEHOVAH, the God of hosts, shall be with you, [t]as ye have [15]said.

15 [u]Hate [16] evil, and love [17] good, and establish [18]justice in the gate: [x]it may be that JEHOVAH 'the' God of hosts will be [19]compassionate to the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore, JEHOVAH, the God of hosts, the Lord, saith thus; Wailing shall be in all 'the' streets; and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and [y]such as are skilful [20]in lamentation to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for [z]I will pass through thee, saith JEHOVAH.

18 [a]Wo to you who desire the day of JEHOVAH! to what end is it for you? [b]the day of JEHOVAH [21]shall be darkness, and not light.

19 [c]As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of JEHOVAH be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 ¶ [d]I hate, I despise your feast-days, and [e]I will ‖[23]have no delight in your solemn assemblies.

22 [f]Though ye offer me burnt-offerings and your [24]meal-offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the [25]thank-offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy [26]psalteries.

24 [g]But let [27]justice †run down [28]like waters, and righteousness [29]like a mighty stream.

25 [h]Have ye offered to me sacrifices and offerings in the [30]desert forty years, O house of Israel?

26 But ye have borne the [31]tabernacle [i]of your Moloch and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made [32]for yourselves.

27 Therefore, will I cause you to go into captivity [k]beyond Damascus, saith JEHOVAH, [l]whose name is The God of hosts.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The wantonness of Israel, 7 shall be plagued with desolation, 12 and their incorrigibleness.

WO [a]to [1]those who rest in Zion, and [2]feel secure in the mountain of Samaria, who are [3]the [b]nobles of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come!

2 [c]Pass ye to [d]Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to [e]Hamath the great: then go down to [f]Gath of the Philistines: [g][4]are they better than these kingdoms? or [4]'is' their border greater than your border?

3 Ye who [h]put far away the [i]evil day, [k]and cause [l]the ‖seat of [5]oppression to come near;

4 Who lie on beds of ivory, and ‖stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs [6]from the flock, and the calves [7]from the midst of the stall;

5 [m]Who ‖chant to the sound of the [8]psaltery, and invent to themselves instruments of music, [n]like David;

6 Who drink ‖wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: [o]but they are not grieved for the †[9]destruction of Joseph.

7 ¶ Therefore, now shall they go captive with the first who go [10]captives, and the [11]shouting of those who stretched themselves shall be removed.

8 [p]The Lord JEHOVAH hath sworn by himself, saith JEHOVAH the God of hosts, I abhor [q]the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all †that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a man's uncle shall take him up, [12]even he who burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say to him who is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any 'one' with thee? and he shall say, [13]Not one. Then shall he say, [r]Hold thy tongue: [s]for ‖we [14]cannot make mention of the name of JEHOVAH.

11 For behold, [t]JEHOVAH commandeth, [u]and he will smite the great house with ‖breaches, and the [15]small house with [16]cracks.

12 ¶ [17]Will horses run on [18]a rock? will one plough there with oxen? for [x]ye have turned [19]justice into [20]poppy, and the fruit of righteousness into [21]wormwood:

13 Ye who rejoice in a [22]useless thing, who say, Have we not taken to [23]ourselves dominion by our own strength?

14 But behold, [y]I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith JEHOVAH the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the [z]entering in of Hamath to the river of the [24]desert.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The judgments of the [1]locusts, 4 and of the fire, are diverted by the prayer of Amos. 7 By the wall of a plumb-line is signified the rejection of Israel. 10 Amaziah complaineth of Amos. 14 Amos sheweth his calling, 16 and Amaziah's judgment.

THUS hath the Lord JEHOVAH shewed to me; and behold, he formed [2]locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

2 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord JEHOVAH, forgive, I beseech thee: [a][3]how shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

3 [b]JEHOVAH repented [4]of this: It shall not be, [5]said JEHOVAH.

4 ¶ Thus hath the Lord JEHOVAH shewed to me: and behold, the Lord JEHOVAH called to contend 'in judgment' by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up [6]the land.

5 Then said I, O Lord JEHOVAH, cease, I beseech thee: [c][7]how shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

6 JEHOVAH repented [8]of this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord JEHOVAH.

7 ¶ Thus he shewed me: and behold, the [9]LORD stood on a wall made by [10]the plumb-line, [11]and in his hand was a plumb-line.

8 And JEHOVAH said to me, Amos, what seest thou? and I said, A plumb-line. Then said the [12]LORD, Behold, [d]I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel: [e]I will not [13]spare them any more:

9 [f][14]For the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and [g]I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ Then Amaziah [h]the priest of Beth-el sent to [i]Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Amos [15]hath said, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away [16]captives from their own land.

12 [17]And Amaziah said to Amos, O thou seer, go flee [18] away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there:

13 But [k]prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: [l]for it is the king's [19]sanctuary, and it is the king's [20]house.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I [m]a prophet's son; [n]but I was a herdman, and a gatherer of ‖sycamore fruit:

15 And JEHOVAH took me †as I followed the flock, and JEHOVAH said to me, Go, prophesy to my people Israel.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 By a basket of [1]ripe fruit is shewed the propinquity of Israel's end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famine of the word threatened.

THUS hath the Lord JEHOVAH shewed to me: and behold a basket of [2]ripe fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of [3]ripe fruit. Then said JEHOVAH to me, [a]The end is come upon my people of Israel; [b]I will not [4]spare them any more.

3 And [c]the songs of the temple †shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord JEHOVAH: there shall be many dead bodies in every place; [d]they shall cast them forth †with silence.

4 ¶ Hear this, O ye who [e][5]swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the ‖new-moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and [f]the sabbath, that we may †set forth [6]grain, [5]making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and †falsifying the balances by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poor for [h]silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; [7] and sell the refuse of the [8]grain?

7 JEHOVAH hath sworn by [i]the excellency of Jacob, Surely [k]I will never forget any of their works.

8 [l]Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly [9]like a river; and it shall be cast out and [10]overflowed, [m]as by the [11]river of Egypt.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, [n]that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day:

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; [p]and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; [q]and I will make it [12]like the mourning [13]for an only son, and the end thereof [14]like a bitter day.

11 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord JEHOVAH, [15]when I will send a famine on the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but [r]of hearing the words of JEHOVAH:

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the word of JEHOVAH, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 Those who [s]swear by [t]the sin of Samaria, and say, 'As' thy god, O Dan, liveth; and, 'As' the †[16]worshipped-god [u]of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

6 It is he who buildeth his [i][14]upper-rooms in the heavens, and hath founded his [15]arch on the earth; he who [k]calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: [l]JEHOVAH is his name.

7 Are ye not [16]like children of the Ethiopians to me, O children of Israel? saith JEHOVAH. Have not I brought up Israel [17]from the land of Egypt? and the [m]Philistines from [n]Caphtor, and the Syrians from [o]Kir?

8 Behold, [p]the eyes of the Lord JEHOVAH are on the sinful kingdom, and I [q]will destroy it from [18] the face of the earth; [19]but yet I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith JEHOVAH.

9 For lo, I will command, and I will †sift the house of Israel among all nations, [20] as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not [21]a grain fall on the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, [r]who say, The evil shall not overtake nor [22]seize us.

11 ¶ [s]In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David which is fallen, and †close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old:

12 [t]That they may possess the remnant of [u]Edom, and of all the [23]nations †who are called by my name, saith JEHOVAH who doeth this.

13 Behold, [w]the days come, saith JEHOVAH, [24]when the ploughman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him who †soweth seed; [x]and the mountains shall drop ‖sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 [y]And I will bring [25]back the [26]captives of my people of Israel, and [z]they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them on their land, and [a]they shall no more be pulled up [27]from their land which I have given them, saith JEHOVAH thy God.

¶ OBADIAH.

1 The destruction of Edom, 3 for their pride, 10 and for their wrong unto Jacob. 17 The salvation and victory of Jacob.

THE vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord JEHOVAH [a]concerning Edom; [b]We have heard a rumour from JEHOVAH, [1]for an ambassador is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The pride of thy heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the [2]refuges [c]of the rock, whose habitation is high; [d]who saith in his heart, Who [3]can bring me down to the ground?

4 [e]Though thou exalt thyself [4]like the eagle, and though thou [f]set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith JEHOVAH.

5 If [g]thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grape-gatherers came to thee, [h]would they not leave [5]gleanings?

6 How are the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden things sought [6]out!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: †[i]the men who were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; †those who ate thy bread have laid a [7]snare under thee: [k]there is no understanding ‖in him.

8 [l]Shall I not in that day, saith JEHOVAH, even destroy the wise men [8]from Edom, and understanding [9]from the mount of Esau?

9 [10]For thy [m]mighty men, O [n]Teman, shall be dismayed, [11]so that every one of the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 ¶ For thy [o]violence against thy brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and [p]thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day [12]when thou didst stand on the other side, in the day [13]when the strangers ‖carried away [14]captives his forces, and foreigners entered into his gates, and [q]cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast [15]like one of them.

¶ JONAH.

CHAPTER I.

1 Jonah, sent to Nineveh, fleeth to Tarshish. 4 He is betrayed by a tempest, 11 thrown into the sea, 17 and swallowed by a fish.

NOW the word of JEHOVAH came to [a]‖Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that [b]great city, and [1]preach against it; for [c]their wickedness [2]hath come up before me.

3 But Jonah [d]3]arose to flee to Tarshish from the presence of JEHOVAH, and went down to [e]Joppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish [f]from the presence of JEHOVAH.

4 ¶ But [g]JEHOVAH †sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship †was [4]about to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried [5]each man to his god, and [h]cast forth the wares which were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonah [6]had gone down [i]into the sides of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the ship-master came to him, and said to him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, [k]call upon thy God, [l][7]perhaps God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said [8]each one to his [9]companion, Come, and let us [m]cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is

8 Then said they to him, [n]Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said to them, I am a Hebrew; and I [10]reverence JEHOVAH, the God of heaven, [o]who hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men †exceedingly afraid, and said to him, Why hast thou done this? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of JEHOVAH, because he had told them.

11 ¶ Then said they to him, What shall we do to thee, that the sea †may be calm [11]for us? for the sea ‖†[12]rolled, and was tempestuous.

12 And he said to them, [p]Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so [13]will the sea be calm [14]for you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is on you.

13 Nevertheless the men †rowed hard to bring it to the land; [q]but they could not: for the sea [15]rolled, and was tempestuous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried to JEHOVAH, and said, We beseech thee, O JEHOVAH, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and [r]lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O JEHOVAH, [s]hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him [16]into the sea: [t]and the sea †ceased from its raging.

16 Then the men [u]feared JEHOVAH exceedingly, and †offered a sacrifice to JEHOVAH, and made vows.

17 ¶ Now JEHOVAH had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And [z]Jonah was in the †belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAPTER II.

1 The prayer of Jonah. 10 He is delivered from the fish.

THEN Jonah prayed to JEHOVAH his God [1]from the fish's belly,

2 And said, I [c]cried ‖by reason of mine affliction to JEHOVAH, [b]and he heard me; [2]from the belly of ‖[3]hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 [c]For thou hadst cast me into the [4]depth, in the †midst of the seas; and the [5]flood encompassed me: [d]all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.

4 [e]Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again [f]towards thy holy temple.

5 The [g]waters [6]encompassed me, even to the [7]life: the [8]deep enclosed me around, the weeds were wrapped [9]around my head.

6 I went down to the †[10]foundations of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life [h]from ‖[11]destruction, O JEHOVAH my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me I remembered JEHOVAH: [i]and my prayer came in to thee, into thy holy temple.

8 They [12]who regard [k]vain idols, forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will [l]sacrifice to thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that which I have vowed. [m]Salvation is [13]from JEHOVAH.

10 ¶ And JEHOVAH spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAPTER III.

1 Jonah, sent again, preacheth to the Ninevites. 5 Upon their repentance, 10 God repenteth.

AND the word of JEHOVAH came to Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach to it the preaching which I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh, according to the word of JEHOVAH. Now Nineveh was a †[1]very great city of three days' journey.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and [a]he [2]preached, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

5 ¶ So the people of Nineveh [b]believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For 'the' word came to the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered himself with sackcloth, [c]and sat in 'the' ashes.

7 [d]And he caused it to be proclaimed and †published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his †nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily to God: yea, 'and' [e]let them turn every one from his evil way, and from [f]the violence that is in their hands.

9 [g]Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

10 ¶ [h]And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil which he had said that he would do to them; and he did it not.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Jonah, repining at God's mercy, 4 is reproved by the type of a gourd.

BUT it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed to JEHOVAH, and said, I pray thee, O JEHOVAH, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I [a][1]anticipated it by fleeing to Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a [b]gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

3 [c]Therefore now, O JEHOVAH, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for [d]it is better for me to die than to live.

4 ¶ Then said JEHOVAH, ‖Doest thou well to be angry?

5 [2]Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And JEHOVAH God prepared a †[3]gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his [4]trouble. So Jonah †was exceedingly glad of the gourd.

¶ MICAH.

CHAPTER I.

1 Micah sheweth the wrath of God against Jacob for idolatry. 10 He exhorteth to mourning.

THE word of JEHOVAH which came to [a]Micah the Morasthite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, [b]which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 †Hear, all ye people; [c]hearken, O earth, and †all that therein is: and let the Lord JEHOVAH [d]be witness against you, the [1]Lord from [c]his holy temple.

3 For behold, [f]JEHOVAH cometh [2]from his [g]place, and will come down, and [3]walk on the [h]high places of the earth.

4 And [i]the mountains shall [4]melt down under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, [5]like wax before the fire, [6]like waters [7] poured down †a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not 'at' Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not 'at' Jerusalem?

6 Therefore, I will make Samaria [k][8]like a heap of the field, and [9]like plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will [l][10]lay bare the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof shall be beaten to pieces, and all the [m]hires thereof shall be burned with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay desolate: for she gathered it [11]by the hire of a harlot, and they shall return to the hire of a harlot.

8 Therefore, [n]I will wail and howl; [o]I will go stripped and naked: [p]I will make a wailing like the [12]jackals, and mourning [13]like the †ostriches.

9 For ‖her wound is incurable; for [q]it is come to Judah; [14]it reacheth to the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

10 ¶ [r]Declare [15] it not at Gath, weep ye not at all: in the house of ‖Aphrah [s]roll thyself in the dust.

11 Pass ye away, ‖thou †inhabitant of Saphir, having thy [t]shame naked: the inhabitant of ‖Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of ‖Beth-ezel; he shall receive of you his [16]loading-place.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth [17]was grieved for prosperity: when [u]evil came down from JEHOVAH to the gate of Jerusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of [x]Lachish, bind the chariot to the [18]courser: she [19]was the beginning of [20] sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

16 Make thyself [c]bald, and [25]cut off thy hair for thy [d][26]beloved children; enlarge thy baldness [27]like the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAPTER II.

1 Against oppression. 4 A lamentation. 7 A reproof of injustice and idolatry. 12 A promise of restoring Jacob.

WO to those [a]who devise iniquity, and [b]work evil on their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because [c]it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they [1]long for [d]fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they [2]defraud a man [3]even of his house, even a man [4]even of his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith JEHOVAH; Behold, against [e]this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; neither shall ye go haughtily: [f]for this time is evil.

4 ¶ In that day shall one [g]take up a parable against you, and [h]lament †with a doleful lamentation, and say, We [5]are utterly wasted: [i]he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! [6]he hath taken away and divided our fields.

5 Therefore, thou shalt have [7]no one who shall [k]cast [8]the measuring-cord in a portion in the congregation of JEHOVAH.

6 ‖†[l]Prophesy ye not, say they to those who prophesy: they shall not prophesy [9]concerning these things, and their shame shall not depart.

7 ¶ O thou that art named The house of Jacob, is the spirit of JEHOVAH straitened? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him who walketh †uprightly?

8 Even †of late my people [10]hath risen up [11]like an enemy: ye pull off the robe [12]from the garment [13]of those who pass by securely [14]like men returning from war.

9 The ‖women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.

10 Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your [m]rest: because it is [n]polluted, it shall [15]be destroyed, even with a [16]mighty destruction.

11 If a man ‖[o]walking in the spirit [17]of falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy to thee of wine and of strong drink; [18]even he will be the prophet [19]for this people.

12 ¶ [p]I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together [q 20]like the sheep of Bozrah, [21]like the flock in the midst of their [22]pasture: [r]they shall [23]be in a tumult by reason of the multitude of men.

13 [24]He who breaketh the way hath come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it; and [s]their king shall pass before them, [t 25]even JEHOVAH [26]at the head of them.

CHAPTER III.

1 The cruelty of the princes. 5 The falsehood of the prophets. 8 The security of them both.

AND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye [1]magistrates of the house of Israel: [a]Is it not for you to [2]regard justice?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from [3] them, and their flesh from [4] their bones;

3 Who also [b]eat the flesh of my people, and [5]strip their skin from [6] them; and they break their bones, and [7]break them in pieces, as for the pot, and [c 8]like flesh within the caldron.

4 Then [d]shall they cry to JEHOVAH, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, [9]because they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.

5 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH [e]concerning the prophets who make my people err, who [f]bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and [g]he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him:

6 [h]Therefore, night shall be to you, †[10]when ye shall not have a vision; and it shall be dark to you, †'so' that ye shall not divine; [i]and the sun shall go down [11]upon the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners [12]amazed: yea, they shall all cover their † lips; [k]for there is no answer [14]from God.

8 ¶ But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of JEHOVAH, and of judgment, and of might, [l]to declare to Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and [15]magistrates of the house of Israel, who abhor [16]justice, and pervert all equity.

10 [m]They build up Zion with [n]†blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 [o]The heads thereof judge for [17]bribes, and [p]the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: [q]yet will they lean on JEHOVAH, †and say, Is not JEHOVAH among us? no evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore, shall Zion for your sake be [r]ploughed [18]like a field, [s]and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and [t]the mountain of the house [19]like the heights of a forest.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The glory, 3 peace, 8 kingdom, 11 and victory of the church.

BUT [a]in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of JEHOVAH shall be established on the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow to it.

2 And many nations shall [1]go, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of JEHOVAH, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for [2]a law shall go forth [3]from Zion, and the word of JEHOVAH from Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into [b]plough-shares, and their spears into ‖pruning-hooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, [c]neither shall they learn war any more.

4 [d]But they shall sit [4]each man under his vine and under his fig-tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of JEHOVAH of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For [e]all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and [f]we will walk in the name of JEHOVAH our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith JEHOVAH, [g]will I [5]gather her who [6]was lame, [h]and I will gather her that [7]was driven out, and her whom I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her who [8]was lame [i]a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and JEHOVAH [k]shall reign over them on mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.

8 ¶ And thou, O tower of ‖the flock, [9]mound of the daughter of Zion, to thee shall it come, even the [10]former dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Now, why dost thou cry [11] aloud? [l]is there no king in thee? [12]hath thy counsellor perished? for [m]pangs have taken thee [13]like a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth [14]from the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon; there shalt thou be delivered; there JEHOVAH shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 ¶ [n 15]For now many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eyes [o]look upon Zion.

12 But they know not [p]the thoughts of JEHOVAH, neither understand they his [16]design: for he shall gather them [q 17]like the sheaves into the 'threshing'-floor.

13 [r]Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thy horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt [s]beat in pieces many people: [t]and I will consecrate their [18]spoil to JEHOVAH, and their substance to [u]the [19]LORD of the whole earth.

CHAPTER V.

1 The birth of Christ. 4 His kingdom. 8 His conquest.

NOW gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall [a]smite the Judge of Israel with a rod on the cheek.

2 But thou, [b]Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou [1]art little [c]among the [d]thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth to me who is to be [e]Ruler in Israel; [f]whose goings forth have been from of old, from †everlasting.

5 And this man [l]shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then [5]will we raise against him seven [6]rulers, and eight †principal men.

6 And they shall †waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of [m]Nimrod ‖in the entrances thereof: thus shall he [n]deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And [o]the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people [p][7]like a dew from JEHOVAH, [8]like the showers on the grass, [9]which tarry not for man, nor wait for the sons of men.

8 ¶ And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people as a lion among the beasts of the forest, [10]like a young lion among the flocks of ‖sheep: who, if he go through, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

9 Thy hand shall be lifted up [11]over thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 [q]And it shall come to pass in that day, saith JEHOVAH, that I will cut off thy horses [12]from the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots:

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy [13]fortresses:

12 And I will cut off [14]sorceries from thy hand; and thou shalt have no more [r][15]enchanters:

13 [s]Thy [16]carved images also will I cut off, and thy ‖standing images [17]from the midst of thee; and thou shalt [t]no more worship the work of thy hands.

14 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: [18]and I will destroy thy ‖cities.

15 And I will [u]execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, [19]such as they have not heard.

CHAPTER VI.

1 God's controversy for unkindness, 6 for ignorance, 10 for injustice, 16 and for idolatry.

HEAR ye now what JEHOVAH saith; Arise, contend thou ‖before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 [a]Hear ye, O mountains, [b]JEHOVAH's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for [c]JEHOVAH hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, [d]what have I done to thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 [e]For I brought thee up [2]from the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee [3]from the house of [4]bond-men; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what [f]Balak king of Moab [5]counselled, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from [g]Shittim to Gilgal; that ye may know [h]the righteousness of JEHOVAH.

6 ¶ Wherewith shall I come before JEHOVAH, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt-offerings, with calves †of a year old?

7 [i]Will JEHOVAH be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of [k]rivers of oil? [l]shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my †body for the sin of my soul?

8 He hath [m]shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth JEHOVAH require of thee, but [n]to do justly, and to love mercy, and to †walk humbly with thy God?

9 JEHOVAH's voice crieth to the city, and ‖the man of wisdom [6]will see thy name: hear ye the rod, and 'him' who hath appointed it.

10 ¶ ‖Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the †scanty measure [o]which is abominable?

11 ‖Shall I count those pure with [p]the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof [7]speak lies, and [q]their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore, also will I [r]make thee sick [8]by smiting thee, [9]by making thee desolate because of thy sins.

14 [s]Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy [10]hunger shall be in the midst of thee; and thou shalt [11]snatch, but shalt not deliver; [12]for that which thou deliverest will I give up to the sword.

15 Thou shalt 'sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and sweet wine, but shalt not drink wine.

16 ¶ For ‖the [13]ordinances of [u]Omri are [z]kept, and all the works of the house of [y]Ahab, and ye walk in their [14]devices; therefore I will make thee [z]a ‖desolation, and [15]thine inhabitants [16] a hissing: [17]and ye shall bear the [a]reproach of my people.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The church, complaining of her small number, 3 and the general corruption, 5 putteth her confidence not in man, but in God. 8 She triumpheth over her enemies. 14 God comforteth her by promises, 16 by confusion of the enemies, 18 and by his mercies.

WO [1]to me! for I am as †when they have gathered the [2]ripe fruits, [3]like [a]the grape-gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: [b][4]I longed for the first ripe [5]fig.

2 The [c]‖good man is perished [6]from the land: and there is [7]no one upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; [d]they hunt [8]each man his brother with a net.

3 ¶ That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, [e]the prince asketh, [f]and the judge asketh for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth †his mischievous desire, [9]and perverteth it.

4 The best of them [g]is [10]like a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn-hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh; now shall be their perplexity.

5 ¶ [h]Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her who lieth in thy bosom.

7 [12]But [h]I will look to JEHOVAH; I will wait for the God of my salvation; my God will hear me.

8 ¶ [i]Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: [m][13]though I have fallen, I shall arise; [14]though I have sat in darkness, [n]JEHOVAH [15]will be a light to me.

9 [o]I will bear the indignation of JEHOVAH, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute [16]justice for me: [p]he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his [17]kindness.

10 ‖Then she who is mine enemy shall see it, and [q]shame shall cover her who said to me, [r]Where is JEHOVAH thy God? [s]mine eyes shall behold her: now †shall she be trodden down [t][18]like the mire of the streets.

¶ NAHUM.

CHAPTER I.

The majesty of God in goodness to his people, and severity against his enemies.

THE burden [a]of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 ‖God is [b]jealous, and [c]JEHOVAH [1]avengeth; JEHOVAH [2]avengeth, and †is furious; the LORD [3]taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he [4]keepeth wrath for his enemies.

3 JEHOVAH is [d]slow to anger, [5]but [e]great in power, and will not at all [6]clear the wicked: [f]JEHOVAH hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 [g]He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: [h]Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languisheth.

5 [i]The mountains quake at him, and [k]the hills melt, and [l]the earth is [7]moved at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stand before his indignation? and [m]who can †abide in the fierceness of his anger? [n]his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.

7 [o]JEHOVAH is good, a [8]fortress in the day of trouble; and [p]he [9]regardeth those who trust in him.

8 [q]But, with an [10]overwhelming flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.

9 [r]What do ye [11]meditate against JEHOVAH? [s]he will make an utter end: [12]calamity shall not rise up the second time.

10 For while they [13]are entangled [t]like thorns, [u]and while they are drunken as drunkards, [x]they shall be devoured [14]like stubble fully dry.

11 There is one come out of thee, [y][15]who meditateth evil against JEHOVAH, †a wicked counsellor.

12 Thus saith JEHOVAH; ‖Though they [16]are unharmed, and likewise many, yet thus [z]shall they be †cut down, when he shall [a]pass through. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now will I [b]break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy [17]bands in sunder.

14 And JEHOVAH hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image: [c]I will make thy grave; for thou art vile.

15 Behold [d]on the mountains the feet of him who bringeth good tidings, who publisheth peace! O Judah, †keep thy [18]feasts, perform thy vows: for †[e]the wicked shall no more pass through thee: [f]he is utterly cut off.

CHAPTER II.

The fearful and victorious armies of God against Nineveh.

HE ‖[a]who dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: [b]keep the [1]fortress, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily.

2 [c]For JEHOVAH hath turned away ‖the excellency of Jacob, [2]like the excellency of Israel: for [d]the emptiers have emptied them out, and [3]destroyed their vine-branches.

3 The [4]buckler of his mighty men is made [e]red, the valiant men are ‖in scarlet:

12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with [18]that which was torn.

13 [m]Behold, I am against thee, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of [n]thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER III.

The miserable ruin of Nineveh.

WO to the †[a]bloody city! it is all full of [1]deceit and robbery; the [2]plunder departeth not;

2 The noise of a whip, and [b]the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the [3]bounding chariots.

3 The horseman lifteth up both †the bright sword, and the glittering spear: and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcasses; and there is no end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses:

4 Because of the multitude of the [4]fornications of the [5]fair harlot, [c]the mistress of [6]sorceries, who selleth nations through her [7]fornications, and families through her [8]sorceries.

5 [d]Behold, I am against thee, saith JEHOVAH of hosts; and [e]I will [9]uncover thy skirts [10]over thy face, [f]and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.

6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and [g][11]disgrace thee, and will set thee [12]like [h]a gazing-stock.

7 And it shall come to pass, that all those who look upon thee [i]shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste: [k]who will bemoan her; whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

8 [l]Art thou better than [m][13]No-Amon, that was situated among the rivers, that had the waters round about her, whose [14]trench was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was [15]endless; Put and [16]Libya were †thy helpers.

10 Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: [n]her young children also were dashed in pieces [o]at the [17]head of all the streets: and they [p]cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains.

11 Thou also shalt be [q]drunken: thou shalt be hidden, thou also shalt seek [18]a refuge because of the enemy.

12 All thy [19]fortresses shall be like [r]fig-trees with the first ripe figs: if they be shaken, they [20]will even fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, [s]thy people in the midst of thee [21]shall be women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open to thine enemies: the fire shall devour thy [t]bars.

14 Draw thyself water for the siege, [u][22]strengthen thy fortresses: go into clay, and tread the mortar, [23]repair the brick-kiln.

15 There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off, it shall eat thee up like [x][24]the canker-worm: make thyself many as the canker-worm, make thyself many [25]like the [26]locusts.

16 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the canker-worm ‖spoileth, and flieth away.

17 [y]Thy crowned are [27]like the locusts, and thy [28]governors as the [29]multitude of locusts; which encamp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

18 [z]Thy shepherds slumber, O [a]king of Assyria: thy ‖nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people [30]are [b]scattered on the mountains, and no man gathereth them.

19 [31]Thy bruise is incurable; [c]thy wound is [32]mortal: [d]all who hear [33]report concerning thee shall clap the hands over thee: for on whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold [3]wickedness? for [4]plundering and violence are before me: [5]for there [6]is strife and contention.

4 Therefore, the law is slacked, and judgment [7]is not given according to truth: for the [a]wicked doth [8]encompass the righteous; therefore, [9]perverted judgment [10]is given.

5 ¶ [c]Behold ye among the heathen, and [11]observe, and [12]be astonished: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you.

6 For lo, [d]‖I raise up the Chaldeans, that [13]fierce and [14]swift nation, which shall march through the †breadth of the land, to possess the dwelling-places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadful: ‖their [15]authority and their dignity shall proceed [16]from themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more †fierce than the [e]evening wolves: and their horsemen shall [17]leap proudly, and their horsemen shall come from far; [f]they shall fly [18]like the eagle that hasteth to [19]devour.

9 They shall come [20] for violence: ‖†[21]the multitude of their faces are forward, and they shall gather the [22]captives like the sand.

10 And they shall scoff at [23] kings, and [24] princes shall be a scorn to them: they shall deride every [25]fortress; for they shall heap dust, and take it.

11 Then shall his mind change, and he shall [26]transgress, and [27]become guilty, [g]imputing this his power to his god.

12 ¶ [h]Art thou not from everlasting, O JEHOVAH my God, my Holy One? We shall not die. O JEHOVAH, [i]thou hast ordained them for judgment; and, O †mighty God, thou hast [28]appointed them for correction.

13 [k]Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on ‖iniquity: [l]wherefore lookest thou on those who deal [29]wickedly, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man who is more righteous than he?

14 And makest men [30]like the fishes of the sea, as the ‖creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

15 They [m]take up all of them with the [31]hook, they catch them in their net, and gather them in their ‖drag: therefore they rejoice and are glad.

16 Therefore [n]they sacrifice to their net, and burn incense to their drag; because by them their portion is fat, and their [32]food ‖†plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not [33]cease continually to slay the nations?

CHAPTER II.

1 To Habakkuk, waiting for an answer, is shewed that he must wait by faith. 5 The judgment upon the Chaldean for unsatiableness, 9 for covetousness, 12 for cruelty, 15 for drunkenness, 18 and for idolatry.

I WILL [a]stand upon my watch, and set myself on the [1]bulwark, [b]and will watch to see what he will say to me, and what I shall answer [2]concerning my complaint.

2 And JEHOVAH answered me, and said, [c]Write the vision, and [3]engrave it on tables, that he may run who readeth it.

3 For [d]the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it [4]will hasten, and not lie: [5]if it tarry, wait for it; because it will [e]surely come, it will not [6]delay.

4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up, is not upright in him: but the [f]just shall live by his faith.

5 ¶ ‖Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither [7]resteth, who enlargeth his desire [g][8]like [9]hell, and is [10]like death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth to himself all nations, and heapeth to himself all people:

6 Shall not all these [h]take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, ‖Wo to him who [11]heapeth up that which is not his! how long? and to him that loadeth himself with [21]pledged goods!

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly who shall bite thee, and awake that shall [13]harrass thee, and thou shalt be for [14]a booty to them?

8 [i]Because thou hast [15]plundered many nations, all the remnant of the people shall [16]plunder thee; [k]because of men's †blood, and for the violence [17]against the land, [18] the city, and [19] all that dwell therein.

9 ¶ Wo to him [20]who [l]getteth together unjust gain for his house, that he may [m]set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the †power of evil!

10 Thou hast [21]planned shame [22]for thy house by cutting off many people, and hast sinned against thy soul.

11 For the stone shall cry out [23]from the wall, and the ‖beam [24]from the timber shall ‖answer it.

12 ¶ Wo to him who buildeth a town with [n]†blood, and establisheth a city by iniquity!

13 Behold, is it not of JEHOVAH of hosts [o]that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves ‖for [25]mere vanity?

14 For the earth shall be filled ‖with the [p]knowledge of the glory of JEHOVAH, as the waters cover the sea.

15 ¶ Wo to him who giveth his neighbour drink, that [26]pourest out thy [q]strong drink, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest [r]look on their nakedness!

16 Thou art filled ‖with shame [27]instead of glory: [s]drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of JEHOVAH'S right hand shall be turned to thee, and [28]shame shall be on thy glory.

17 For the violence [29]done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the [30]destruction of beasts, which made them afraid, [t]because of men's blood, and for the violence [31]against the land, [32] the city, and [33] all that dwell therein.

18 ¶ [u]What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a [x]teacher of lies, that †the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make [y]dumb idols?

19 Wo to him who saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, [z][34]but there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

20 But [a]JEHOVAH is in his holy temple: †[b]let all the earth keep silence before him.

A PRAYER of Habakkuk the prophet, [a]upon [1]as a psalm.

2 O JEHOVAH, I have heard †thy speech and was afraid: O JEHOVAH, ‖[b]revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make 'it' known; in wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from ‖Teman, [c]and the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was [2]like the light; he had [3]rays coming out of his hand; and there was the hiding-'place' of his power.

5 [d]Before him went the pestilence, and [e][4]the burning plague went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth: he beheld, and [5]made the nations tremble; [f]and the [g]everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his ways are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of [6]Ethiopia ‖in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was JEHOVAH displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, [h]that thou didst ride upon thy horses, and ‖thy chariots of [7]victory?

9 Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes, even thy word. Selah. ‖[i]Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 [k]The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the [8]flood of [9] water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and [l]lifted up his hands on high.

11 [m]The sun and moon stood still in their habitation: [10]like their light thine [n]arrows [11]flew, and [12]like their brightness thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation, [o]thou didst thresh the [13]nations in anger.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation [14]of thine anointed; [p]thou [15]didst smite the chief of the house of the wicked, †by [16]destroying the foundation to the neck. Selah.

14 Thou didst strike through with his staves the [17]chief of his villages: they †came out [18]like a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the [19]distressed in a safe place.

15 [q]Thou didst [20]ride through the sea with thy horses, through the [21]raging of great waters.

16 When I heard, [r]my [22]body trembled; my lips quivered at the voice: rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in the day of trouble, [23]when the invader cometh up against the people.

17 ¶ [24]For the fig-tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be on the vines; the [25]produce of the olive shall †fail, and the fields shall yield no [26]food; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls:

18 [s]Yet I will [t]rejoice in JEHOVAH, I will [27]exult in the God of my salvation.

¶ ZEPHANIAH.

CHAPTER I.

God's severe judgment against Judah for divers sins.

THE word of JEHOVAH which came to Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 †I will utterly consume all things from [1] the land, saith JEHOVAH.

3 [a]I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and [b]the ‖stumbling-blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from [2] the land, saith JEHOVAH.

4 I will also stretch out my hand on Judah and on all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and [c]I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of [d]the [3]idol-priests with the priests;

5 And those [e]who worship the host of heaven on the house-tops; [f]and those who worship and [g]who swear ‖by JEHOVAH, and who swear [h]by [4]Malcham;

6 And [i]those who are turned back from JEHOVAH; and those who [k]have not sought JEHOVAH, nor inquired for him.

7 [15]Be silent before the LORD JEHOVAH: [m]for the day of JEHOVAH is at hand: for [n]JEHOVAH hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath [o]prepared his guests.

8 And it shall come to pass on the day of JEHOVAH's sacrifice, that I will †punish [p]the princes, and the king's children, and all such as are clothed with [7]foreign apparel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap [8]over the threshold, who fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith JEHOVAH, that there shall be the noise of a cry from [p]the fish-gate, and a howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.

11 [q]Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all those who bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with [9]lamps, and punish the men who are †[r]settled on their lees: [s]who say in their heart, JEHOVAH will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore, their [10]substance shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but [t]not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but [u]not drink the wine thereof.

14 [x]The great day of JEHOVAH is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of JEHOVAH: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 [y]That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of [11]destruction and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

CHAPTER II.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 The judgment of the Philistines, 8 of Moab and Ammon, 12 of Ethiopia and Assyria.

[a][1]TRY yourselves, yea, try yourselves, O nation [2]without shame;

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass [b][3]like the chaff, before [c]the fierce anger of JEHOVAH come upon you, before the day of JEHOVAH's anger come upon you.

3 [d]Seek ye JEHOVAH, [e]all ye meek of the [4]land, who have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: [f]it may be 'that' ye shall be hidden in the day of JEHOVAH's anger.

4 ¶ For [g]Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod [h]at the noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 Wo to the inhabitants of [i]the sea coasts, the nation of the Cherethites! the word of JEHOVAH is against you; O [k]Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shall be [5]pastures, and [6]shepherds' cisterns, [l]and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for [m]the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: ‖for JEHOVAH their God [7]will [n]visit them, and [o][8]bring back their captives.

8 ¶ [p]I have heard the reproach of Moab, and [q]the revilings of the children of Ammon, [9]with which they have reproached my people, and [r][10]exulted against their border.

9 Therefore, as I live, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely [s]Moab shall be [11]like Sodom, and 'the children of Ammon [12]like Gomorrah, [u]even [13]a possession for nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation: [x]the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have [y]for their pride, because they have reproached and [14]exulted against the people of JEHOVAH of hosts.

11 JEHOVAH will be terrible [15]against them; for he will [16]destroy all the gods of the earth; [z]and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all [a]the [17]distant regions of the heathen.

12 ¶ [b]Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by [c]my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and [d]destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like a [18]desert.

14 And [e]flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all [f]the beasts of the nations: both the [g][19]pelican and [20]porcupine shall lodge [21]on the capitals of it; their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be on the thresholds: ‖for he shall uncover the [h]cedar work.

15 This is the rejoicing city [i]that dwelt carelessly, [k]that said in her heart, I am, and there is [22]no one besides me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her [l]shall hiss, and [m][23]shake his hand.

CHAPTER III.

1 A sharp reproof of Jerusalem for divers sins. 8 An exhortation to wait for the restoration of Israel, 14 and to rejoice for their salvation by God.

WO to ‖[1]her that is [k]rebellious and polluted, to the oppressing city!

2 She [c]obeyed not the voice; she [d]received not ‖[2]admonition; she trusted not in JEHOVAH; she drew not near to her God.

3 [e]Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are [f]evening wolves; they [3]reserve nothing for the morrow.

4 Her [g]prophets are [4]wanton and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have [5][f]violated the law.

5 [g]The just JEHOVAH [h]is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity: †every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but 'the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their ‖towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, 'so' that [6]no one passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is no inhabitant.

7 [k]I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive [7]admonition; so [8]her dwelling should not be cut off, [9]for all for which I had visited her: but they rose early, and [l]corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶ Therefore, [m]wait ye [10]for me, saith JEHOVAH, until the day [11]when I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to [n]gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth [o]shall be devoured [12]by the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the people [p][13]pure lips, that they may all call on the name of JEHOVAH, [14]and serve him with one †consent.

10 [q]From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

11 In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away [15]from the midst of thee those who [r]rejoice in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughty †because of my holy mountain.

12 I will also leave in the midst of thee [s]an afflicted and [16]meek people, and they shall trust in the name of JEHOVAH.

13 ['][17]The remnant of Israel [u]shall not do iniquity, [x]nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: [17]therefore [y]they shall feed and lie down, and [18]no one shall make them afraid.

14 ¶ [z]Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

¶ HAGGAI.

CHAPTER I.

1 Haggai reproveth the people for neglecting the building of the house. 7 He inciteth them to the building. 12 He promiseth God's assistance to them being forward.

IN [a]the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of JEHOVAH †by Haggai the prophet to [b]Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, ‖governor of Judah, and to [c]Joshua the son of [d]Josedech, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus [1]saith JEHOVAH of hosts, saying, This people say, The time [2]hath not come, the time [3]when JEHOVAH's house should be built.

3 Then came the word of JEHOVAH [e]by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 [f]Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and 'for' this house 'to' lie waste?

5 Now, therefore, thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; †[g]Consider your ways.

6 Ye have [h]sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe yourselves, but there is [4]no one warm; and [i]he who earneth wages, earneth wages to put [5]them into a [6]purse †with holes.

7 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will [7]show my glory, saith JEHOVAH.

9 [k]Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, [l]I did blow [8]it away. Why? saith JEHOVAH of hosts. Because of my house that is waste, and ye run every man to his own house.

10 Therefore, [m]the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from its fruit.

11 And I [n]called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the 'fresh' oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and [o]upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶ [p]Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, [9]hearkened to the voice of JEHOVAH their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, [10]in that for which JEHOVAH their God had sent him, and the people did fear [11] JEHOVAH.

13 Then spoke Haggai JEHOVAH's messenger [12]by JEHOVAH's message to the people, saying, [q]I am with you, saith JEHOVAH.

14 And [r]JEHOVAH [13]roused up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, [s]governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; [t]and they came and [14]wrought in the house of JEHOVAH of hosts, their God,

CHAPTER II.

1 He encourageth the people to the work, by promise of greater glory to the second temple than was in the first. 10 In the type of holy things and unclean he sheweth their sins hindered the work. 20 God's promise to Zerubbabel.

IN the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of JEHOVAH †by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 [a]Who is left among you that saw this house in [1]its former glory? and how do ye see it now? [b]is it not in your [2]sight like nothing when compared with it?

4 Yet now [c]be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith JEHOVAH; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith JEHOVAH, and work: for I am with you, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

5 [d]According to the word which I covenanted with you when ye came [3]from Egypt, so [e]my Spirit remaineth among you; fear ye not.

6 For thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [f]Yet once, it is a little while, and [g]I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

7 And I will shake all nations, [h]and the [4]Delight of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

9 'The glory of this latter house shall be greater than 'that' of the former, saith JEHOVAH of hosts: and in this place will I give [i]peace, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of JEHOVAH by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts, [l]Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any [s]food, will it be holy? And the priest answered and said, No.

13 Then said Haggai, If one that is [m]unclean by a dead body touch any of these, [6]will it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It [7]will be unclean.

14 Then answered Haggai and said, [n]So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith JEHOVAH; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, [o]consider from this day [8]even forward, from 'the time' before a stone was laid on a stone in the temple of JEHOVAH:

16 Since those days were, [p]when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the [9]wine-vat to draw out fifty vessels [10]from the press, there were but twenty.

17 [q]I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail [r]in all the labours of your hands; [s]yet ye turned not to me, saith JEHOVAH.

18 Consider now from this day [11]even forward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from [t]the day [12]when the foundation of JEHOVAH's temple was laid, consider it.

19 [u]Is the seed yet in the [13]granary? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

20 ¶ And again the word of JEHOVAH came to Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel, [x]governor of Judah, saying, [y]I will shake the heavens and the earth;

22 And [z]I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and [a]I will overthrow the chariots, and those who ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, [14]each one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith JEHOVAH, [b]and will make thee [15]like a seal-ring; [16]because [c]I have chosen thee, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

¶ ZECHARIAH.

CHAPTER I.

1 Zechariah exhorteth to repentance. 7 The vision of the horses. 12 At the prayer of the angel comfortable promises are made to Jerusalem. 18 The vision of the four horns, and the four carpenters.

IN the eighth month, [a]in the second year of Darius, came the word of JEHOVAH [b]to Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

2 JEHOVAH hath been †[1]greatly displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore, say thou to them, Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; Turn [c]ye to me, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, and I will turn to you, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

4 Be ye not [2]like your fathers, [d]to whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [e]Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken to me, saith JEHOVAH.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But, [f]my words, and [3]mine ordinances, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not [4]overtake your fathers? and they returned and said, [g][5]As JEHOVAH of hosts [6]designed to do to us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 ¶ On the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month [7]Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of JEHOVAH to Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold [h]a man riding on a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees which were in the [8]shady place; and behind him were there [i]red horses, [9]bay, and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the angel who talked with me said to me, I will shew thee what these [10]are.

10 And the man who stood among the myrtle-trees [11]spoke and said, [k]These are those which JEHOVAH hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 [l]And they [12]spoke to the angel of JEHOVAH who stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 ¶ Then the angel of JEHOVAH [13]spoke and said, [m]O JEHOVAH of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast [14]been angry [n]these threescore and ten years?

13 And JEHOVAH answered the angel who talked with me with [o]good words and comfortable words.

14 So the angel who [15]talked with me said to me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; I am [p]jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very [16]greatly displeased with the heathen who are [17]careless: for [q]I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith JEHOVAH; [r]I [18]have returned to Jerusalem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, and [s]a line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; My cities through †prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; [t]and JEHOVAH

20 And JEHOVAH shewed me four [22]workmen.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spoke, saying, Those are the horns which have scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to [23]terrify them, to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, who [y]lifted up their horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

CHAPTER II.

1 God, in the care of Jerusalem, sendeth to measure it. 6 The redemption of Zion. 10 The promise of God's presence.

I LIFTED up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold [a]a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said to me, [b]To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the angel who talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,

4 And said to him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, [c]Jerusalem shall be inhabited [1]like towns without walls [2]on account of the multitude of men and cattle therein:

5 For I, saith JEHOVAH, will be to her [d]a wall of fire [3]around, [e]and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 ¶ Ho, ho, [4]now flee [f]from the land of the north, saith JEHOVAH: for I have [g]spread you abroad [5]like the four winds of the heavens, saith JEHOVAH.

7 [h 6]Ho, Zion, who dwellest with the daughter of Babylon, deliver thyself.

8 For thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts: After the glory hath he sent me to the nations who [7]plundered you: for he who [i]toucheth you, toucheth the [8]pupil of his eye.

9 For behold, I will [k]shake my hand [9]over them, and they shall be a [10]prey to their servants: and [l]ye shall know that JEHOVAH of hosts hath sent me.

10 ¶ [m]Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for lo, I come, and I [n]will dwell in the midst of thee, saith JEHOVAH.

11 [o]And many nations shall be joined to JEHOVAH [p]in that day, and shall be [q]my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and [r]thou shalt know that JEHOVAH of hosts hath sent me to thee.

12 And JEHOVAH shall [s 11]possess Judah his portion in the holy land, and [t]shall choose Jerusalem again.

13 [u]Be silent, O all flesh, before JEHOVAH: for he [12]hath risen up [z]from this holy habitation.

CHAPTER III.

1 Under the type of Joshua, the restoration of the church, 8 Christ the Branch is promised.

AND he shewed me [a]Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of JEHOVAH, and [b] ‖Satan standing at his right hand †to resist him.

2 And JEHOVAH said to Satan, [c]JEHOVAH rebuke thee, O Satan: even JEHOVAH who [d]hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: [e]is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Joshua was clothed with [f]filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he [1]spoke and said to those who stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And to him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, [g]and I will clothe thee with [2]costly garments.

5 And I said, Let them set a [3]pure [h]turban on his head. So they set a [4]pure turban on his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of JEHOVAH stood by.

6 And the angel of JEHOVAH [5]solemnly declared to Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt [i]keep my ‖charge, then thou shalt also [h 6]rule my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee †places to walk among those who [l]stand by.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy [7]companions who sit before thee: for they are [m]†men [8]for a sign: for behold, I will bring forth [n]my servant [9]The [o]BRANCH.

9 For behold the stone which I have laid before Joshua; [p]on one stone shall be [q]seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the engraving thereof, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, and [r]I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 [s]In that day, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour [t]under the vine and under the fig-tree.

CHAPTER IV.

1 By the golden candlestick is foreshewed the good success of Zerubbabel's foundation. 11 By the two olive-trees the two anointed ones.

AND [a]the angel who talked with me came again, and [1]awoke me, [b 2]like a man who is [3]awakened from his sleep,

2 And said to me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold [c]a candlestick, all of gold, †with a bowl on the top of it, [d]and its seven lamps thereon, and ‖seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are on the top thereof:

3 [e]And two olive-trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel who talked with me answered and said to me, Knowest thou not what these [4]are? and I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, This is the word of JEHOVAH to Zerubbabel, saying, [f]Not by ‖might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

7 Who art thou, [g]O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth [h]the headstone thereof [i]with shoutings, crying, [5]Grace, grace, to it.

8 Moreover the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel [k]have laid the foundation of this house: his hands

11 ¶ Then answered I, and said to him, What are these [q]two olive-trees on the right side of the candlestick and on the left side thereof?

12 And I answered again, and said to him, What [7]are these two olive-branches which †[8]by means of the two golden pipes ‖empty †the golden oil out of themselves?

CHAPTER V.

1 By the flying roll is shewed the curse of thieves and swearers. 5 By a woman pressed in an ephah, the final [1]condemnation of Babylon.

THEN I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a flying [a]roll.

2 And he said to me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he to me, This is the [b]curse which goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for ‖every one who stealeth shall be [2]cut off as on this side, according to it; and every one who sweareth shall be [3]cut off as on that side, according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of [c]him who sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and [d]shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 ¶ Then the angel who talked with me went forth, and said to me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what this is which goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ephah which goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lifted up a ‖talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weight of lead on the mouth thereof.

9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings; for they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the angel who talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah?

11 And he said to me, To [e]build 'for' it a house in [f]the land of Shinar: and it shall be established, and set there upon its own [4]foundation.

AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were [a]red horses; and in the second chariot [b]black horses;

3 And in the third chariot [c]white horses; and in the fourth chariot [1]spotted and ‖bay horses.

4 Then I answered [d]and said to the angel who talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the angel answered and said to me, [e]These are the four ‖spirits of the heavens, which go forth from [f]standing before JEHOVAH of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein go forth to [5]the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the [2]spotted go forth [3]to the south country.

7 And the [4]bay went forth, and sought to go that they might [h]walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he [5]to me, and spoke to me, saying, Behold, these that go [6]to the north country have quieted my [i]spirit in the north country.

9 ¶ And the word of JEHOVAH came to me, saying,

10 Take of those of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, who [7]have come from Babylon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah;

11 Then take silver and gold, and make [k]crowns, and set them on the head of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest;

12 And speak to him, saying, Thus [8]saith JEHOVAH of hosts, saying, Behold [l]the man whose name is The [m][9]BRANCH; and he shall ‖grow up out of his place, [n]and he shall build the temple of JEHOVAH:

13 Even he shall build the temple of JEHOVAH; and he [o]shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule on his throne: and [p]he shall be a priest on his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be [10]for Helem, and [10]for Tobijah, and [10]for Jedaiah, and [10]for Hen the son of Zephaniah, [q]for a memorial in the temple of JEHOVAH.

15 And [r]those who are far off shall come and build in the temple of JEHOVAH; and [s]ye shall know that JEHOVAH of hosts hath sent me to you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of JEHOVAH your God.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The captives inquire of fasting. 4 Zechariah reproveth their fasting. 8 Sin the cause of their captivity.

AND it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of JEHOVAH came to Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in [1]Kislev;

2 When they had sent to the house of God, Sherezer and Regem-melech, and their men, †to pray before JEHOVAH,

3 And to [a]speak to the priests who were in the house of JEHOVAH of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in [b]the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?

4 ¶ Then came the word of JEHOVAH of hosts to me, saying,

5 Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye [c]fasted and mourned in the fifth [d]and seventh month, [e]even those seventy years, did ye at all fast [f]to me, even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, ‖did not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

7 ‖Should ye not hear the words which JEHOVAH hath [2]proclaimed †by the former prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof [3]around her, when men inhabited [5]the south and the plain?

8 ¶ And the word of JEHOVAH came to Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh JEHOVAH of hosts, saying, [h]†Execute true [4]justice, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother:

10 And [i]oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; [k]and let none of you [5]devise evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and [z]†[6]turned away the shoulder, and †[m]stopped their ears, that they [7]might not hear.

12 Yea, they made their [n]hearts [8]like a diamond, [o]lest they should hear the law, and the words which JEHOVAH of hosts hath sent [9]by his Spirit †by the former prophets: [p]therefore came a great wrath from JEHOVAH of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear; so [q]they cried, and I would not hear, saith JEHOVAH of hosts:

14 But [r]I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations [s]whom they [10]had not known. Thus [t]the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid [u]the †pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 The restoration of Jerusalem. 9 They are encouraged to the building by God's favour to them. 16 Good works are required of them. 18 Joy and enlargement are promised.

AGAIN the word of JEHOVAH of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [a]I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith JEHOVAH; [b]I [1]have returned to Zion, and [c]will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem [d]shall be called, A city of truth; and [e]the mountain of JEHOVAH of hosts, [f]The holy mountain.

4 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [g]There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand †[2]through mere age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; If it be [3]difficult in the [4]sight of the remnant of this people in these days, [h]should it also be [5]difficult in my sight? saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

7 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; Behold, [i]I will save my people from the east country, and from †the west country;

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: [k]and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, [l]in truth and in righteousness.

9 ¶ Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [m]Let your hands be strong, ye who hear in these days these words by the mouth of [n]the prophets, who were in [o]the day [6]when the foundation of the house of JEHOVAH of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before those days ‖there was no [p]hire for man, nor any hire for beast; [q]neither was there any peace to him who went out or came in because of the affliction: for I [7]sent all men every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be to the residue of this people as in the former days, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

12 [r]For the seed shall be †prosperous; the vine shall [8]yield its fruit, and [s]the ground shall [9]yield its increase, and [t]the heavens shall [10]yield their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were [u]a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and [x]ye shall be a blessing: fear not, [11] [y]let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [z]As I [12]determined to do evil to you, when your fathers provoked me[13], saith JEHOVAH of hosts, [a]and I repented not:

15 So again have I [14]determined in these days to do well to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 ¶ These are the things which ye shall do; [b]Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; [15]practise true justice and goodness in your gates:

17 [c]And let none of you [16]devise evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and [d]love no false oath: for all these are things which I hate, saith JEHOVAH.

18 ¶ And the word of JEHOVAH of hosts came to me, saying,

19 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; [e]The fast of the fourth month, [f]and the fast of the fifth, [g]and the fast of the seventh, [h]and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah [i]joy and gladness, and cheerful ‖feasts; [k]therefore love the truth and [17]goodness.

20 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities:

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, [l]Let us go ‖†speedily †to pray before JEHOVAH, and to seek JEHOVAH of hosts: I will go also.

22 Yea, [m]many people and strong nations shall come to seek JEHOVAH of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before JEHOVAH.

23 Thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts; In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall [n]take hold, out of all languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him who is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard [o]that God is with you.

kingdom. 12 God's promises of victory and defence.

THE [a]burden of the word of JEHOVAH [1]concerning the land of Hadrach, and [b]Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when [c]the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be towards JEHOVAH.

2 And [d]Hamath also shall border [2]on it; [e][3]Tyre and [f]Zidon, though it be very [g]wise.

3 And [4]Tyre did build herself a [5]fortress, and [h]heaped up silver [6]like the dust, and fine gold [7]like the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, [i]the [8]LORD will cast her out, and he will smite [k]her power on the sea; and she shall be devoured [9]by fire.

5 [l]Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also shall see it, and be [10]in great anguish, and Ekron; for her expectation shall be [11]disappointed; and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a [12]foreigner shall dwell [m]in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his †blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he who remaineth, even he, shall be for our God, and he shall be [13]like a chief in Judah, and Ekron [14]like a Jebusite.

8 And [n]I will encamp [15]around my house because of the army, because of him who passeth by, and because of him who returneth: and [o]no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now [p]have I seen with mine eyes.

9 ¶ [q]Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, [r]thy King cometh to thee: he is just, and [16]having salvation; lowly, and riding on an ass and on a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I [s]will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle-bow shall be cut off: and he shall speak [t]peace to the heathen: and his dominion shall be [u]from sea even to sea, and from the river even to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee also, ‖by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy [x]prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 ¶ Turn ye to the [17]fortress, [y]ye prisoners [18]cherishing hope: even to-day do I declare that [z]I will render double to thee;

13 When I have bent Judah for me, [19]armed Ephraim with the bow, and raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and made thee [20]like the sword of a mighty man.

14 [21]For JEHOVAH shall be seen [22]above them, and [a]his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord JEHOVAH [23]will blow the trumpet, and [24]will go [b]with whirlwinds of the south.

15 JEHOVAH of hosts [25]will defend them; and they shall devour and ‖subdue with sling-stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as 'if' through wine; and they ‖shall be filled like bowls, and [26]like [c]the corners of the altar.

16 And JEHOVAH their God [27]will save them in that day [28]like the flock of his people: for [d]they shall be [29]like the stones of a crown, [e][30]lifting themselves up over his land.

17 For [f]how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! [g]corn shall make the young men [31]grow, and new wine the maids.

CHAPTER X.

1 God is to be sought to, and not idols. 5 As he visited his flock for sin, so he will save and restore them.

ASK ye [a]of JEHOVAH [b]rain [c]in the time of the latter rain; so JEHOVAH [1]will make [2]lightnings, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the [d]†idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they [e]comfort in vain: therefore they went their way [3]like a flock, they ‖were troubled [f]because there was no shepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, [g]and I †punished the goats: for JEHOVAH of hosts [h]hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and [i]hath made them [4]like his goodly horse in the battle.

4 [5]From him came forth [k]the [6]chief, from him [l]the [7]prince, from him the battle-bow, [8]from him every oppressor together.

5 ¶ And they shall be [9]like mighty men, who [m]tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle: and they shall fight, because JEHOVAH is with them, and ‖the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and [n]I will bring them again to place them; for I [o]have mercy on them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am JEHOVAH their God, and [p]will hear them.

7 And those of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their [q]heart shall rejoice as through wine: [10]and their children shall see it, and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in JEHOVAH.

8 I will [r]hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: [s]and they shall increase as they [11]did increase.

9 And [t]I will sow them among the people: and they shall [u]remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

10 [x]I will bring them [12]back also [13]from the land of Egypt, and gather them [14]from Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and [y][15]room shall not be found for them.

11 [z]And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the [16]depths of the river shall dry up: and [a]the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and [b]the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in JEHOVAH; and [c]they shall walk up and down in his name, saith JEHOVAH.

CHAPTER XI.

a voice of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is [5]destroyed.

4 Thus saith JEHOVAH my God; [c]Feed the flock of the slaughter;

5 Whose possessors slay them, and [d]hold themselves not guilty: and those who sell them [e]say, Blessed be JEHOVAH; for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not.

6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith JEHOVAH: but lo, I will †deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and [6]from their hand I will not deliver them.

7 And I will [f]feed the flock of slaughter, ‖even you, [g]O poor of the flock. And I took to myself two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called ‖Bands; and I fed the flock.

8 Three shepherds also I cut off [h]in one month; and my soul †loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I will not feed you: [i]that which dieth, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat, every one the flesh †of another.

10 ¶ And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and ‖so [k]the poor of the flock that [7]watched me knew that it was the word of JEHOVAH.

12 And I said to them, †If ye think good, give me my [8]hire; and if not, forbear. So they [l]weighed for my [9]hire thirty [10]shekels of silver.

13 And JEHOVAH said to me, Cast it to the [m]potter: a [11]splendid price that I was prized at [12]by them. And I took the thirty [13]shekels of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of JEHOVAH.

14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even ‖Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 ¶ And JEHOVAH said to me, [n]Take to thyself yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who shall not visit those that [14]are ‖cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that which is broken, nor ‖feed that which standeth [15]firmly: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their [16]hoofs in pieces.

17 [o]Wo to the [17]worthless shepherd who leaveth the flock! the sword shall be on his arm, and on his right eye: his arm shall be [18]quite dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly [19]bedimmed.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jerusalem a cup of trembling to herself, 3 and a burdensome stone to her adversaries. 6 The victorious restoring of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of JEHOVAH [1]concerning Israel, saith JEHOVAH, [a]who stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and [b]formeth the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem [c]a cup of ‖[2]reeling to all the people [3]around, ‖when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem.

3 ¶ [d]And in that day will I make Jerusalem [e]a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be [4]crushed in pieces, though all the [5]nations of the earth be gathered [6] against it.

4 In that day, saith JEHOVAH, [f]I will smite every horse with [7]consternation, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the [8]chiefs of Judah shall say in their heart, ‖The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in JEHOVAH of hosts their God.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the [9]chiefs of Judah [g]like a [10]fire-pan among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the people [11]around, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 JEHOVAH also [12]will save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem [13]may not magnify themselves against Judah.

8 In that day shall JEHOVAH defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and [h]he who is ‖†feeble among them at that day shall be [14]like David; and the house of David shall be [15]like God, [16]like the angel of JEHOVAH before them.

9 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to [i]destroy all the nations who come against Jerusalem.

10 [k]And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of [17]prayer and of supplications: and they shall [l]look [18]to me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, [m]as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one who is in bitterness for his first-born.

11 In that day shall there be a great [n]mourning in Jerusalem, [o][19]like the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 [p]And the land shall mourn, †every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of [q]Nathan apart, and their wives apart;

13 The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family ‖of Shimei apart, and their wives apart;

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 The fountain of purgation for Jerusalem, 2 from idolatry, and false prophecy. 7 The death of Christ, and the trial of a third part.

IN [a]that day there shall be [b]a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and for †uncleanness.

2 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, that I will [c]cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause [d]the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother who begot him shall say to him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of JEHOVAH: and his father

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The destroyers of Jerusalem destroyed. 4 The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdom. 12 The plague of Jerusalem's enemies. 16 The remnant shall turn to the Lord, 20 and their spoils shall be holy.

BEHOLD, [a]the day of JEHOVAH cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For [b]I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and [c]the houses rifled, and the women [1]violated; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall JEHOVAH go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day [d]on the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall [2]be divided in the midst thereof towards the east and towards the west, [e]and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove towards the north, and half of it towards the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of ‖the mountains; ‖for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azal: yea, ye shall flee [3] as ye fled from before the [f]earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: [g]and JEHOVAH my God shall come, and [h]all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, ‖that the light shall not be †[4]bright and †dusky:

7 But, ‖it shall be [i]one day [k]which shall be known to JEHOVAH, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at [l]evening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living [m]waters shall go [5]forth from Jerusalem; half of them towards the [6]eastern sea, and half of them towards the [7]western sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And JEHOVAH shall be [n]King over all the earth: in that day shall there be [o]one JEHOVAH, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be ‖turned [p]as a plain from Geba to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up, and [q]‖inhabited in its place, from Benjamin's gate to the place of the first gate, to the corner-gate, [r]and from the tower of Hananeel to the king's wine-presses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be [s]no more utter destruction; [t]but Jerusalem ‖shall be safely inhabited.

12 ¶ And this shall be the plague wherewith JEHOVAH will smite all the people that have fought against Jerusalem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their [8]sockets, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [u]a great tumult from JEHOVAH shall be among them; and they shall [9]seize every one [10] the hand of his neighbour, and [x]his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And ‖Judah also shall fight ‖at Jerusalem; [y]and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And [z]so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these [11]camps, like this plague.

16 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations who came against Jerusalem, shall even [a]go up from year to year to worship the King, JEHOVAH of hosts, and to keep [b]the feast of [12]booths.

17 [c]And it shall be, that whoever will not come up of all the families of the earth to Jerusalem to worship the King, JEHOVAH of hosts, even on them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, †[d]that have no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith JEHOVAH will smite the [13]nations who come not up to keep the feast of [14]booths.

19 This shall be the ‖punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of [15]booths.

20 ¶ In that day shall there be on the ‖bells of the horses, [e][16]HOLINESS TO JEHOVAH; and the pots in JEHOVAH'S house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness to JEHOVAH of hosts: and all those who sacrifice shall come and take 'some' of them, and [17]boil therein: and in that day there shall be no more the [f]Canaanite in [g]the house of JEHOVAH of hosts.

¶ MALACHI.

CHAPTER I.

1 Malachi complaineth of Israel's unkindness. 6 Of their irreligiousness, 12 and profaneness.

THE burden of the word of JEHOVAH to Israel †by Malachi.

2 [a]I have loved you, saith JEHOVAH. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith JEHOVAH: yet [b]I loved Jacob,

3 And I hated Esau, and [c]laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the [1]jackals of the [2]desert.

4 Whereas Edom saith, We are [3]broken in pieces, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith JEHOVAH of hosts, They [4]may build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The [5]region of wickedness, and, The people against whom JEHOVAH [6]is angry for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, [d]JEHOVAH will be magnified ‖†from the border of Israel.

6 ¶ A son [e]honoureth his father, and a servant his master: [f]if then I be a father, where is my honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith JEHOVAH of hosts to you, O priests, who despise my name. [g]And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7 ‖Ye offer [h]polluted bread on mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? [7]By your saying, [i]The table of JEHOVAH is contemptible.

8 And [k]if ye offer the blind †for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now to thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or [l]accept thy person? saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

9 And now, I pray you, beseech †God that he will be [8]kind to us: [m]this hath been †by your means: will he regard your persons? saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for [9]nothing? [n]neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for [10]nothing. I have no pleasure in you, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, [o]neither will I accept an offering [11]from your hand.

11 For, [p]from the rising of the sun even to the going down of the same, my name shall be great [q]among the Gentiles; [r]and in every place [s]incense shall be offered to my name, and a pure offering: [t]for my name shall be great among the [12]Gentiles, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

12 ¶ But ye have profaned it, [13]by your saying, [u]The table of JEHOVAH is polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his [14]food, is contemptible.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it! ‖and ye have snuffed at it, saith JEHOVAH of hosts; and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: [x]should I accept this [15]from your hand? saith JEHOVAH.

14 But cursed be [y]the deceiver, ‖who hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth to the [16]LORD a corrupt thing: for [z]I am a great King, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the [17]nations.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sharply reproveth the priests for neglecting their covenant, 11 and the people for idolatry, 14 for adultery, 17 and for infidelity.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.

2 [a]If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory to my name, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will [1]rebuke your seed, and [2]scatter ordure on your faces, even the [3]ordure of your solemn feasts; and ‖one shall [b]take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment to you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

5 [c]My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him [d]for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was [4]humbled before my name.

6 [e]The [5]law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did [f]turn many away from iniquity.

7 [g]For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek [6]the law at his mouth: [h]for he is the messenger of JEHOVAH of hosts.

8 But ye [7]have departed [8]from the way; ye [i]have caused many to ‖stumble at the law; [k]ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

9 Therefore [l]have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but ‖†have been partial in the law.

10 [m]Have we not all one father? [n]hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously [9]each man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11 ¶ Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of JEHOVAH which he ‖loved, [o]and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 JEHOVAH will cut off the man who doeth this, ‖the master and the scholar, [10]from the tents of Jacob, [p]and him who offereth an offering to JEHOVAH of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of JEHOVAH with tears, with weeping, and with [11]shrieking, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will [12]from your hand.

14 ¶ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because JEHOVAH hath [13]testified between thee and [q]the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: [r]yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And [s]did not he make one? Yet had he the ‖residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek †[t]a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let [14]no one deal ‖treacherously against the wife of his youth.

CHAPTER III.

1 Of the messenger, majesty, and grace of Christ. 7 Of the rebellion, 8 sacrilege, 13 and infidelity of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

BEHOLD, [a]I will send my messenger, and he shall [b]prepare the way before me: and the [1]Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, [c]even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, [d]he shall come, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

2 But who [2]can endure [e]the day of his coming? and [f]who shall stand when he appeareth? for [g]he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap.

3 And [h]he shall sit [3]like a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and [4]cleanse them like gold and silver, that they may [i]offer to JEHOVAH an offering in righteousness.

4 Then [k]shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant to JEHOVAH, as in the days of old, and as in [5]ancient years.

5 And I will come near to you [6]for judgment: and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, [l]and against false swearers, and against those who [7]defraud the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, [m]I change not; [n]therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7 ¶ Even from the days of [o]your fathers ye [8]have gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. [p]Return to me, and I will return to you, saith JEHOVAH of hosts. [q]But ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶ Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [r]In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 [s]Bring ye all the tithes into [t]the storehouse, that there may be [9]food in my house, and [10]try me now [11]with this, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, [12]whether I will not open [u]for you the [u]windows of heaven, and †[x]pour you out a blessing, [u]so that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke [y]the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not †destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before the time in the field, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be [z]a [13]delightful land, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

13 ¶ [a]Your words have been [14]bold against me, saith JEHOVAH. Yet ye say, What have we spoken [15] against thee?

14 [b]Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his [16]charge, and that we have walked †mournfully before JEHOVAH of hosts?

15 And now [c]we call the proud happy; yea, those who work wickedness are [17]built up; yea, those who [d]tempt God are even delivered.

16 ¶ Then those [e]who feared JEHOVAH [f]spoke often one to another: and JEHOVAH hearkened, and heard it: and [g]a book of remembrance was written before him for those who feared JEHOVAH, and that thought on his name.

17 And [h]they shall be mine, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, in that day when I make up my ‖[i]jewels; and [k]I will spare them, as a man spareth his [18] son who serveth him.

18 [l]Then shall ye [19]turn and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serveth God and him who serveth him not.

CHAPTER IV.

1 God's judgment on the wicked, 2 and his blessing on the good. 4 He exhorteth to the study of the law, 5 and telleth of Elijah's coming and office.

FOR behold, [a]the day cometh, which shall burn [1]like an oven; and all [b]the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be [c]stubble: and the day which cometh shall burn them up, saith JEHOVAH of hosts, 'so' that it shall [d]leave them neither root nor branch.

2 ¶ But to you who [e]fear my name, shall the [f]Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go [2]out, and grow up [3]like calves of the stall.

3 [g]And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day [4]when I shall do this, saith JEHOVAH of hosts.

4 ¶ Remember ye the [h]law of Moses my servant, which I commanded to him [i]in Horeb for all Israel, with [k]the [5]ordinances and judgments.

5 ¶ Behold, I will send you [l]Elijah the prophet [m]before the coming of the great and dreadful day of JEHOVAH:

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and [n]smite the earth with [o]a curse.

PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

In submitting to the public the present revised version of the New Testament, the editor would briefly state the plan on which he has proceeded. It has by no means been his aim to produce a work which should meet all the expectations of the biblical scholar. He has rather aimed only to make such changes as seemed most obviously necessary. By a close and careful comparison of the common version with the original, as well as by consulting some of the best translations and commentators, he has endeavoured to detect and rectify the most important errors, as well as to clear up what was obscure. He has removed words either obsolete or employed in obsolete significations, has lopped off redundancies, and endeavoured to render the style more neat, compact, perspicuous, and forcible. How far he has succeeded in this, must be left to the judgment of others.

But, while doing this, he has endeavoured to make no change in the essential structure of the English version. A simple, unadorned style he believes to be the only garb in which a correct taste will ever allow the sacred writers to appear. The writer has been accustomed to regard the common version with respect approaching to reverence, and he can truly say that the close scrutiny which the present work has compelled him to make, while it has disclosed more numerous and more glaring defects than he had before perceived or suspected, has also increased his sense and admiration of its numerous and extraordinary excellences. Not unfrequently, indeed, the language seems to him to possess a richness, depth, simplicity, and majesty, which place it beyond the reach of improvement. Still, in other instances, this is far from being the case. While some portions are translated tersely, perspicuously, elegantly, others betray a far inferior and clumsier hand. Indeed, nothing can more forcibly strike the attentive reader of the common version of the New Testament, than the great inequality in the style and merit of its execution. That this inequality should be in a measure removed, and a degree of uniformity introduced into the work; that it should bear in general the impress of a single mind, or at least indicate the uniform application of the same principles of translation, is obviously desirable. This has been to a considerable extent attempted in the present work. Yet to what extent uniformity should be carried, how far the same words and phrases when recurring should be rendered in the same manner, is a question whose right decision requires much judgment and taste on the part of the translator. In a series of productions like the various narratives and epistles of the New Testament, written by different persons, in widely different circumstances, in different countries, and at intervals of many years, the same words and phrases cannot be supposed to have retained uniformly the same signification. That the words rendered church, gospel, preach, and many others, would assume gradually new shades of meaning, will readily be believed by him who observes the striking and extensive outward changes brought about by Christianity, and who remembers with what quickness and pliancy language adapts itself to all the circumstances and wants of man. A translator, then, must be permitted to exercise in such matters a large discretion, controlled, indeed, by knowledge, judgment, and taste. On this point the author of the present revision will only say that he has endeavoured to preserve a due medium between the too little and the too much; not shrinking from any alterations which seemed in any respect substantial improvements, nor making any from the mere spirit of innovation. A few alterations which he would have made he has forborne from deference to the judgment of others, especially to the wishes of the proprietor of the work, while others, to which the author felt disinclined, have been admitted for the same reason.

The author is not aware that the charge of sectarianism can justly be urged against the present revised version. If he knows his own heart, he has not the least disposition to tamper with the word of God for such unworthy purposes. The plan projected by the proprietor of the work, and the only one which the editor would have been willing to adopt, was to translate, as far as practicable, in a faithful manner, all the words of the original. Acting in conformity with this principle, he may not have succeeded in securing the entire approval of any single religious sect. Some may censure him for rendering ἀπὸ ὕδατος "from the water," instead of "out of the water." He can only reply that he followed his own deliberate convictions as to the import of the Greek expression. Others again may regard the rendering of βαπτίζω by immerse as unwarrantable. To this he would say, that with the testimony of nearly all the best lexicographers and Pædobaptist commentators on his side, with the uniform usage of classic Greek in his favour, and having never seen an instance in which βαπτίζω could not be most naturally understood, either as having the meaning of immerse, or a meaning legitimately derived from this and based upon it, he had no other course than to follow his deliberate judgment, coinciding as it did with that of nearly the whole learned world. He would only add, that he has given to βαπτίζω the best rendering which the word admits. He will feel greatly obliged to any who shall suggest a better.

In conclusion, the editor would, with unfeigned diffidence, submit his work to an intelligent and candid public, earnestly hoping and praying that it may promote the knowledge of biblical truth, and thus prove subservient to the great interests of piety.

A. C. Kendrick.

CHAPTER I.

1 The genealogy of Christ from Abraham to Joseph. 18 He was conceived by the Holy Spirit, and born of the Virgin Mary when she was espoused to Joseph. 19 The angel satisfieth the misdeeming thoughts of Joseph, and interpreteth the names of Christ.

THE [a]genealogy of Jesus Christ, [b]the son of David, [c]the son of Abraham.

2 [d]Abraham begot Isaac; and [e]Isaac begot Jacob; and [f]Jacob begot Judah and his brethren;

3 And [g]Judah begot Pharez and Zarah by Tamar; and [h]Pharez begot Hezron; and Hezron begot Ram;

4 And Ram begot Aminadab; and Aminadab begot Nahshon; and Nahshon begot Salmon;

5 And Salmon begot Boaz by Rahab; and Boaz begot Obed by Ruth; and Obed begot Jesse;

6 And [i]Jesse begot David the king; and [k]David the king begot Solomon by her who had been the wife of Uriah;

7 And [l]Solomon begot Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begot Abia; and Abia begot Asa;

8 And Asa begot Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begot Joram; and Joram begot Uzziah;

9 And Uzziah begot Jotham; and Jotham begot Ahaz; and Ahaz begot Hezekiah;

10 And [m]Hezekiah begot Manasseh; and Manasseh begot Amon; and Amon begot Josiah;

11 And ‖[n]Josiah begot Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the [o]removal to Babylon:

12 And after the removal to Babylon, [p]Jechoniah begot Salathiel; and Salathiel begot [q]Zerubbabel;

13 And Zerubbabel begot Abiud; and Abiud begot Eliakim; and Eliakim begot Hazor;

14 And Hazor begot Zadok; and Zadok begot Achim; and Achim begot Eliud;

15 And Eliud begot Eleazar; and Eleazar begot Matthan; and Matthan begot Jacob;

16 And Jacob begot Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called ‖Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the removal to Babylon, fourteen generations; and from the removal to Babylon until Christ, fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the [r]birth of Jesus Christ was thus. His mother Mary being espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child [s]by the Holy Spirit.

19 And Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not wishing [t]to expose her, was inclined to put her away secretly.

20 But while he thought upon this, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, fear not to take to thee Mary thy wife: [u]for that which is †conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit.

21 [x]And she shall bear a son, and thou shalt call his name ‖JESUS: for [y]he will save his people from their sins.

22 (Now all this took place, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

23 [z]Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bear a son, and ‖they shall call his name Immanuel, which, interpreted, is, God with us.)

24 And Joseph, having risen from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took to him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth [a]her first-born son: and he called his name JESUS.

CHAPTER II.

1 The Magians from the east are directed to Christ by a star. 11 They do him homage and offer their presents. 14 Joseph fleeth into Egypt, with Jesus and his mother. 16 Herod slayeth the children: 20 himself dieth. 23 Christ is brought back into Galilee to Nazareth.

NOW [a]Jesus being born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, ‖Magians [b]from the east came to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, [c]Where is the new-born King of the Jews? for we have seen [d]his star in the east, and are come to do him homage.

3 And Herod the king hearing it, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And assembling all [e]the chief priests and [f]scribes of the people, [g]he inquired of them where the Christ should be born.

5 And they said to him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 [h]And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, art by no means the least among the leaders of Judah: for from thee shall come a Ruler, [i]who will be a shepherd to my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, secretly calling the Magians, inquired of them exactly the time when the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and make strict inquiry concerning the child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I also may come and do him homage.

9 And having heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the child was.

10 And on seeing the star, they rejoiced with very great joy.

11 ¶ And going into the house, they saw the child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and did him homage: and opening their treasures, [k]they ‖presented to him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned [l]in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed by another way into their own country.

hold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, take the child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and remain there until I bring thee word: for Herod is about to seek the child to destroy him.

14 And he arose, and took the child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, [m]Out of Egypt I called my Son.

16 ¶ Then Herod, seeing that he was deceived by the Magians, was exceedingly angry, and sent forth, and slew all the male children in Bethlehem, and in all its borders, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had learned exactly from the Magians.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [n]by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Ramah, mourning, and weeping, and loud lamentation, Rachel weeping for her children, and she would not be consoled, because they are not.

19 ¶ But, when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt,

20 Saying, Arise, and take the child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead who sought the child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But hearing that Archelaus was reigning in Judea instead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: and being warned in a dream, he retired [o]into the region of Galilee:

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called [p]Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled [q]which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

CHAPTER III.

1 John preacheth: his office: life, and immersion. 7 He reprehendeth the Pharisees, 13 and immerseth Christ in Jordan.

IN those days came [a]John the Baptist, proclaiming [b]in the desert of Judea,

2 And saying, Repent; for [c]the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah, saying, [d]The voice of one crying in the desert, [e]Prepare the way of the Lord! make straight his paths!

4 And [f]this John [g]had his clothing of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was [h]locusts and [i]wild honey.

5 [k]Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the region around the Jordan,

6 [l]And were immersed by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 ¶ But seeing many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to be immersed by him, he said to them, [m]Generation of vipers! who hath warned you to flee from [n]the coming wrath?

8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of repentance:

9 And think not to say within yourselves, [o]We have Abraham for our father: for I say to you, that God is able from these stones to raise up children to Abraham.

10 And even now the axe lieth at the root of the trees: [p]therefore every tree which beareth not good fruit is cut down, and cast into the fire.

11 [q]I indeed immerse you in water to repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: [r]he will immerse you in the Holy Spirit, and fire.

12 [s]His fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor, and will gather his wheat into the garner, but will [t]burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 ¶ [u]Then cometh Jesus [x]from Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be immersed by him.

14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be immersed by thee, and comest thou to me?

15 And Jesus answering said to him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

16 [y]And Jesus, being immersed, went up immediately from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw [z]the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and coming upon him:

17 [a]And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, [b]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 11 The angels minister to him. 13 He dwelleth in Capernaum, 17 beginneth to preach, 18 calleth Peter, and Andrew, 21 James, and John, 23 and healeth all the diseased.

THEN [a]Jesus was led up by [b]the Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil.

2 And having fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterwards hungry.

3 And the tempter came to him, and said, If thou art the Son of God, command that these stones become loaves.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, [c]Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth from the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him [d]into the holy city, and placeth him on the pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith to him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down, for it is written, [e]He will give his angels charge concerning thee: and they will bear thee on their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said to him, It is written again, [f]Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him into a very high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9 And saith to him, All this I will give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus to him, Get thee hence, Satan! for it is written, [g]Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and shalt serve him alone.

15 [d]The land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, along the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles,

16 [e]The people that sat in darkness have seen a great light; and on those who sat in the region and shades of death, light hath arisen.

17 ¶ [m]From that time Jesus began to proclaim, and to say, [n]Repent; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¶ [o]And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon [p]called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen.

19 And he saith to them, Follow me, and [q]I will make you fishers of men.

20 [r]And they immediately left their nets, and followed him.

21 [s]And going on from thence, he saw two other brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship, and their father, and followed him.

23 ¶ And Jesus went about all Galilee, [t]teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming [u]the glad tidings of his kingdom, [x]and healing every disease and every infirmity among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought to him all the sick, those afflicted with various diseases and torments, and demoniacs, and lunatics, and paralytics; and he healed them.

25 [y]And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judea, and beyond the Jordan.

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ beginneth his sermon in the mount: 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on a hill, 15 the candle: 17 that he came to fulfil the law. 21 What it is to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to swear: 38 exhorteth to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and to labour after perfectness.

AND seeing the multitudes, [a]he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came to him.

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 [b]Happy are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 [c]Happy they that mourn: for they shall be consoled.

5 [d]Happy the meek: for [e]they shall inherit the land.

6 Happy they that hunger and thirst for righteousness: [f]for they shall be satisfied.

7 Happy the merciful: [g]for they shall obtain mercy.

8 [h]Happy the pure in heart: for [i]they shall see God.

9 Happy the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 [k]Happy they who are persecuted on account of righteousness: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 [l]Happy are ye when men revile and persecute you, and say every [m]evil thing against you †falsely, for my sake.

12 [n]Rejoice, and exult! for great is your reward in heaven: for [o]so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

13 ¶ Ye are the salt of the earth: [p]but if the salt lose its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and trampled on by men.

14 [q]Ye are the light of the world. A city placed on a mountain cannot be hidden.

15 Nor do they [r]light a lamp, and put it under ‖the measure, but on the stand: and it giveth light to all who are in the house.

16 Thus let your light shine before men, [s]that they may see your good works, and [t]glorify your Father who is in heaven.

17 ¶ [u]Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily, I say to you, [w]Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall by no means pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 [x]Whoever therefore shall break one of the least of these commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whoever shall do, and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say to you, That unless your righteousness exceed [y]that of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall by no means enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said ‖by those of old, [z]Thou shalt not murder; and whoever shall murder, shall be exposed to the judgment:

22 But I say to you, That [a]whoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be exposed to the judgment: and whoever shall say to his brother, ‖[b]Raca, shall be exposed to the council: and whoever shall say, Fool, shall be exposed to ‖hell fire.

23 [c]If then thou bringest thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee,

24 [d]Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go, first be reconciled with thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 [e]Agree with thine ‖adversary quickly, [f]while thou art in the way with him; lest the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily, I say to thee, Thou wilt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by those of old, [g]Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 But I say to you, That whoever [h]looketh on a woman with impure desire, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 [i]And if thy right eye cause thee to sin, [k]pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is better for thee that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand cause thee to sin, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is better for thee that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, [l]whoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorcement:

32 But I say to you, That [m]whoever shall put away his wife, except for fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whoever marrieth her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

33 ¶ Again, ye have heard that [n]it hath been said by those of old, [o]Thou shalt not swear falsely, but [p]shalt perform to the Lord thine oaths:

34 But I say to you, [q]Swear not at all: neither by heaven; for it is [r]the throne of God:

35 Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: nor by Jerusalem; for it is [s]the city of the great King:

36 Nor swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 [t]But let your language be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for what is more than these cometh of evil.

38 ¶ Ye have heard that it hath been said, [u]Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth.

39 But I say to you, [x]Resist not the injurious: [y]but whoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him also the other.

40 And if any one will sue thee, and take thy coat, let him also have thy cloak.

41 And whoever [z]shall constrain thee to go one [a]mile, go with him two.

42 Give to him who asketh thee, and [a]from him who would borrow of thee, turn not away.

43 ¶ Ye have heard that it hath been said, [b]Thou shalt love thy neighbour, [c]and hate thine enemy:

44 But I say to you, [d]Love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray [e]for those who abuse you, and persecute you;

45 That ye may become sons of your Father who is in heaven: for [f]he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust.

46 [g]For if ye love those who love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?

48 [h]Be ye therefore perfect, even [i]as your Father who is in heaven is perfect.

the streets, that they may be honoured by men. Verily, I say to you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth;

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father who seeth in secret, [b]will himself reward thee openly.

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be like the hypocrites: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men. Verily, I say to you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, [c]enter thy closet, shut thy door, and pray to thy Father who is in secret; and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee openly.

7 But in praying, [d]use not idle repetitions, as the heathen do: [e]for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not therefore like them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him.

9 Thus therefore pray ye: [f]Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. [g]Thy will be done in earth [h]as it is in heaven.

11 Give us to-day our [i]daily bread.

12 And [k]forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 [l]And lead us not into trial, but [m]deliver us from evil. [n]For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 [o]For, if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But, [p]if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ And [q]when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear to men to fast. Verily, I say to you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, [r]anoint thy head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not to men to fast, but to thy Father, who is in secret: and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee openly.

19 ¶ [s]Lay not up your treasures upon earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 [t]But lay up your treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumeth, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 [u]The light of the body is the eye: if then thine eye be sound, thy whole body will be enlightened.

23 But if thine eye be diseased, thy whole body will be dark. If then the light that is in thee is darkness, how great the darkness!

24 ¶ [x]No one can serve two masters: for he will either hate the one, and love the other, or hold to the one, and despise the other. [y]Ye cannot serve God and ‖mammon.

25 Therefore I say to you, [z]Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor for your body, how ye shall be clothed. Is not the life more than food, and the body than clothing?

26 [a]Look at the birds of heaven. They sow not, nor reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye much better than they?

27 Who of you by being anxious [b]can add a span to his life?

28 And why are ye anxious about clothing? Observe the lilies of the field how they grow. They toil not, nor spin;

29 Yet I say to you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 And if God so clothes the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, Ye of little faith?

31 Be not then anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, wherewith shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But [b]seek first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

34 Be not then anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient for the day is its own evil.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ ending his sermon in the mount, reproveth rash judgment, 6 forbiddeth to cast holy things to dogs, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to enter in at the strait gate, 15 to beware of false prophets, 21 not to be hearers, but doers of the word: 24 like houses builded on a rock, 26 and not on the sand.

JUDGE [c]not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye will be judged: [b]and with what measure ye mete, it will be measured to you.

3 [c]And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but observest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me take out the mote from thine eye; and behold, the beam is in thine own eye?

5 Hypocrite, first remove the beam from thine own eye; and then thou wilt see clearly to remove the mote from the eye of thy brother.

6 ¶ [d]Give not that which is sacred to the dogs, nor cast your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 ¶ [e]Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you:

8 For [f]every one that asketh, receiveth; and that seeketh, findeth; and that knocketh, to him it shall be opened.

9 [g]Or what man is there of you, of whom if his son ask bread, he will give him a stone?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will give him a serpent?

11 If ye then [h]being evil know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him?

12 Therefore all things [i]whatever ye would that men do to you, so do ye also to them: for [k]this is the law and the prophets.

13 ¶ [l]Enter in by the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and broad the way, that leadeth to destruction, and there are many that enter by it.

14 How strait is the gate, and narrow the way, which leadeth to life, and there are few that find it!

15 ¶ [m]Beware of false prophets, [n]who come to you in sheep's clothing, but are inwardly [o]ravenous wolves.

16 [p]Ye shall know them by their fruits: [q]Do men gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles?

17 Thus [r]every good tree beareth good fruit; but the bad tree beareth bad fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor a bad tree bear good fruit.

19 [s]Every tree that beareth not good fruit is cut down, and cast into the fire.

20 So then, by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ Not every one who saith to me, [t]Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we [u]not prophesy in thy name? and in thy name cast out demons? and in thy name do many mighty works?

23 And [x]then I will declare to them, I never knew you: [y]depart from me, ye who work iniquity.

24 ¶ Therefore, [z]whoever heareth these my words, and doeth them, I will liken him to a prudent man, who built his house upon the rock:

25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded on the rock.

26 And every one who heareth these my words, and doeth them not, shall be likened to a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and the fall of it was great.

28 And it came to pass when Jesus had ended these words, [a]the people were astonished at his teaching.

29 [b]For he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER VIII.

2 Christ cleanseth the leper, 5 healeth the centurion's servant, 14 Peter's mother-in-law, 16 and many other diseased: 18 sheweth how he is to be followed: 23 stilleth the tempest on the sea, 28 driveth the demons out of two men possessed, 31 and suffereth them to go into the swine.

AS he came down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 [c]And behold, a leper came and fell down before him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be cleansed. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith to him, [b]See thou tell no one; but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that [c]Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.

5 ¶ [d]And Jesus having entered Capernaum, there came to him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith to him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answering, said, Lord, [e]I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but only [f]speak the word, and my servant will be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 And Jesus hearing it, wondered, and said to those who followed, Verily I say to you, Not even in Israel have I found so great faith!

11 And I say to you, That [g]many will come from the east and west, and will recline at table with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven:

12 But [h]the sons of the kingdom [i]will be cast forth into the outer darkness: there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said to the centurion, Go, and as thou hast believed, so be it done to thee. And his servant was healed in that hour.

14 ¶ [k]And Jesus coming into the house of Peter, saw [l]his wife's mother lying sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered to them.

16 ¶ [m]And evening coming, they brought to him many having demons: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick;

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, [n]He himself took our infirmities, and bore our sicknesses.

18 ¶ And Jesus seeing great multitudes about him, directed to depart to the other side.

19 [o]And a certain scribe came, and said to him, Teacher, I will follow thee whereever thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith to him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of heaven dwelling-places; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 [p]And another of his disciples said to him, Lord, [q]permit me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said to him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their own dead.

23 ¶ And he entered the ship, and his disciples followed him.

24 [r]And behold, a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the ship was covered by the waves; but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came up, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us! we perish!

26 And he saith to them, Why are ye fearful, Ye of little faith? Then [s]he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 And the men wondered, saying, What sort of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

28 ¶ [t]And as he came to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two demoniacs, coming from the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that none could pass by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was at a distance from them an herd of many swine, feeding.

31 And the demons entreated him, saying, If thou cast us out, permit us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said to them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And those who fed them, fled, and going into the city, reported every thing, and what had befallen the demoniacs.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and on seeing him, [u]they entreated him to depart from their borders.

AND going into the ship, he passed over, [a]and came into his own city.

2 [b]And behold, they brought to him a paralytic, lying on a bed: [c]and Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, Son, take courage; thy sins are forgiven thee.

3 And behold, some of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jesus, [d]knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For which is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the paralytic,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go to thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 And the multitude seeing it, wondered, and glorified God, who had given such power to men.

9 ¶ [e]And Jesus passing thence, saw a man named Matthew, sitting at the custom-house, and saith to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 ¶ [f]And it came to pass, as he reclined at table in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and reclined with him and his disciples.

11 And the Pharisees seeing it, said to his disciples, Why eateth your Master with [g]publicans and [h]sinners?

12 And Jesus hearing it, said to them, Those who are well need not a physician, but those who are sick.

13 But go and learn what that meaneth, [i]I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for I came not to call the righteous, [k]but sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then the disciples of John came to him, saying, [l]Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but thy disciples fast not?

15 And Jesus said to them, Can [m]the sons of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and [n]then they will fast.

17 Nor do they put new wine into old ‖bottles: else the bottles burst, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ [o]As he was speaking thus to them, behold, a ruler came, and fell down before him, saying, My daughter is by this time dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she will live.

19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, with his disciples.

20 ¶ ([p]And behold, a woman, having an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the fringe of his garment.

21 For she said within herself, If I only touch his garment, I shall be healed.

22 But Jesus turning and seeing her, said, Take courage, daughter: [q]thy faith hath healed thee. And the woman was healed from that hour.)

23 [r]And Jesus coming into the ruler's house, and seeing [s]the pipers and the crowd making a noise,

24 Said to them, [t]Retire: for the maiden is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed at him.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maiden arose.

26 And the report of it went forth into all that land.

27 ¶ And as Jesus was passing thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, [u]Son of David, have pity upon us!

28 And he having entered the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith to them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said to him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then he touched their eyes, saying, According to your faith, be it to you.

30 And their eyes were opened; and Jesus strictly charged them, saying, [z]See that no one know it.

31 [y]But they, going out, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 ¶ [z]As they went out, behold, there was brought to him a dumb man having a demon.

33 And the demon being cast out, the dumb man spoke: and the multitude wondered, saying, The like was never seen in Israel!

34 But the Pharisees said, [a]He casteth out demons, by the prince of the demons.

35 [b]And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, [c]teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the glad tidings of his kingdom, and healing every sickness, and every infirmity among the people.

36 ¶ [d]And seeing the multitudes, he had compassion on them, because they were harassed and abandoned, [e]as sheep having no shepherd.

37 Then saith he to his disciples, [f]The harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few.

38 [g]Pray therefore the Lord of the harvest, to send forth labourers into his harvest!

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ sendeth out his twelve apostles, giving them power to do miracles, 5 giveth them their charge, teacheth them, 16 comforteth them against persecutions: 40 and promiseth a blessing to those that receive them.

AND [a]calling to him his twelve disciples, he gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every sickness, and every infirmity.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; First, Simon, [b]who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbeus, surnamed Thaddeus;

4 [c]Simon the Canaanite, and Judas [d]Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, [e]Go not among the Gentiles, and enter not a city of [f]the Samaritans.

6 [g]But go rather to the [h]lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 [i]And as ye go, proclaim, saying, [k]The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out demons: [l]freely ye received, freely give.

9 [m]‖Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor [n]brass for your purses;

10 Nor sack for your journey, nor two coats, nor shoes, nor staff. For the labourer is worthy of his support.

11 [p]And whatever city or village ye enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there remain till ye go thence.

12 And as ye enter the house, salute it.

13 [q]And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: [r]but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 [s]And whoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, in departing from that house, or city, [t]shake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily, I say to you, [u]It will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah, in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 ¶ [z]Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: [y]be therefore prudent as the serpents, and [z]guileless as the doves.

17 But beware of men: for [a]they will deliver you up to councils, and [b]will scourge you in their synagogues.

18 And [c]ye will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

19 [d]But when they deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye shall speak, for [e]it will be given you in that hour what ye shall speak.

20 [f]For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you.

21 [g]And the brother will deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and children will arise against parents, and bring them to death.

22 And [h]ye will be hated by all on account of my name: [i]but he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

23 But [k]when they persecute you in this city, flee into another: for verily I say to you, Ye shall not ‖have gone over the cities of Israel [l]till the Son of man be come.

24 [m]The disciple is not above the teacher, nor the servant above his lord.

26 Fear them not therefore: [o]for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hidden, that shall not be known.

27 What I tell you in darkness, speak in the light: and what ye hear in the ear, proclaim on the house-tops.

28 [p]And fear not those who will kill the body, but cannot kill the soul: but rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a ‖farthing? and one of these will not fall to the ground without your Father.

30 ([q]But, even the hairs of your head are all numbered.)

31 Fear not therefore; ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 [r]Whoever therefore shall acknowledge me before men, [s]him will I also acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven.

33 [t]But whoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven.

34 [u]Think not that I am come to send peace on earth; I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35 For I came to set a man at variance [x]with his father, and the daughter with her mother, and the daughter-in-law with her mother-in-law.

36 And [y]a man's foes will be those of his own household.

37 [z]He who loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me: and he who loveth son or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.

38 [a]And he who taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

39 [b]He that gaineth his life will lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake, will gain it.

40 ¶ [c]He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him who sent me.

41 [d]He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, will receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, will receive a righteous man's reward.

5 [d]The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and [e]the poor receive glad tidings;

6 And happy is he whoever is not [f]‖offended in me.

7 ¶ [g]And as they departed, Jesus began to say to the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the desert to see? [h]A reed shaken by the wind?

8 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, those who wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

9 But what went ye out to see? A prophet? yea, I say to you, [i]and more than a prophet!

10 For this is he of whom it is written, [k]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who will prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily, I say to you, Among those born of women, there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: and yet the least in the kingdom of heaven, is greater than he.

12 [l]And from the days of John the Baptist, until now, the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent seize upon it.

13 [m]For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is [n]Elijah who was to come.

15 [o]He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16 ¶ [p]But to what shall I liken this generation? It is like children sitting in the markets, and calling to their fellows,

17 And saying, We have piped for you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned for you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a demon.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a glutton, and a wine-drinker, [q]a friend of publicans and sinners! [r]But wisdom is justified by her children.

20 ¶ [s]Then he began to reproach the cities in which most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not.

21 Wo to thee, Chorazin! wo to thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago [t]in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say to you, [u]It will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou, Capernaum, [x]that art exalted to heaven, shalt be brought down to ‖hell! for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say to you, [y]That it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom, in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 ¶ [z]At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that [a]thou hast hidden these things from the wise and intelligent, [b]and hast revealed them to babes.

26 Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight!

27 [c]All things are delivered to me by my

Father; and no one knoweth the Son, but the Father; [d]nor doth any one know the Father, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

28 ¶ Come to me, all ye who labour, and are burdened, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, [e]and learn from me: for I am meek and [f]lowly in heart; [g]and ye will find rest to your souls.

30 [h]For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Christ reproveth the blindness of the Pharisees concerning the breach of the sabbath, 3 by scriptures, 9 by reason, 13 and by a miracle. 22 He healeth the man possessed that was blind and dumb. 31 Blasphemy against the Holy Spirit shall never be forgiven. 36 Account shall be made of idle words. 38 He rebuketh the unfaithful, who seek after a sign: 49 and sheweth who is his brother, sister, and mother.

AT that time [a]Jesus went on the Sabbath through the fields of grain, and his disciples were hungry, and began to pluck the ears of grain, and eat.

2 And the Pharisees seeing it, said to him, Behold, thy disciples do what it is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.

3 But he said to them, Have ye not read [b]what David did when he was hungry, and those with him;

4 How he entered the house of God, and ate [c]the ‖shew-bread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those who were with him, [d]but only for the priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the [e]law that on the Sabbaths the priests in the temple violate the Sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say to you, that here is [f]one greater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, [g]I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the Son of man is Lord of the Sabbath.

9 [h]And departing thence, he went into their synagogue.

10 ¶ And behold, there was a man who had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, [i]Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said to them, What man will there be among you, who shall have one sheep, and [k]if it fall into a pit on the Sabbath, will not lay hold of it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheep! So that it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath.

13 Then he saith to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored sound, like the other.

14 ¶ Then [l]the Pharisees went out, and took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But Jesus knowing it, [m]retired thence: [n]and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And [o]charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

18 [p]Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, [q]in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he will declare judgment to the nations.

21 And in his name will nations trust.

22 ¶ [r]Then was brought to him a demoniac, blind and dumb; and he healed him, so that the blind and dumb both spoke and saw.

23 And all the multitude were amazed, and said, Is this the son of David?

24 [s]But the Pharisees hearing it, said, This man doth not cast out demons, but by †Beelzebub prince of the demons.

25 And Jesus [t]knowing their thoughts, said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself, is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself, will not stand.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then will his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out demons by the Spirit of God, then [u]the kingdom of God is come to you.

29 [x]Or, how can one enter the strong man's house, and spoil his goods, unless he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me, is against me; and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

31 ¶ Therefore I say to you, [y]All sin and reviling will be forgiven to men: [z]but the reviling against the Spirit will not be forgiven to men.

32 And whoever [a]speaketh a word against the Son of man, [b]it will be forgiven him: but whoever speaketh against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, either in this world, or in that to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and [c]its fruit good; or make the tree bad, and its fruit bad: for the tree is known by its fruit.

34 [d]Generation of vipers! how can ye, being evil, speak good things? [e]for from the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh.

35 The good man, from the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth good things: and the evil man, from its evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say to you, that for every idle word that men shall speak, they must give account in the day of judgment.

37 For by thy words thou wilt be justified, and by thy words thou wilt be condemned.

38 ¶ [f]Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, Teacher, we would see a sign from thee.

39 But he answered and said to them, An evil and [g]adulterous generation seeketh for a sign, and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonah.

40 [h]For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the whale, so will the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 [i]The men of Nineveh will arise in the judgment with this generation, and [k]condemn it: [l]because they repented at the warning of Jonah; and lo, here is a greater than Jonah.

42 [m]The queen of the south will arise in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it: for she came from the extremities of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and lo, here is a greater than Solomon.

43 [n]When the unclean spirit is gone out of the man, [o]it goeth through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then it saith, I will return to my house whence I came out; and coming, findeth it empty, swept, and furnished.

45 Then it goeth, and taketh with it seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they come in and dwell there: [p]and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Thus will it be also to this wicked generation.

46 ¶ While he was yet speaking to the people, [q]behold, his mother and [r]his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 And one said to him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48 But he answered and said to him who told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And stretching forth his hand towards his disciples, he said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

50 For [s]whoever shall do the will of my Father who is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER XIII.

3 The parable of the sower and the seed: 18 the exposition of it. 24 The parable of the tares, 31 of the mustard-seed, 33 of the leaven, 44 of the hidden treasure, 45 of the pearl, 47 of the drawnet cast into the sea: 53 and how Christ is contemned by his own countrymen.

ON that day Jesus went forth from the house, [a]and sat by the sea-side.

2 [b]And great multitudes assembled to him, so that [c]he went into the ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spoke much to them in parables, saying, [d]Behold, the sower went forth to sow;

4 And as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way-side, and the birds came and devoured them:

5 Some fell on the rocky ground, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no depth of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among the thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But others fell on the good ground, and yielded fruit, some [e]an hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, some thirty-fold.

9 [f]He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 He answered and said to them, Because [g]it is given to you to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 [h]For whoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall abound: but whoever hath not, from him shall be taken even what he hath.

13 Therefore I speak to them in parables: because seeing, they see not; and hearing, they hear not, nor understand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith, [i]Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 For this people's heart is become gross, and their ears [k]are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should turn, and I should heal them.

16 But [l]happy your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear!

17 For, verily, I say to you, [m]That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see what ye see, and have not seen it; and to hear what ye hear, and have not heard it.

18 ¶ [n] Hear ye then the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word [o]of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, the wicked one cometh, and snatcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is that which was sown by the way-side.

20 And that sown on the rocky ground, is he who heareth the word, and immediately [p]receiveth it with joy;

21 Yet hath no root in himself, but endureth for a while: and when affliction or persecution ariseth on account of the word, he immediately [q]falleth away.

22 [r]And that sown [s]among the thorns is he who heareth the word; and the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

23 But that sown on the good ground is he who heareth the word, and understandeth it; who also beareth fruit, and yieldeth, one an hundred-fold, another sixty, another thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable he put forth to them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went away.

26 But when the blade sprung up, and bore fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said to him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares?

28 He said to them, An enemy did this. The servants said to him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest in gathering the tares, ye root up the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and at the season of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but [t]gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable he put forth to them, saying, [u]The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, is the largest of herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and lodge in its branches.

33 ¶ [z]Another parable he spoke to them; The kingdom of heaven is like leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three †measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34 [y]All this Jesus spoke to the multitude in parables; and without a parable he did not speak to them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, [z]I will open my mouth in parables; [a]I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Jesus left the multitude, and went into the house: and his disciples came to him, saying, Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said to them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 [b]The field is the world; the good seed are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are [c]the sons of the wicked one;

39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; [d]the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so will it be at the end of this world.

41 The Son of man will send forth his angels, [e]and they will gather out of his kingdom all ‖that occasion sin, and those who do iniquity;

42 [f]And will cast them into the furnace of fire: [g]there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

43 [h]Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. [i]He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hidden in the field; which a man on finding, hideth, and from his joy goeth and [k]selleth all that he hath, and [l]buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls:

46 Who, finding [m]one very costly pearl, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net, that was cast into the sea, and [n]gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, and threw the bad away.

49 Thus will it be at the end of the world: the angels will come forth, and [o]separate the wicked from among the just,

50 [p]And will cast them into the furnace of fire: there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith to them, Do ye understand all these things? They say to him, Yea, Lord.

52 And he said to them, Therefore every scribe who is instructed for the kingdom of heaven, is like an householder, who bringeth forth from his treasure [q]things new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 [r]And coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 [s]Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and [t]his brethren, [u]James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath he all this?

57 And they [x]were offended in him. But Jesus said to them, [y]A prophet is not without honour, except in his own country, and in his own house.

58 And [z]he did not many mighty works there, on account of their unbelief.

1 Herod's opinion of Christ. 3 Wherefore John the Baptist was beheaded. 13 Jesus departeth into a desert place: 15 where he feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 22 He walketh on the sea to his disciples: 34 and landing at Gennesaret, healeth the sick by the touch of the fringe of his garment.

AT that time [a]Herod the Tetrarch heard the report of Jesus,

2 And said to his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works are wrought by him.

3 ¶ [b]For Herod had laid hold of John, bound him, and put him in prison, on account of Herodias, wife of his brother Philip.

4 For John said to him, [c]It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5 And he wished to slay him, but feared the multitude, [d]because they held him as a prophet.

6 But when Herod's birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced †before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Upon which he promised with an oath to give her whatever she should ask.

8 And she, being instigated by her mother, said, Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist.

9 And the king was sorry: but from regard to his oath and his guests, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought on a platter, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it; and went and reported it to Jesus.

13 ¶ [e]And Jesus hearing it, departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and the multitudes having heard of it, followed him by land from the cities.

14 And Jesus coming forth, saw a great multitude; and [f]he had compassion on them, and healed their sick.

15 ¶ [g]And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; dismiss the multitude, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jesus said to them, They need not depart; give ye them to eat.

17 And they say to him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And directing the multitude to recline upon the grass, he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, [h]he blessed them; and breaking, he gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they all ate, and were satisfied: and they took up what remained of the broken pieces, twelve baskets full.

21 And those who ate were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 ¶ And immediately Jesus constrained his disciples to enter the ship, and go before him to the other side, while he dismissed the multitudes.

23 [i]And having dismissed the multitudes, he went up into the mountain apart to pray: [k]and evening coming, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed by the waves: for the wind was contrary.

25 And at the fourth watch of the night Jesus went to them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him [l]walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit! and they cried out from fear.

27 But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, Take courage; it is I; fear not.

28 And Peter answering him, said, Lord, if it is thou, bid me come to thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And Peter descending from the ship, walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

30 But seeing the wind violent, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me!

31 And immediately Jesus stretching forth his hand, caught him, and said to him, O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?

32 And as they entered the ship, the wind ceased.

33 And those in the ship came and fell down before him, saying, Truly, [m]thou art the Son of God!

34 ¶ [n]And passing over, they came into the land of Gennesaret.

35 And the men of that place getting knowledge of him, sent out into all the surrounding country, and brought to him all that were diseased;

36 And they besought him that they might only touch the fringe of his garment: and [o]as many as touched were healed.

CHAPTER XV.

3 Christ reproveth the scribes and Pharisees for transgressing God's commandments through their own traditions: 11 teacheth how that which goeth into the mouth doth not defile a man. 21 He healeth the daughter of the woman of Canaan, 30 and other great multitudes: 32 and with seven loaves and a few little fishes feedeth four thousand men, besides women and children.

THEN [a]came to Jesus the scribes and Pharisees of Jerusalem, saying,

2 [b]Why do thy disciples transgress [c]the tradition of the elders? for they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said to them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, [d]Honour thy father and mother: and, [e]He that curseth father or mother, let him suffer death.

5 But ye say, Whoever shall say to his father or his mother, [f]It is a gift, whatever of mine might have aided thee;

6 He even must not honour his father or his mother. Thus have ye annulled the commandment of God by your tradition.

7 [g]Hypocrites! well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

8 [h]This people draw near to me with their mouth, and honour me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they worship me, [i]teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ [k]And he called the multitude, and said to them, Hear, and understand:

11 [l]Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth the man; but that which proceedeth from the mouth, this defileth the man.

12 Then his disciples came, and said to him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees took offence at hearing this saying?

13 But he answered and said, [m]Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: [n]they are blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both will fall into the ditch.

15 [o]But Peter answering said to him, Explain to us this parable.

16 And Jesus said, [p]Are ye also still without understanding?

17 Do ye not yet understand, that [q]whatever entereth the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast forth into the sink?

18 But [r]the things which proceed out of the mouth come from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 [s]For from the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, revilings:

20 These are what defile the man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.

21 ¶ [t]And Jesus went thence, and retired into the region of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman of Canaan coming forth from those borders, cried to him, saying, Pity me, Lord, thou son of David! My daughter is grievously vexed by a demon!

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came up and besought him, saying, Dismiss her; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answering, said, [u]I am sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 Then she came and fell down before him, saying, Lord, help me!

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and throw it to the [x]dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jesus answered and said to her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

29 [y]And Jesus departing thence, came [z]to the sea of Galilee; and going up into the mountain, he sat down there.

30 [a]And great multitudes came to him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and laid them at the feet of Jesus; and he healed them:

32 ¶ [b]And Jesus calling to him his disciples, said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I am not willing to dismiss them fasting, lest they faint on the way.

33 [c]And his disciples say to him, Whence have we in the desert so many loaves as to satisfy so great a multitude?

34 And Jesus saith to them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he directed the multitude to recline on the ground.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The Pharisees require a sign. 6 Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 13 The people's opinion of Christ, 16 and Peter's confession of him. 21 Jesus foresheweth his death, 23 reproving Peter for dissuading him from it: 24 and admonisheth those that will follow him, to bear the cross.

AND the [a]Pharisees and Sadducees came up, and, tempting, asked him to shew them a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said to them, At evening, ye say, Fair weather: for the sky is red.

3 And in the morning, A storm to-day: for the sky is red and lowering. Hypocrites! ye can discern the face of the sky; and can ye not discern the signs of the times?

4 [b]A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh for a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonah. And he left them, and departed.

5 ¶ Now [c]his disciples having come to the other side, had forgotten to take bread with them.

6 And Jesus said to them, [d]Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have brought no bread.

8 And Jesus perceiving it, said to them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

9 [e]Do ye not yet understand, nor remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10 [f]Nor the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11 How is it that ye do not understand that it was not with respect to bread that I bade you beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees?

12 Then they understood that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 ¶ And Jesus coming into the region of Cesarea Philippi, asked his disciples, saying, [g]Who do men say that I, the Son of man, am?

14 And they said, [h]Some say, John the Baptist: others, Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith to them, But who say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answering, said, [i]Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17 And Jesus answering, said to him, Happy art thou, Simon Bar-jona: [k]for flesh and blood did not reveal it to thee, but [l]my Father who is in heaven.

18 And I also say to thee, That [m]thou art ‖Peter, (Rock,) and [n]on this rock I will build my church: and [o]the gates of ‖death shall not prevail against it.

19 [p]And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

20 [q]Then he charged his disciples that they should tell no one that he was the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time Jesus began [r]to shew to his disciples, that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer much from the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be slain, and rise on the third day.

22 And Peter ‖taking him aside began to rebuke him, saying, †Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be to thee.

23 But he turned, and said to Peter, Get behind me, [s]Satan! [t]thou art an offence to me: for thou favourest not the things of God, but those of men.

24 ¶ [u]Then Jesus said to his disciples, If any one would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For [x]whoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whoever loseth his life for my sake, shall obtain it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose his life? or [y]what ransom shall a man give for his life?

27 For [z]the Son of man will come in the glory of his Father, [a]with his angels; [b]and then he will render to each according to his conduct.

28 Verily I say to you, [c]There are some standing here, who shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

5 [b]While he yet spoke, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and lo, a voice from the cloud, saying, [c]This is my beloved Son, [d]in whom I am well pleased: [e]hear him.

6 [f]And the disciples hearing it, fell on their face, and were exceedingly afraid.

7 And Jesus came and [g]touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And raising their eyes, they saw no one, except Jesus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, [h]Jesus charged them, saying, Tell no one what ye have seen, until the Son of man is risen from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, [i]Why then say the scribes, that Elijah must first come?

11 And Jesus answering said to them, Elijah indeed first cometh, and [k]will restore all things:

12 [l]But I say to you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but [m]have done to him whatever they chose: thus also [n]is the Son of man about to suffer from them.

13 [o]Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them of John the Baptist.

14 ¶ [p]And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, pity my son! for he is lunatic, and grievously afflicted, for he often falleth into the fire, and often into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation! how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? Bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the demon, and he came out of him: and the child was cured from that hour.

19 Then the disciples came to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said to them, On account of your unbelief: for verily I say to you, [q]If ye have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye shall say to this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it will remove; and nothing will be impossible to you.

21 But this race goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ [r]And as they were travelling in Galilee, Jesus said to them, The Son of man is about to be delivered into the hands of men:

23 And they will slay him, and on the third day he will rise. And they grieved exceedingly.

24 ¶ And [s]they being come to Capernaum, those who received the ‖tribute-money, came to Peter, and said, Doth not your Teacher pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he entered the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own sons, or of strangers?

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmless: 7 to avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones: 15 teacheth how we are to deal with our brethren, when they offend us: 21 and how often to forgive them: 23 which he setteth forth by a parable of the king that took account of his servants, 32 and punished him who shewed no mercy to his fellow.

AT [a]that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And Jesus calling a little child to him, placed it in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily, I say to you, [b]Unless ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall not enter the kingdom of heaven.

4 [c]Whoever therefore humbleth himself as this little child, he is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And [d]whoever receiveth one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

6 [e]And whoever shall be an occasion of sin to one of these little ones that believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hung about his neck, and that he were sunk in the depth of the sea.

7 ¶ Wo to the world on account of ‖temptations! for [f]it is necessary that temptations come; but [g]wo to that man by whom the temptation cometh!

8 [h]And if thy hand or thy foot cause thee to sin, cut them off, and cast them from thee; it is better for thee to enter into life lame or maimed, than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into the eternal fire.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to sin, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, than having two eyes, to be cast into hell-fire.

10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say to you, that in heaven [i]their angels always [k]behold the face of my Father who is in heaven.

11 [l]For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 [m]How think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety-nine, and go into the mountains, and seek that which is gone astray?

13 And if it happen that he find it, verily I say to you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety-nine which have not strayed.

14 Thus it is not the will of your Father who is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 ¶ And [n]if thy brother sin against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, [o]thou hast gained thy brother.

16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in [p]the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 And if he disregard them, tell it to the congregation: and if he also disregard the congregation, let him be to thee as the [q]heathen and the publican.

18 Verily, I say to you, [r]Whatever ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatever ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

19 [s]Again I say to you, That if two of you shall agree on earth, concerning any thing that they shall ask, [t]it shall be done for them by my Father who is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are assembled in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 ¶ Then Peter came to him, and said, Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? [u]till seven times?

22 Jesus saith to him, I say not to thee, Until seven times: [x]but, Until seventy times seven.

23 ¶ Therefore the kingdom of heaven is likened to a certain king who wished to make a reckoning with his servants.

24 And as he began to reckon, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand ‖talents.

25 But as he was not able to pay, his lord commanded him [y]to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and entreated him, saying, Sir, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 And the lord of that servant, moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But that servant going out, found one of his fellow-servants, who owed him an hundred ‖pence: and he seized him by the throat, saying, Pay me what thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and threw him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 And his fellow-servants seeing what was done, were very sorry, and came and told their lord all that had happened.

32 Then his lord, calling him up, said to him, Thou wicked servant! I forgave thee all that debt, because thou didst entreat me:

33 Shouldest not thou also have pitied thy fellow-servant, as I pitied thee?

34 And his lord was angry, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due to him.

35 [z]Thus also will my heavenly Father do to you, if from your hearts ye forgive not each his brother their trespasses.

CHAPTER XIX.

2 Christ healeth the sick: 3 answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce: 10 sheweth when marriage is necessary: 13 receiveth little children: 16 instructeth the young man how to attain eternal life, 20 and how to be perfect: 23 telleth his disciples how hard it is for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God, 27 and promiseth reward to those that forsake any thing to follow him.

AND it came to pass, [a]that when Jesus finished these words, he departed from Galilee, and came into the borders of Judea, beyond the Jordan:

2 [b]And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 ¶ And the Pharisees came to him, trying him, and saying to him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

4 And he answered and said to them, Have ye not read, [c]that he who made them at the beginning, made them male and female,

5 And said, [d]For this reason a man shall leave father and mother, and cleave to his wife: and [e]the two shall be one flesh?

6 So that they are no longer two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined, let not man separate.

7 They say to him, [f]Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He saith to them, Moses, because of your stubbornness of heart, suffered you to put away your wives: but at the beginning it was not so.

9 [g]And I say to you, Whoever shall put away his wife, except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth her who is put away, committeth adultery.

10 ¶ His disciples say to him, [h]If the case of the man with his wife is so, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said to them, [i]All men cannot receive this saying, but only those to whom it is given.

12 For there are eunuchs, who were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, who were made eunuchs by men: and [k]there are eunuchs, who have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ [l]Then there were brought to him little children, that he might put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Let alone the little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for [m]of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ [n]And behold, one came and said to him, [o]Good Teacher, what good thing shall I do that I may have eternal life?

17 And he said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith to him, Which? Jesus said, [p]Thou shalt not murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false testimony.

19 [q]Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [r]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith to him, All these things I have observed from my youth: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said to him, If thou wilt be perfect, [s]go and sell thy possessions, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

22 And the young man hearing his words, went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Jesus to his disciples, Verily, I say to you, That [t]a rich man will

25 And his disciples hearing it, were greatly astonished, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 But Jesus looking upon them, said, With men this is impossible, but [u]with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ [z]Then Peter answering, said to him, Behold, [y]we have left all, and followed thee; what then shall we have?

28 And Jesus said to them, Verily, I say to you, That ye who have followed me, at the renovation, when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, [z]ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 [a]And every one who hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, on account of my name, shall receive an hundred-fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 [b]But many will be last who are first, and first, who are last.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Christ, by the similitude of the labourers in the vineyard, sheweth that God is debtor to no man: 17 foretelleth his suffering: 20 by answering the mother of Zebedee's children, teacheth his disciples to be lowly: 30 and giveth two blind men their sight.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like an householder, who went out early in the morning to hire labourers for his vineyard.

2 And having agreed with the labourers for a ‖penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And going out about the third hour, he saw others standing idle in the market,

4 And said to them, Go ye also into my vineyard; and whatever is right, I will give you. And they went.

5 Again going out about the sixth and ninth hour, he did in like manner.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith to them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say to him, Because no one hath hired us. He saith to them, Go ye also into my vineyard; and whatever is right ye shall receive.

8 And at evening, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their wages, beginning from the last to the first.

9 And those came who were hired about the eleventh hour, and received each a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should receive more; and they also received each a penny.

11 And on receiving it, they murmured against the householder,

12 Saying, These last ‖have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal to us, who have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do not wrong thee: didst thou not agree with me for a penny?

14 Take thine own, and depart: I choose to give to this last, as to thee.

15 [c]Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with my own? ‖[b]is thine eye evil because I am good?

16 [c]Thus the last will be first, and the first last: [d]for many are called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ [e]And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart on the way, and said to them,

18 [f]Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man will be delivered to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death,

19 [g]And will deliver him to the Gentiles to be derided, and scourged, and crucified: and on the third day he will arise.

20 ¶ [h]Then came to him the mother of [i]the sons of Zebedee, with her sons, falling down before him, and asking a certain thing of him.

21 And he said to her, What wilt thou? She saith to him, Grant that these my two sons [k]may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left, in thy kingdom.

22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink [l]the cup that I am to drink, and suffer [m]the immersion with which I am immersed? They say to him, We can.

23 And he saith to them, [n]Ye will drink indeed of my cup, and be immersed with my immersion: but, to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to [o]give, except to those for whom it is prepared by my Father.

24 [p]And the ten hearing it, were angry with the two brethren.

25 But Jesus calling them to him, said, Ye know that the rulers of the nations exercise dominion over them, and the great exercise authority over them.

26 [q]It shall not be so among you: but [r]whoever may wish to become great among you, let him be your ‖minister;

27 [s]And whoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:

28 [t]Even as the [u]Son of man came not to be ministered to, [z]but to minister, and [y]to give his life a ransom [z]for many.

29 [a]And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 ¶ And behold, [b]two blind men sitting by the way-side, hearing that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Pity us, Lord, thou son of David!

31 And the multitude charged them to be silent: but they cried the more, saying, Pity us, Lord, thou son of David!

32 And Jesus stopped, and called them, and said, What will ye that I do to you?

33 They say to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 And Jesus having compassion on them, touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

[b]the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples,

2 Saying to them, Go into the village over against you, and immediately ye will find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them to me.

3 And if any one say any thing to you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and immediately he will send them.

4 All this took place, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 [c]Say to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh to thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 [d]And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass and the colt, and [e]laid on them their garments, and set him thereon.

8 And the most of the multitude spread their garments in the way; [f]others cut branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that preceded, and that followed, cried, saying, [g]Hosanna to the Son of David! [h]Blessed is he who cometh in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!

10 [i]And as he entered Jerusalem, all the city was shaken, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus [k]the prophet, from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 ¶ [l]And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all who sold and bought in the temple, and overturned the tables of the [m]money-changers, and the seats of those who sold doves,

13 And said to them, It is written, [n]My house shall be called a house of prayer, [o]but ye have made it a den of robbers.

14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 And the chief priests and scribes, seeing the wonders that he wrought, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David! were angry,

16 And said to him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith to them, Yea: have ye never read, [p]From the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city into [q]Bethany, and spent the night there.

18 [r]And in the morning, as he returned to the city, he was hungry.

19 [s]And seeing †a fig-tree on the way, he came to it, and found nothing on it, but leaves only, and said to it, Henceforth let no fruit grow on thee for ever! and immediately the fig-tree withered away.

20 [t]And the disciples seeing it, wondered, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away!

21 Jesus answered and said to them, Verily, I say to you, [u]If ye have faith, and [x]doubt not, ye will not only do what has been done to the fig-tree, [y]but even if ye say to this mountain, Be raised and thrown into the sea; it will be done.

22 And [z]all things that ye ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 ¶ [a]And coming into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him as he was teaching, and [b]said, By what authority doest thou this? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And Jesus answered and said to them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I also will tell you by what authority I do this.

25 John's immersion, whence was it? from heaven, or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven; he will say to us, Why then did ye not believe him?

26 And if we say, From men; we fear the people: [c]for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And answering Jesus, they said, We cannot tell. And he said to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do this.

28 ¶ But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to-day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not; but afterward repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said in like manner. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not.

31 Which of the two did the will of his father? They say to him, The first. Jesus saith to them, [e]Verily I say to you, That the publicans and the harlots go before you into the kingdom of God.

32 For [f]John came to you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: [g]but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, seeing it, did not afterward repent and believe him.

33 ¶ Hear another parable; There was a certain householder, [h]who planted a vineyard, and hedged it round, and dug a wine-press in it, and built a tower; and let it out to husbandmen, and [i]went abroad:

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, [k]to receive the fruits of it.

35 [l]And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again he sent other servants more than the first: and they did to them in like manner.

37 And afterward he sent to them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, [m]This is the heir; [n]come, let us kill him, and possess his inheritance.

39 [o]And they took him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When therefore the lord of the vineyard cometh, what will he do to those husbandmen?

41 [p]They say to him, [q]He will miserably destroy those wicked men, [r]and will let out his vineyard to other husbandmen, who will render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus saith to them, [s]Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and is wonderful in our eyes?

43 Therefore I say to you, [t]The kingdom of God will be taken from you, and given to a nation bearing its fruits.

44 And he who [u]falleth on this stone, will be dashed in pieces: and on whomsoever it shall fall, [z]it will grind him to powder.

45 And the chief priests and Pharisees hearing his parables, knew that he spoke of them.

46 But seeking to seize him, they feared the multitude, because [y]they held him as a prophet.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The parable of the marriage of the king's son. 9 The calling of the Gentiles. 12 The punishment of him that wanted the wedding garment. 15 Tribute ought to be paid to Cesar. 23 Christ confuteth the Sadducees for the resurrection: 34 answereth the lawyer, which is the first and great commandment: 41 and poseth the Pharisees about the Messiah.

AND Jesus answering, [a]spoke to them again in parables, saying,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like a king, who made a marriage-feast for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call those who had been invited to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Say to those who are invited, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: [b]my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all is ready: come to the marriage.

5 But they, disregarding it, went off, one to his field, another to his traffick.

6 And the rest, seizing his servants, abused and slew them.

7 And the king, hearing it, was angry: and sending forth [c]his soldiers, he destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8 Then he saith to his servants, The wedding is ready, but those who were invited were not [d]worthy.

9 Go therefore into the highways, and whomsoever ye find, invite to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and [e]assembled all whom they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 ¶ And the king coming in to survey the guests, saw there a man [f]not clothed with a wedding-garment:

12 And he saith to him, Friend, how camest thou in here, not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, take him away, and cast him forth [g]into the outer darkness: there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 [h]For many are called, but few are chosen.

15 ¶ [i]Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his words.

16 And they sent out to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest for no one: for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us then, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus knowing their malice, said, Why try ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought to him a ‖penny.

20 And he saith to them, Whose is this image, and inscription?

21 They say to him, Cesar's. Then he saith to them, [k]Render therefore to Cesar, that which is Cesar's; and to God, that which is God's.

22 And hearing this, they wondered; and they left him and departed.

23 ¶ [l]The same day came to him the Sadducees, [m]who say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

24 Saying, Teacher, [n]Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up offspring to his brother.

25 Now, there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and died; and having no offspring, left his wife to his brother.

26 In like manner also the second, and the third, to the †seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Now at the resurrection, whose wife will she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said to them, Ye err, [p]not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For at the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but [q]are as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But, concerning the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read what was spoken to you by God, saying,

32 [r]I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And the multitude hearing, [s]were astonished at his teaching.

34 ¶ [t]And the Pharisees hearing that he had silenced the Sadducees, assembled together;

35 And one of them, [u]a lawyer, asked him a question, trying him, and saying,

36 Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jesus said to him, [x]Thou shalt love the LORD thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like it, [y]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 [z]On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41 ¶ [a]And the Pharisees being assembled, Jesus asked them,

42 Saying, What think ye of the Christ? whose son is he? They say to him, The son of David.

43 He saith to them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 [c]The LORD said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If then David calleth him Lord, how is he his son?

46 [d]And no one was able to answer him a word, [e]nor did any, from that day, venture to question him further.

THEN Jesus spoke to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, [a]The scribes and the Pharisees sit in the seat of Moses:

3 All things then whatever they bid you observe, observe and do: but do not according to their deeds: for [b]they say, and do not.

4 [c]For they bind heavy and intolerable burdens, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not stir them with a finger.

5 But [d]all their deeds they do to be seen by men: [e]they make broad their ‖phylacteries, and enlarge the fringes of their garments,

6 [f]And love the first place at feasts, and the first seats in the synagogues,

7 And salutations in the markets, and to be called by men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8 [g]But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no one your father on the earth: [h]for one is your Father, he who is in heaven.

10 Nor be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11 But [i]the greatest among you shall be your servant.

12 [k]And whoever shall exalt himself, will be humbled; and whoever shall humble himself, will be exalted.

13 ¶ But [l]wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, nor suffer those who are entering, to go in.

14 Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [m]for ye devour the houses of widows, and for a pretence make long prayers: therefore ye will receive the greater condemnation.

15 Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is gained, ye make him twofold more a son of hell than yourselves.

16 Wo to you, [n]blind guides! who say, [o]Whoever sweareth by the temple, it is nothing; but whoever sweareth by the gold of the temple, is obligated.

17 Foolish and blind! for which is greater, the gold, [p]or the temple that consecrateth the gold?

18 And whoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever sweareth by the gift that is on it, is obligated.

19 Foolish and blind! for which is greater, the gift, or [q]the altar that consecrateth the gift?

20 He then who sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things upon it.

21 And he who sweareth by the temple, sweareth by it, and by [r]him who inhabiteth it.

22 And he who sweareth by heaven, sweareth by [s]the throne of God, and by him who sitteth upon it.

23 Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [t]for ye pay tithe of mint, and †anise, and cummin, and [u]omit the more important parts of the law, justice, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, nor have left the other undone.

24 Blind guides! who strain out the gnat, and swallow the camel!

25 Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [x]for ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, while within they are full of rapine and injustice.

26 Blind Pharisee! cleanse first the inside of the cup and platter, that their outside may be also clean.

27 Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees hypocrites! [y]for ye are like whitened sepulchres, which without indeed appear beautiful, but within are full of the bones of the dead, and of all uncleanness.

28 Thus ye also outwardly appear righteous to men, but within are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 [z]Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and adorn the monuments of the righteous,

30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

31 So that ye bear testimony for yourselves, that [a]ye are sons of those who murdered the prophets.

32 [b]Fill up then the measure of your fathers.

33 Serpents! [c]race of vipers! how can ye escape the punishment of hell?

34 ¶ [d]Therefore, behold, I send to you prophets, and wise men, and scribes; and [e]some of them ye will kill and crucify, and [f]some of them ye will scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city:

35 [g]That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, [h]from the blood of righteous Abel, to [i]the blood of Zechariah, son of Barachiah, whom ye murdered between the temple and the altar.

36 Verily, I say to you, All this will come upon this generation.

37 [k]Jerusalem! Jerusalem! that killest the prophets, [l]and stonest those who are sent to thee, how often would [m]I have gathered thy children, as a hen gathereth her chickens [n]under her wings, and ye would not!

38 Behold, your house is left to you desolate.

39 For I say to you, Ye will not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, [o]Blessed is he who cometh in the name of the Lord!

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: 3 what and how great calamities shall be before it: 29 the signs of his coming to judgment. 36 And because that day and hour is unknown, 42 we ought to watch like good servants, expecting every moment our master's coming.

AND [a]Jesus going out, departed from the temple: and his disciples came up to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jesus said to them, See ye not all these things? verily, I say to you, [b]There will not be left here one stone upon another, that will not be thrown down.

3 ¶ And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, [c]the disciples came to him privately, saying, [d]Tell us, when will this be? and what is the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answering, said to them, [e]Take heed that no one lead you astray.

5 For [f]many will come in my name, say ing, I am the Christ; [s]and will lead astray many.

6 And ye will hear of wars, and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for this must take place, but the end is not yet.

7 For [h]nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there will be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in various places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 [i]Then they will deliver you up to be afflicted, and will kill you: and ye will be hated by all nations on account of my name.

10 And then many will [k]fall away; and they will betray one another, and hate one another.

11 And [l]many false prophets will rise, and [m]will lead many astray.

12 And because iniquity aboundeth, the love of many will grow cold.

13 [n]But he who endureth to the end shall be saved.

14 And these [o]glad tidings of the kingdom [p]will be proclaimed in all the world, for a testimony to all nations; and then will the end come.

15 [q]When, therefore, ye see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by [r]Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place, (['let him that readeth understand,)

16 Then let those in Judea flee to the mountains:

17 Let him who is on the house-top not come down to take the things from his house:

18 Nor let him who is in the field turn back to take his garments.

19 And [t]wo to those with child, and to those giving suck in those days!

20 But pray that your flight be not in the winter, nor on the Sabbath:

21 For [u]then will be great affliction, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, nor ever shall be.

22 And unless those days should be shortened, there would no flesh be saved: [z]but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened.

23 [y]Then if any one say to you, Lo, here is the Christ, or there; believe it not.

24 For [z]false Christs and false prophets will arise, and will shew great signs and wonders; so as to lead astray, [a]if possible, even the elect.

25 Behold, I have forewarned you.

26 If then they say to you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

27 [b]For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and shineth to the west; thus also will be the coming of the Son of man.

28 [c]For wherever the carcass is, there will assemble the eagles.

29 ¶ [d]Immediately after the affliction of those days, [e]the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give her light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken:

30 [f]And then will appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: [g]and then will all the tribes of the earth wail, [h]and they will see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 [i]And he will send forth his angels ‖with a loud sounding trumpet, and they will bring together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Take [k]your comparison from the fig-tree; When now its branch becometh tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:

33 Thus also ye, when ye see all this, know [l]that he is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say to you, [m]This generation will not pass, till all this is fulfilled.

35 [n]Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ [o]But of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, [p]but my Father only.

37 But as the days of Noah were, so also will be the coming of the Son of man.

38 [q]For as in the days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark,

39 And knew not until the flood came, and swept them all away: so also will be the coming of the Son of man.

40 [r]Then will two be in the field; the one will be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women will be grinding at the mill; the one will be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ [s]Watch therefore, for ye know not at what hour your Lord cometh.

43 [t]But this ye know, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through.

44 [u]Therefore be ye also ready: for at an hour when ye think not, the Son of man cometh.

45 [z]Who then is the faithful and prudent servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food in its season?

46 [y]Happy is that servant, whom his lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing.

47 Verily, I say to you, That [z]he will appoint him over all his possessions.

48 But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming;

49 And shall begin to beat his fellow-servants, and eat and drink with the drunken;

50 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

51 And will ‖cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: [a]there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER XXV.

1 The parable of the ten virgins, 14 and of the talents.
31 Also the description of the last judgment.

THEN will the kingdom of heaven be likened to ten virgins, who took their lamps, and went forth to meet [a]the bridegroom.

2 [b]And five of them were prudent, and five were foolish.

3 Those who were foolish took their lamps, but took no oil with them:

4 But the prudent took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 And the bridegroom delaying, [c]they all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight [c]there arose a cry, Lo, the bridegroom cometh! go forth to meet him!

7 Then all those virgins arose, and [d]trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said to the prudent, Give us of your oil: for our lamps are going out.

9 But the prudent answered, saying, We fear lest there be not enough for us and you: go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and those who were ready, went in with him to the marriage: and [f]the door was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, [g]Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily, I say to you, [h]I know you not.

13 [i]Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour in which the Son of man cometh.

14 ¶ [k]For [l]as a man going abroad, called his own servants, and delivered to them his possessions;

15 And gave to one five ‖talents, to another two, and to another one; [m]to each according to his respective ability; and immediately went abroad.

16 Then he that had received the five talents, went and traded with them, and made five other talents.

17 And likewise he that had received the two, he also gained two others.

18 But he that had received the one, went and dug in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And he that had received the five talents, coming up, brought five other talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst to me five talents: behold, I have gained five other talents besides them.

21 His lord said to him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou wert faithful over a little, [n]I will appoint thee over much: enter into [o]the joy of thy lord.

22 He also that had received the two talents came, and said, Lord, thou deliveredst to me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said to him, [p]Well done, good and faithful servant; thou wert faithful over a little, I will appoint thee over much: enter into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he that had received the one talent came, and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering whence thou didst not scatter:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, thou hast thine own.

26 His lord answering, said to him, Malignant and slothful servant, knewest thou that I reap where I did not sow, and gather whence I did not scatter?

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and then at my coming I should have received my own with interest.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it to him who hath the ten talents.

29 [q]For to every one that hath will be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him who hath not, will be taken even what he hath.

30 And cast forth the unprofitable servant [r]into the outer darkness: there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ [s]And when the Son of man cometh in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then he will sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And [t]before him will be gathered all nations: and [u]he will separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats:

33 And he will set the sheep on his right hand, and the goats on the left.

34 Then will the King say to those on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, [x]inherit the kingdom [y]prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 [z]For I was hungry, and ye gave me food: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: [a]I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 [b]Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: [c]I was in prison, and ye came to me.

37 Then will the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungry, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came to thee?

40 And the King will answer and say to them, Verily, I say to you, [d]Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it to me.

41 Then will he say also to those on the left hand, [e]Depart from me, ye cursed, [f]into the eternal fire prepared for [g]the devil and his angels:

42 For I was hungry, and ye gave me no food: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then will they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister to thee?

45 Then will he answer them, saying, Verily, I say to you, [h]Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And [i]these will go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 The rulers conspire against Christ. 6 The woman anointeth his head. 14 Judas selleth him. 17 Christ eateth the passover: 26 instituteth his holy supper: 36 prayeth in the garden: 47 and being betrayed with a kiss, 57 is carried to Caiaphas, 59 and denied of Peter.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said to his disciples,

2 [a]Ye know that after two days is the passover, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified.

3 [b]Then the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people assembled in the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by fraud, and kill him.
5 But they said, Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar among the people.
6 ¶ [c]Now Jesus being in [d]Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,
7 There came to him a woman having an alabaster-box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head as he reclined at table.
8 [e]But his disciples seeing it, complained, saying, Why this waste?
9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.
10 But Jesus perceiving it, said to them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.
11 [f]For ye have the poor always with you; but [g]me ye have not always.
12 For she, in pouring this ointment on my body, did it for my burial.
13 Verily, I say to you, Wherever these glad tidings are proclaimed in the whole world, there also what she hath done will be told for a memorial of her.
14 ¶ [h]Then one of the twelve, called [i]Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests,
15 And said to them, [k]What will ye give me, and I will deliver him to you? And they weighed for him thirty pieces of silver.
16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.
17 ¶ [l]Now, on the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying to him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?
18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say to him, The Teacher saith, My time is near; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.
19 And the disciples did as Jesus directed them; and they prepared the passover.
20 [m]And when evening came, he reclined at table with the twelve.
21 And as they were eating, he said, Verily I say to you, that one of you will betray me.
22 And being exceedingly sorrowful, they began each one of them to say to him, Lord, is it I?
23 And he answered and said, [n]He who dippeth his hand with me in the dish, he will betray me.
24 The Son of man goeth indeed, [o]as it is written of him: but [p]wo to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it were better for that man if he had not been born!
25 And Judas, who betrayed him, answering, said, Master, is it I? He said to him, Thou hast said it.
26 ¶ [q]And as they were eating, [r]Jesus took the loaf, and ‖having blessed it, broke, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; [s]this is my body.
27 And he took the cup, and giving thanks, gave it to them, saying, [t]Drink ye all of it;
28 For [u]this is my blood, that [x]of the new covenant, which is shed [y]for many for the remission of sins.
29 And [z]I say to you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, [a]until that day when I drink it new with you in the kingdom of my Father.

30 [b]And they sung an ‖hymn, and went out into the mount of Olives.
31 Then saith Jesus to them, [c]Ye will all [d]forsake me this night: for it is written, [e]I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.
32 But after I am risen, [f]I will go before you into Galilee.
33 Peter answered and said to him, Though all shall forsake thee, yet never will I forsake thee.
34 Jesus said to him, [g]Verily, I say to thee, That on this night, before the cock crow, thou wilt thrice deny me.
35 Peter said to him, Though I must die with thee, I will never deny thee. So also said all the disciples.
36 ¶ [h]Then Jesus cometh with them to a place called Gethsemane, and saith to the disciples, Sit here, while I go and pray yonder.
37 And taking with him Peter, and [i]the two sons of Zebedee, he began to be sorrowful and full of anguish.
38 Then he saith to them, [k]My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death: remain here, and watch with me.
39 And going forward a little, he fell on his face, and [l]prayed, saying, [m]My Father, if it is possible, [n]let this cup pass from me: yet, [o]not as I will, but as thou wilt.
40 And he cometh to the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and saith to Peter, What! could ye not watch with me one hour?
41 [p]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into trial: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.
42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, My Father, if this cup may not pass from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.
43 And he came and found them sleeping again: for their eyes were heavy.
44 And leaving them, he went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.
45 Then he cometh to his disciples, and saith to them, Sleep henceforth, and rest: behold, the hour is near, and the Son of man is delivered into the hands of sinners.
46 Arise! let us be going! lo, he is at hand who betrayeth me.
47 ¶ And [q]while he was yet speaking, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.
48 And he who betrayed him, had given them a sign, saying, The man whom I shall kiss, is he; seize upon him.
49 And immediately coming up to Jesus, he said, Hail, Master; [r]and kissed him.
50 And Jesus said to him, [s]Friend, for what art thou come? Then coming up, they laid hands on Jesus, and took him.
51 And behold, [t]one of those who were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drawing his sword, struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.
52 Then said Jesus to him, Return thy sword to its place: [u]for all who take the sword, will perish by the sword.
53 Or thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he will give me [z]more than twelve legions of angels?

54 But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, [y]that thus it must be?
55 In that hour Jesus said to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye did not seize upon me:
56 But all this hath taken place, that the [x]writings of the prophets may be fulfilled. Then [a]all the disciples left him, and fled.
57 ¶ [b]And those who had taken Jesus, led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.
58 But Peter followed him at a distance, to the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat among the servants to see the end.
59 And the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, were seeking false testimony against Jesus, through which to put him to death;
60 But found none: nay, though [c]many false witnesses came, yet they found none. But at last came [d]two false witnesses,
61 And said, This man said, [e]I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.
62 [f]And the high priest arose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these testify against thee?
63 But [g]Jesus was silent. And the high priest answered and said to him, [h]I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou art the Christ, the Son of God.
64 Jesus saith to him, Thou hast said it: nay, I say to you, [i]Hereafter ye shall see the Son of man [k]sitting at the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of heaven.
65 [l]Then the high priest rent his garments, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.
65 What think ye? They answered and said, [m]He is worthy of death.
67 [n]Then they spit in his face, and struck him with their fists, and [o]others with their ‖open hands,
68 Saying, [p]Prophesy to us, Christ, Who is it that smote thee?
69 ¶ [q]But Peter sat without in the court: and a maid-servant came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean.
70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.
71 And as he went out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said to those who were there, This man was with Jesus the Nazarene.
72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.
73 And after a little those who stood by came up, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy [r]speech betrayeth thee.
74 Then [s]he began to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crowed.
75 And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, who had said to him, [t]Before the cock crow, thou wilt thrice deny me. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Christ is delivered bound to Pilate. 3 Judas hangeth himself. 19 Pilate, admonished by his wife, 24 washeth his hands: 26 and looseth Barabbas. 29 Christ is crowned with thorns, 34 crucified, 40 reviled, 50 dieth, and is buried: 66 his sepulchre is sealed, and watched.

WHEN the morning came, [a]all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death.
2 And they bound him, and led him away, and [b]delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.
3 ¶ [c]Then Judas, who had betrayed him, seeing that he was condemned, repented, and returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,
4 Saying, I have sinned in betraying innocent blood. And they said, What is it to us? see thou to that.
5 And he threw down the pieces of silver in the temple, [d]and departed; and he went away and hung himself.
6 And the chief priests taking the silver pieces, said, It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since they are the price of blood.
7 And having taken counsel, they bought with them the potter's field, as a burial-place for strangers.
8 Wherefore that field was called, [e]The field of blood, to this day.
9 Then was fulfilled what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, [f]And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him who was valued, ‖whom the sons of Israel valued;
10 And they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord directed me.
11 And Jesus stood before the governor: [g]and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said to him, [h]Thou sayest it.
12 And while he was accused by the chief priests and elders, [i]he answered nothing.
13 Then saith Pilate to him, [k]Hearest thou not how much they testify against thee?
14 And he answered him not even a word; so that the governor wondered greatly.
15 [l]Now at the feast, the governor was accustomed to release to the people a prisoner, whom they chose.
16 And they had then a noted prisoner, called Barabbas.
17 Therefore, they being assembled, Pilate said to them, Whom do ye wish that I release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus, who is called Christ?
18 (For he knew that from envy they had delivered him up.)
19 ¶ And as he sat upon the tribunal, his wife sent to him, saying, Have nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered much to-day in a dream, on account of him.
20 [m]But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude to ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.
21 And the governor answering, said to them, Which of the two do ye wish that I release to you? They said, Barabbas.
22 Pilate saith to them, What then shall I do with Jesus, who is called Christ?

They all say to him, Let him be crucified!

23 And the governor said, Why! what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified!

24 And Pilate seeing that he could prevail nothing, but that there rather arose a tumult, [n]took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 And all the people answering, said, [o]His blood be on us, and on our children!

26 ¶ Then he released Barabbas to them: and [p]scourging Jesus, delivered him to be crucified.

27 [q]Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the ‖palace, and gathered round him the whole band.

28 And they stripped him, and [r]put on him a scarlet robe;

29 [s]And braiding a crown of thorns, they put it on his head, and a reed in his right hand: and kneeling before him, they scoffed at him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

30 And [t]they spit upon him, and took the reed, and kept smiting him on the head.

31 And when they had made sport of him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his own garments; [u]and they led him away to be crucified.

32 [x]And as they went forth, [y]they found a Cyrenean, named Simon: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 ¶ [z]And coming to a place called Golgotha, (that is to say, A place of a skull,)

34 [a]They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall: and having tasted it, he would not drink.

35 [b]And having nailed him to the cross, they divided his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet; [c]They divided my garments among them, and cast lots upon my raiment.

36 [d]And sitting down, they watched him there:

37 And they [e]placed over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 [f]Then there were two robbers crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ And [g]those who passed by, reviled him, shaking their heads,

40 And saying, [h]Thou who destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself! [i]If thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross!

41 And in like manner also the chief priests, scoffing at him, with the scribes and elders, said,

42 He saved others; himself he cannot save! If he is the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 [k]He trusted in God; let him deliver him now if he loveth him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 [l]In the same way also the robbers who were crucified with him, upbraided him.

45 [m]Now, from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour [n]Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, [o]My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of those who stood there, hearing it, said, This man calleth for Elijah.

48 And immediately one of them ran, and took a sponge, [p]and filling it with vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Wait, let us see whether Elijah will come to save him.

50 ¶ [q]And Jesus, crying again with a loud voice, yielded up his spirit.

51 And lo, [r]the vail of the temple was rent in two from the top to the bottom: and the earth was shaken, and the rocks were rent;

52 And the graves were opened, and many bodies of sleeping saints arose,

53 And coming out of their graves after his resurrection, went into the holy city, and appeared to many.

54 [s]And the centurion, and those who with him were watching Jesus, on seeing the earthquake, and what took place, feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God!

55 And many women were there beholding from a distance, [t]who followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering to him:

56 [u]Among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57 [x]And evening coming, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who was himself also a disciple of Jesus:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate directed the body to be delivered.

59 And Joseph taking the body, wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,

60 And [y]laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn in the rock; and rolling up a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, he departed.

61 And Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ And on the morrow, the day after the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together to Pilate,

63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while yet living, [z]After three days I arise.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be secured until the third day, lest his disciples, coming by night, steal him away, and say to the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last deception will be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said to them, Ye have a guard: go, make it as secure as ye can.

66 So they went and secured the sepulchre, [a]sealing the stone, and placing a guard.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 Christ's resurrection is declared by an angel to the women. 9 He himself appeareth to them. 11 The high priests give the soldiers money to say that he was stolen out of his sepulchre. 16 Christ appeareth to his disciples, 19 and sendeth them to disciple and teach all nations.

AFTER [a]the Sabbath, as the first day of the week was dawning, Mary Magdalene came with [b]the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there had been a great earthquake: for [c]an angel of the Lord descending from heaven, had come and rolled back the stone from the door, and was sitting upon it.

3 [d]His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And from fear of him the keepers shook, and became as dead.

5 And the angel answering, said to the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, who was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen, [e]as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, that he is risen from the dead; and behold, [f]he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 And going out quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, they ran to bear word to his disciples.

9 ¶ And as they went to bear word to his disciples, behold, [g]Jesus met them, saying, Hail. And they coming up, took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus to them, Fear not: go tell [h]my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there they will see me.

11 ¶ Now, as they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city, and reported to the chief priests all that had happened.

12 And having assembled with the elders, and taken counsel, they gave much money to the soldiers,

13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, and stole him while we slept.

14 And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

15 And they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this report is spread among the Jews to this day.

16 ¶ But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, into the mountain [i]where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Jesus coming up, spoke to them, saying, [k]All authority is given to me in heaven and on earth.

19 ¶ [l]Go therefore and [m]disciple all the nations, immersing them ‖in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit;

20 [n]Teaching them to observe all things whatever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world. Amen.

¶ THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK.

CHAPTER I.

1 The office of John the Baptist. 9 Jesus is immersed, 12 tempted, 14 he preacheth: 16 calleth Peter, Andrew, James, and John: 23 healeth one that had a demon, 29 Peter's mother-in-law, 32 many diseased persons, 41 and cleanseth the leper.

THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ [a]the Son of God;

2 As it is written in the prophets, [b]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who will prepare thy way before thee;

3 [c]The voice of one crying in the desert, Prepare the way of the Lord! make straight his paths!

4 [d]John came immersing in the desert, and proclaiming the immersion of repentance, for the remission of sins.

5 [e]And there went forth to him all the country of Judea, and all those of Jerusalem, and were immersed by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was [f]clothed with camel's hair, and with a leathern girdle about his loins: and he ate [g]locusts and wild honey;

7 And proclaimed, saying, [h]One mightier than I cometh after me, whose shoe-latchet I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 [i]I indeed immerse you in water: but he will immerse you [k]in the Holy Spirit.

9 [l]And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was immersed by John in the Jordan.

10 [m]And immediately coming up from the water, he saw the heavens parted, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him.

11 And a voice came from heaven, saying, [n]Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 [o]And immediately the Spirit urgeth him into the desert.

13 And he was there in the desert forty days tempted by Satan; and was among the wild beasts; [p]and the angels ministered to him.

14 [q]But after John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, [r]proclaiming the glad tidings of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, [s]The time is fulfilled, and [t]the kingdom of God is at hand: repent, and believe the glad tidings.

16 [u]And while walking along the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishermen.

17 And Jesus said to them, Come after me, and I will make you become fishers of men.

18 And, immediately [x]they left their nets, and followed him.

19 [y]And going on thence a little, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And immediately he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 [z]And they went into Capernaum; and immediately on the Sabbath he entered the synagogue and taught.

22 [a]And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes.

23 [b]And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out,

24 Saying, Ah! [c]what have we to do with thee, Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God!

25 And Jesus [d]rebuked him, saying, Be silent, and come out of him.

26 And the unclean spirit [e]rending him, and crying with a loud voice, came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, so that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? what new teaching is this? for with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him.

28 And his fame spread immediately through all the surrounding region of Galilee.

29 [f]And forthwith, coming out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 And the mother-in-law of Simon lay sick with a fever; and immediately they tell him of her.

31 And he came, and taking her by the hand, lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered to them.

32 [g]And at evening, when the sun was set, they brought to him all the sick, and the demoniacs.

33 And the whole city was assembled at the door.

34 And he healed many who were sick of various diseases, and cast out many demons; and [h]suffered not the demons ‖to speak, because they knew him.

35 And [i]in the morning, while it was yet dark, he arose and went out; and went away into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and those with him, followed after him.

37 And on finding him, they said to him, All are seeking thee.

38 And he saith to them, [k]Let us go into the neighbouring towns, that I may proclaim the good news there also: since [l]for this I am come forth.

39 [m]And he proclaimed it in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out demons.

40 [n]And a leper came to him, beseeching, and kneeling to him, and saying to him, If thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

41 And Jesus, having compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith to him, I will; be cleansed.

42 And as he spoke, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And strictly charging him, he immediately sent him away;

44 And saith to him, See thou say nothing to any one; but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing what [o]Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.

45 [p]But he going out, began to publish it much, and to spread the report, so that Jesus could no longer openly enter the city, but was without in desert places: [q]and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ healeth a paralytic, 14 calleth Matthew from the receipt of custom, 15 eateth with publicans and sinners, 18 excuseth his disciples for not fasting, 23 and for plucking the ears of corn on the Sabbath.

AND again [a]he entered into Capernaum, after some days; and they heard that he was in the house.

2 And immediately many were assembled, so that there was no room for them, even about the door: and he spoke the word to them.

3 And they come to him, bringing a paralytic, carried by four.

4 And being unable to come near him, on account of the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was: and breaking through, they let down the couch on which the paralytic lay.

5 And Jesus seeing their faith, saith to the paralytic, Son, thy sins are forgiven thee.

6 But some of the scribes were sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? [b]who can forgive sins but God alone?

8 And immediately, [c]Jesus knowing in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, said to them, Why reason ye thus in your hearts?

9 [d]Which is easier to say to the paralytic, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, take up thy couch, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the paralytic,)

11 I say to thee, Arise, take up thy couch, and go into thy house.

12 And immediately he arose, took up his couch, and went out before them all; so that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it thus!

13 [e]And he went forth again to the sea; and all the multitude resorted to him, and he taught them.

14 [f]And passing along, he saw Levi, son of Alpheus, sitting at the custom-house, and saith to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

15 [g]And it came to pass, as Jesus reclined at table in his house, many publicans and sinners also reclined with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him.

16 The scribes and Pharisees saw him eating with publicans and sinners, and said to his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 Jesus hearing it, saith to them, [h]Those who are well need not a physician, but those who are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.

18 [i]And the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees, used to fast: and they come, and say to him, Why do the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees fast, and thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus said to them, Can the ‖sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast in those days.

21 And no one seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that is supplied, taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And no one putteth new wine into old ‖bottles: else the new wine bursteth the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles perish: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

24 And the Pharisees said to him, Behold, why do they on the Sabbath that which is not lawful?

25 And he said to them, Have ye never read [m]what David did, when he had need, and was hungry, he and those with him?

26 How he went into the house of God, in the time of Abiathar the high priest, and ate the ‖shew-bread, [n]which it is not lawful to eat, except for the priests, and gave also to those who were with him?

27 And he said to them, The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath:

28 So that [o]the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ healeth the withered hand, 10 and many other infirmities: 11 rebuketh the unclean spirits: 13 chooseth his twelve apostles: 22 repelleth the slander of his casting out demons by Beelzebub: 31 and sheweth who are his brother, sister, and mother.

AND again [a]he entered the synagogue; and there was a man there who had his hand withered.

2 And they were watching him, whether he would heal him on the Sabbath; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith to the man who had the withered hand, †Stand forth.

4 And he saith to them, Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? And they were silent.

5 And looking round on them with anger, grieving at the ‖perverseness of their hearts, he saith to the man, Stretch out thy hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored sound as the other.

6 [b]And the Pharisees going out, immediately took counsel with [c]the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Jesus retired with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, [d]and from Judea,

8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond the Jordan; and those about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing what he did, came to him.

9 And he bade his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him, on account of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he healed many; so that whoever had diseases ‖pressed upon him to touch him.

11 [e]And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, [f]Thou art the Son of God!

12 And [g]he strictly charged them not to make him known.

13 [h]And he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth to him whom he would: and they came to him.

14 And he appointed twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to proclaim,

15 And to have power to heal diseases and cast out demons.

16 And Simon [i]he surnamed Peter.

17 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, (and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, Sons of thunder,)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alpheus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanite,

19 And Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him. And they went ‖into a house;

20 And again the multitude cometh together, [k]so that they could not even eat bread.

21 And his kinsmen hearing of it, went out to lay hold of him: [l]for they said, He is beside himself.

22 ¶ And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem, said, [m]He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the demons he casteth out demons.

23 [n]And calling them to him, he said to them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 [o]No one can enter the strong man's house, and spoil his goods, unless he first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.

28 [p]Verily, I say to you, All sins will be forgiven to the sons of men, and the revilings which they may utter:

29 But he who reviileth the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is liable to eternal punishment.

30 Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 ¶ [q]And his brethren and his mother came, and standing without, sent to him, calling him.

32 And the multitude were sitting around him; and they said to him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And looking round on those who sat about him, he said, Behold, my mother and my brethren!

35 For whoever shall do the will of God, he is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER IV.

AND [a]he began again to teach by the sea-side: and there was gathered to him a great multitude, so that he entered the ship, and sat in the sea: and the whole multitude was by the sea, on the land.

2 And he taught them much by parables, [b]and said to them in his teaching,

3 Hearken; Behold, the sower went out to sow.

4 And it happened, as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the birds of heaven came and devoured it.

5 And some fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:

6 But when the sun arose, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

14 ¶ [g]The sower soweth the word.
15 And these are they by the way-side, where the word is sown, and when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.
16 And these are in like manner those sown on the rocky ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;
17 And have no root in themselves, but endure only for a time: then, when affliction or persecution ariseth on account of the word, they immediately fall away.
18 And these are they that are sown among the thorns; such as hear the word,
19 And the cares of this world, [h]and the deceitfulness of riches, and the desires of other things coming in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.
20 And these are they that are sown on the good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bear fruit, some thirty-fold, some sixty, and some an hundred.
21 ¶ [i]And he said to them, Is the lamp brought to be put under the ‖measure, or under the bed? and not to be placed on the stand?
22 [k]For there is nothing hidden, which will not be manifested; nor is any thing kept secret, but that it should come to light.
23 [l]If any one hath ears to hear, let him hear.
24 And he said to them, Take heed what ye hear: [m]With what measure ye mete, it will be measured to you: and to you who hear, more will be given.
25 [n]For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even what he hath.
26 ¶ And he said, [o]So is the kingdom of God, as if a man cast seed into the ground;
27 And sleep and wake night and day, and the seed spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.
28 For the earth beareth fruit of itself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear.
29 But when the fruit ‖appeareth, immediately [p]he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ And he said, [q]To what shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?
31 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds in the earth:
32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh larger than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the birds of heaven can lodge under its shadow.
33 [r]And with many such parables he spoke to them the word, as they were able to hear it.
34 But without a parable he did not speak to them: and he privately explained all to his disciples.
35 [s]And on that day at evening, he saith to them, Let us pass to the other side.
36 And leaving the multitude, they took him as he was in the ship. And there were other ships with him.
37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves dashed into the ship, so that it was now becoming full.
38 And he was in the stern, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say to him, Teacher! carest thou not that we perish?
39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, Silence! Be still! And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.
40 And he said to them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith?
41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ delivering the possessed of the legion of demons, 13 they enter into the swine. 25 He healeth the woman of the bloody issue, 35 and raiseth from death Jairus's daughter.

AND [t]they came over the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.
2 And as he came out of the ship, immediately there met him from the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,
3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no one could bind him, not even with chains:
4 Because he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and none could tame him.
5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.
6 But seeing Jesus from afar, he ran and fell down before him,
7 And cried with a loud voice, saying, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee by God, not to torment me.
8 (For he said to him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)
9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.
10 And he besought him much that he would not send them out of the country.
11 Now there was there near the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.
12 And all the demons besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.
13 And immediately Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits going out, went into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea.

14 And those who fed the swine fled, and reported it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what had happened.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see the demoniac who had had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And those who saw it related to them what had happened to the demoniac, and concerning the swine.

17 And [b]they began to entreat him to depart from their borders.

18 And as he went into the ship, [c]he who had had the demon prayed him that he might remain with him.

19 But Jesus did not permit it, but saith to him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how much the Lord hath done for thee, and hath pitied thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how much Jesus had done for him. And all wondered.

21 [d]And Jesus having repassed in the ship to the other side, a great multitude gathered to him: and he was near the sea.

22 [e]And behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, named Jairus; and seeing him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him much, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death. Come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she will live.

24 And Jesus went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman [f]who had an issue of blood twelve years,

26 And had suffered much by many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was not at all benefited, but rather grew worse,

27 Hearing of Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and touched his garment:

28 For she said, If I may but touch his garments, I shall be healed.

29 And forthwith the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And immediately Jesus, knowing in himself that [g]power had gone forth from him, turned about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments?

31 And his disciples said to him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round to see her who had done this.

33 But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said to her, Daughter, [h]thy faith hath healed thee; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 [i]While he was still speaking, they come from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Teacher further?

36 As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith to the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe.

37 And he permitted no one to follow him, except Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth a tumult, and those who wept and wailed greatly.

39 And coming in, he saith to them, Why do ye make a tumult, and weep? the child is not dead, but [k]sleepeth.

40 And they laughed at him. [l]But he, putting them all forth, taketh the father and the mother of the child, and those with him, and entereth in where the child was lying.

41 And he took the child by the hand, and said to her, Talitha-cumi: which is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say to thee) arise!

42 And immediately the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And [m]he charged them strictly that no one should know it; and directed that something should be given her to eat.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ is contemned of his countrymen. 7 He giveth the twelve power over unclean spirits. 14 Various opinions of Christ. 18 John Baptist is beheaded, 29 and buried. 30 The apostles return from preaching. 34 The miracle of five loaves and two fishes. 45 Christ walketh on the sea: 53 and healeth all that touch him.

AND [a]he went out thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the Sabbath came, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, [b]Whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given to him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, [c]the brother of James, and Joses, and Judah, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they [d]were ‖offended at him.

4 But Jesus said to them, [e]A prophet is not without honour, except in his own country, and among his own kindred, and in his own house.

5 [f]And he could there do no mighty work, except that he laid his hands upon a few sick persons, and healed them.

6 And [g]he wondered at their unbelief. [h]And he went around the villages, teaching.

7 ¶ [i]And he called to him the twelve, and began to send them forth two by two; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, except a staff only; no sack, no bread, no ‖money in their purse:

9 But [k]be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10 [l]And he said to them, In whatever place ye enter a house, there remain till ye depart from that place.

11 [m]And whoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, as ye go out thence, [n]shake off the dust under your feet, for a testimony against them. Verily, I say to you, It will be more tolerable for Sodom †and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

12 And they went out, and proclaimed that men should repent.
13 And they cast out many demons, [o]and anointed with oil many who were sick, and healed them.
14 [p]And king Herod heard of him, (for his name had become known,) and he said, John the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore these mighty works are wrought by him.
15 [q]Others said, It is Elijah. And others said, It is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.
16 [r]But Herod hearing it, said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.
17 For Herod himself had sent forth and seized upon John, and bound him in prison, on account of Herodias, wife of his brother Philip: for he had married her.
18 For John had said to Herod, [s]It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.
19 Therefore Herodias had a grudge against him, and would have killed him; but she could not:
20 For Herod [t]feared John, knowing that he was a just and holy man, and ‖guarded him: and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.
21 [u]But a convenient day came, when Herod [x]on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, chief captains, and the first men of Galilee;
22 And when the daughter of Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and his guests, the king said to the damsel, Ask of me whatever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.
23 And he swore to her, [y]Whatever thou shalt ask of me, I will give thee, to the half of my kingdom.
24 And she went out, and said to her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.
25 And immediately she came in with haste to the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me, forthwith, on a platter, the head of John the Baptist.
26 [z]And the king, though exceedingly sorry, yet, from regard to his oath and his guests, would not refuse her.
27 And immediately the king sent one of his guards, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison;
28 And brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother.
29 And his disciples hearing of it, came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.
30 [a]And the apostles came together to Jesus, and reported to him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.
31 [b]And he said to them, Come ye by yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for [c]there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure even to eat.
32 [d]And they departed privately by ship into a desert place.
33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran thither by land from all the cities, and outwent them, and came together to him.
34 [e]And Jesus, coming forth, saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and [f]he began to teach them much.
35 [g]And the day being now far spent, his disciples came to him, and said, This is a desert place, and it is now late:
36 Dismiss them, that they may go into the surrounding fields and villages, and buy themselves bread; for they have nothing to eat.
37 He answered and said to them, Give ye them to eat. And they say to him, [h]Shall we go and buy two hundred ‖pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?
38 He saith to them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, [i]Five, and two fishes.
39 And he directed them to make all sit down by companies on the green grass.
40 And they sat down in squares, by hundreds, and by fifties.
41 And taking the five loaves, and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, [k]and gave thanks; and he broke the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and he divided among them all the two fishes.
42 And they all ate, and were satisfied.
43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.
44 And those who ate of the loaves, were about five thousand men.
45 [l]And immediately he constrained his disciples to enter the ship, and to cross over before him ‖to Bethsaida, while he dismissed the multitude.
46 And having sent them away, he departed into the mountain to pray.
47 [m]And evening coming, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.
48 And he saw them harassed with rowing; for the wind was against them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh to them, walking on the sea, and [n]would have passed by them.
49 But they, seeing him walking on the sea, thought it was a spirit, and cried out.
50 (For they all saw him, and were terrified.) And immediately he spoke with them, and saith to them, Take courage: it is I; fear not.
51 And he went up to them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were beyond measure amazed in themselves, and wondered.
52 For [o]they did not understand by means of the miracle of the loaves; for their [p]heart was stupid.
53 [q]And passing over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.
54 And as they came out of the ship, immediately they knew him,
55 And running round through that whole region, began to carry about on couches those who were sick, where they heard he was.
56 And wherever he entered into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and begged that [r]they might but touch the fringe of his garment: and as many as touched ‖him, were healed.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The Pharisees find fault with the disciples for eating with unwashen hands. 8 They break the com- mandment of God by the traditions of men. 14 Meat defileth not the man. 24 He healeth the Syrophenician woman's daughter of an unclean spirit, 31 and one that was deaf, and stammered in his speech.

Anno DOMINI 32.

NOW [a]the Pharisees and some of the scribes, coming from Jerusalem, gather around him.

2 And seeing some of his disciples eat bread with ‖defiled (that is, with unwashen) hands, they found fault.

3 (For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, eat not unless they wash their hands ‖carefully, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, they eat not till they have bathed themselves. And there are many other things which they have received to observe, as the immersing of cups, and ‖pots, and brazen vessels, and ‖couches.)

5 [b]Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why do not thy disciples walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

6 He answered and said to them, Well did Isaiah prophesy concerning you hypocrites, as it is written, [c]This people honour me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 But in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For, neglecting the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the immersing of pots and cups: and many other such things ye do.

9 And he said to them, Nobly do ye ‖set aside the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, [d]Honour thy father and thy mother; and, [e]He that curseth father or mother, let him die:

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is [f]Corban, (that is, a gift,) whatever of mine might benefit thee; he shall be free.

12 And ye no longer suffer him to do any thing for his father or his mother;

13 Making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such things ye do.

14 ¶ [g]And calling to himself all the multitude, he said to them, Hear me, all of you, and understand.

15 There is nothing from without a man, which going into him, can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are what defile the man.

16 [h]If any one hath ears to hear, let him hear.

17 [i]And when he entered into the house from the multitude, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith to them, Are ye also thus without understanding? Do ye not consider, that nothing which from without entereth into the man, can defile him:

19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the sink, cleansing all his food?

20 And he said, That which cometh from the man, that defileth the man.

21 [k]For from within, from the heart of men, proceed their evil thoughts; adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Thefts, †covetousness, malice, deceit, lasciviousness, ‖an evil eye, railing, pride, foolishness;

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

24 ¶ [l]And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entering a house, he wished no one to know it: but he could not be hidden.

25 For a woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell at his feet:

26 (The woman was a ‖Greek, a Syrophenician by nation,) and she besought him that he would cast out the demon from her daughter.

27 But Jesus said to her, Let the children first be satisfied: for it is not good to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs.

28 And she answered and said to him, Yea, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

29 And he said to her, For this saying, depart; the demon is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And coming to her house, she found the demon gone out, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 ¶ [m]And again, departing from the borders of Tyre and Sidon, he came to the sea of Galilee, through the region of Decapolis.

32 And [n]they bring to him one who was deaf, and spoke with difficulty; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 And taking him aside from the multitude, he put his fingers into his ears, and [o]he spit, and touched his tongue:

34 And [p]looking up to heaven, [q]he groaned, and saith to him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 [r]And immediately his ears were opened, and the band of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke plainly.

36 And [s]he charged them to tell no one: but the more he charged them, the more they published it;

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well; he maketh the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Christ feedeth the people miraculously: 10 refuseth to give a sign to the Pharisees: 14 admonisheth his disciples to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod: 22 giveth a blind man his sight: 27 acknowledgeth that he is the Christ, who should suffer and rise again: 34 and exhorteth to patience in persecution for the profession of the gospel.

IN those days [a]the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus, calling to him his disciples, saith to them,

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

3 And if I dismiss them to their homes fasting, they will faint on the way: for some of them are come from a distance.

4 And his disciples answered him, Whence can one satisfy these men with bread here in the desert?

5 [b]And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and taking the seven loaves, he gave thanks, and broke them, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they set them before the people.

7 And they had a few little fishes: and [c]he blessed, and bade that these also be set before them.
8 And they ate, and were satisfied: and they took up what remained of the fragments, seven baskets.
9 And those who ate were about four thousand: and he dismissed them.
10 ¶ And [d]immediately entering the ship with his disciples, he came into the region of Dalmanutha.
11 [e]And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, trying him.
12 And groaning deeply in his spirit, he saith, Why doth this generation seek for a sign? Verily, I say to you, There shall no sign be given to this generation.
13 And he left them, and entering the ship again, departed to the other side.
14 ¶ [f]Now the disciples had forgotten to bring bread, nor had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.
15 [g]And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.
16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is [h]because we have no bread.
17 And Jesus knowing it, saith to them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? [i]do ye not yet consider, nor understand? have ye your heart yet stupid?
18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?
19 [k]When I broke the five loaves among the five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say to him, Twelve.
20 And [l]when the seven among the four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.
21 And he said to them, How is it that [m]ye do not understand?
22 ¶ And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring to him a blind man, and besought him to touch him.
23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the village; and [n]having spit on his eyes, he put his hands upon him, and asked him if he saw any thing.
24 And he looked up, and said, I see men, as trees, walking.
25 Then he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.
26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the village, [o]nor tell it to any in the village.
27 ¶ [p]And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the villages of Cesarea Philippi: and on the way he asked his disciples, saying to them, Who do men say that I am?
28 And they answered, [q]John the Baptist: and others, Elijah; and others, One of the prophets.
29 And he saith to them, But who say ye that I am? And Peter answering, saith to him, [r]Thou art the Christ.
30 [s]And he charged them that they should tell no one concerning him.
31 And [t]he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer much, and be rejected by the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be slain, and after three days arise.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Jesus is transfigured. 11 He instructeth his disciples concerning the coming of Elijah: 14 casteth forth a dumb and deaf spirit: 30 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 33 exhorteth his disciples to humility: 38 bidding them not to prohibit such as be not against them, nor to give offence to any of the faithful.

AND he said to them, [a]Verily, I say to you, That there are some of those standing here who shall not taste of death, till they have seen [b]the kingdom of God come with power.
2 ¶ [c]And after six days, Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves; and he was transfigured before them;
3 And his garments became shining, very [d]white, like snow; such as no fuller on earth can whiten.
4 And there appeared to them Elijah, with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.
5 And Peter answering, saith to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.
6 For he knew not what to say: for they were terrified.
7 And there came a cloud overshadowing them: and a voice came from the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.
8 And suddenly, on looking round, they no longer saw any one but Jesus alone with themselves.
9 [e]And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them to relate to no one what they had seen, till the Son of man had risen from the dead.
10 And they ‖marked the words, questioning one with another what this rising from the dead was.
11 ¶ And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes [f]that Elijah must first come?
12 And he answered and told them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and restoreth all things; and [g]how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer much, and [h]be set at nought.
13 But I say to you, That [i]Elijah hath come, and they have done to him whatever they pleased, as it is written of him.

14 ¶ [h]And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And immediately all the people, when they beheld him, were filled with awe, and running to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye ‖with them?

17 And [i]one of the multitude answered and said, Teacher, I brought to thee my son, who hath a dumb spirit:

18 And wherever it taketh him, it dasheth him to the ground; and he foameth and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away; and I spoke to thy disciples that they should cast it out, and they could not.

19 He answering, saith, O faithless generation! how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? Bring him to me.

20 And they brought him to him: and [m]when he saw him, immediately the spirit rent him; and he fell on the ground, and rolled, foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it that this hath happened to him? And he said, From childhood.

22 And often it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 Jesus said to him, [n]If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

24 And immediately the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help my unbelief!

25 And Jesus, seeing that the multitude came running together, rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit crying and rending him violently, came out of him: and he became as dead; so that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose.

28 [o]And when he came into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said to them, This race can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee; and he wished that no one should know it.

31 [p]For he taught his disciples, and said to them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they will slay him; and being slain, he will arise on the third day.

32 But they understood not what he said, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¶ [q]And he came to Capernaum: and being in the house, he asked them, About what were ye disputing among yourselves by the way?

34 But they were silent: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.

35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith to them, [r]If any one desireth to be first, he shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 And [s]he took a child, and placed it in the midst of them: and taking it in his arms, he said to them,

37 Whoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and [t]whoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him who sent me.

38 ¶ [u]And John answered him, saying, Teacher, we saw one casting out demons in thy name, who followeth not us; and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not: [x]for there is no one who shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For [y]he who is not against us, is for us.

41 [z]For whoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say to you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 [a]And whoever shall be an occasion of sin to one of these little ones that believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 [b]And if thy hand cause thee to sin, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the unquenchable fire,

44 [c]Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot cause thee to sin, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life lame, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the unquenchable fire,

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye cause thee to sin, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes, to be cast into hell-fire,

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, [d]and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 [e]Salt is good: but if the salt lose its saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [f]Have salt in yourselves, and [g]have peace with one another.

CHAPTER X.

2 Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorcement: 13 blesseth the children that are brought to him: 17 informeth a rich man how he may inherit life everlasting: 23 telleth his disciples of the danger of riches: 28 promiseth rewards to them that forsake any thing for the gospel: 32 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 35 biddeth the two ambitious suitors to think rather of suffering with him: 46 and restoreth to Bartimeus his sight.

AND [a]arising thence, he cometh into the borders of Judea, by the farther side of the Jordan: and again multitudes resort to him; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ¶ [b]And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? trying him.

3 And he answered and said to them, What did Moses command you?

4 And they said, [c]Moses permitted to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered and said to them, On account of your stubbornness of heart, he wrote you this precept:

6 But from the beginning of the creation, [d]God made them male and female.

8 And the two shall be one flesh. So that they are no longer two, but one flesh.
9 What, therefore, God hath joined, let not man separate.
10 And in the house his disciples again asked him concerning the same thing.
11 And he saith to them, [f]Whoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.
12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.
13 ¶ [g]And they brought young children to him, that he might touch them; and his disciples rebuked those who brought them.
14 But Jesus seeing it, was displeased, and said to them, Suffer the little children to come to me, and forbid them not: for [h]of such is the kingdom of God.
15 Verily I say to you, [i]Whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall not enter into it.
16 And he took them in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.
17 ¶ [k]And as he went forth into the way, one ran up, and kneeling to him, asked him, Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?
18 And Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good, but one, that is God.
19 Thou knowest the commandments, [l]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.
20 And he answered and said to him, Teacher, all these I have observed from my youth.
21 And Jesus looking upon him, loved him, and said to him, One thing thou lackest: go, sell whatever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m]treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross, and follow me.
22 And he was sad at his words, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.
23 ¶ [n]And Jesus looking round, saith to his disciples, How hardly will those who have riches enter into the kingdom of God!
24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus again answering, saith to them, Children, how hard is it for those [o]who trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!
25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
26 And they were astonished above measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?
27 And Jesus looking upon them, saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for [p]with God all is possible.
28 ¶ [q]Peter began to say to him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.
29 And Jesus answering, said, Verily, I say to you, There is no one who hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's,
30 [r]But shall receive an hundred-fold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come, eternal life.
31 [s]But many first will be last, and last first.
32 ¶ [t]And they were on the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them: and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. [u]And again he took the twelve, and began to tell them the things which were to happen to him,
33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man will be delivered to the chief priests, and to the scribes; and they will condemn him to death, and will deliver him to the Gentiles;
34 And they will scoff at him, and scourge him, and spit upon him, and slay him: and on the third day he will arise.
35 ¶ [x]And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come to him, saying, Teacher, we wish that whatever we ask, thou shouldest do for us.
36 And he said to them, What do ye wish that I should do for you?
37 They said to him, Grant to us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left, in thy glory.
38 But Jesus said to them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink the cup which I drink? and suffer the immersion with which I am immersed?
39 And they said to him, We can. And Jesus said to them, Ye will indeed drink the cup which I drink; and be immersed with my immersion:
40 But to sit on my right hand and on my left, is not mine to give, except to those for whom it is prepared.
41 [y]And when the ten heard it, they began to be displeased with James and John.
42 But Jesus called them to him, and saith to them, [z]Ye know that those who are considered rulers among the nations, exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them.
43 [a]But it will not be so among you: but whoever may wish to become great among you, shall be your minister:
44 And whoever of you may wish to become first, shall be servant of all.
45 For even [b]the Son of man came not to be ministered to, but to minister, and [c]to give his life a ransom for many.
46 ¶ [d]And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, blind Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the way-side begging.
47 And hearing that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, Son of David, pity me!
48 And many charged him to be silent: but he cried much more, Son of David, pity me!
49 And Jesus stopped, and bade him be called: and they call the blind man, saying to him, Take courage, rise; he calleth thee.
50 And he threw away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.
51 And Jesus answering, saith to him, What wilt thou that I do to thee? The blind man said to him, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

hath healed thee. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Christ rideth with triumph into Jerusalem: 12 curseth the fruitless leafy tree: 15 purgeth the temple: 20 exhorteth his disciples to steadfastness of faith, and to forgive their enemies: 27 and defendeth the lawfulness of his actions, by the testimony of John, who was a man sent of God.

AND [a]when they come near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage, and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,

2 And saith to them, Go into the village over against you: and immediately on entering it, ye will find a colt tied, on which man never sat; loose and bring him.

3 And if any one say to you, Why do ye this? say, The Lord hath need of him; and immediately he will send him hither.

4 And they went, and found the colt tied by the door without, in the street; and they loose him.

5 And some of them standing there said to them, What do ye, loosing the colt?

6 And they said to them as Jesus had bidden: and they let them go.

7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and threw their garments on him; and he sat upon him.

8 [b]And many spread their garments in the way: and others cut branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And those who preceded, and those who followed, cried, saying, [c]Hosanna! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord!

10 Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord! [d]Hosanna in the highest!

11 [e]And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple: and having looked round upon all things, the evening being now come, he went out to Bethany, with the twelve.

12 ¶ [f]And on the morrow, as they came from Bethany, he was hungry.

13 [g]And seeing a fig-tree at a distance, having leaves, he came, if perhaps he might find any thing on it: and on coming to it, he found nothing but leaves: for it was not the season of figs.

14 And Jesus answering, said to it, Henceforth let none eat fruit of thee for ever! And his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ [h]And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out those who sold and bought in the temple, and overturned the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of those who sold doves;

16 And suffered not that any one should carry a vessel through the temple.

17 And he taught, saying to them, Is it not written, [i]My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations? but [k]ye have made it a den of robbers.

18 And [l]the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because [m]all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 And when it became late, he went out of the city.

20 ¶ [n]And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig-tree withered up from the roots.

21 And Peter calling to mind, saith to him, Master, see, the fig-tree which thou cursedst is withered!

22 And Jesus answering, saith to them, Have faith in God.

23 For [o]verily I say to you, That whoever shall say to this mountain, Be raised and cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith will take place; he shall have whatever he saith.

24 Therefore I say to you, [p]All things whatever ye ask in prayer, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

25 And when ye stand praying, [q]forgive, if ye have aught against any one: that your Father also who is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But [r]if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

27 ¶ And they come again to Jerusalem: [s]and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders,

28 And say to him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Jesus answering, said to them, I will also ask of you one ‖question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 John's immersion, was it from heaven, or from men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

32 But if we say, From men; they feared the people: for [t]all held John to be truly a prophet.

33 And they answered and said to Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering, saith to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAPTER XII.

1 In a parable of the vineyard let out to unthankful husbandmen, Christ foretelleth the reprobation of the Jews, and the calling of the Gentiles. 13 He avoideth the snare of the Pharisees and Herodians about paying tribute to Cesar: 18 convinceth the error of the Sadducees, who denied the resurrection: 28 resolveth the scribe, who questioned of the first commandment: 35 refuteth the opinion that the scribes held of Christ: 38 bidding the people to beware of their ambition and hypocrisy: 41 and commendeth the poor widow for her two mites, above all.

AND [a]he began to say to them in parables; A man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and dug a place for the wine-vat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went abroad.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they took him, beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent to them another servant: and they threw stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully treated.

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing others.

6 Having still therefore his one beloved son, he sent him also to them last, saying, They will reverence my son.
7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.
8 And they took and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.
9 What then will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and give the vineyard to others.
10 And have ye not read this scripture; [b]The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:
11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is wonderful in our eyes?
12 [c]And they sought to seize him, but feared the multitude; for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and departed.
13 ¶ [d]And they send to him certain of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians, to ensnare him in his words.
14 And they come and say to him, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and carest for no one: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not?
15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, Why do ye tempt me? bring me a ‖penny, that I may see it.
16 And they brought it. And he saith to them, Whose is this image and inscription? And they said to him, Cesar's.
17 And Jesus answering, said to them, Render to Cesar that which is Cesar's, and to God that which is God's. And they wondered at him.
18 ¶ [e]Then come to him the Sadducees, [f]who say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying,
19 Teacher, [g]Moses directed us, If a man's brother die, and leave a wife, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up offspring to his brother.
20 Now, there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no offspring.
21 And the second took her, and died, nor left he any offspring: and the third likewise.
22 And the seven had her, and left no offspring: last of all the woman died also.
23 At the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife will she be of them? for the seven had her as a wife.
24 And Jesus answering, said to them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, nor the power of God?
25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but [h]are as the angels in heaven.
26 And respecting the dead, that they rise; have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spoke to him, saying, [i]I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?
27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore greatly err.
28 ¶ [k]And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?
29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, [l]Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord:
30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.
31 And the second is like it, namely this, [m]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: there is no other commandment greater than these.
32 And the scribe said to him, Well, Teacher, thou hast said with truth that there is one God; [n]and there is no other but he:
33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbour as one's self, [o]is more than all burnt-offerings and sacrifices.
34 And Jesus seeing that he answered understandingly, said to him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. [p]And no one ventured to question him further.
35 ¶ [q]And Jesus answered and said, while teaching in the temple, How say the scribes that the Christ is the son of David?
36 For David himself said [r]by the Holy Spirit, 'The LORD said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.
37 David himself therefore calleth him Lord, and whence is he his son? And the common people heard him gladly.
38 ¶ And [t]he said to them in his teaching, [u]Beware of the scribes, who love to walk in robes, and [x]love salutations in the markets,
39 And the first seats in the synagogues, and the first places at feasts:
40 [y]Who devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.
41 ¶ [z]And Jesus, sitting opposite the treasury, beheld how the people cast ‖money [a]into the treasury: and many rich men cast in much.
42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two ‖mites, which make a farthing.
43 And calling to him his disciples, he saith to them, Verily, I say to you, That [b]this poor widow hath cast in more than all who have cast into the treasury.
44 For they all cast in of their abundance: but she of her deficiency cast in all that she had, [c]her whole living.

will not be left one stone on another, that is not thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, asked him privately,

4 [c]Tell us, when will this be? and what is the sign when all this is about to be accomplished?

5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, [d]Take heed lest any one lead you astray:

6 For many will come in my name, saying, I am he; and will lead astray many.

7 And when ye hear of wars, and rumours of wars, be not troubled: for this must happen; but the end is not yet.

8 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines, and commotions: [e]these are the beginnings of ‖sorrows.

9 ¶ But [f]take heed to yourselves: for they will deliver you up to councils; and ye will be beaten in the synagogues: and ye will be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them.

10 And [g]the good tidings must first be published among all nations.

11 [h]And when they bring you, and deliver you up, be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak, nor premeditate: but whatever is given you in that hour, that speak: for it is not ye that speak, [i]but the Holy Spirit.

12 And [k]the brother will deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and children will arise against their parents, and bring them to death.

13 [l]And ye will be hated by all on account of my name: but [m]he who endureth to the end, he shall be saved.

14 ¶ [n]But when ye see the abomination of desolation, [o]spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand!) then [p]let those in Judea flee to the mountains:

15 And let him who is on the house-top not go down into the house, nor go in to take any thing from his house:

16 And let him who is in the field not turn back to take his garment.

17 [q]But wo to those with child, and to those who give suck in those days!

18 And pray that your flight be not in the winter.

19 [r]For in those days will be affliction, such as hath not been from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, nor shall be.

20 And unless the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh would be saved: but for the sake of the elect, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

21 [s]And then, if any one say to you, Lo, here is the Christ; or lo, there; believe him not.

22 For false Christs, and false prophets will arise, and will shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if possible, even the elect.

23 But do ye [t]take heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

24 ¶ [u]But in those days, after that affliction, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give her light,

25 And the stars of heaven will fall, and the powers that are in heaven will be shaken.

1 A conspiracy against Christ. 3 Precious ointment is poured on his head by a woman. 10 Judas selleth his Master for money. 12 Christ himself foretelleth how he shall be betrayed by one of his disciples: 22 after the passover prepared, and eaten, instituteth his supper: 26 declareth aforehand the flight of all his disciples, and Peter's denial. 43 Judas betrayeth him with a kiss. 46 He is apprehended in the garden, 53 falsely accused, and impiously condemned by the Jews' council: 65 shamefully abused by them: 66 and thrice denied by Peter.

AFTER [a]two days was the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread: and the chief priests, and the scribes, sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar of the people.

3 ¶ [b]And he being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at table, there came a woman having an alabaster-box of ointment of ‖pure nard, very precious; and she broke the box, and poured it on his head.

4 And there were some angry within themselves, and saying, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred ‖pence, and given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

6 But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath done a good work on me.

7 For [c]ye have the poor with you always, and when ye will, ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.

8 She hath done what she could: she is come beforehand to anoint my body for the burying.

9 Verily, I say to you, Wherever these good tidings are published throughout the whole world, this also which she hath done shall be spoken of, for a memorial of her.

10 ¶ [d]And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went to the chief priests, to betray him to them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently deliver him up.

12 ¶ [e]And on the first day of unleavened bread, when they were sacrificing the passover, his disciples said to him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith to them, Go into the city, and there will meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him:

14 And wherever he shall go in, say to the master of the house, The Teacher saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I may eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he said to them: and they made ready the passover.

17 [f]And at evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 And as they reclined, and ate, Jesus said, Verily I say to you, One of you who eateth with me, will betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say to him one by one, Is it I? and another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said to them, It is one of the twelve who dippeth with me in the dish.

21 [g]The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but wo to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it were good for that man if he had never been born!

22 ¶ [h]And as they ate, Jesus took bread, and having blessed, broke it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and having given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said to them, This is my blood, that of the new covenant, which is shed for many.

25 Verily, I say to you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 ¶ [i]And they sung an ‖hymn, and went out into the mount of Olives.

27 [k]And Jesus saith to them, Ye will all forsake me this night: for it is written, [l]I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.

28 But [m]after I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 [n]But Peter said to him, Although all shall forsake thee, yet will not I.

30 And Jesus saith to him, Verily, I say to thee, That to-day, on this night, before the cock crow twice, thou wilt thrice deny me.

31 But he spoke the more vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will never deny thee. And so also said they all.

34 And saith to them, [p]My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death: remain here, and watch.

35 And going forward a little, he fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 And he said, [q]Abba, Father, [r]all things are possible to thee; take away this cup from me: [s]yet, not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour?

38 Watch and pray, lest ye enter into trial. [t]The spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, speaking the same words.

40 And returning, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy;) and they knew not what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith to them, Sleep on henceforth, and rest: enough! [u]the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is delivered into the hands of sinners.

42 [x]Arise! let us go! lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¶ [y]And immediately while he yet spoke, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders.

44 And he who betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, is he; seize him, and lead him away safely.

45 And having come, he immediately goeth to him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed him.

46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And one of those who stood by, drawing his sword, struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48 [z]And Jesus answering, said to them, Have ye come out as against a robber, with swords and with staves to seize upon me?

49 I was daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye took me not: but [a]the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 [b]And they all left him and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth thrown around his naked body; and the young men laid hold of him.

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ [c]And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him assembled all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes.

54 And Peter followed him from afar, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 [d]And the chief priests, and all the council, sought for testimony against Jesus, in order to put him to death; and found none.

56 For many testified falsely against him, and their testimony did not agree.

57 And certain persons arising, testified falsely against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, [e]I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.

59 And not even thus did their testimony agree.

60 [f]And the high priest arising, came forward, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what do these testify against thee?

61 But [g]he was silent, and answered nothing. [h]Again the high priest asked him, and said to him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I am: [i]and ye will see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 And the high priest, rending his clothes, saith, Why need we further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard his blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to beat him with their fists, and to say to him, Prophesy: and the servants struck him with their open hands.

66 ¶ [k]And Peter being below in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest:

67 And seeing Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou wast with Jesus the Nazarene.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, nor understand what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch: and the cock crowed.

69 [l]And a maid seeing him again, began to say to those standing by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. [m]And a little after, those who stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: [n]for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech sheweth it.

71 But he began to curse and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72 [o]And the second time the cock crowed. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said to him, Before the cock crow twice, thou wilt thrice deny me. And ‖thinking thereon, he wept.

CHAPTER XV.

1 Jesus brought bound, and accused before Pilate. 15 Upon the clamour of the common people, the murderer Barabbas is loosed, and Jesus delivered up to be crucified. 17 He is crowned with thorns, 19 spit on, and mocked: 21 fainteth in bearing his cross: 27 hangeth between two thieves: 29 suffereth the triumphing reproaches of the Jews: 39 but confessed by the centurion to be the Son of God: 43 and is honourably buried by Joseph.

AND [a]immediately in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, and binding Jesus, carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

2 [b]And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering, said to him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the chief priests accused him much: but he answered nothing.

4 [c]And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how much they testify against thee!

5 [d]But Jesus still answered nothing; so that Pilate wondered.

6 Now [e]at the feast he used to release to them one prisoner, whomsoever they asked.

7 And there was one named Barabbas, who lay bound with his seditious companions, who had committed murder in their insurrection.

8 And the multitude crying aloud, began to request him to do as he had ever done to them.

9 But Pilate answered them, saying, Do ye wish that I release to you the King of the Jews?

10 (For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him up from envy.)

11 But [f]the chief priests stirred up the people that he should rather release to them Barabbas.

12 And Pilate answering, said again to them, What then will ye that I do to him whom ye call the King of the Jews?

13 And they cried out again, Crucify him!

14 Then Pilate said to them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more vehemently, Crucify him!

15 ¶ [g]And Pilate, wishing to satisfy the multitude, released to them Barabbas, and scourging Jesus, delivered him to be crucified.

16 [h]And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium; and they called together the whole band;

17 And they clothed him with purple, and braided and put on him a crown of thorns,

18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!

19 And they smote his head with a reed, and spit upon him, and bowing their knees, did him homage.

20 And when they had made sport with him, they took off from him the purple, and put his own garments on him, and led him out to crucify him.

21 [i]And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who was passing by, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross.

22 [k]And they bring him to the place Golgotha, which, interpreted, is, The place of a skull.

23 [l]And they offered him to drink, wine mingled with myrrh: but he did not take it.

24 And having nailed him to the cross, [m]they divide his garments, casting lots upon them, what each should take.

25 And [n]it was the third hour, when they placed him on the cross.

26 And [o]the inscription of his accusation was written upon it, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 And [p]with him they crucify two robbers, one on his right hand, and one on his left.

28 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, [q]And he was reckoned among transgressors.

29 And [r]those passing by, reviled him, shaking their heads, and saying, Ha! [s]thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,

30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross!

31 In like manner also the chief priests said scoffingly to each other, with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save!

32 Let the Christ, the King of Israel, descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And [t]those who were crucified with him, reproached him.

33 And [u]at the sixth hour, darkness spread over the whole land, until the ninth hour.

34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, [x]Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabachthani? which, interpreted, is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of those standing by, hearing it, said, Lo, he calleth Elijah.

36 And [y]one ran and filled a sponge with vinegar, and placing it on a reed, [z]gave him to drink, saying, Wait; let us see whether Elijah will come to take him down.

37 [a]And Jesus, sending forth a loud cry, expired.

38 And [b]the vail of the temple was rent in two, from top to bottom.

39 ¶ And [c]the centurion who stood opposite him, seeing that upon thus crying out, he expired, said, Truly this man was the Son of God!

40 [d]There were also women looking on [e]from afar, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome;

41 Who also, when he was in Galilee, [f]followed him, and ministered to him; and many other women who came up with him to Jerusalem.

42 ¶ [g]And now, evening coming, (because it was the preparation, that is, the evening before the Sabbath,)

43 Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable senator, who himself also was [h]looking for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate wondered that he was already dead: and calling to him the centurion, he asked him whether he was as yet dead.

45 And learning it from the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.

46 [i]And buying fine linen, he took him down, and wrapped him in the linen; and he laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone to the door of the sepulchre.

47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

CHAPTER XVI.

An angel declareth the resurrection of Christ to three women. 9 Christ himself appeareth to Mary Magdalene: 12 to two going into the country: 14 then to the apostles, 15 whom he sendeth forth to preach the gospel: 19 and ascendeth into heaven.

AND [a]the Sabbath being past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, [b]bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 [c]And very early on the first day of the week, they came to the sepulchre at the rising of the sun:

3 And they said among themselves, Who will roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 (And looking up, they saw that the stone was rolled away,) for it was very great.

5 [d]And going into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe; and they were terrified.

6 [e]And he saith to them, Be not terrified: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go, tell his disciples and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee: there will ye see him, [f]as he said to you.

8 And going out quickly, they fled from the sepulchre; and trembling and amazement had seized on them: [g]and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9 ¶ And Jesus having risen early, on the first day of the week, [h]appeared first to Mary Magdalene, [i]out of whom he had cast seven demons.

10 [k]She went and reported it to those who had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 [l]And they, hearing that he was alive, and had been seen by her, disbelieved it.

12 ¶ After that, he appeared in another form [m]to two of them, on the road, as they were going into the country.

13 And they went and reported it to the rest: nor did they believe them.

14 ¶ [n]Afterward he appeared to the eleven themselves, as they sat at table, and reproached them with their unbelief, and obstinacy of heart, because they believed not those who had seen him after he was risen.

15 [o]And he said to them, Go into all the world, [p]and proclaim the gospel to every creature.

16 [q]He that believeth and is immersed, shall be saved; [r]but he that believeth not, shall be condemned.

17 And these signs will follow those who believe: [s]In my name they shall cast out demons; [t]they shall speak with new tongues;

18 [u]They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; [x]they shall lay hands on the sick, and they will recover.

19 ¶ So then, [y]after the Lord had spoken to them, he was [z]taken up into heaven, and [a]sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and proclaimed the gospel every where, the Lord working with them, [b]and establishing their word by the miracles which accompanied it. Amen.

¶ THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE.

CHAPTER I.

1 The preface of Luke to his whole gospel. 5 The conception of John the Baptist, and of Christ. 39 The prophecy of Elizabeth, and of Mary, concerning Christ. 57 The birth and circumcision of John. 67 The prophecy of Zacharias, both of Christ, and of John.

INASMUCH as many have undertaken to write an account of those things which have been accomplished among us,

2 [a]As those who were [b]from the beginning eye-witnesses, and afterward ministers of the word delivered them to us;

3 [c]I also have determined, having traced all things accurately from the beginning, to write to thee [d]in order, [e]most excellent Theophilus,

4 [f]That thou mightest know the certainty of those things in which thou hast been instructed.

5 ¶ THERE was [g]in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, [h]of the course of Abijah: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 And they were both [i]righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren; and both were far advanced in years.

8 And it came to pass, that, while he served as priest before God [k]in the order of his course,

9 It was his lot, according to the custom of the priesthood, to go into the temple of the Lord and [l]burn incense.

10 [m]And all the multitude of the people were praying without, at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared to him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of [n]the altar of incense.

12 And Zacharias seeing him, [o]was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said to him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elizabeth will bear thee a son, and [p]thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and exultation, and [q]many will rejoice in his birth.

15 For he will be great before the Lord, and he [r]shall not drink wine and strong drink; and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit, [s]even from his mother's womb.

16 [t]And many of the sons of Israel he will turn to the Lord their God.

17 [u]And he will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of fathers to their children, and the disobedient ‖to the wisdom of the just: to make ready for the Lord a prepared people.

18 And Zacharias said to the angel, [v]By what shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife is far advanced in years.

19 And the angel answering, said to him, I am [z]Gabriel, who stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak to thee, and to announce to thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, [a]thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day when this is accomplished, because thou didst not believe my words, which will be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and wondered that he remained so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak to them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned to them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, when [b]the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after these days his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord done to me in the days in which he looked on me, to [c]take away my reproach among men.

26 And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,

27 To a virgin [d]espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

28 And the angel coming in, said to her, [e]Hail, thou ‖highly favoured, [f]the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women!

29 And she seeing him, [g]was troubled at his words, and considered what this salutation might mean.

30 And the angel said to her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

31 [h]And behold, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son, and [i]shalt call his name JESUS.

32 He will be great, [k]and will be called the Son of the Highest; and [l]the Lord God will give to him the throne of his father David.

33 [m]And he will reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there will be no end.

34 Then said Mary to the angel, How shall this be, since I know not a man?

35 And the angel answering, said to her, [n]The Holy Spirit will come upon thee, and the power of the Highest will overshadow thee: therefore also thy holy offspring will be called [o]the Son of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth hath herself also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who is called barren:

37 For [p]with God nothing is impossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it to me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill-country with haste, [q]into a city of Judah,

40 And entered the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb: and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit,

42 And spoke out with a loud voice and said, [r]Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb!

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my lord should come to me?
44 For lo, as the voice of thy salutation came to my ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.
45 And happy she who believed ‖that there will be a fulfilment of the things which were spoken to her by the Lord.
46 And Mary said, [e]My soul magnifieth the Lord,
47 And my spirit exulteth in God my Saviour.
48 For [f]he hath regarded the humble condition of his handmaiden: for behold, henceforth [u]all generations will call me happy.
49 For the Almighty [w]hath done to me great things; and [x]holy is his name,
50 And [y]his mercy is on those who fear him, from generation to generation.
51 [z]He sheweth strength with his arm; [a]he scattereth the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
52 [b]He hurleth the mighty from their thrones, and exalteth the lowly.
53 [c]He filleth the hungry with good things, and the rich he sendeth away empty.
54 He aideth Israel his servant, [d]remembering mercy,
55 ([e]As he promised our fathers,) toward Abraham, and toward his seed for ever.
56 And Mary remained with her about three months, and returned to her own house.
57 Now Elizabeth's time came to be delivered; and she brought forth a son.
58 And her neighbours and her kindred heard that the Lord had shewn her great kindness; and [f]they rejoiced with her.
59 And it came to pass, that [g]on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they were about to call him Zachariah, after the name of his father.
60 And his mother answered and said, [h]No; but he shall be called John.
61 And they said to her, There is none of thy kindred who is called by this name.
62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.
63 And he asked for a writing-tablet, and wrote, saying, [i]His name is John. And they all wondered.
64 [k]And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spoke, blessing God.
65 And fear came on all who dwelt around them: and all these things were reported abroad throughout all [l]the hill-country of Judea.
66 And all who heard them, [m]laid them up in their hearts, saying, What will this child be! And [n]the hand of the Lord was with him.
67 And his father Zachariah [o]was filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying,
68 [p]Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, that [q]he hath visited and redeemed his people,
69 [r]And hath raised up an horn of deliverance for us, in the house of his servant David:
70 ([s]As he promised by the mouth of his holy prophets of old,)
71 Deliverance from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us;

79 [b]To give light to those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death, in order to guide our feet into the way of peace.

CHAPTER II.

1 Augustus registereth all the Roman empire. 6 The birth of Christ. 8 One angel relateth it to the shepherds: 13 many sing praises to God for it. 21 Christ is circumcised. 22 Mary purified. 28 Simeon and Anna prophesy of Christ: 40 who increaseth in wisdom, 46 questioneth in the temple with the doctors, 51 and is obedient to his parents.

AND it came to pass in those days, that there went forth a decree from Cesar Augustus, that all the ‖province should be registered.
2 ([a]This registering was the first which was made while Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
3 And all went to be registered, each to his own city.
4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to [b]the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, ([c]because he was of the house and lineage of David,)
5 To be registered with Mary [d]his espoused wife, who was with child.
6 And it happened, that while they were there, the time of her delivery came.
7 And [e]she brought forth her first-born son, and swathed him, and laid him in a ‖manger; because there was no room for them in the ‖inn.
8 And there were in the same country shepherds in the field, keeping ‖watch over their flock by night.
9 And lo, an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them; [f]and they feared greatly.
10 And the angel said to them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, [g]which will be to all the people.
11 [h]For there is born to you to-day, in the city of David, [i]a Saviour, [k]who is Christ the Lord.
12 And this is the sign to you; Ye shall find an infant swathed, lying in a manger.
13 [l]And suddenly there appeared with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying,
14 [m]Glory to God in the highest, and on earth [n]peace; [o]good will towards men.
15 And it came to pass, as the angels departed from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Come, let us go to Bethlehem, and see this thing which hath taken place, which the Lord hath made known to us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And on seeing it, they made known what had been said to them concerning this child.

18 And all who heard it, wondered at the things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 [f]But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all which they had heard and seen, as it was told to them.

21 [g]And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called [r]JESUS, which was given him by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the [s]days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, [t]Every male that is the first-born of his mother shall be called holy to the Lord;)

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to [u]what is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was just and devout, [x]waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him.

26 And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not [y]see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came [z]‖by the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do concerning him according to the custom of the law,

28 He took him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 [a]Now, Lord, thou dismissest thy servant in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes [b]have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared in the presence of all people;

32 [c]A light to enlighten the nations, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother stood wondering at the things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary his mother, Behold, this child is placed for the [d]fall and rising of many in Israel; and for [e]‖a sign which shall be spoken against,

35 (Nay, [f]a sword will pierce even thine own soul;) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher: she was advanced in age, having lived with an husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about eighty-four years, who departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers [g]night and day.

38 And she coming up at that instant, gave thanks to the Lord, and spoke of him to all who were [h]looking for redemption in ‖Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

41 ¶ Now his parents went to Jerusalem [k]every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem, according to the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had finished the days, as they returned, the child Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew it not.

44 But, supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kindred and acquaintance.

45 And not finding him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And [l]all who heard him were amazed at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were struck with astonishment: and his mother said to him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I were seeking thee in anguish.

49 And he said to them, Why did ye seek me? knew ye not that I must be ‖about [m]my Father's business?

50 And [n]they understood not the words which he spoke to them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them: but his mother [o]kept all these things in her heart.

52 And Jesus [p]advanced in wisdom and ‖age, and in favour with God and men.

CHAPTER III.

1 The preaching and immersion of John: 15 his testimony of Christ. 20 Herod imprisoneth John. 21 Christ immersed, receiveth testimony from heaven. 23 The age, and genealogy of Christ from Joseph upwards.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,

2 [a]Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came to John the son of Zachariah in the desert.

3 [b]And he came into all the country around the Jordan, proclaiming the immersion of repentance, [c]for the remission of sins;

4 As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, saying, [d]The voice of one crying in the desert, Prepare the way of the Lord! make straight his paths!

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill made low; and the crooked shall become straight, and the rough ways smooth;

6 And [e]all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitudes that came forth to be immersed by him, [f]Generation of vipers! who hath warned you to flee from the coming wrath?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham for our father: for I say to you, That God is able from these stones to raise up children to Abraham.

9 And even now the axe lieth at the root of the trees: [e]every tree therefore which beareth not good fruit, is cut down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the multitudes asked him, saying, [h]What then shall we do?

11 He answering, saith to them, [i]He that hath two coats, let him impart to him who hath none; and he who hath food, let him do in like manner.

12 And there [k]came also publicans to be immersed, and said to him, Teacher, what shall we do?

13 And he said to them, [l]Exact no more than that which is appointed you.

14 And the soldiers also asked him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said to them, Oppress and [m]defraud no one; and be content with your ‖wages.

15 And as the people were ‖in expectation, and all ‖were considering in their hearts concerning John, whether he were the Christ, or not,

16 John answered them all, saying, [n]I indeed immerse you ‖in water; but there cometh one mightier than I, whose shoe-latchet I am not worthy to unloose: he will immerse you in the Holy Spirit and fire:

17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor, and [o]will gather the wheat into his garner, but will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

18 And with many other exhortations he published the good tidings to the people.

19 [p]But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him concerning Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip, and concerning all the evils which Herod had done,

20 Added this also to all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now, when all the people were immersed, [q]it came to pass, that Jesus also being immersed, and praying, the heaven was opened,

22 And the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Jesus himself was beginning to be [r]about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) [s]a son of Joseph, the son of Heli,

24 The son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Janna, the son of Joseph,

25 The son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Naum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai,

26 The son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Shimei, the son of Joseph, the son of Judah,

27 The son of Joanna, the son of Reza, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Salathiel, the son of Neri,

28 The son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmodam, the son of Er,

29 The son of Joses, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi,

30 The son of Simeon, the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonan, the son of Eliakim,

31 The son of Melea, the son of Mainan, the son of Mattatha, the son of [t]Nathan, [u]the son of David,

32 [x]The son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Salmon, the son of Nahshon,

33 The son of Aminadab, the son of Ram, the son of Hezron, the son of Pharez, the son of Judah,

34 The son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, [y]the son of Terah, the son of Nahor,

35 The son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Salah,

36 [z]The son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, [a]the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech,

37 The son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalaliel, the son of Cainan, 38 The son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, [b]the son of God.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The temptation and fasting of Christ. 13 He overcometh the devil: 14 beginneth to preach. 16 The people of Nazareth admire his gracious words. 33 He cureth one having a demon, 38 Peter's mother-in-law, 40 and divers other sick persons. 41 The demons acknowledge Christ, and are reproved for it. 43 He preacheth through the cities.

AND [a]Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and [b]was led by the Spirit into the desert,

2 Being forty days tempted by the devil And [c]in those days he ate nothing: and when they were ended, he was afterwards hungry.

3 And the devil said to him, If thou art the Son of God, bid this stone become bread.

4 And Jesus answered him, saying, [d]It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed to him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment.

6 And the devil said to him, All this power will I give thee, and its glory: for [e]it is delivered to me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it.

7 If thou therefore wilt ‖worship me, all shall be thine.

8 And Jesus answering, said to him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for [f]it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and thou shalt serve him alone.

9 [g]And he brought him to Jerusalem, and placed him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence.

10 For [h]it is written, He will give his angels charge concerning thee, to keep thee:

11 And they will bear thee on their hands, lest thou dash thy foot upon a stone.

12 And Jesus answering, said to him, [i]It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And the devil having finished every temptation, departed from him [h]for a season.

14 ¶ [i]And Jesus returned [m]in the power of the Spirit into [n]Galilee: and there went out a report concerning him through all the surrounding region.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being praised by all.

16 ¶ And he came to [o]Nazareth, where he was brought up: and, as his custom was, [p]he went on the Sabbath into the synagogue; and he stood up to read:

17 And there was delivered to him the book of Isaiah the prophet. And unrolling the volume, he found the place where it was written,

18 [q]The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to publish glad tidings to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to proclaim deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty the oppressed,

19 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And rolling up the volume, he returned it to the servant, and sat down. And the eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say to them, To-day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 And all bore witness to him, and [r]wondered at the gracious words which issued from his mouth, and said, [s]Is not this the son of Joseph?

23 And he said to them, Ye will surely say to me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatever we have heard done in [t]Capernaum, do also here in [u]thy country.

24 And he said, Verily, I say to you, No [x]prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 And in truth I say to you, [y]many widows were in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there was a great famine throughout all the land:

26 But to none of them was Elijah sent, but to a widow in Zarephath of Sidon.

27 [z]And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, but only Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all in the synagogue, hearing this, were filled with wrath,

29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him to the ‖brow of the mountain on which their city was built, in order to throw him down headlong.

30 But he, [a]passing through the midst of them, went away.

31 And [b]he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbath.

32 And they were astonished at his teaching: [c]for his word was with authority.

33 ¶ [d]And in the synagogue there was a man having a spirit of an unclean demon; and he cried out with a loud voice,

34 Saying, Ah! what have we to do with thee, Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [e]I know thee who thou art, [f]the Holy One of God!

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Be silent, and come out of him. And the demon, throwing him down in their midst, came out of him, without having harmed him.

40 ¶ [h]And as the sun was setting, all who had any sick with various diseases, brought them to him: and he laid his hands on each one of them, and healed them.

41 [i]And demons also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art the Christ, the Son of God! And [k]he, rebuking them, suffered them not ‖to speak: for they knew him to be the Christ.

42 [l]And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place; and the multitudes sought him, and came to him, and would have held him, that he should not depart from them.

43 But he said to them, I must announce to other cities also the good news of the kingdom of God, for therefore am I sent.

44 [m]And he published it in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ teacheth the people out of Peter's ship: 4 in a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he will make him and his partners fishers of men: 12 cleanseth the leper: 16 prayeth in the desert: 18 healeth a paralytic: 27 calleth Matthew the publican: 29 eateth with sinners, as being the physician of souls: 34 foretelleth the fastings and afflictions of the apostles after his ascension: 36 and likeneth faint-hearted and weak disciples to old bottles and worn garments.

AND [a]it came to pass, that as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Gennesaret,

2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And entering one of the ships, which was Simon's, he prayed him to put forth a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people from the ship.

4 And as he ceased speaking, he said to Simon, [b]Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering, said to him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and taken nothing; yet, at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And having done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net was breaking.

7 And they beckoned to their companions in the other ship, to come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 And Simon Peter seeing it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, [c]Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For amazement had seized him and all who were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And in like manner also James and John the sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, Fear not: [d]henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And they brought their ships to land, [e]left all, and followed him.

12 ¶ [f]And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

13 And stretching out his hand, he touched him, saying, I will: Be cleansed. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 [g]And he charged him to tell no one: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, [h]as Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.

15 But his fame spread abroad the more: [i]and great multitudes came together to hear and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 [k]But he withdrew into the solitary places, and prayed.

17 ¶ And it happened on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and teachers of the law sitting by, who had come from every village of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ¶ [l]And behold, men brought on a bed a man who was paralytic: and they sought to bring him in, and lay him before him.

19 And finding no means of bringing him in, on account of the crowd, they went upon the house, and let him down through the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20 And seeing their faith, he said to him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 [m]And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that uttereth blasphemies? [n]Who can forgive sins but God alone?

22 But Jesus perceived their thoughts, and answering, said to them, Why reason ye in your hearts?

23 Which is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he said to the paralytic,) I say to thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go to thine house.

25 And immediately he arose before them, and taking up that on which he lay, went away to his house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all struck with amazement, and glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day!

27 ¶ [o]And after this he went forth, and saw a publican named Levi, sitting at the custom-house: and he said to him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, arose, and followed him.

29 [p]And Levi made him a great feast in his own house; and [q]there was a great company of publicans, and of others who reclined with them at table.

30 But the Scribes and Pharisees of the place murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jesus answering, said to them, Those who are well need not a physician; but those who are sick.

32 [r]I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ¶ And they said to him, [s]Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and in like manner those of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

34 And he said to them, Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them?

35 But the days will come, when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and then they will fast in those days.

36 ¶ [t]And he spoke also a parable to them: No one putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old: otherwise, the new teareth it, and the new part suiteth not the old.

37 And no one putteth new wine into old ‖bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles will perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 And no one having drunk old wine, immediately desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ reproveth the Pharisees' blindness about the observance of the Sabbath, by scripture, reason, and miracle: 13 chooseth twelve apostles: 17 healeth the diseased: 20 preacheth to his disciples before the people of blessings and curses: 27 how we must love our enemies: 46 and join the obedience of good works to the hearing of the word: lest in the evil day of temptation we fall like a house built upon the face of the earth, without any foundation.

AND [a]it happened on the ‖first Sabbath after the second day of the passover, that he went through the fields of grain; and his disciples plucked the ears of grain, and ate, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And some of the Pharisees said to them, Why do ye that [b]which it is not lawful to do on the Sabbath?

3 And Jesus answering them, said, Have ye then not read this, [c]what David did, when he was hungry and those with him;

4 How he went into the house of God, and took and ate the ‖shew-bread, and gave also to those with him, [d]which it is lawful for none to eat but the priests alone?

5 And he said to them, The Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath.

6 [e]And it happened also on another Sabbath, that he went into the synagogue, and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered:

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal him on the Sabbath; that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man who had the withered hand, Arise, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose, and stood forth.

9 And Jesus said to them, I will ask you a question; Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And looking round upon them all, he said to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored sound as the other.

11 And they were filled with madness;

and consulted with each other what they should do to Jesus.

12 [f]And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into the mountain to pray, and spent the night in prayer to God.

13 ¶ And when it was day, he called to him his disciples: [g]and he chose from them twelve, whom also he named Apostles;

14 Simon ([h]whom he also named Peter) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelotes,

16 And Judas [i]the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, who also became a traitor.

17 ¶ And coming down with them, he stood in the plain with a crowd of his disciples, [k]and a great multitude of people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea-coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And those vexed by unclean spirits: and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude [l]sought to touch him; for [m]power went forth from him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And he raising his eyes to his disciples, said, [n]Happy are ye poor; for yours is the kingdom of God.

21 [o]Happy ye that hunger now: for ye shall be satisfied. [p]Happy ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22 [q]Happy are ye when men hate you, and when they [r]separate you from them, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the sake of the Son of man.

23 [s]Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy! for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for [t]in the same way did their fathers to the prophets.

24 [u]But wo to you [x]who are rich! for [y]ye have your consolation.

25 [z]Wo to you who are full! for ye shall hunger. [a]Wo to you who laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26 [b]Wo to you, when men speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 ¶ [c]But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you,

28 Bless those who curse you, and [d]pray for those who abuse you.

29 [e]To him who smiteth thee on the cheek, offer also the other; [f]and from him who taketh away thy cloak, do not withhold thy coat.

30 [g]Give to every one who asketh of thee; and from him who taketh away thy goods, do not demand them back.

31 [h]And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also in like manner to them.

32 [i]And if ye love those who love you, what thanks have ye? for even sinners love those who love them.

33 And if ye do good to those who do good to you, what thanks have ye? for even sinners do the same.

34 [k]And if ye lend to those from whom ye hope to receive, what thanks have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, that they may receive as much in return.

35 But [l]love your enemies, and do good, and [m]lend, hoping for no return; and your reward will be great, and [n]ye will be sons of the Highest: for he is kind to the unthankful and evil.

36 [o]Be therefore merciful, as also your Father is merciful.

37 [p]Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: acquit, and ye will be acquitted:

38 [q]Give, and it will be given to you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, they will give into your [r]bosom. For [s]with the same measure with which ye mete, it will be measured to you again.

39 And he spoke a parable to them; [t]Can the blind lead the blind? will not both fall into the ditch?

40 [u]The disciple is not above his teacher: but every one ‖will be trained up to be as his teacher.

41 [x]And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

42 Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself seest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Hypocrite! [y]remove first the beam from thine own eye, and then thou wilt see clearly to pull out the mote that is in the eye of thy brother.

43 [z]For it is no good tree that beareth bad fruit; nor bad tree that beareth good fruit.

44 For [a]every tree is known by its own fruit: for they do not gather figs from thorns, nor †grapes from the bramble-bush.

45 [b]The good man, from the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man, from the evil treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil: for [c]from the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ [d]And why do ye call me Lord, Lord, and not do the things which I say?

47 [e]Whoever cometh to me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you whom he is like.

48 He is like a man building a house, who dug deep, and laid the foundation on the rock: and when the flood arose, the stream dashed upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded on the rock.

49 But he who heareth and doeth not, is like a man who built a house upon the earth, without a foundation; which, when the stream dashed against it, immediately fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ findeth greater faith in the centurion, a Gentile, than in any of the Jews: 10 healeth his servant, being absent: 11 raiseth from death the widow's son at Nain: 19 answereth John's messengers with the declaration of his miracles: 24 testifieth to the people what opinion he held of John: 30 inveigheth against the Jews, who with neither the manners of John nor of Jesus could be won: 36 and sheweth by occasion of Mary Magdalene, how he is a friend to sinners, not to maintain them in sins, but to forgive them their sins, upon their faith and repentance.

NOW, when he had finished all his discourse in the hearing of the people, [a]he entered Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear to him, was sick, and about to die.

3 And hearing of Jesus, he sent to him elders of the Jews, asking him to come and heal his servant.
4 And they came to Jesus, and besought him earnestly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him:
5 For he loveth our nation, and he himself built our synagogue.
6 And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying to him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof;
7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come to thee; but speak the word, and my servant will be healed.
8 For I am a man placed under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.
9 And Jesus hearing this, wondered at him, and turning, said to the multitude that followed him, I say to you, Not even in Israel have I found so great faith!
10 And those who were sent, returning to the house, found the sick servant well.
11 ¶ And it happened on the day after, that he went into a city called Nain: and many of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.
12 And as he drew near the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and many people of the city were with her.
13 And the Lord seeing her, had compassion on her, and said to her, Weep not.
14 And he came and touched the ‖bier: and those who bore it stopped. And he said, Young man, I say to thee, [b]Arise.
15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak: and he delivered him to his mother.
16 [c]And fear seized all: and they glorified God, saying, [d]A great prophet hath arisen among us; and, [e]God hath visited his people.
17 And this report concerning him went forth through all Judea, and through all the surrounding region.
18 [f]And the disciples of John reported to him concerning all these things.
19 ¶ And John, calling to him two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that cometh? or look we for another?
20 And the men coming to him, said, John the Baptist hath sent us to thee, saying, Art thou he that cometh? or look we for another?
21 And at that very hour he healed many from their infirmities, and plagues, and from evil spirits; and to many that were blind he gave sight.
22 [g]And Jesus answering, said to them, Go, and report to John what ye have seen and heard; [h]that the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, [i]the poor receive glad tidings;
23 And happy is he, whoever is not ‖offended in me.

24 ¶ [k]And the messengers of John having departed, he began to say to the people concerning John, What went ye out into the desert to see? A reed shaken by the wind?
25 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, those who wear gorgeous apparel, and live in luxury, are in palaces.
26 But what went ye out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and far more than a prophet!
27 This is he, of whom it is written, [l]Behold, I send my messenger before thee, who shall prepare thy way before thee.
28 For I say to you, Among those born of women, there is no greater prophet than John the Baptist: but the least in the kingdom of God, is greater than he.
29 And all the people, hearing him, and the publicans, ‖justified God, [m]submitting to the immersion of John.
30 But the Pharisees and lawyers ‖set at nought [n]the purpose of God with regard to themselves, not being immersed by him.
31 [o]¶To what then shall I liken the men of this generation? and what are they like?
32 They are like children sitting in the market, and calling to each other, and saying, We have piped for you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned for you, and ye have not wept.
33 For [p]John the Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a demon.
34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a glutton, and a wine-drinker, a friend of publicans and sinners!
35 [q]But Wisdom is justified by all her children.
36 ¶ [r]And one of the Pharisees asked him to eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and reclined at table.
37 And behold, a woman in the city, who was a sinner, learning that Jesus was at table in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster-box of ointment,
38 And standing at his feet behind him, weeping, began to bathe his feet with tears; and she wiped them with the hair of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.
39 And the Pharisee who had bidden him, seeing it, spoke within himself, saying, [s]This man, if he were a prophet, would know who, and what sort of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.
40 And Jesus answering, said to him, Simon, I have something to say to thee. And he saith, Teacher, speak.
41 A certain creditor had two debtors: the one owed five hundred ‖pence, and the other fifty.
42 And they being unable to pay, he freely gave it to them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most?
43 And Simon answering, said, I suppose that he, to whom he gave most. And he said to him, Thou hast judged rightly.
44 And turning to the woman, he said to Simon, Seest thou this woman? I came into thine house; thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath bathed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, from the time that I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.
46 [t]Thou didst not anoint my head with oil: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment.
47 [u]Wherefore, I say to thee, Her many sins are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, he loveth little.
48 And he said to her, [x]Thy sins are forgiven.
49 And those who were at table with him, began to say within themselves, [y]Who is this who even forgiveth sins?
50 And he said to the woman, [z]Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

CHAPTER VIII.

3 Women minister to Christ of their substance. 4 Christ, after he had preached from place to place, attended with his apostles, propoundeth the parable of the sower, 16 and of the lamp: 21 declareth who are his mother, and brethren: 22 rebuketh the winds: 26 casteth the legion of demons out of the man into the herd of swine: 37 is rejected by the Gadarenes: 43 healeth the woman of her bloody issue, 49 and raiseth from death Jairus' daughter.

AND it came to pass afterward, that he went through cities and villages, proclaiming the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,
2 And [a]certain women, who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, [b]from whom had gone out seven demons,
3 And Joanna, wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, who ministered to him from their possessions.
4 ¶ [c]And a great multitude assembling, and those from the cities coming to him, he spoke by a parable:
5 The sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way-side; and it was trodden down, and the birds of heaven devoured it.
6 And some fell on the rock; and springing up, it withered for the want of moisture.
7 And some fell among the thorns; and the thorns growing up with it, choked it.
8 And other fell on the good ground, and springing up, bore fruit an hundred-fold. Saying this, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear!
9 [d]And his disciples asked him, saying, What doth this parable mean?
10 And he said, To you it is given to know the secrets of the kingdom of God: but to the rest I speak in parables; [e]that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.
11 [f]Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.
12 Those by the way-side, are those who hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their hearts, lest they believe and be saved.
13 Those on the rock are they, who, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, who for a while believe, and in time of trial fall away.
14 And that which fell among the thorns, these are they who, having heard, go forth, and are choked by cares, and riches, and pleasures of life, and bear no mature fruit.
15 But that on the good ground are they who, in a good and upright heart, hearing, hold fast the word, and bear fruit with perseverance.
16 ¶ [g]No one lighteth a lamp and covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but placeth it on a stand, that those who enter may see the light.
17 [h]For nothing is hidden, that will not become manifest; nor concealed, that will not be known, and come to light.
18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: [i]for whoever hath, to him shall be given; and whoever hath not, from him shall be taken even what he thinketh he hath.
19 ¶ [k]And his mother and his brethren came to him, and could not get near him on account of the crowd.
20 And it was told him by some, who said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.
21 And he answered and said to them, My mother and my brethren are those who hear and do the word of God.
22 ¶ [l]And it happened on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said to them, Let us go across the lake. And they set sail.
23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in peril.
24 And they came up, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master! we perish! And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.
25 And he said to them, Where is your faith? And they, struck with fear, wondered, saying one to another, Who then is this, that he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him?
26 ¶ [m]And they sailed to the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.
27 And as he went forth to land, a certain man from the city met him, who had demons for a long time, and wore no clothes, nor remained in any house, but in the tombs.
28 And seeing Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and said with a loud voice, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not.
29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For often it had seized him: and he was bound with chains and fetters, and guarded; and bursting the bands, he was driven by the demon into the deserts.)
30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many demons had entered into him.
31 And they besought him not to command them to go [n]into the abyss.
32 And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they entreated him to permit them to enter into them. And he permitted them.
33 And the demons going out of the man, entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the lake, and were choked.
34 And those who fed them seeing what was done, fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.
35 And they went out to see what had happened; and came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the demons had gone forth, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid.

36 And those who saw it, told them how the demoniac was healed.

37 ¶ [o]Then the whole multitude of the surrounding country of the Gadarenes [p]asked him to depart from them; for they were struck with great fear. And he entered the ship and returned.

38 But [q]the man from whom the demons had gone out, prayed that he might remain with him. But Jesus dismissed him, saying,

39 Return to thy house, and relate how great things God hath done for thee. And he went away and published through the whole city, how great things Jesus had done for him.

40 And it came to pass, when Jesus returned, the people gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 ¶ [r]And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and falling at the feet of Jesus, he entreated him to come into his house:

42 For he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she was dying. But as he went, the multitude thronged him.

43 ¶ [s]And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, who had spent all her living upon physicians, and could be healed by none,

44 Came behind him and touched the fringe of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stopped.

45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? And all denying, Peter, and those with him, said, Master, the multitude throng thee, and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Some one touched me: for I felt that [t]power went forth from me.

47 And the woman seeing that she was not unknown, came trembling, fell down before him, and declared to him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said to her, Take courage, daughter: thy faith hath healed thee; go in peace.

49 ¶ [u]While he was still speaking, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead: trouble not the Teacher.

50 But Jesus hearing it, answered him, saying, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be restored.

51 And coming into the house, he suffered no one to go in, except Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 And they were all weeping and bewailing her. But he said, Weep not: she is not dead, [z]but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed at him, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he, putting them all out, took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maiden, [y]arise.

55 And her spirit returned, and she immediately arose: and he directed to give her food.

56 And her parents were astonished: but [a]he charged them to tell no one what had happened.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Christ sendeth his apostles to work miracles, and to preach. 7 Herod desired to see Christ. 17 Christ feedeth five thousand: 18 inquireth what opinion the world had of him: foretelleth his suffering: 23 proposeth to all the pattern of his patience. 28 The transfiguration. 37 He healeth the lunatic: 43 again forewarneth his disciples of his suffering: 46 commendeth humility: 51 biddeth them to shew mildness towards all, without desire of revenge. 57 Divers would follow him, but upon conditions.

AND [c]calling together his twelve disciples, he gave them power and authority over all the demons, and to heal diseases.

2 And [b]he sent them forth to proclaim the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 [c]And he said to them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor sack, nor bread, nor money; nor have two coats apiece.

4 [d]And whatever house ye enter, there remain, and thence go forth.

5 [e]And whoever do not receive you, when ye go out of that city, [f]shake off even the dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 [g]And going forth, they went through the villages, publishing the good news, and healing every where.

7 ¶ [h]And Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because it was said by some, that John was risen from the dead;

8 And by some, that Elijah had appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets had arisen.

9 And Herod said, John I beheaded; but who is this of whom I hear such things? [i]And he sought to see him.

10 ¶ [k]And the apostles returning, recounted to him all that they had done. [l]And he took them, and retired privately into a desert place, near the city called Bethsaida.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and receiving them, he spoke to them concerning the kingdom of God, and healed those who had need of healing.

12 [m]But the day began to decline; and the twelve coming up, said to him, Dismiss the multitude, that they may go into the surrounding villages and country, to lodge and get provisions: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said to them, Do ye give them to eat. And they said, We have not more than five loaves and two fishes; unless we go and buy food for all this people.

14 (For they were about five thousand men.) And he said to his disciples, Let them recline in companies of fifty.

15 And they did so, and made them all recline.

16 And taking the five loaves, and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed them; and he broke, and gave them to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they ate, and were all satisfied: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¶ [n]And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him; and he asked them, saying, Who say the people that I am?

19 They answering, said, [o]John the Baptist; and others, Elijah; and others, That one of the old prophets is arisen.

20 He said to them, But who say ye that I am? [p]Peter answering, said, The Christ of God.

21 [q]And he strictly charged them, and commanded them to tell this to no one,

22 Saying, [r]The Son of man must suffer much, and be rejected by the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be slain, and rise on the third day.

23 ¶ [s]And he said to them all, If any one will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 For whoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whoever shall lose his life for my sake, he will save it.

25 [t]For what is a man benefited, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 [u]For whoever is ashamed of me, and of my words, of him will the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and that of his Father, and of the holy angels.

27 [x]But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who shall not taste of death till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ [y]And it came to pass, about eight days after these ‖words, he took Peter, and John, and James, and went up into the mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the appearance of his countenance was altered, and his raiment became white and glistening.

30 And lo, two men were talking with him, who were Moses and Elijah:

31 Who appearing in glory, spoke of his departure which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter and those with him [z]had been oppressed with sleep: and awaking, they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah: not knowing what he said.

34 While he said this, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice from the cloud, saying, [a]This is my beloved Son: [b]hear him.

36 And as the voice came, Jesus was found alone. [c]And they were silent, and told no one in those days any thing of what they had seen.

37 ¶ [d]And it came to pass, that on the next day, as they came down from the mountain, a great multitude met him.

38 And lo, a man from the multitude cried out, saying, Teacher, I beseech thee look upon my son: for he is my only child.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it rendeth him, with foaming, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I entreated thy disciples to cast it out, and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering, said, O faithless and perverse generation! how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet coming, the demon threw him down and rent him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and restored him to his father.

43 ¶ And all were struck with astonishment at the mighty power of God. But as they were all wondering at every thing which Jesus did, he said to his disciples,

44 [e]Receive these words into your ears: the Son of man is about to be delivered into the hands of men.

45 [f]But they understood not this language, and it was hidden from them, so that they did not comprehend it: and they feared to ask him concerning these words.

46 ¶ [g]And there arose a debate among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jesus perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,

48 And said to them, [h]Whoever receiveth this child in my name, receiveth me; and whoever receiveth me, receiveth him who sent me: [i]for he that is least among you all, he will be great.

49 ¶ [k]And John answering, said, Master, we saw one casting out demons in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us.

50 And Jesus said to him, Forbid him not: for [l]he who is not against us, is for us.

51 ¶ And it came to pass, as the time of [m]his ascension was approaching, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem.

52 And he sent messengers before him, who went and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him.

53 And [n]they did not receive him, because his face was turned toward Jerusalem.

54 And his disciples, James and John, seeing it, said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid fire to descend from heaven, and consume them, as [o]Elijah did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, saying, Ye know not of what spirit ye are.

56 For [p]the Son of man came not to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 ¶ [q]And it happened, as they were going on the way, a certain man said to him, Lord, I will follow thee wherever thou goest.

58 And Jesus said to him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of heaven dwelling-places, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 [r]And he said to another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father.

60 Jesus said to him, Let the dead bury their own dead: but do thou go and announce the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, [s]I will follow thee; but first permit me to take leave of my family.

62 And Jesus said to him, No one who putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

AFTER this, the Lord appointed also seventy others, and [a]sent them before him, two by two, into every city, and place, where he himself was about to come.

2 He said then to them, [b]The harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few: [c]pray therefore the Lord of the harvest, to send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Go; [d]behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 [e]Carry neither purse, nor sack, nor shoes: and [f]salute no one by the way.

5 [g]And whatever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if a son of peace be there, your peace will rest upon him: if not, it will return to you.

7 [h]And in the same house remain, [i]eating and drinking what they give: for [k]the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And whatever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat what is set before you,

9 [l]And heal the sick in it, and say to them, [m]The kingdom of God is come near you.

10 But whatever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets of it, and say,

11 [n]Even the dust of your city which cleaveth to us, we wipe off against you: yet know this, that the kingdom of God is come near you.

12 I say to you, That [o]it will be more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city.

13 [p]Wo to thee, Chorazin! wo to thee, Bethsaida! [q]for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they would long ago have repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you.

15 [r]And thou, Capernaum, that art [s]exalted to heaven, [t]wilt be brought down to ‖hell.

16 [u]He that heareth you, heareth me; and [x]he that rejecteth you, rejecteth me; [y]and he that rejecteth me, rejecteth him who sent me.

17 ¶ And [z]the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the demons are subject to us, through thy name!

18 And he said to them, [a]I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.

19 Behold, [b]I give to you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the might of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Yet, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject to you; but rather rejoice that [c]your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ [d]In that hour Jesus exulted in spirit, and said, I thank thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hidden these things from the wise and intelligent, and hast revealed them to babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 [e]‖All things are delivered to me by my Father: and [f]no one knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ And turning to his disciples, he said privately, [g]Happy the eyes which see the things that ye see!

24 For I tell you, [h]That many prophets and kings have desired to see what ye see, and have not seen it; and to hear what ye hear, and have not heard it.

25 ¶ And behold, a certain lawyer arose, and, trying him, said, [i]Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 He said to him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he answering, said, [k]Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and [l]thy neighbour as thyself.

28 And he said to him, Thou hast answered rightly: this do, and [m]thou shalt live.

29 But he, wishing to [n]justify himself, said to Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Jesus answering, said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among robbers, who having stripped and beaten him, went off, leaving him half dead.

31 And by chance a certain priest was going down that way; and seeing him, [o]he passed by on the other side.

32 And so also a Levite, being at the place, came and saw him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain [p]Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion,

34 And came, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine; and setting him on his own beast, brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow, when he departed, he took out two ‖pence, and gave them to the host, and said to him, Take care of him: and whatever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour to him who fell among the robbers?

37 And he said, He who took pity on him. And Jesus said to him, Go, and do thou in like manner.

38 ¶ And it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman, named [q]Martha, received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, [r]who [s]sat at the feet of Jesus, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was harassed about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, carest thou not that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus answering, said to her, Martha, Martha, thou art anxious, and troubled about many things:

42 But [t]one thing is needful; and Mary hath chosen the good part, which will not be taken away from her.

29 preacheth to the people, 37 and reprehendeth the outward shew of holiness in the Pharisees, scribes, and lawyers.

AND it came to pass, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said to him, Lord, teach us to pray, as also John taught his disciples.

2 And he said to them, When ye pray, say, [a]Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

3 Give us ‖day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one who is indebted to us. And lead us not into trial; but deliver us from evil.

6 For a friend of mine hath come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say to you, [b]Even though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet at least on account of his importunity he will rise and give him whatever he needeth.

9 [c]And I say to you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you.

10 For every one that asketh, receiveth; and that seeketh, findeth; and that knocketh, to him it shall be opened.

11 [d]And what father among you, if his son shall ask bread, will give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he ask an egg, will give him a scorpion?

13 If then ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children: how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!

14 ¶ [e]And he was casting out a demon, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, that when the demon was gone out, the dumb man spoke; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, [f]He casteth out demons by †Beelzebub, prince of the demons.

16 And others trying him, [g]sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 [h]But [i]he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself, is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house, falleth.

18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? for ye say that I cast out demons by Beelzebub.

19 And if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

20 But if I [k]by the finger of God cast out demons, then the kingdom of God is come to you.

21 [l]When the strong man, being armed, guardeth his palace, his possessions are secure:

22 But [m]when a stronger than he attacketh and overcometh him, he taketh from him his armour in which he trusted, and distributeth his spoils.

23 [n]He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.

24 [o]When the unclean spirit is gone out of the man, it goeth through dry places, seeking rest: and finding none, it saith, I will return to my house whence I came out;

25 And coming, findeth it swept and furnished.

26 Then it goeth, and taketh seven other spirits more wicked than itself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and [p]the last state of that man is worse than the first.

27 ¶ And it happened, as he was saying this, a certain woman from the crowd, raising her voice, said to him, [q]Happy the womb that bore thee, and the breasts which thou hast sucked!

28 But he said, Yea [r]indeed, happy are they who hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 ¶ [s]And the multitude crowding round him, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given them, but the sign of the prophet Jonah.

30 For as [t]Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites, so will also the Son of man be to this generation.

31 [u]The queen of the south will arise in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the extremities of the earth, to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and lo, here is a greater than Solomon.

32 The men of Nineveh will arise in the judgment with this generation, and condemn it: for [x]they repented at the warning of Jonah; and lo, here is a greater than Jonah.

33 [y]No one lighting a lamp, putteth it in a secret place, nor under the ‖measure, but on the stand, that those who come in may see the light.

34 [z]The ‖light of the body is the eye: when therefore thine eye is sound, thy whole body also is enlightened; but when it is diseased, thy body also is dark.

35 Take heed, then, that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore is enlightened, having no part dark, the whole will be enlightened, as when †the bright shining of a lamp giveth thee light.

37 ¶ And as he spoke, a certain Pharisee asked him to dine with him: and he went in and reclined at table.

38 And [a]the Pharisee seeing it, wondered that he did not bathe himself before dinner.

39 [b]And the Lord said to him, Now ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and the platter; but [c]your inward part is full of rapine and wickedness.

40 Fools! did not he who made the outside, make also the inside?

41 [d]But give ‖what is within them as alms, and behold, all is clean to you.

42 [e]But wo to you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint, and rue, and every herb, and neglect justice and the love of God: This ye ought to have done, and not have left the other undone.

43 [f]Wo to you, Pharisees! for ye love

44 [e]Wo to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [h]for ye are like unseen sepulchres, over which men walk and know it not!

45 ¶ And one of the lawyers, answering, saith to him, Teacher, thus saying, thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, And wo to you, lawyers! [i]for ye load men with intolerable burdens, and yourselves will not touch the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 [k]Wo to you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers slew them.

48 So then ye attest and approve the deeds of your fathers: for they slew them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, [l]I will send them prophets and apostles, and these they will slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;

51 [m]From the blood of Abel to [n]the blood of Zachariah, who perished between the altar and the temple: verily, I say to you, It will be required of this generation.

52 [o]Wo to you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye enter not yourselves, and those who are entering ye ‖hinder.

53 And as he said these things to them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to be greatly embittered toward him, and to press him with many questions;

54 Laying snares for him, and [p]seeking to catch something from his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Christ preacheth to his disciples to avoid hypocrisy, and fearfulness in publishing his doctrine: 13 warneth the people to beware of covetousness, by the parable of the rich man who set up greater barns. 22 We must not be over careful of earthly things, 31 but seek the kingdom of God, 33 give alms, 36 be ready at a knock to open to our Lord whenever he cometh. 41 Christ's ministers are to see to their charge, 49 and look for persecution. 54 The people must take this time of grace, 58 because it is a fearful thing to die without reconciliation.

[a]MEANWHILE the people having assembled by thousands, so that they trod on one another, he began to say to his disciples first of all, [b]Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2 [c]For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; nor hidden, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore, what ye have said in darkness, will be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in closets, will be proclaimed on the house-tops.

4 [d]And I say to you, [e]my friends, Fear not those who kill the body, and after that, can do no more.

5 But I will warn you whom to fear: Fear him who, after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say to you, Fear him!

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two ‖farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not then: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 [f]And I say to you, Whoever shall acknowledge me before men, him will also the Son of man acknowledge before the angels of God.

9 But he that denieth me before men, will be denied before the angels of God.

10 And [g]whoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it will be forgiven him: but he who revileth the Holy Spirit, will not be forgiven.

11 [h]And when they bring you before the synagogues, and magistrates, and powers, be not anxious how or what ye shall say in your defence:

12 For the Holy Spirit will teach you at that hour what ye ought to say.

13 ¶ And one of the multitude said to him, Teacher, bid my brother divide with me the inheritance.

14 And he said to him, [i]Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over you?

15 And he said to them, [k]Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of his possessions.

16 And he spoke a parable to them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man yielded plentifully:

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, for I know not where I shall store my fruits?

18 And he said, I will do this: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there I will store all my fruits and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, [l]Soul, thou hast abundant goods laid up for many years; rest, eat, drink, be merry.

20 But God said to him, Fool! this night ‖[m]thy soul is required of thee: [n]and who shall have what thou hast provided?

21 Thus is he who gathereth treasure for himself, [o]and is not rich towards God.

22 ¶ And he said to his disciples, Therefore I say to you, [p]Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat; nor for your body, how ye shall be clothed.

23 The life is more than food, and the body than clothing.

24 Observe the ravens. They neither sow nor reap: they have neither storehouse, nor barn; and [q]God feedeth them. How much better are ye than the birds!

25 And who of you, by being anxious, can add ‖a span to his life?

26 If then ye cannot do even the least, why are ye anxious about the rest?

27 Observe the lilies how they grow. They toil not, they spin not; yet I say to you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothes the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, ye of little faith!

29 And seek ye not what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, ‖and be not of doubtful mind.

30 For after all these things do the nations of the world seek: and your Father knoweth that ye need these things.

31 ¶ [r]But seek the kingdom of God, and all these things will be added to you.

32 Fear not, little flock; for [s]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 [t]Sell your possessions, and give alms: [u]provide yourselves purses which grow not old, an unfailing treasure in the heavens, where no thief approacheth, nor moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [x]Let your loins be girded about, and [y]your lights burning;

36 And ye like men waiting for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may immediately open to him.

37 [z]Happy those servants, whom their lord when he cometh shall find watching! Verily, I say to you, that he will gird himself, and make them to recline at table, and will come and serve them.

38 And if he come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, happy are those servants.

39 [c]But know this, that if the master of the house had known at what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 [b]Be ye therefore ready: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ¶ Then Peter said to him, Lord, speakest thou this parable to us, or also to all?

42 And the Lord said, [c]Who then is the faithful and prudent steward, whom his lord will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the season?

43 Happy is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 [d]Truly I say to you, that he will set him over all his possessions.

45 [e]But if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and begin to beat the men-servants, and maidens, and to eat and drink, and be drunken;

46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour that he is not aware of, and will ‖cut him asunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unfaithful.

47 And [f]that servant who knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, nor did according to his will, will receive many stripes.

48 [g]But he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, will receive few stripes. For to whomsoever much is given, of him much will be required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ¶ [h]I came to send fire on the earth, and how would I that it were already kindled!

50 But [i]I have an immersion to undergo; and how am I ‖distressed until it is accomplished!

51 [k]Think ye that I came to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; [l]but division:

52 [m]For henceforth there will be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 Father will be divided against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against mother; mother-in-law against daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.

54 ¶ And he said also to the people, [n]When ye see a cloud rising from the west, immediately ye say, There cometh rain; and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to pass.

56 Hypocrites! ye can distinguish the face of the earth and the sky; and how is it that ye do not distinguish this time?

57 ¶ And why do ye not of yourselves decide according to justice?

58 [o]For when thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, [p]endeavour on the way to be delivered from him; lest he drag thee before the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer throw thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou wilt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid even the last ‖mite.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance upon the punishment of the Galileans, and others. 6 The fruitless fig-tree may not stand. 11 He healeth the crooked woman: 18 sheweth the powerful working of the word in the hearts of his chosen, by the parable of the grain of mustard-seed, and of leaven: 24 exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate, 31 and reproveth Herod and Jerusalem.

THERE were present at that season some who reported to him concerning the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering, said to them, Think ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay; but unless ye repent, ye will all in like manner perish.

4 Or those eighteen, on whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were ‖sinners above all men who dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay; but unless ye repent, ye will all in like manner perish.

6 ¶ And he spoke this parable: [q]A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit on it, and found none.

7 And he said to the vine-dresser, Behold, three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and find none: cut it down; why doth it also encumber the ground?

8 And he answering, said to him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, afterward thou shalt cut it down.

10 ¶ And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath.

11 And lo, there was a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bent together, and could not raise herself.

12 And Jesus seeing her, called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art released from thine infirmity.

13 [b]And he laid his hands on her: and she immediately stood erect, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue being indignant that Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, answering, said to the people, [c]There are six days in which we should 15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Hypocrite! [e]doth not each of you on the Sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to drink?

16 And ought not this woman, [f]being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, to be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath?

17 And as he said this, all his opposers were ashamed: and all the multitude rejoiced at all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ [g]And he said, What is the kingdom of God like? and to what shall I liken it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and threw into his garden, and it grew, and became a great tree; and the birds of heaven lodged in its branches.

20 And again he said, To what shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three ‖measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 [h]And he was passing through cities and villages, teaching, and making his journey toward Jerusalem.

23 ¶ And some one said to him, Lord, are there few who are saved? And he said to them,

24 [k]Strive to enter through the strait gate: for [l]many, I say to you, will seek to enter, and will not be able.

25 [m]When once the Master of the house hath arisen, and [n]shut the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, [o]Lord, Lord, open to us; he will answer and say to you, [p]I know you not whence ye are.

26 Then ye will begin to say, We ate and drank in thy presence, and thou taughtest in our streets.

27 [q]But he will say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; [r]depart from me, all ye workers of unrighteousness.

28 [s]There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, [t]when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and yourselves thrust out.

29 And they will come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and will recline at table in the kingdom of God.

30 [u]And behold, there are last, who will be first; and there are first, who will be last.

31 ¶ On that day there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Go forth, and depart hence; for Herod wisheth to kill thee.

32 And he said to them, Go and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out demons, and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and on the third day my work is finished.

33 Yet, I must go on to-day and to-morrow, and the day following: for it may not be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

34 [y]Jerusalem! Jerusalem! that killest the prophets, and stonest those who are sent to thee; how often would I have gathered thy children, as a hen gathereth her brood under her wings, and ye would not!

35 Behold, [z]your house is left to you desolate. And verily, I say to you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, [a]Blessed is he who cometh in the name of the Lord!

[h] Prov. 9. 2, 5.

CHAPTER XIV.

2 Christ healeth the dropsy on the Sabbath: 7 teacheth humility: 12 to feast the poor: 15 under the parable of the great supper, sheweth how worldly minded men, who contemn the word of God, shall be shut out of heaven. 25 Those who will be his disciples, to bear their cross must make their accounts aforehand, lest with shame they revolt from him afterward, 34 and become altogether unprofitable, like salt that hath lost its savour.

AND it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees to eat bread on the Sabbath, that they watched him.

2 And behold, there was a certain man before him, who had the dropsy.

3 And Jesus answering, spoke to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, [a]Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?

4 And they were silent. And taking hold of him, he healed and dismissed him.

5 And he answered them, saying, [b]Who of you, if his ass or ox fall into a pit, will not immediately pull him out on the Sabbath?

6 And they could not answer him to this.

7 ¶ And he spoke a parable to the guests, observing how they chose out the first seats; saying to them,

8 When thou art invited by any one to a marriage-feast, do not recline on the first seat, lest a more honourable man than thou have been invited by him;

9 And he who invited thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest place.

10 [c]But when thou art invited, go and recline in the lowest place; that when he who invited thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then thou wilt have honour in the presence of the guests.

11 [d]For every one that exalteth himself will be humbled, and that humbleth himself will be exalted.

12 ¶ And he said also to him who had invited him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also invite thee in return, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call [e]the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind;

14 And thou wilt be happy: for they cannot recompense thee: for thou wilt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

15 ¶ And one of the guests hearing this, said to him, [f]Happy he who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God!

16 [g]And he said to him, A certain man made a great supper, and invited many:

17 And [h]sent his servant at supper-time, to say to those who were invited, Come, for all is now ready.

18 And they all with one consent began to excuse themselves. The first said to him, I have bought a field, and must go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife: and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant came, and reported this to his lord. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and lame and blind.

22 And the servant said, Sir, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And his lord said to the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 For I say to you, [i]that none of those men who have been invited, shall taste of my supper.

25 ¶ And great multitudes accompanied him: and he turned, and said to them,

26 [k]If any one come to me, [l]and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, [m]and further, even his own life, he cannot be my disciple.

27 And [n]whoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28 For [o]who of you wishing to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have enough to finish it?

29 Lest perchance, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all who behold it begin to deride him,

30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

31 Or what king going to engage in battle with another king, doth not first sit down and consult whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who is coming against him with twenty thousand?

32 Else, while the other is yet at a distance, he sendeth an embassy, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, no one of you who forsaketh not all that he hath, can be my disciple.

34 ¶ [p]Salt is good: but if the salt become insipid, with what shall it be seasoned?

35 It is fit neither for the land, nor for the dunghill. They cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear!

CHAPTER XV.

1 The parable of the lost sheep: 8 of the piece of silver: 11 of the prodigal son.

AND [q]all the publicans and sinners were coming near to hear him.

2 And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, [b]and eateth with them.

3 ¶ And he spoke to them this parable, saying,

4 [c]What man of you having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety-nine in the desert, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 And having found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 And coming home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying to them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my lost [d]sheep!

7 I say to you, that thus there will be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, [e]more than over ninety-nine just persons who need no repentance.

8 ¶ Or what woman having ten ‖pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek carefully till she find it?

9 And having found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I lost!

10 Thus, I say to you, There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ¶ And he said, A certain man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of property that falleth to me. And he divided to them [f]his living.

13 And not many days after, the younger son gathering all together, went away into a distant country, and there wasted his property in riotous living.

14 And he having spent all, there arose a severe famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the ‖pods which the swine ate; and no one gave to him.

17 And coming to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's abound in bread, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

19 And am no longer worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But [g]while he was still afar off, his father saw him, and had compassion; and he ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned against Heaven, [h]and in thy sight, and am no longer worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

23 And bring the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry:

24 [i]For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew near the house, he heard music and dancing.

26 And calling one of the servants, he asked what this meant.

27 And he said to him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in; therefore his father came out, and entreated him.

29 And he answering, said to his father, Lo, so many years do I serve thee, and never transgressed thy commandment; yet to me thou never gavest a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But when this thy son is come, who hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf!

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The parable of the unjust steward. 14 Christ reproveth the hypocrisy of the covetous Pharisees. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus the beggar.

AND he said also to his disciples, There was a certain rich man who had a steward; and he was accused to him of wasting his possessions.

2 And he called him, and said to him, What is this that I hear of thee? render an account of thy stewardship: for thou canst be steward no longer.

3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; I am ashamed to beg.

4 I have resolved what to do, that when I am removed from the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou to my lord?

6 And he said, An hundred ‖measures of oil. And he said to him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then he said to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred ‖measures of wheat. And he said to him, Take thy bill, and write eighty.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done prudently: for the sons of this world are in their generation more prudent than [a]the sons of light.

9 And I say to you, [b]Make to yourselves friends by means of the unrighteous ‖mammon; that when ye leave it, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 [c]He who is faithful in the least, is faithful also in much; and he who is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much.

11 If then ye were not faithful in the unrighteous ‖mammon, who will entrust to you the true?

12 And if ye were not faithful in that which is another's, who will give you your own?

13 ¶ [d]No servant can serve two masters: for he will either hate the one, and love the other, or hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also, [e]who were covetous, heard all these things, and they derided him.

15 And he said to them, Ye are those who [f]justify themselves before men; but [g]God knoweth your hearts: for [h]that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 [i]The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is announced, and every one presseth into it.

17 [k]And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than for one particle of the law to fail.

18 [l]Whoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery; and whoever marrieth her who is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 ¶ There was a certain rich man, who was clothed in purple and fine linen and feasted sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain poor man named Lazarus, who lay at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: nay, even the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass, that the poor man died, and was carried by the angels to the bosom of Abraham. The rich man also died, and was buried:

23 And in ‖the lower world raising his eyes, being in torments, he seeth Abraham at a distance, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24 And he cried, and said, Father Abraham, pity me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and [m]cool my tongue: for I [n]am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, [o]remember that thou in thy life receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner his evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that those who would pass from hence to you, cannot; nor those from thence pass over to us.

27 And he said, I pray thee then, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may warn them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith to him, [p]They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said to him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, [q]neither will they be persuaded, though one rise from the dead.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Christ teacheth to avoid occasions of sin. 3 One to forgive another. 6 The power of faith. 7 How we are bound to God, and not he to us. 11 He healeth ten lepers. 22 Of the kingdom of God, and the coming of the Son of man.

AND he said to the disciples, [a]It is impossible but that occasions of sin will come: but wo to him through whom they come!

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hung about his neck, and he thrown into the sea, than that he should cause one of these little ones to sin.

3 ¶ Take heed to yourselves: [b]But if thy brother trespass against thee, [c]rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said to the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 [d]And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye might say to this sycamine-tree, Be rooted up, and planted in the sea; and it would obey you.

7 And who of you having a servant ploughing, or feeding cattle, will say to him, as he cometh from the field, Go immediately and recline at table?

10 Thus also ye, when ye shall have done all which is commanded you, say, We are [f]unprofitable servants: we have done but what we were bound to do.

11 ¶ And it happened, [g]as he was going to Jerusalem, that he went through Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entered a certain village, ten lepers met him, [h]who stood at a distance;

13 And they raised their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, pity us!

14 And seeing them, he said, [i]Go shew yourselves to the priests. And it came to pass, as they were going, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them, seeing that he was healed, returned, with a loud voice glorifying God;

16 And fell on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answering, said, Were not the ten cleansed? and where are the nine?

18 Were there none found to return and give glory to God, except this stranger?

19 [k]And he said to him, Arise and go; thy faith hath healed thee.

20 ¶ And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not ‖with observation.

21 [l]Nor will they say, Lo here! or, Lo there! for behold, [m]the kingdom of God is ‖within you.

22 And he said to the disciples, [n]The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye will not see it.

23 [o]And they will say to you, Lo here! or, Lo there! go not after them, nor follow them.

24 [p]For as the lightning which flasheth from one part of heaven shineth to the other; so also will the Son of man be in his day.

25 [q]But first he must suffer much, and be rejected by this generation.

26 [r]And as it was in the days of Noah, so will it be also in the days of the Son of man.

27 They were eating, drinking, marrying, given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark; and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 [s]In like manner also as it was in the days of Lot: they were eating, drinking, buying, selling, planting, building;

29 But [t]on the day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all:

30 So will it be in the day when the Son of man [u]is revealed.

31 On that day, he [x]who is on the housetop, and his furniture in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he who is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 [y]Remember the wife of Lot.

33 [z]Whoever shall seek to save his life, will lose it; and whoever shall lose his life, will preserve it.

34 [a]I say to you, in that night there will be two in one bed; one will be taken, and the other left.

35 Two women will be grinding together; one will be taken, and the other left.

36 ‖Two men will be in the field; one will be taken, and the other left.

37 And they answered and said to him, [b]Where, Lord? And he said to them, Where the body is, there will assemble the eagles.

CHAPTER XVIII.

3 Of the importunate widow. 9 Of the Pharisee and the publican. 15 Children brought to Christ. 18 A ruler that would follow Christ, but is hindered by his riches. 28 The reward of them that leave all for his sake. 31 He foresheweth his death, 35 and restoreth a blind man to his sight.

AND he spoke also a parable to them, shewing that men ought [a]always to pray, and not to faint;

2 Saying, There was in a certain city a judge, who feared not God, nor regarded man.

3 And there was a widow in that city; and she used to come to him, saying, Do me justice on my adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 [b]Yet, because this widow troubleth me, I will do her justice, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And [c]will not God avenge his own elect, who cry to him day and night, though he suffer long in respect to them?

8 I tell you [d]that he will avenge them speedily. But will the Son of man, when he cometh, find faith on the earth?

9 And he spoke this parable to some who [e]believed themselves to be righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisee [f]stood and prayed thus with himself, [g]God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men, rapacious, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican, standing afar off would not even raise his eyes to heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: [h]for whoever exalteth himself will be humbled, and whoever humbleth himself will be exalted.

15 [i]And they brought to him also their infants, that he would touch them: but his disciples seeing it, rebuked them.

16 But Jesus calling them to him, said, Suffer the little children to come to me, and do not forbid them: for [k]of such is the kingdom of God.

17 [l]Verily, I say to you, Whoever doth not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall by no means enter into it.

18 [m]And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

19 And Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good, but one, that is God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments,

23 And on hearing this, he became very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And Jesus seeing that he became very sorrowful, said, [q]How hardly will those who have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.

26 And those who heard it, said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, [r]What is impossible with men, is possible with God.

28 [s]And Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

37 And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth was going by.

38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, son of David, pity me!

39 And those who preceded charged him to be silent: but he cried the more, Son of David, pity me!

40 And Jesus stopping, directed him to be brought to him: and as he came near, he asked him,

41 Saying, What wilt thou that I do for thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jesus said to him, Receive thy sight: [c]thy faith hath healed thee.

43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, [d]glorifying God: and all the people saw it, and gave praise to God.

2 And behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, who was a chief publican; and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was small of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said to him, Zaccheus, hasten, and come down: for to-day I must remain in thy house.

6 And he hastened, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And they all saw it, and murmured, saying, [a]He is gone to be a guest with a sinner.

8 And Zaccheus stood, and said to the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my possessions I give to the poor; and if I have [b]defrauded any one in any thing, [c]I restore him four-fold.

9 And Jesus said to him, To-day salvation is come to this house, inasmuch as [d]he also is [e]a son of Abraham.

10 [f]For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard this, he added and spoke a parable, because he was near Jerusalem, and [g]they thought that the kingdom of God would immediately appear.

12 [h]He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a distant country to obtain the sovereignty, and then return.

13 And calling his ten servants, he delivered to them ten ‖pounds, and said to them, Trade with these till I come.

14 [i]But his citizens hated him, and sent an embassy after him, saying, We wish not this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he returned, having received the sovereignty, he bade these servants be called to him, to whom he gave the †money, that he might know what each had gained by trading.

16 And the first came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said to him, Well done, good servant! because thou wert [k]faithful in a very little, have authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, And be thou over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 [l]For I feared thee, because thou art a severe man: thou takest up what thou layedst not down, and reapest what thou didst not sow.

22 And he saith to him, [m]From thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant! [n]Thou knewest that I was a severe man, taking up what I laid not down, and reaping what I did not sow?

23 Why then didst thou not give my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have exacted it with interest?

24 And he said to those standing by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him who hath the ten pounds.

25 (And they said to him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 For I say to you, [o]That to every one who hath, shall be given; and from him who hath not, even what he hath shall be taken from him.

27 But those mine enemies, who would not have me reign over them, bring here, and slaughter in my presence.

28 ¶ Having thus spoken, [p]he went on before them, ascending to Jerusalem.

29 [q]And it came to pass, as he drew near to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mountain called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Go into the village over against you; in which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, on which no man ever sat: loose and bring him.

31 And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose him? ye shall say thus to him, The Lord hath need of him.

32 And those who were sent went, and found it as he had said to them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, its owners said to them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jesus: [r]and they threw their garments upon the colt, and set Jesus upon him.

36 [s]And as he went, they spread their garments in the way.

37 And he being now come near, at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works which they had seen;

38 Saying, [t]Blessed be the King who cometh in the name of the Lord! [u]Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said to him, Teacher, rebuke thy disciples.

40 And he answered and said to them, I tell you, that if these are silent, [x]the stones will cry out.

41 ¶ And as he drew near, and saw the city, he [y]wept over it,

42 Saying, Didst thou but know, at least in this thy day, the things which belong to thy peace! but now they are hidden from thine eyes.

43 For the days will come upon thee, when thine enemies will [z]throw a trench about thee, and encircle thee, and shut thee in on every side,

44 And [a]level thee with the ground, and thy children within thee: and [b]they will not leave in thee one stone upon another: [c]because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 [d]And he went into the temple, and began to cast out those who sold and bought in it,

46 Saying to them, [e]It is written, My house is a house of prayer, but [f]ye have made it a den of robbers.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But [g]the chief priests, and the scribes, and the chief men of the people sought to destroy him,

48 And could not find what they should do: for all the people hung upon his lips.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Christ avoucheth his authority by a question of John's immersion. 9 The parable of the vineyard. 19 Of giving tribute to Cesar. 27 He convinceth the Sadducees that denied the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the Son of David. 45 He warneth his disciples to beware of the scribes.

AND [a]it happened, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and published the glad tidings, the chief priests and the scribes, with the elders, came up,

2 And spoke to him, saying, Tell us, [b]by what authority doest thou this? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answering, said to them, I also will ask you one question; and answer me:

4 John's immersion, was it from heaven, or from men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

6 And if we say, From men; all the people will stone us: [c]for they are persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, That they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do this.

9 And he began to speak to the people this parable: [d]A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went abroad for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be that when they see him, they will reverence him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What then will the lord of the vineyard do to them?

16 He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and give the vineyard to others. And hearing it, they said, God forbid!

17 But he looked at them, and said, What then is this that is written, [e]The stone which the builders rejected, this is become the head of the corner?

18 Whoever falleth on that stone will be dashed in pieces: but [f]on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 ¶ And the chief priests and the scribes at that same hour sought to lay hands on him: and they feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 [g]And they watched him, and sent forth spies, who should feign themselves righteous, that they might lay hold of his words, in order to deliver him to the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, [h]Teacher, we know that thou speakest and teachest rightly, and ‖acceptest no one's person, but teachest ‖truly the way of God:

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Cesar, or not?

23 But perceiving their craftiness, he said to them, Why do ye try me?
24 Shew me a ‖penny. Whose image and inscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesar's.
25 And he said to them, Render therefore to Cesar that which is Cesar's, and to God that which is God's.
26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and wondering at his answer, they were silent.
27 ¶ [i]And some of the Sadducees came up ([k]who deny that there is a resurrection) and they asked him,
28 Saying, Teacher, [l]Moses directed us in the law, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die childless, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up offspring to his brother.
29 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless.
30 And the second took his wife, and he died childless.
31 And the third took her; and in like manner also the seven: and they left no children, and died.
32 Last of all the woman died also.
33 Now in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for the seven had her as a wife.
34 And Jesus answering, said to them, The sons of this world marry, and are given in marriage:
35 But those who are deemed worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:
36 For they cannot die any more: for [m]they are like the angels; and are sons of God, [n]being sons of the resurrection.
37 But that the dead are raised, [o]even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.
38 But he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for [p]all live to him.
39 ¶ Then certain of the scribes answering, said, Teacher, thou hast well said.
40 And they no longer ventured to question him at all.
41 And he said to them, [q]How do they say that the Christ is the son of David?
42 And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, [r]The LORD said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand,
43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.
44 David therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he his son?
45 ¶ [s]Then in the hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples,
46 [t]Beware of the scribes, who delight to walk in robes, and [u]love salutations in the streets, and the first seats in the synagogues, and the first places at feasts;
47 [x]Who devour the houses of widows, and for a shew make long prayers: these will receive greater punishment.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Christ commendeth the poor widow. 5 He foretelleth the destruction of the temple, and of the city Jerusalem: 25 the signs also which shall be before the last day. 34 He exhorteth them to be watchful.

AND looking up [a]he saw the rich casting their gifts into the treasury.
2 And he saw also a certain poor widow, casting therein two ‖mites.
3 And he said, Truly I say to you, [b]That this poor widow hath cast in more than all.
4 For all these of their abundance threw in to the offerings of God: but she of her deficiency threw in all the living that she had.
5 ¶ [c]And as some said of the temple, that it was adorned with beautiful stones, and offerings, he said,
6 As to these things which ye behold, the days will come, in which [d]there will not be left one stone upon another, that will not be thrown down.
7 And they asked him, saying, Teacher, when will this be? and what is the sign when this is about to happen?
8 And he said, [e]Take heed lest ye be led astray: for many will come in my name, saying, I am he; ‖and the time is near: do not then go after them.
9 But when ye hear of wars, and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first happen; but the end is not immediately.
10 [f]Then he said to them, Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:
11 And there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines, and pestilences: and there will be fearful sights, and great signs from heaven.
12 [g]But before all this they will lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you to synagogues, and [h]prisons, [i]and bringing you before kings and rulers [k]on account of my name.
13 And [l]it will turn out to you as a means of testimony.
14 [m]Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand how ye shall defend yourselves.
15 For I will give you utterance and wisdom, [n]which all your opposers will not be able to gainsay or resist.
16 [o]And ye will be betrayed by parents, and brethren, and kindred, and friends; and [p]some of you they will put to death.
17 And [q]ye will be hated by all on account of my name.
18 [r]But there shall not a hair of your head perish.
19 By your steadfastness preserve your lives.
20 [s]But when ye see Jerusalem encircled by armies, then know that its desolation is near.
21 Then let those in Judea flee to the mountains; and let those in the midst of it depart out; and let those in the country not enter into it.
22 For these are days of vengeance, that [t]all that is written may be accomplished.
23 [u]But wo to those who are with child, and to those giving suck in those days! for there will be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.
24 And they will fall by the edge of the sword, and be led captive among all nations: and Jerusalem will be trodden by the nations, [x]until the times of the nations are fulfilled.
25 ¶ [y]And there will be signs in the sun and moon and stars; and on the earth distress of nations, amid perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men expiring from terror, and from expectation of what is coming on the world: [a]for the powers of heaven will be shaken.

27 And then they will see the Son of man [c]coming in a cloud, with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and raise your heads: for [b]your redemption draweth near.

29 [c]And he spoke to them a parable; See the fig-tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye seeing it, know of yourselves that summer is already near.

31 So also ye, when ye see these things happen, know that the kingdom of God is near.

32 Verily, I say to you, This generation shall not pass away, till all is fulfilled.

33 [d]Heaven and earth will pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

34 And [e]take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and the anxieties of life, and that day come upon you unawares.

35 For [f]as a snare will it come on all who dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 [g]Watch therefore always, and [h]pray, that ye may be deemed worthy to escape all this which is to happen, and [i]to stand before the Son of man.

37 ¶ [k]And in the day-time he was teaching in the temple; and [l]went out, and spent his nights in the mount called the mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early to him in the temple, to hear him.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The Jews conspire against Christ. 3 Satan prepareth Judas to betray him. 7 The apostles prepare the passover. 19 Christ instituteth his holy supper, 21 covertly foretelleth of the traitor, 24 dehorteth the rest of his apostles from ambition, 31 assureth Peter his faith should not fail: 34 and yet he should deny him thrice. 39 He prayeth in the mount, and sweateth blood, 47 is betrayed with a kiss: 50 he healeth Malchus' ear, 54 he is thrice denied by Peter, 63 shamefully abused, 66 and confesseth himself to be the Son of God.

NOW [a]the feast of unleavened bread was near, which is called the Passover.

2 And [b]the chief priests and scribes were seeking how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 ¶ [c]And Satan entered into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went, and consulted with the chief priests and officers, how he might deliver him to them.

5 And they were glad, and [d]agreed to give him money.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunity to deliver him to them ‖in the absence of the multitude.

7 ¶ [e]Now the day of unleavened bread came, when the passover must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare for us the passover, that we may eat it.

9 And they said to him, Where wilt thou that we prepare it?

10 And he said to them, Behold, as ye enter the city, a man will meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth.

11 And ye shall say to the master of the house, The Teacher saith to thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I may eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

13 And they went and found it as he had said to them: and they made ready the passover.

14 [f]And when the hour came, he reclined at table, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said to them, Earnestly have I desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

16 For I say to you, I shall no longer eat of it, [g]until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And taking a cup, he gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves.

18 For [h]I say to you, that I shall not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ¶ [i]And he took bread, and giving thanks, broke it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: [k]this do in remembrance of me.

20 Thus also the cup after supper, saying, [l]This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ¶ [m]But lo, the hand of him who betrayeth me is with me on the table.

22 [n]And the Son of man indeed goeth [o]as it is determined: but wo to that man by whom he is betrayed!

23 [p]And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that was about to do this.

24 ¶ [q]And there arose also a strife among them, which of them should be considered the greatest.

25 [r]And he said to them, The kings of the nations exercise dominion over them; and those who have authority over them are called benefactors.

26 [s]But ye are not so: [t]but let the greatest among you become as the least; and the ruler as the servant.

27 [u]For who is greater, he that reclineth at table, or he that serveth? is not he that reclineth at table? but [x]I am among you as he that serveth.

28 Ye are those who have continued with me in [y]my trials;

29 And [z]I appoint to you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed to me;

30 That [a]ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, [b]and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, [c]Satan hath sought for you, that he may [d]sift you as wheat:

32 But [e]I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: [f]and when thou hast recovered thyself, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said to him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both to prison, and to death.

34 [g]And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock will not crow to-day, before thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 [h]And he said to them, When I sent you without purse, and sack, and shoes, did ye lack any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 And he said to them, But now, he who hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his sack: and he who hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.

37 For I say to you, that this which is written must yet be accomplished in me, [i]And he was reckoned among transgressors: for the things written concerning me are to be fulfilled.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said to them, It is enough.

39 ¶ [k]And going out, he [l]went, as he was accustomed, to the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him.

40 [m]And coming to the place, he said to them, Pray that ye enter not into trial.

41 [n]And he withdrew from them about a stone's throw, and knelt down, and prayed,

42 Saying, Father, if thou †wilt, remove this cup from me: yet, [o]not my will, but thine, be done.

43 And there appeared to him [p]an angel from heaven, strengthening him.

44 [q]And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat became like great drops of blood falling to the ground.

45 And he arose from prayer, and coming to his disciples, found them sleeping for sorrow,

46 And said to them, Why sleep ye? rise and [r]pray, lest ye enter into trial.

47 ¶ And while he was still speaking, [s]behold a multitude, and he who was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near to Jesus to kiss him.

48 But Jesus said to him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49 And those about him, seeing what was to happen, said to him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 ¶ And [t]one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Jesus answering, said, Let this suffice. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 [u]Then Jesus said to the chief priests, and officers of the temple, and elders, who had come against him, Have ye come out as against a robber, with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye did not stretch forth your hands against me: [x]but this is your hour, and the power of darkness!

54 ¶ [y]And having seized upon him, they led him away, and brought him into the house of the high priest. [z]And Peter followed at a distance.

55 [a]And kindling a fire in the midst of the court, they sat down together, and Peter sat down among them.

56 But a certain maid saw him sitting by the fire, and fixing her eyes upon him, said, This man was also with him.

57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I do not know him.

58 [b]And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.

59 [c]And about an hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying, In truth this man also was with him; for he is a Galilean.

60 And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he was yet speaking, the cock crowed.

61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. [d]And Peter called to mind the word of the Lord, how he had said to him, [e]Before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice.

62 And Peter went out and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ [f]And the men who held Jesus, were scoffing at, and beating him.

64 And having blindfolded him, they kept striking him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that struck thee?

65 And many other things they spoke revilingly against him.

66 ¶ [g]And when it was day, [h]the elders of the people, with the chief priests and scribes, came together, and led him into their council,

67 [i]Saying, Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said to them, If I tell you, ye will not believe.

68 And if I also question you, ye will not answer me, nor release me.

69 [k]Henceforth will the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 And they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said to them, [l]‖Ye say that I am.

71 [m]And they said, Why need we further testimony? for we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Jesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod. 8 Herod mocketh him. 12 Herod and Pilate are made friends. 13 Barabbas is desired by the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Jesus is given to be crucified. 27 He telleth the women, that lament him, the destruction of Jerusalem: 34 prayeth for his enemies. 39 Two evil-doers are crucified with him. 46 His death. 50 His burial.

AND [a]the whole company of them arose, and led him to Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man [b]perverting the nation, and [c]forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying, [d]that he himself is Christ, a king.

3 [e]And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 And Pilate said to the chief priests, and the multitude, [f]I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more violent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching through all Judea, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked if the man was a Galilean.

7 And learning that he belonged to [g]Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who was himself also at Jerusalem at this time.

8 ¶ And Herod rejoiced greatly on seeing Jesus: for [h]he had desired for a long time to see him, from [i]hearing much of him; and he hoped to see some miracle done by him.

9 And he questioned him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 [k]And Herod with his soldiers having made light of him, and derided him, arrayed him in a splendid dress, and sent him back to Pilate.

12 ¶ And on that day [l]Pilate and Herod became friends with each other; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¶ [m]And Pilate, calling together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people,
14 Said to them, [m]Ye have brought this man to me, as one perverting the people: and behold, [n]I, having examined him before you, have found him guilty of nothing of which ye accuse him;
15 And neither hath Herod: for I sent you to him; and lo, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him:
16 [p]I will therefore chastise and release him.
17 [q](For it was necessary that he should release one to them at the feast.)
18 And [r]they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release to us Barabbas!
19 (Who, for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, had been thrown into prison.)
20 Pilate therefore, wishing to release Jesus, again addressed them.
21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him! crucify him!
22 And he said to them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found in him nothing worthy of death; I will therefore chastise and release him.
23 But they urged with loud voices, demanding that he should be crucified: and their voices and those of the chief priests prevailed.
24 And [s]Pilate ‖decided that it should be as they required.
25 And he released to them him whom they demanded, who for sedition and murder had been thrown into prison, and Jesus he delivered to their will.
26 [t]And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming from the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.
27 ¶ And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, who also bewailed and lamented him.
28 But Jesus turning to them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.
29 [u]For lo, the days are coming, in which they will say, Happy the barren, and the wombs that never bore, and the breasts which never gave suck!
30 [x]Then they will begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us! and to the hills, Cover us!
31 [y]For if they do thus to the green tree, what will be done to the dry?
32 [z]And there were also two malefactors led with him to be put to death.
33 And [a]when they came to the place called ‖Calvary, there they nailed him to the cross, and the malefactors; one on the right hand, and the other on the left.
34 ¶ And Jesus said, Father, [b]forgive them: for [c]they know not what they do. And [d] they divided his garments, casting lots.
35 And [e]the people stood beholding. And the [f]rulers also with them scoffed at him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he is the Christ, the chosen of God!
36 And the soldiers also made sport of him, coming up, and offering him vinegar,
37 And saying, If thou art the King of the Jews, save thyself.
38 [g]And there was also an inscription written over him, in Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew letters, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.
39 ¶ [h]And one of the malefactors, who were hanging on the cross, reviled him, saying, If thou art the Christ, save thyself and us.
40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Dost thou also not fear God, seeing thou art in the same punishment?
41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.
42 And he said to Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest to thy kingdom.
43 And Jesus said to him, Verily, I say to thee, To-day thou shalt be with me in paradise.
44 [i]And it was about the sixth hour, and there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.
45 And the sun was darkened, and [k]the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.
46 ¶ And Jesus crying with a loud voice, said, [l]Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit: [m]and saying this, he expired.
47 [n]And the centurion seeing what had happened, glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man!
48 And all the people who had come together to this spectacle, beholding what took place, returned, beating their breasts.
49 [o]And all his acquaintance, and the women who had followed him from Galilee, stood at a distance, beholding these things.
50 ¶ [p]And behold, a man named Joseph, a senator, a good and just man,
51 (He had not agreed to their counsel and action,) of Arimathea, a city of the Jews, [q]who was also himself looking for the kingdom of God;
52 This man went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.
53 [r]And taking it down, he wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre hewn in rock, where as yet none had been laid.
54 And it was the day of [s]preparation, and the Sabbath was dawning.
55 And the women also, [t]who had come with him from Galilee, followed him, and [u]beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was placed.
56 And returning, they [x]prepared spices and ointments; and rested on the Sabbath, [y]according to the commandment.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Christ's resurrection is declared by two angels to the women that come to the sepulchre. 9 These report it to others. 13 Christ himself appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emmaus; 36 afterwards he appeareth to the apostles, and reproveth their unbelief: 47 giveth them a charge: 49 promiseth the Holy Spirit: 51 and so ascendeth into heaven.

AND [a]on the first day of the week, early in the morning, they came to the sepulchre, [b]bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.
2 [c]And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.
3 [d]And entering in, they found not the body of the Lord Jesus.
4 And it happened, as they were much perplexed at this, [e]behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.
5 And they being terrified, and bowing their faces to the earth, they said to them, Why seek ye ‖the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen. [f]Remember how he spoke to you while yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, the Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and arise on the third day.

8 And [g]they remembered his words;

9 [h]And returning from the sepulchre, they reported all this to the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and [i]Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and the other women with them, who told this to the apostles.

11 [k]And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they disbelieved them.

12 [l]But Peter arose, and ran to the sepulchre, and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes lying by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at what had happened.

13 ¶ [m]And behold, two of them were going on that same day to a village called Emmaus, sixty furlongs distant from Jerusalem.

14 And they were conversing together concerning all that had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that while they were conversing and reasoning, [n]Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But [o]their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

17 And he said to them, What are these words that ye are exchanging with each other, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one, [p]whose name was Cleopas, answering, said to him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and knowest not the things which have happened there in these days?

19 And he said to them, What things? And they said to him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, [q]who was a prophet [r]mighty in deed and word before God, and all the people:

20 [s]And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and crucified him.

21 But we hoped [t]that it was he who was to redeem Israel: But with all this, to-day is the third day since this took place.

22 But also [u]certain women of our company made us astonished, who were early at the sepulchre.

23 And not finding his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive.

24 And [x]some of those with us, went to the sepulchre, and found it thus as the women had said: but him they saw not.

25 Then he said to them, O thoughtless, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken!

26 [y]Did it not behoove the Christ thus to suffer, and to enter into his glory?

27 [z]And beginning with [a]Moses, and [b]all the prophets, he explained to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew near the village whither they were going: and [c]he made as though he was going further.

29 But [d]they constrained him, saying, Remain with us: for it is towards evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to remain with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he reclined at table with them, [e]he took bread, and blessed it, and breaking, gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he ‖vanished from their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us as he spoke to us on the way, and as he was opening to us the scriptures?

33 And rising the same hour, they returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven assembled, and those with them,

34 Saying, the Lord is indeed risen, and [f]hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they recounted what happened on the way, and how he was known by them in the breaking of bread.

36 ¶ [g]And as they were speaking thus, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith to them, Peace be to you.

37 But, terrified and affrighted, they supposed that they saw a [h]spirit.

38 And he said to them, Why are ye troubled? and why do such thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: [i]handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And saying this, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they still disbelieved [k]from joy, and wondered, he said to them, [l]Have ye here any thing to eat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honey-comb.

43 [m]And he took it, and ate before them.

44 And he said to them, [n]These are the words which I spoke to you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.

45 Then he [o]opened their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

46 And said to them, [p]Thus it is written, and thus it was necessary that the Christ should suffer, and should rise from the dead on the third day:

47 And that repentance and [q]remission of sins should be proclaimed in his name [r]to all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48 And [s]ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶ [t]And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but do ye tarry in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be clothed with power from on high.

50 ¶ And he led them out [u]to Bethany: and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51 [x]And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and borne up into heaven.

52 [y]And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy:

53 And were continually [z]in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

¶ THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 The divinity, humanity, and office of Jesus Christ.
15 The testimony of John. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

IN the beginning [a]was the Word, and the Word was [b]with God, [c]and the Word was God.

2 [d]This was in the beginning with God.

3 [e]All things were made by it; and without it nothing was made that was made.

4 [f]In it was life; and [g]the life was the light of men.

5 And [h]the light shone in the darkness; and the darkness did not admit it.

6 ¶ [i]There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 [k]This man came as a witness, to testify concerning the Light, that through him all might believe.

8 He was not the Light, but came to testify concerning the Light.

9 [l]The true Light was he who, coming into the world, enlighteneth every man.

10 He was in the world, and [m]the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 [n]He came to his own possession, and his own people received him not.

12 But [o]as many as received him, believing on his name, to them he gave the privilege of becoming children of God:

13 [p]Who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 [q]And the Word [r]became [s]flesh, and sojourned among us, (and [t]we beheld his glory, a glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) [u]full of grace and truth.

15 ([w]John testifieth concerning him, and crieth, saying, This was he of whom I said, [x]He who cometh after me, is preferred before me; [y]for he was before me.)

16 And of his [z]fulness we all received, and ‖grace for grace.

17 For [a]the law was given by Moses; the [b]grace and the [c]truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 [d]No one hath ever seen God; [e]the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 ¶ And this is [f]the testimony of John, when the Jews of Jerusalem sent priests and Levites to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And [g]he acknowledged, and denied not; but acknowledged, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou [h]Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou [i]the prophet? And he answered, No.

22 And they said to him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to those who sent us. What sayest thou concerning thyself?

23 [k]He said, I am The voice of one crying in the desert, Make straight the way of the Lord! as [l]said the prophet Isaiah.

24 And those who were sent were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said to him, Why then immersest thou, if thou art not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, [m]I immerse in water: [n]but among you standeth one whom ye know not:

27 [o]He it is, who coming after me, is preferred before me; whose shoe-latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 This took place [p]in Bethabara beyond the Jordan, where John was immersing.

29 ¶ The next day John seeth Jesus coming to him, and saith, Behold [q]the Lamb of God, [r]that beareth the sin of the world!

30 [s]This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man who is preferred before me; for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he might be made manifest to Israel, [t]therefore am I come immersing in water.

32 [u]And John testified, saying, I have seen the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it remained upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he who sent me to immerse in water, he said to me, On whomsoever thou seest the Spirit descending and remaining on him, [x]this is he who immerseth in the Holy Spirit.

34 And I have seen, and testify, that this is the Son of God.

35 ¶ Again, the day after, John was standing with two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, [y]Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speaking, and they followed Jesus.

38 And Jesus turning, saw them following, and saith to them, What seek ye? They said to him, Rabbi, (which, interpreted, meaneth Teacher,) where abidest thou?

39 He saith to them, Come and see. They came and saw where he abode, and remained with him that day: and it was ‖about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two who heard John speak, and followed him, was [z]Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter.

41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith to him, We have found the Messiah, (which, interpreted, is, ‖Christ.)

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And Jesus, looking at him, said, Thou art Simon the son of Jonah: [a]thou shalt be called Cephas; (which, interpreted, is, ‖Rock.)

43 ¶ The day following Jesus wished to go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith to him, Follow me.

44 Now [b]Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth [c]Nathanael, and saith to him, We have found him of whom [d]Moses in the law, and the [e]prophets, wrote, Jesus [f]of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.

46 And Nathanael said to him, [g]Can any thing good come from Nazareth? Philip saith to him, Come and see.

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold [h]an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!

48 Nathanael saith to him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said to him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.

50 Jesus answered and said to him, Because I said to thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, believest thou? thou wilt see greater things than these.

51 And he saith to him, Verily, verily, I say to you, [l]Henceforth ye will see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of man.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ turneth water into wine, 12 departeth into Capernaum, and to Jerusalem, 14 where he cleareth the temple of buyers and sellers. 19 He foretelleth his death and resurrection. 23 Many believed because of his miracles, but he would not trust himself with them.

AND on the third day there was a marriage in [a]Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there.

2 And both Jesus and his disciples were invited to the marriage.

3 And wine failing, the mother of Jesus saith to him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus saith to her, [b]Woman, [c]what have I to do with thee? [d]my hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith to the servants, Whatever he saith to you, do it.

6 And there were placed there six water-pots of stone, [e]according to the Jewish custom of purification, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith to them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them to the brim.

8 And he saith to them, Draw out now, and bear to the ruler of the feast. And they bore it.

9 When the ruler of the feast tasted [f]the water which had been made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants who drew the water knew,) the ruler of the feast calleth to the bridegroom,

10 And saith to him, Every man first setteth forth the good wine; and when they have drunk freely, then the poorer: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of his miracles Jesus made in Cana of Galilee, [g]and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 ¶ After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and [h]his brethren, and his disciples; and they remained there not many days.

13 ¶ [i]And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

14 [k]And found in the temple those who sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the money-changers sitting:

15 And making a scourge of small cords, he drove them all from the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overturned the tables;

16 And said to those who sold doves, Take these things hence! make not [l]my Father's house an house of traffick.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, [m]Zeal for thy house consumeth me.

18 ¶ Then answered the Jews, and said to him, [n]What sign shewest thou to us, since thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said to them, [o]Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it.

20 Then said the Jews, In forty-six years was this temple built, and wilt thou rear it in three days?

21 But he spoke [p]of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, [q]his disciples remembered that he had said this to them: and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had spoken.

23 ¶ Now, when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast, many believed on his name, beholding the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not entrust himself to them, because he knew them all,

25 And needed not that any should testify concerning a man: for [r]he himself knew what was in the man.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration. 14 Of faith in his death. 16 The great love of God towards the world. 18 Condemnation for unbelief. 23 The immersion, testimony, and teaching of John concerning Christ.

BUT there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 [a]This man came to Jesus by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for [b]no one can do these miracles which thou doest, unless [c]God be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said to him, Verily, verily, I say to thee, [d]Unless a man be born ‖again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith to him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say to thee, [e]Unless a man be born of water and Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh, is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Wonder not that I said to thee, Ye must be born ‖again.

8 [f]The wind bloweth where it will, and thou hearest its voice, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one who is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said to him, [g]How can this be?

10 Jesus answered and said to him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, and understandest not this?

11 [h]Verily, verily, I say to thee, We speak what we know, and testify what we have seen; and [i]ye receive not our testimony.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how will ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And [k]no one hath ascended to heaven, but he who came down from heaven, the Son of man who is in heaven.

14 ¶ [l]And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert, so [m]must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whoever believeth on him may not perish, but may [n]have eternal life.

16 [o]For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whoever believeth on him, should not perish, but have eternal life.

17 [p]For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved.

18 [q]He who believeth on him, is not condemned: but he who believeth not, is condemned already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, [r]that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light; for their deeds were evil.

20 For [s]every one who doeth evil hateth the light, nor cometh to the light, lest his deeds be discovered.

21 But he who doeth the truth, cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 ¶ After this Jesus and his disciples came into the land of Judea; and there he remained with them, [t]and immersed.

23 ¶ And John also was immersing in Ænon, near [u]Salim, because there was much water there: [x]and they came, and were immersed.

24 For [y]John was not yet cast into prison.

25 ¶ Now a dispute arose between John's disciples and a Jew, about purification.

26 And they came to John, and said to him, Rabbi, he who was with thee beyond the Jordan, [z]to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, he immerseth, and all men come to him.

27 John answered and said, [a]A man can ‖receive nothing, unless it is given him from heaven.

28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, [b]I am not the Christ, but [c]that I am sent before him.

29 [d]He who hath the bride, is the bridegroom: but [e]the friend of the bridegroom, who standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly at the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is full.

30 He must increase, and I decrease.

31 [f]He who cometh from above [g]is above all: [h]he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: [i]he who cometh from heaven is above all.

32 And [k]what he hath seen and heard, this he testifieth; but no one receiveth his testimony.

33 He who hath received his testimony, hath attested that God is true.

34 [m]For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giveth him not the Spirit [n]by measure.

35 [o]The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all into his hand.

36 [p]He who believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he who believeth not the Son, will not see life; but the wrath of God remaineth on him.

2 (Though Jesus himself immersed not, but his disciples,)

3 He left Judea, and went back into Galilee.

4 And he was obliged to go through Samaria.

5 He cometh therefore to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near the field [b]which Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6 And Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, thus sat down by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

7 A woman of Samaria cometh to draw water: Jesus saith to her, Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone away to the city to buy food.)

9 The Samaritan woman therefore saith to him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, a woman of Samaria? (for [c]the Jews have no intercourse with the Samaritans.)

10 Jesus answered and said to her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee [d]living water.

11 The woman saith to him, Sir, thou hast no bucket, and the well is deep: whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, and his sons, and his cattle?

13 Jesus answered and said to her, Whoever drinketh of this water will thirst again:

14 But [e]whoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him, [f]will become in him a well of water springing up to everlasting life.

15 [g]The woman saith to him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, nor come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith to her, Go call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said to her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast, is not thy husband: thou saidst this truly.

19 The woman saith to him, Sir, [h]I see that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in [i]this mountain; and ye say, that in [k]Jerusalem is the place where we ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith to her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, [l]when ye will worship the Father neither in this mountain nor in Jerusalem.

22 Ye worship what [m]ye know not: we worship what we know; for [n]salvation is from the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in [o]spirit [p]and truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 [q]God is a Spirit: and those who worship him, must worship him in spirit and truth.

25 The woman saith to him, I know that Messiah cometh, (who is called Christ;) when he cometh, [r]he will announce to us all things.

26 Jesus saith to her, [a]I who speak to thee am he.

27 ¶ And upon this his disciples came, and wondered that he was talking with a woman: yet none said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water-pot, and went into the city, and saith to the men,

29 Come, see a man [b]who told me all that I have done: is this the Christ?

30 So they went out of the city, and came to him.

31 ¶ Meanwhile his disciples asked him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said to them, I have food to eat which ye know not.

33 The disciples then said to each other, Hath any one brought him food?

34 Jesus said to them, [c]My food is to do the will of him who sent me, and to accomplish his work.

35 Do ye not say, There are yet four months and harvest cometh? behold, I say to you, Raise your eyes, and survey the fields; [d]for they are already white for harvest.

36 [e]And he who reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit to life eternal: that both the sower and the reaper may rejoice together.

37 For in this the saying is true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I send you to reap where ye have not laboured: others have laboured, and ye have entered into their labours.

39 ¶ And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him [f]on account of the words of the woman, who testified, He told me all that I have done.

40 So when the Samaritans came to him, they besought him to remain with them: and he remained there two days.

41 And many more believed, on account of his own word;

42 And said to the woman, We no longer believe on account of thy report: for [g]we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is truly the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43 ¶ And after the two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.

44 For [h]Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 When therefore he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, [i]having seen all that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: [k]for they also went to the feast.

46 So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, [l]where he made the water wine. And there was a certain ‖nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 He hearing that Jesus was come from Judea into Galilee, went to him, and asked him to come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 And Jesus said to him, [m]Unless ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The nobleman saith to him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith to him, Go; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus said to him, and departed.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 So he inquired of them the hour when he became better. And they said to him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at that hour, in which Jesus said to him, Thy son liveth: and he believed himself, and his whole house.

54 Again, this second miracle Jesus did, having come from Judea into Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Jesus on the Sabbath cureth him who was diseased eight and thirty years. 10 The Jews therefore cavil, and persecute him for it. 17 He answereth for himself, and reproveth them, shewing by the testimony of his Father, 32 of John, 36 of his works, 39 and of the scriptures, who he is.

AFTER [a]this there was a feast of the Jews: and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is at Jerusalem, [b]by the sheep gate, a pool, called in Hebrew, Bethesda, having five porticoes.

3 In these lay a great multitude of the sick, blind, lame, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at certain seasons into the pool, and disturbed the water: whoever then first went in after the stirring of the water, became well of whatever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, who had been sick thirty-eight years.

6 Jesus seeing him lying, and knowing that he had been sick now a long time, saith to him, Wishest thou to become well?

7 The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is disturbed, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another goeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith to him, [c]Arise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man became well, and took up his bed, and walked: and [d]that day was the Sabbath.

10 ¶ The Jews therefore said to him who was healed, It is the Sabbath; [e]it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He who made me well, he said to me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then they asked him, Who is the man that said to thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he who was healed knew not who it was: for Jesus had withdrawn, there being a multitude in the place.

14 After this Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said to him, Behold, thou hast become well: [f]sin no more, lest a worse thing happen to thee.

15 The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

16 And therefore the Jews persecuted Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he did this on the Sabbath.

17 ¶ But Jesus answered them, [g]My Father worketh until now, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews [h]sought the more to slay him, because he not only violated the Sabbath, but also called God his Father, [i]making himself equal with God.

19 Jesus therefore answered and said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, [k]The Son can do nothing of himself, but only what he seeth the Father do: for whatever he doeth, this also doeth the Son in like manner.

20 For [t]the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things which he himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may wonder.

21 For as the Father raiseth the dead, and giveth them life; [m]so also the Son giveth life to whom he will.

22 For neither doth the Father judge any one; but [n]hath committed all judgment to the Son:

23 That all may honour the Son as they honour the Father. [o]He who honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father who sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say to you, [p]He who heareth my word, and believeth on him who sent me, hath everlasting life, and cometh not into condemnation; [q]but hath passed from death to life.

25 Verily, verily, I say to you, The hour is coming, and now is, when [r]the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God; and those who hear will live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself, so he gave also to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And [s]gave him authority also to execute judgment, [t]because he is the Son of man.

28 Wonder not at this: for the hour is coming, in which all who are in their graves will hear his voice,

29 [u]And will come forth; [x]those who have done good, to the resurrection of life; and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of condemnation.

30 [y]I can do nothing of myself: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because [z]I seek not my own will, but the will of the Father who sent me.

31 [a]If I testify concerning myself, my testimony is not true.

32 ¶ [b]There is another who testifieth concerning me, and I know that the testimony which he beareth concerning me is true.

33 Ye have sent to John, [c]and he hath testified to the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but I say this, that ye may be saved.

35 He was the burning and [d]the shining light: and [e]ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ¶ But the testimony which [f]I have is greater than that of John: for [g]the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works which I do, testify concerning me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father who sent me, [h]hath himself testified concerning me. Ye have never either heard his voice, [i]or seen his form.

38 And ye have not his word remaining in you, that ye believe not him whom he hath sent.

39 ¶ [k]Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life. And [l]these are they which testify concerning me;

40 [m]Yet ye will not come to me, that ye may have life.

41 [n]I receive not honour from men;

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 [o]How can ye believe, who receive honour from each other, and seek not [p]the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: [q]he who accuseth you is Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me: [r]for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how will ye believe my words?

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 15 Thereupon the people would have made him king. 16 But withdrawing himself, he walked on the sea to his disciples: 26 reproveth the people flocking after him, and all the fleshly hearers of his word: 32 declareth himself to be the bread of life to believers. 66 Many disciples depart from him. 68 Peter confesseth him. 70 Judas is an adversary.

AFTER [a]this Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, called the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did upon the sick.

3 And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there sat with his disciples.

4 [b]And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ [c]Jesus then raising his eyes, and seeing a great company come to him, saith to Philip, Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?

6 (And he said this to try him: for he himself knew what he was about to do.)

7 Philip answered him, [d]Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that each of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, brother of Simon Peter, saith to him,

9 There is a lad here, who hath five barley-loaves, and two small fishes: [e]but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men recline. (Now there was much grass in the place.) So the men reclined in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to those reclining, and in like manner of the fishes, as much as they wished.

12 When they were satisfied, he said to his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley-loaves, which remained after they had eaten.

14 Now the men, seeing the miracle which Jesus did, said, This is truly [f]the Prophet who cometh into the world.

15 ¶ Jesus therefore knowing that they were about to come and seize him, to make him a king, retired again by himself alone into the mountain.

16 [g]And when evening came, his disciples went down to the sea,

17 And entering the ship, went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not come to them.

18 And a great wind blowing, the sea was agitated.

19 Having therefore rowed about twenty-five or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and coming near the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith to them, It is I; fear not.
21 So they gladly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship came to the land to which they were going.
22 ¶ The day following, when the people who stood by the sea-side saw that there was no other boat there, except that one which his disciples entered, and that Jesus did not go with his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone away alone;
23 (But there came other boats from Tiberias near the place where they ate bread, the Lord having given thanks:)
24 When therefore the people saw that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they also entered the ships, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.
25 And finding him beyond the sea, they said to him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?
26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say to you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were satisfied.
27 ‖Labour not for the food that perisheth, but [h]for the food that remaineth to everlasting life, which the Son of man will give you: [i]for him hath God the Father approved.
28 And they said to him, What shall we do, that we may work the works of God?
29 Jesus answered and said to them, [k]This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.
30 They said therefore to him, [l]What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?
31 [m]Our fathers ate manna in the desert; as it is written, [n]He gave them bread from heaven to eat.
32 Then Jesus said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.
33 For the bread of God is he who cometh down from heaven, and giveth life to the world.
34 [o]They said therefore to him, Lord, always give us this bread.
35 And Jesus said to them, [p]I am the bread of life: [q]he who cometh to me, will never hunger; and he who believeth on me, will never thirst.
36 [r]But I said to you, That ye have even seen me, and believe not.
37 [s]All that the Father giveth me, will come to me; and [t]him who cometh to me, I will by no means cast out.
38 For I have come down from heaven, [u]not to do my own will, [x]but the will of him who sent me.
39 And this is the Father's will who sent me, [y]that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it at the last day.
40 And this is the will of him who sent me, [z]that every one who seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him at the last day.
41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven.
42 And they said, [a]Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how then doth he say, I have come down from heaven?
43 Jesus therefore answered and said to them, Murmur not among yourselves.
44 [b]No one can come to me, unless the Father who sent me draw him: and I will raise him at the last day.
45 [c]It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught of God. [d]Every one then who heareth from the Father, and learneth, cometh to me.
46 [e]Not that any one hath seen the Father, [f]except he who is of God, he hath seen the Father.
47 Verily, verily, I say to you, [g]He who believeth on me hath everlasting life.
48 [h]I am the bread of life.
49 [i]Your fathers ate manna in the desert, and died.
50 [k]This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat of it, and not die.
51 I am the living bread [l]that came down from heaven: if any one eat of this bread, he will live for ever: and [m]the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.
52 The Jews therefore [n]contended among themselves, saying, [o]How can he give us his flesh to eat?
53 Jesus therefore said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, Unless [p]ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.
54 [q]Whoever eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him at the last day.
55 For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.
56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, [r]dwelleth in me, and I in him.
57 As the living Father sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, he also shall live by me.
58 [s]This is the bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers ate manna, and died: he that eateth of this bread will live for ever.
59 This he said in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.
60 [t]Many therefore of his disciples, hearing it, said, This is hard language: who can hear it?
61 But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at it, said to them, Doth this offend you?
62 [u]How then if ye see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?
63 [x]It is the Spirit that giveth life; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken to you, are spirit, and are life.
64 But [y]there are some of you who believe not. For [z]Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that would betray him.
65 And he said, Therefore [a]I have said to you, that none can come to me, unless it be given him by my Father.
66 ¶ [b]Upon this, many of his disciples went back, and no longer walked with him.
67 Jesus therefore said to the twelve, Will ye also go away?
68 And Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast [c]words of eternal life.
69 [d]And we believe, and know that thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 Jesus answered them, [c]Have I not chosen you twelve, [f]and one of you is ‖an adversary?

71 He spoke of Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon: for it was he who was to betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Jesus reproveth the ambition and boldness of his kinsmen: 10 goeth up from Galilee to the feast of ‖tabernacles: 14 teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions of him among the people. 45 The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

AND Jesus walked after this in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judea, [a]because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 [b]Now the Jews' feast of ‖tabernacles was at hand.

3 [c]His brethren therefore said to him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works which thou doest.

4 For no one doeth any thing in secret, and yet seeketh himself to be known openly. If thou doest these things, shew thyself to the world.

5 (For [d]neither did his brethren believe on him.)

6 Jesus therefore saith to them, [e]My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 [f]The world cannot hate you; but it hateth me, [g]because I testify concerning it, that its deeds are evil.

8 Go ye up to this feast: I do not yet go up to this feast; [h]for my time is not yet fully come.

9 Saying this to them, he remained in Galilee.

10 ¶ But when his brethren were gone up, then he also himself went up to the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Now [i]the Jews were seeking him at the feast, and saying, Where is he?

12 And [k]there was much murmuring about him among the people. [l]Some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he leadeth astray the people.

13 None however spoke openly concerning him, [m]for fear of the Jews.

14 ¶ But now at the middle of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple and taught.

15 [n]And the Jews wondered, saying, How knoweth this man ‖the scriptures, having never learned them?

16 Jesus answered them, and said, [o]My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me.

17 [p]If any one will do his will, he will know concerning my teaching, whether it is of God, or whether I speak from myself.

18 [q]He who speaketh from himself, seeketh his own glory: but he who seeketh the glory of him who sent him, he is true, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

19 [r]Hath not Moses given you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? [s]Why do ye seek to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, [t]Thou hast a demon: who seeketh to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said to them, I have done one work, and ye all wonder at this.

22 [u]Moses hath given you circumcision, (not that it is of Moses, [x]but of the fathers;) and on the Sabbath ye circumcise a man.

23 If a man receiveth circumcision on the Sabbath, ‖that the law of Moses be not violated; are ye angry at me, because [y]I have made a man entirely well on the Sabbath?

24 [z]Judge not according to appearance, but judge with righteous judgment.

25 Then said some of those of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26 But lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him. [a]Do the rulers indeed acknowledge that this is truly the Christ?

27 [b]But we know this man, whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is.

28 Jesus therefore cried in the temple, as he taught, saying, [c]Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and [d]I am not come of myself, but he who sent me [e]is true, [f]whom ye know not!

29 But [g]I know him; for I am from him, and he sent me.

30 Therefore [h]they sought to take him: but [i]no one laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 But [k]many of the people believed on him, and said, When the Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 ¶ The Pharisees heard the people murmuring thus concerning him: and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Jesus therefore said to them, [l]Yet a little while I am with you, and I go to him who sent me.

34 Ye [m]will seek me, and will not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come.

35 The Jews then said among themselves, Where is he going, that we shall not find him? Is he going to [n]those dispersed among the Greeks, to teach the Greeks?

36 What is this word which he spoke, Ye will seek me, and will not find me: and where I am ye cannot come?

37 [o]And on the last, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, [p]If any one thirst, let him come to me and drink!

38 [q]He who believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, [r]from his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 ([s]But this he spoke concerning the Spirit, which those who believed on him were to receive, for the Holy Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet [t]glorified.)

40 ¶ Many of the people therefore, hearing these words, said, This is truly [u]the Prophet.

41 Others said, [x]This is the Christ. But others said, Doth the Christ come [y]from Galilee?

42 [z]Doth not the scripture say that the Christ cometh from the seed of David, and from the town of Bethlehem, [a]where David was?

43 So [b]there arose a division among the people on account of him.

44 And [c]some of them wished to seize him; but no one laid hands on him.

45 ¶ Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said to them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, [d]Never man spoke like this man!

47 The Pharisees therefore answered them, Are ye also led astray?

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Christ delivereth the woman taken in adultery. 12 He proclaimeth himself the light of the world, and justifieth his doctrine: 33 answereth the Jews that boasted of Abraham, 59 and conveyeth himself from their cruelty.

AND Jesus went to the mount of Olives.
2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came to him; and he sat down and taught them.
3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought to him a woman taken in adultery: and placing her in the midst,
4 They say to him, Teacher, this woman was taken in the very act of adultery.
5 [a]Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: what then sayest thou?
6 This they said, trying him, that they might be able to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground.
7 But as they continued asking him, he raised himself, and said to them, [b]Let him who is without sin among you, first cast a stone at her.
8 And again stooping down, he wrote on the ground.
9 And those who heard it, [c]being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, to the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.
10 And Jesus raising himself, and seeing none but the woman, said to her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath none condemned thee?
11 She said, No one, Lord. And Jesus said to her, [d]Nor do I condemn thee: go, and [e]sin no more.
12 ¶ Again therefore Jesus spoke to them, saying, [f]I am the light of the world: he who followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.
13 The Pharisees therefore said to him, [g]Thou testifiest concerning thyself; thy testimony is not true.
14 Jesus answered and said to them, Though I testify concerning myself, my testimony is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but [h]ye know not whence I come, and whither I go.
15 [i]Ye judge according to the flesh, [k]I judge no one.
16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for [l]I am not alone, but I and the Father who sent me.
17 [m]And in your law too it is written, that the testimony of two men is true.
18 I am one that testify concerning myself; and [n]the Father who sent me, testifieth concerning me.
19 And they said to him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, [o]Ye neither know me, nor my Father: [p]if ye knew me, ye would also know my Father.
20 These words Jesus spoke in [q]the treasury, while teaching in the temple: and [r]no one seized him, because [s]his hour was not yet come.
21 Now again Jesus said to them, I go away, and [t]ye will seek me, and [u]will die in your sins: where I go, ye cannot come.
22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself, that he saith, Where I go, ye cannot come?
23 And he said to them, [x]Ye are from below; I am from above: [y]ye are of this world; I am not of this world.
24 [z]I said therefore to you, that ye will die in your sins: [a]for if ye believe not that I am he, ye will die in your sins.
25 They said then to him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith to them, That which I said to you from the beginning.
26 I have much to say, and to judge concerning you: but [b]he who sent me, is true; and [c]I say that to the world which I have heard from him.
27 They understood not that he spoke to them of the Father.
28 Jesus therefore said to them, When ye have [d]lifted up the Son of man, [e]then ye will know that I am he, and [f]do nothing of myself, but speak these things [g]as my Father hath taught me.
29 And [h]he who sent me is with me: [i]the Father hath not left me alone; [k]for I always do that which pleaseth him.
30 As he spoke this, [l]many believed on him.
31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews who believed on him, If ye continue in my word, ye are truly my disciples;
32 And ye shall know the truth, and [m]the truth will make you free.
33 ¶ They answered him, [n]We are the offspring of Abraham, and were never in bondage to any one: how sayest thou, Ye shall become free?
34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say to you, [o]Whoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin.
35 And [p]the servant remaineth not in the house for ever; the Son remaineth for ever.
36 [q]If the Son therefore make you free, ye will be free indeed.
37 I know that ye are Abraham's offspring; but [r]ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.
38 [s]I speak what I have seen with my Father: and ye do what ye have seen with your father.
39 They answered and said to him, [t]Our father is Abraham. Jesus saith to them, [u]If ye were children of Abraham, ye would do the works of Abraham.
40 [x]But now ye seek to kill me, a man who hath told you the truth, [y]which I heard from God: this did not Abraham.
41 Ye do the deeds of your father. They said then to him, We are not born of fornication; [z]we have one Father, God.
42 Jesus said to them, [a]If God were your Father, ye would love me: [b]for I came forth from God, and am come from him; [c]nor have I come of myself, but he sent me

43 [d]Why do ye not understand my speech? because ye cannot hear my word.
44 [e]Ye are of your father the devil, and ye choose to do the desires of your father: he was a murderer from the beginning, and [f]abideth not in the truth; because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh after his own way: for he is a liar, and the father of it.
45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.
46 Who of you convicteth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?
47 [g]He who is of God, heareth God's words: ye on this account hear them not, because ye are not of God.
48 The Jews therefore answered, and said to him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and [h]hast a demon?
49 Jesus answered, I have not a demon; but I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me.
50 And [i]I seek not my own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.
51 Verily, verily, I say to you, [k]If a man keep my word, he shall never see death.
52 The Jews then said to him, Now we know that thou hast a demon. [l]Abraham died, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my word, he shall never taste of death!
53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, who died? and the prophets died: whom makest thou thyself?
54 Jesus answered, [m]If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: [n]it is my Father that honoureth me, of whom ye say, that he is your God.
55 Yet [o]ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like you: but I know him, and keep his word.
56 Your father Abraham [p]rejoiced that he should see my day: [q]and he saw it, and was glad.
57 The Jews then said to him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?
58 Jesus said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, Before Abraham was, [r]I am.
59 Therefore they [s]took up stones to throw at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, [t]going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER IX.

1 The man that was born blind restored to sight. 8 He is brought to the Pharisees. 13 They are offended at it, and excommunicate him: 35 but he is received by Jesus, and acknowledgeth him. 39 Who they are whom Christ enlighteneth.

AND as he passed on, he saw a man blind from his birth.
2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, [a]who sinned, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?
3 Jesus answered, Neither this man sinned, nor his parents; [b]but that the works of God might be made manifest in him.
4 [c]I must work the works of him who sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when none can work.
5 While I am in the world, [d]I am the light of the world.
6 Saying this, [e]he spit on the ground, and make clay of the spittle, and ‖anointed with the clay the eyes of the blind man,
7 And said to him, Go, wash them [f]in the pool of Siloam, (which interpreted, is Sent.) [g]He went therefore, and washed them, and came seeing.
8 ¶ The neighbours therefore, and those who before had seen him that he was ‖blind, said, Is not this he who sat and begged?
9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.
10 Therefore said they to him, How were thine eyes opened?
11 He answered and said, [h]A man called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said to me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash them: and I went and washed them, and received sight.
12 And they said to him, Where is he? He said, I know not.
13 ¶ They bring to the Pharisees him who before was blind.
14 And it was the Sabbath when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.
15 Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. He said to them, He put clay on my eyes, and I washed them, and see.
16 Some of the Pharisees therefore said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath. Others said, [i]How can a sinful man do such miracles? And [k]there was a division among them.
17 They say again to the blind man, What sayest thou of him, that he opened thine eyes? He said, [l]He is a prophet.
18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he was blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him who had received his sight.
19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see?
20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:
21 But how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he will speak for himself.
22 His parents said this, because [m]they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any one acknowledged him as the Christ, he [n]should be put out of the synagogue.
23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.
24 Now a second time they called the man who was blind, and said to him, [o]Give God the praise: [p]we know that this man is a sinner.
25 He answered and said, Whether he is a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, being once blind, I now see.
26 And they said to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?
27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: why will ye hear it again? will ye also become his disciples?
28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are disciples of Moses.
29 We know that God hath spoken to Moses; but as to this man, [q]we know not whence he is.

30 The man answered and said to them, [r]Why, in this is a wonderful thing, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 And we know that [s]God heareth not sinners: but if any one be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began it was not heard that any man opened the eyes of one born blind.

33 [t]If this man were not from God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said to him, [u]Thou wert wholly born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they ‖cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out: and finding him, he said to him, Dost thou believe on [x]the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him?

37 And Jesus said to him, Thou hast both seen him, and [y]it is he who talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

39 ¶ And Jesus said, [z]For judgment I am come into this world; [a]that those who see not may see, and those who see, may become blind.

40 And those of the Pharisees who were with him heard this, [b]and said to him, Are we also blind?

41 Jesus said to them, [c]If ye were blind, ye would not have sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ is the door, and the good shepherd. 19 Various opinions of him. 24 He proveth by his works that he is Christ the Son of God: 39 escapeth the Jews, 40 and went again beyond Jordan, where many believed on him.

VERILY, verily, I say to you, He who entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, he is a thief and a robber.

2 But he who entereth in by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him, because they know his voice.

5 But a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him: because they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable Jesus spoke to them: but they understood not what it was which he was speaking to them.

7 Jesus therefore said to them again, Verily, verily, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All who have come before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 [a]I am the door: by me if any one enter, he will be saved, and will go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but to steal, and kill, and destroy: I am come that they may have life, and that they may have it abundantly.

11 [b]I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But the hireling, who is not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and [c]leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf seizeth them, and scattereth the sheep.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd, and [d]know my sheep, and am known by mine,

15 [e]As the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father: [f]and I lay down my life for the sheep.

16 And I have [g]other sheep, which are not of this fold: these also I must bring; and they will hear my voice, [h]and there will become one fold, one shepherd.

17 Therefore my Father loveth me, [i]because I lay down my life, that I may take it again.

18 No one taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I [k]have power to take it again. [l]This command I have received from my Father.

19 ¶ [m]Again then there arose a division among the Jews on account of these words.

20 And many of them said, [n]He hath a demon, and is mad; why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of one who hath a demon. [o]Can a demon [p]open the eyes of the blind?

22 ¶ And the feast of the dedication took place at Jerusalem, and it was winter.

23 And Jesus was walking in the temple [r]in the porch of Solomon.

24 The Jews therefore surrounded him, and said to him, How long dost thou ‖keep us in doubt? If thou art the Christ, tell us plainly.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: [s]the works which I do in my Father's name, these bear witness of me.

26 But [t]ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said to you.

27 [u]My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:

28 And I give to them eternal life; and [x]they shall never perish; none shall pluck them from my hand.

29 [y]My Father, [z]who gave them me, is greater than all; and none can pluck them from my Father's hand.

30 [a]I and my Father are one.

31 Again therefore [b]the Jews took up stones to stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, [c]makest thyself God.

34 Jesus answered them, [d]Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, [e]to whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be annulled;

36 Say ye of him [f]whom the Father consecrated, and [g]sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; [h]because I said, I am [i]the Son of God?

37 [k]If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do, even though ye believe not me, [l]believe the works: that ye may know and believe [m]that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 [n]Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped from their hand,

40 And went away again beyond the Jordan, into the place [o]where John at first immersed, and remained there.

41 And many resorted to him, and said, John indeed did no miracle; [p]but all that John spoke of this man was true.

42 [q]And many believed on him there.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Christ raiseth Lazarus, four days buried. 45 Many Jews believe. 47 The high priests and Pharisees gather a council against Christ. 49 Caiaphas prophesieth. 54 Jesus hid himself. 55 At the passover they inquire after him, and lay wait for him.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of [a]Mary and her sister Martha.

2 ([b]It was that Mary who anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent to him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

4 And Jesus hearing it, said, This sickness is not to death, [c]but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified by it.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When therefore he heard that he was sick, [d]he remained two days in the place where he was.

7 Then after this he saith to his disciples, Let us go back into Judea.

8 His disciples say to him, Master, [e]the Jews were just now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? [f]If any one walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But [g]if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because he hath no light.

11 He said this: and after this he saith to them, Our friend Lazarus [h]sleepeth; but I go that I may awake him.

12 And his disciples said, Lord, if he sleepeth, he will recover.

13 But Jesus spoke of his death: but they thought that he spoke of the repose of sleep.

14 Then Jesus said to them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, that ye may believe; but let us go to him.

16 Then said Thomas, called Didymus, to his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Now Jesus, when he came, found that he had been already four days in the grave.

18 (And Bethany was near Jerusalem, ‖about fifteen furlongs off:)

19 And many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to console them for their brother.

20 Now Martha, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went to meet him: but Mary sat in the house.

21 And Martha said to Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But even now I know that [i]whatever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee.

23 Jesus saith to her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith to him, [k]I know that he will rise in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Jesus said to her, I am [l]the resurrection and the [m]life: [n]he who believeth on me, even though he were dead, shall live.

26 And whoever liveth, and believeth on me, shall never die. Believest thou this?

27 She saith to him, Yea, Lord: [o]I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, who cometh into the world.

28 And saying this, she went and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Teacher is come, and calleth for thee.

29 When she heard it, she arose quickly, and came to him.

30 But Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 [p]The Jews then who were with her in the house, and consoling her, seeing that Mary arose hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, she goeth to the grave to weep there.

32 Now when Mary came where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell at his feet, saying to him, [q]Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 Jesus, therefore, when he saw her weeping, and the Jews weeping who came with her, groaned in spirit, and †was troubled,

34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They say to him, Lord, come and see.

35 [r]Jesus wept.

36 The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him!

37 And some of them said, Could not he [s]who opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not die?

38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of the dead, saith to him, Lord, by this time he is offensive: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith to her, Did I not say to thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest [t]see the glory of God?

41 So they took away the stone from the place where the dead was lying. And Jesus raised upward his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me:

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but [u]I speak for the sake of the people who stand by, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And saying this, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth!

44 And the dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes: and [x]his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith to them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Therefore many of the Jews who came to Mary, [y]and saw what Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went to the Pharisees, and told them what Jesus had done.

47 ¶ [z]Therefore the chief priests and the Pharisees assembled a council, and said, [a]What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him go on thus, all will believe on him: and the Romans will come, and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named [b]Caiaphas, being high priest for that year, said to them, Ye know nothing,

50 [c]Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 (But this he said not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus was about to die for the nation;

52 And [d]not for that nation only, [e]but that he might also gather in one the scattered children of God.)

53 From that day, therefore, they conspired together to slay him.

54 Jesus [f]therefore no longer walked openly among the Jews; but went thence into the country near the desert, into a city called [g]Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ [h]And the Jews' passover was near: and many from the country went up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves.

56 [i]Now they were seeking Jesus, and saying among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 And the chief priests and the Pharisees had also given a command, that, if any one knew where he was, he should point it out, that they might take him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jesus excuseth Mary anointing his feet. 9 The people flock to see Lazarus. 10 The high priests consult to kill him. 12 Christ rideth into Jerusalem. 20 Greeks desire to see Jesus. 23 He foretelleth his death. 37 The Jews are generally blinded: 42 yet many chief rulers believe, but do not confess him: 44 therefore Jesus calleth earnestly for confession of faith.

NOW Jesus, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, [a]where Lazarus was who had died, whom he raised from the dead.

2 [b]There they made him a supper; and Martha served: but Lazarus was one of those who reclined with him at table.

3 Then [c]Mary, taking a pound of ointment of pure, costly nard, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, who was about to betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and [d]had the purse, and carried what was put into it.

7 Jesus therefore said, Let her alone: she hath kept this for the day of my burial.

8 For [e]the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

9 Now a great multitude of the Jews knew that he was there: and they came, not only on account of Jesus, but also to see Lazarus, [f]whom he had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ [g]But the chief priests consulted that they might also slay Lazarus;

11 [h]Because on account of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 ¶ [i]On the next day, a great multitude that had come to the feast, hearing that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem,

13 Took branches of palm-trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, [k]Hosanna! Blessed is the King of Israel who cometh in the name of the Lord!

14 [l]And Jesus, finding a young ass, sat upon it; as it is written,

15 [m]Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

16 And his disciples at first [n]did not understand this: [o]but when Jesus was glorified, [p]they then remembered that this was written of him, and that they did this to him.

17 The multitude therefore that was with him, testified that he called Lazarus from the tomb, and raised him from the dead.

18 [q]For this reason also the multitude met him, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, [r]Do ye see that ye avail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ And there [s]were certain Greeks among those [t]who came up to worship at the feast.

21 These therefore came to Philip, [u]who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we wish to see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again, Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them, saying, [x]The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say to you, [y]Unless the grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it remaineth alone: but if it die, it beareth much fruit.

25 [z]He who loveth his life will lose it; and he who hateth his life in this world, will keep it for life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and [a]where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any one serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 [b]Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour! [c]but for this cause I came to this hour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. [d]There came then a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered. Others said, an angel hath spoken to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, [e]This voice came not for my sake, but yours.

31 Now is the judgment of this world. now will [f]the prince of this world be cast forth.

32 And I, [g]if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw [h]all men to myself.

33 ([i]This he said, indicating by what death he was to die.)

34 The people answered him, [k]We have heard from the law that the Christ remaineth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of man?

35 Jesus therefore said to them, Yet a little while [l]is the light with you. [m]Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness overtake you: for [n]he who walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have the light, trust to the light, that ye may be [o]sons of light. Jesus having said this, departed, and [p]hid himself from them.

37 ¶ But though he had done so many miracles before them, they believed not on him:

38 That the words of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke, [q]Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because Isaiah said again,

40 [r]He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; lest they should see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I should heal them.

41 [s]This Isaiah said, when he saw his glory, and spoke of him.

42 ¶ Still, however, many even among the rulers believed on him; but [t]on account of the Pharisees they did not acknowledge him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:

43 [u]For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 ¶ But Jesus cried, and said, [x]He who believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him who sent me:

45 And [y]he who seeth me, seeth him who sent me.

46 [z]I am come a light into the world, that whoever believeth on me may not remain in darkness.

47 And if any one hear my words, and believe not, [a]I judge him not: for [b]I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 [c]He who rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: [d]the word which I have spoken, that will judge him in the last day.

49 For [e]I have not spoken of myself; but the Father who sent me, he gave me a command, [f]what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his command is life everlasting: whatever then I speak, as the Father hath said to me, so I speak.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Jesus washeth the disciples' feet; exhorteth them to humility and love. 18 He foretelleth, and discovereth to John by a token, that Judas would betray him: 31 commandeth them to love one another, 36 and forewarneth Peter of his denial.

NOW [a]before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that [b]his hour was come that he should depart from this world to the Father, having loved his own who were in the world, loved them to the end.

2 And they being at supper, ([c]the devil having now put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, son of Simon, to betray him,)

3 Jesus knowing [d]that the Father had given all things into his hands, and [e]that he came forth from God, and was going to God;

4 [f]Ariseth from supper, and laying aside his garment, took a towel, and girded himself.

5 Then he poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel with which he was girded.

6 So he cometh to Simon Peter: and [†]Peter saith to him, Lord, [g]dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered and said to him, What I do thou knowest not now; [h]but thou wilt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith to him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, [i]Unless I wash thee thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith to him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and head.

10 Jesus saith to him, He who hath bathed himself needeth only to wash his feet, but is then wholly clean: and [k]ye are clean, but not all.

11 For [l]he knew who would betray him: therefore he said, Ye are not all clean.

12 So when he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, having lain down again, he said to them, Do ye understand what I have done to you?

13 [m]Ye call me the Teacher and the Lord: and ye say well; for so I am.

14 [n]If then I, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet; [o]ye also ought to wash the feet of each other.

15 For [p]I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 [q]Verily, verily, I say to you, The servant is not greater than his lord; nor he who is sent greater than he who sent him.

17 [r]If ye know these things, ye are happy if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all; I know whom I have chosen; but that the scripture may be fulfilled, [s]He who eateth bread with me, hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 [t]‖ Now I tell you before it happeneth, that when it happeneth, ye may believe that I am he.

20 [u]Verily, verily, I say to you, He who receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me; and he who receiveth me, receiveth him who sent me.

21 [x]Having said this, [y]Jesus was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say to you, that [z]one of you will betray me.

22 The disciples therefore looked at each other, being at a loss concerning whom he spoke.

23 Now [a]there was reclining on the bosom of Jesus, one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, to ask who it was of whom he spoke.

25 He then, lying on Jesus' breast, saith to him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give the morsel, when I have dipped it. And he dipped the morsel and gave it to Judas Iscariot the son of Simon.

27 [b]And after the morsel Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus to him, What thou doest, do quickly.

28 But no one at table knew for what he spoke this to him.

29 For some thought, since [c]Judas had the purse, that Jesus had said to him, Buy what we need for the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then, taking the morsel, went immediately out; and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, [d]Now is the Son of man glorified, and [e]God is glorified in him.

32 [f]If God is glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself, and [e]will immediately glorify him.

33 Children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye will seek me; [h]and, as I said to the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come, so now I say to you.

34 [i]A new commandment I give to you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 [k]By this all will know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love toward one another.

36 ¶ Simon Peter said to him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but [l]thou shalt follow me afterward.

37 Peter said to him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will [m]lay down my life for thee.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say to thee, The cock will not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples with the hope of heaven: 6 professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life, and one with the Father: 13 assureth their prayers in his name to be effectual: 15 requesteth love and obedience, 16 promiseth the Holy Spirit the Comforter, 27 and leaveth his peace with them.

LET [a]not your heart be troubled: trust in God, and trust in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. [b]I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, [c]I will come again and receive you to myself; that [d]where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith to him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith to him, I am [e]the way, and [f]the truth, and [g]the life: [h]no one cometh to the Father, but by me.

7 [i]If ye had known me, ye would also have known my Father: and henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith to him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith to him, Have I been so long with you, and hast thou not known me, Philip? [k]he who hath seen me, hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that [l]I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak to you, [m]I speak not of myself: but the Father, who dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: [n]or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 [o]Verily, verily, I say to you, He who believeth on me, the works which I do he will do also; and greater works than these will he do; because I go to my Father.

13 [p]And whatever ye shall ask in my name, this I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ¶ [q]If ye love me, keep my commandments:

16 And I will ask the Father, and [r]he will give you another ‖Comforter, that he may remain with you for ever;

17 [s]The Spirit of truth; [t]whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, nor knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, [u]and will be in you.

18 [x]I will not leave you orphans: [y]I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but [z]ye see me: [a]because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye will know that [b]I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 [c]He who hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is who loveth me: and he who loveth me, will be loved by my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 [d]Judas saith to him, (not Iscariot,) Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself to us, and not to the world?

23 Jesus answered and said to him, [e]If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, [f]and we will come to him, and make our abode with him.

24 He who loveth me not, keepeth not my words: and [g]the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things I have spoken to you, while remaining with you.

26 But [h]the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, [i]he will teach you all things, and remind you of all that I have said to you.

27 [k]Peace I leave with you, my peace I give to you: not as the world giveth, give I to you. [l]Let not your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid.

28 Ye heard how [m]I said to you, I go away, and come to you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, [n]I go to the Father: for [o]my Father is greater than I.

29 And [p]now I have told you before it happeneth, that when it happeneth, ye may believe.

30 I shall no longer talk much with you: [q]for the prince of this world cometh; and in me he hath nothing:

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and [r]as the Father gave me commandment, so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The consolation and mutual love between Christ and his members, under the parable of the vine. 18 A comfort in the hatred and persecution of the world. 26 The office of the Holy Spirit, and of the apostles.

I AM the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 [a]Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth, that it may bear more fruit.

3 [b]Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken to you.

4 [c]Remain in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it remain in the vine: no more can ye, unless ye remain in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He who remaineth in me, and I in him, he beareth much [d]fruit: for ‖apart from me ye can do nothing.

6 If a man remain not in me, [e]he is cast forth like the branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and throw them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 If ye remain in me, and my words remain in you, [f]ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done to you.

8 [g]In this is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; [h]so will ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue in my love.

10 [i]If ye keep my commandments, ye will continue in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and continue in his love.

11 These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may remain in you, and [k]that your joy may be full.

12 [l]This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 [m]None hath greater love than this, that he lay down his life for his friends.

14 [n]Ye are my friends, if ye do whatever I command you.

15 I no longer call you servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I call you friends; [o]for all things which I have heard from my Father, I have made known to you.

16 [p]Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and [q]appointed you, that ye go and bear fruit, and that your fruit remain: that [r]whatever ye ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 [s]This I command you, That ye love one another.

18 [t]If the world hateth you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 [u]If ye were of the world, the world would love its own; but [x]because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said to you, [y]The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: [z]if they have kept my word, they will also keep yours.

21 But [a]all this they will do to you on account of my name, because they know not him who sent me.

22 [b]If I had not come and spoken to them, they had not had sin: [c]but now they have no ‖pretext for their sin.

23 [d]He who hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them [e]the works which no other one hath done, they had not had sin: but now they have both seen, and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this is, that the word may be fulfilled which is written in their law, [f]They hated me without a cause.

26 [g]But when the Comforter cometh, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, that proceedeth from the Father, [h]he will testify of me.

27 And [i]ye too will testify, because [k]ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples against tribulation by the promise of the Holy Spirit, and by his resurrection and ascension: 23 assureth their prayers made in his name to be acceptable to his Father. 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

THESE things I have spoken to you, that ye [a]may not fall away.

2 [b]They will put you out of the synagogues: nay, the time cometh, [c]that whoever killeth you, will think that he doeth God service.

3 And [d]this they will do to you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But [e]I have said this to you, that when the time cometh, ye may remember that I told you of it. And [f]I said not this to you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now [g]I go to him who sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said this to you, [h]sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 But I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, [i]the Comforter will not come to you; but [k]if I depart, I will send him to you.

8 And he, when he cometh, will ‖convict the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 [l]Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 [m]Of righteousness, [n]because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 [o]Of judgment, because [p]the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet much to say to you, [q]but ye cannot bear it now.

13 But when he, [r]the Spirit of truth cometh, [s]he will guide you into all truth: for he will not speak from himself; but whatever he shall hear, he will speak: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He will glorify me: for he will receive of mine, and will shew it to you.

15 [t]All things which the Father hath are mine: therefore I said, that he will take of mine, and will shew it to you.

16 [u]A little while, and ye see me not: and again, a little while, and ye will see me, [x]because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this which he saith to us, A little while, and ye see me not: and again, a little while, and ye will see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we know not what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said to them, Are ye inquiring among yourselves of this that I said, A little while, and ye see me not: and again, a little while, and ye will see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say to you, that ye will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice: and ye will be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 [x]A woman in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when her child is born, she no longer remembereth her anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 [y]And so ye now indeed have sorrow: but I shall see you again, and [z]your heart will rejoice, and your joy none taketh from you.

23 And on that day ye will ask me nothing. [a]Verily, verily, I say to you,

Whatever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give you.

24 Hitherto ye have asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, [b]that your joy may be full.

25 These things I have spoken to you in parables: but the time cometh when I shall no more speak to you in parables, but shall announce to you plainly concerning the Father.

26 [c]At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not to you, that I will pray the Father for you:

27 [d]For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and [e]have believed that I came forth from God.

28 [f]I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples said to him, Lo, now thou speakest plainly, and speakest no parable.

30 Now we are sure that [g]thou knowest all things, and needest not that any one should ask thee: by this [h]we believe that thou camest forth from God.

31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 [i]Behold, the hour cometh, and is now come, when ye will be scattered [k]each to ‖his place, and will leave me alone: [l]yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 I have said this to you, that [m]in me ye may have peace. [n]In the world ye will have affliction, [o]but take courage: [p]I have overcome the world.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Christ prayeth to his Father to glorify him, 6 to preserve his apostles, 11 in unity, 17 and truth, 20 to glorify them, and all other believers with him in heaven.

THUS spoke Jesus, and raised his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, [a]the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

2 [b]As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many [c]as thou hast given him.

3 And [d]this is life eternal, that they may know thee [e]the only true God, and Jesus Christ [f]whom thou hast sent.

4 [g]I have glorified thee on the earth: [h]I have finished the work [i]which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, do thou, Father, glorify me with thyself, with the glory [k]which I had with thee before the world was.

6 [l]I have manifested thy name to the men [m]whom thou hast given me from the world: thine they were, and thou hast given them to me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things which thou hast given me are from thee:

8 For I have given them the words [n]which thou gavest me; and they have received them, [o]and have known surely that I came forth from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: I [p]pray not for the world, but for those whom thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and [q]thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 [r]And I am no longer in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee.

12 While I was with them in the world, [x]I kept them in thy name; those whom thou hast given me I have kept, and [y]none of them is lost, [z]but the son of perdition; [a]that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now I come to thee, and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 [b]I have given them thy word; [c]and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, [d]as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou wouldest take them out of the world, but [e]that thou wouldest keep them from the evil.

16 [f]They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

17 [g]Sanctify them through thy truth: [h]thy word is truth.

18 [i]As thou hast sent me into the world, so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And [k]for their sakes I consecrate myself, that they also may be consecrated through the truth.

20 And I pray not for these alone; but for those also who will believe on me through their word:

21 [l]That they all may be one; as [m]thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; [n]that they may be one, as we are one;

23 I in them, and thou in me, [o]that they may be made perfectly one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

24 [p]Father, those whom thou hast given me, I will that they also be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me: [q]for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 Righteous Father, [r]the world hath not known thee: but [s]I have known thee, and [t]these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 [u]And I have made known to them thy name, and will make it known: that the love [x]with which thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Judas betrayeth Jesus. 6 The officers fall to the ground. 10 Peter smiteth off Malchus' ear. 12 Jesus is taken, and led to Annas and Caiaphas. 15 Peter's denial. 19 Jesus examined before Caiaphas. 28 His arraignment before Pilate. 36 His kingdom. 40 The Jews ask Barabbas to be let loose.

HAVING thus spoken, [a]Jesus went forth with his disciples over [b]the brook Kedron, where was a garden, which he entered with his disciples.

2 And Judas also, who betrayed him, knew the place: [c]for Jesus often resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Now [d]Judas, taking the band and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore, knowing all that was coming upon him, went forth, and said to them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith to them, I am he. And Judas also, who betrayed him, stood among them.

[a] Mat. 26. 36. Mark 14. 32. Luke 22. 39.
[b] 2 Sam. 15. 23.

[c] Luke 21. 37. & 22. 39.

[d] Mat. 26. 47. Mark 14. 43. Luke 22. 47. Acts 1. 16.

6 Now, as he said to them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.
7 Again then he asked them, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.
8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he. If therefore ye seek me, let these depart:
9 That the word might be fulfilled which he spoke, [e]Of those whom thou gavest me, I have lost none.
10 [f]Now Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.
11 Jesus therefore said to Peter, Put thy sword into the sheath: [g]the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?
12 So the band, and the captain, and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him,
13 And [h]led him away first to [i]Annas; for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was high priest that year.‖
14 [k]And Caiaphas was he who gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should perish for the people.
15 ¶ [l]And Simon Peter followed Jesus, with another disciple. And that disciple was known to the high priest, and went in with Jesus, into the palace of the high priest.
16 [m]But Peter stood at the door without. Now the other disciple who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to the door-keeper, and brought in Peter.
17 And the maid who kept the door saith to Peter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.
18 And the servants and officers having made a fire of coals, (for it was cold,) stood and warmed themselves: and Peter stood among them, and warmed himself.
19 ¶ The high priest then asked Jesus concerning his disciples, and concerning his teaching.
20 Jesus answered him, [n]I spoke openly to the world; I always taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, where the Jews always assemble; and in secret I said nothing.
21 Why askest thou me? ask those who heard me, what I said to them: behold, they know what I said.
22 And as he had said this, one of the officers who stood by, [o]struck Jesus ‖on the face, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?
23 Jesus answered him, If I spoke evilly, testify concerning the evil: and if well, why dost thou smite me?
24 ([p]Now Annas had sent him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.)
25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. [q]They said therefore to him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.
26 One of the servants of the high priest (being a kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off) saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?
27 Peter then denied again: and [r]immediately the cock crowed.
28 ¶ [s]Now they bring Jesus from Caiaphas into the ‖palace: and it was early; [t]and they themselves did not enter the palace, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.
29 Pilate therefore went out to them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?
30 They answered and said to him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him to thee.
31 Pilate therefore said to them, Do ye take him, and judge him according to your law. And the Jews said to him, It is not permitted us to put any one to death:
32 [u]That the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spoke, indicating by what death he was to die.
33 [x]So Pilate again entered the palace, and called Jesus, and said to him, Art thou the King of the Jews?
34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this of thyself, or have others told thee concerning me?
35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the chief priests, have delivered thee to me. What hast thou done?
36 [y]Jesus answered, [z]My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, my servants would contend, that I might not be delivered to the Jews: but now my kingdom is not from hence.
37 Pilate therefore said to him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, ‖Thou sayest that I am a king. For this was I born, and for this I am come into the world, that I may testify to the truth. Every one who [a]is of the truth, heareth my voice.
38 Pilate saith to him, What is truth? And saying this, he went out again to the Jews, and saith to them, [b]I find no fault in him.
39 [c]But ye have a custom that I release to you one at the passover: will ye therefore, that I release to you the King of the Jews?
40 [d]And they all cried again, saying, Not him, but Barabbas! [e]Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Christ is scourged, crowned with thorns, and beaten. 4 Pilate is desirous to release him, but being overcome with the outrage of the Jews, he delivered him to be crucified. 23 They cast lots for his garments. 26 He commendeth his mother to John. 28 He dieth. 31 His side is pierced. 38 He is buried by Joseph and Nicodemus.

THEN therefore [a]Pilate took Jesus, and scourged him.
2 And the soldiers braided a crown of thorns, and placed it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple robe,
3 And said, Hail! King of the Jews! and gave him blows on the face.
4 Again, therefore, Pilate came out, and saith to them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, [b]that ye may know that I find no fault in him.
5 Now Jesus came forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith to them, Behold the man!
6 [c]When therefore the chief priests and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him! crucify him! Pilate saith to them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.
7 The Jews answered him, [d]We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because [e]he made himself the Son of God.

8 ¶ Now when Pilate heard these words, he was the more afraid;
9 And went again into the palace, and saith to Jesus, Whence art thou? [f]But Jesus gave him no answer.
10 And Pilate saith to him, Dost thou not speak to me? knowest thou not, that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?
11 Jesus answered, [g]Thou wouldest have no power against me, unless it were given thee from above: therefore he who delivered me to thee hath the greater sin.
12 Upon this Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, [h]If thou release him, thou art not Cesar's friend! [i]Whoever maketh himself a king, opposeth himself to Cesar!
13 ¶ Pilate, therefore, on hearing these words, brought Jesus forth, and sat down on his tribunal, in a place called the Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha.
14 (And [k]it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour:) and he saith to the Jews, Behold your King!
15 But they cried out, Away with him! away with him! crucify him! Pilate saith to them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, [l]We have no king but Cesar.
16 [m]Then therefore he delivered him to them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.
17 [n]And he bearing his cross [o]went forth into the place called the place of a skull, called in Hebrew, Golgotha;
18 Where they crucified him, and two others with him, one on either side, and Jesus between them.
19 ¶ [p]And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS.
20 Now this title many of the Jews read: for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city: and it was written in Hebrew, Greek, and Latin.
21 The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.
22 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.
23 ¶ [q]Then the soldiers, when they had nailed Jesus to the cross, took his garments, and made four parts, a part for each soldier; and his coat: now the coat was without seam, ‖woven from the top throughout.
24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, [r]They parted my garments among them, and cast lots for my vesture. Now this did the soldiers.
25 ¶ [s]And there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of ‖[t]Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.
26 Jesus therefore seeing his mother, and [u]the disciple whom he loved standing by, saith to his mother, [x]Woman, behold thy son!
27 Then he saith to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her [y]to his own home.

28 ¶ After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, [z]that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.
29 Now there stood a vessel full of vinegar: and [a]they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and presented it to his mouth.
30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, [b]It is finished! and bowing his head, he yielded up his spirit.
31 Now the Jews, [c]that the bodies might not remain upon the cross on the Sabbath, [d]since it was the preparation, (for that Sabbath was a great day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and they be taken away.
32 So the soldiers came, and broke the legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with him.
33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they did not break his legs:
34 But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and immediately there [e]came out blood and water.
35 And he who hath seen it, testifieth, and his testimony is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye also may believe.
36 For this happened, [f]that the scripture might be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.
37 And again another scripture saith, [g]They will look on him whom they pierced.
38 ¶ [h]And after this, Joseph of Arimathea (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly [i]from fear of the Jews) asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore and took the body of Jesus.
39 And [k]Nicodemus also (who at first came to Jesus by night) came and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, weighing about a hundred pounds.
40 They took therefore the body of Jesus, and [l]wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as is the Jewish custom to prepare for burial.
41 And in the place where he was crucified, there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, in which none had as yet been laid.
42 [m]Here therefore, [n]on account of the Jewish preparation, since the sepulchre was near, they laid Jesus.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Mary cometh to the sepulchre: 2 so do Peter and John, ignorant of the resurrection. 11 Jesus appeareth to Mary Magdalene, 19 and to his disciples. 24 The incredulity, and confession of Thomas. 30 The scripture is sufficient to salvation.

ON the [a]first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, to the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.
2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the [b]other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith to them, They have taken away the Lord from the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.
3 [c]Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and went to the sepulchre.
4 And the two ran together: and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he bending over, saw [d]the linen clothes lying, but did not enter.
6 Now Simon Peter cometh, following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lying;
7 And [e]the napkin which was on his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but rolled up in a place by itself.
8 Then went in also the other disciple who came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.
9 For as yet they knew not the [f]scripture, that he must arise from the dead.
10 So the disciples went back to their homes.
11 ¶ [g]But Mary stood without by the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept she bent over into the sepulchre,
12 And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.
13 And they say to her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith to them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.
14 [h]Saying this, she turned back, and saw Jesus standing, and [i]knew not that it was Jesus.
15 Jesus saith to her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith to him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.
16 Jesus saith to her, Mary. She turned, and saith to him, Rabboni, (that is, Teacher.)
17 Jesus saith to her, Lay not hold of me: for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to [k]my brethren, and say to them, [l]I ascend to my Father and your Father, and to [m]my God and your God.
18 [n]Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken thus to her.
19 ¶ [o]Now on that day at evening, being the first day of the week, and the doors having been shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith to them, Peace be to you.
20 And saying this, he shewed them his hands and his side. [p]And the disciples rejoiced at seeing the Lord.
21 Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be to you: [q]as my Father hath sent me, I also send you.
22 And saying this, he breathed on them, and saith to them, Receive the Holy Spirit.
23 [r]Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted to them; whose soever ye retain, they are retained.
24 ¶ But Thomas, one of the twelve, [s]called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.
25 The other disciples therefore said to him, We have seen the Lord. But he said to them, Unless I see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.
26 ¶ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Jesus cometh, the doors having been shut, and stood in their midst, and said, Peace be to you.
27 Then he saith to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and [t]reach thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.
28 And Thomas answered and said to him, My Lord and my God!
29 Jesus saith to him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: [u]happy they who have not seen, and yet have believed.
30 ¶ [x]And many other signs indeed Jesus performed in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book.
31 [y]But these are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; [z]and that believing ye may have life through his name.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Christ appearing again to his disciples was known of them by the great draught of fishes. 12 He dineth with them: 15 earnestly commandeth Peter to feed his lambs and sheep: 18 foretelleth him of his death: 22 rebuketh his curiosity touching John. 25 The conclusion.

AFTER this Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and he shewed himself thus.
2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and [a]Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and [b]the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.
3 Simon Peter saith to them, I go a fishing. They say to him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered their ship immediately; and on that night they caught nothing.
4 But when it was now morning, Jesus stood on the shore; the disciples however [c]knew not that it was Jesus.
5 [d]Jesus therefore saith to them, ‖Children, have ye any thing to eat? They answered him, No.
6 And he said to them, [e]Cast your net on the right side of the ship, and ye will find. They cast it therefore, and could no longer draw it, from the multitude of fishes.
7 Therefore [f]that disciple whom Jesus loved saith to Peter, It is the Lord. And Simon Peter, hearing that it was the Lord, girded to him his upper garment, (for he was naked,) and threw himself into the sea.
8 And the other disciples came in the bark (for they were not far from land, but about two hundred cubits) dragging the net with the fishes.
9 And as they came to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and a fish lying on it, and bread.
10 Jesus saith to them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.
11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of large fishes, an hundred and fifty-three: and though there were so many, the net was not broken.
12 Jesus saith to them, [g]Come and dine. And none of the disciples ventured to ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.
13 Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and in like manner the fish.
14 Now [h]this third time Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after he arose from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonah, lovest thou me more than these? He saith to him, Yea, Lord: thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him, Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again the second time, Simon son of Jonah, lovest thou me? He saith to him, Yea, Lord: thou knowest that I love thee. [i] He saith to him, Tend my sheep.

17 He saith to him the third time, Simon son of Jonah, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said to him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said to him, Lord, [k] thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith to him, Feed my sheep.

18 [l] Verily, verily, I say to thee, When thou wert young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou art old, thou wilt stretch forth thy hands, and another will gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 And he said this, indicating [m] by what death he should glorify God. And having said this, he saith to him, Follow me.

20 And Peter, turning, seeth the disciple [n] whom Jesus loved, following; (who also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?)

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what of this man?

22 Jesus saith to him, If I wish him to remain [o] till I come, what is it to thee? Follow thou me.

23 This report therefore went abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus did not say to him, He will not die; but, If I wish him to remain till I come, what is it to thee?

24 This is the disciple who testifieth of these things, and hath written these things: and [p] we know that his testimony is true.

25 [q] And there are also many other things which Jesus did, which, were they written one by one, [r] I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

¶ THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAPTER I.

1 Christ, preparing his apostles to the beholding of his ascension, gathereth them together into the mount of Olives, commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Spirit, promiseth after few days to send it: by virtue whereof they should be witnesses to him, even to the utmost parts of the earth. 9 After his ascension they are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming. 12 They accordingly return, and, giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias apostle in the place of Judas.

I WROTE my former narrative, [a] Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

2 [b] Until the day in which he was taken up, after having, through the Holy Spirit, [c] given commands to the apostles whom he had chosen:

3 [d] To whom also he shewed himself alive after his suffering, by many proofs, being seen by them during forty days, and speaking of things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 [e] And ‖being assembled with them, he commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, [f] which, saith he, ye have heard from me.

5 [g] For John indeed immersed ‖in water; [h] but ye will be immersed in the Holy Spirit not many days hence.

6 They therefore, on coming together, asked him, saying, [i] Lord, wilt thou at this time [k] restore the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said to them, [l] It is not for you to know the times or the seasons which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 [m] But ye shall receive ‖power [n] when the Holy Spirit cometh upon you: and [o] ye shall be witnesses to me, in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the extremity of the earth.

9 [p] And having spoken thus, while they looked on, [q] he was taken up; and a cloud received him from their sight.

10 And while they were gazing fixedly toward heaven as he went, behold, two men stood by them [r] in white apparel;

11 Who also said, [s] Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking toward heaven? this Jesus who is taken up from you into heaven, [t] will come in the same manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 [u] Then they returned to Jerusalem, from the mount called the Mount of Olives, which is from Jerusalem a Sabbath-day's journey.

13 And when they came in, they went up [x] into the upper room, where they were remaining; [y] Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and [z] Simon Zelotes, and [a] Judas the brother of James.

14 [b] All these continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with [c] the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with [d] his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those days Peter arising in the midst of the disciples, said, (the number [e] of the names together was about an hundred and twenty,)

16 Brethren, it was necessary that this scripture be fulfilled, [f] which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, [g] who was guide to those who seized upon Jesus.

17 For [h] he was numbered with us, and had his part allotted him in [i] this service.

18 [k] Now this man purchased a field with [l] the wages of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known to all who inhabited Jerusalem; so that that field is called in their own tongue, Aceldama, that is, A field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, [m] Let his habitation become desolate, and let no man dwell in it: and, [n] Let another take his office.

21 Therefore of the men who accompanied us, all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22 [o]Beginning from the immersion of John, until the day that [p]he was taken up from us, of these one must [q]become a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph called [r]Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, [s]who knowest the hearts of all, shew which of these two thou hast chosen,

25 [t]To take part of this ministry and apostleship, which Judas deserted, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

1 The apostles, filled with the Holy Spirit, and speaking various languages, are admired by some, and derided by others. 14 Whom Peter disproving, and shewing that the apostles spoke by the power of the Holy Spirit, that Jesus was risen from the dead, ascended into heaven, had poured down the same Holy Spirit, and was the Messiah, a man known to them to be approved of God by his miracles, wonders, and signs, and not crucified without his determinate counsel and foreknowledge: 37 he immerseth a great number that were converted. 41 Who afterwards devoutly and charitably walk together: the apostles working many miracles, and God daily increasing his church.

AND when [a]the day of Pentecost had arrived, [b]they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came from heaven a sound, as of a rushing violent wind, and [c]it filled the whole house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared to them tongues as of fire, dividing themselves, and settling upon each of them.

4 And [d]they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began [e]to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven.

6 And ‖this being reported abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because they heard them speak each in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed, and wondered, saying to each other, Behold, are not all these who speak, [f]Galileans?

8 And how do we hear, each in our own tongue, in which we were born;

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the inhabitants of Mesopotamia, and of Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

10 Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt, and the region of Libya about Cyrene, and the Roman strangers, both Jews and proselytes,

11 Cretes and Arabians, how do we hear them speaking in our tongues the wonderful works of God?

12 And they were all amazed, and greatly in doubt, saying to one another, What meaneth this?

13 Others in mockery said, They are full of new wine!

14 ¶ But Peter, standing up with the eleven, raised his voice, and said to them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye who inhabit

Jerusalem, be this known to you, and hearken to my words:

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; [g]since it is but the third hour of the day:

16 But this is that which was spoken of by the prophet Joel,

17 [h]And it will come to pass in the last days, saith God, [i]I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and [k]your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants, and on my handmaidens, I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; [l]and they shall prophesy:

19 [m]And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs on the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke.

20 [n]The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and memorable day of the Lord come.

21 And it shall be, that [o]whoever calleth on the name of the Lord, shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words! Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved to you of God [p]by miracles, and wonders, and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, [q]being delivered by the determinate counsel and purpose of God, [r]ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 [s]Whom God raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be held by it.

25 For David saith concerning him, [t]I saw the Lord always before me; for he is on my right hand, that I be not moved:

26 Therefore my heart rejoiced, and my tongue exulted; moreover also, my flesh will rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave me in the ‖grave, nor suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me paths of life; thou wilt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Brethren, I may speak openly to you [u]concerning the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his sepulchre is among us to this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, [x]and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, as to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

31 He foreseeing this, spoke of the resurrection of Christ, [y]that he was not left in the grave, nor did his flesh see corruption.

32 [z]This Jesus hath God raised up, [a]of which we all are witnesses.

33 [b]Being then exalted by the right hand of God, and [c]having received of the Father ‖the promise of the Holy Spirit, he [d]hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For David did not ascend into the heavens, but he saith himself, [e]The LORD said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God [f]hath made this same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 ¶ Now on hearing this, [g]they were pierced to the heart, and said to Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Brethren, what shall we do?

38 And Peter said to them, [h]Repent, and let each of you be immersed in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.

39 For the promise is to you, and [i]to your children, and [k]to all who are afar off, as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words he testified and entreated, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 ¶ Now those who gladly received his word, were immersed: and there were added to them on that day about three thousand souls.

42 [l]And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in the breaking of bread, and in the prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and [m]many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all who believed were together, and [n]had all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and [o]divided them among all, as any one had need.

46 [p]And continuing daily with one accord [q]in the temple, and [r]breaking bread ‖from house to house, they partook their food with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and [s]having favour with all the people. And [t]the Lord added to the church daily those who were saved.

CHAPTER III.

1 Peter preaching to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feet, 12 declareth the cure not to have been wrought by his or John's own power, or holiness, but by God, and his Son Jesus, and through faith in his name: 13 withal reprehending them for crucifying Jesus. 17 Which, because they did it through ignorance, and that thereby were fulfilled God's determinate counsel, and the scriptures: 19 he exhorteth them by repentance and faith to seek remission of their sins, and salvation in the same Jesus.

NOW Peter and John were going up together [a]into the temple, at the hour of prayer, [b]being the ninth hour.

2 And [c]a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, [d]to ask alms of those who entered the temple;

3 Who, seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked alms.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he attended to them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 And Peter said, Silver and gold I have none; but what I have, this I give thee: [e]In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, arise and walk!

7 And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up: and immediately his feet and ancle-bones received strength.

8 And [f]leaping up, he stood, and walked, and went with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 [g]And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he who [h]sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.

11 And as the lame man who was healed kept close to Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the porch [i]called Solomon's, filled with amazement.

12 ¶ And as Peter saw it, he answered the people, Ye men of Israel, why wonder ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or piety we had made him to walk?

13 [k]The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers [l]hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye [m]delivered up, and [n]denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had decided to release him.

14 But ye denied [o]the Holy [p]and Just One, and requested a murderer to be granted to you;

15 And killed the ‖Prince of life, [q]whom God raised from the dead; [r]of which we are witnesses.

16 [s]And his name, through faith in his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him, hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I know that [t]from ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But [u]that which God formerly announced [x]by the mouth of all his prophets, that the Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶ [y]Repent, therefore, and turn, that your sins may be blotted out, so that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord;

20 And he may send Jesus Christ, who was ‖formerly appointed for you:

21 [z]Whom the heaven must receive, until the times of [a]the restoration of all things, [b]which God spoke of old, by the mouth of all his holy prophets.

22 For Moses indeed said to our fathers, [c]A Prophet will the Lord your God raise up to you, from your brethren, like me; him ye shall hear in all things, whatever he shall say to you.

23 And it will be, that every soul that will not hear that Prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 And indeed all the prophets from Samuel, and those after him, as many as have spoken, have also announced these days.

25 [d]Ye are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying to Abraham, [e]And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed.

26 [f]To you first, God having raised up his Son Jesus, [g]sent him to bless you, [h]in turning away each of you from his iniquities.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The rulers of the Jews offended with Peter's sermon, 4 (though thousands of the people were converted that heard the word,) imprison him and John. 5 After, upon examination, Peter boldly avouching the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus only we must be eternally saved, 13 they command him and John to preach no more in that name, adding also threatening, 23 whereupon the church fleeth to prayer. 31 And God, by moving the place where they were assembled, testified that he heard their prayer: confirm- ing the church with the gift of the Holy Spirit, and with mutual love and charity.

AND as they were speaking to the people, the priests, and the ‖officer of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them,
2 [a]Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in prison until the next day: for it was now evening.
[b]4 But many of those who heard the word, believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.
5 ¶ And it happened on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,
6 And [b]Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and whoever were of the high priest's family, assembled at Jerusalem.
7 And placing them in the midst, they asked, [c]By what power, or by what name have ye done this?
8 [d]Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,
9 If we are examined to-day in regard to the good deed done to the infirm man, by whom he hath been healed;
10 Be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, [e]that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, [f]whom God raised from the dead, by him dŏth this man stand before you whole.
11 [g]This is the stone, despised by you, the builders, which is become the head of the corner.
12 [h]Nor is there salvation in any other: for there is no other name under heaven given among men, whereby we may be saved.
13 Now, seeing the boldness of Peter and John, [i]and knowing that they were unlearned and common men, they wondered; and they ascertained that they had been with Jesus.
14 And seeing the man who had been healed [k]standing with them, they could say nothing against it.
15 And directing them to withdraw from the council, they conferred among themselves,
16 Saying, [l]What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a noted miracle hath been done by them is [m]manifest to all who inhabit Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.
17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us order them with threats to speak no more to any man in this name.
18 [n]And they called them, and commanded them not to speak nor teach at all in the name of Jesus.
19 But Peter and John answering, said to them, [o]Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, judge ye.
20 [p]For we cannot but speak what [q]we have seen and heard.
21 And they having further threatened them, let them go, finding no means of punishing them, [r]on account of the people: for they all glorified God for [s]what had happened.
22 For the man was more than forty years old on whom this miracle of healing had been wrought.

23 ¶ And being dismissed, [t]they went to their friends, and reported what the chief priests and elders had said to them.
24 And they hearing it, with one accord raised their voice to God, and said, Lord, [u]thou art God, who madest heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things in them;
25 Who, by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, [x]Why did the nations rage, and the people imagine vain things?
26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers assembled together against the Lord, and against his Anointed.
27 For [y]in truth there assembled in this city, against [z]thy holy child Jesus, [a]whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the nations, and the people of Israel,
28 [b]To do whatever thy hand and thy will had determined should take place.
29 And now, Lord, look upon their threats: and grant to thy servants, [c]with all boldness to speak thy word,
30 While thy hand is stretched forth to heal, [d]and signs and wonders are wrought [e]by the name of [f]thine holy child Jesus.
31 ¶ And as they prayed, [g]the place was shaken where they were assembled; and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, [h]and spoke the word of God with boldness.
32 And the multitude of believers [i]were of one heart, and one soul: [k]and not one of them said that any of his possessions was his own; but they had all things common.
33 And with [l]great power the apostles [m]gave their testimony to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and [n]great grace was upon them all.
34 Nor was any among them in want: [o]for such as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of what they sold,
35 [p]And laid them at the apostles' feet: [q]and distribution was made to each according as he had need.
36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, when interpreted, Son of consolation,) a Levite, a Cyprian by birth,
37 [r]Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the feet of the apostles.

CHAPTER V.

1 After Ananias and Sapphira his wife for their hypocrisy at Peter's rebuke had fallen down dead, 12 and the rest of the apostles had wrought many miracles, 14 to the increase of the faith: 17 the apostles are again imprisoned, 19 but delivered by an angel bidding them to preach openly to all: 21 when, after their teaching accordingly in the temple, 29 and before the council, 33 they are in danger to be killed, through the advice of Gamaliel, a great counsellor among the Jews, they are kept alive, 40 and are but beaten: for which they glorify God, and cease no day from preaching.

BUT a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,
2 And kept to himself part of the price, (his wife also being aware of it,) [a]and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.
3 [b]But Peter said, Ananias, why hath [c]Satan filled thine heart ‖to lie to the Holy Spirit, and to keep back part of the price of the field?

4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and when sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied to men, but to God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words, [d]fell down, and expired. And great fear came on all who heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, [e]wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what had happened, came in.

8 And Peter answered her, Tell me whether ye sold the field for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said to her, Why have ye agreed together [f]to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of those who buried thy husband are at the door, and they will carry thee out.

10 [g]And instantly she fell at his feet, and expired. And the young men coming in, found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 [h]And great fear came upon all the church, and upon all who heard these things.

12 ¶ And [i]by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; [k]and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13 And [l]of the rest none ventured to join himself to them: [m]but the people honoured them;

14 (And believers in the Lord were added to them more, multitudes both of men and women;)

15 So that they brought forth the sick ‖into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, [n]that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 And the multitudes also from the surrounding cities came together to Jerusalem, bringing the [o]sick, and those vexed by unclean spirits; and they were all healed.

17 ¶ [p]But the high priest arising, and all who were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) were filled with ‖indignation,

18 [q]And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the public prison.

19 But [r]the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison-doors, and brought them forth, and said,

20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people [s]all the words of this life.

21 And hearing it, they went into the temple early in the morning, and taught. [t]But the high priest came, and those with him, and called together the council, and all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But the officers coming, found them not in the prison, and returning, reported,

23 Saying, The prison indeed we found shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but on opening, we found no one within.

24 And when the high priest, and [u]the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they were at a loss concerning them ‖to what this would grow.

25 But one came and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then the captain with the officers went, and brought them without violence: [x]for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.

27 And having brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, [y]Did we not strictly command you not to teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, [z]and intend to bring this man's [a]blood upon us.

29 ¶ And Peter and the other apostles answering, said, [b]We must obey God rather than men.

30 [c]The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye [d]hung on the cross and slew.

31 [e]Him hath God exalted ‖with his right hand, [f]a Prince and [g]a Saviour, [h]to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.

32 And [i]we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Spirit, [k]whom God hath given to those who obey him.

33 ¶ [l]And they hearing it, were stung with madness, and were planning to destroy them.

34 But a certain Pharisee arose in the council, named [m]Gamaliel, a teacher of the law, honoured by all the people, and directed to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said to them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye are about to do to these men:

36 For not long since arose Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all who ‖obeyed him, were scattered, and came to nought.

37 After him arose Judas the Galilean, in the days of the enrolment, and drew away a great company after him: he also perished; and all who obeyed him were dispersed.

38 And now I say to you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: [n]for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown:

39 [o]But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest perchance ye be found even [p]fighting against God.

40 And they yielded to him: and [q]calling the apostles, they [r]beat them, and commanded them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 ¶ And they departed from the presence of the council, [s]rejoicing that they were deemed worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And daily [t]in the temple, and in the house, [u]they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

AND in those days, [a]as the disciples multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the [b]‖ Hellenists against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected [c]in the daily ministration.

2 And the twelve calling to them the multitude of the disciples, said, [d]It is not proper that we should leave the word of God, and attend on tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, [e]look out among you seven men well attested, full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we [f]will give ourselves to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the advice pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, [g]a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and [h]Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and [i]Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch,

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and [k]having prayed, [l]they laid their hands on them.

7 And [m]the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied greatly in Jerusalem; and a great company [n]of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 ¶ And Stephen, full of faith and power, was performing great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 And there arose some of the so-called synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of those of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 And [o]they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit with which he spoke.

11 [p]Then they suborned men, who said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came, and seized him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, who said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 [q]For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth will [r]destroy this place, and will change the ‖customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all who sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as the face of an angel.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Stephen, permitted to answer to the accusation of blasphemy, 2 sheweth that Abraham worshipped God rightly, and how God chose the fathers 20 before Moses was born, and before the tabernacle and temple were built: 37 that Moses himself witnessed of Christ: 44 and that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the heavenly pattern, to last but for a time: 51 reprehending their rebellion, and murdering of Christ, the Just One, who the prophets foretold should come into the world. 54 Whereupon they stone him to death, who commendeth his soul to Jesus, and humbly prayeth for them.

THEN said the high priest, Is this so?

2 And he said, [a]Brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham while in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Haran,

3 And said to him, [b]Go out from thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then, [c]departing from the land of the Chaldeans, he dwelt in Haran. And from thence, after the death of his father, God removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him no inheritance in it, not even a foot-breadth: [d]yet he promised to give it to him for a possession, and to his offspring after him, while as yet he had no child.

6 And God spoke thus, [e]That his seed would sojourn in a land of strangers; and that they would enslave and afflict them [f]four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage I will judge, said God: and after that they shall come forth, and [g]serve me in this place.

8 [h]And he gave him the covenant of circumcision. [i]And so Abraham begot Isaac, and circumcised him on the eighth day; [k]and Isaac begot Jacob, and [l]Jacob begot the twelve patriarchs.

9 [m]And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: [n]but God was with him,

10 And delivered him from all his afflictions, [o]and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt, and all his house.

11 [p]And there came a famine over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction; and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 [q]But Jacob hearing that there was grain in Egypt, sent out our fathers first.

13 [r]And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren: and the family of Joseph became known to Pharaoh.

14 [s]And Joseph sent, and called for his father Jacob, and [t]all his kindred, seventy-five souls.

15 [u]So Jacob went down into Egypt, [w]and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And [x]were carried over into Shechem, and laid in [y]the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money from the sons of Hamor, father of Shechem.

17 But when [z]the time of the promise drew near, which God had sworn to Abraham, [a]the people increased and multiplied in Egypt,

18 Till another king arose, who knew not Joseph.

19 He dealing craftily with our race, afflicted our fathers, [b]so that they exposed their infants, that they might not live.

20 [c]In which time Moses was born, and [d]was exceedingly fair; he was nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And [e]being exposed, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was [f]mighty in words and in deeds.

23 [g]And when he was forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the sons of Israel.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him who was oppressed, by smiting the Egyptian:

25 And he supposed his brethren would understand that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 [h]And the next day he shewed himself to them when contending, and urged them to peace, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one another?

27 But he who was wronging his neighbour, thrust him away, saying, [i]Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 [k]At these words Moses fled, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, where he begot two sons.

30 [l]And forty years being accomplished, there appeared to him in the desert of mount Sinai, an angel of the Lord in the flame of a burning bush.

31 And Moses seeing it, wondered at the sight; and as he came near to observe it, the voice of the Lord came to him,

32 Saying, [m]I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and dared not observe it.

33 [n]And the Lord said to him, Unloose thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 [o]I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses, whom they denied, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him God sent to be a ruler and a deliverer [p]by the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush.

36 [q]He brought them out, [r]doing wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, [s]and at the Red sea, [t]and in the desert forty years.

37 ¶ This is the Moses who said to the children of Israel, [u]A Prophet will the Lord your God raise up to you from your brethren, ‖like me; [x]him shall ye hear.

38 [y]This is he, who, in the congregation in the desert, stood between [z]the angel who spoke to him in the mount Sinai, and our fathers: [a]who received †life-giving [b]revelations to give to us:

39 To whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back into Egypt,

40 [c]Saying to Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is become of him.

41 [d]And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice to the idol, and delighted themselves in the works of their own hands.

42 And [e]God turned away, and gave them up to worship [f]the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, [g]House of Israel, did ye offer to me victims and sacrifices for forty years in the desert?

43 Nay, ye bore the tent of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, images which ye made to worship them: and I will remove you beyond Babylon.

44 The tabernacle of testimony was with our fathers in the desert, as he who spoke to Moses [h]directed him to make it according to the model which he had seen.

45 [i]Which also our fathers having received, brought in with Joshua, on their taking possession of the nations, [k]whom God thrust out from before our fathers, until the days of David;

46 [l]Who found favour before God, and [m]desired to find a habitation for the God of Jacob.

47 [n]But Solomon built him an house.

48 However, [o]the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,

49 [p]Heaven is my throne, and the earth my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Did not my hand make all these things?

51 ¶ Ye [q]stiff-necked! and [r]uncircumcised in heart and ears! ye always resist the Holy Spirit, as your fathers, so also ye.

52 [s]Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they slew those who foretold the coming of [t]the Just One; of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers;

53 [u]Who have received the law by the ministration of angels, and have not kept it.

54 ¶ [x]And while hearing this, they were stung to the heart, and gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, [y]being full of the Holy Spirit, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God,

56 And said, Behold, [z]I see the heavens opened, and the [a]Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 And crying with a loud voice, they stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord,

58 And [b]cast him out of the city, [c]and stoned him: and [d]the witnesses laid their garments at the feet of a young man named Saul,

59 And stoned Stephen, [e]calling, and saying, Lord Jesus, [f]receive my spirit.

60 And he [g]kneeled down and cried with a loud voice, [h]Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And saying this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 By occasion of the persecution in Jerusalem, the church being planted in Samaria, 5 by Philip the deacon, who preached, did miracles, and immersed many, among the rest Simon the sorcerer, a great seducer of the people: 14 Peter and John come to confirm and enlarge the church: where, by prayer and imposition of hands giving the Holy Spirit, 18 when Simon would have bought the like power of them, 20 Peter sharply reproving his hypocrisy, and covetousness, and exhorting him to repentance, together with John preaching the word of the Lord, return to Jerusalem. 26 But the angel sendeth Philip to teach, and immerse the Ethiopian eunuch.

AND [a]Saul was consenting to his death. And at that time there arose a great persecution against the church at Jerusalem; and [b]they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and [c]made great lamentation over him.

3 And [d]Saul made havock of the church, entered houses, dragged forth men and women, and committed them to prison.

4 [e]Those therefore who were scattered abroad went every where publishing the word.

5 And [f]Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached to them Christ.

6 And the people with one accord attended to the things spoken by Philip, while they heard and saw the miracles which he did.

7 [e]For unclean spirits, crying with a loud voice, came out of many who were possessed by them: and many paralytic and lame persons were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But a certain man, called Simon, had before in the same city [h]practised sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, [i]giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And they gave heed to him, because for a long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Philip, announcing the things [k]concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were immersed both men and women.

13 And Simon himself believed also: and being immersed, continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding miracles and great signs performed.

14 And the apostles at Jerusalem hearing that Samaria had received the word of God, sent to them Peter and John:

15 Who, coming down, prayed for them [l]that they might receive the Holy Spirit:

16 (For [m]as yet he was fallen upon none of them: and [n]they were only immersed in [o]the name of the Lord Jesus.)

17 Then they [p]laid their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hand the Holy Spirit was given, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Spirit.

20 But Peter said to him, Thy money perish with thee, because [q]thou hast thought that [r]the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, [s]if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see that thou art in [t]the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 And Simon answering, said, [u]Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 Now they, having testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and published the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, on the road that goeth down from Jerusalem to Gaza, (which is desert.)

27 And he arose, and went: and behold, [x]a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and [y]had come to Jerusalem to worship,

28 Was returning; and sitting on his chariot, was reading Isaiah the prophet.

29 And the Spirit said to Philip, Go near and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip running up, heard him reading the prophet Isaiah, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, unless some one instruct me? And he requested Philip to come up, and sit with him.

32 And the passage of the scripture which he was reading was this, [z]He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so he opened not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his ‖generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answering, said to Philip, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other one?

35 Then Philip opening his mouth, [a]and beginning at that scripture, announced to him Jesus.

36 And as they went on the road, they came to a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; [b]what hindereth me from being immersed?

37 And Philip said, [c]If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answering, said, [d]I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he ordered the chariot to stop: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he immersed him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, [e]the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, and the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through, he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Saul, going towards Damascus, 4 is stricken down to the earth, 10 is called to the apostleship, 18 and is immersed by Ananias. 20 He preacheth Christ boldly. 23 The Jews lay wait to kill him: 29 so do the Grecians, but he escapeth both. 31 The church having rest, Peter healeth Eneas of the palsy, 36 and restoreth Tabitha to life.

AND [a]Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest,

2 And asked of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any †of this sect, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

3 And [b]as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shone round him a light from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying to him, Saul, Saul, [c]why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. [d]It is hard for thee to kick against the goads.

6 And he trembling, and astonished, said, Lord, [e]what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said to him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And [f]the men who travelled with him stood speechless, hearing indeed a voice, but seeing no one.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and his eyes being opened, he saw no one: but leading him by the hand, they brought him to Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither ate nor drank.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, [e]named Ananias; and to him the Lord said in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said to him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, [h]of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth,

12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias, coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 And Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, [i]how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests, to bind all [k]who call on thy name.

15 But the Lord said to him, Go, for [l]he is a chosen vessel to me, to bear my name before [m]nations, and [n]kings, and the sons of Israel.

16 For [o]I will shew him how much he must suffer on behalf of my name.

17 [p]And Ananias departed, and entered into the house: and [q]putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord (even Jesus who appeared to thee on the road by which thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and [r]be filled with the Holy Spirit.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it were scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was immersed.

19 And taking food, he was strengthened. [s]And Saul was some days with the disciples at Damascus.

20 And immediately he preached Christ in the synagogues, [t]that he is the Son of God.

21 But all who heard him were amazed, and said, [u]Is not this he who destroyed in Jerusalem those who call on this name, and came here for this purpose, that he might bring them bound to the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, [x]and confounded the Jews who dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.

23 ¶ And when many days were completed, [y]the Jews conspired together to kill him.

24 [z]But their plot was known to Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and [a]let him down through the wall in a basket.

26 And [b]Saul, coming to Jerusalem, endeavoured to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.

27 [c]But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and recounted to them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, [d]and how he had spoken openly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And [e]he was with them going in and out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spoke openly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed with the [f]Hellenists: [g]but they undertook to slay him.

30 And the brethren learning it, brought him down to Cesarea, [g]and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 [h]Now the churches had rest throughout all Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified: and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, were multiplied.

32 ¶ And it came to pass, as Peter passed [i]through them all, he came down also to the saints who dwelt at Lydda.

33 And he found there a certain man named Eneas, who had kept his bed eight years, who was paralytic.

34 And Peter said to him, Eneas, [k]Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all who inhabited Lydda and [l]Saron saw him, and [m]turned to the Lord.

36 ¶ Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which, interpreted, meaneth ‖Dorcas; this woman was full [n]of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: and they washed and laid her in [o]an upper chamber.

38 And Lydda being near to Joppa, the disciples hearing that Peter was there, sent to him two men, entreating him not to delay to come to them.

39 And Peter arose, and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter, [p]putting them all forth, [q]kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, [r]said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and seeing Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and raised her; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa: [s]and many believed on the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he remained many days in Joppa with one [t]Simon a tanner.

2 [a]A devout man, and one who [b]feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always.

3 [c]He saw in a vision manifestly, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying to him, Cornelius.

4 And fastening his eyes on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said to him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is surnamed Peter:
6 He lodgeth with one [d]Simon a tanner, whose house is near the sea: [e]he will tell thee what thou must do.
7 And when the angel who spoke to Cornelius had departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of those who waited on him;
8 And recounting to them every thing, he sent them to Joppa.
9 ¶ On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew near the city, [f]Peter went up on the house-top to pray, about the sixth hour:
10 And he became very hungry, and wished to eat: but as they were preparing, he fell into a trance,
11 And [g]saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending to him, like a great sheet fastened at the four corners, and let down to the earth:
12 In which were all the four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and birds of heaven.
13 And there came a voice to him, Arise, Peter; slay, and eat.
14 But Peter said, By no means, Lord; [h]for I never ate any thing common or unclean.
15 And the voice spoke to him again the second time, [i]What God hath cleansed, do not thou call common.
16 This happened thrice: and again the vessel was received up into heaven.
17 And while Peter was doubting in himself what this vision which he had seen might mean, behold, the men who were sent from Cornelius having inquired out Simon's house, stood before the gate,
18 And called, and asked whether Simon, who was surnamed Peter, lodged there.
19 ¶ And as Peter reflected on the vision, [k]the Spirit said to him, Behold, three men seek thee.
20 [l]Arise therefore, and descend, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.
21 And Peter went down to the men who were sent to him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause for which ye are come?
22 And they said, [m]Cornelius a centurion, a just man, and one who feareth God, and [n]of good report with all the nation of the Jews, was warned by an holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words from thee.
23 So he called them in, and entertained them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, [o]and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.
24 And the morrow after they entered Cesarea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinsmen and near friends.
25 And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and did him reverence.
26 But Peter raised him, saying, [p]Stand up: I myself also am a man.
27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found that many had come together.
28 And he said to them, Ye know [q]that it is unlawful for a Jew to keep company, or visit one of another nation; but [r]God hath taught me to call no man common or unclean.
29 Therefore, when sent for, I came to you without hesitation: I ask then for what purpose ye have sent for me?
30 And Cornelius said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I was praying in my house, and behold, [s]a man stood before me [t]in bright clothing,
31 And said, Cornelius, [u]thy prayer is heard, [x]and thine alms are remembered before God.
32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner, near the sea: who will come and speak to thee.
33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast done well that thou art come. Now therefore we are all present before God, to hear all that is commanded thee from God.
34 ¶ And Peter opening his mouth, said, [y]In truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:
35 But [z]in every nation, he who feareth him and worketh righteousness, is accepted by him.
36 The word which he sent to the sons of Israel, [a]publishing peace by Jesus Christ: ([b]he is Lord of all:)
37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judea, [c]beginning from Galilee, after the immersion which John proclaimed;
38 How [d]God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all who were oppressed by the devil; [e]for God was with him.
39 And [f]we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; [g]whom they hung on the cross and slew:
40 Him [h]God raised on the third day, and made him manifest;
41 ([i]Not to all the people, but to witnesses chosen before of God, to us, [k]who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead:)
42 And [l]commanded us to preach to the people, and to testify [m]that it is he who is appointed by God to be the Judge [n]of living and dead.
43 [o]To him all the prophets bear witness, that through his name [p]whoever believeth on him shall receive remission of sins.
44 ¶ While Peter was still speaking these words, [q]the Holy Spirit fell on all who heard the word.
45 [r]And the believers of the circumcision who came with Peter, [s]were amazed that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Spirit.
46 For they heard them speaking with tongues, and magnifying God. Then answered Peter,
47 Can any one forbid water, that these should not be immersed, who have received the Holy Spirit [t]as well as we?
48 [u]And he commanded them to be immersed [x]in the name of the Lord. Then they prayed him to remain some days.

gospel being spread into Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, Barnabas is sent to confirm them. 26 The disciples there are first called Christians. 27 They send relief to the brethren in Judea in time of famine.

Anno DOMINI 41.

AND the apostles and brethren in Judea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, [a]those of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, [b]Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, [c]and didst eat with them.

4 But Peter began and laid the matter before them [d]in order, saying,

5 [e]I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it were a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came to me:

6 Upon which fastening mine eyes, I observed, and saw four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and the birds of heaven.

7 And I heard a voice saying to me, Arise, Peter; slay, and eat.

8 But I said, By no means, Lord: for nothing common or unclean ever entered my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, do not thou call common.

10 And this happened three times: and again all was drawn up into heaven.

11 And behold, immediately there stood three men at the house where I was, sent to me from Cesarea.

12 And [f]the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. And [g]these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered the man's house:

13 [h]And he told us how he had seen an angel in his house, who stood and said to him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is surnamed Peter;

14 Who will tell thee words, by which thou and all thy house will be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell on them, [i]as on us at the beginning.

16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how he said, [k]John indeed immersed ‖ in water; but [l]ye shall be immersed in the Holy Spirit.

17 [m]If then God gave them the like gift as us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, [n]who was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard this, they were silent, and glorified God, saying, [o]So then to the Gentiles also God hath granted repentance to life!

19 ¶ [p]Now those who were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen, went as far as Phenicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none but to the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, on coming to Antioch, spoke to [q]the ‖Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And [r]the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and [s]turned to the Lord.

22 ¶ And these tidings reached the ears of the church in Jerusalem: and they sent forth [t]Barnabas, to go to Antioch.

Anno DOMINI 42.

23 Who, coming and seeing the grace of God, rejoiced, and [u]exhorted them all with strong purpose of heart to cleave to the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and [x]full of the Holy Spirit, and of faith: [y]and a great multitude was added to the Lord.

25 And Barnabas went forth to [z]Tarsus, to seek for Saul:

26 And having found him, he brought him to Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they were together in the church, and taught a great multitude. And at Antioch the disciples were first called Christians.

27 ¶ And in these days came [a]prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch.

28 And one of them, named [b]Agabus, arose and declared by the Spirit that there was to be a great famine throughout all the land: which happened in the days of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, each according to his ability, determined to send [c]relief to the brethren dwelling in Judea.

30 [d]Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER XII.

1 King Herod persecuteth the Christians, killeth James, and imprisoneth Peter; whom an angel delivereth upon the prayers of the church. 20 In his pride taking to himself the honour due to God, Herod is stricken by an angel, and dieth miserably. 24 After his death, the word of God prospereth.

NOW about that time, Herod the king ‖put forth his hands to vex some of the church.

2 And he slew James [a]the brother of John with the sword.

3 And seeing that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize upon Peter also. Then were [b]the days of unleavened bread.

4 And [c]he apprehended and put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the passover to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison: but earnest prayer to God was made for him by the church.

6 And when Herod was about to bring him forth, on that night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains; and guards before the door watched the prison.

7 And behold, [d]an angel of the Lord appeared, and a light shone in the prison; and striking Peter on the side, he awoke him, saying, Arise quickly! And his chains fell from his hands.

8 And the angel said to him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals: and he did so. And he saith to him, Throw thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, following him, and [e]knew not that what was done by the angel was real; but thought [f]he saw a vision.

10 And passing the first and the second watch, they came to the iron gate that leadeth into the city; [g]which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and immediately the angel departed from him.

11 And Peter, coming to himself, said, Now I know truly that [h]the Lord hath sent his angel, and [i]hath delivered me from the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And becoming aware of the thing, [h]he came to the house of Mary the mother of [i]John, who was surnamed Mark; where many were assembled, [m]praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to listen, named Rhoda.

14 And knowing Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said to her, Thou art mad. But she kept affirming that it was so. And they said, [n]It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking. And when they opened, and saw him, they were amazed.

17 But he [o]beckoning to them with his hand to be silent, related to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go tell this to James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place.

18 Now when it was day, there was no small disturbance among the soldiers, as to what was become of Peter.

19 And Herod having sought without finding him, examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be led away to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and continued there.

20 ¶ And Herod ‖was highly incensed at the Tyrians and Sidonians. But they came with one accord to him, and having made Blastus †the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace, because [p]their country was nourished by that of the king.

21 And on an appointed day, Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat on his throne, and harangued them.

22 And the people cried, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man!

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord [q]smote him, because [r]he gave not God the glory: and being eaten by worms, he expired.

24 ¶ But [s]the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, having fulfilled their ‖ministry, [t]taking with them also [u]John, who was surnamed Mark.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas are chosen to go to the Gentiles.
7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the sorcerer.
14 Paul preacheth at Antioch, that Jesus is Christ.
42 The Gentiles believe: 45 but the Jews gainsay and revile: 46 whereupon they turn to the Gentiles. 48 As many as were ordained to life believed.

NOW there were [a]in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as [b]Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and [c]Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, ‖companion of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Spirit said, [d]Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the work [e]to which I have called them.

3 Then, [f]having fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 ¶ So they being sent forth by the Holy Spirit, came down to Seleucia; and thence they sailed to [g]Cyprus.

5 And coming to Salamis, [h]they announced the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had also [i]John as an assistant.

6 And going through the isle to Paphos, they found [k]a certain sorcerer, a Jewish false prophet, whose name was Bar-jesus:

7 Who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man; who called to him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But [l]Elymas the sorcerer (for so his name is interpreted) withstood them, seeking to turn away the proconsul from the faith.

9 Then Saul, (who is also called Paul,) [m]filled with the Holy Spirit, fixed his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtilty, and all wickedness, [n]son of the devil, enemy of all righteousness! wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now behold, [o]the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking persons to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the proconsul, seeing what had happened, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

13 And Paul and his company, setting sail from Paphos, came to Perga in Pamphylia: And [p]John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14 ¶ But they going on from Perga, came to Antioch in Pisidia, and [q]entering the synagogue on the Sabbath, sat down.

15 And [r]after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, Brethren, if ye have [s]any word of exhortation for the people, speak.

16 And Paul arose, and [t]beckoning with his hand, said, Men of Israel, and [u]ye who fear God, hear.

17 The God of this people of Israel [x]chose our fathers, and exalted the people [y]in their sojourn in the land of Egypt, [z]and with an high arm brought them out of it.

18 And [a]about forty years he ‖bore with them in the desert.

19 And [b]having destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, [c]he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that, [d]he gave them judges for about four hundred and fifty years, [e]until Samuel the prophet.

21 [f]And afterwards they desired a king: and God gave them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years.

22 And [g]having removed him, [h]he raised up to them David for their king: to whom also he gave testimony, saying, [i]I have found David the son of Jesse, [k]a man after mine own heart, who will do all my will.

23 [l]From his offspring hath God, according [m]to his promise, raised to Israel [n]a Saviour, Jesus,

24 [o]John having before his coming proclaimed the immersion of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as John was accomplishing his course, he said, [p]Whom do ye suppose me to be? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 Brethren, sons of the race of Abraham, and whoever among you fear God, [q]to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For those who dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, [r]being ignorant of him, and of the declarations of the prophets [s]which are read every Sabbath, [t]fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 [u]And though they found no cause of death in him, [x]they desired of Pilate that he should be slain.

29 [y]And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, [z]they took him down from the cross, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 [a]But God raised him from the dead:

31 And [b]he was seen for many days by those who went up with him [c]from Galilee to Jerusalem, [d]who are his witnesses to the people.

32 And we declare to you glad tidings, in respect to [e]the promise which was made to the fathers;

33 How God hath fulfilled this to us their children, in raising Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, [f]Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee.

34 And that he raised him from the dead, no more to return to corruption, he said thus, [g]I will give you the sure †mercies of David.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, [h]Thou wilt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

36 For David, having in his own age served the will of God, [i]fell asleep, and was gathered to his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he, whom God raised again, did not see corruption.

38 ¶ Be it known to you therefore, brethren, that [k]through him is announced to you the forgiveness of sins;

39 And [l]by him all who believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in [m]the prophets;

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I accomplish a work in your days, a work which ye will by no means believe, although one declare it to you.

42 And as they were going out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be spoken to them on the next Sabbath.

43 And the synagogue being broken up, many of the Jews and pious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who speaking to them, [n]persuaded them to continue in [o]the grace of God.

44 ¶ And on the next Sabbath almost the whole city assembled to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and [p]opposed what was spoken by Paul, contradicting and reviling.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spoke boldly, and said, [q]It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you: but [r]since ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, [s]we turn to the Gentiles:

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, [t]I have placed thee to be a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be for salvation to the extremities of the earth.

48 And the Gentiles hearing this, rejoiced, and glorified the word of the Lord: [u]and as many as were appointed to eternal life, believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was spread through the whole region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and [x]raised a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them from their borders.

51 [y]And they, shaking off the dust of their feet against them, came to Iconium.

52 And the disciples [z]were filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted from Iconium. 7 At Lystra Paul healeth a lame man, whereupon they are reputed as gods. 19 Paul is stoned. 21 They pass through various churches, confirming the disciples in faith and patience. 26 Returning to Antioch, they report what God had done with them.

AND it happened in Iconium, that they went together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spoke, that a great multitude, both of Jews and Greeks, believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up and embittered the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 Now they continued a long time speaking boldly in the Lord, [a]who gave testimony to the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part were with the Jews, and part with the [b]apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles and Jews, with their rulers, [c]to abuse and stone them,

6 They being aware of it, [d]fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the surrounding region:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 ¶ [e]And there sat a certain man at Lystra, powerless in his feet, being lame from his mother's womb, who had never walked.

9 He heard Paul speak: who fastening his eyes on him, and [f]seeing that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, [g]Stand erect on thy feet. And he sprang up and walked.

11 And the multitudes seeing what Paul had done, raised their voices, saying in the language of Lycaonia, [h]The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercury, because he was the chief speaker.

13 And the priest of Jupiter, whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates, [i]and, together with the people, was intending to sacrifice them.

14 But the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, hearing of it, [k]rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Ye men! [l]why do ye this? [m]We also are men of like nature with you, and preach to you, that ye should turn from [n]these vain idols [o]to the living God, [p]who made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that is in them:

18 And saying this, they hardly restrained the people from sacrificing to them.
19 ¶ [t]But there came thither Jews from Antioch, and Iconium, who persuaded the people, [u]and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he was dead.
20 But the disciples surrounding him, he arose, and came into the city: and the next day he went out with Barnabas to Derbe.
21 And having preached the gospel to that city, [x]and made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and Iconium, and Antioch,
22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and [y]exhorting them to continue in the faith, and saying that [z]we must through many afflictions enter into the kingdom of God.
23 And [a]appointing for them elders in every church, they commended them with prayer and fasting to the Lord, on whom they believed.
24 And passing through Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.
25 And having spoken the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia:
26 And thence sailed to Antioch, [b]whence they had been [c]recommended to the grace of God, for the work which they had accomplished.
27 And having come, and assembled the church, [d]they related what God had done with them, and how he had [e]opened a door of faith to the Gentiles.
28 And they remained there no little time with the disciples.

CHAPTER XV.

1 Great dissension ariseth about circumcision. 6 The apostles consult about it, 22 and send their determination by letters to the churches. 36 Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the brethren together, fall into a strife, and part asunder.

AND [a]some who came down from Judea, taught the brethren, saying, [b]Unless ye are circumcised [c]according to the law of Moses, ye cannot be saved.
2 When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and dispute with them, they determined that [d]Paul and Barnabas, and some others of them, should go up to the apostles and elders at Jerusalem, about this question.
3 And [e]being conducted forth by the church, they passed through Phenicia and Samaria, [f]recounting the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy to all the brethren.
4 And being come to Jerusalem, they were received by the church, and by the apostles and elders, and [g]they announced all that God had done with them.
5 But there ‖arose some of the sect of the Pharisees, who believed, saying, [h]That it was necessary to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.
6 ¶ And the apostles and elders came together to consider this matter.
7 And after much debate, Peter arose and said to them, [i]Brethren, ye know that a long time ago, God made choice among us, that the Gentiles, by my mouth, should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.
8 And God, [k]who knoweth the hearts, bore them witness, [l]giving them the Holy Spirit, as he did to us:
9 [m]And made no distinction between us and them, [n]purifying their hearts by faith.
10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, [o]to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?
11 But [p]we believe, that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we are saved, in the same manner as they.
12 ¶ And all the assembly were silent, and listened to Barnabas and Paul, recounting what miracles and wonders God had [q]wrought among the Gentiles by them.
13 ¶ And after they were silent, [r]James answered, saying, Brethren, hearken to me.
14 [s]Simeon hath declared how God first visited the Gentiles, to take from them a people for his name.
15 And with this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,
16 [t]After this I will return, and rebuild the fallen tabernacle of David; and I will rebuild its ruins, and I will set it up:
17 That the rest of men may seek the Lord, and all the nations who are called by my name, saith the Lord, who doeth all this.
18 Known to God are all his works from the beginning of the world.
19 Wherefore [u]my judgment is, that we trouble not those who from among the Gentiles [x]are turned to God:
20 But that we write to them that they abstain [y]from pollutions of idols, and [z]from fornication, and from things strangled, [a]and from blood.
21 For Moses hath of old his preachers in every city, [b]being read in the synagogues every Sabbath.
22 Then the apostles and elders, with the whole church, determined to send chosen men of their own number to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed [c]Barsabas, and Silas, leading men among the brethren:
23 And they wrote by them thus; The apostles, and elders, and brethren, to their brethren of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia, send greeting.
24 Since we have heard, that [d]some who went out from us, have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such instruction:
25 It seemed good to us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men to you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul:
26 [e]Men who have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.
27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who will themselves also by word tell you the same things.
28 For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;
29 [f]That ye abstain from things offered to idols, and [g]from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye will do well. Farewell.

30 So they being dismissed came to Antioch: and assembling the multitude, they delivered the epistle.
31 And they having read it, rejoiced for the ‖consolation.
32 And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, [h]exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.
33 And having remained a while, they were [i]dismissed in peace from the brethren to the apostles.
34 But it seemed good to Silas to remain there still.
35 [k]And Paul and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.
36 ¶ And some days after, Paul said to Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren, [l]in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.
37 And Barnabas determined to take with them [m]John, called Mark.
38 But Paul thought proper not to take him with them, [n]who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to their work.
39 And there arose a sharp contention, so that they separated from each other: and Barnabas took Mark, and sailed to Cyprus.
40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, [o]being recommended by the brethren to the grace of God.
41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, [p]confirming the churches.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul having circumcised Timothy, 7 and being called by the Spirit from one country to another, 14 converteth Lydia, 16 casteth out a spirit of divination. 19 For which cause he and Silas are whipped and imprisoned. 26 The prison doors are opened. 31 The jailer is converted, 37 and they are delivered.

AND he came to [a]Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, [b]named Timothy, [c]the son of a believing Jewish woman, but whose father was a Greek:
2 Who [d]was well reported of by the brethren who were at Lystra and Iconium.
3 Him Paul wished to go forth with him; and [e]took and circumcised him, on account of the Jews who were in those places: for they all knew that his father was a Greek:
4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decisions to observe, [f]that had been ordained by the apostles and elders at Jerusalem.
5 And [g]so the churches were established in the faith, and increased in number daily.
6 And passing through Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, being forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia,
7 They came to Mysia, and endeavoured to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit did not permit them.
8 And passing by Mysia, [h]they came down to Troas.
9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a [i]man of Macedonia, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.
10 And when he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go [k]into Macedonia, concluding that the Lord had called us to preach the gospel to them.
11 Therefore setting sail from Troas, we took a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis;
12 And thence to [l]Philippi, which is ‖the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony: and we continued in that city some days.
13 And on the Sabbath we went out of the city to the river, where prayer was accustomed to be made; and we sat down, and spoke to the women who were assembled.
14 ¶ And a certain woman Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, who worshipped God, heard us: whose [m]heart the Lord opened, to attend to the things spoken by Paul.
15 And when she was immersed, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye judge me to be a believer in the Lord, come into my house, and remain there: And [n]she constrained us.
16 ¶ And it happened as we were going to prayer, a certain damsel [o]having a spirit ‖of divination met us, who brought her masters [p]much gain by soothsaying:
17 She followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are servants of the most high God, who announce to us the way of salvation!
18 And this she did many days. But Paul [q]being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. [r]And he came out the same hour.
19 ¶ And [s]her masters seeing that the hope of their gain was gone, [t]laid hold of Paul and Silas, and [u]drew them into the ‖market to the rulers,
20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, [x]greatly disturb our city,
21 And teach customs which are not lawful for us to receive or practise, being Romans.
22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, [y]and commanded to beat them.
23 And having inflicted upon them many stripes, they threw them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely;
24 Who having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.
25 ¶ And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises to God: and the prisoners heard them.
26 [z]And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and instantly [a]all the doors were opened, and the bonds of all were loosed.
27 And the jailer awaking from sleep, and seeing the prison-doors open, drew his sword, and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped.
28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here!
29 And calling for a light, he sprang in, and trembling, fell down before Paul and Silas:
30 And bringing them out, said, [b]Sirs, what must I do to be saved?

31 And they said, [c]Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32 And they spoke to him the word of the Lord, and to all who were in his house.

33 And he took them at that hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was immersed, he and all his, immediately.

34 And bringing them into his house, [d]he placed food before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, Dismiss those men.

36 And the jailer reported these words to Paul, The magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said to them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, [e]being Romans, and thrown us into prison; and now do they thrust us out secretly? No; let them come themselves and bring us out.

38 And the sergeants reported these words to the magistrates: and they feared on hearing that they were Romans.

39 And they came and besought them, and bringing them out, [f]desired them to go forth from the city.

40 And coming out of the prison, [g]they went to the house of Lydia: and seeing the brethren, they exhorted them, and departed.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica, 4 where some believe, and others persecute him. 10 He is sent to Berea, and preacheth there. 13 Being persecuted at Thessalonica, 15 he cometh to Athens, and disputeth, and preacheth the living God to them unknown, 34 whereby many are converted to Christ.

AND passing through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was the synagogue of the Jews.

2 And Paul, as he was accustomed, [a]went in among them, and for three Sabbaths reasoned with them from the scriptures,

3 Opening them, and setting forth [b]that it was necessary that the Christ should suffer, and rise from the dead; and that this Jesus, ‖whom I preach to you, is the Christ.

4 [c]And some of them believed, and joined themselves to Paul and [d]Silas: and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and not a few of the chief women.

5 ¶ But the unbelieving Jews, moved with envy, taking to them idle and vicious men, and raising a mob, threw the city into a tumult, and assaulting the house of [e]Jason, sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And not finding them, they drew Jason and certain brethren to the rulers of the city, crying, [f]These who have turned the world upside down, are come hither also;

7 Whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to the decrees of Cesar, [g]saying, that there is another king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the city, who heard this.

9 And having taken security from Jason and the rest, they dismissed them.

10 ¶ And [h]the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night to Berea: who coming thither, went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received their word with all readiness of mind, and [i]searched the scriptures daily, whether this was so.

12 Therefore many of them believed; and of honourable Grecian women and men not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica knew that the word of God was preached by Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 [k]And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul, to go to the sea: but Silas and Timothy remained there still.

15 And those who conducted Paul brought him to Athens: and [l]receiving a command to Silas and Timothy to come to him as soon as possible, they departed.

16 ¶ Now, while Paul waited for them at Athens, [m]his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city ‖filled with idolatry.

17 Therefore he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with such as met with him.

18 And some of the Epicurean and of the Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, What doth this babbler mean to say? others, He seemeth to be an announcer of strange gods: because he made known to them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him, and brought him to the ‖Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine is, which thou utterest?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears; we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers who were there, spent their time in nothing else than in telling or hearing something new.)

22 ¶ And Paul standing in the midst of the ‖Areopagus, said, Athenians, I perceive that in all things ye are very religious.

23 For as I passed by, and surveyed your ‖objects of worship, I found an altar with this inscription, TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him I declare to you.

24 [n]God who made the world, and all things in it, being [o]Lord of heaven and earth, [p]dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

25 Nor is worshipped by men's hands, [q]as though he needed any thing, since [r]he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And he made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, determining appointed seasons, and [s]the bounds of their habitation;

27 [t]That they should seek the Lord, if perchance they might feel after him, and find him, [u]although he is not far from each one of us:

28 For [x]in him we live, and move, and have our being; [y]as also some of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Being then the offspring of God, [z]we ought not to think that the Godhead is like gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some ridiculed: and others said, We will hear thee again concerning this.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 But certain men adhered to him, and believed: among whom was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

3 Paul laboureth with his hands, and preacheth at Corinth to the Gentiles. 9 The Lord encourageth him in a vision. 12 He is accused before Gallio the proconsul, but is dismissed. 18 Afterwards passing from city to city he strengtheneth the disciples. 24 Apollos, being more perfectly instructed by Aquila and Priscilla, 28 preacheth Christ with great efficacy.

AFTER this, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth;

2 And finding a certain Jew named [a]Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, (because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome,) he came to them;

3 And because he was of the same trade, he remained with them, [b]and wrought, (for by their occupation they were tentmakers.)

4 [c]And he discoursed in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded both Jews and Greeks.

5 And [d]when Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia, Paul was [e]pressed in the spirit, testifying earnestly to the Jews, that Jesus ‖was the Christ.

6 And [f]when they opposed themselves, and reviled, [g]he shook his garments, and said to them, [h]Your blood be upon your own heads: [i]I am clean: [h]henceforth I will go to the Gentiles.

7 ¶ And departing thence, he entered a certain man's house, named Justus, one who worshipped God, whose house was adjoining the synagogue.

8 [l]And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord, with all his house: and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were immersed.

9 And the Lord [m]said to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and be not silent:

10 [n]For I am with thee, and no one shall assail thee, to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he †continued there a year and six months, teaching among them the word of God.

12 ¶ But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the tribunal,

13 Saying, This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, [o]If it were a matter of wrong, or wickedness, ye Jews, it would be reasonable that I should bear with you:

16 And he drove them from his tribunal.

17 Then all the Greeks took [p]Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the tribunal. And Gallio cared for none of these things.

18 ¶ And Paul having remained many days, took leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla, and Aquila; having [q]shaven his head in [r]Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 And they desiring him to remain a longer time with them, he did not consent:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, [s]I must by all means keep the coming feast at Jerusalem: but I will return again to you, [t]if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And landing at Cesarea, he went up, and saluting the church, went down to Antioch.

23 And having spent some time there, he departed and went over all the country of [u]Galatia and Phrygia in order, [x]strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ [y]And a certain Jew, named Apollos, an Alexandrian by birth, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 He had been instructed in the way of the Lord: and being [z]fervent in the spirit, he spoke and taught diligently the things of the Lord, [a]knowing only the immersion of John.

26 He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But Aquila and Priscilla hearing him, took him to them, and explained to him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And he wishing to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: and when he came, he greatly [b]aided those who had believed through grace.

28 For he powerfully confuted the Jews, and that publicly, [c]shewing by the scriptures, that Jesus was the Christ.

CHAPTER XIX.

6 The Holy Spirit is given by Paul's hands. 9 The Jews blaspheme his doctrine, which is confirmed by miracles. 13 The Jewish exorcists 16 are beaten by the demon. 19 Conjuring books are burnt. 24 Demetrius, for love of gain, raiseth an uproar against Paul, 35 which is appeased by the chancellor.

AND it happened, that while [a]Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper districts, came to Ephesus; and finding certain disciples,

2 He said to them, Have ye received the Holy Spirit since ye believed? And they said to him, [c]We have not even heard that the Holy Spirit is given.

3 And he said to them, To what then were ye immersed? And they said, [d]To John's immersion.

4 Then said Paul, [e]John indeed immersed with the immersion of repentance, saying to the people, that they should believe on him who came after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 And on hearing this, they were immersed [f]in the name of the Lord Jesus;
6 And Paul having [g]laid his hands upon them, the Holy Spirit came on them; and [h]they spoke with tongues, and prophesied.
7 And all the men were about twelve.
8 [i]And he went into the synagogue, and spoke openly three months, reasoning and persuading the things [k]concerning the kingdom of God.
9 But [l]when some were hardened, and believed not, speaking evil [m]of his doctrine before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated his disciples, discoursing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.
10 And [n]this continued for two years; so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.
11 And [o]God wrought no ordinary miracles by the hands of Paul:
12 [p]So that handkerchiefs or aprons were brought from his body to the sick, and their diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.
13 ¶ [q]And some of the vagabond Jewish exorcists [r]undertook to name to those who had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.
14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did this.
15 And the evil spirit answering, said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?
16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled from that house naked and wounded.
17 And this was known to all, both Jews and Greeks, dwelling at Ephesus: and [s]fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.
18 And many of those who believed came, [t]confessing and declaring their deeds.
19 And many of those who practised curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them before all; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.
20 [u]So mightily did the word of God increase and prevail!
21 ¶ [x]When this was ended, Paul [y]purposed in his spirit passing through Macedonia, and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there [z]I must also see Rome.
22 So he sent into Macedonia two of [a]those who attended upon him, Timothy and [b]Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.
23 And [c]at that time there arose no little tumult about [d] †the doctrine.
24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silver-smith, who made silver ‖temples of Diana, brought [e]no small gain to the craftsmen;
25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this employment we have our wealth:
26 Moreover, ye see and hear, that not only at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away a great multitude, saying, that [f]those are no gods that are made with hands.
27 And there is danger, not only that this our business will fall into disgrace; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana will be despised, and her magnificence destroyed, whom all Asia, and the world worshippeth.
28 And hearing this, they became full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!
29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and seizing on [g]Gaius and [h]Aristarchus, Macedonians, fellow-travellers of Paul, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.
30 And when Paul would have entered in to the people, the disciples suffered him not.
31 And some also of the chiefs of Asia, who were his friends, sent to him, entreating him not to trust himself in the theatre.
32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused, and the greater part knew not for what they were come together.
33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And [i]Alexander [k]beckoning with the hand, wished to make his defence to the people.
34 But learning that he was a Jew, all with one voice, about two hours, cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!
35 And the chancellor, having quieted the people, said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is †a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?
36 Since then this is undeniable, ye ought to be quiet, and do nothing rashly.
37 For ye have brought hither these men, who are neither robbers of temples, nor revilers of your goddess.
38 If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen who are with him, have a complaint against any one, court days are held, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.
39 But if ye have a demand concerning other matters, it shall be determined in the ‖regular assembly.
40 For we are in danger of being called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause for which we can give an account of this concourse.
41 And having thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

1 Paul goeth to Macedonia. 7 He celebrateth the Lord's supper, and preacheth. 9 Eutychus having fallen down dead, 10 is raised to life. 17 At Miletus he calleth the elders together, telleth them what shall befall to himself, 28 committeth God's flock to them, 29 warneth them of false teachers, 32 commendeth them to God, 36 prayeth with them, and goeth his way.

AND after the tumult was ceased, Paul, having called to him the disciples, and embraced them, [a]departed to go into Macedonia.
2 And having gone through those regions, and given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,
3 And remained there three months. And [b]a plot being laid for him by the Jews, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.
4 And there accompanied him into Asia,

Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians, [c]Aristarchus and Secundus; and [d]Gaius of Derbe, and [e]Timothy; and of Asia, [f]Tychicus and [g]Trophimus.

5 These going before, waited for us at Troas.

6 And we sailed away from Philippi, after [h]the days of unleavened bread, and within five days came to them [i]to Troas; where we spent seven days.

7 And on [k]the first day of the week, when the disciples came together [l]to break bread, Paul discoursed to them, (being about to depart on the morrow,) and continued his discourse until midnight.

8 And there were many lights [m]in the upper chamber, where they were assembled.

9 And there sat on the window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul discoursed very long, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and [n]fell on him, and embracing him, said, [o]Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 And coming up again, he broke bread, and ate, talked still a long while till break of day, and so departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little consoled.

13 ¶ And we going forward to the ship, sailed for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for he had thus appointed, being himself about to go by land.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and after staying at Trogyllium, came the next day to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, that he might not spend time in Asia: for [p]he was hastening, if it were possible for him, [q]to be at Jerusalem by [r]the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.

18 And when they came to him, he said to them, Ye know, [s]from the first day that I came into Asia, how I have conducted among you at all times,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and amidst many tears and trials, which befell me [t]by the plots of the Jews:

20 And how [u]I kept back nothing that was profitable to you, but announced to you, and taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 [x]Testifying both to Jews and Greeks, [y]repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ,

22 And now behold, [z]I go bound in my spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing what will befall me there:

23 Except that [a]the Holy Spirit testifieth in every city, saying, that bonds and afflictions await me.

24 But [b]none of these things move me, nor do I hold my life dear to myself, [c]so that I may finish my course with joy, [d]and the ministry [e]which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, [f]I know that ye all, among whom I have gone proclaiming the kingdom of God, will see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to witness this day, that I am [g]pure from the blood of all,

27 For [h]I have not shunned to declare to you all [i]the counsel of God.

28 ¶ [k]Take heed therefore to yourselves, and to all the flock of which the Holy Spirit [l]hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, [m]which he hath purchased [n]with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departure, [o]grievous wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 And [p]from among yourselves will men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that [q]for three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and [r]to the word of his grace, which is able [s]to build you up, and to give you [t]an inheritance among all those who are sanctified.

33 [u]I have desired no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Ye yourselves know, [x]that these hands have ministered to my wants, and to those who were with me.

35 I have at all times shewed you, [y]that so labouring ye ought to assist the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 ¶ And having thus spoken, he [z]kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept greatly, and [a]fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him,

38 Sorrowing most of all for the words [b]which he had spoken, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him to the ship.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Paul will not by any means be dissuaded from going to Jerusalem. 9 Philip's daughters prophetesses. 17 Paul cometh to Jerusalem: 27 where he is apprehended, and in great danger, 31 but by the captain is rescued, and permitted to speak to the people.

NOW after we had separated from them, we set sail and came with a straight course to Coos, and the day following to Rhodes, and thence to Patara:

2 And finding a ship passing over to Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 And coming in sight of Cyprus, and leaving it on the left, we sailed for Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 And finding the disciples, we remained there seven days: [a]who bade Paul through the Spirit, not to go up to Jerusalem.

5 And when we had finished those days, we departed, and went on our way; and they all conducted us forth, with their wives and children, till we were out of the city: and [b]we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And having taken our leave of one another, we entered the ship; and they returned to [c]their homes.

7 But we finishing our voyage from Tyre, came to Ptolemais, and saluting the brethren, remained with them one day.

8 And the next day we who were of Paul's company departed, and came to Cesarea; and entering the house of Philip [d]the evangelist, [e]who was one of the seven, we remained with him.

9 And he had four virgin daughters, [f]who prophesied.

10 And while we remained there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named [g]Agabus.

11 And he came to us, and taking Paul's girdle, bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Spirit, [h]So will the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man who owneth this girdle, and deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard this, both we, and those of the place, entreated him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, [i]What mean ye to weep, and to break my heart? for I am ready not only to be bound, but even to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, [k]The will of the Lord be done!

15 And after those days we gathered our effects, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also some disciples from Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 [l]And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And on the day following Paul went with us to [m]James: and all the elders were present.

19 And having saluted them, [n]he recounted particularly what God had wrought among the Gentiles [o]by his ministry.

20 And they, hearing it, glorified the Lord, and said to him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are who believe; and they are all [p]zealous for the law:

21 And they are informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the Jews who are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, bidding them not to circumcise their children, nor to walk in the law.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must necessarily come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this which we say to thee: We have four men who have a vow on them;

24 Take these, and purify thyself with them, and pay their expenses, that they may [q]shave their heads: and all will know that in what they were informed concerning thee, there is nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest in the observance of the law.

25 But concerning the believing Gentiles, [r]we wrote and decided that they observe no such thing, only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and on the next day purifying himself with them, [s]entered the temple, [t]‖giving notice of the accomplishment of the days of purification, until the offering should be offered for each one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, [u]the Jews from Asia, seeing him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and [z]laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help! This is the man [y]who teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further, hath brought Greeks also into the temple, and polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, [z]Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And [a]all the city was aroused, and the people ran together: and they took Paul and drew him out of the temple. And immediately the doors were shut.

31 And as they sought to kill him, tidings came to the captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar;

32 [b]Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down to them. And they seeing the captain and the soldiers, ceased beating Paul.

33 Then the captain came near and took him, and [c]commanded him to be bound with two chains: and inquired who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and being unable to know the certainty on account of the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, it happened that he was borne by the soldiers, on account of the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed, crying, [d]Away with him!

37 And as Paul was about to be led into the castle, he said to the captain, May I speak to thee? But he said, Canst thou speak Greek?

38 [e]Art not thou the Egyptian, who some time ago made an insurrection, and led off into the desert those four thousand assassins?

39 But Paul said, [f]I am a Jew of Tarsus, a citizen of no obscure city in Cilicia: and I beseech thee permit me to speak to the people.

40 And he having given him permission, Paul stood on the stairs, and [g]beckoned with his hand to the people. And a great silence prevailing, he addressed them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Paul declareth at large, how he was converted to the faith, 17 and called to his apostleship. 22 At the very mentioning of the Gentiles, the people exclaim on him. 24 He would have been scourged, 25 but claiming the privilege of a Roman, he escapeth.

[a]BRETHREN, and fathers, hear my defence which I now make to you.

2 (And hearing that he addressed them in the Hebrew tongue, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)

3 [b]I indeed am a Jew, born in Tarsus, of Cilicia, yet brought up in this city [c]at the feet of [d]Gamaliel, instructed [e]according to the strictness of the law of our fathers, and [f]being zealous towards God, [g]as ye all are to-day.

4 [h]And I persecuted this sect to death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me

witness, and [g]all the elders; [h]from whom also having received letters to the brethren, I was going to Damascus, to bring those who were there bound to Jerusalem, to be punished.

6 And [i]it happened, that, as I made my journey, and was approaching Damascus about noon, suddenly a great light from heaven shone around me.

7 And I fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And [m]those who were with me saw indeed the light, and were terrified; but they heard not the voice of him who spoke to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said to me, Arise, and go into Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all which it is appointed thee to do.

11 And as I could not see from the brightness of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And [n]one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, [o]having a good report from all the [p]Jews who dwelt there,

13 Came to me, and stood, and said to me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked upon him.

14 And he said, [q]The God of our fathers [r]hath appointed thee [s]to know his will, and to [t]see [u]the Just One, and [u]to hear the voice of his mouth.

15 [x]For thou shalt be his witness to all men of [y]what thou hast seen and heard.

16 And now why delayest thou? arise, be immersed, [z]and wash away thy sins, [a]calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And [b]it came to pass, that, having returned to Jerusalem, as I was praying in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And [c]saw him saying to me, [d]Hasten, and go forth quickly from Jerusalem; for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, [e]they know that I imprisoned, and [f]beat in every synagogue those who believe on thee:

20 [g]And when the blood of thy witness Stephen was shed, I myself also stood by, and [h]approved his death, and kept the garments of those who slew him.

21 And he said to me, Depart: [i]for I will send thee afar to the Gentiles.

22 And they heard him up to this word, and then raised their voices, and said, [k]Away with such a man from the earth! for it is not fit that [l]he should live!

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their garments, and threw dust into the air,

24 The captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said to the centurion who stood by, [m]Is it lawful for you to scourge a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest; for this man is a Roman.

27 And the captain came, and said to him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the captain answered, With a great sum I bought my citizenship. And Paul said, But I was free-born.

29 Immediately therefore those who were about to ‖examine him, departed from him: and the captain also feared, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, wishing to know with certainty why he was accused by the Jews, he released him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and placed him before them.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 As Paul pleadeth his cause, 2 Ananias commandeth them to smite him. 7 Dissension among his accusers. 11 God encourageth him. 14 The Jews' laying wait for Paul 20 is declared to the captain. 27 He sendeth him to Felix the governor.

AND Paul, fixing his eyes on the council, said, Brethren, [a]I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

2 And the high priest Ananias commanded those who stood by him, [b]to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then Paul said to him, God will smite thee, thou whited wall! for sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and [c]commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And those who stood by, said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 And Paul said, [d]I knew not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, [e]Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

6 And Paul, knowing that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, cried out in the council, Brethren, [f]I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: [g]I am tried concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And as he said this, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 [h]For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees acknowledge both.

9 And there arose a great clamour: and the scribes who belonged to the party of the Pharisees, arose, and contended, saying, [i]We find no evil in this man: but [k]if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, [l]let us not fight against God.

10 And a great dissension arising, the captain, fearing that Paul would be pulled in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and take him from among them, and bring him to the castle.

11 And [m]the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Take courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so thou must also testify at Rome.

12 And when it was day, [n]some of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves ‖under a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

‖ Or, with an oath of execration.

13 And there were more than forty who had made this conspiracy.
14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves by a curse, to eat nothing until we have slain Paul.
15 Now therefore do ye with the council give notice to the captain, that he bring him down to you to-morrow, as though ye would ascertain something more accurately concerning him: and we, before he is near, are ready to kill him.
16 And the son of Paul's sister hearing of their plot, went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.
17 Then Paul called one of the centurions to him, and said, Bring this young man to the captain; for he hath something to tell him.
18 So he took him, and brought him to the captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me to him, and asked me to bring this young man to thee, who hath something to say to thee.
19 And the captain took him by the hand, and going aside privately, asked him, What is it which thou hast to tell me?
20 And he said, [o]The Jews have agreed to desire thee, to bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat more accurately concerning him.
21 But do not thou yield to them: for more than forty men of them lie in wait for him, who have bound themselves with an oath, neither to eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now they are ready, looking for a promise from thee.
22 So the chief captain dismissed the young man with the charge, Tell no one that thou hast shewed these things to me.
23 And he called to him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cesarea, and seventy horsemen, and two hundred spearmen, at the third hour of the night;
24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe to Felix the governor.
25 And he wrote a letter to this effect:
26 Claudius Lysias, to the most excellent governor Felix, sendeth greeting.
27 [p]This man was taken by the Jews, and was about to be killed by them: But I coming with my soldiers, rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman.
28 [q]And wishing to know the reason why they accused him, I brought him into their council:
29 Whom I found to be accused [r]of questions in their law, [s]but charged with nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.
30 And [t]being informed that a plot was about to be laid by the Jews against the man, I sent him immediately to thee, [u]commanding also his accusers to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.
31 So the soldiers, as they were commanded, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.
32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:
33 Who, coming to Cesarea, delivered the epistle to the governor, and presented Paul also before him.
34 And the governor read the letter, and asked of what province he was. And learning that he was from [z]Cilicia;
35 [y]I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he ordered him to be kept in [z]Herod's palace.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Paul being accused by Tertullus the orator, 10 answereth for his life and doctrine. 24 He preacheth Christ to the governor and his wife. 26 The governor hopeth for a bribe, but in vain. 27 At last, going out of his office, he leaveth Paul in prison.

AND after [a]five days, [b]Ananias the high priest descended with the elders and a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.
2 And he being called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Since by thee we enjoy great quietness, and prosperity ariseth to this nation by thy providence,
3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.
4 But lest I trouble thee too far, I pray thee to hear us in thy clemency a few words.
5 [c]For finding this man to be a pest, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the empire, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarenes,
6 [d]And one who endeavoured to profane the temple, we took him, and would [e]have tried him according to our law:
7 [f]But Lysias the captain came upon us, and with great violence took him from our hands,
8 [g]Commanding his accusers to come to thee: by examining whom thou canst thyself ascertain concerning every thing of which we accuse him.
9 And the Jews also assented, saying, That this was so.
10 Then Paul, the governor having beckoned to him to speak, answered, Since I know thee to have been for many years a judge to this nation, I the more cheerfully plead for myself:
11 For thou canst know, that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem [h]to worship.
12 [i]And they neither found me in the temple discoursing with any one, nor exciting the multitude either in the synagogues, or in the city:
13 Nor can they prove the things of which they now accuse me.
14 But this I acknowledge to thee, that according to the [k]doctrine which they call heresy, thus I worship the [l]God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in [m]the law and in the prophets:
15 [n]Having hope toward God, which they themselves also cherish, [o]that there will be a resurrection of the dead, both just and unjust.
16 And [p]for this do I strive always to have a pure conscience towards God and towards men.
17 Now, after many years, [q]I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.
18 [r]Upon which certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:
19 [s]Who ought to have been here before thee, and accuse, if they had aught against me.
20 Or let these persons themselves say, what crime they found in me, while I stood before the council,

21 Unless for that one declaration which I uttered aloud while standing among them, [t]For the resurrection of the dead I am tried by you to-day.

22 And Felix hearing this, being more accurately acquainted with the doctrine, put them off, saying, When [u]Lysias the captain shall come down, I will inquire fully into your cause.

23 And he commanded the centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and [x]to forbid none of his acquaintance to serve him or come to him.

24 And after some days, Felix coming with his wife Drusilla, a Jewess, sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he discoursed concerning righteousness, temperance, and the judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Depart for the present; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that [y]money would be given him by Paul, that he might release him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and conversed with him.

27 But after two years Porcius Festus succeeded Felix: and Felix, [z]wishing to gain favour with the Jews, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER XXV.

2 The Jews accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himself, 11 and appealeth to Cesar. 14 Afterwards Festus openeth the matter to king Agrippa, 23 and he is brought forth. 25 Festus cleareth him to have done nothing worthy of death.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he went up from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 [a]And the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 Asking a favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, [b]while they laid a plot to slay him on the road.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul was in keeping at Cesarea, and that he himself should soon go thither.

5 Let then, said he, the powerful among you go down with me, and [c]if there is any charge against this man, accuse him.

6 And having spent among them ‖more than ten days, he went down to Cesarea; and the next day sitting on his tribunal, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews who came down from Jerusalem stood around, [d]alleging many weighty charges against Paul, which they could not prove;

8 While he said in defence, [e]Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Cesar have I committed any offence.

9 But Festus, [f]wishing to gain the favour of the Jews, answered Paul, and said, [g]Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be tried for these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's tribunal, where I ought to be tried: to the Jews I have done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 [h]For if I am an offender, and have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there is nothing in the things of which they accuse me, no one can yield me to their pleasure. [i]I appeal to Cesar.

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed to Cesar; thou shalt go to Cesar.

13 And after some days, king Agrippa and Bernice came to Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And as they were spending there several days, Festus laid before the king the case of Paul, saying, [k]There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 [l]About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the Jewish elders informed me, demanding his condemnation.

16 [m]To whom I answered, It is not the custom of the Romans to deliver any man to death, before the accused hath his accusers face to face, and have opportunity to defend himself against the charge.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, [n]without any delay on the next day I sat on the tribunal, and ordered the man to be brought forth;

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no such charges as I expected:

19 [o]But had certain controversies with him concerning their own religion, and about one Jesus, who had died, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And I being at a loss about the examination of this matter, asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be tried concerning these things.

21 But Paul appealing to be reserved to the ‖hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 And [p]Agrippa said to Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, Agrippa and Bernice coming with great pomp, and entering the place of hearing, with the captains and principal men of the city, at the order of Festus Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all ye men who are here present with us, ye see this man about whom [q]all the multitude of the Jews applied to me, both at Jerusalem, and here, crying that he ought [r]not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that [s]he had committed nothing worthy of death, [t]and he himself appealed to Augustus, I determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have nothing certain to write to my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and especially before thee, king Agrippa, that after examination I may have something to write.

27 For it seemed to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not also to indicate the charges against him.

CHAPTER XXVI.

2 Paul, in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his life from his childhood, 12 and how miraculously he was converted, and called to his apostleship. 24 Festus chargeth him to be mad, whereto he answereth modestly. 28 Agrippa is almost persuaded to be a Christian. 31 The whole company pronounce him innocent.

THEN Agrippa said to Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and began his defence:

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to defend myself to-day before thee, concerning all the things of which I am accused by the Jews:

3 Especially, because I know thee to be acquainted with all the customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I entreat thee to hear me patiently.

4 My mode of life from my youth, which was from the beginning among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews,

5 Who knew me from the beginning, (if they will testify,) that according to [a]the strictest sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee.

6 [b]And now I stand, and am tried for the hope of [c]the promise made by God to our fathers:

7 To which promise [d]our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God †[e]day and night, [f]hope to attain. Concerning which hope, king Agrippa, I am accused by the Jews.

8 What! is it thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 [g]I indeed thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 [h]Which I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints I shut up in prison, having received authority [i]from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 [k]And I punished them in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even to strange cities.

12 [l]Upon which, as I went to Damascus, with authority and commission from the chief priests,

13 At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining around me, and those who journeyed with me.

14 And we having all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking to me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the goads.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But arise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared to thee for this purpose, [m]to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of what thou hast seen, and of †what I will reveal to thee;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, [n]to whom now I send thee,

18 [o]To open their eyes, and [p]to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, [q]that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and [r]inheritance among those who are [s]sanctified by faith in me.

19 Whereupon, king Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision:

20 But [t]shewed first to those of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the regions of Judea, and to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing [u]works worthy of repentance.

21 For these reasons [x]the Jews seizing me in the temple, endeavoured to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained assistance from God, I continue to this day, testifying both to small and great, saying nothing except [y]what the prophets and [z]Moses said was to happen:

23 [a]That the Christ would suffer, and [b]that he, having first arisen from the dead, [c]would shew light to his people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, [d]thou art mad! thy much learning maketh thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus; but I utter the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth concerning these things, before whom also I speak freely. For I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 And Agrippa said to Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to become a Christian.

29 And Paul said, [e]I would to God, that not only thou, but also all who hear me today, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and those who sat with them:

31 And they retired, and talked between themselves, saying, [f]This man doeth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.

32 And Agrippa said to Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, [g]if he had not appealed to Cesar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Paul shipping toward Rome, 10 foretelleth of the danger of the voyage, 11 but is not believed. 14 They are tossed to and fro with tempest, 41 and suffer shipwreck, 22, 34, 44 yet all come safe to land.

AND when [a]it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the band of Augustus.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia, [b]Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius [c]treated Paul kindly, and gave him liberty to go to his friends [*]to refresh himself.

4 And launching thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And sailing over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy, and put us on board of it.

7 And sailing slowly many days, and hardly coming over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we ran under ‖Crete, at Salmone:

8 And hardly sailing along the coast, we came to a place called The Fair Havens; near which was the city of Lasea.

9 And much time having been spent, and sailing being now dangerous, [d]because the fast was already passed, Paul admonished them,

10 Saying, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with injury and great loss, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

d The fast was on the tenth day of the seventh month, Lev. 23. 27, 29.

11 But the centurion yielded rather to the pilot and the master of the ship than to what was said by Paul.
12 And the harbour being unfit to winter in, the most advised to sail thence also, if perchance they might reach Phœnix, a harbour of Crete, lying towards the south-west and north-west, and there winter.
13 And a gentle south wind blowing, they supposed they had obtained their purpose, and weighing anchor, sailed along close by Crete.
14 But not long after there ‖arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.
15 And the ship being caught, and unable to face the wind, we gave up, and let her drift.
16 And running under a certain island called Clauda, we could hardly get possession of the boat:
17 Which they took up, and used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, lowered the †mast, and so were driven.
18 And we being violently tossed by the tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;
19 And on the third day [e]we threw over with our own hands the tackling of the ship.
20 And as neither sun nor stars appeared for many days, and a violent storm pressed upon us, all hope of safety was at last taken away.
21 And all neglecting food, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened to me, and not have sailed from Crete, and so have been spared this harm and loss.
22 And now I exhort you to take courage: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but of the ship.
23 [f]For there stood by me this night an angel of God, whose I am, and [g]whom I serve,
24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Cesar: and lo, God hath given thee all who sail with thee.
25 Wherefore, sirs, take courage: [h]for I believe God, that it will be as it was told me.
26 But [i]we must be thrown upon a certain island.
27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in the Adriatic, about midnight the shipmen suspected that they were approaching some country;
28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and going a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.
29 And fearing lest they should fall upon rocks, they cast four anchors from the stern, and wished for the day.
30 And the sailors seeking to flee from the ship, and letting down the boat into the sea, under the pretext that they were about to cast anchors out of the foreship,
31 Paul said to the centurion, and to the soldiers, Unless these remain in the ship, ye cannot be saved.
32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.
33 And while the day was coming on, Paul entreated them all to take food, saying, To-day is the fourteenth day that ye have waited, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.
34 Wherefore I pray you to take some food; for this is for your safety: for [k]there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.
35 And saying this, he took bread, and [l]gave thanks to God in presence of them all; and he brōke it, and began to eat.
36 Then they were all encouraged, and they also took food.
37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred and seventy-six [m]souls.
38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and threw the wheat into the sea.
39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain inlet with a convenient shore, into which they were inclined, if possible, to thrust the ship.
40 And cutting away the anchors, they let them go into the sea, at the same time loosing the rudder-bands; and raising the mainsail to the wind, they made toward shore.
41 And falling into a †shallow place, [n]they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained immovable, but the stern was broken by the violence of the waves.
42 And it was the plan of the soldiers to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.
43 But the centurion, wishing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim, should first plunge into the sea, and get to land:
44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on other pieces of the ship. And so it happened, [o]that they all escaped safe to land.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 Paul after his shipwreck is kindly entertained by the barbarians. 5 The viper on his hand hurteth him not. 8 He healeth many diseases in the island. 11 They depart towards Rome. 17 He declareth to the Jews the cause of his coming. 24 After his preaching some were persuaded, and some believed not. 30 Yet he preacheth there two years.

AND having escaped, they learned that [a]the island was called Melita.
2 And the [b]barbarians shewed us no ordinary kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all under their care, on account of the continued rain, and on account of the cold.
3 And Paul having gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.
4 And when the barbarians saw the animal hang on his hand, they said among themselves, Assuredly this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet justice suffereth not to live.
5 And he shook off the animal into the fire, and [c]suffered no harm.
6 But they were expecting that he would swell, or suddenly fall dead: but after looking a great while, and seeing no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and [d]said that he was a god.
7 Near that place were the lands of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received and entertained us kindly three days.

8 And it happened, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody-flux: to whom Paul entered in, and [e]praying, [f]laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 Now this being done, the others also who had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many [g]honours; and when we departed, furnished us with such things as we needed.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we remained there three days.

13 And thence sailing about, we came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came on the second day to Puteoli:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went towards Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii-forum, and The Three Taverns; whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but [h]Paul was permitted to dwell by himself, with a soldier who guarded him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days, Paul called together the chief of the Jews. And when they were assembled, he said to them, Brethren, [i]though I have done nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet [k]I was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans:

18 Who [l]having examined me, wished to let me go, as there was no cause of death in me.

19 But the Jews opposing it, [m]I was constrained to appeal to Cesar; not that I had any thing of which to accuse my nation.

20 For this cause, therefore, I have called for you, to see and to speak with you: for [n]on account of the hope of Israel I am bound with [o]this chain.

21 And they said to him, We neither received letters from Judea concerning thee, nor did any of our brethren come and report or speak any evil of thee.

22 But we desire to hear from thee what thou thinkest: for concerning this sect, we know that it is every where [p]spoken against.

23 And having appointed a day, many came to him at his lodging: [q]to whom he explained and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, [r]both from the law of Moses and the prophets, from morning till evening.

24 And [s]some believed the things which were spoken, and others believed not.

25 And disagreeing among themselves, they departed, Paul having spoken one word, Well did the Holy Spirit speak by Isaiah the prophet to our fathers,

26 Saying, [t]Go to this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive.

27 For the heart of this people is become gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should turn, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore to you, that the salvation of God is sent [u]to the Gentiles; and they will hear it.

29 And he having said this, the Jews departed, having much dispute among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all who came in to him,

31 [x]Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no one hindering him.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE ROMANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul commendeth his calling to the Romans, 9 and his desire to come to them. 16 What his gospel is, and the righteousness which it sheweth. 18 God is angry with all manner of sin. 21 What were the sins of the Gentiles.

PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, [a]called to be an apostle, [b]set apart to the gospel of God,

2 ([c]Which he formerly promised [d]by his prophets in the holy scriptures,)

3 Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, [e]who sprang from the [f]seed of David as to the flesh;

4 And was †[g]declared to be the Son of God with power, as [h]to the Spirit of holiness, by his resurrection from the dead:

5 By whom [i]we have received grace and apostleship, ‖for producing [k]obedience to the faith among all nations, [l]on behalf of his name:

6 Among whom are ye also, called of Jesus Christ:

7 To all who are in Rome, beloved of God, [m]called to be saints: [n]Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, [o]I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that [p]your faith is celebrated through the whole world.

9 For [q]God is my witness, [r]whom I serve ‖with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how [s]unceasingly I remember you; always in my prayers

10 [t]Entreating (if by any means I may at length have a prosperous journey [u]by the will of God) to come to you.

11 For I long to see you, that [x]I may impart to you some spiritual gift, that ye may be established;

12 That is, that I may be comforted together with you, by [y]the mutual faith both of you and me.

13 And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that [z]I often purposed to come to you, (but [a]was hindered hitherto,) that I might have some [h]fruit ‖among you, as also among the other Gentiles.

14 [i]I am debtor both to Greeks and Barbarians; both to the wise and unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also who are at Rome.

16 For [d]I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for [e]it is the power of God for salvation to every one who believeth; [f]to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For [g]therein is revealed a righteousness of God ‖from faith to faith: as it is written, [h]The just shall live by faith.

18 [i]For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness, and unrighteousness of men, who ‖hinder the truth by unrighteousness.

19 Because [k]what may be known of God, is manifest among them; for [l]God hath manifested it to them.

20 For [m]his invisible attributes, both his eternal power and Godhead, are, since the creation of the world, clearly seen, being understood by his works; ‖so that they are without excuse:

21 Because when they knew God, they honoured him not as God, nor were thankful, but [n]became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 [o]Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools;

23 And changed the glory of the incorruptible [p]God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 [q]Wherefore God also gave them up in the desires of their hearts to uncleanness, [r]to dishonour their own bodies [s]among themselves:

25 Who changed [t]the truth of God [u]into a lie, and worshipped and served the creation instead of the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up to [x]shameful lusts. For their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And in like manner also the males, leaving the natural use of the female, burned in their lust towards one another; males with males practising abominations, and receiving in themselves the due recompense of their error.

28 And as they did not think proper ‖to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to ‖a reprobate mind, to do that [z]which is not becoming:

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, malignity, covetousness, mischief; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malevolence; whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, insolent, proud, boasters, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, ‖without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32 Who, [a]knowing the ordinance of God, that those who commit such things [b]are worthy of death; not only do them, but ‖[c]have pleasure in those who do them.

CHAPTER II.

1 They that sin, though they condemn it in others, cannot excuse themselves, 6 and much less escape the judgment of God, 9 whether they be Jews or Gentiles. 14 The Gentiles cannot escape, 17 nor yet the Jews, 25 whom their circumcision shall not profit, if they keep not the law.

THEREFORE thou art [a]inexcusable, O man, whoever thou art, that judgest! [b]for while thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou who judgest, doest the same things.

2 But we know that the judgment of God is according to truth, upon those who practise such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, who judgest those practising such things, and doest the same, that thou wilt escape the judgment of God?

4 Or despisest thou [c]the riches of his goodness, and [d]forbearance, and [e]long-suffering; [f]not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But by thy hardness and impenitent heart, [g]treasurest up to thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and of the revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6 [h]Who will render to each one according to his deeds:

7 To those who by patient continuance in well-doing, seek for glory, and honour, and immortality, eternal life:

8 But to those who are contentious, and [i]do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation, and wrath:

9 Affliction and distress upon every soul of man that doeth evil; of the Jew [k]first, and also of the Greek;

10 [l]But glory, honour, and peace, to every one who worketh good; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek;

11 For [m]there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as have sinned without law, will also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under the law, will be judged by the law,

13 (For [n]not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law will be justified.

14 For when nations that have no law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these having no law, are a law to themselves.

15 Who shew the deeds of the law written in their hearts, ‖their conscience also bearing them witness, and their thoughts ‖mutually accusing, or also excusing them;)

16 [o]In the day when God will judge the secrets of men [p]by Jesus Christ, [q]according to my gospel.

17 Behold, [r]thou art called a Jew, and [s]restest in the law, [t]and makest thy boast in God,

18 And [u]knowest his will, and ‖[x]provest what is right and wrong, being instructed from the law,

19 And [y]trustest that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light to those who are in darkness,

20 An instructor of the ignorant, a teacher of the simple, [z]having in the law the very form of knowledge, and of truth:

21 [a]Thou therefore who teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou who preachest, a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou who forbiddest to commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou who abhorrest idols, [b]dost thou commit sacrilege?

23 Thou who [c]gloriest in the law, through transgression of the law dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is through you blasphemed among the Gentiles, as it is [d]written.

25 [e]For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou keep the law; but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision.

26 If [f]then the uncircumcised keep the precepts of the law, will not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And will not the uncircumcised by nature, who fulfil the law, [g]judge thee, who with scripture and circumcision dost transgress the law?

28 For [h]he is not a Jew who is one outwardly; nor is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Jew [i]who is one inwardly; and [k]circumcision is that of the heart, [l]in the spirit, and not in the letter; [m]whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

1 The Jews' prerogative: 8 which they have not lost: 9 yet the law convinceth them also of sin: 20 therefore no flesh is justified by the law, 28 but all, without difference, by faith only: 31 and yet the law is not abolished.

WHAT then is the prerogative of the Jew? or what the benefit of circumcision?

2 Much every way: first, indeed, that [a]they were entrusted with the oracles of God.

3 For what though [b]some were unbelieving? [c]will their unbelief make void the faithfulness of God?

4 [d]By no means! rather let [e]God be true, but [f]every man a liar; as it is written, [g]That thou mayest be justified in thy words, and mayest prevail when thou art judged.

5 But if our unrighteousness establish the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? ([h]I speak as a man,)

6 Far from it! for then [i]how will God judge the world?

7 But if the truth of God hath abounded through my lie to his glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner?

8 And why not, (as it is slanderously asserted of us, and as some affirm that we say,) [k]Let us do evil, that good may come? whose punishment is just.

9 What then? have we any pre-eminence? Not at all: for we have already [l]charged both Jews and Gentiles with being all under sin;

10 As it is written, [m]There is none righteous, no, not one:

11 There is none who understandeth, there is none who seeketh after God.

12 All are gone out of the way, they are together become corrupt: there is none who doeth good, not even one.

13 [n]Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they utter deceit; [o]the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 [p]Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.

15 [q]Their feet are swift to shed blood.

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace they know not.

18 [r]There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that whatever [s]the law saith, it saith to those under the law: that [t]every mouth may be stopped, and [u]all the world may become ‖guilty before God.

20 Wherefore [x]by works of law, there will no flesh be justified in his sight: for [y]by law is the knowledge of sin.

21 But now [z]a righteousness of God is manifested apart from law, [a]attested by the law [b]and the prophets;

22 A righteousness of God, [c]by faith in Jesus Christ, for all, and upon all who believe; for [d]there is no difference:

23 For [e]all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24 Being justified freely [f]by his grace, [g]through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

25 Whom God hath ‖set forth [h]to be a propitiation, through faith, [i]by his blood, to manifest his righteousness [k]for the ‖remission of [l]sins formerly committed during the forbearance of God;

26 To manifest, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he may be just, and justify him who believeth in Jesus.

27 [m]Where then is boasting? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith.

28 For we reckon [n]that a man is justified by faith without works of law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Since [o]it is one God who will justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we then by faith make void law? By no means; but we establish law.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Abraham's faith was imputed to him for righteousness, 10 [p]before he was circumcised. 13 By faith only he and his seed received the promise. 16 Abraham is the father of all that believe. 24 Our faith also shall be imputed to us for righteousness.

WHAT shall we then say that [a]Abraham, our father, gained in respect to the flesh?

2 Nothing; for if Abraham was found [b]just by works, he hath whereof to glory before men, but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? [c]Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

4 Now [d]to him who worketh, the reward is not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5 But to him who worketh not, but believeth on him who justifieth [e]the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 As also David describeth the happiness of the man to whom God ascribeth righteousness, apart from works,

7 [f]Happy they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered!

8 Happy the man to whom the Lord ascribeth not sin!

9 Cometh this happiness then upon the circumcised only, or also on the uncircumcised? For we say that his faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And [e]he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while yet uncircumcised: that [h]he might be the father of all who believe, though uncircumcised, that righteousness may be reckoned to them also;

12 And the father of the circumcised not only to those of the circumcision, but also to those who walk in the steps of the faith of our father Abraham, which he had while yet uncircumcised.

13 For the promise that he should be [i]heir of the world was not to Abraham, or to his seed, by law, but by the righteousness of faith.

14 For [k]if those of the law are heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is done away.

15 Because [l]the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, neither is there transgression.

16 Therefore it was of faith, that it might be [m]by grace; [n]in order that the promise might be sure to all the seed: not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, [o]who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, [p]I have made thee a father of many nations,) ‖before God whom he believed, [q]who giveth life to the dead, and calleth those [r]things which are not, as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed with hope, that he should become the father of many nations; according to what had been said, [s]So shall thy seed be;

19 And being not weak in faith, [t]he considered not his own body already dead, (he being about an hundred years old,) nor the deadness of Sarah's womb.

20 Nor did he through unbelief doubt the promise of God; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded, that what he had promised, [u]he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was reckoned to him for righteousness.

23 Now, [x]it was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned to him;

24 But for ours also, to whom it is to be reckoned, while we believe [y]on him who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead,

25 [z]Who was delivered for our offences, and [a]raised for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God, 2 and joy in our hope, 8 that since we were reconciled by his blood, when we were enemies, 10 we shall much more be saved being reconciled. 12 As sin and death came by Adam, 17 so much more righteousness and life by Jesus Christ. 20 Where sin abounded, grace did superabound.

THEREFORE [c]being justified by faith, we have [b]peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2 [c]By whom also we have access by faith to this grace [d]in which we stand, and [e]rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but [f]we also glory in our afflictions; [g]knowing that affliction worketh patience;

4 [h]And patience, approbation; and approbation, hope:

5 [i]And our hope doth not put us to shame: [k]because the love of God is shed forth in our hearts by the Holy Spirit who is given to us.

6 For we being still ‖wretched, ‖in due season [l]Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: though perchance for the good man some would even dare to die.

8 But [m]God establisheth his love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then, being now justified [n]by his blood, we shall be saved through him [o]from wrath.

10 For [p]if when enemies, [q]we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son; much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved [r]by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also [s]rejoice in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the reconciliation.

12 ¶ Wherefore as [t]by one man sin entered into the world, and [u]death by sin; and so death passed through upon all men, in that all sinned:

13 (For until the law, sin was in the world: but [x]sin is not accounted when there is no law.

14 Yet death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those who had not sinned after the likeness of Adam's transgression, [y]who is a type of him that was to come.

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one the many died, much more the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded [z]to many.

16 And not as the sentence through one who sinned, is the gift. For the sentence was from one offence to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences to justification.

17 For if ‖by the offence of the one death reigned through the one; much more will those who receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, reign in life by the one, Jesus Christ.)

18 So then, as by one offence sentence came upon all men to condemnation, so also by one righteous act the free gift came [a]upon all men to justification of life.

19 For as by the disobedience of the one man the many were made sinners, so also by the obedience of the one will the many be made righteous.

20 And [b]the law was introduced, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace much [c]more abounded:

21 That as sin hath reigned through death, so also grace might reign through righteousness to eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

1 We may not live in sin, 2 for we are dead to it, 3 as appeareth by our immersion. 12 Let not sin reign any more, 18 because we have yielded ourselves to the service of righteousness, 23 and because death is the wages of sin.

WHAT shall we say then? [a]Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2 By no means! how shall we, who are [b]dead to sin, any longer live in it?

3 Or are ye ignorant that [c]we who were immersed into Jesus Christ, [d]were immersed into his death?

4 Therefore we were [e]buried with him by our immersion into his death: that [f]as Christ was raised from the dead by [g]the glory of the Father, [h]so we also should walk in newness of life.

5 [i]For if we have become united with him in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in that of his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that [k]our old man was crucified with him, that [l]the body of sin might be destroyed, that we should no longer serve sin.

7 For [m]he who is dead is †freed from sin.

8 But [n]if we are dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9 Knowing that [o]Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death no longer hath dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, [p]he died once for all to sin: but in that he liveth, [q]he liveth to God.

11 So also do ye reckon yourselves to be [r]dead indeed to sin, but [s]alive to God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12 [t]Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in its desires.

13 Nor yield your [u]members to sin, as †instruments of unrighteousness: but [x]yield yourselves to God, as alive from the dead, and your members to God, as instruments of righteousness:

14 For [y]sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, [z]because we are not under law, but under grace? By no means.

16 Know ye not, that [a]to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin to death, or of obedience to righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that though ye were the servants of sin, yet ye obeyed from the heart [b]that form of doctrine †which was delivered to you;

18 And being [c]made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness.

19 (I speak after the manner of men, on account of the infirmity of your flesh.) For as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and iniquity, to practise iniquity; so now yield your members servants to righteousness, to practise holiness.

20 For when ye were [d]servants of sin, ye were free as to righteousness.

21 [e]What fruit then had ye at that time in the things of which ye are now ashamed? for [f]the end of those things is death.

22 But now [g]being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit to holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For [h]the wages of sin are death: but [i]the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

1 No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth. 4 But we are dead to the law. 7 Yet is not the law sin, 12 but holy, just, good, 16 as I acknowledge, who am grieved because I cannot keep it.

OR know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to those who know the law,) that the law hath dominion over the man as long as he liveth?

2 For [a]the married woman is bound by the law to her husband while he liveth; but if her husband die, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then, [b]if while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she will be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become [c]dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, to him who is risen from the dead, that we may [d]bring forth fruit to God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions, which were by the law, [e]wrought in our members [f]to bring forth fruit to death:

6 But now we are delivered from the law, ‖being dead to that in which we were held; so that we serve [g]in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? By no means. Nay, [h]I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known unlawful desire, unless the law had said, [i]Thou shalt not covet.

8 But [k]sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me every inordinate desire. For [l]without law sin is dead.

9 And I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment [m]which was given for life, proved to be for death.

11 For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, led me astray, and by it slew me.

12 So that [n]the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13 Hath then that which is good become death to me? By no means! But sin; that it may be shown to be sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin may through the commandment become exceedingly sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, [o]sold under sin.

15 For that which I do, I †approve not: for [p]I practise not that which I would, but I do that which I hate.

16 And if I do that which I would not, I assent to the law that it is good.

17 And now it is no longer I that do it, but the sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that [q]in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth nothing good: for to will is present with me; but how to perform what is good, I find not.

19 For the good which I would, I do not; but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 And if I do that which I would not, it is no longer I that do it, but the sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then the law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I [r]have pleasure in the law of God, as to [s]the inward man:

23 But [t]I see another law in [u]my members warring against the law of my understanding, and rendering me captive to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 Wretched man that I am! who will deliver me from this body of death?

25 [x]I thank God, through Jesus Christ

our Lord. So then, with the understanding indeed, I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 They that are in Christ, and live according to the Spirit, are free from condemnation. 5, 13 What harm cometh of the flesh, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit: 17 and what of being God's child, 19 whose glorious deliverance all things long for, 29 was beforehand decreed from God. 38 What can sever us from his love?

THERE is therefore no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus, who [a]walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For [b]the law of [c]the spirit of life in Christ Jesus, hath made me free from [d]the law of sin and death.

3 For [e]what was impossible for the law, in that it was weak through the flesh, [f]God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and ‖for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the law may be fulfilled ‖by us, [g]who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For [h]those who are after the flesh, mind the things of the flesh: but those who are after the Spirit, [i]the things of the Spirit.

6 For [k]†to be carnally minded is death; but †to be spiritually minded is life and peace:

7 Because †[l]the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, [m]nor indeed can it be.

8 And those who are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if indeed [n]the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. And if any one hath not [o]the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ is in you, the body indeed is dead on account of sin; but the spirit is life on account of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of [p]him who raised Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, [q]he who raised Christ from the dead will also quicken your mortal bodies ‖by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 [r]Therefore, brethren, we are debtors not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For [s]if ye live after the flesh, ye will die: but if through the Spirit ye [t]mortify the deeds of the body, ye will live.

14 For [u]as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are sons of God.

15 For [z]ye have not received a servile spirit, that ye should again be [y]in fear; but ye have received the [z]Spirit of sonship, by which we cry, [a]Abba, Father!

16 [b]The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God:

17 And if children, then heirs: [c]heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; [d]if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

18 For I reckon, that [e]the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which is to be revealed to us.

19 For [f]the earnest longing of the creation is awaiting the [g]manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For [h]the creation was made subject to decay, (not voluntarily, but on account of him who subjected it,) in hope

21 That the creation itself also will be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation [i]groan, and are in pangs together until now:

23 And not only they, but ourselves also, who have [k]the first-fruits of the Spirit, [l]even we ourselves groan within ourselves, [m]awaiting our adoption, the [n]redemption of our body.

24 For we have been saved by hope. But [o]hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for what we see not, we steadfastly wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for [p]we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but [q]the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with unutterable groanings.

27 And [r]he who searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, ‖because he maketh intercession for the saints, [s]according to the will of God.

28 And we know that all things work together for good, to those who love God, to those [t]who are called according to his purpose.

29 For whom [u]he foreknew, [z]he also predestinated [y]to be conformed to the image of his Son, [z]that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

30 And whom he predestinated, these he also [a]called: and whom he called, these he also [b]justified: and whom he justified, these he also [c]glorified.

31 What then shall we say to this? [d]If God is for us, who is against us?

32 [e]He who spared not his own Son, but [f]delivered him up for us all, how will he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who will bring a charge against the elect of God? [g]It is God who justifieth them.

34 [h]Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ who died, or rather, who is risen again, [i]who is also at the right hand of God, [k]who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who will separate us from the love of Christ? will affliction, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 (As it is written, [l]For thy sake we are put to death all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.)

37 [m]Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerers, through him who loved us.

38 For I am persuaded, that neither death nor life, neither angels nor [n]principalities nor powers, neither things present nor things to come,

39 Neither height nor depth, nor any other created thing, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

I [a]SAY the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Spirit,

2 [b]That I have great grief and ‖unceasing anguish in my heart.

3 For [c]I could even wish myself to be separated from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen as to the flesh:

4 [d]Who are Israelites; [e]to whom belong the sonship, and [f]the glory, and [g]the ‖covenants, and [h]the giving of the law, and [i]the service of God, and [k]the promises;

5 [l]Whose are the fathers, and [m]of whom, as to the flesh, is Christ, [n]who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6 [o]Not as though the promise of God hath failed. For [p]they are not all Israel, who are of Israel:

7 [q]Nor, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In [r]Isaac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is, It is not the children of the flesh, that are the children of God; but [s]the children of the promise are reckoned as his seed.

9 For this is the language of the promise, [t]At this time I will come, and Sarah shall have a son.

10 And not only this; but when [u]Rebecca also had conceived by one, our father Isaac,

11 (For the children being not yet born, nor having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of [x]him that calleth;)

12 It was said to her, [y]The ‖elder shall serve the ‖younger.

13 As it is written, [z]Jacob I have loved, but Esau I have hated.

14 What shall we say then? [a]Is there unrighteousness with God? By no means.

15 For he saith to Moses, [b]I show favour to whom I will show favour, and I compassionate whom I will compassionate.

16 So then, it is not of †the will or the effort of man, but of the favour of God.

17 For [c]the scripture saith to Pharaoh, [d]For this very purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore, to whom he will, he sheweth favour, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then to me, Why doth he still find fault? for [e]who resisteth his will?

20 Nay, O man, who art thou who ‖repliest against God? [f]Shall the thing formed say to him who formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Or hath not the [g]potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make [h]one vessel for honour, and another for dishonour?

22 And what if God, wishing to shew his wrath, and to make known his power, endured with much long-suffering [i]the vessels of wrath ‖[k]fitted for destruction?

23 And that he might make known [l]the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had [m]before prepared for glory,

24 Had mercy on us, whom he hath called, [n]not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles?

25 As also he saith in Hosea, [o]I will call those My people, who were not my people; and her Beloved, who was not beloved.

26 [p]And it shall be, that in the place where it was said to them, Ye are not my people; there they shall be called, Sons of the living God.

27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, [q]Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, [r]only a remnant will be saved:

28 For he fulfilleth and determineth his work in righteousness: [s]because the work which he hath determined, will the Lord perform upon the ‖earth.

29 And as Isaiah hath said before, [t]Unless the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, [u]we had become as Sodom, and been made like Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? [x]That the Gentiles who sought not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, [y]but a righteousness which is of faith:

31 But Israel, [z]striving after a law of righteousness, [a]did not attain to a law of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but by works of law. For [b]they stumbled at the stumbling-stone;

33 As it is written, [c]Behold, I lay in Zion a stumbling-stone, and rock of offence: and [d]whoever trusteth to it will not be confounded.

CHAPTER X.

5 The scripture sheweth the difference betwixt the righteousness of the law, and this of faith, 11 and that all, both Jew and Gentile, that believe, shall not be confounded, 18 and that the Gentiles shall receive the word and believe. 19 Israel was not ignorant of these things.

BRETHREN, the desire of my heart, and my prayer to God, is for the salvation of Israel.

2 For I bear them witness [a]that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For being ignorant of [b]the righteousness of God, and seeking to establish their own [c]righteousness, they have not submitted themselves to the righteousness of God.

4 For [d]Christ is the ‖end of the law for righteousness to every one who believeth.

5 For Moses describeth the righteousness which is by the law, [e]The man who doeth these things will live by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, [f]Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring down Christ:)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring up Christ from the dead.)

8 But what saith it? [g]The word is near thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach:

9 That [h]if thou shalt acknowledge with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart, we believe to righteousness; and with the mouth, we make acknowledgment to salvation.

11 For the scripture saith, [i]Whoever believeth on him shall not be confounded.

12 For [k]there is no difference between Jew and Greek: for [l]the same Lord over all, [m]is rich to all who call upon him.

13 [n]For whoever shall call [o]on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14 How then shall they call on him on whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe on him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear [p]without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, unless they are sent forth? as it is written, [q]How beautiful are the feet of those who bring the glad tidings of peace, who bring glad tidings of good!

16 But [r]they have not all hearkened to the glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, [s]Lord, who hath believed ‖what he heareth from us?

17 So then, faith cometh from hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes, verily, [t]their sound went into all the earth, [u]and their words to the extremities of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Israel understand this? First, Moses saith, [x]I will move you to jealousy by what is not a people, by a [y]foolish nation I will excite your anger.

20 But Isaiah is very bold, and saith, [z]I was found by those who sought me not; I became manifest to those who asked not after me.

21 But ‖of Israel he saith, [a]All day long I have stretched forth my hands to a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER XI.

1 God hath not cast off all Israel. 7 Some were elected, though the rest were hardened. 16 There is hope of their conversion. 18 The Gentiles may not exult over them: 26 for there is a promise of their salvation. 33 God's judgments are unsearchable.

I SAY then, [a]Hath God cast away his people? By no means. For [b]I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people whom [c]he ‖foreknew. Or know ye not what the scripture saith in the case of Elijah? how he intercedeth with God against Israel, saying,

3 [d]Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and overthrown thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God to him? [e]I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 [f]Thus, therefore, there is also at the present time a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 And [g]if by grace, it is no longer of works: since then grace is no longer grace. But if of works, it is no longer grace: since then work is no longer work.

7 What then? [h]what Israel seeketh it hath not obtained; but the elect have obtained it, and the rest were ‖blinded,

8 (So it is written, [i]God hath given them the spirit of ‖slumber, [k]eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) until this day.

9 And David saith, [l]Let their table become a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a reward to them:

10 [m]Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back perpetually.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled in order to fall? By no means: but [n]by their fall salvation is come to the Gentiles, to move them to jealousy.

12 And if their fall is the riches of the world, and their ‖diminution the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness!

13 For I speak to you Gentiles; inasmuch as [o]I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:

14 If by any means I may move to jealousy my own kindred, and [p]may save some of them.

15 For if their rejection is the reconciling of the world, what will their reception be, but life from the dead?

16 And if [q]the first fruit is holy, so is also the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches.

17 And if [r]some of the branches were broken off, [s]and thou, being a wild olive, wast engrafted among them, and made partaker of the root and fatness of the olive;

18 [t]Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be engrafted.

20 True; for their want of faith they were [u]broken off, and by faith thou standest. [x]Be not high-minded, but [z]fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: towards those who fell, severity; but towards thee, goodness, [y]if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [z]thou also wilt be cut off.

23 And they also, [a]if they continue not in their unbelief, will be grafted in: for God is able again to graft them in.

24 For if thou wert cut out of thy natural wild olive, and wert engrafted contrary to nature into a good olive; how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive!

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this secret, (lest ye be [b]wise in your own estimation,) that [c]‖blindness in part hath happened to Israel, [d]until the fulness of the Gentiles come in;

26 And so all Israel will be saved: as it is written, [e]The Deliverer will come out of Zion, and will turn away ungodliness from Jacob:

27 [f]For this is my covenant with them, when I shall take away their sins.

28 As to the gospel indeed, they are enemies for your sake: but as to the election, they are [g]beloved for the sake of their fathers.

29 For the favours and calling of God are [h]unchangeable.

30 For as ye [i]were formerly disobedient to God, but have now obtained mercy through their disobedience;

31 Thus also they are now disobedient, that through the mercy shown to you, they also may obtain mercy.

32 For [k]God hath shut all up together in disobedience, that he might have mercy on all.

33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! [l]how unsearchable are his judgments, and incomprehensible [m]his ways!

34 [n]For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or [o]who hath been his counsellor?

35 Or [p]who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed to him?

36 For [q]of him, and through him, and to him are all things: [r]to †whom be glory for ever! Amen.

CHAPTER XII.

1 God's mercies must move us to please God. 3 No man must think too well of himself, 6 but attend every one on that calling wherein he is placed. 9 Love, and many other duties, are required of us. 19 Revenge is specially forbidden.

I [a]BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, [b]to [c]present your bodies [d]a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your ‖reasonable service.

2 And [e]be not conformed to this world: but [f]be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may [g]prove what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, [h]through the grace given to me, to every man that is among you, [i]not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think †soberly, according as God hath imparted [k]to each the measure of faith.

4 For [l]as we have many members in one body, and all the members have not the same office:

5 So [m]we, being many, are one body in Christ, and severally members of one another.

6 And [n]having gifts, differing [o]according to the grace that is given to us, whether [p]prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

7 Or ministry, let us be diligent in our ministering: or [q]he that teacheth, in teaching:

8 Or [r]he that exhorteth, in exhortation: [s]he that imparteth, let him do it ‖with simplicity: [t]he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, [u]with cheerfulness.

9 [x]Let love be without dissimulation. [y]Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 [z]Be affectionate towards each other ‖with brotherly love; [a]in mutual respect surpassing one another;

11 Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12 [b]Rejoicing in hope; [c]patient in affliction; [d]persevering in prayer;

13 [e]Communicating to the wants of the saints; [f]given to hospitality.

14 [g]Bless those who persecute you; bless, and curse not.

15 [h]Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep.

16 [i]Be of the same mind among yourselves. [k]Aspire not to high things, but ‖condescend to the humble. [l]Be not wise in your own esteem.

17 [m]Render to none evil for evil. [n]Practise what is honourable in the sight of all men.

18 If possible, as far as lieth in you, [o]be at peace with all men.

19 [p]Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place to the wrath of God: for it is written, [q]Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 [r]If then thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou wilt heap coals of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Subjection, and many other duties, we owe to the magistrates. 8 Love is the fulfilling of the law. 11 Gluttony and drunkenness, and the works of darkness, are out of season in the time of the gospel.

LET every soul [a]be subject to the higher powers. For [b]there is no power but from God: the existing powers are appointed by God.

2 Whoever therefore arrayeth himself against [c]the power, resisteth the appointment of God: and those who resist will receive to themselves punishment.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. And wishest thou not to fear the power? [d]do what is good, and thou shalt have praise of it:

4 For he is a servant of God for thy good. But if thou doest evil, fear; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is a servant of God, an avenger to inflict punishment on him who doeth evil.

5 Wherefore [e]it is necessary to be subject, not only on account of punishment, [f]but also on account of conscience.

6 For, for this reason also ye pay tribute: for they are God's ministers, attending to this very thing.

7 [g]Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no one any thing but mutual love: for [h]he who loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, [i]Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false testimony, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in these words, namely, [k]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to our neighbour: therefore [l]love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And this do, knowing the time, that now it is high time [m]to awake from sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: [n]let us therefore lay aside the works of darkness, and [o]put on the armour of light.

13 [p]Let us walk ‖becomingly, as in the day: [q]not in revelling and drunkenness, [r]not in lust and licentiousness, [s]not in strife and envying.

14 But [t]put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and [u]have no care for the flesh, to gratify its desires.

CHAPTER XIV.

3 Men may not contemn nor condemn one the other for things indifferent: 13 but take heed that they give no offence in them: 15 for that the apostle proveth unlawful by many reasons.

HIM who [a]is weak in his faith receive, but ‖not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he [b]may eat all things; but he who is weak, eateth only herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not; and [c]let not him that eateth not, judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 [d]Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth: but he will stand: for God is able to make him stand.

5 [e]One esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let each one be fully assured in his own mind.

6 He that [f]‖regardeth the day, regardeth it to the Lord: and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he regardeth it not. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for [g]he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For [h]none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself.

8 For if we live, we live to the Lord; and if we die, we die to the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9 For, [i]for this Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be [k]Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But thou, why judgest thou thy brother? or again thou, why dost thou despise thy brother? for [l]we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, [m]As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall make acknowledgment to God.

12 So then [n]each of us will give account of himself to God.

13 Let us then judge one another no longer: but determine this rather, [o]not to put a stumbling-block, or an occasion of falling in a brother's way.

14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, [p]that nothing is †unclean of itself: but [q]to him who considereth any thing to be †unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if through food thy brother is grieved, thou no longer walkest according to love. [r]Destroy not with thy food him for whom Christ died.

16 [s]Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17 [t]For the kingdom of God is not food and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit.

18 For he who in these things serveth Christ, [u]is acceptable to God, and approved by men.

19 [x]Let us then strive for that which tendeth to peace, and [y]mutual edification.

20 [z]For food destroy not the work of God. [a]All things indeed are pure; [b]but they are evil to the man who is stumbled by what he eateth.

21 It is good neither to eat [c]flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing by which thy brother stumbleth, or is led astray, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. [d]Happy he who condemneth not himself in that which he approveth!

23 And he who ‖doubteth is condemned if he eat, because it is not of faith: for [e]whatever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The strong must bear with the weak. 2 We may not please ourselves, 3 for Christ did not so, 7 but receive one another, as Christ did us all, 8 both Jews 9 and Gentiles. 15 Paul excuseth his writing, 28 and promiseth to see them, 30 and requesteth their prayers.

AND [a]we who are strong ought to bear the [b]infirmities of the weak, and not please ourselves.

2 [c]Let each one of us please his neighbour for his good [d]to edification.

3 [e]For Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, [f]The reproaches of those who reproached thee fell on me.

4 For [g]whatever was written formerly, was written for our instruction, that we by our patience, and the consolation of the scriptures, may have hope.

5 [h]And may the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded towards each other, ‖in Christ Jesus:

6 That ye may [i]with one mind and one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Wherefore [k]receive one another, [l]as Christ also received you, to the glory of God.

8 And I say, that [m]Jesus Christ hath become a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, [n]to confirm the promises made to the fathers:

9 And [o]that the Gentiles have glorified God for his mercy; as it is written, [p]For this reason I will acknowledge thee among the Gentiles, and sing to thy name.

10 And again he saith, [q]Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again, [r]Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and extol him, all ye people.

12 And again Isaiah saith, [s]There will be the root of Jesse, and he who will rise to rule the Gentiles; in him will the Gentiles hope.

13 And may the God of hope fill you with all [t]joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, by the power of the Holy Spirit.

14 And [u]I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of kindness, [w]filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 But I have written to you the more boldly, brethren, in part, as putting you in mind, [x]on account of the grace that is given to me of God,

16 That [y]I should be a servant of Jesus Christ among the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the ‖[z]offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

17 I have then ground of glorying through Jesus Christ, [a]in things pertaining to God.

18 For I will not venture to speak of any of those things [b]which Christ hath not wrought by me, [c]to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,

19 [d]Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and all around as far as Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20 And thus have I striven to preach the gospel, namely, not where Christ was named, [e]lest I should build on another man's foundation:

21 But as it is written, [f]Those to whom he was not spoken of, shall see: and those who have not heard shall understand.

22 For which cause also [g]I have been often hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no longer a place in 24 Whenever I go into Spain, I will come to you: for I hope to see you in my journey, [i]and to be sent on thither by you, when I am first somewhat satisfied [†]with your company.

25 But now [k]I go to Jerusalem to supply the wants of the saints.

26 For [l]Macedonia and Achaia have thought proper to make some contribution for the poor saints at Jerusalem.

27 They have thought proper, I say; and they are their debtors. For [m]if the Gentiles have shared in their spiritual things, [n]their duty is also to minister to them in carnal things.

28 When therefore I have performed this, and have delivered to them [o]this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29 [p]And I am sure that when I come to you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30 And I beseech you, brethren, by the Lord Jesus Christ, and [q]by the love of the Spirit, [r]that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

CHAPTER XVI.

3 Paul willeth the brethren to greet many, 17 and adviseth them to take heed to those who cause dissension and offences, 21 and after sundry salutations endeth with praise and thanks to God.

I COMMEND to you Phebe our sister, who is a servant of the church at [a]Cenchrea:

2 [b]That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatever business she hath need of you: for she hath been herself a succourer of many, and of myself also.

3 Greet [c]Priscilla and Aquila, my fellow-labourers in Christ Jesus:

4 (Who for my life laid down their own necks: to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles,)

5 And [d]the church in their house. Salute my well-beloved Epenetus, who is [e]the first-fruits of Achaia to Christ.

6 Salute Mary, who laboured much for us.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen, and my fellow-prisoners, who are distinguished among the apostles, who also [f]were in Christ before me.

8 Salute Amplias my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbane, our fellow-labourer in Christ, and Stachys my beloved.

10 Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute those of the ‖household of Aristobulus.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet those of the ‖household of Narcissus, who are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, who laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus [g]chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints who are with them.

16 [h]Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark those [i]who cause divisions and offences, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and [k]avoid them.

18 For such persons serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but [l]their own belly; and [m]by flattery and fair words deceive the hearts of the simple.

19 For [n]your obedience is known to all. I rejoice therefore over you: but I would have you [o]wise to what is good, and ‖simple as to evil.

20 And [p]the God of peace [q]will speedily crush Satan under your feet. [r]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

21 [s]Timothy my fellow-labourer, and [t]Lucius, and [u]Jason, and [x]Sosipater, my kinsmen, salute you.

22 I Tertius, who wrote this epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23 [y]Gaius my host, and that of the whole church, saluteth you. [z]Erastus the chamberlain of the city saluteth you, and Quartus our brother.

24 [a]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

25 Now [b]to him who is able to establish you [c]through my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, [d]according to the disclosure of the secret, [e]which was kept silent in ancient times,

26 But [f]now is made manifest, and by the prophetic writings, according to the command of the eternal God, made known to all nations for [g]their obedience to the faith:

27 To the only wise [h]God, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

¶ THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

After his salutation and thanksgiving, 10 he exhorteth them to unity, and 12 reproveth their dissensions. 18 God destroyeth the wisdom of the wise, 21 by the foolishness of preaching, and 26 calleth not the wise, mighty, and noble, but 27, 28 the foolish, weak, and men of no account.

PAUL, [a]called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ [b]through the will of God, and [c]Sosthenes our brother,

2 To the church of God which is at Corinth, [d]to the [e]sanctified in Christ Jesus, [f]called to be saints, with all who in every place [g]call upon the name of Jesus Christ [h]our Lord, [i]both theirs and ours:

3 [k]Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 [l]I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you in Jesus Christ;

5 That ye are enriched by him with every thing, [m]with all speech, and with all knowledge;

6 (Even as [n]the testimony of Christ was established among you:)

7 So that ye come behind in no gift; [o]waiting for the †appearance of our Lord Jesus Christ:

8 [p]Who will also confirm you to the end, [q]that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 [r]God is faithful, by whom ye were called into [s]the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [t]that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no †divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind, and in the same judgment.

11 For it hath been declared to me concerning you, my brethren, by the kindred of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 And I mean this, [u]that each of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of [x]Apollos; and I of [y]Cephas; and I of Christ.

13 [z]Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye immersed in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I immersed none of you, but [a]Crispus and [b]Gaius;

15 Lest any should say that I had immersed in mine own name.

16 And I immersed also the household of [c]Stephanas; further, I know not whether I immersed any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to immerse, but to preach the gospel: [d]not with wisdom of speech, lest the cross of Christ should be made of no effect.

18 For the doctrine of the cross is to [e]those who perish, [f]foolishness; but to us [g]who are saved, it is the [h]power of God.

19 For it is written, [i]I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the intelligent.

20 [k]Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? [l]hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 [m]For since in the wisdom of God the world by its wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of the preaching of Christ to save those who believe.

22 For the [n]Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek for wisdom:

23 But we preach Christ crucified, [o]to the Jews indeed a stumbling-block, and to the Greeks [p]foolishness;

24 But to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ [q]the power of God, and [r]the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, that [s]not many wise men as to the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called:

27 [t]But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty;

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and [u]things which are not, [x]to bring to nothing things that are:

29 [y]That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 But by him ye are in Christ Jesus, who is become to us [z]wisdom from God, and [a]righteousness, and [b]sanctification, and [c]redemption:

31 That, as it is written, [d]He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

He declareth that his preaching, 1 though it bring not excellency of speech, or of 4 human wisdom: yet consisteth in the 4, 5 power of God: and so far excelleth 6 the wisdom of this world, and 9 human sense, as that 14 the natural man cannot understand it.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, [a]came not with superior speech or wisdom, declaring to you [b]the testimony of God.

2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, [c]but Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And [d]I was with you [e]in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 And my speech and my preaching [f]were not with persuasive words of human wisdom, [g]but with the manifestation of the Spirit, and of power:

5 That your faith might not †stand in the wisdom of men, but [h]in the power of God.

6 But we speak wisdom among [i]the perfect: yet not [k]the wisdom of this world, nor of the rulers of this world, [l]who come to nought:

7 But we speak the secret wisdom of God, the hidden wisdom [m]which God from eternity ordained for our glory;

8 [n]Which none of the rulers of this world hath known: (for [o]had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory;)

9 But as it is written, [p]Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, nor hath entered the heart of man, what God hath prepared for those who love him.

10 But to us [q]God hath revealed it by his Spirit; for the Spirit searcheth all things, even the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, [r]except the spirit of man which is in him? [s]thus also the things of God knoweth none but the Spirit of God.

12 And we have received, not the spirit of the world, but [t]the Spirit which is of God, that we may know the things that are freely given to us by God.

13 [u]Which things also we speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in those taught by the Holy Spirit; ‖comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 [x]But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: [y]for they are foolishness to him: [z]and he cannot know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 [a]But the spiritual man discerneth indeed all things, yet is himself discerned by none.

16 [b]For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he †may instruct him? [c]But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

2 Milk is fit for children. 3 Strife and division, arguments of a fleshly mind. 7 He that planteth, and he that watereth, are nothing. 9 The ministers are God's fellow-workmen. 11 Christ the only foundation. 16 Men the temples of God, which 17 must be kept holy. 19 The wisdom of this world is foolishness with God.

AND I, brethren, could not speak to you as [a]spiritual, but as [b]carnal, as [c]babes in Christ.

2 I fed you with [d]milk, and not with meat: [e]for as yet ye were not able to bear it, nor even now are ye able.

3 For ye are still carnal: for [f]since there are among you envy, and strife, and ‖divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk †as men?

4 For while one saith, [g]I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; are ye not carnal?

5 Who then is Paul, and who Apollos, but [h]ministers by whom ye believed, [i]and that as the Lord gave to each?

6 [k]I planted, [l]Apollos watered: [m]but God caused the growth.

7 So that, [n]neither is he who planteth any thing, nor he who watereth: but God who causeth the growth.

8 But he that planteth and he that watereth are one: [o]and each will receive his own reward, according to his own labour.

9 For [p]we are God's fellow-labourers: ye are God's ‖husbandry, ye are [q]God's building.

10 [r]According to the grace of God which was given to me, I, as a wise master-builder, have laid [s]the foundation; and another buildeth upon it. But [t]let each one take heed how he buildeth upon it.

11 For none can lay another foundation than [u]that which is already laid, [x]which is Jesus Christ.

12 But if any one buildeth upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13 [y]Every man's work will become manifest: for the day of judgment [z]will show [a]it, †which reveals itself in fire; and the fire will prove of what sort is each one's work.

14 If any one's work which he hath built thereon remain, [b]he shall receive a reward.

15 If any one's work shall be burned up, he shall suffer loss: but he himself will be saved; [c]yet so as by fire.

16 [d]Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any one destroy the temple of God, God will destroy him: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 [e]Let no one deceive himself. If any one among you is reputed to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 For [f]the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, [g]He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 And again, [h]The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 Therefore [i]let no one glory in men: for [k]all things are yours;

22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours;

23 And [l]ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.

1 In what account the ministers ought to be had. 7 We have nothing which we have not received. 9 The apostles spectacles to the world, angels, and men, 13 the filth and off-scouring of the world: 15 yet our fathers in Christ, 16 whom we ought to follow.

LET a man thus regard us, as [a]servants of Christ, [b]and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Moreover, it is required in stewards that a man be found faithful.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you, or by human †judgment: nay, I do not even judge myself;

4 For though I am conscious with myself of no evil, [c]yet I am not therefore justified: but he who judgeth me is the Lord.

5 [d]Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, [e]who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and [f]then shall each one have his praise from God.

6 And these things, brethren, [g]I have in a figure transferred to myself, and to Apollos, for your sakes: [h]that ye may learn in us not to prize your teachers above what is written, that none of you on account of one teacher may [i]be puffed up against another.

7 For who †maketh thee to differ from another? and [k]what hast thou which thou didst not receive? and if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?

8 Ye are already satiated, [l]ye are already rich, without us ye reign as kings: and I would ye did reign, that we also might reign with you!

9 For I think that God hath appointed us the apostles to the humblest place, [m]as condemned to death: for [n]we are become a †spectacle to the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 [o]We are [p]fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; [q]we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 [r]Up to this present hour we hunger, and thirst, and [s]are naked, and [t]are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place;

12 [u]And labour, working with our own hands. [x]Being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we endure;

13 Being railed at, we entreat: [y]we are become as the filth of the world, and the off-scouring of all things to this day.

14 I write not thus to shame you, but [z]as my beloved sons I admonish you.

15 For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet ye have not many fathers: for [a]in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 Wherefore, I beseech you, [b]become imitators of me.

17 For this reason I have sent to you [c]Timothy, [d]who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who will [e]remind you of my ways in Christ, as I [f]teach every where [g]in every church.

18 [h]Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you.

19 [i]But I will come to you shortly, [k]if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of those who are puffed up, but the power.

20 For [l]the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? [m]shall I come to you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

1 The incestuous person 6 is cause rather of shame to them, than of rejoicing. 7 The old leaven is to be purged out. 10 Heinous offenders are to be shamed and avoided.

IT is generally reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even [a]named among the Gentiles, [b]that one should have his [c]father's wife.

2 [d]And ye are puffed up, and ye have not rather [e]mourned, that he who hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3 [f]For I indeed, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have decided already as though I were present, concerning him who hath so done this deed,

4 In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, [g]with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5 [h]To deliver such a one to [i]Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6 [k]Your glorying is not good. Know ye not, that [l]a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Cleanse out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For [m]Christ our [n]passover ‖was sacrificed for us:

8 Therefore [o]let us keep ‖the feast, [p]not with old leaven, nor [q]with the leaven of wickedness and malice; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote to you in my epistle, [r]not to have intercourse with fornicators:

10 [s]Yet not wholly with the fornicators [t]of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or idolaters: since then ye would be obliged to go [u]out of the world.

11 But as it is, I wrote to you to have no intercourse, [x]if any one called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with such an one [y]not even to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge [z]those who are without? do not ye judge [a]those who are within?

13 But those who are without God judgeth. And [b]put away that wicked man from among yourselves.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The Corinthians must not vex their brethren, in going to law with them: 6 especially under infidels. 9 The unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God. 15 Our bodies are the members of Christ, 19 and temples of the Holy Spirit. 16, 17 They must not therefore be defiled.

DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that [a]the saints will judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall [b]judge angels? how much more the affairs of this life?

4 [c]If then ye have controversies about worldly affairs, ‖rather set even those to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? not even one who will be able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers!

7 Moreover, it is altogether a fault among you, that ye go to law with one another. [d]Why do ye not rather submit to injury? why not rather submit to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye injure, and defraud, [e]and that your brethren!

9 Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; [f]neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate persons, nor sodomites,

10 Nor thieves, nor the covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were [g]some of you: [h]but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 [i]All is lawful to me, but all is not ‖expedient: all is lawful for me, but I will not be enslaved by any.

13 [k]Food is for the stomach, and the stomach for food: but God will destroy both it and them. But the body is not for fornication, but [l]for the Lord; [m]and the Lord for the body.

14 And [n]God both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us [o]by his own power.

15 Know ye not, that [p]your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them members of an harlot? Far from it!

16 What! know ye not that he who is joined to an harlot is one body with her? for the [q]two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 [r]But he who is joined to the Lord is one spirit with him.

18 [s]Flee fornication. Every other sin that a man doeth, is without the body; but he who committeth fornication, sinneth [s]against his own body.

19 Or [t]know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom ye have from God, [u]and ye are not your own?

20 For [v]ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAPTER VII.

2 He treateth of marriage, 4 shewing it to be a remedy against fornication: 10 and that the bond thereof ought not lightly to be dissolved. 18, 20 Every man must be content with his vocation. 25 Virginity wherefore to be embraced. 35 And for what respects we may either marry, or abstain from marrying.

NOW concerning the things of which ye wrote to me: [a]It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 But, to avoid fornication, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband.

3 [b]Let the husband render to his wife due affection: and likewise also the wife to her husband.

4 The wife hath not the control of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the control of his own body, but the wife.

5 [c]Deprive not one another, unless by agreement for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that [d]Satan tempt you not on account of your incontinency.

6 But I say this by way of permission, [e]not of command.

7 For [f]I could wish all men to be [g]as myself. But [h]each one hath his own gift from God, one in this way, and another in that.

8 But I say to the unmarried and widows, [i]It is good for them if they remain even as I.

9 But [k]if they cannot control themselves, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 But to the married I give command, [l]yet not I, but the Lord, [m]That the wife do not separate from her husband, 11 (But if she have separated, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband;) and that the husband do not leave his wife.

12 But to the rest I speak, [n]not the Lord, If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is pleased to dwell with him, let him not leave her.

13 And the woman who hath an unbelieving husband, and he is pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else [o]were your children unclean; but now they are holy.

15 But if the unbeliever withdraw, let him withdraw. The brother or the sister is not bound in such cases. But God hath called us [p]†to peace:

16 For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt [q]save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to each one, as the Lord hath called each one, so let him walk. And [r]so I direct in all the churches.

18 Is any one called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? [t]let him not be circumcised.

19 [u]Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but [x]the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 In whatever calling each was called, in this let him remain.

21 Art thou called being a †servant? care not for it; but if thou canst become free, use it rather.

22 For he who is called in the Lord, being a servant, is [y]the Lord's †freeman: So also he who is called, being free, is [z]Christ's servant.

23 [a]Ye are bought with a price; become not servants of men.

24 Wherein [b]each one is called, brethren, therein let him remain with God.

25 And as to virgins, [c]I have no command from the Lord: yet I give my judgment as one [d]who hath obtained the favour from the Lord [e]of being his faithful servant.

26 I think therefore that this is good for the present ‖distress: I say, [f]that it is good for a man to remain as he is.

27 Art thou bound to a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But if also thou marry, thou hast not sinned: and if the virgin marry, she hath not sinned. But such will have affliction in the flesh; but I spare you.

29 But [g]this I say, brethren, The time is short. It remaineth, that those who have wives, be as not having them;

30 And those who weep, as not weeping; and those who rejoice, as not rejoicing; and those who buy, as not possessing;

31 And those who use this world, as not [h]abusing it. For [i]the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without worldly care. [k]The unmarried man careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But the married man careth for the things of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. The unmarried woman [l]careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but the married woman careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I say for your own benefit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for decorum, and for your undistracted attendance on the Lord.

36 But if any one thinketh that he ‖bringeth dishonour on his virgin daughter, if she be past the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Yet he who standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath determined this in his heart, that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38 [m]So that he who giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he who giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 To abstain from meats offered to idols. 8, 9 We must not abuse our Christian liberty, to the offence of our brethren: 11 but must bridle our knowledge with love.

BUT [a]concerning things sacrificed to idols, we know; (because we all have [b]knowledge; only [c]knowledge puffeth up, but love edifieth;

2 And [d]if any one think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any one love God, [e]he is taught by him;)

4 Concerning therefore the eating of things offered in sacrifice to idols, we know that [f]an idol is nothing in the world, [g]and that there is no other God but one.

5 For though there are what are [h]called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there are gods many, and lords many;)

6 Yet [i]to us there is but one God, the Father, [k]of whom are all things, and we ‖in him; and [l]one Lord Jesus Christ, [m]by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 Yet all have not this knowledge: for some, [n]with conscience in regard to the idol, eat until now as of an idol-sacrifice: and their conscience, being weak, is [o]defiled.

8 But [p]food commendeth us not to God: for neither if we eat ‖are we the better; nor if we eat not, ‖are we the worse.

9 But [q]take heed lest perchance this ‖liberty of yours become [r]a stumbling-block to the weak.

10 For if any one see thee, who hast knowledge, reclining at table in the idol's temple, will not [t]the conscience of him who is weak be †emboldened to eat of idol-sacrifices;

11 And [u]through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 And [x]in thus sinning against the brethren, and wounding their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Wherefore, [y]if food lead my brother astray, I will never eat flesh, lest I lead astray my brother.

CHAPTER IX.

1 He sheweth his liberty, 7 and that the minister ought to live by the gospel: 15 yet that himself hath of his own accord abstained, 18 to be either chargeable to them, 22 or offensive to any, in matters indifferent. 24 Our life is like a race.

[a]AM I not an apostle? am I not free? [b]have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? [c]are not ye my work in the Lord?

2 If I am not an apostle to others, yet at least I am to you: for ye are [d]the seal of mine apostleship in the Lord:

3 Such is my reply to those who examine me.

4 [e]And have we not the right to eat and to drink?

5 Have we not the right to lead about a sister, as a ‖wife, as well as the other apostles, and [f]the brethren of the Lord, and [g]Cephas?

6 Or I only and Barnabas, [h]have not we the right to refrain from working?

7 Who ever [i]goeth to war at his own charges? who [k]planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of its fruit? or who [l]tendeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Say I this as a man? or saith not the law this also?

9 For it is written in the law of Moses, [m]Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? Yes, for our sakes it is written: because [n]he who plougheth ought to plough in hope; and he who thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking the fruits of his hope.

11 [o]If we have sown to you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

12 If others enjoy this right in regard to you, do not we rather? [p]Nevertheless we have not used this right: but endure all things, [q]lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 [r]Know ye not that those employed in the worship of the temple eat of the temple, and those who attend at the altar partake of the altar?

14 Thus also [s]hath the Lord ordained [t]that those who preach the gospel should live by the gospel.

15 But [u]I have used none of these things: nor have I written this, that it should be so done to me: for [x]it were better for me to die, than that any one should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for a [y]necessity is laid upon me; yea, wo is me, if I preach not the gospel!

17 For if I do this willingly, [z]I have a reward: but if unwillingly, still I am entrusted with [a]a stewardship in the gospel.

18 What then is my reward? That in [b]preaching, I may make the gospel of Christ without expense, that I may not [c]abuse my right in the gospel.

19 For though I am [d]independent of all, [e]I have made myself servant to all, [f]that I might gain the more.

20 And [g]to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to those under the law, as under the law, that I might gain those under the law;

21 [h]To [i]those without law, as without law, ([k]not being without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain those who are without law.

22 [l]To the weak I became as weak, that I might gain the weak: [m]I have become all things to all men, [n]that I may by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the sake of the gospel, that I may become a partaker of it with others.

24 Know ye not, that those who run in a race, all indeed run, but one receiveth the prize? [o]So run, that ye may obtain.

25 And every [p]combatant is in all things temperate; they indeed to obtain a perishable crown; but we [q]an imperishable.

26 I therefore so run, [r]as not uncertainly; I so contend as not beating the air:

27 [s]But I subdue and [t]bring into subjection my body: lest, having preached to others, I myself should be [u]rejected.

CHAPTER X.

1 The sacraments of the Jews 6 are types of ours, 7 and their punishments, 11 examples for us. 14 We must flee from idolatry. 21 We must not make the Lord's table the table of demons: 24 and in things indifferent we must have regard to our brethren.

FOR I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that our fathers were all under [a]the cloud, and all passed through [b]the sea;

2 And were all immersed to Moses in the cloud and the sea;

3 And all ate the same [c]spiritual food;

4 And all drank the same [d]spiritual drink: (For they drank of the spiritual Rock that ‖followed them: and the Rock was Christ.)

5 But in most of them God had no pleasure: for they [e]were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were †examples to us, that we should not lust after evil, as [f]they also lusted.

7 [g]Nor be ye idolaters, like some of them: as it is written, [h]The people sat down to eat and drink, and arose to dance.

8 [i]Nor let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and [k]fell in one day twenty-three thousand.

9 Nor let us tempt Christ, as [l]some of them also tempted him, and [m]perished by serpents.

10 Nor murmur ye, as [n]some of them also murmured, and [o]perished by [p]the destroyer.

11 And all these things happened to them as examples: and [q]they were written for our admonition, [r]upon whom the last age is come.

12 So that [s]he that thinketh he standeth, let him take heed lest he fall!

13 There hath no temptation assailed you but ‖such as belongeth to man: and [t]God is faithful, [u]who will not suffer you to be tempted beyond what ye are able; but will with the temptation also [z]make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore, my beloved, [y]flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as to [z]wise men; judge ye what I say.

16 [a]The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a partaking of the blood of Christ? [b]The loaf which we break, is it not a partaking of the body of Christ?

17 For [c]we being many are one loaf, and one body: for we all partake of the one loaf.

18 Look at [d]Israel [e]after the flesh: [f]are not those who eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What then do I say? [g]that an idol is any thing? or that an idol-sacrifice is any thing?

20 No; but that what the Gentiles [h]sacrifice, they sacrifice to ‖demons, and not to God: and I would not have you partakers with demons.

21 [i]Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and [k]the cup of demons: ye cannot share in the Lord's table, and the table of demons.

22 Or shall we [l]move the Lord to jealousy? [m]are we stronger than he?

23 [n]All is lawful for me, but all is not expedient: all is lawful for me, but all doth not edify.

26 For [q]the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27 And if any of the unbelievers invite you, and ye choose to go; [r]whatever is set before you, eat, asking no question for the sake of conscience.

28 But if any one say to you, This is a thing sacrificed to an idol, eat not [s]for his sake who shewed it, and for the sake of conscience: for [t]the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof:

29 But I mean not thine own conscience, but thy neighbour's: for [u]for why should my liberty be judged by another man's conscience?

30 For if I by ‖grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that [z]for which I give thanks?

31 [y]Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God:

32 [z]Occasion no stumbling to Jews or Greeks, or to [a]the church of God.

33 As also [b]I please all men in all things, [c]not seeking mine own profit, but that of the many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI.

1 He reproveth them, because in holy assemblies 4 their men prayed with their heads covered, and 6 women with their heads uncovered, 17 and because generally their meetings were not for the better but for the worse, as 21 namely in profaning with their own feasts the Lord's supper. 36 Lastly, he calleth them to the first institution thereof.

BE [a]followers of me, as also I am of Christ.

2 And I praise you, brethren, [b]that ye remember me in all things, and [c]hold fast the ‖precepts which I delivered to you.

3 But I wish you to know, that [d]the head of every man is Christ; and [e]the head of the woman is the man; and [f]the head of Christ is God.

4 Every man praying or [g]prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But [h]every woman who prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head: for it is all the same as if she were [i]shaven.

6 For if a woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be [k]a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, [l]being the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For [m]the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 [n]For the man was not created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman [o]to have ‖the token of her husband's power on her head, [p]on account of the ‖angels.

11 Nevertheless, [q]neither is the man without the woman, nor the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so also is the man by the woman; [r]but all things of God.

13 Judge among yourselves: Is it becoming that a woman pray to God uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame to him?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a ‖covering.

16 But [a]if any one is disposed to be contentious, we have no such custom, [b]nor the churches of God.

17 And while thus directing you, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For in the first place, when ye come together in the church, [c]I hear that there are ‖divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 For [d]there must also be sects among you, [e]that those who are approved may become manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, ‖it is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 For in eating each one taketh before another his own supper: and while the one is hungry, [f]the other is revelling.

22 What! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye [g]the church of God, and [h]shame ‖those who have nothing? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For [i]I received from the Lord, what I also delivered to you, [k]That the Lord Jesus, on the night in which he was betrayed, took bread,

24 And having given thanks, broke it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do ‖in remembrance of me.

25 In like manner also he took the cup, after the supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood: this do, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye shew the Lord's death [l]till he come.

27 [m]So that whoever eateth the bread, and drinketh the cup of the Lord unworthily, will be guilty as to the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But [n]let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup.

29 For he who eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh ‖judgment to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this reason many are weak and sick among you, and not a few †are dead.

31 For [o]if we judged ourselves, we should not be judged.

32 But being judged, [p]we are chastened by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, on coming together to eat, wait for one another.

34 And if any one is [q]hungry, let him eat at [r]home: that ye come not together for ‖condemnation. And the rest [s]I will set in order when [t]I come.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Spiritual gifts 4 are diverse, 7 yet all for profit. 8 And to that end are diversely bestowed: 12 that by the like proportion, as the members of a natural body tend all to the 16 mutual decency, 22 service, 26 succour of the same body; 27 so we should do one for another, to make up the mystical body of Christ.

AND [a]concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know [b]that ye were Gentiles, carried away to the [c]dumb idols, just as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, [d]that no one speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Jesus ‖accursed: and [e]that none can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Spirit.

4 Now [f]there are diversities of gifts, but [g]the same Spirit.

5 [h]And there are differences of ‖services, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God [i]who worketh all things in all.

7 [k]But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to each for the benefit of all.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit [l]the word of wisdom; to another, [m]the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 [n]To another, faith by the same Spirit; to another, [o]the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 [p]To another, the working of miracles; to another, [q]prophecy; [r]to another, discerning of spirits; to another, [s]different kinds of tongues; to another, the interpretation of tongues:

11 But all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, [t]distributing to each severally [u]as he will.

12 For [x]as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the one body, being many, are one body: [y]so also is Christ.

13 For [z]in one Spirit we were all immersed into one body, [a]whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and [b]have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath [c]God placed the members each one of them in the body, [d]as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now they are many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, on these we ‖bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely members have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely members have no need: but God hath attempered the body, giving more abundant honour to that part which was inferior:

25 That there should be no ‖division in the body; but that the members should have the same care for one another.

26 And if one member suffers, all the members suffer with it; if one member is honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27 And [e]ye are the body of Christ, and [f]members severally.

28 And [g]God hath set some in the church, first [h]apostles, secondarily [i]prophets, thirdly teachers, then [k]miracles, then [l]gifts of healings, [m]helps, [n]governments, ‖diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all ‖workers of miracles?

30 Have all gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But [o]desire earnestly the best gifts. And still further I will shew you a most excellent way.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 All gifts, 2, 3 how excellent soever, are nothing worth without love. 4 The praises thereof, and 13 preference before hope and faith.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not love, I am but sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of [a]prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, [b]so that I could remove mountains, and have not love, I am nothing.

3 And [c]though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I yield my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing.

4 [d]Love is long-suffering and kind; love envieth not; love ‖vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5 Acteth not unbecomingly, [e]seeketh not its own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6 [f]Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but [g]rejoiceth ‖in the truth;

7 [h]Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Love never faileth: but speak we of prophecies, they will fail; or of tongues, they will cease; or of knowledge, it will vanish away.

9 [i]For we know but in part, and we prophesy but in part.

10 But when that which is perfect cometh, then that which is in part will be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I thought as a child, I reasoned as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For [k]now we see through a glass, †darkly; but then [l]face to face: now I know in part; but then I shall know just as also I am known.

13 And now remain faith, hope, love, these three; but the greater of these is love.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Prophecy is commended, 2, 3, 4 and preferred before speaking with tongues, 6 by a comparison drawn from musical instruments. 12 Both must be referred to edification, 22 as to their true and proper end. 26 The true use of each is taught, 27 and the abuse taxed. 34 Women are forbidden to speak in the church.

STRIVE after love, and [a]desire spiritual gifts, [b]but rather that ye may prophesy.

2 For he that [c]speaketh in an unknown tongue, speaketh not for men, but for God: for no one †understandeth him; but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh for men for edification, and exhortation, and consolation.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 And I would have you all speak with tongues, but rather that ye prophesy: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, unless he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6 And now, brethren, if I come to you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by [d]revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by teaching?

7 Even lifeless things giving sound, whether pipe or harp, unless they give a distinction in the ‖sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who will prepare himself for the battle?

9 So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue words †easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of languages in the world, and none of them is without significancy.

11 If then I know not the meaning of the language, I shall be to him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian to me.

12 Thus also ye, since ye are zealous †of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: [e]I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing [f]with the understanding also.

16 Since if thou shalt bless only with the spirit, how will he who occupieth the place of the unlearned say Amen [g]at thy giving of thanks, since he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou indeed givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:

19 Yet in the church I would rather speak five words with my understanding, that I may teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, [h]be not children in understanding: but in respect to evil [i]be children, but in understanding be †men.

21 [k]In the law it is [l]written, By men of other tongues and with other lips I will speak to this people; and not even then will they hear me, saith the Lord.

22 So that tongues are for a sign, not to believers, but to unbelievers: and prophesying not to unbelievers, but to believers.

23 If therefore the whole church assemble together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those who are unlearned, or unbelievers, [m]will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is convicted by all, he is judged by all:

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling on his face, he will worship God, and report [n]that God is in truth among you.

26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, each of you hath a psalm, [o]hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. [p]Let all be done to edifying.

27 If any one speak in an unknown tongue, let it be but two, or at most three, and in turn; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 And of the prophets, let two or three speak, and [q]let the rest judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, [r]let the first be silent.

31 For ye can all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all be exhorted;

32 And [s]the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets;

33 For God is not a God of †confusion, but of peace, [t]as in all churches of the saints.

34 [u]Let your women keep silence in the churches; for it is not permitted to them to speak: but [x]they must be in subjection, as also saith the [y]law.

35 And if they wish to learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home; for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 Or did the word of God come forth from you? or hath it come to you only?

37 [z]If any one is regarded as a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that what I write to you are commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any one is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, [a]seek the gift of prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40 [b]But let all things be done decently, and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

3 By Christ's resurrection, 12 he proveth the necessity of our resurrection, against all such as deny the resurrection of the body. 21 The fruit, 35 and manner thereof, 51 and of the changing of them, that shall be found alive at the last day.

AND I remind you, brethren, of the gospel [a]which I preached to you, which ye also received, and [b]in which ye stand;

2 [c]By which also ye are saved, if ye hold fast †what I preached to you, unless [d]ye have believed in vain.

3 For [e]I delivered to you first of all, what I also received, that Christ died for our sins [f]according to the scriptures;

4 And that he was buried, and that he arose on the third day [g]according to the scriptures:

5 [h]And that he was seen by Cephas, then [i]by the twelve:

6 Afterward he was seen by above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the most remain until now, but some are fallen asleep.

7 Then he was seen by James; then [l]by all the apostles.

8 [m]And last of all he was seen by me also, as it were ‖one untimely born.

9 For I am [n]the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle, because [o]I persecuted the church of God.

10 But [p]by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me, was not in vain; but [q]I laboured more than they all: [r]yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Whether then it was I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 And if Christ is preached that he hath risen from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, [s]then is Christ not risen:

14 And if Christ is not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 And we also prove false witnesses of God; because [t]we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if indeed the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is Christ not risen:

17 And if Christ is not risen, your faith is vain; [u]ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished.

19 [x]If in this life only, we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now [y]is Christ risen from the dead, and become [z]the first-fruits of those who sleep.

21 For [a]since by man came death, [b]by man cometh also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 (But [c]each in his own order: Christ the first-fruits; afterward those who are Christ's at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up [d]the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule, and all authority, and power;

25 For he must reign, [e]till he hath put all enemies under his feet:

26 ([f]The last enemy that is destroyed is death;)

27 For he [g]hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith all things are subjected to him, it is manifest that he is excepted who subjected to him all things.

28 [h]And when all things are subjected to him, then [i]will the Son himself also be subject to him who subjected to him all things, that God may be all in all.)

29 Since what shall those do who are immersed for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then immersed for the dead?

30 And [k]why stand we in peril every hour?

31 I protest by ‖[l]my glorying in you which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, [m]I die daily.

32 If, ‖to use the language of men, [n]I have fought with wild beasts at Ephesus, of what advantage is it to me, if the dead rise not? [o]let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived: [p]Evil intercourse corrupteth good customs.

34 [q]Awake to righteousness, and sin not; [r]for some have not the knowledge of God. [s]I speak this to your shame.

35 But some one will say, [t]How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?

36 Thou fool, [u]That which thou sowest is not quickened unless it die:

37 And what thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that will be, but bare grain; it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed its own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh; but of one kind is the flesh of men, of another the flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 And there are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies: but the glory of the heavenly is one, and the glory of the earthly is another.

41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for star differeth from star in glory.

42 [z]So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption:

43 [y]It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power:

44 It is sown an ‖animal body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is an animal body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And so it is written, The first man Adam [z]became a living soul, [a]the last Adam, [b]a life-giving spirit.

46 But not first was the spiritual, but the animal; and afterward the spiritual.

47 [c]The first man is of the earth, [d]earthy: the second man is the Lord [e]from heaven.

48 As is the earthy, such also are those who are earthy: [f]and as is the heavenly, such also are those who are heavenly.

49 And [g]as we have borne the image of the earthy, [h]we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that [i]flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; nor doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Lo, I declare to you a secret; [k]We shall not all indeed sleep, [l]but we shall all be changed,

52 In an instant, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: ([m]for the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised ‖incorruptible, and we shall be changed.)

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and [n]this mortal must put on immortality.

54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then will be fulfilled the saying that is written, [o]Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 [p]O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is sin; and [q]the strength of sin is the law.

57 [r]But thanks to God, who giveth us the [s]victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ!

58 [t]Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing [u]that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

BUT concerning [a]the collection for the saints, as I have directed the churches of Galatia, so also do ye.

2 [b]On the first day of the week let each of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that the collection be not made after I come.

3 And when I come, [c]whomsoever ye shall approve, these I will send with letters to bring your †liberality to Jerusalem.

4 [d]And if it be worth while that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 And I will come to you, [e]when I have passed through Macedonia: (for I am passing through Macedonia.)

6 And it may be that I will remain, or even spend the winter with you, that ye may [f]then send me on whithersoever I go.

7 For I do not now wish to see you merely in passing; but I hope to remain a while with you, [g]if the Lord permit.

8 But I shall remain at Ephesus until Pentecost.

9 For [h]a great and effectual door is opened to me, and [i]there are many opposers.

10 Now [k]if Timothy come, see that he may be with you without fear; for [l]he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 [m]Let none therefore despise him: but send him on [n]in peace, that he may come to me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As to our brother [o]Apollos, I earnestly besought him to come to you with the brethren: but his wish was not altogether to come at this time; but he will come when he shall find a convenient time.

16 [y]That ye submit yourselves to such, and to every one that laboureth with us, and [z]toileth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: [a]for what was lacking from you, they have supplied.

18 [b]For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: [c]acknowledge therefore such men.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, [d]with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. [e]Greet one another with an holy kiss.

according to what is written, [b]I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14 Knowing, that [c]he who raised up the Lord Jesus, will raise up us also by Jesus, and will present us with you.

15 For [d]all hath happened for your sakes, that [e]the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet [f]the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For [g]our momentary light affliction is working for us an overwhelming and eternal weight of glory.

18 [h]While we look not at what is seen, but at what is not seen: for what is seen is temporal; but what is not seen is eternal.

CHAPTER V.

1 That in his assured hope of immortal glory, 9 and in expectance of it, and of the general judgment, he laboureth to keep a good conscience, not that he may herein boast of himself, 14 but as one that, having received life from Christ, endeavoureth to live as a new creature to Christ only, 18 and by his ministry of reconciliation to reconcile others also in Christ to God.

FOR we know that if [a]this earthly house of our tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building from God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 For in this [b]we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed with our heavenly house:

3 Since also [c]being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4 For while we are in this tabernacle we groan, being burdened: not that we would be unclothed, but [d]clothed anew, that mortality may be swallowed up in life.

5 But [e]he that hath wrought us for this very thing is God, who also [f]hath given to us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, while at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

7 (For [g]we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8 We are confident, I say, and [h]wish rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Lord.

9 Wherefore we endeavour, whether at home or absent, to be accepted by him.

10 [i]For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ; [k]that each may receive the things done in his body, according to what he hath done, whether good or evil.

11 Knowing therefore [l]the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; and [m]we are made manifest to God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For [n]we commend not ourselves again to you, but give you occasion [o]to glory in regard to us, that ye may be able to answer those who glory †in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For [p]if we are beside ourselves, it is to God: if we are sober, it is for you.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; since we thus judge, that [q]if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, [r]that those who live should no longer live to themselves, but to him who died for them, and rose again.

16 [s]So that henceforth we know no one after the flesh: nay, though we have known Christ after the flesh, [t]yet thus we now know him no longer.

17 So that if any one [u]is in Christ, he is [z]a new ‖creature: [y]old things are passed away; behold, all is become new.

18 And all is of God, [z]who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 Namely, that [a]God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himself, not imputing to them their trespasses, and †committing to us the message of reconciliation.

20 We are then [b]ambassadors for Christ, as [c]though God were beseeching by us. We entreat men on behalf of Christ, Be reconciled to God.

21 For him who knew no sin, [d]he hath made to be sin for us; that we might become [e]the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER VI.

1 That he hath approved himself a faithful minister of Christ, both by his exhortations, 3 and by integrity of life, 4 and by patient enduring all kinds of affliction and disgraces for the gospel. 10 Of which he speaketh the more boldly amongst them, because his heart is open to them, 13 and he expecteth the like affection from them again, 14 exhorting to flee the society and pollutions of idolaters, as being themselves temples of the living God.

AND, as [a]workers together with him, we [b]beseech you also [c]that ye receive not the grace of God in vain;

2 (For he saith, [d]I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation I have succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3 [e]While we give offence in nothing, that our ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all things †approve ourselves [f]as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 [g]In stripes, in imprisonments, ‖in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Spirit, by love unfeigned,

7 [h]By the word of truth, by [i]the power of God, with [k]the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 Amid honour and dishonour, amid evil report and good report; as deceivers, yet true;

9 As unknown, [l]yet well known; [m]as dying, and behold, we live; [n]as chastised, and not killed;

10 As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, yet possessing all things.

11 Our mouth is opened to you, Corinthians, [o]our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not straitened in us, but [p]ye are straitened in your own hearts.

13 Now, for an equal recompense, ([q]I speak as to my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 [r]Be not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for [s]what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath a believer with an unbeliever?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for [t]ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, [u]I will dwell among them, and walk among them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 [x]Wherefore come out from among them, and be separate, saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; and I will receive you,

18 [y]And will be a Father to you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER VII.

1 He proceedeth in exhorting them to purity of life, 2 and to bear him like affection as he doth to them. 3 Whereof lest he might seem to doubt, he declareth what comfort he took in his afflictions, by the report which Titus gave of their godly sorrow, which his former epistle had wrought in them, 13 and of their loving-kindness and obedience towards Titus, answerable to his former boastings of them.

HAVING [a]therefore these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all pollution of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us; we have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, [b]we have defrauded no one.

3 I speak not to condemn you: for [c]I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 [d]Great is my boldness of speech towards you, [e]great is my glorying over you: [f]I am filled with consolation, I am exceedingly joyful in all our affliction.

5 For, [g]when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but [h]we were in every way afflicted; [i]without were fightings, within were fears.

6 But [k]God, who consoleth the humble, consoled us by [l]the coming of Titus;

7 And not only by his coming, but by the consolation which he experienced in regard to you, making known to us your earnest desire, your lamenting, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I grieved you by my letter, I do not repent, [m]though I did repent: (for I see that that letter grieved you, though but for a season.)

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were grieved, but that ye grieved to reformation: for ye grieved in a godly manner, that ye might be injured by us in nothing.

10 For [n]godly grief worketh a saving reformation, never to be repented of: [o]but the grief of the world worketh death.

11 For look, even this your grieving in a godly way, what diligence it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what vehement desire, what zeal, what punishment! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote to you, it was not on account of him who had done the wrong, nor of him who had suffered wrong, [p]but that our care for you in the sight of God might be shown to you.

13 Therefore we are consoled in your consolation: and still more exceedingly did we rejoice for the joy of Titus, because his spirit [q]was refreshed by you all.

14 For in whatever I have boasted to him of you, I have not been made ashamed; but as we spoke all things to you in truth, so also our boasting to Titus proved the truth.

15 And his †love is more abundant towards you, while he remembereth [r]the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that in all things [s]I have confidence in you.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to a liberal contribution for the poor saints at Jerusalem, by the example of the Macedonians, 7 by commendation of their former forwardness, 9 by the example of Christ, 14 and by the spiritual profit that shall redound to themselves thereby: 16 commending to them the integrity and willingness of Titus, and those other brethren, who upon his request, exhortation, and commendation, were purposely come to them for this business.

AND we make known to you, brethren, the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 How that amid a great trial of affliction, the fulness of their joy, and [a]their deep poverty, abounded to the riches of their †liberality.

3 For to their power, I bear them witness, and beyond their power, of their own accord,

4 They prayed us with much entreaty to receive their gift and [b]contribution to the wants of the saints.

5 And this not merely as we hoped, but they first gave themselves to the Lord, and to us by the will of God:

6 So that [c]we desired Titus, as he had already begun, so also to finish among you this ‖work of liberality.

7 Therefore, as [d]ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see [e]that ye abound in this grace also.

8 [f]I speak not by way of command, but because of the zeal of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love,

9 (For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, [g]that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich;)

10 [h]I give my advice in this matter. For [i]this is expedient for you, who have already a year ago begun, not only to do, but also to be [k]willing.

11 Now therefore accomplish the doing of it; that as was the readiness to will, so also may be the accomplishment, according to what ye have.

12 For [l]if there is the willing mind, it is accepted according to what a man hath, and not according to what he hath not.

13 For I wish not that others be eased, and you burdened:

14 But there should be equality; at the present time let your abundance supply their want, that their abundance also may supply your want: that there may be equality.

15 As it is written, [m]He who gathered much had nothing over; and he who gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, who putteth the same zeal for you into the heart of Titus.

17 For he accepted indeed [n]my exhortation; but being very zealous, he went to you of his own accord.

18 And we have sent with him [o]the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not that only, but who was also

[p]appointed by the churches our fellow-traveller with this gift, which is administered by us, [q]for the glory of the Lord himself, and for a proof of your ready mind:

20 Guarding against this, lest any one should blame us in respect to this abundant gift which is administered by us:

21 [r]Practising what is honourable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have often in many things proved to be zealous, but now much more zealous by his great confidence in you.

23 As to Titus, he is my partner and fellow-labourer among you: as to our brethren, they are [s]the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Therefore shew to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our [t]glorying on your behalf.

CHAPTER IX.

1 He giveth the reason why, though he knew their forwardness, yet he sent Titus and his brethren beforehand. 6 And he proceedeth in stirring them up to a bountiful alms, as being but a kind of sowing of seed, 10 which shall return a great increase to them, 13 and occasion a great sacrifice of thanksgivings to God.

FOR as to [a]the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:

2 For I know [b]the readiness of your mind, [c]for which I boast of you to the Macedonians, That [d]Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath stirred up very many.

3 [e]Yet I have sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this respect; that, as I said, ye may be prepared:

4 Lest perchance if any Macedonians come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be made ashamed in this our confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to entreat the brethren, that they would go before to you, and make up beforehand your ‖promised †bounty, that this might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not of covetousness.

6 [f]But know this, He who soweth sparingly, will also reap sparingly; and he who soweth bountifully, will also reap bountifully.

7 Let each give as he purposeth in his heart: [g]not grudgingly, or of necessity: for [h]God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 [i]And God is able to make all grace abound towards you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:

9 (As it is written, [k]He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10 And may he who [l]supplieth seed to the sower, and bread for food, supply and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your [m]righteousness;)

11 Being in every thing enriched for all †liberality, [n]which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the ministering of this supply not only [o]relieveth the wants of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings to God;

13 While by the proof of this ministration they [p]glorify God for your professed subjection to the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal [q]distribution to them, and to all men;

14 And by their prayer for you, since they greatly love you, on account of the exceeding [r]grace of God towards you.

15 Thanks be to God [s]for his unspeakable gift!

CHAPTER X.

Against the false apostles, who despised the weakness of his person and bodily presence, he setteth forth the spiritual might and authority, with which he is armed against all opposing powers, 7 assuring them that at his coming he will be found as mighty in word, as he is now in writing being absent, 12 and withal taxing them for reaching out themselves beyond their compass, and vaunting themselves in other men's labours.

NOW [a]I Paul myself beseech you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, [b]who ‖in person indeed am humble among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2 I beseech you, I say, [c]that I may not have to be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I intend to be bold against some, who ‖regard us as walking according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 ([d]For the weapons [e]of our warfare are not carnal, but [f]mighty ‖through God [g]to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5 [h]Destroying vain reasonings, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

6 [i]And being ready to punish all disobedience, when [k]your obedience is fulfilled.

7 [l]Do ye look at things after the outward appearance? [m]If any one trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him in turn consider this with himself, that, as he is Christ's, even so are [n]we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more [o]of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, [p]I should not be ashamed:

9 That I may not seem as if I would merely terrify you by my letters,

10 (For his letters, †saith one, are weighty and powerful; but [q]his bodily presence is weak, and his [r]speech contemptible;)

11 Let such a one consider this, that such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 [s]For we dare not reckon ourselves, or compare ourselves with some who commend themselves: but they, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, ‖are not wise.

13 [t]But we will not boast of things beyond our limits, but according to the limit of the ‖province which God hath assigned to us, a limit reaching even to you;

14 (For we do not go beyond our limits, as if we reached not to you; [u]for we have come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ:)

15 Not boasting of things beyond our limits, that is, [x]of other men's labours; but having hope, as your faith increaseth to be abundantly ‖magnified by you within our province,

16 And to preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not boast of things made ready for us in another's ‖province.

17 [y]But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For [z]not he that commendeth himself is approved, but [a]whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Out of his jealousy over the Corinthians, who seemed to make more account of the false apostles than of him, he entereth into a forced commendation of himself, 5 of his equality with the chief apostles, 7 of his preaching the gospel to them freely, and without any their charge, 13 shewing that he was not inferior to those deceitful workers in any legal prerogative, 23 and in the service of Christ, and in all kind of sufferings for his ministry, far superior.

WOULD that ye could bear with me a little in [a]my folly: and indeed ‖bear with me!

2 For I am [b]zealous for you with godly zeal: for [c]I have espoused you to one husband, [d]that I may present you [e]as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear, lest by any means, as [f]the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds [g]should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or [h]another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear ‖with him.

5 But I consider that [i]I am not at all behind the very chief apostles.

6 And though [k]I am rude in speech, yet not [l]in knowledge; but [m]we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence [n]in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and in want, [o]I was chargeable to no one: for what was lacking to me [p]the brethren who came from Macedonia supplied: and in every thing I kept myself [q]from being burdensome to you, and so I will keep myself.

10 [r]As the truth of Christ is in me, †[s]no one shall silence this my boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? [t]because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that I will do, [u]that I may cut off occasion from those who desire occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For such [x]are false apostles, [y]deceitful workers, transforming themselves into apostles of Christ.

14 And no wonder; for Satan himself is transformed into [z]an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also are transformed as the [a]ministers of righteousness; [b]whose end will be according to their works.

16 [c]I say again, Let no one think me a fool; if otherwise, yet even as a fool ‖receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17 What I now say, [d]I say not in the Lord, but as it were foolishly, [e]in this confidence of boasting.

18 [f]Since many glory in the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye endure fools gladly, [g]seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20 For ye endure it, [h]if one bring you into bondage, if one devour you, if one take from you, if one exalt himself, if one smite you on the face.

21 I speak in reference to reproach, [i]as though we had been weak. Yet in [k]whatever any of them is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.

22 Are they Hebrews? [l]so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I.

23 Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak foolishly) I am more; [m]in labours more abundant, [n]in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, [o]in deaths often.

24 From the Jews I five times received [p]forty stripes except one.

25 I was thrice [q]beaten with rods, [r]once I was stoned, thrice I [s]suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have spent in the deep;

26 In journeyings often, in perils from waters, in perils from robbers, [t]in perils by mine own countrymen, [u]in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;

27 In labour and toil, [x]in watchings often, [y]in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28 Besides these occasional things, that which presseth upon me daily, [z]the care of all the churches.

29 [a]Who is weak, and I am not weak? who goeth astray, and I burn not with zeal?

30 If I must glory, [b]I will glory in mine infirmities.

31 [c]The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, [d]who is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 [e]In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me:

33 And through a window in a basket I was let down through the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER XII.

1 For commending of his apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderful revelations, 9 yet he rather chooseth to glory of his infirmities, 11 blaming them for forcing him to this vain boasting. 14 He promiseth to come to them again: but yet altogether in the affection of a father, 20 although he feareth he shall to his grief find many offenders, and public disorders there.

IT is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. †I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

2 I know that a man [a]in Christ fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not: God knoweth;) that such a one was [b]caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I know that such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I know not: God knoweth;)

4 Was caught up into [c]paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not ‖lawful for a man to utter.

5 Of such an one I will glory: [d]yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For [c]though I should desire to glory, I shall not be a fool; for I shall say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any one should think of me above that which he seeth in me, or heareth from me.

7 And lest I should be too much elated by these extraordinary revelations, there was given to me a [f]thorn in the flesh, [g]a messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be too highly exalted.

8 [h]In regard to this I thrice besought the Lord that it might depart from me.

9 And he said to me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore [i]will I rather glory in my infirmities, [k]that the power of Christ may dwell upon me.

10 Therefore [l]I take pleasure in infirmities, in abuses, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake; [m]for when I am weak, then I am strong.

11 I am become [n]a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended by you: for [o]in nothing am I behind the very chief of the apostles, though [p]I am nothing.

12 [q]The signs of an apostle certainly were wrought among you by much patience, by miracles, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 [r]For what is there in which ye were inferior to other churches, except that [s]I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me [t]this wrong.

14 [u]Behold, a third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: for [x]I seek not yours, but you. [y]For the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 And [z]I will most gladly spend and be spent [a]for †you; though [b]the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

16 But grant, it may be said, that [c]I did not burden you: yet, being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 [d]Did I then make a gain of you by any of those whom I have sent to you?

18 [e]I desired Titus to go, and sent with him our [f]brother. Did Titus make gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? in the same steps?

19 [g]Do ye again think that we defend ourselves to you? [h]We speak before God in Christ: [i]and all, beloved, is for your edifying.

20 For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that [k]I shall be found by you such as ye would not: lest there be strife, envying, wrath, factions, backbitings, whisperings, pride, confusion:

21 Lest, when I come again, my God [l]will humble me among you, and I shall bewail many [m]who have formerly sinned, and have not repented of the uncleanness, and [n]fornication, and licentiousness, which they have practised.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 He threateneth severity, and the power of his apostleship against obstinate sinners. 5 And advising them to a trial of their faith, 7 and to a reformation of their sins before his coming, 11 he concludeth his epistle with a general exhortation and a prayer.

THIS [a]third time I am coming to you: [b]By the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 [c]I have told you before, and I now say beforehand (as if present the second time, though now absent) to those [d]who have formerly sinned, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, [e]I will not spare:

3 Since ye seek a proof of Christ [f]speaking in me, who towards you is not weak, but [g]among you is mighty.

4 [h]For though he was crucified in weakness, yet [i]he liveth by the power of God. For [k]we also are weak ‖in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 [l]Try yourselves, whether ye are in the faith; prove yourselves. Know ye not concerning yourselves, [m]that Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye are [n]unproved.

6 But I trust that ye will know that we are not unproved.

7 And I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do what is good, and [o]we be as unproved.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad, [p]when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we pray for, [q]even your perfection.

10 [r]Therefore I write thus, being absent, that when present [s]I may not use severity, [t]according to the power which the Lord hath given me for edification, and not for destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, [u]be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love [x]and peace will be with you.

12 [y]Greet one another with an holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 [z]The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and [a]the communion of the Holy Spirit, be with you all. Amen.

¶ The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Luke.

¶THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE GALATIANS.

CHAPTER I.

6 He wondereth that they have so soon left him and the gospel, 8 and accurseth those that preach any other gospel than he did. 11 He learned the gospel not of men, but of God: 14 and sheweth what he was before his calling, 17 and what he did presently after it.

PAUL, an apostle, ([a]not from men, nor by man, but [b]by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, [c]who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren [d]with me, [e]to the churches of Galatia:

3 [f]Grace be to you, and peace from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 [g]Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us [h]from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever! Amen.

6 I wonder that ye so soon turn away [f]from him who called you by the grace of Christ to another gospel:

7 [h]Which is not another; only there are some [i]who trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though [m]we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel to you than that which we have preached to you, let him be accursed!

9 As we said before, I now say again, If any one preach any other gospel to you [n]than that ye have received, let him be accursed!

10 For [o]do I now [p]seek the favour of men, or of God? or [q]do I strive to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 [r]But I inform you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached by me is not from man:

12 For [s]I neither received it from man, nor was taught it, but [t]by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my former conduct in the Jewish religion, how that [u]beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and [x]wasted it;

14 And outstripped in the Jewish religion many of mine †age in mine own nation, [y]being more exceedingly zealous [z]of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, [a]who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 [b]To reveal his Son in me, that [c]I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I consulted not ‖with [d]flesh and blood,

17 Nor went up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me: but I went into Arabia, and returned again to Damascus.

18 Then after three years [e]I ‖went up to Jerusalem to visit Peter, and remained with him fifteen days.

19 But I saw no [f]other of the apostles, but [g]James the Lord's brother.

20 Now in what I write to you, [h]behold, before God, I lie not.

21 [i]Afterward I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown in person [k]to the churches [l]of Christ in Judea:

23 But they had only heard, That he who once persecuted us, now preacheth the faith which he once destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in regard to me.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sheweth when he went up again to Jerusalem, and for what purpose: 3 and that Titus was not circumcised: 11 and that he resisted Peter, and told him the reason 14 why he and others, being Jews, believe in Christ to be justified by faith, and not by works: 20 and that they live not in sin, who are so justified.

THEN fourteen years after [a]I again went up to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking with me also Titus.

2 And I went up by revelation, [b]and laid before them the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, (but ‖privately, and only to the principal persons,) lest perhaps [c]I should run, or should have run, in vain.

3 But even Titus, who was with me, though a Greek, was not compelled to be circumcised.

4 And I went up on account of the [d]false brethren, introduced by stealth, who had stolen in to spy out our [e]liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, [f]that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we yielded in subjection, not even for an hour; that [g]the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But from [h]the principal persons, (how high they were mattereth not to me, [i]God accepteth no man's person,) I say, the principal persons [k]imparted to me nothing new;

7 But on the contrary, [l]seeing that the gospel of the uncircumcision [m]was entrusted to me, as that of the circumcision was to Peter,

8 (For he who wrought in Peter for the apostleship of the circumcision, [n]wrought [o]also in me for the Gentiles:)

9 And learning [p]the grace which had been given to me, James, Cephas, and John, who were regarded as [q]pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go to the heathen, and they to the circumcision;

10 Only bidding us remember the poor; [r]which very thing I was earnest to do.

11 [s]But when Peter came to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For, before certain persons came from James, [t]he ate with the Gentiles: but when they came, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing those of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews also dissembled with him; so that even Barnabas was carried away by their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to [u]the truth of the gospel, I said to Peter, [x]before them all, [y]If thou, being a Jew, livest like the Gentiles, and not like the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as Jews?

15 [z]We, though Jews by birth, and not [a]sinners of the Gentiles,

16 [b]Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but [c]by faith in Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we may be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: for [d]by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found [e]sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? By no means.

18 For if I again build up what I once destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 For I [f]through the law [g]am dead to the law, that I may [h]live to God.

20 I have been [i]crucified with Christ: and I no longer live, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, [k]I live by faith in the Son of God, [l]who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not make void the grace of God: for [m]if righteousness were by the law, then Christ died in vain.

tified, 9 and blessed with Abraham. 10 And this he sheweth by many reasons.

O FOOLISH Galatians, [a]who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey [b]the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been clearly set forth among you, as crucified?

2 This only would I learn from you, Received ye [c]the Spirit by the works of the law, [d]or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? [e]having begun in the Spirit, do ye now finish in [f]the flesh?

4 [g]Have ye suffered so much in vain? if indeed it is in vain!

5 He therefore [h]who supplieth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doth he do it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 As [i]Abraham believed God, and it was ‖accounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know therefore, that [k]those who believe, these are sons of Abraham.

8 And [l]the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen by faith, gave to Abraham the joyful promise, [m]In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So that those who believe are blessed with believing Abraham.

10 For whoever are of the works of the law, are under a curse: for it is written, [n]Cursed is every one who continueth not in all things written in the book of the law to do them.

11 And [o]that no one by the law is justified with God, is evident: for [p]The just shall live by faith.

12 And [q]the law is not of faith: but, [r]The man who doeth them shall live by them.

13 [s]Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, becoming a curse for us; (for it is written, [t]Cursed is every one who hangeth on a cross,)

14 [u]That the blessing of Abraham may come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ, that we might receive through faith [x]the promised gift of the Spirit.

15 Brethren, (I speak in the manner of men,) [y]Even a man's ‖covenant, when ratified, no one annulleth or addeth to.

16 Now [z]to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. It saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is [a]Christ.

17 And I mean to say this, The covenant formerly ratified by God in Christ, the law, [b]which came four hundred and thirty years after, cannot annul, [c]so as to do away the promise.

18 For if [d]the inheritance is by the law, [e]it is no longer by promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19 Why then is the law? [f]It was added on account of transgressions, (till [g]the seed should come to whom the promise was made,) through the [h]ministry of angels, by the hand [i]of a mediator.

20 Now, a mediator is not a mediator of one; [k]but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? By no means: [l]for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness would have been by the law.

22 But [m]the scripture hath shut up [n]all to sin, [o]that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, being shut up to the faith which was to be revealed.

24 So that [p]the law was our tutor to bring us to Christ, [q]that we might be justified by faith.

25 But when faith is come, we are no longer under a tutor.

26 For ye [r]are all sons of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 For [s]as many of you as have been immersed into Christ, [t]have put on Christ.

28 [u]There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all [x]one in Christ Jesus.

29 And [y]if ye are Christ's, then ye are the seed of Abraham, and [z]heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER IV.

1 We were under the law till Christ came, as the heir is under his guardian till he be of age. 5 But Christ freed us from the law: 7 therefore we are servants no longer to it. 14 He remembereth their good will to him, and his to them, 22 and sheweth that we are the sons of Abraham by the free-woman.

AND I mean to say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though lord of all;

2 But is under tutors and governors until the time appointed by his father.

3 So also we, when we were children, [a]were in bondage under the ‖elements of the world:

4 But [b]when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, [c]born [d]of a woman, [e]subject to the law,

5 [f]To redeem those under the law, [g]that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth [h]the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father!

7 So that thou art no more a servant, but a son; [i]and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 But then indeed, [k]not knowing God, [l]ye were in bondage to those that are really no gods.

9 But now, [m]when ye know God, or rather are known of God, [n]why turn ye back to [o]the weak and beggarly ‖elements, to which ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 [p]Why do ye observe days, and months, and seasons, and years?

11 I fear [q]that I have bestowed upon you labour in vain!

12 Brethren, I beseech you, become as I, for I have become as ye. [r]Ye have done me no injury.

13 Ye know that [s]amid weakness of the flesh I preached the gospel to you [t]at first;

14 And my trial which I had in my flesh ye despised not, nor spurned; but received me [u]as an angel of God, [x]as Christ Jesus.

15 How happy then did ye deem yourselves! for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I then become ‖hateful to you [y]by telling you the truth?

17 They [z]are zealous for you, not for your good; but they wish to shut you out from us, that ye may be zealous for them.

18 But it is good to be zealous always in that which is good, and not merely when I am present with you:

19 [c]My children, for whom I again travail in birth, until Christ be formed in you!—
20 But I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for ‖I stand in doubt of you.
21 Tell me, ye who desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?
22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons; [b]one by the bond-maid, [c]and one by the free-woman.
23 But the son of the bond-woman [d]was born after the flesh; [e]but the son of the free-woman, by promise.
24 Now this may be allegorized: for these women are two ‖covenants; the one from the mount [f]Sinai, that beareth bond-children, is Hagar,
25 (For Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia,) and ‖answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.
26 But [g]Jerusalem that is above is free, who is the mother of us all.
27 For it is written, [h]Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not! break forth and cry, thou that travailest not! for the desolate hath many more children than she who hath an husband.
28 Now we, brethren, like Isaac, are [i]children of promise.
29 But as then [k]he who was born after the flesh persecuted him who was born after the Spirit, [l]even so it is now.
30 But what saith [m]the scripture? [n]Cast out the bond-woman and her son: for [o]the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.
31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bond-woman, [p]but of the free.

CHAPTER V.

1 He moveth them to stand in their liberty, 3 and not to observe circumcision: 13 but rather love, which is the sum of the law. 19 He reckoneth up the works of the flesh, 22 and the fruits of the Spirit, 25 and exhorteth to walk in the Spirit.

STAND fast therefore in [a]the liberty with which Christ hath made us free, and be not again entangled [b]with the yoke of bondage.
2 Behold, I Paul say to you, that [c]if ye be circumcised, Christ will profit you nothing.
3 And again I testify to every man who is circumcised, [d]that he is bound to do the whole law.
4 [e]Ye have abandoned Christ, whoever of you are justified by the law; [f]ye are fallen from his grace.
5 For we through the Spirit [g]look forward to the hope of righteousness by faith.
6 For [h]in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but [i]faith working by love.
7 Ye [k]were running well; [l]‖who hath hindered you from yielding obedience to the truth?
8 This readiness to yield is not from him [m]who hath called you.
9 [n]A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.
10 [o]I have confidence in you in the Lord, that ye will be no otherwise minded: but [p]he that troubleth you [q]shall bear his punishment, whoever he be.
11 [r]And I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, [s]why am I still persecuted? then hath [t]the offence of the cross ceased.
12 [u]Would that those were even cut off [x]who trouble you!
13 For, brethren, ye have been called to liberty; only [y]use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but [z]by love serve one another.
14 For [a]all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, [b]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.
15 But if ye bite and devour one another, beware lest ye be consumed by one another.
16 But I say, [c]Walk in the Spirit, and ‖ye shall not fulfil the desire of the flesh.
17 For [d]the flesh hath desires against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are opposed to each other; [e]that ye may not do the things that ye would.
18 But [f]if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.
19 Now [g]the works of the flesh are manifest, which are, Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,
20 Idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strife, emulation, wrath, factions, seditions, heresies,
21 Envy, murder, drunkenness, revelling, and things like these: of which I tell you before, as I have also formerly told you, that [h]those who practise such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.
22 But [i]the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, [k]kindness, [l]goodness, [m]faith,
23 Meekness, temperance: [n]against such there is no law.
24 And those who are Christ's [o]have crucified the flesh, with its passions and desires.
25 [p]If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.
26 [q]Let us not be desirous of vain-glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER VI.

1 He moveth them to deal mildly with a brother that hath slipped, 2 and to bear one another's burden: 6 to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not weary of well-doing. 12 He sheweth what they intend who preach circumcision. 14 He glorieth in nothing, except in the cross of Christ.

BRETHREN, [a]‖if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye [b]who are spiritual, restore such an one [c]in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, [d]lest thou also be tempted.
2 [e]Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil [f]the law of Christ.
3 For [g]if a man think himself to be something, when [h]he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.
4 But [i]let each one prove his own work, and then he will have his glorying only in respect to himself, and [k]not in respect to others.
5 For [l]every one shall bear his own burden.
6 [m]Let him who is taught in the word, communicate to him who teacheth in all good things.
7 [n]Be not deceived; [o]God is not mocked: for [p]whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.
8 [q]For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.
9 And [r]let us not be weary in well-doing:

for in due season we shall reap [z]if we faint not.

10 [t]As we have therefore opportunity, [u]let us do good to all, especially to [x]the household of faith.

11 See how large a letter I have written to you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, [y]they constrain you to be circumcised; [z]only lest they should [a]suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 For even the very persons who are circumcised do not keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 [b]But far be it from me to glory, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by which the world is [c]crucified to me, and I to the world.

15 For [d]in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but [e]a new creature.

16 [f]And as many as walk [g]according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and on [h]the Israel of God!

17 Henceforth let no one trouble me: for [i]I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

18 Brethren, [k]the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE EPHESIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 After the salutation, 3 and thanksgiving for the Ephesians, 4 he treateth of our election, 6 and adoption by grace, 11 which is the true and proper fountain of man's salvation. 13 And because the height of this mystery cannot easily be attained, 16 he prayeth that they may come 18 to the full knowledge and 20 possession thereof in Christ.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [a]by the will of God, [b]to the saints who are at Ephesus, [c]and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 [d]Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [e]Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings, with heavenly things in Christ:

4 As [f]he hath chosen us in him, [g]before the foundation of the world, that we should [h]be holy and blameless before him in love:

5 [i]Having predestinated us to [k]the adoption of children through Jesus Christ to himself, [l]according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, [m]which he hath freely bestowed upon us in [n]the Beloved:

7 [o]In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to [p]the riches of his grace;

8 In which he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and understanding;

9 [q]Making known to us the secret of his will, according to his good pleasure, [r]which he hath purposed in himself,

10 For accomplishing his plan in [s]the fulness of time, [t]to unite in one [u]all things in Christ, both things in [†]heaven, and on earth; in him,

11 [x]In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, [y]being predestinated according to [z]the purpose of him who worketh all things according to the counsel of his own will:

12 [a]That we should be to the praise of his glory, [b]who first ‖trusted in Christ.

13 In whom ye also, having heard [c]the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, in whom, I say, ye also believing, [d]were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise,

14 [e]Who is the earnest of our inheritance [f]until the redemption of [g]his purchased possession, [h]to the praise of his glory.

15 Therefore I also, [i]having heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love to all the saints,

16 [k]Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;

17 That [l]the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, [m]may give to you the spirit of wisdom and revelation ‖for the knowledge of him:

18 [n]The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is [o]the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his [p]inheritance in the saints,

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us who believe, [q]according to the working †of his mighty power,

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when [r]he raised him from the dead, and [s]set him at his own right hand in heaven,

21 [t]Far above all [u]principality, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that to come:

22 And [x]put all things under his feet, and gave him [y]to be head over all things to the church,

23 [z]Which is his body, [a]the fulness of him [b]who filleth all in all.

CHAPTER II.

1 By comparing what we were by 3 nature, with what we are 5 by grace: 10 he declareth, that we are made for good works; and 13 being brought near by Christ, should not live as 11 Gentiles, and 12 foreigners in time past, but as 13 citizens with the saints, and the family of God.

AND [a]you hath he quickened, [b]who were dead in trespasses and sins;

2 [c]In which ye once walked according to the course of this world, according to [d]the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in [e]the sons of disobedience:

3 [f]Among whom also we all formerly walked in [g]the desires of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh and of the mind; and [h]were by nature children of wrath, even as others.

4 But God, [i]who is rich in mercy, on account of his great love with which he loved us,

5 [k]Even us who were dead in sins, hath [l]quickened together with Christ: (by grace ye are saved;)

6 And hath raised us up, and made us sit together with him [m]in heavenly places, in Christ Jesus:

7 That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in [n]his kindness toward us, through Christ Jesus.

8 [o]For by grace are ye saved, [p]through faith: and indeed not of yourselves: [q]it is the gift of God:

9 [r]Not of works, lest any one should boast.

10 For we are [s]his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to good works, to [t]which God hath before ‖appointed us, that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore [u]remember, that ye being once Gentiles in the flesh, (who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called [x]the Circumcision made by hands in the flesh;)

12 [y]That at that time ye were without Christ, [z]being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and estranged from [a]the covenants of promise, [b]having no hope, [c]and without God in the world:

13 [d]But now, in Christ Jesus, ye, who once were [e]far off, have come near by the blood of Christ.

14 For [f]he is our peace, [g]who hath made both one, and hath broken down the partition-wall between us;

15 [h]Abolishing †[i]by his death the enmity, the law, with its commands and ordinances: to create in himself of the two one [k]new man, so making peace;

16 And to [l]reconcile both to God in one body by the cross, [m]slaying the enmity thereon:

17 And came [n]and brought to you who [*]were afar off, and to [o]those who were near, the glad tidings of peace.

18 For [p]through him we both have access [q]by one Spirit to the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no longer strangers and foreigners, but [r]fellow-citizens with the saints, and of [s]the household of God;

20 Being [t]built [u]on the foundation of the [x]apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being [y]the chief corner-stone;

21 [z]In whom all the building fitly framed together, groweth to [a]an holy temple in the Lord:

22 [b]In whom ye also are built together, for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

CHAPTER III.

5 The hidden mystery, 6 that the Gentiles should be saved, 3 was made known to Paul by revelation: 8 and to him was that grace given, that 9 he should preach it. 13 He desireth them not to faint for his tribulation, 14 and prayeth 19 that they may perceive the great love of Christ toward them.

FOR this cause, I Paul, [a]the prisoner of Jesus Christ [b]for you Gentiles;

2 If indeed ye have heard of [c]the dispensation of the grace of God [d]which is given me for you:

3 [e]That [f]by revelation [g]he made known to me the secret, [h] (as I wrote ‖before in few words,

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye can understand my knowledge [i]in the secret of Christ,)

5 [k]Which in other ages was not made known to the sons of men, [l]as it is now revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 Namely, that the Gentiles [m]should be fellow-heirs, and [n]of the same body, and [o]partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel:

7 [p]Of which I became a minister, [q]according to the gift of the grace of God given to me by [r]the effectual working of his power.

8 To me, [s]who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles [t]the unsearchable riches of Christ;

9 And shew clearly to all what is the dispensation of [z]the secret, [y]which from eternity hath been hidden in God, [s]who created all things by Jesus Christ:

10 [c]That now [b]to the principalities and powers in heavenly places [c]might be made known through the church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 [d]According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 In whom we have boldness and [e]access [f]with confidence by faith in him.

13 [g]Wherefore I desire not to faint in my afflictions [h]for you, [i]which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15 From whom [k]the whole family in heaven and on earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, [l]according to the riches of his glory, [m]to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in [n]the inner man;

17 [o]That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, [p]being rooted and grounded in love,

18 [q]May be able to comprehend with all saints [r]what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled [s]with all the fulness of God.

20 Now [t]to him who is able to do abundantly [u]above all that we ask or think, [x]according to his power that worketh in us,

21 [y]To him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, for ever and ever! Amen.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to unity, 7 and declareth that God therefore giveth divers 11 gifts to men, that his church might be 13 edified, and 16 grown up in Christ. 18 He calleth them from the impurity of the Gentiles, 24 to put on the new man, 25 to cast off lying, and 29 corrupt communication.

I THEREFORE, [a]the prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to [b]walk worthily of the calling wherewith ye are called,

2 [c]With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, bearing with one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit [d]in the bond of peace.

4 [e]There is one body, and [f]one Spirit, as also ye were called in one [g]hope of your calling;

5 [h]One Lord, [i]one faith, [k]one immersion,

6 [l]One God and Father of all, who is above all, and [m]through all, and in you all.

7 But [n]to each one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore it is said, [o]He ascended on high, [p]led ‖captivity captive, and gave gifts to men.

9 [q]Now this, He ascended, what meaneth it but that he also descended first into these lower regions of earth?

10 He that descended is the same also [r]that ascended above all the heavens, [s]that he might ‖fill all things.

11 [t]And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, [u]evangelists; and some, [x]pastors and [y]teachers;

12 [z]For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, [a]for the edifying of [b]the body of Christ:

13 Till we all attain to the unity of the faith, [c]and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to [d]perfect manhood, to the complete ‖stature of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we be no longer [e]children, [f]tossed to and fro, and carried about with every [g]wind of doctrine, by the hand of men, by their craftiness, [h]in the wiles of deception:

15 But [i]‖speaking the truth in love, [k]may grow up in all things into him, [l]who is the head, even Christ:

16 [m]From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by all the joints of supply, by the operation of every part according to its measure, maketh increase of the body to the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that [n]ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, [o]in the vanity of their mind,

18 [p]Having the understanding darkened, [q]being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, through the [r]‖blindness of their heart:

19 [s]Who, being past feeling, [t]have given themselves over to lasciviousness, to practise greedily all uncleanness.

20 But ye have not so learned Christ;

21 [u]If indeed ye have heard of him, and been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus,

22 That ye should [x]put off [y]the old man of [z]your former conduct, corrupted by its deceitful desires,

23 And [a]be renewed in the spirit of your mind,

24 And [b]put on the new man, that in God [c]is created in righteousness and ‖true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away falsehood, [d]speak truth each one with his neighbour: for [e]we are members one of another.

26 [f]Be angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath,

27 [g]Nor give place to the devil.

28 Let him that stole, steal no more: but rather [h]let him labour with his hands, working at what is good, that he may be able ‖to impart [i]to him who needeth.

29 [k]Let no corrupt words issue from your mouth, but rather [l]whatever is good ‖for needful edifying, [m]that it may impart grace to the hearers.

30 And [n]grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, [o]by whom ye are sealed to the day of [p]redemption.

31 [q]Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and [r]evil-speaking, be put away from you, [s]with all wickedness:

32 And [t]be kind to one another, tenderhearted, [u]forgiving one another, as also God in Christ hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER V.

2 After general exhortations, to love, 3 to flee fornication, 4 and all uncleanness, 7 not to converse with the wicked, 15 to walk warily, and to be 18 filled with the Spirit, 22 he descendeth to the particular duties, how wives ought to obey their husbands, 25 and husbands ought to love their wives, 32 even as Christ doth his church.

BE [a]therefore followers of God as dear children;

2 And [b]walk in love, [c]as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice, [d]a sweet-smelling savour with God.

3 But [e]fornication, and all uncleanness, or ‖covetousness, [f]let it not be even named among you, as becometh saints;

4 [g]Nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, [h]which are not becoming: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that [i]no fornicator or unclean person, or covetous man, [k]who is an idolater, [l]hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6 [m]Let no one deceive you with vain words: for on account of these things [n]cometh the wrath of God [o]on the sons of ‖disobedience.

7 Be not therefore partakers with them.

8 [p]For ye were once darkness, but [q]are now light in the Lord: walk as [r]children of light;

9 (For [s]the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth;)

10 [t]Proving what is acceptable to the Lord.

11 And [u]have no fellowship with [x]the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather [y]expose them.

12 [z]For it is a shame even to name the things which are done by them in secret.

13 But being exposed by the light, [a]they are all made manifest: for whatever is made manifest †belongeth to the light.

14 Wherefore it is said, [b]Awake, thou that sleepest, and [c]arise from the dead, and Christ will give thee light.

15 [d]See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as unwise, but as wise,

16 [e]Redeeming the time, [f]because the days are evil.

17 [g]Wherefore be not foolish, but [h]understand [i]what is the will of the Lord.

18 And [k]be not drunk with wine, which leadeth to rioting; but be filled with the Spirit;

19 Speaking to yourselves [l]in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord,

20 [m]Giving thanks always for all things to God and the Father, [n]in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;

21 [o]Submitting yourselves to each other in the fear of God.

22 [p]Wives, submit yourselves to your own husbands, [q]as to the Lord.

23 For [r]the husband is the head of the wife, as also [s]Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of [t]the body.

24 But just as the church is subject to Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands [u]in every thing.

25 [x]Husbands, love your wives, as Christ also loved the church, and [y]gave himself for it,

26 That he might sanctify it, having cleansed it [z]with the washing of water [a]by his word,

27 [b]That he might present it to himself a glorious church, [c]not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing; [d]but that it might be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no one ever hated his own flesh; but he nourisheth and cherisheth it, as also the Lord the church:

30 For [e]we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 [f]For this reason shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and the [g]two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 But [h]do ye love each one his wife as himself: and let the wife [i]reverence her husband.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The duty of children towards their parents, 5 of servants towards their masters. 10 Our life is a warfare, 12 not only against flesh and blood, but also spiritual enemies. 13 The complete armour of a Christian, 18 and how it ought to be used. 21 Tychicus is commended.

CHILDREN, [a]obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 [b]Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with a promise,)

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, [c]ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but [d]bring them up in the instruction and admonition of the Lord.

5 [e]Servants, be obedient to your masters in the flesh, [f]with fear and trembling, [g]in singleness of your heart, as to Christ;

6 [h]Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers; but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:

8 [i]Knowing that whatever good any one doeth, he will receive a reward for this from the Lord, [k]whether he be bond or free.

9 And, ye [l]masters, do the same to them, ‖ [m]forbearing threatening: knowing that ‖ [n]your Master also is in heaven, and there is [o]no respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and [p]in the power of his might.

11 [q]Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 For we wrestle not against †[r]flesh and blood, but against [s]principalities, against powers, against [t]the rulers of the darkness of this world, against ‖the spirits of wickedness in the heavens.

13 [u]Wherefore take to you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand [x]in the evil day, and having overcome all, to stand.

14 Stand therefore, [y]having your loins girt about with truth, and [z]having on the breast-plate of righteousness;

15 [a]And your feet shod with preparation to publish the gospel of peace;

16 In addition to all, taking [b]the shield of faith, with which ye will be able to extinguish all the fiery darts of the wicked one.

17 And [c]take the helmet of salvation, and [d]the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

18 [e]Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and [f]being watchful for this very thing with all perseverance and [g]supplication for all saints;

19 [h]And for me, that utterance may be given to me, that I may open my mouth [i]boldly, to make known the secret of the gospel,

20 For which [k]I am an ambassador [l]‖in bonds: that [m]I may speak it boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But [n]that ye also may know as to my affairs, how I do, [o]Tychicus, our beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, will make known to you all things:

22 [p]Whom I have sent to you for this very purpose, that ye may know our affairs, and that he may encourage your hearts.

23 [q]Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ [r]‖in sincerity. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to the Ephesians, by Tychicus.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

CHAPTER I.

3 He testifieth his thankfulness to God, and his love toward them, for the fruits of their faith, and fellowship in his sufferings, 9 daily praying to him for their increase in grace: 12 he sheweth what good the faith of Christ had received by his troubles at Rome, 21 and how ready he is to glorify Christ either by his life or death, 27 exhorting them to unity, 28 and to fortitude in persecution.

PAUL and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints [a]in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:

2 [b]Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [c]I thank my God upon every ‖remembrance of you,

4 Always, in every prayer of mine for you all, making my prayer with joy,

5 [d]For your participation in the gospel from the first day until now;

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he who hath begun [e]a good work in you, ‖will perform it [f]until the day of Jesus Christ:

7 Even as it is right for me to think this of you all, because ‖I have you [g]in my heart; since both in [h]my bonds, and in [i]the defence and establishment of the gospel, [k]ye all are ‖partakers of the same grace with me.

8 For [l]God is my witness, [m]how I love you all with the tender love of Jesus Christ

9 And this I pray, [n]that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all ‖judgment;

10 That [o]ye may distinguish between things that differ; [p]that ye may be pure and without offence [q]till the day of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, [r]which are by Jesus Christ, [s]to the glory and praise of God.

12 But I wish you to know, brethren, that what hath befallen me hath tended rather to the furtherance of the gospel;

13 So that my bonds ‖in Christ are become known [t]in all ‖the palace, and ‖in all other places;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, rendered confident by my bonds, much more fearlessly venture to speak the word.

15 Some indeed preach Christ ‖from envy and [u]strife; and some also from good will.

16 Those led by contention, preach Christ not purely, thinking they will add affliction to my bonds:

17 But those led by love, preach him knowing that I am placed for [x]the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding, in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached; and in this I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this will turn to my salvation [y]through your prayer, and the aid of [z]the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

20 According to my [a]earnest expectation and hope, that I shall [b]in nothing be made ashamed, but that [c]with all boldness, as always, so now also, Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 But if my living in the flesh is fruitful of labour, then what I shall choose I know not.

23 For [d]I am in a strait between the two, having a desire to [e]depart, and to be with Christ; for it is far better:

24 But my continuing in the flesh is more needful for you.

25 And [f]having this confidence, I know that I shall remain and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy in faith;

26 That [g]your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only [h]conduct yourselves as becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or be absent, I may hear in regard to you, [i]that ye stand fast in one spirit, [k]with one mind [l]striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28 And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: [m]which is to them an evident token of perdition, [n]but to you of salvation, and that from God.

29 For to you [o]it is given on behalf of Christ, [p]not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for him;

30 [q]Having the same conflict [r]which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 He exhorteth them to unity, and to all humbleness of mind, by the example of Christ's humility and exaltation: 12 to a careful proceeding in the way of salvation, that they be as lights to the wicked world, 16 and comforts to him their apostle, who is now ready to be offered up to God. 19 He hopeth to send Timothy to them, whom he greatly commendeth, 25 as Epaphroditus also, whom he presently sendeth to them.

IF there is therefore any consolation in Christ, if any solace from love, [a]if any fellowship ‖of the Spirit, if any [b]tender love and compassion,

2 [c]Fulfil my joy, [d]that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one soul, of one mind.

3 [e]Do nothing through strife or vain-glory; but [f]in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than himself.

4 [g]Regarding not each his own good, but each also that of others.

5 [h]Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who, [i]though in the form of God, ‖[k]thought not his visible equality with God a thing to be coveted,

7 [l]But divested himself of it, taking the form [m]of a servant, and [n]assuming the likeness of men:

8 And appearing in ‖condition as a man, he humbled himself, and [o]became obedient to death, even the death of the cross.

9 Wherefore God also [p]hath highly exalted him, and [q]given him a name which is above every name:

10 [r]That at the name of Jesus every knee may bow, of those who are in heaven, and on earth, and beneath the earth,

11 And [s]every tongue acknowledge that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore, my beloved, [t]as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with [u]fear and trembling.

13 For [x]it is God who, of his own good pleasure, worketh in you both to will and to do.

14 Do all things [y]without murmurings and [z]disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and ‖guileless, [a]children of God, without rebuke, [b]in the midst of [c]a crooked and perverse race, among whom ‖[d]ye shine as lights in the world;

16 Holding forth the word of life; that [e]I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that [f]I have not run in vain, nor laboured in vain.

17 Nay, though [g]I be ‖offered upon the sacrifice [h]and service of your faith, [i]I rejoice, and rejoice with you all.

18 And in like manner do ye also rejoice, and rejoice with me.

19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus soon to send to you [k]Timothy, that I also may be cheered by knowing your state.

20 For I have no man [l]‖like-minded, who will so sincerely care for your affairs.

21 For all [m]seek their own affairs, not those of Jesus Christ.

22 But ye know the proof of him, [n]that as a son with a father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall have seen the state of my affairs.

24 But [o]I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25 But I thought it necessary to send to you [p]Epaphroditus, my brother, and fellow-labourer, and [c]fellow-soldier, [r]and your messenger to [s]minister to my wants.

26 [t]For he longed after you all, and was much distressed, because ye had heard that he was sick.

27 For indeed he was sick near to death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more readily, that, seeing him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and ‖ [u]hold such in honour:

30 Because for the work of Christ he was near to death, not regarding his life, [z]to supply what was yet wanting in your service towards me.

CHAPTER III.

1 He warneth them to beware of the false teachers of the circumcision, 4 shewing that himself hath greater cause than they to trust in the righteousness of the law: 7 which notwithstanding he counteth as dung and loss, to gain Christ and his righteousness, 12 therein acknowledging his own imperfection. 15 He exhorteth them to be thus minded, 17 and to imitate him, 18 and to decline the ways of carnal Christians.

FINALLY, my brethren, [a]rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, and to you is safe.

2 [b]Beware of these dogs, beware of these [c]evil-workers, [d]beware of their concision!

3 For we are [e]the circumcision, [f]who worship God in the Spirit, and [g]rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though [h]I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other one thinketh that he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 [i]Circumcised the eighth day, [k]of the stock of Israel, [l]of the tribe of Benjamin, [m]an Hebrew of Hebrew parents; as to the law, [n]a Pharisee;

6 [o]As to zeal, [p]persecuting the church; [q]as to the righteousness of the law, [r]blameless.

7 But [s]whatever was gain to me, this I have counted loss for the sake of Christ.

8 Nay, indeed I even count all things but loss [t]for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9 And be found in him, not having [u]mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but [x]that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and [y]the fellowship of his sufferings, being conformed to him in his death;

11 If by any means I may [z]attain to the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not that I have already [a]attained, or have already [b]finished my course: but I press on, if I may apprehend that for which also I was apprehended by Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I consider not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, [c]forgetting that which is behind, and [d]reaching forth to that which is before,

14 [e]I press toward the mark for the prize of [f]the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15 Let us therefore, as many as are [g]perfect, [h]be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God will also reveal this to you.

16 Nevertheless, as far as we have already attained, [i]let us walk [k]by the same rule, [l]let us mind the same thing.

17 Brethren, [m]be unitedly followers of me, and observe those who walk thus, as [n]ye have us for an example.

18 (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are [o]enemies of the cross of Christ:

19 [p]Whose end is destruction, [q]whose God is their belly, and [r]whose glory is in their shame, [s]who mind earthly things.)

20 For [t]our citizenship is in heaven; [u]whence also we [z]look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21 [y]Who will change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like his glorious body, [z]according to the working whereby he is able [a]to subdue all things to himself.

CHAPTER IV.

1 From particular admonitions 4 he proceedeth to general exhortations, 10 shewing how he rejoiced at their liberality towards him lying in prison, not so much for the supply of his own wants, as for the grace of God in them. 19 And so he concludeth with prayer and salutations.

THEREFORE, my brethren beloved and earnestly [a]longed for, [b]my joy and crown, so [c]stand fast in the Lord, beloved!

2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche [d]to be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I entreat thee also, true yoke-fellow, help those women who [e]laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with my other fellow-labourers, whose names are in [f]the book of life.

4 [g]Rejoice in the Lord always: again I say, Rejoice.

5 Let your meekness be known to all men. [h]The Lord is at hand.

6 [i]Be anxious for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God.

7 And [k]the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, will keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever ‖honourable, whatever just, whatever pure, whatever lovely, [l]whatever of good report, whatever virtuous and praiseworthy, have regard to these things.

9 [m]What ye have learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, this practise: and [n]the God of peace will be with you.

10 But I rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at length [o]your care of me hath revived again; as to which also ye formerly had care, but lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect to want: for I have learned, in whatever state I am, [p]therein to be content.

12 [q]I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things [r]through Christ who strengtheneth me.

14 Yet ye have done well in [s]communicating to me in my affliction.

15 And ye yourselves, Philippians, know

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE COLOSSIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 After salutation, he thanketh God for their faith, 7 confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 prayeth further for their increase in grace, 14 describeth the true Christ, 21 encourageth them to receive Jesus Christ, and commendeth his own ministry.

PAUL, [a]an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

2 To the saints [b]and faithful brethren in Christ at Colosse: [c]Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [d]We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 [e]Having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of [f]your love to all the saints,

5 For the hope [g]which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye formerly heard in the word of the truth of the gospel:

6 Which is come to you, [h]as to all the world; and [i]beareth fruit, as also among you, since the day ye heard it, and knew [k]the grace of God in truth:

7 As also ye learned from [l]Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you [m]a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also made known to us your [n]love in the Spirit.

9 [o]For this reason we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to ask [p]that ye may be filled with [q]the knowledge of his will [r]in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 [s]That ye may walk worthily of the Lord [t]to all pleasing, [u]being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 [x]Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, [y]to all patience and long-suffering [z]with joy;

12 [a]Giving thanks to the Father, who hath made us meet to share [b]the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from [c]the power of darkness, [d]and hath transferred us into the kingdom of [†]his dear Son:

14 [e]In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

15 Who is [f]the image of the invisible God, [g]the first-born of every creature:

16 For [h]by him were all things created, both in heaven, and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones, or [i]dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created [k]by him, and for him:

17 [l]And he is before all things, and ‖by him all things consist,

18 And [m]he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, [n]the first-born from the dead; that ‖in all things he may have the pre-eminence.

19 For it pleased the Father that [o]in him should all fulness dwell;

20 And, [p]making peace through the blood of his cross, [q]by him to reconcile [r]all things to himself; by him, I say, whether things on earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, [s]who were once alienated and enemies ‖in your mind [t]by wicked works, hath he now reconciled,

22 [u]In the body of his flesh by his death, [x]to present you holy, and blameless, and unreprovable, in his sight:

23 If ye continue in the faith, [y]grounded and settled, and be [z]not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, [a]and which hath been preached [b]to every creature under heaven; [c]of which I Paul am become a minister.

24 [d]Now I rejoice in my sufferings [e]for you, and fill up [f]that which is wanting of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for [g]his body, which is the church:

25 Of which I became a minister, according to [h]the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, fully to make known the word of God;

26 Even [i]the secret which hath been hidden from ages, and from generations, [k]but now is made manifest to his saints:

27 [l]To whom God would make known what is [m]the riches of the glory of this secret among the Gentiles; which is Christ among you, [n]the hope of glory:

28 Whom we preach, [o]warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; [p]that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus:

29 [q]For which I also labour, [r]striving [s]according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER II.

1 He still exhorteth them to be constant in Christ, 8 to beware of philosophy, and vain traditions, 18 worshipping of angels, 20 and legal ceremonies, which are ended in Christ.

FOR I wish you to know what a ‖[a]conflict I have for you, and for those in Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 [b]That their hearts may be encouraged, [c]being knit together in love, and for attaining all fulness of perfect understanding,

[a]to the knowledge of the secret of God the Father, and of Christ;

3 ‖[b]In whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, [c]lest any one beguile you with persuasive words.

5 For [d]though I am absent in the flesh, yet I am with you in the spirit, rejoicing and beholding [e]your order, and the [f]steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 [g]As then ye have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him:

7 [h]Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 [i]Beware lest any one ‖delude you through philosophy and vain deceit, which belongeth to [k]the instructions of men, to the ‖[l]elements of the world, and not to Christ.

9 For [m]in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily,

10 [n]And ye are made complete in him, [o]who is the head of all [p]principality and power:

11 In whom also ye are [q]circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, with the [r]putting off of the body of sinful flesh, with the circumcision of Christ:

12 [s]Being buried with him in your immersion, wherein also [t]ye are risen with him through [u]faith in the power of God, [v]who hath raised him from the dead.

13 [w]And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, forgiving you all your trespasses;

14 [x]Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances that was against us, which was opposed to us, and took it away, nailing it to his cross;

15 And [y]having despoiled [z]principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them ‖by it.

16 Let no one therefore [a]judge you ‖[b]in food, or in drink, or ‖in respect [c]to feast, or new-moon, or Sabbaths:

17 [d]Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

18 [e]Let no one ‖beguile you of your reward, who delighteth in an affected humility and worshipping of angels, who intrudeth into things [f]which he hath not seen, being vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

19 And not holding to [g]the Head, from which all the body, supported and knit together by its joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 If then ye are [h]dead with Christ from [i]the ‖elements of the world, [k]why as though living in the world, do ye submit to the directions,

21 [l]Touch not, taste not, handle not?

22 (All which will bring destruction by its use, being [m]according to the commands and doctrines of men:)

23 [n]Which have indeed a shew of wisdom by a [o]voluntary worship, and affected humility, and ‖severity toward the body, without yielding it any honour so as to supply the wants of the flesh.

IF ye then [a]are risen with Christ, seek the things which are above, where [b]Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your ‖affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 [c]For ye are dead, [d]and your life is hidden with Christ in God.

4 [e]When Christ, [f]our life, ‖shall appear, then shall ye also ‖appear with him [g]in glory.

5 [h]Mortify therefore [i]your members which are on the earth; [k]fornication, uncleanness, passion, [l]wicked desire, and covetousness, [m]which is idolatry:

6 [n]On account of which things the wrath of God cometh on [o]the sons of disobedience:

7 [p]In which ye also once walked, when ye lived in them.

8 [q]But now do ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, reviling, [r]filthy language from your mouth.

9 [s]Lie not to one another, [t]putting off the old man with his deeds,

10 And putting on the new man, that [u]is renewed in knowledge [x]after the image of him who [y]created him:

11 Where there is neither [z]Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: [a]but Christ is all, and in all.

12 [b]Put on therefore, [c]as the elect of God, holy and beloved, [d]tender compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, long-suffering;

13 [e]Bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if any one have a complaint against any: as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14 [f]And beside all this [g]put on love, which is the [h]bond of perfection.

15 And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, [i]to which also ye are called [k]in one body; [l]and be thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another [m]in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing [n]with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And [o]whatever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, [p]giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 [q]Wives, submit yourselves to your own husbands, [r]as it is fit in the Lord.

19 [s]Husbands, love your wives, and be not [t]bitter toward them.

20 [u]Children, obey your parents [x]in all things: for this is well-pleasing to the Lord.

21 [y]Fathers, irritate not your children, lest they be discouraged.

22 [z]Servants, obey [a]in all things your masters [b]in the flesh; not with eye-service, as men-pleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God;

23 [c]And whatever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not to men;

24 [d]Knowing that from the Lord ye will receive the reward of your heavenly inheritance: [e]for ye serve Christ as your Lord.

25 But he that doeth wrong, shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and [f]there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth them to be fervent in prayer, 5 to walk wisely toward them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ. 10 He saluteth them, and wisheth them all prosperity.

MASTERS, [a]give to your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 [b]Continue in prayer, be watchful in it [c]with thanksgiving;

3 [d]At the same time praying also for us, that God may [e]open to us a door of utterance, to speak [f]the mystery of Christ, [g]for which I am also in bonds:

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 [h]Walk in wisdom towards those without, [i]redeeming the time.

6 Let your language be always [k]agreeable, [l]seasoned with salt, [m]that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7 [n]All my affairs Tychicus will make known to you, our beloved brother, and faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord:

8 [o]Whom I have sent to you for this very purpose, that he may know your condition, and encourage your hearts;

9 With [p]Onesimus, my faithful and beloved brother, who is your countryman. They will make known to you every thing here.

10 [q]Aristarchus, my fellow-captive, saluteth you; and [r]Mark, nephew of Barnabas, (concerning whom ye received commands: if he come to you, receive him;)

11 And Jesus, called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These are my only fellow-labourers in the kingdom of God, who have been a consolation to me.

12 [s]Epaphras, your countryman, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always [t]striving for you in his prayers, that ye may stand [u]perfect and complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him witness, that he hath a great zeal for you, and for those in Laodicea, and those in Hierapolis.

14 [x]Luke, the beloved physician, and [y]Demas, salute you.

15 Salute the brethren at Laodicea, and Nymphas, and [z]the church in his house.

16 And when [a]this epistle is read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and do ye also read that of Laodicea.

17 And say to [b]Archippus, Take heed to [c]the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 [d]The salutation by the hand of me Paul. [e]Remember my bonds. [f]Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 The Thessalonians are given to understand both how mindful of them Paul was at all times in thanksgiving, and prayer: 5 and also how well he was persuaded of the truth and sincerity of their faith, and conversion to God.

PAUL, and [a]Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ: [b]Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 [c]We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 [d]Remembering without ceasing [e]your work of faith, [f]and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4 Knowing, brethren beloved of God, [g]your election,

5 That [h]our gospel came not to you in word only, but also in power, and [i]in the Holy Spirit, [k]and in much assurance; as [l]ye know what sort of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And [m]ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, receiving the word amidst much affliction, [n]with joy through the Holy Spirit:

7 So that ye became examples to all who believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you hath [o]sounded forth the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also [p]in every place your faith towards God is spread abroad; so that we need not to say any thing.

9 For they themselves report of us [q]what sort of entrance we had to you, [r]and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God;

10 And [s]to await his Son [t]from heaven, [u]whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, who delivereth us [x]from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER II.

1 In what manner the gospel was brought and preached to the Thessalonians, and in what manner also they received it. 18 A reason is rendered both why Paul was so long absent from them, and also why he was so desirous to see them.

FOR [a]yourselves, brethren, know that our entrance to you was not in vain:

2 But even though we had before endured suffering and violence, as ye know, at [b]Philippi, [c]we had confidence in our God [d]to speak to you the gospel of God [e]‖ with much earnest effort.

3 [f]For our instruction is not from deceit, nor from impurity, nor in guile;

4 But as [g]we have been approved by God so as [h]to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak; [i]not as pleasing men, but God, [k]who proveth our hearts.

5 For [l]never have we used flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; ([m]God is my witness!)

6 [n]Nor have we sought glory from men, either from you, or from others, when [o]we might have ‖ been [p]burdensome, [q]as apostles of Christ;

7 But [r]we were gentle among you. As a nurse cherisheth her children,

8 So, having a strong affection for you, we were ready [s]to impart to you, not only the gospel of God, but even [t]our own souls, because ye were dear to us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and toil: for [u]working night and day, [x]in order not to burden any of you, we preached to you the gospel of God.

10 [y]Ye are witnesses, and God also, [z]how holily, and justly, and unblamably we behaved ourselves among you who believe:

11 As ye know how we exhorted, and encouraged, and solemnly warned each one of you, as a father his children,

12 [a]To walk worthily of God, [b]who called you to his kingdom and glory.

13 Therefore we also give thanks to God [c]unceasingly, that receiving the word of God which ye heard from us, ye embraced it [d]not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which also worketh effectually in you who believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers [e]of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus, since [f]ye also have suffered the same things from your own countrymen, [g]as they have from the Jews:

15 [h]Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and [i]their own prophets, and have ‖persecuted us; who please not God, [k]and are opposed to all men:

16 [l]Hindering us from speaking to the Gentiles that they may be saved, that they may [m]fill up their sins always: [n]for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being separated from you for a short time [o]in presence, not in heart, have earnestly endeavoured [p]to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we wished to come to you, namely, I Paul, once and again; but [q]Satan hindered us.

19 For [r]what is our hope, or joy, or [s]crown of ‖rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ [t]at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER III.

1 Paul testifieth his great love to the Thessalonians, partly by sending Timothy to them to strengthen and comfort them: partly by rejoicing in their well-doing: 10 and partly by praying for them, and desiring a safe coming to them.

WHEREFORE, [a]when we could no longer forbear, [b]we chose rather to be left at Athens alone;

2 And sent [c]Timothy, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to admonish you concerning your faith,

3 [d]That no one should be shaken by these afflictions: for yourselves know that for this [e]we are appointed.

4 [f]For even when we were with you, we told you before that we were to suffer affliction; as it also happened, and ye know.

5 For this reason, [g]when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, [h]lest by some means the tempter had tempted you, and [i]our labour might be in vain.

6 [k]But now, when Timothy came from you to us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have always good remembrance of us, desiring greatly to see us, [l]as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, [m]we were consoled over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye [n]stand fast in the Lord.

9 [o]For what thanks can we render to God for you, for all the joy wherewith we rejoice for your sakes before our God;

10 [p]Night and day [q]praying exceedingly [r]that we may see your face, [s]and perfect what is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, ‖[t]direct our way to you.

12 And the Lord [u]make you to increase and abound in love [x]towards one another, and towards all men, even as we do toward you:

13 That he may [y]establish your hearts unblamable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ [z]with all his saints.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth them to go on forward in all manner of godliness, 6 to live holily and justly, 9 to love one another, 11 and quietly to follow their own business: 13 and last of all to sorrow moderately for the dead. 17 And to this last exhortation is annexed a brief description of the resurrection, and second coming of Christ to judgment.

FURTHERMORE then we ‖beseech you, brethren, and ‖exhort you by the Lord Jesus, [a]that as ye have received of us [b]how ye ought to walk [c]and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commands we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3 For this is [d]the will of God, even [e]your purity, [f]that ye should abstain from fornication:

4 [g]That each of you should know how to possess his vessel in purity and honour;

5 [h]Not in lustful passion, [i]like the Gentiles [k]that know not God:

6 [l]That none transgress and ‖defraud his brother ‖in any matter: because the Lord [m]is the punisher of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us to uncleanness, [n]but to purity.

8 [o]He therefore who rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God [p]who hath also given to us his Holy Spirit.

9 But concerning brotherly love [q]ye need not that I write to you: for [r]ye yourselves are taught of God [s]to love one another.

10 [t]And indeed ye do it towards all the brethren who are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, [u]to abound more and more;

11 And to study to be quiet, and [x]to do your own business, and [y]to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12 [z]That ye may walk becomingly toward those without, and that ye may have lack ‖of nothing.

13 But I would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning those who have fallen asleep, that ye may not sorrow [a]like others [b]who have no hope.

14 For [c]if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, so [d]‖those also who sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say to you [e]by the word of the Lord, that [f]we who are alive and remain to the coming of the Lord shall not go before those who sleep.

16 For [g]the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with [h]the trump of God: [i]and the dead in Christ will first arise:

17 [k]Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them [l]in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so we [m]shall ever be with the Lord.

18 [n]Wherefore, ‖console one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

1 He proceedeth in the former description of Christ's coming to judgment, 16 and giveth divers precepts, 23 and so concludeth the epistle.

BUT of [a]the times and the seasons, brethren, [b]ye have no need that I write to you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly, that [c]the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then [d]sudden destruction cometh upon them, [e]as her pangs on a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 [f]But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all [g]sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 [h]Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but [i]let us watch and be sober.

7 For [k]those who sleep, sleep in the night; and those who are drunken, [l]are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, [m]putting on the breast-plate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For [n]God hath not appointed us to wrath, [o]but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10 [p]Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 [q]Wherefore, ‖console one another, and edify one another, as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, [r]to know those who labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love on account of their work. [s]And be at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we ‖exhort you, brethren, [t]warn those who are disorderly, [u]encourage the feeble-minded, [x]support the weak, [y]be long-suffering toward all.

15 [z]See that none render evil for evil to any one; but ever [a]follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and toward all men.

16 [b]Rejoice evermore.

17 [c]Pray without ceasing.

18 [d]In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

19 [e]Quench not the Spirit.

20 [f]Despise not prophesyings.

21 [g]Prove all things; [h]hold fast that which is good.

22 [i]Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23 And [k]the very God of peace [l]sanctify you wholly; and may your whole spirit, and soul, and body, be preserved blameless ‖at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24 [n]Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25 Brethren, [o]pray for us.

26 [p]Greet all the brethren with an holy kiss.

27 I ‖charge you by the Lord that [q]this epistle be read to all the holy brethren.

28 [r]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

¶ The first epistle to the Thessalonians was written from Athens.

¶ THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul certifieth them of the good opinion which he had of their faith, love, and patience: 11 and therewithal useth divers reasons for the comforting of them in persecution, whereof the chiefest is taken from the righteous judgment of God.

PAUL, [a]and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians [b]in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 [c]Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [d]We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all towards one another aboundeth;

4 So that [e]we ourselves glory in you among the churches of God, [f]for your patience and faith [g]in all your persecutions and afflictions which ye endure:

5 [h]A manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, [i]for which ye also suffer:

6 [k]Since it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to those who afflict you.

7 And to you, who are afflicted, [l]rest with us, when [m]the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with †his mighty angels,

8 [n]In flaming fire taking vengeance on those [o]who know not God, and [p]who obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

9 [q]Who will be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and [r]from the glory of his power;

10 [s]When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, [t]and to be admired in all those who believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God may ‖[u]deem you worthy of this calling, and accomplish all the good pleasure of his kindness, and [x]the work of faith with power:

12 [y]That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER II.

1 He willeth them to continue steadfast in the truth received, 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 9 and a discovery of antichrist, before the day of the Lord come. 15 And thereupon repeateth his former exhortation, and prayeth for them.

AND we beseech you, brethren, [a]respecting the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, [b]and our gathering together to him,
2 [c]That ye be not hastily shaken in mind, or troubled, either by spirit, or by ‖word, or by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.
3 [d]Let no one deceive you by any means: for that day will not come, [e]until there come first the falling away, and [f]the man of sin is revealed, [g]the son of perdition,
4 Who opposeth and [h]exalteth himself [i]against all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he sitteth as God, in the temple of God, declaring himself to be God.
5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you this?
6 And now ye know what ‖withholdeth till he shall be revealed in his time.
7 For [k]the secret wickedness doth already work: only he who now withholdeth will withhold, until he be removed.
8 And then will the Wicked one be revealed, [l]whom the Lord will consume [m]with the breath of his mouth, and destroy [n]with the brightness of his coming:
9 Even him, whose coming is, [o]through the working of Satan, with all power, and [p]signs, and lying wonders,
10 And with all unrighteous deceit among [q]those who perish; because they embraced not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.
11 And [r]for this cause God will send upon them strong delusion, [s]that they may believe the lie:
12 That all may be condemned who believed not the truth, but [t]had pleasure in unrighteousness.
13 But [u]we are bound always to give thanks to God for you, brethren beloved by the Lord, because God [x]hath [y]from the beginning chosen you to salvation, [z]through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth:
14 To which he called you by our gospel, to [a]the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
15 Therefore, brethren, [b]stand fast, and hold [c]the doctrines which ye have been taught, whether by our word, or epistle.
16 [d]Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, [e]who hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and [f]good hope through grace,
17 Encourage your hearts, [g]and establish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER III.

1 He craveth their prayers for himself, 3 testifieth what confidence he hath in them, 5 maketh request to God in their behalf, 6 giveth them divers precepts, especially to shun idleness, and ill company, 16 and last of all concludeth with prayer and salutation.

FINALLY, brethren, [a]pray for us, that the word of the Lord †may have free course, and be glorified, as also it is with you;
2 And [b]that we may be delivered from †unreasonable and wicked men: [c]for all men have not faith.
3 But [d]the Lord is faithful, who will establish you, and [e]keep you from evil.
4 And [f]we have confidence in the Lord concerning you, that ye both do and will do that which we command you.
5 And [g]the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.
6 And we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [h]to withdraw yourselves [i]from every brother that walketh [k]disorderly, and not according to [l]the instructions which he received from us.
7 For yourselves know [m]how ye ought to imitate us: for [n]we acted not disorderly among you,
8 Nor ate any man's bread for nought; but [o]wrought with labour and toil night and day, that we might not burden any of you:
9 [p]Not that we have not the right, but to make [q]ourselves an example to you, that ye should imitate us.
10 For even when we were with you, we gave you this command, [r]If any will not work, neither let him eat.
11 For we hear that some [s]walk among you disorderly, [t]who work not at all, but are busybodies.
12 [u]Now such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, [x]that, working with quietness, they eat their own bread.
13 But ye, brethren, [y]‖be not weary in well-doing.
14 And if any one obey not our word ‖by this epistle, note that man, and [z]have no intercourse with him, that he may be ashamed.
15 [a]Yet regard him not as an enemy, [b]but admonish him as a brother.
16 Now [c]the Lord of peace himself give you peace always in every way. The Lord be with you all.
17 [d]The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.
18 [e]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

¶THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO TIMOTHY

CHAPTER I.

1 Timothy is put in mind of the charge which was given to him by Paul at his going to Macedonia. 5 Of the right use and end of the law. 11 Of Paul's calling to be an apostle, 20 and of Hymeneus and Alexander.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [a]by the command [b]of God our Saviour, and the Lord Jesus Christ, [c]our hope;
2 To [d]Timothy, [e]my true son in the faith; [f]Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.
3 As I besought thee to remain at Ephesus, [g]when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest command some [h]to teach no other doctrine,
4 [i]Nor to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, [k]which produce disputes, rather than godly edifying in faith; so do.

5 But [t]the end of the command is love [m]from a pure heart, and a good conscience, and faith unfeigned:

6 From which some ‖having swerved, have turned aside to [n]empty talking;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; [o]understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that [p]the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9 [q]Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinful, for the unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For fornicators, for sodomites, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and whatever else is opposed [r]to sound doctrine,

11 According to the glorious gospel of [s]the blessed God, with [t]which I was entrusted.

12 And I thank him [u]who gave me strength, Christ Jesus our Lord, [x]that he counted me faithful, [y]putting me into the ministry;

13 [z]Who was before a reviler, and a persecutor, and a violent abuser: but I obtained mercy, because [a]I did it ignorantly in unbelief:

14 [b]And the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly [c]in my faith [d]and love in Christ Jesus.

15 [e]This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all reception, that [f]Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16 But for this cause [g]I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, [h]for a pattern to those who should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17 Now to [i]the King eternal, [k]immortal, [l]invisible, [m]the only wise God, [n]be honour and glory for ever and ever! Amen.

18 This charge [o]I commit to thee, son Timothy, [p]according to the ‖prophecies which went before concerning thee, that thou through them shouldst [q]wage the noble warfare;

19 [r]Holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust away, [s]have made shipwreck of the faith:

20 Of whom are [t]Hymeneus and [u]Alexander; whom I have [x]delivered to Satan, that they may learn not to [y]revile.

CHAPTER II.

1 That it is meet to pray and give thanks for all men, and the reason why. 9 How women should be attired. 12 They are not permitted to teach. 15 They shall be saved, notwithstanding the testimonies of God's wrath, in child-birth, if they continue in faith.

I ‖EXHORT therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all men:

2 [a]For kings, and [b]for all who are in ‖authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceful life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is [c]good and acceptable in the sight [d]of God our Saviour;

4 [e]Who would have all men to be saved, [f]and to come to the knowledge of the truth.

5 [g]For there is one God, and [h]one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6 [i]Who gave himself a ransom for all; [k]which was to be ‖made known [l]in due time;

7 [m]For which I am appointed a preacher and an apostle, ([n]I speak the truth in Christ, I lie not!) [o]a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I will therefore that the men pray [p]every where, [q]lifting up holy hands, without wrath and disputing.

9 In like manner also, that the [r]women adorn themselves in becoming apparel, with modesty and sobriety; not with ‖braided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly attire,

10 [s]But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11 Let the woman learn in quietness with all subjection.

12 But [t]I suffer not a woman to teach, [u]or to have authority over the man, but to keep quiet.

13 For [x]Adam was first formed, then Eve.

14 And [y]Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived fell into transgression.

15 But she will be saved ‖in child-bearing, if †she continue in faith, and love, and holiness, with sobriety.

CHAPTER III.

2 How overseers, and deacons, and their wives should be qualified, 14 and to what end Saint Paul wrote to Timothy of these things. 15 Of the church, and the blessed truth therein taught and professed.

THIS [a]is a true saying, If a man desire the oversight of a [b]church, he desireth an excellent [c]work.

2 [d]An overseer then must be blameless, [e]the husband of one wife, watchful, sober, orderly, hospitable, [f]instructive;

3 [g]‖No tippler, [h]no striker, [i]no lover of base gain; but [k]gentle, peaceful, ‖generous,

4 One that ruleth well his own house, [l]having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how will he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not newly converted, lest being lifted up with pride [m]he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover, he must have a good report [n]from those without; lest he fall into reproach [o]and the snare of the devil.

8 So also must [p]the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, [q]not given to much wine, not lovers of base gain;

9 [r]Holding the secret of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons, being found blameless.

11 [s]So also must their wives be grave, not slanderers, watchful, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling well their children and their own houses.

13 For [t]those who have served well as deacons, obtain for themselves an honourable station, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things I write to thee, hoping to come to thee shortly:

15 But if I delay, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to conduct [u]in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ‖support of the truth.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He foretelleth that in the latter times there shall be a departure from the faith. 6 And to the end that Timothy might not fail in doing his duty, he furnisheth him with divers precepts belonging thereto.

NOW the Spirit [a]saith expressly, that [b]in the latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed [c]to seducing spirits, [d]and doctrines of demons;

2 [e]Speaking lies in hypocrisy, [f]having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 [g]Forbidding to marry, [h]and commanding to abstain from food, which God hath created [i]to be received [k]with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth.

4 For [l]every thing created by God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou admonish the brethren of these things, thou wilt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, [m]nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, to which thou hast attained.

7 But [n]reject profane and old womens' fables, and [o]train thyself rather to godliness.

8 For [p]bodily training profiteth ‖little: [q]but godliness is profitable for all things, [r]having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 [s]This is a true saying, and worthy of all acceptance.

10 For therefore [t]we both labour and suffer reproach, because we [u]trust in the living God [z]who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those who believe.

11 [y]These things command and teach.

12 [z]Let none despise thy youth; but [a]be an example to the believers, in word, in conduct, in love, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, attend to reading, to exhortation, to instruction.

14 [b]Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee [c]by prophecy, [d]with the laying on of the hands of the elders.

15 Practise these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest ‖to all.

16 [e]Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching; continue in them: for in doing this thou wilt both [f]save thyself, and [g]those who hear thee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Rules to be observed in reproving. 3 Of widows. 17 Of elders. 23 A precept for Timothy's health. 24 Some men's sins go before judgment, and some men's follow after.

REBUKE [a]not an aged man, but entreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2 The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows [b]who are truly widows.

4 But if any widow have children or ‖grand-children, let them learn first to shew ‖piety to their own family, and [c]to requite their parents: [d]for this is good and acceptable before God.

5 [e]Now she who is truly a widow and desolate, trusteth in God, and [f]continueth in supplications and prayers [g]night and day.

6 [h]But she who liveth ‖in pleasure, is dead while she liveth.

7 [i]And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, [k]and especially for his own kindred, [l]he hath denied the faith, [m]and is worse than an unbeliever.

9 Let not a widow be ‖taken into the number under sixty years of age, [n]having been the wife of one man,

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have [o]lodged strangers, if she have [p]washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows reject: for when they have grown wanton against Christ, they wish to marry;

12 Having condemnation, because they have violated their former ‖promise.

13 [q]And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 [r]I will therefore that the younger widows marry, bear children, guide the house, [s]give no occasion to the adversary †to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16 If any believing man or woman have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve [t]those who are truly widows.

17 [u]Let the elders who rule well, [z]be deemed worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, [y]Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, [z]The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but ‖[a]before two or three witnesses.

20 [b]Those who sin rebuke before all, [c]that the others also may fear.

21 [d]I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing with partiality.

22 [e]Lay not hands hastily on any one, [f]and thus partake of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 (Drink no longer water merely, but use a little wine [g]for thy stomach's sake, and thy frequent infirmities.)

24 [h]Some men's sins are manifest beforehand, going before them for condemnation: and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and those that are otherwise cannot long be hidden.

of all honour, [b]that the name of God and his doctrine be not reviled.

2 And those who have believing masters, let them not despise them, [c]because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are ‖faithful and beloved, partakers of the divine benefit. [d]These things teach and exhort.

3 If any one [e]teach otherwise, and assent [f]not to the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ, [g]and to the instruction which is according to godliness,

4 He is ‖puffed up with pride, [h]knowing nothing, but hath a sickly fondness for [i]disputes and strifes about words, from which spring envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

5 [k]‖Idle employments of [l]men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, [m]who suppose that gain is godliness: [n]from such withdraw thyself.

6 But [o]godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For [p]we brought nothing into the world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 And [q]having food and raiment, let us be therewith content.

9 But [r]those who will be rich, fall into temptation, [s]and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful desires, [t]which plunge men into destruction and perdition.

10 [u]For covetousness is the root of all evil: which some indulging, have been seduced from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 [x]But thou, [y]O man of God, flee these things; and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

17 Charge the rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, [m]nor trust in †[n]uncertain riches, but in [o]the living God, [p]who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;

18 That they do good, that [q]they be rich in good works, [r]ready to distribute, ‖[s]willing to communicate;

19 [t]Laying up treasures for themselves as a good foundation for the future, that they may [u]lay hold on eternal life.

20 O Timothy, [x]keep what is committed to thy trust, [y]avoiding those profane and empty babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called;

21 Which some professing, [z]have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

¶ The first epistle to Timothy was written from Laodicea, which is the chief city of Phrygia Pacatiana.

¶ THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's love to Timothy, and the unfeigned faith which was in Timothy himself, his mother, and grandmother. 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gift of God which was in him, 8 to be steadfast, and patient in persecution, 13 and to persist in the form and truth of that doctrine which he had learned of him. 15 Phygellus and Hermogenes, and such like, are noted, and Onesiphorus is highly commended.

PAUL, [a]an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to [b]the promise of life in Christ Jesus,

2 [c]To Timothy, my beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 [d]I thank God, [e]whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that I have [f]unceasing remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 [g]Greatly desiring to see thee, (remembering thy tears,) that I may be filled with joy;

5 Calling to remembrance [h]the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and [i]thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded in thee also.

6 Wherefore I remind thee, [k]that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For [l]God hath not given us a spirit of fear; [m]but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 [n]Be not therefore ashamed of [o]the testimony of our Lord, nor of me [p]his prisoner: [q]but suffer affliction with the gospel by the power of God;

9 [r]Who hath saved us, and [s]called us with a holy calling, [t]not according to our works, but [u]according to his own purpose, and grace given us in Christ Jesus [x]before the world began,

10 But [y]now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, [z]who hath abolished death, and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 [a]To which I am appointed a preacher, and apostle, and teacher of the Gentiles.

12 [b]For which cause I also suffer these things: yet I am not ashamed: [c]for I know in whom I have ‖believed, and am persuaded that he is able to [d]keep what I have committed to him [e]against that day.

13 [f]Hold fast [g]the form of [h]sound words, [i]which thou hast heard from me, [k]in faith and love in Christ Jesus.

14 [l]Keep this excellent †trust through the Holy Spirit [m]who dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that [n]all those in Asia are [o]turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

† Gr. deposite. m Rom. 8. 11. n Acts 19. 10. o ch. 4. 10, 16.

16 The Lord [p]grant mercy to [q]the house of Onesiphorus; [r]for he often refreshed me, and [s]was not ashamed of [t]my chain:
17 But, when he was in Rome, he very diligently sought and found me.
18 (The Lord grant [u]that he may find mercy from the Lord [x]in that day!) and what [y]services he rendered me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER II.

1 He is exhorted again to constancy and perseverance, and to do the duty of a faithful servant of the Lord in dividing the word aright, and staying profane babblings. 17 Of Hymeneus and Philetus. 19 The foundation of the Lord is sure. 22 He is taught whereof to beware, and what to follow after, and in what manner the servant of the Lord ought to behave himself.

THOU therefore, [a]my son, [b]be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.
2 [c]And what thou hast heard from me ‖among many witnesses, [d]this commit to faithful men, who will be [e]able to teach others also.
3 [f]Do thou therefore endure suffering, [g]as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.
4 [h]No one who warreth entangleth himself with the business of life; that he may please his commander.
5 And [i]if a man contend in the games, he is not crowned, unless he contend lawfully.
6 [k]The husbandman who would partake of the fruits, must first labour.
7 Understand what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.
8 Remember that Jesus Christ, [l]of the seed of David, [m]was raised from the dead, [n]according to my gospel:
9 [o]Wherein I suffer as an evil-doer, [p]even to bonds; [q]but the word of God is not bound.
10 Therefore [r]I endure all things for the elect's sake, [s]that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.
11 [t]It is a true saying: [u]If we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:
12 [x]If we persevere, we shall also reign with him: [y]if we deny him, he also will deny us:
13 [z]If we are faithless, he remaineth faithful: [a]he cannot deny himself.
14 Of these things put them in remembrance, [b]charging them before the Lord [c]not to strive about words; which tendeth to no profit, but to the subversion of the hearers.
15 Strive to present thyself to God approved, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling rightly the word of truth.
16 But [d]shun those profane and empty babblings: for such men will go on to more ungodliness.
17 And their word will eat like a ‖canker: of whom are [e]Hymeneus and Philetus;
18 Who [f]have erred as to the truth, [g]saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.
19 Nevertheless [h]the foundation of God standeth ‖sure, having this seal, The Lord [i]knoweth those who are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.
20 [k]But in a large house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; [l]and some for honour, and some for dishonour.

22 Flee also youthful lusts: but [o]follow righteousness, faith, love, peace, with those who [p]call on the Lord [q]from a pure heart.
23 But shun those [r]foolish and senseless disputes, knowing that they beget strifes.
24 And [s]the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle towards all, [t]instructive, forbearing;
25 [u]In meekness admonishing those who oppose themselves; [x]if perhaps God may give them repentance [y]to the acknowledging of the truth,
26 And they may †recover themselves [z]from the snare of the devil, having been †taken captive by him to do his will.

CHAPTER III.

1 He advertiseth him of the times to come, 6 describeth the enemies of the truth, 10 propoundeth to him his own example, 16 and commendeth the holy scriptures.

THIS know also, that [a]in the last days perilous times will come.
2 For men will be [b]selfish, [c]covetous, [d]boastful, [e]proud, [f]railers, [g]disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,
3 [h]Without natural affection, [i]implacable, slanderers, [k]incontinent, fierce, haters of the good,
4 [l]Traitors, headstrong, puffed up, [m]lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God;
5 Having a form of godliness, but [n]denying its power: [o]from such turn away.
6 For [p]such are those who enter into houses, and lead captive silly women who are laden with sins, led by various desires,
7 Ever learning and never able [q]to come to the knowledge of the truth.
8 [r]Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so also do these men withstand the truth: [s]men of corrupt minds, [t]‖reprobate as to the faith.
9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly will be manifest to all, [u]as also was theirs.
10 [x]But thou hast followed closely my doctrine, conduct, purpose, faith, long-suffering, love, patience,
11 Persecutions, sufferings, which befel me [y]at Antioch, [z]at Iconium, [a]at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but [b]from all the Lord delivered me.
12 And indeed [c]all who will live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution.
13 [d]But evil men and seducers will grow worse and worse, deceiving, and deceived.
14 But [e]continue thou in that which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing from whom thou hast learned it;
15 And that from a child thou hast known [f]the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise to salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.
16 [g]All scripture is inspired of God, [h]and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:
17 [i]That the man of God may be perfect, ‖[k]thoroughly furnished for all good works.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth him to do his duty with all care and diligence, 6 certifieth him of the nearness of his death, 9 willeth him to come speedily to him, and to bring Mark with him, and certain other things:

which he wrote for, 14 warning him to beware of Alexander the smith, 16 informeth him what had befallen him at his first defence, 19 and soon after he concludeth.

I [a]CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, [b]who will judge the living and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;

2 Preach the word; apply thyself in season, out of season; reprove, [c]rebuke, [d]exhort with all long-suffering and teaching.

3 [e]For the time will come, when they will not endure [f]sound doctrine; [g]but having itching ears, they will heap to themselves teachers suited to their own desires;

4 And they will turn away their ears from the truth, and [h]will turn themselves to fables.

5 But do thou watch in all things, [i]endure suffering, do the work of [k]an evangelist, ‖make full proof of thy ministry.

6 For [l]I am now ready to be offered, and the time of [m]my departure is at hand.

7 [n]I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

8 Henceforth there is laid up for me [o]the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give me [p]at that day: and not to me only, but to all those also who love his appearing.

9 Make haste to come to me shortly:

10 For [q]Demas hath forsaken me, [r]having loved this present world, and is gone to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia.

11 [s]Only [t]Luke is with me. Take [u]Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for the ministry.

12 And [x]Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14 [y]Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: [z]the Lord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom do thou also beware; for he violently withstandeth ‖our words.

16 At my first defence no one stood with me, [a]but all forsook me: ([b]may it not be laid to their charge;)

17 [c]But the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; [d]that by me the preaching might be fully accomplished, and all the Gentiles hear it: and I was delivered [e]from the mouth of the lion.

18 [f]And the Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me to his heavenly kingdom; [g]to whom be glory for ever and ever! Amen.

19 Salute [h]Prisca and Aquila, and [i]the household of Onesiphorus.

20 [k]Erastus remained at Corinth: and [l]Trophimus I have left at Miletus sick.

21 [m]Make haste to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22 [n]The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

CHAPTER I.

1 For what end Titus was left in Crete. 6 How they that are to be chosen ministers ought to be qualified. 11 The mouths of evil teachers to be stopped: 12 and what manner of men they be.

PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for promoting the faith of God's elect, and [a]the acknowledging of the truth [b]which leadeth to godliness;

2 ‖[c]In hope of eternal life, which God, [d]who cannot lie, promised [e]before the world began;

3 [f]But hath in due time manifested his word through the preaching [g]which is committed to me, [h]according to the command of God our Saviour;

4 To [i]Titus [k]my true son in [l]the common faith; [m]Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou mightest [n]set in order that which ‖remained, and [o]appoint elders in every city, as I had directed thee:

6 [p]If any be blameless, [q]the husband of one wife, [r]having believing children, who are not accused of riot, or unruly.

7 For the overseer must be blameless, as [s]a steward of God: not self-willed, not soon angry, [t]not a tippler, not a striker, [u]not a lover of base gain;

8 [x]But hospitable, a lover of ‖good, sober, just, holy, temperate;

9 [y]Holding fast [z]the faithful word ‖as he hath been taught, that he may be able [a]by sound doctrine both to exhort and to refute the gainsayers.

10 For [b]there are many unruly and vain talkers and [c]deceivers, [d]especially those of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, [e]who subvert whole houses, teaching what they ought not, [f]for the sake of base gain.

12 [g]One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, ‖slow bellies.

13 This testimony is true: [h]wherefore reprove them sharply, that they may be [i]sound in the faith;

14 [k]Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and [l]commands of men who pervert the truth.

15 [m]To the pure all things are pure: but [n]to the defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but even their understanding and conscience are defiled.

16 They profess that they know God; but [o]in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, [p]and as to every good work ‖reprobate.

CHAPTER II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 Of the duty of servants, and in general of all Christians.

BUT do thou speak the things which become [a]sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be ‖watchful, grave, sober, [b]sound in faith, in love, in patience;

5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, [e]obedient to their own husbands, [f]that the word of God be not reviled.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be ‖soberminded;

7 [g]In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, [h]sincerity,

8 [i]Sound speech that cannot be condemned; [k]that the opposer [l]may be ashamed, having nothing evil to say of you.

9 Exhort [m]servants to be subject to their own masters, and to please them well [n]in all things; not ‖opposing them.

10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; [o]that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For [p]the grace of God ‖that bringeth salvation [q]hath appeared to all men,

12 Teaching us, [r]that denying ungodliness, [s]and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;

13 [t]Looking for the blessed [u]hope, and the glorious [z]appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ;

14 [y]Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, [z]and purify for himself [a]a peculiar people, [b]zealous of good works.

15 These things speak and [c]exhort, and rebuke with all authority. [d]Let no one despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

1 Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach. 10 He is willed also to reject the factious: 12 which done, he appointeth him both time and place, wherein he should come to him, and so concludeth.

PUT them in mind [a]to be subject to governments and powers, to obey magistrates, [b]to be ready to every good work,

2 [c]To speak evil of no one, [d]to be peaceful, [e]gentle, shewing all [f]meekness towards all men.

3 For [g]we ourselves also were once foolish, disobedient, going astray, slaves to various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another.

4 But when [h]the kindness and ‖love of God [i]our Saviour towards man appeared,

5 [k]Not on account of works of righteousness which we had done, but through his mercy, he saved us, by [l]the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Spirit,

6 [m]Which he shed on us †abundantly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour;

7 [n]That being justified by his grace, [o]we might be made heirs [p]in hope of eternal life.

8 [q]This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that those who have believed in God may be careful [r]to maintain good works. These things are honourable and profitable to men.

9 But [s]avoid foolish disputes, and genealogies, and contentions, and strifes about the law; [t]for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 A †factious person, [u]after the first and second admonition, [z]reject;

11 Knowing that such an one is subverted, and sinneth, [y]†so that he is self-condemned.

12 When I shall send Artemas to thee, or [z]Tychicus, make haste to come to me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas the lawyer and [a]Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing may be wanting to them.

14 And let our people also learn [b]to ‖maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be [c]not unfruitful.

15 All who are with me salute thee. Salute those who love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ It was written to Titus, chosen first overseer of the church of the Cretans, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

4 He rejoiceth to hear of the faith and love of Philemon, 9 whom he desireth to forgive his servant Onesimus, and lovingly to receive him again.

PAUL, [a]a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, to Philemon our beloved, [b]and fellow-labourer,

2 And to our beloved Apphia, and [c]Archippus [d]our fellow-soldier, and to [e]the church in thy house:

3 [f]Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 [g]I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 [h]Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast towards the Lord Jesus, and towards all saints;

6 That thy participation in the faith may become effectual [i]to the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the hearts of the saints [k]are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, [l]though I might have much boldness in Christ to enjoin upon thee that which is becoming,

9 Yet because of our love I rather beseech thee, being such an one as Paul the aged, [m]and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son [n]Onesimus, [o]whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11 Who was once unprofitable to thee, but is now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent back: do thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own heart:

13 Whom I would have retained with me, [p]that in thy stead he might minister to me in the bonds of the gospel:

14 But without thy mind I would do nothing; [q]that thy favour might not be as of necessity, but voluntary.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE HEBREWS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Christ in these last times coming to us from the Father, 4 is preferred above the angels, both in person and office.

GOD, who in manifold and [a]various ways spoke anciently to our fathers by the prophets,
2 [b]Hath in these last days [c]spoken to us by his Son, [d]whom he hath appointed heir of all things, [e]by whom also he made the worlds;
3 [f]Who being the effulgence of his glory, and the exact image of his ‖substance, and [g]upholding all things by the word of his power, [h]having by himself made expiation for our sins, [i]sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;
4 Becoming so much superior to the †angels, as [k]he hath obtained a name superior to theirs.
5 For to which of the angels said he ever, [l]Thou art my Son, to-day I have begotten thee? And again, [m]I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?
6 ‖And again, when he bringeth [n]the First-begotten into the world, he saith, [o]And let all the angels of God worship him.
7 And †of the angels (messengers) he saith, [p]Who maketh his messengers winds, and his ministers a flame of fire.
8 But to the Son, he saith, [q]Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of †righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom;
9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore, O God, thy God [r]hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
10 And, [s]Thou, Lord, hast in the beginning laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thine hands.
11 [t]They will perish, but thou remainest: and they will all grow old as doth a garment;
12 And as a vesment thou shalt fold them up, and they will be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years will not fail.
13 But to which of the angels hath he ever said, [u]Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?
14 [x]Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for those who are to [y]obtain salvation?

g Luke 1. 74. Rom. 8. 15. 2 Tim. 1. 7.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, that we do not ‖fall away from them.
2 For if the word [a]spoken through angels proved steadfast, and [b]every transgression and disobedience received its just retribution;
3 [c]How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; [d]which at the beginning was spoken by the Lord, and was [e]confirmed to us by those who heard him;
4 [f]God also bearing them witness, [g]both with signs and wonders, and with various miracles, and ‖[h]gifts of the Holy Spirit, [i]according to his own will?
5 For not to angels hath he put in subjection [k]the world to come of which we speak.
6 But one in a certain place testified, saying, [l]What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou ‖visitest him?
7 Thou madest him ‖a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands;
8 [m]Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now [n]we see not yet all things put under him:
9 But we see Jesus, [o]who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, (that by the grace of God he might taste death [p]for every man,) [q]crowned with glory and honour.
10 [r]For it became him, [s]for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make [t]the Captain of their salvation [u]perfect through sufferings.
11 For [x]both he that sanctifieth, and those who are sanctified, [y]are all of one: for which cause [z]he is not ashamed to call them brethren,
12 Saying, [a]I will declare thy name to my brethren, in the midst of the congregation I will sing praise to thee.
13 And again, [b]I will put my trust in him. And again, [c]Behold, I, and the children [d]that God hath given me.
14 Since then the children partake of flesh and blood, he [e]also himself likewise took part in the same; [f]that through death he might destroy him who had the power of death, that is, the devil;
15 And deliver those, who, [g]through fear of death, were all their life-time subject to bondage.

16 For indeed †he aideth not angels; but he aideth the seed of Abraham.

17 Whence in all things it behooved him [h]to resemble his brethren; that he might be [i]a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 [k]For since he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour those who are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ is more worthy than Moses, 7 therefore if we believe not in him, we shall be more worthy punishment than hard-hearted Israel.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of [a]the heavenly calling, consider [b]the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;

2 Who was faithful to him that ‖appointed him, as also [c]Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For he is deemed worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as [d]he who hath built the house, hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is built by some one; but [e]he that built all things is God.

5 [f]And Moses indeed was faithful in all his house, as [g]a servant, [h]for a testimony of that which was afterward to be spoken:

6 But Christ as [i]a Son over his own house: [k]whose house are we, [l]if we hold fast our confidence, and the rejoicing of our hope firm to the end.

7 Wherefore, as [m]the Holy Spirit saith, [n]To-day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, though they saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was angry with that generation, and said, They always go astray in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11 So I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To-day; lest any of you be hardened ‖through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we have become partakers of Christ, [o]if we hold ‖the beginning of our confidence steadfast to the end;

15 While it is said, [p]To-day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 [q]For who were they who, when they heard, provoked him? Nay, did not all who were brought out of Egypt by Moses?

17 And with whom was he angry forty years? was it not with those who sinned, [r]whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

18 And [s]to whom did he swear that they should not enter into his rest, but to those who believed not?

19 [t]So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The rest of Christians is attained by faith. 12 The power of God's word. 14 By our High Priest Jesus the Son of God, subject to infirmities, but not sin, 16 we must and may go boldly to the throne of grace.

LET [a]us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For we have the joyful message of rest, as well as they: but to them the promise which they received was of no avail, not being attended with faith in those who received it.

3 [b]For we who have believed enter into his rest, as he said, [c]As I have sworn in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest; namely, the works of God having been finished at the foundation of the world.

4 For he hath somewhere spoken thus of the seventh day, [d]And God rested on the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, They shall not enter into my rest.

6 Since then it remaineth that some must enter therein, [e]and those who formerly received the promise entered not in because of unbelief,

7 He again fixeth a certain day, To-day, saying, after so long a time, in David, (as it is said,) [f]To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Joshua had given them rest, he would not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a ‖Sabbath-rest for the people of God.

10 For he who hath entered into his rest, hath himself also rested from his works, as God did from his.

11 Let us strive therefore to enter into that rest, that none may fall [g]as a like example of ‖unbelief.

12 For the word of God is [h]living, and powerful, and [i]sharper than any [k]two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of the joints and marrow, and is [l]a discerner of the thoughts and purposes of the heart.

13 [m]Nor is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked [n]and open to the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Having then [o]a great High Priest, [p]who is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, [q]let us hold fast our profession.

15 For [r]we have not an high priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses: but one who [s]was in all points tried as we are, [t]though without sin.

16 [u]Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER V.

1 The authority and honour of our Saviour's priesthood. 11 Negligence in the knowledge thereof is reproved.

FOR every high priest taken from among men, [a]is appointed for men [b]in things pertaining to God, [c]that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 [d]Who ‖can have compassion on the ignorant and erring; since [e]he himself also is encompassed with infirmity.

3 And [f]for this reason he must, as for the people, so also for himself, make offering for sins.

4 [g]And no one taketh this honour to himself, but he who is called of God, as [h]was Aaron:

5 [i]So also Christ honoured not himself to be made an high priest; but he who said to him, [k]Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, [l]Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, [m]offering up prayers and supplications [n]with strong crying and tears to him [o]who was able to save him from death, and being heard ‖[p]in his distress;

8 [q]Though he was a Son, yet learned [r]obedience by that which he suffered;

9 And [s]being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation to all who obey him,

10 Being styled by God a high priest [t]after the order of Melchisedec.

11 Of whom [u]we have much to say, and hard to be explained, since ye are [x]dull of hearing.

12 For when, from the length of time, ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again what are [y]the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of [z]milk, and not of solid food.

13 For every one that useth milk, is inexperienced in the word of righteousness: for he is [a]a babe.

14 But solid food is for those who are ‖of full age, who by ‖use have their perceptions exercised [b]to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER VI.

1 He exhorteth not to fall back from the faith, 11 but to be steadfast, 12 diligent, and patient to wait upon God, 13 because God is most sure in his promise.

THEREFORE [a]leaving the elementary principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on to perfection; not laying again a foundation by repentance [b]from dead works, and faith in God,

2 [c]By the teaching of immersion, [d]and of the laying on of hands, [e]and the resurrection of the dead, [f]and eternal judgment.

3 And this we will do, [g]if God permit.

4 For [h]it is impossible for those [i]who have been once enlightened, and have tasted of [k]the heavenly gift, and [l]been made partakers of the Holy Spirit,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of [m]the world to come,

6 If they shall fall away, to be again renewed to repentance; [n]since they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to open shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh often upon it, and bringeth forth herbs useful to those for whom it is cultivated, [o]receiveth blessing from God:

8 [p]But if it bear thorns and briers, it is rejected, and is near to cursing, and its end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10 [q]For [r]God is not unrighteous to forget [s]your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed towards his name, in that ye have [t]ministered and still minister to the saints.

11 And we desire that [u]every one of you shew the same diligence [x]for maintaining your fully assured hope to the end:

12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of those who through faith and patience [y]obtain the fulfilment of the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by no one greater, [z]he swore by himself,

14 Saying, Surely I will greatly bless thee, and I will greatly multiply thee.

15 And so, by patiently enduring, he obtained the promise.

16 For men indeed swear by the greater: and [a]an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God, wishing to shew more abundantly to [b]the heirs of the promise [c]the immutability of his counsel, †confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope [d]set before us:

19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, [e]and which entereth within the vail;

20 [f]Whither Jesus entered for us as a forerunner, [g]becoming an high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ Jesus is a priest after the order of Melchisedec, 11 and so, far more excellent than the priests of Aaron's order.

FOR this [a]Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; being first by interpretation King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, (which is, King of peace;)

3 Without father, without mother, †without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like the Son of God; remaineth a priest continually.

4 And consider how great was this man, [b]to whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 [c]Those indeed of the sons of Levi, who receive the priesthood, have a command to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they have come from the loins of Abraham:

6 But he whose ‖descent is not derived from them received tithes of Abraham, [d]and blessed [e]him who had the promises.

7 And without any contradiction the less is blessed by the greater.

8 And here indeed men who die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, [f]of whom it is testified that he liveth.

9 And so to speak, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11 [g]If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for on condition of it the people had received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken belongeth to another tribe, of which no one attended at the altar.

14 For it is evident that [a]our Lord sprung from Judah; of which tribe Moses said nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident, if after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest,

16 Who is made, not by a law of carnal commandment, but by the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, [c]Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For there becometh an annulling of the former commandment, from [h]its weakness and unprofitableness,

19 (For [i]the law made nothing perfect,) and the bringing in of [m]a better hope, by which [n]we draw near to God.

20 And inasmuch as it was not without an oath:

21 (For they indeed are made priests ‖without an oath; but he with an oath, by him who said to him, [o]The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:)

22 By so much [p]is Jesus become the surety of a better covenant.

23 And they indeed have been many priests, because they were hindered by death from continuing:

24 But he, because he continueth for ever, hath ‖his priesthood unchangeable.

25 Wherefore he is able also to save ‖entirely those who come to God by him, since he ever liveth [q]to intercede for them.

26 For such an high priest became us, [r]who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, [s]and made higher than the heavens:

27 Who needeth not daily, like the high priests, to offer up sacrifice, [t]first for his own sins, [u]and then for the people's: for [x]this he did once for all, by offering up himself.

28 For the law maketh [y]men high priests, who have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, [z]who is perfected for ever.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 By the eternal priesthood of Christ the Levitical priesthood of Aaron is abolished. 7 And the temporal covenant with the fathers, by the eternal covenant of the gospel.

NOW of what we are saying this is the sum: We have such an high priest, [a]who is seated on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

2 A minister ‖of [b]the sanctuary, and of [c]the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3 For [d]every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore [e]it is necessary that he also have something to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he would not be a priest, the priests being those who offer gifts according to the law:

5 (Who serve in a temple which is the image and [f]shadow of the heavenly, as Moses was directed by God when about to make the tabernacle: [g]for, See (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount;)

6 But now he [h]hath obtained a more excellent ministry, by as much also as he is the mediator of a better ‖covenant, which is established upon better promises.

7 [i]For if that first covenant had been faultless, there would no place have been sought for the second.

8 For, finding fault with it, he saith to them, [k]Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

9 Not according to the covenant which I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For [l]this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, after those days, saith the Lord; I will †put my laws into their mind, and write them on their hearts: and [m]I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11 And [n]they shall not teach every one his neighbour, and every one his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, [o]and their sins and their iniquities I will remember no more.

13 [p]In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath declared the first old. Now that which decayeth and groweth old, is near to dissolution.

CHAPTER IX.

1 The description of the rites and bloody sacrifices of the law, 11 far inferior to the dignity and perfection of the blood and sacrifice of Christ.

NOW the first covenant had ‖ordinances of divine service, and [a]its worldly sanctuary.

2 [b]For there was a first tabernacle made, [c]wherein was [d]the candlestick, and [e]the table, and the shew-bread; which is called Holy.

3 [f]And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;

4 Which had the golden censer, and [g]the ark of the covenant covered on every side with gold, wherein was [h]the golden pot that had the manna, and [i]Aaron's rod that budded, and [k]the tables of the covenant;

5 And [l]over it the cherubim of glory shadowing the mercy-seat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 And these things being thus prepared, [m]the priests go indeed always into the first tabernacle, performing their service:

7 But into the second the high priest only [n]once a year goeth alone, not without blood, [o]which he offereth for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8 [p]The Holy Spirit showing this, that [q]the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, [r]that could not make him who did the service perfect, as to the conscience;

10 Being enjoined only with [s]meats and drinks, and [t]various immersions, [u]and carnal ‖ordinances, until the time of reformation.

11 But Christ coming [x]an high priest [y]of good things to come, [z]entered through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, (that is, not of this creation;)

12 And not [a]with the blood of goats and calves, but [b]with his own blood, [c]once for all into the holy place, [d]and obtained for us eternal redemption:

13 For if [e]the blood of bulls and of goats, and [f]the ashes of a heifer sprinkling the unclean, purifieth to the cleansing of the flesh:

14 How much more [g]will the blood of Christ, [h]who through the eternal Spirit [i]offered himself without ‖spot to God, [k]cleanse your conscience from [l]dead works [m]to serve the living God?

15 [n]And for this reason [o]he is mediator of a new covenant, [p]that by his death, which happened for deliverance from the transgressions under the first covenant, [q]those who are called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.

16 For where a †testament is, there must also of necessity ‖be the death of the testator.

17 For [r]a testament is of force after men are dead, but hath no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 [s]Hence neither was the first covenant ‖solemnized without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, [t]he took the blood of calves and of goats, [u]with water, and ‖scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people,

20 Saying, [x]This is the blood of the covenant which God hath enjoined upon you.

21 And the tabernacle, too, and all the vessels of the service, [y]he in like manner sprinkled with blood.

22 And almost all things are by the law cleansed with blood; and [z]without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was necessary then that [a]the patterns of the heavenly things should indeed be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For [b]Christ did not enter the holy place made with hands, the figure of [c]the true; but heaven itself, now [d]to appear in the presence of God for us:

25 Nor that he might offer himself often, as [e]the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26 (Since then he must often have suffered since the foundation of the world;) but now [f]once for all [g]in the end of the world, he hath appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 [h]And as it is appointed to men once to die, [i]and after this the judgment:

28 So [k]Christ was once for all [l]offered to bear the sins [m]of many; and to those who [n]look for him will appear the second time without sin to salvation.

CHAPTER X.

1 The weakness of the law sacrifices. 10 The sacrifice of Christ's body once offered, 14 for ever hath taken away sins. 19 An exhortation to hold fast the faith, with patience and thanksgiving.

FOR the law having [a]a shadow [b]of the good things to come, and not the very image of the things, [c]can never with those sacrifices which they offer year by year continually, make those who come to them [d]perfect.

2 Since then ‖would they not have ceased to be offered? because the worshippers once cleansed would have had no more consciousness of sins.

3 [e]But in these sacrifices there is a remembrance made of sins every year.

4 For [f]it is impossible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, [g]Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body ‖hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sin-offerings thou hast no pleasure.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, having said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt-offerings and sin-offerings thou wouldest not, nor hast pleasure therein; (which are offered by the law;)

9 Then he saith, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 [h]By which will we are ´sanctified [i]through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth [k]daily ministering and offering often the same sacrifices, [l]which can never take away sins:

12 [m]But he, having offered one sacrifice for sins, hath for ever sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth waiting [n]till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering [o]he hath perfected for ever those who are sanctified.

15 Of which the Holy Spirit also is a witness to us: for after having said before,

16 [p]This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and will write them in their minds;

17 †And their sins and iniquities I will remember no more.

18 Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, [q]‖boldness to enter [r]into the holy place by the blood of Jesus,

20 By [s]a new and ‖living way, which he hath ‖consecrated for us, [t]through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having [u]an high priest over [x]the house of God;

22 [y]Let us draw near with a true heart, [z]in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled [a]from an evil conscience, and [b]our bodies washed with pure water.

23 [c]Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for [d]he is faithful who hath given the promise;)

24 And let us have regard to one another, to stimulate to love, and to good works:

25 [e]Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the custom of some; but exhorting one another; and [f]so much the more, as ye see [g]the day approaching.

26 For [h]if we sin wilfully [i]after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and [k]fiery indignation, which will devour the adversaries.

29 [n]Of how much severer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and [o]hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, [p]and hath done despite to the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him who hath said, [q]Vengeance is mine, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, [r]The Lord will judge his people.

31 [s]It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But [t]call to remembrance the former days, in which, [u]after ye were illuminated, ye endured [x]a great struggle of afflictions;

33 Partly, while ye were [y]openly exposed to reproaches and afflictions; and partly, while [z]ye became companions of those who were so used.

34 For ye had compassion on me [a]in my bonds, and [b]endured joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing ‖that [c]ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, [d]which hath a great reward.

36 [e]For ye have need of patience, that, by doing the will of God, [f]ye may receive the promise.

37 For [g]yet a little while, and [h]he who cometh will come, and will not tarry.

38 And [i]the just will live by faith: but if any one draw back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of those [k]who draw back to perdition; but of those who [l]believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER XI.

1 What faith is. 6 Without faith we cannot please God. 7 The worthy fruits thereof in the fathers of old time.

NOW faith is confidence in things hoped for, the full conviction [a]of things not seen:

2 For [b]by this the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that [c]the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen have not sprung from things which appear.

4 By faith [d]Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he received testimony that he was righteous, God testifying to him on account of his gifts: and by it he being dead [e]‖yet speaketh.

5 By faith [f]Enoch was translated, that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had the testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he who cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of those who diligently seek him.

7 By faith [g]Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, ‖moved with reverence, [h]prepared an ark for the saving of his house; by which he condemned the world, and became heir of [i]the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith [k]Abraham, when called to go out into the place which he was to receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, [l]dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, [m]heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for [n]the city which hath foundations, [o]whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also [p]Sarah herself received strength to conceive seed, and [q]bore a child when she was past age, because she considered him [r]faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore also there sprung from one, and [s]him become as dead, [t]a nation as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea-shore innumerable.

13 These all died †in faith, [u]not having received the promises, but [x]having seen them from afar, and being persuaded of them, and embracing them, and [y]acknowledging that they were strangers and sojourners on the earth.

14 For those who say such things [z]declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they came out, they might have had opportunity to return.

16 But now they seek a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed [a]to be called their God: for [b]he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith [c]Abraham, being tried, offered up Isaac: and he who had received the promises [d]offered up his only begotten son,

18 ‖Of whom it was said, [e]In Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Considering that God [f]was able to raise him up, even from the dead; whence also he received him in a figure.

20 By faith [g]Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob, when dying, [h]blessed both the sons of Joseph; and [i]worshipped, leaning on the top of his staff.

22 By faith [k]Joseph, when he died, ‖made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave command concerning his bones.

23 By faith [l]Moses, when he was born, was hidden three months by his parents, because they saw that the child was fair; and they feared not the king's [m]command.

24 By faith [n]Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter;

25 [o]Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season;

26 Esteeming [p]the reproach ‖of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked to [q]the reward.

27 By faith [r]he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as [s]seeing him who is invisible.

28 Through faith [t]he kept the passover, and performed the sprinkling of blood, that he who destroyed the first-born might not touch them.

29 By faith [u]they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians attempting, were drowned.

30 By faith [x]the walls of Jericho fell down, being encompassed seven days.

31 By faith [y]the harlot Rahab perished not with the ‖unbelieving, since [z]she had received the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I say further? for the time would fail me to tell of [a]Gideon, and [b]Barak, and [c]Samson, and [d]Jephthah, of [e]David, and [f]Samuel, and of the prophets:

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, [g]obtained promises, [h]stopped the mouths of lions,

34 [i]Quenched the violence of fire, [k]escaped the edge of the sword, [l]from weakness were made strong, became valiant in fight, [m]put to flight the hosts of the enemy.

35 [n]Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were [o]tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others endured mockings and scourgings, and, moreover, [q]bonds and imprisonment:

37 [r]They were stoned, were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: [s]they wandered about [t]in sheepskins, and goat-skins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and mountains, and [u]in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all, [x]having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having for our sakes ‖provided [y]something better, that they without us might not be [z]made perfect.

CHAPTER XII.

1 An exhortation to constant faith, patience, and godliness. 22 A commendation of the new testament above the old.

WHEREFORE, let us also, since we are encompassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, [a]lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and [b]let us run [c]with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking to Jesus, the ‖author and finisher of our faith; [d]who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and [e]hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 [f]For consider him who endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, [g]lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 [h]Ye have not yet resisted to blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh to you as to children, [i]My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked by him:

6 For [k]whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 [l]If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons: for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye are without chastisement, [m]of which all are partakers, then ye are bastards, and not sons.

9 What! have our fleshly fathers chastised us, and we paid them reverence, and shall we not much rather be subject to [n]the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they indeed for a few days chastised us ‖after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, [o]that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: yet, afterward it yieldeth [p]the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who are disciplined by it.

12 Wherefore [q]strengthen the weary hands, and the feeble knees;

13 [r]And make ‖straight paths for your feet, that what is lame be not turned out of the way, [s]but rather healed.

14 [t]Follow peace with all, and holiness, [u]without which no one will see the Lord:

15 [x]Looking diligently, [y]lest any man ‖fail of the grace of God; [z]lest any root of bitterness springing up, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16 [a]Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, [b]who for one meal sold his birthright.

17 For ye know that afterward, [c]when he wished to obtain the blessing, he was rejected: [d]for he found no means of changing his father's mind, though he sought it earnestly with tears.

18 For ye are not come to [e]a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and to blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and a speaking voice; which those who heard, [f]entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 (For they could not endure the command, [g]Even if a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

21 [h]And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I fear and tremble!)

22 But ye are come [i]to mount Zion, [k]and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, [l]and to an innumerable company of angels,

23 To the general assembly and church of [m]the first-born, [n]who are enrolled in heaven, and to God [o]the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men [p]made perfect,

24 And to Jesus, [q]the mediator of the new covenant, and to [r]the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things [s]than that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him who speaketh. For [t]if they escaped not who refused him who declared his will on earth, much less shall we, if we turn away from him who speaketh from heaven:

26 [u]Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, [x]Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And the words, Yet once more, signify [y]the removing of that which ‖is shaken, as having been made, that what is not shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore, receiving an unshaken kingdom, ‖let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear;

29 For [z]our God is a consuming fire.

LET [a]brotherly love continue.
2 [b]Forget not to entertain strangers: for thereby [c]some have unawares entertained angels.
3 [d]Remember those in bonds, as bound with them; and those who suffer affliction, as being yourselves also in the body.
4 Let marriage be honourable among all, and its bed be undefiled: [e]but fornicators and adulterers God will judge.
5 Let your disposition be without covetousness; and [f]be content with what ye have: for he hath said, [g]I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.
6 So that we may confidently say, [h]The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do to me.
7 [i]Remember your ‖leaders, who have spoken to you the word of God: [k]mark the result of their course, and imitate their faith.
8 Jesus Christ is [l]the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.
9 [m]Be not carried about with various and strange doctrines: for it is good that the heart be established with grace; [n]not with food, which hath not profited those who have been occupied therein.
10 [o]We have an altar from which those have no right to eat who serve the tabernacle.
11 For [p]the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.
12 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people by his own blood, [q]suffered without the gate.
13 Let us go forth therefore to him without the camp, bearing [r]his reproach.

24 Salute all [q]your leaders, and all the saints. Those of Italy salute you.

¶ Written to the Hebrews from Italy, by Timothy.

¶ THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JAMES.

CHAPTER I.

1 We are to rejoice under the cross, 5 to ask patience of God, 13 and in our trials not to impute our weakness, or sins, to him, 19 but rather to hearken to the word, to meditate in it, and to do thereafter. 26 Otherwise men may seem, but never be truly religious.

[a]JAMES, [b]a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, [c]to the twelve tribes [d]that are scattered abroad, greeting.
2 [e]Count it all joy, my brethren, [f]when ye are involved in various trials;
3 [g]Knowing that the proving of your faith worketh patience.
4 But let patience have its perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, lacking nothing.
5 [h]If any of you lack wisdom, [i]let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and [k]it shall be given him.
6 [l]But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.
7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing from the Lord.
8 [m]A fickle-minded man is unstable in all his ways.
9 Let the brother of humble station glory in being exalted:
10 But the rich, in being humbled: because [n]as the flower of the grass he will pass away.
11 For the sun riseth with a ‖burning heat, and withereth the grass, and its flower falleth away, and the grace of its appearance perisheth: so also will the rich man fade away in his ways.
12 [o]Happy the man who endureth trial! for becoming approved, he will receive [p]the crown of life, [q]which the Lord hath promised to those who love him.
13 Let no one say when he is tried by evil, I am tried by God: for God is untried by ‖evil, and he himself trieth no one:
14 But each one is tried, when he is drawn away and enticed by his own desire.
15 Then, [r]his desire conceiving, beareth sin; and sin, being perfected, [s]bringeth forth death.
16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.
17 [t]Every good gift and every perfect gift cometh down from above, from the Father of lights, [u]with whom is no variableness, nor shadow of turning.
18 [x]Of his own will he begat us with the word of truth, [y]that we should be a kind of [z]first-fruits of his creatures.
19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, [a]let every man be swift to hear, [b]slow to speak, [c]slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore [d]lay aside all filth, and abounding wickedness, and receive with meekness the implanted word, [e]which is able to save your souls.

22 And [f]become doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.

23 For [g]if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and immediately forgetteth how he looked.

25 But [h]whoever looketh closely into the perfect [i]law, which is that of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, [k]this man will be happy in his ‖deed.

26 If any man among you is considered to be religious, and [l]bridleth not his tongue, but leadeth astray his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, [m]To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, [n]and to keep ourselves unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER II.

1 It is not agreeable to Christian profession to regard the rich, and to despise the poor brethren: 13 rather we are to be loving, and merciful: 14 and not to boast of faith where no deeds are, 17 which is but a dead faith, 19 the faith of devils, 21 and not of Abraham, 25 and Rahab.

MY brethren, hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, [a]the Lord of glory, with [b]respect of persons.

2 For if there enter your †assembly, a man with a gold ring, in splendid clothing, and there come in also a poor man in mean clothing;

3 And ye look on him who weareth the splendid clothing, and say to him, Do thou sit here ‖honourably; and say to the poor, Do thou stand there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 Do ye not then make distinctions ‖among yourselves, and become judges having evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, [c]Hath not God chosen the poor of this world as [d]rich in faith, and heirs of ‖the kingdom [e]which he hath promised to those who love him?

6 But [f]ye have despised the poor! Are not the rich those who oppress you, [g]and drag you into courts of justice?

7 Do not they revile the honourable name by which ye are called?

8 If indeed ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, [h]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But [i]if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convicted by the law as transgressors.

10 For whoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, [k]he is guilty in respect to all.

11 For ‖he who said, [l]Do not commit adultery; said also, Do not kill. Now, if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak, and so do, as those who are to be judged by [m]the law of liberty.

13 For [n]the judgment will be without mercy to him who hath shewed no mercy; while [o]mercy ‖triumpheth at the judgment.

16 And [r]one of you say to them, Depart in peace, be warmed and satisfied, yet give them not what is needful for the body; what doth it avail?

17 Thus also faith, if it have not works, is of itself dead.

18 Nay, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith ‖without thy works, [s]and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that God is one; thou doest nobly! [t]even the demons believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith [x]without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, [u]when he offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 ‖Seest thou [x]that his faith wrought with his works, and by works was his faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, [y]Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him for righteousness: and he was called [z]the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 And in like manner also [a]was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she received the messengers, and sent them out by another way?

26 For as the body without the ‖spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

CHAPTER III.

1 We are not rashly or arrogantly to reprove others: 5 but rather to bridle the tongue, a little member, but a powerful instrument of much good, and great harm. 13 They who are truly wise are mild, and peaceable, without envying, and strife.

MY brethren, [a]become not many of you teachers, [b]knowing that as such we shall receive the greater ‖condemnation.

2 For [c]in many things we all err. [d]If any one err not in word, [e]he is a perfect man, able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, [f]we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we guide their whole body.

4 Behold also, the ships, though they are so great, and are driven by fierce winds, are yet guided by a very small helm, whithersoever the director chooseth.

5 So also [g]the tongue is a little member, and [h]boasteth great things. Behold, how great ‖a forest a little fire kindleth!

6 And [i]the tongue is a fire, that world of iniquity! so is the tongue placed among our members, that [k]it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the †course of life; and it is set on fire by hell.

7 For every †kind of beasts, and of birds, and of reptiles, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed, by †mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; an unruly evil, [l]full of deadly poison!

9 With it we bless God, the Father; and with it we curse men, [m]who are made in the likeness of God.

10 From the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, this ought not so to be.

11 Doth the fountain pour forth from the same ‖source sweet water and bitter?
12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear olive-berries? or a vine, figs? so no fountain can yield both salt water and fresh.
13 [n]Who is wise and intelligent among you? let him shew from right conduct [o]his works [p]with meekness of wisdom.
14 But if ye have [q]bitter envying and strife in your hearts, do not [r]glory, and lie against the truth.
15 [s]This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, ‖sensual, devilish.
16 For [t]where envying and strife are, there is †confusion and every evil work.
17 But [u]the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceful, gentle, easily persuaded, full of mercy and good fruits, ‖without partiality, [x]and without hypocrisy.
18 [y]And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace by those who cultivate peace.

CHAPTER IV.

1 We are to strive against covetousness, 4 intemperance, 5 pride, 11 detraction, and rash judgment of others: 13 and not to be confident in the good success of worldly business, but mindful ever of the uncertainty of this life, to commit ourselves and all our affairs to God's providence.

FROM whence come wars and ‖fightings among you? come they not hence, from your ‖lusts [a]that war in your members?
2 Ye desire and have not: ye ‖kill, envy, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.
3 [b]Ye ask, and receive not, [c]because ye ask wickedly, that ye may expend it upon your ‖lusts.
4 [d]Adulterers and adulteresses! know ye not that [e]the friendship of the world is enmity with God? [f]whoever therefore will be a friend of the world is an enemy of God.
5 Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, [g]Doth the spirit that dwelleth in us incline ‖to envy?
6 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, [h]God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble.
7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. [i]Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.
8 [k]Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. [l]Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and [m]purify your hearts, ye [n]fickle-minded!
9 [o]Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep! let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness!
10 [p]Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you.
11 [q]Speak not against each other, brethren. He that speaketh against his brother, [r]and judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.
12 There is one lawgiver, [s]who is able to save, and to destroy: [t]who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?
13 [u]Come now, ye who say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy, and sell, and get gain:
14 (While ye know not what will be on the morrow! For what is your life? ‖[x]It is a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away:)

CHAPTER V.

1 Wicked rich men are to fear God's vengeance. 7 We ought to be patient in afflictions, after the example of the prophets, and Job: 12 to forbear swearing, 13 to pray in adversity, to sing in prosperity: 16 to acknowledge mutually our several faults, to pray one for another, 19 and to reduce a straying brother to the truth.

COME [a]now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you.
2 Your riches are corrupted, and [b]your garments are moth-eaten.
3 Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them will be a witness against you, and will eat your flesh like fire. [c]Ye have heaped up treasures for the last days.
4 Behold, [d]the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is fraudulently kept back by you, crieth; and [e]the cries of the reapers have entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.
5 [f]Ye have lived in luxury and licentiousness on the earth; ye have pampered your hearts, as for a day of slaughter.
6 [g]Ye have condemned, ye have murdered ‖the just; and he doth not resist you.
7 ‖Be patient therefore, brethren, until the coming of the Lord! Behold, the husbandman looketh for the precious fruit of the earth, and waiteth patiently for it, until it receive [h]the early and latter rain.
8 Be ye also patient; strengthen your hearts! [i]for the coming of the Lord draweth near.
9 [k]‖Murmur not against each other, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the Judge [l]standeth before the door.
10 [m]Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, as an example of suffering, and of patience.
11 Behold, [n]we pronounce happy those who endure. Ye have heard of [o]the patience of Job, and have seen [p]the end of his sufferings from the Lord; because [q]the Lord is very pitiful and compassionate.
12 But above all things, my brethren, [r]swear not, either by heaven, or by the earth, or by any other oath: but let your yea, be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.
13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any cheerful? [s]let him sing psalms.
14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, [t]anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:
15 And the prayer of faith will restore the sick, and the Lord will raise him up; [u]and if he have committed sins, they will be forgiven him.
16 Confess your faults to each other, and pray for each other, that ye may be healed. [x]The effectual prayer of a righteous man availeth much.
17 Elijah was a man [y]of like nature with us, and [z]he prayed ‖earnestly that it might not rain: [a]and it rained not on the earth for three years and six months.

18 And [b]he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, [c]if any one among you err from the truth, and one reclaim him;

¶ THE FIRST GENERAL EPISTLE OF PETER.

CHAPTER I.

1 He blesseth God for his manifold spiritual graces: 10 shewing that the salvation in Christ is no news, but a thing prophesied of old: 13 and exhorteth them accordingly to a godly conversation, forasmuch as they are now born anew by the word of God.

PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers [a]scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 [b]Elect [c]according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, [d]through the sanctification of the Spirit, to obedience and [e]sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: [f]Grace and peace be multiplied to you.

3 [g]Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, [h]according to his †abundant mercy, [i]hath begotten us again to a living hope [k]through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, [l]and unfading, [m]reserved in heaven ‖for you,

5 [n]Who are kept by the power of God through faith to salvation, made ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 [o]In which ye greatly rejoice, though now [p]for a season (if need be) [q]ye are afflicted with various trials:

7 That [r]this proof of your faith, being much more precious than gold which perisheth, yet [s]is proved with fire, [t]may be found to praise, and honour, and glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8 [u]Whom, though ye knew him not, ye love; [x]in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory:

9 Receiving [y]the end of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

10 [z]Concerning which salvation the prophets inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace to be bestowed on you:

11 Searching what, or what sort of time [a]the Spirit of Christ that was in them made known, when it testified beforehand [b]the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 [c]To whom it was revealed, that [d]not for themselves, but for us they were ministering the things which have now been announced to you by those who have preached the gospel to you, with [e]the Holy Spirit sent down from heaven; [f]things into which angels desire to look.

13 Wherefore [g]gird up the loins of your mind, [h]be sober, and fix your whole hope on the grace that will be brought to you [i]at the revelation of Jesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, [k]not conforming yourselves to your former desires [l]in your ignorance:

15 [m]But as he who hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all your conduct;

18 Knowing [r]that ye were not redeemed with perishable things, as silver and gold, from your vain course of life [s]derived from your fathers;

19 But [t]with the precious blood of Christ, [u]as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20 [x]Who was fore-ordained indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested [y]in these last times for you,

21 Who through him believe in God, [z]who raised him from the dead, and [a]gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God.

22 And [b]having purified your souls, in obeying the truth through the Spirit, to unfeigned [c]brotherly love, love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23 [d]Being born again, not of perishable seed, but of imperishable, [e]through the word of God, which liveth and remaineth for ever.

24 ‖For [f]all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and its flower falleth away:

25 [g]But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. [h]And this is the word which by the gospel is preached to you.

CHAPTER II.

1 He dehorteth them from the breach of love: 4 shewing that Christ is the foundation whereupon they are built. 11 He beseecheth them also to abstain from fleshly lusts, 13 to be obedient to magistrates, 18 and teacheth servants how to obey their masters, 20 patiently suffering for well-doing, after the example of Christ.

[a]LAYING aside, therefore, all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisy, and envy, and all slander,

2 [b]As new-born babes, desire the ‖pure [c]milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If indeed ye have [d]tasted that the Lord is gracious:

4 To whom coming as to a living stone, [e]rejected indeed by men, but in the sight of God chosen, and precious,

5 [f]Ye yourselves also, as living stones, ‖are built up [g]a spiritual house, [h]a holy priesthood, to offer up [i]spiritual sacrifices, [k]acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, [l]Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner-stone, chosen, precious: and he who trusteth to it will not be put to shame.

7 To you therefore who believe, is this ‖preciousness: but to the disobedient, [m]the stone which the builders rejected, this is become the head-stone of the corner,

8 [n]And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of overthrow; [o]who stumble, being disobedient to the word: [p]to which also they were appointed.

9 But ye are [q]a chosen race, [r]a royal priesthood, [s]a holy nation, [t]a purchased people; that ye should shew forth the perfections of him who hath called you from [u]darkness into his wonderful light:

10 [x]Which once were not a people, but are now the people of God: who had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Beloved, I beseech you, [y]as strangers and pilgrims, [z]abstain from those fleshly lusts, [a]which war against the soul;

12 [b]Having your conduct right among the Gentiles: that, ‖while they speak against you as evil-doers, [c]they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God [d]in the day of their visitation.

13 [e]Submit yourselves to every appointment of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or to governors, as those who are sent by him [f]to punish evildoers, and [g]to reward those who do well.

15 For this is the will of God, that [h]with well-doing ye put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16 ([i]As free, and not †using your liberty as a cloak of wickedness, but as [k]servants of God;)

17 [l]‖Honour all men. [m]Love the brotherhood. [n]Fear God. Honour the king.

18 [o]Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the perverse.

19 For this is [p]acceptable, if a man from conscience towards God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20 For [q]what glory is it, if, when ye commit faults and are beaten, ye bear it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye bear it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

21 For [r]for this ye were called: because [s]Christ also suffered for you, [t]leaving you an example, that ye should follow in his steps:

22 [u]Who committed no sin, nor was deceit found in his mouth:

23 [x]Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but [y]‖committed himself to him who judgeth righteously:

24 [z]Who himself bore our sins in his own body ‖on the cross, [a]that we, being dead to sins, might live to righteousness: [b]by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For [c]ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned [d]to the shepherd and guardian of your souls.

CHAPTER III.

1 He teacheth the duty of wives and husbands to each other, 8 exhorting all men to unity and love, 14 and to suffer persecution. 19 He declareth also the benefits of Christ towards the old world.

LIKEWISE, [a]ye wives, be subject to your own husbands; that, if any disregard the word, [b]they may even without the word [c]be won by the conduct of their wives;

2 [d]While they behold your chaste conduct coupled with fear.

3 [e]Let your ornaments be not those outward ornaments, consisting in braided hair, and wearing of gold, or in putting on costly apparel;

4 But let it be [f]the hidden man of the heart, adorned with the imperishable ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is precious in the sight of God.

5 For thus anciently the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being subject to their own husbands:

6 As Sarah obeyed Abraham, [g]calling him lord: whose †daughters ye have become by doing good and indulging no terror.

7 [h]Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour to the wife, [i]as to the weaker vessel, and as being heirs with them of the grace of life; [k]that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, [l]be all of one mind, sympathising, cherishing brotherly [m]love, [n]compassionate, courteous:

9 [o]Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but on the contrary, blessing; knowing [p]that ye are called for this, to inherit blessing.

10 For [q]he who will love life, and see good days, [r]let him restrain his tongue from evil, and his lips from speaking guile:

11 Let him [s]shun evil, and do good: [t]let him seek peace, and pursue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, [u]and his ears are open to their prayers: but the face of the Lord is †against those who do evil.

13 [x]And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers ‖of that which is good?

14 [y]Nay, if ye even suffer for the sake of righteousness, ye are happy; and [z]fear not their terror, nor be disturbed;

15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and [a]be ready always to give an answer to every one who asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekness and ‖fear.

16 [b]Having a good conscience; [c]that, while they speak against you, as evil-doers, they may be put to shame who slander your good behaviour in Christ.

17 For it is better, if such be the will of God, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.

18 For Christ also hath [d]once for all suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, [e]being put to death indeed [f]in the flesh, but [g]made alive in the spirit:

19 By which also he went and [h]preached to the spirits [i]in prison;

20 That were once disobedient, [k]when the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while [l]the ark was preparing, [m]in which a few (that is, eight souls) were saved by water.

21 [n]The antitype to which, namely, immersion, doth also now save us, (not the putting away of [o]the filth of the flesh, [p]but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) [q]by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Who is gone into heaven, and [r]is on the right hand of God; [s]angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject to him.

that now approacheth: 12 and comforteth them against persecution.

SINCE then [c]Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: (for [b]he that suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;)

2 [c]That ye may no longer [d]live the rest of your time in the flesh for the desires of men, [e]but for the will of God.

3 [f]For the time past of our life may suffice us [g]to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, drunkenness, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, [h]reviling you:

5 Who will give account to him who is ready [i]to judge the living and the dead.

6 For, for this cause [k]was the gospel preached also to those who are dead, that, like all men, they may be judged indeed in the flesh, but by the will of God live in the spirit.

7 But [l]the end of all things is at hand: [m]be sober, therefore, and watch to prayer.

8 [n]And above all things have ardent love among yourselves: for [o]love will cover a multitude of sins.

9 [p]Be hospitable towards each other, [q]without murmuring.

10 [r]Minister to one another each the gift which he hath received [s]as good stewards of [t]the manifold grace of God.

11 [u]If any one speak, let it be as speaking the oracles of God; [x]if any one minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that [y]God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ; [z]to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever! Amen.

12 Beloved, be not surprised at [a]the fiery trial which is proving you, as though some strange thing were befalling you:

13 [b]But rejoice, as [c]ye share the sufferings of Christ; [d]that ye may also rejoice with exultation at the revelation of his glory.

14 [e]If ye are reproached for the name of Christ, ye are happy! for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you. [f]By them indeed he is reviled, but by you he is glorified.

15 But [g]let none of you suffer as a murderer, or thief, or evil-doer, [h]or as a busybody.

16 But if he suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; [i]but let him glorify God on this account.

17 For the time is come [k]when judgment must begin at the house of God: and [l]if it begin with us, [m]what will be the end of those who obey not the gospel of God?

18 [n]And if the righteous is hardly saved, where will the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore, let those who suffer according to the will of God, [o]commit their souls to him in well-doing, as to a faithful Creator.

CHAPTER V.

1 He exhorteth the elders to feed their flocks, 5 the younger to obey, 8 and all to be sober, watchful, and constant in the faith: 9 to resist the cruel adversary the devil.

THE elders who are among you I exhort, who am also [a]an elder, and [b]a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also [c]a partaker of the glory which is to be revealed:

2 [d]Tend the flock of God ‖which is among you, overseeing it, [e]not from constraint, but willingly; [f]not for base gain, but with a ready mind;

3 Nor as ‖[g]being lords over [h]God's heritage, but [i]becoming examples to the flock.

4 And when [k]the chief Shepherd appeareth, ye shall receive [l]the [m]unfading crown of glory.

5 In like manner, ye younger men, submit yourselves to the elder. And [n]all of you be subject to each other, and be clothed with humility: for [o]God resisteth the proud, and [p]giveth grace to the humble.

6 [q]Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 [r]Casting all your anxiety upon him; for he careth for you.

8 [s]Be sober, be watchful; because [t]your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 [u]Whom resist steadfast in the faith, [x]knowing that the same sufferings are endured by your brethren in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, [y]who hath called us to his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after ye have suffered [z]a while, [a]make you perfect, [b]establish, strengthen, settle you.

11 [c]To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever! Amen.

12 [d]By Silvanus, a faithful brother, as I consider, I have [e]written to you briefly, exhorting, and testifying [f]that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13 The church at Babylon, chosen together with you, saluteth you; and so doth [g]Mark my son.

14 [h]Salute one another with a kiss of love. [i]Peace be with you all who are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

¶ THE SECOND GENERAL EPISTLE OF PETER.

CHAPTER I.

1 Confirming them in hope of the increase of God's graces, 5 he exhorteth them, by faith, and good works, to make their calling sure: 12 whereof he is careful to remind them, knowing that his death is at hand: 16 and warneth them to be constant in the faith of Christ, who is the true Son of God, by the eye-witness of the apostles beholding his majesty, and by the testimony of the Father, and the prophets.

SIMON Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who have obtained [a]like precious faith with us through the righteousness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 [b]Grace and peace be multiplied to you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.

3 As his divine power hath given to us all things pertaining to life and godliness,

5 To this very thing [h]give all diligence, and add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, [i]knowledge;

6 And to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness;

7 And to godliness, brotherly kindness: and [k]to brotherly kindness, love.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they render you neither [l]barren [l]nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things [m]is blind, short-sighted, and hath forgotten that he was [n]cleansed from his former sins.

10 Wherefore, brethren, be the more diligent [o]to make your calling and election sure: for doing these things, [p]ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance will be granted to you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore [q]I will not neglect always to remind of these things, [r]though ye know them, and are established in the present truth.

13 And I think it meet, [s]as long as I am in this tent, [t]to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;

14 [u]Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tent, as [x]our Lord Jesus Christ showed to me.

15 And I will always endeavour that ye may be able, after my decease, to have these things in remembrance.

16 For we followed no [y]cunningly devised fables, when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but [z]were eye-witnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when these words came to him from the excellent glory, [a]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased!

18 And these words coming from heaven we heard, when we were with him in [b]the holy mount.

19 ‖And we have as more sure the word of prophecy; to which ye do well in taking heed, as to [c]a light shining in a dark place, until the day dawn, and [d]the day-star arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this especially, that [e]no prophecy of scripture is of the prophet's own solution.

21 For [f]prophecy never came by the will of man: [g]but holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit.

CHAPTER II.

1 He foretelleth them of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment both of them and their followers: 7 from which the godly shall be delivered, as Lot was out of Sodom: 10 and more fully describeth the manners of those profane and factious seducers, whereby they may be the better known, and avoided.

BUT [a]there were false prophets also among the people, even as [b]there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive factions, even [c]denying the Lord [d]who bought them, [e]and bring on themselves swift destruction.

2 (And many will follow their dissolute ways; through whom the way of truth will be reviled.)

3 And [f]through covetousness they will [g]make traffic of you with feigned words: but [h]their long-threatened sentence now for a long time lingereth not, and their destruction doth not slumber.

4 For if God spared not [i]angels [k]that sinned, but [l]cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved to judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved [m]Noah with seven others, [n]a preacher of righteousness, [o]while he brought a flood on the world of the ungodly;

6 And [p]reducing to ashes, condemned to an utter overthrow the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, [q]making them an example to those who should afterward live ungodly;

7 And [r]delivered righteous Lot, wearied out by the profligate conduct of those lawless men:

8 (For, [s]through sight and hearing, the righteous man who dwelt among them, found his righteous soul tormented from day to day with their unlawful deeds;)

9 [u]The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly from trial, and to reserve the unrighteous to the day of judgment to be punished:

10 And especially [x]those who walk after the flesh in polluted desire, and despise alt ‖government. [y]Presumptuous! self-willed! they fear not to rail at dignities!

11 While [z]angels, though greater in strength and power, bring no railing ‖accusation ‖against them before the Lord.

12 But these, [a]like irrational, sensual animals, born for capture and destruction, rail at what they understand not, and will utterly perish in their own corruption,

13 [b]And so receive the reward of their unrighteousness: who regard [c]revels by day a pleasure; [d]spots and stains, ‖revelling in their deceits while [e]they feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of [f]adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; alluring unstable souls: having [f]an heart trained to covetous practices; children of a curse,

15 Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray, following the way of [g]Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass, speaking with man's voice, restrained the madness of the prophet.

17 [h]These are fountains without water, clouds driven by a tempest; for whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For by [i]speaking swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those who [k]had ‖really escaped from those who live in error;

19 Promising them [l]liberty, while they themselves are [m]slaves of corruption: for by whatever a man is overcome, by this he is enslaved.

20 For [n]if after [o]escaping the pollutions of the world [p]through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them, and overcome, their last state is worse than their first.

21 For [q]it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, having known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered to them.

22 But it hath happened to them according to the true proverb, [r]The dog returneth to his own vomit; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER III.

1 He assureth them of the certainty of Christ's coming to judgment, against those scorners who dispute against it: 8 warning the godly, for the long patience of God, to hasten their repentance. 10 He describeth also the manner how the world shall be destroyed: 11 exhorteth them, from the expectation thereof, to all holiness of life: 15 and again, to think the patience of God to tend to their salvation, as Paul wrote to them in his epistles.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write to you; in both which [a]I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may remember the words formerly spoken by the holy prophets, [b]and the command of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 [c]Knowing this especially, that there will come in the last days scoffers, [d]walking according to their own lusts,

4 And saying, [e]Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For of this they choose to be ignorant, that [f]by the word of God there was of old a heaven, and an earth [g]consisting of water and through water:

6 [h]Whereby the world that then was, being deluged with water, perished:

7 But [i]the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved for [k]fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and [l]a thousand years as one day.

9 [m]The Lord doth not delay as to his promise, as some consider it delay; but [n]is long-suffering towards us, [o]not wishing that any should perish, but [p]that all should come to repentance.

10 But [q]the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in which [r]the heavens will pass away with a crash, and the elements will burn and be dissolved, and the earth and the works in it will be burned up.

11 Since then all these things are dissolved, what sort of persons should ye be [s]in all holy conduct and godliness,

12 [t]Looking for and ‖earnestly desiring the coming of the day of God, in which the heavens will [u]be dissolved in fire, and the elements will burn and [x]melt?

13 But, according to his promise, we look for [y]new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, since ye look for such things, be diligent [z]that ye may be found by him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And consider [a]the long-suffering of our Lord salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given to him, hath written to you;

16 As also in all his epistles, [b]speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which the unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, to their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, [c]since ye know these things before, [d]beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness.

18 [e]But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. [f]To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

¶ THE FIRST GENERAL EPISTLE OF JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 He describeth the person of Christ, in whom we have eternal life, by a communion with God: 5 to which we must adjoin holiness of life, to testify the truth of that our communion and profession of faith, as also to assure us of the forgiveness of our sins by Christ's death.

THAT [a]which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, [b]which we have looked upon, and [c]our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

2 (For [d]the life [e]was manifested, and we have seen it, [f]and bear witness, [g]and announce to you the eternal life [h]which was with the Father, and was manifested to us;)

3 [i]That which we have seen and heard we announce to you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and indeed [k]our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things we write to you, [l]that your joy may be full.

5 [m]This then is the message which we have heard from him, and announce to you, that [n]God is light, and in him there is no darkness.

6 [o]If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with each other, and [p]the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 [q]If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, [r]and the truth is not in us.

9 [s]If we acknowledge our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to [t]cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER II.

1 He comforteth them against the sins of infirmity. 3 Rightly to know God is to keep his commandments, 9 to love our brethren, 15 and not to love the world. 18 We must beware of seducers: 20 from whose deceits the godly are safe, preserved by perseverance in faith, and holiness of life.

MY children, I write thus to you, that ye sin not. And if any one sin, [a]we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2 And [b]he is a propitation for our sins:

and not for ours only, but [c]also for those of the whole world.

3 And by this we know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 [d]He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, [e]is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But [f]whoever keepeth his word, [g]in him the love of God is truly perfected: [h]by this we know that we are in him.

6 [i]He that saith he remaineth in him, [k]ought himself also so to walk as he walked.

7 Brethren, [l]I write to you no new commandment, but an old commandment [m]which ye had from the beginning: The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, [n]a new commandment I write to you, which is true in him and in you: [o]because the darkness is passing, and [p]the true light already shineth.

9 [q]He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness until now.

10 [r]He that loveth his brother remaineth in the light, and [s]there is in him no †occasion of stumbling.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and [t]walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write to you, children, because [u]your sins are forgiven you through his name.

13 I write to you, fathers, because ye have known him [x]who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write to you, children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written to you, fathers, because ye have known him who is from the beginning. I have written to you, young men, because [y]ye are strong, and the word of God remaineth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15 [z]Love not the world, nor that which is in the world. [a]If any one love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the desire of the flesh, [b]and the desire of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And [c]the world passeth away, and its desire: but he who doeth the will of God remaineth for ever.

18 [d]Children, [e]it is the last time: and as ye have heard that the [f]antichrist cometh, [g]even now there have risen many antichrists; whence we know [h]that it is the last time.

19 [i]They went out from us, but they were not of us; for [k]if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but they went out, [l]that it might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20 But [m]ye have an anointing [n]from the Holy One, and [o]know all things.

21 I have not written to you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is from the truth.

22 [p]Who is the liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is the antichrist, who denieth the Father and the Son.

23 [q]Whoever denieth the Son, he also hath not the Father: [r]he who acknowledgeth the Son hath also the Father.

24 Let that therefore remain in you, [s]which ye have heard from the beginning. If what ye have heard from the beginning remain in you, [t]ye also will remain in the Son, and in the Father.

25 [u]And this is the promise which he hath promised us, eternal life.

26 I have written these things to you [x]concerning those who seduce you.

27 But [y]the anointing which ye have received of him remaineth in you, and [z]ye need not that any one teach you: but as the same anointing [a]teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, even as it hath taught you, ye shall remain in ‖him.

28 And now, children, remain in him; that [b]when he shall appear, we may have confidence, [c]and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 [d]If ye know that he is righteous, ‖ye know that [e]every one who doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER III.

1 He declareth the singular love of God towards us, in making us his sons: 3 who therefore ought obediently to keep his commandments, 11 as also brotherly to love one another.

BEHOLD what love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that [a]we should be called children of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, [b]because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, [c]now we are children of God, and [d]it is not yet made manifest what we shall be: but we know that, when it is made manifest, [e]we shall be like him; for [f]we shall see him as he is.

3 [g]And every one who hath this hope in him purifieth himself, as he is pure.

4 Whoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law; for [h]sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know [i]that he was manifested [k]to take away our sins; and [l]in him is no sin.

6 Whoever remaineth in him sinneth not: [m]whoever sinneth hath not seen him, nor known him.

7 Children, [n]let no one seduce you: [o]he that doeth righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous.

8 [p]He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, [q]that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 [r]Whoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for [s]his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this are manifest the children of God, and the children of the devil: [t]whoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, [u]nor he that loveth not his brother.

11 For [x]this is the ‖message that ye heard from the beginning, [y]that we should love one another.

12 Not as [z]Cain was of the wicked one, and slew his brother. And why did he slay him? Because his own works were wicked, and his brother's righteous.

13 Wonder not, my brethren, if [a]the world hate you.

14 [b]We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. [c]He that loveth not his brother, remaineth in death.

15 [d]Whoever hateth his brother, is a murderer: and ye know that [e]no murderer hath eternal life remaining in him.

16 [f]By this we know the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for our brethren.

17 But [e]whoever hath this world's possessions, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth his heart against him, [h]how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 My children, [i]let us not love in word, nor in tongue, but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know [k]that we are of the truth, and shall †assure our hearts before him.

20 [l]For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 [m]Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, [n]we have confidence towards God.

22 And [o]whatever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, [p]and do what is pleasing in his sight.

23 [q]And this is his commandment; That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, [r]and love one another, [s]as he gave us commandment.

24 And [t]he that keepeth his commandments, [u]remaineth in him, and he in him. And [z]from this we know that he remaineth in us, from the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He warneth them not to believe all teachers, who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the general faith: 7 and by many reasons exhorteth to brotherly love.

BELOVED, [a]believe not every spirit, but [b]prove the spirits whether they are from God: because [c]many false prophets are gone forth into the world.

2 By this ye know the Spirit of God: [d]Every spirit that acknowledgeth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

3 And [e]every spirit that acknowledgeth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God. And this is the spirit of antichrist, of which ye have heard that it cometh, and is [f]even now already in the world.

4 [g]Ye are of God, children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than [h]he that is in the world.

5 [i]They are of the world: therefore they speak of the world, and [k]the world heareth them.

6 We are of God. [l]He that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth us not. By this we know [m]the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 [n]Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one who loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, [o]knoweth not God; for [p]God is love.

9 [q]In this the love of God is manifested towards us, that God hath sent his only-begotten Son into the world, [r]that we might live through him.

10 In this is love, [s]not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son [t]to be a propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, [u]if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 [z]No one hath ever seen God. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and [y]his love is perfected in us.

13 [z]By this we know that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And [a]we have seen and testify, that [b]the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 [c]Whoever acknowledgeth that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath towards us. [d]God is love: and [e]he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 In this is †our love made perfect, that [f]we may have boldness in the day of judgment: [g]because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth, [h]is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he first loved us.

20 [i]If a man say, I love God, and hate his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love God, [k]whom he hath not seen?

21 And [l]this commandment we have from him, That he who loveth God, love his brother also.

CHAPTER V.

1 He that loveth God loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments: 3 which to the faithful are light, and not grievous. 9 Jesus is the Son of God, able to save us, 14 and to hear our prayers, which we make for ourselves, and for others.

WHOEVER [a]believeth that [b]Jesus is the Christ, is [c]born of God: [d]and every one who loveth him that begot, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3 [e]For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments; and [f]his commandments are not burdensome.

4 For [g]whatever is born of God, overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but [h]he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came [i]by water and blood, Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. [k]And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three that bear witness in heaven, the Father, [l]the Word, and the Holy Spirit: [m]and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive [n]the testimony of men, the testimony of God is greater: [o]for this is the testimony of God which he hath borne concerning his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God [p]hath the testimony in himself: he that believeth not God, [q]hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the testimony that God hath borne concerning his Son.

11 [r]And this is the testimony, that God hath given to us eternal life: and [s]this life is in his Son.

12 [t]He that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13 [u]These things I have written to you who believe on the name of the Son of God; [c]that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have ‖in him, that [y]if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know that he hear us, in whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any one see his brother sin a sin which is not to death, he shall ask, and [z]he will give him life, namely, to those who sin not to death. [a]There is a sin to death: [b]I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 [c]All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not to death.

18 We know that [d]whoever is begotten of God, sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God, [e]keepeth himself, and the wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and [f]the whole world lieth ‖in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and [g]hath given us an understanding, [h]that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. [i]This is the true God, [k]and eternal life.

21 Children, [l]keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

¶ THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN.

1 He exhorteth a certain honourable matron, with her children, to persevere in Christian love and belief, 8 lest they lose the reward of their former profession: 10 and to have nothing to do with those seducers that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Jesus.

THE elder to the elect lady, and her children, [a]whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all those who have known [b]the truth,

2 On account of the truth which dwelleth in us, and will be with us for ever.

3 [c]Grace †be with you, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, [d]in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly, that I found some of thy children [e]walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, [f]not as though I wrote to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, [g]that we love one another.

6 And [h]this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, [i]as ye have heard from the beginning, that ye walk in it.

7 For [k]many deceivers are entered into the world, [l]who acknowledge not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. [m]This is the deceiver, and the antichrist.

8 [n]Look to yourselves, [o]that we lose not that which we have ‖wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 [p]Whoever transgresseth, and remaineth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that remaineth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If any one come to you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, [q]nor bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds.

12 [r]Having much to write to you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come to you, and to speak †face to face, [s]that ‖our joy may be full.

13 [t]The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

¶ THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

He commendeth Gaius for his piety, 5 and hospitality 7 to true preachers: 9 complaining of the unkind dealing of ambitious Diotrephes on the contrary side, 11 whose evil example is not to be followed: 12 and giveth special testimony to the good report of Demetrius.

THE elder to the beloved Gaius, [a]whom I love ‖in the truth.

2 Beloved, I pray ‖that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoice greatly, when brethren came and testified of thy truth, how [b]thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy than to hear that [c]my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatever thou doest to the brethren, and to the strangers;

6 Who have borne witness of thy love before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey †in a manner worthy of God, thou wilt do well:

7 Because for the sake of his name they went forth, [d]taking nothing from the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we may be fellow-labourers with the truth.

9 I wrote to the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Therefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content with this, both he himself receiveth not the brethren, and forbiddeth those who would, and expelleth them from the church.

11 Beloved, [e]follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. [f]He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 Demetrius [g]hath good report from all men, and from the truth itself: and we also bear him testimony; [h]and ye know that our testimony is true.

13 [i]I had much to write, but I choose not to write to thee with ink and pen:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak †face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.

¶ THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JUDE.

He exhorteth them to be constant in the profession of the faith. 4 False teachers are crept in to seduce them: for whose damnable doctrine and manners horrible punishment is prepared: 20 whereas the godly, by the assistance of the Holy Spirit, and prayers to God, may persevere, and grow in grace, and keep themselves, and recover others out of the snares of those deceivers.

Anno DOMINI cir. 66.

JUDE, a servant of Jesus Christ, and [a]brother of James, to those who are sanctified by God the Father, and [b]preserved in Jesus Christ, and [c]called:

2 Mercy, and [d]peace, and love, be multiplied to you.

3 Beloved, while giving all diligence to write to you [e]concerning the common salvation, I thought it necessary for me in writing to you, to exhort you to [f]contend earnestly for the faith which hath once been delivered to the saints.

4 [g]For certain men have crept in, [h]who were before appointed to this condemnation, ungodly men, [i]turning [k]the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and [l]denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5 I will therefore remind you of this, though ye already know it, that [m]the Lord, having saved the people from the land of Egypt, afterward [n]destroyed those who believed not.

6 And [o]the angels who kept not their dignity, but left their own habitation, [p]he hath kept in everlasting chains under darkness [q]to the judgment of the great day:

7 As [r]Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves up to fornication, and going after †strange flesh, are set forth as an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 [s]Likewise also these dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and [t]rail at dignities.

9 Yet [u]Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, [x]ventured not to bring against him a railing accusation, but said, [y]The Lord rebuke thee!

10 [z]But these rail at things which they know not: but what they know sensually, like irrational animals, in these things they corrupt themselves.

11 Wo to them! for they have gone in the way [a]of Cain, and [b]for hire have run eagerly after the error of Balaam, and perish [c]in the rebellion of Korah.

12 [d]These are spots in your [e]feasts of love, feasting with you without fear, feeding themselves: [f]clouds without water, [g]borne on by winds; trees stripped of verdure, without fruit, twice dead, [h]plucked up by the roots;

13 [i]Raging waves of the sea, [k]foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, [l]for whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever!

14 And Enoch also, [m]the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, [n]the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints,

15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convict all the ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have committed, and of all the [o]revilings which ungodly sinners have uttered against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and [p]their mouth speaketh great swelling words, [q]flattering distinguished persons for the sake of profit.

17 [r]But do ye, beloved, remember the words formerly spoken by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;

18 How they told you that [s]there would be scoffers in the last time, who would walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These are they [t]who are separating themselves, [u]sensual, not having the Spirit.

20 But ye, beloved, [x]building up yourselves on your most holy faith, [y]praying in the Holy Spirit,

21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, [z]looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to eternal life.

22 And one class treat tenderly, making a difference:

23 But others [a]save with fear, [b]snatching them from the fire; loathing even [c]the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 [d]Now to him who is able to keep you from falling, and [e]to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 [f]To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and for ever! Amen.

¶ THE REVELATION OF JOHN THE DIVINE.

CHAPTER I.

4 John writeth his revelation to the seven churches of Asia, signified by the seven golden candlesticks. 7 The coming of Christ. 14 His glorious power and majesty.

Anno DOMINI 96.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, [a]which God gave to him, to shew to his servants things which [b]must shortly happen; and [c]he sent and declared them by his angel to his servant John:

2 [d]Who hath borne testimony to the word of God, and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, and to all [e]that he hath seen.

3 [f]Happy he who readeth, and those who hear the words of this prophecy, and keep that which is written in it: for [g]the time is at hand.

4 JOHN to the seven churches in Asia: Grace be to you, and peace, from him [h]who is, and [i]who was, and who is to come; [k]and from the seven Spirits that are before his throne;

5 And from Jesus Christ, [l]the faithful Witness, the [m]First-born from the dead, and [n]the Ruler of the kings of the earth.

To him [c]who loved us, [p]and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 And hath [q]made us kings and priests to God and his Father; [r]to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 [s]Behold, he cometh amidst the clouds; and every eye will see him, and [t]those who pierced him: and all the tribes of the earth will wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 [u]I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and end, saith the Lord, [x]who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, your brother, and [y]companion in affliction, and [z]in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle called Patmos, [a]for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 [b]I was in the Spirit on [c]the Lord's day, and heard behind me [d]a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, [e]I am the Alpha and the Omega, [f]the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it to the seven churches in Asia; to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. And having turned, [g]I saw seven golden lamp-stands;

13 [h]And in the midst of the seven lamp-stands [i]one like the Son of man, [k]clothed with a garment down to the foot, and [l]girt about his breast with a golden girdle.

14 His head and [m]his hair were white like white wool, like snow; and [n]his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 [o]And his feet like fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and [p]his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 [q]And he had in his right hand seven stars: and [r]from his mouth issued a sharp two-edged sword: [s]and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And [t]when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And [u]he laid his right hand upon me, saying to me, Fear not; [x]I am the first and the last:

18 [y]And he that liveth, and was dead; and behold, [z]I live for evermore, Amen; and [a]have the keys of †hell and of death.

19 Write [b]that which thou hast seen, [c]and that which is, [d]and that which is to be hereafter;

20 The secret [e]of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, [f]and the seven golden lamp-stands. The seven stars are [g]the messengers of the seven churches: and [h]the seven lamp-stands which thou sawest are the seven churches.

CHAPTER II.

What is commanded to be written to the messengers, that is, the ministers, of the churches of 1 Ephesus, 8 Smyrna, 12 Pergamos, 18 Thyatira: and what is commended, or found wanting in them.

TO the messenger of the church of Ephesus write: These things saith [a]he who holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, [b]who walketh in the midst of the seven golden lamp-stands;

2 [c]I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not endure the wicked; and [d]thou hast tried those [e]who say they are apostles, and are not; and hast found them liars:

3 And hast endured, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast [f]not fainted.

4 Yet, I have this against thee, that thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember then whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do thy first works: [g]else I will come to thee quickly, and will remove thy lamp-stand from its place, unless thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of [h]the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 [i]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches; To him who overcometh I will give [k]to eat of [l]the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8 And to the messenger of the church in Smyrna, write; These things saith [m]the first and the last, who was dead, and is alive;

9 [n]I know thy works, and affliction, and poverty, (but thou art [o]rich,) and I know the reviling of [p]those who say they are Jews, and are not, [q]but are the synagogue of Satan.

10 [r]Fear nothing of what thou art to suffer. Behold, the devil will cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye will have affliction ten days. [s]Be faithful to death, and I will give thee [t]the crown of life.

11 [u]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches; He that overcometh, shall not be harmed by [x]the second death.

12 And to the messenger of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith [y]he who hath the sharp two-edged sword;

13 [z]I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, [a]where is the seat of Satan: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in the days in which Antipas was my faithful witness, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, that thou hast there those who hold the doctrine of [b]Balaam, who taught Balak to throw a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, [c]to eat idol-sacrifices, [d]and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also those who hold the doctrine [e]of the Nicolaitanes, ‖which thing I hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come to thee quickly, and [f]will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 [g]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches: To him who overcometh I will give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and on the stone [h]a new name written, which no one knoweth, but he that receiveth it.

18 And to the messenger of the church in Thyatira, write; These things saith the Son of God, [i]who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and whose feet are like fine brass;

19 [k]I know thy works, and love, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first:

20 But I have a few things against thee, that thou sufferest the woman [l]Jezebel, who calleth herself a prophetess, to teach

21 And I gave her space [n]to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and those who commit adultery with her into great affliction, unless they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will slay her children with death; and all the churches shall know that [o]I am he that searcheth the reins and hearts: and [p]I will give to each of you according to your works.

24 But to you I say, and to the rest in Thyatira, who have not this doctrine, and have not known the depths of Satan, (as they speak;) [q]I will put upon you no other burden:

25 But [r]what ye have, hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth [s]my works to the end, [t]to him will I give power over the nations:

27 ([u]And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter they shall be dashed in pieces:) as I also have received of my Father.

28 And I will give him [x]the morning-star.

29 [y]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

CHAPTER III.

2 The messenger of the church of Sardis is reproved, 3 exhorted to repent, and threatened if he do not repent. 8 The messenger of the church of Philadelphia 10 is approved for his diligence and patience. 15 The messenger of Laodicea rebuked, for being neither hot nor cold, 19 and admonished to be more zealous. 20 Christ standeth at the door and knocketh.

AND to the messenger of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he [a]who hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; [b]I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, [c]and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen what is remaining, which is about to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 [d]Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and [e]repent. [f]If therefore thou do not watch, I will come upon thee like a thief, and thou shalt not know at what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast [g]a few names even in Sardis that have not [h]defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me [i]in white garments: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh [k]shall be clothed in white garments; and I will not [l]blot out his name from the [m]book of life, but [n]I will acknowledge his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 [o]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

7 And to the messenger of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith [p]the Holy, [q]the True One, he who hath [r]the key of David, [s]he who openeth, and none shutteth; and [t]shutteth, and none openeth:

8 [u]I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee [z]an open door, and none can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make [y]those of the synagogue of Satan, who say they are Jews, and are not, but lie; behold, [z]I will make them to come and fall down before thy feet, and know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, [a]I also will keep thee from the hour of trial, which is coming on [b]all the world, to try those who dwell [c]on the earth.

11 Behold, [d]I come quickly: [e]hold fast what thou hast, that no one take [f]thy crown.

12 Him who overcometh, I will make [g]a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and [h]I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the [i]new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, [k]and my new name.

13 [l]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

14 And to the messenger of the church ‖of the Laodiceans write; [m]These things saith the Amen, [n]the faithful and true Witness, [o]the beginning of the creation of God;

15 [p]I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot!

16 So then, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will cast thee from my mouth:

17 Because thou sayest, [q]I am rich, and increased in goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

18 I counsel thee [r]to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and [s]white garments, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and eye-salve to anoint thine eyes, that thou mayest see.

19 [t]As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, [u]I stand at the door, and knock: [z]If any one hear my voice, and open the door, [y]I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that overcometh I [z]will grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and have sat down with my Father in his throne.

22 [a]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

CHAPTER IV.

2 John seeth the throne of God in heaven. 4 The four and twenty elders. 6 The four animals full of eyes before and behind. 10 The elders lay down their crowns, and worship him that sat on the throne.

AFTER this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and [a]the first voice which I heard, was as of a trumpet talking with me; which said, [b]Come up hither, [c]and I will shew thee that which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately [d]I was in the Spirit: and behold, [e]a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat was in appearance like a jasper and a sardine stone: [f]and there was a rainbow around the throne, in appearance like an emerald.

4 [g]And around the throne were four and twenty seats; and on the seats I saw the four and twenty elders sitting, [h]clothed in white garments; [i]and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5 And from the throne proceeded [a]lightnings, and thunderings, and voices. [l]And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are [m]the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was [n]a sea of glass like crystal: [o]And in the midst of the throne, and around the throne, were four animals full of eyes before [p]and behind.

7 [q] And the first animal was like a lion, and the second animal like a calf, and the third animal had a face as a man, and the fourth animal was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four animals had each of them [r]six wings; around and [s]within they were full of eyes: and †they rest not day and night, saying, [t]Holy, holy, holy, [u]Lord God Almighty, [x]who was, and is, and is to come!

9 And when the animals give glory, and honour, and thanks to him who sitteth on the throne, [y]who liveth for ever and ever,

10 [z]The four and twenty elders fall down before him who sitteth on the throne, [a]and worship him who liveth for ever and ever, [b]and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 [c]Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power: [d]for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER V.

1 The book sealed with seven seals: 9 which only the Lamb that was slain is worthy to open. 12 Therefore the elders praise him, 9 and confess that he redeemed them with his blood.

AND I saw in the right hand of him who sat on the throne [a]a volume written within and on the back side, [b]sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a mighty angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the volume, and to loose its seals?

3 And no one [c]in heaven, or on earth, or beneath the earth, was able to open the volume, or look therein.

4 And I wept much, because none was found worthy to open, and to read the volume, or to look therein.

5 And one of the elders saith to me, Weep not: behold, [d]the lion of the tribe of Judah, [e]the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the volume, [f]and to loose its seven seals.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four animals, and in the midst of the elders, stood [g]a Lamb as having been slain, having seven horns, and [h]seven eyes, which are [i]the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the volume from the right hand [k]of him who sat upon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the volume, [l]the four animals, and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each of them [m]harps, and golden vials full of incense, [n]which are the prayers of saints.

9 And [o]they sung a new song, saying, [p]Thou art worthy to take the volume, and to open its seals: [q]for thou wast slain, and [r]hast redeemed us to God by thy blood [s]from every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 [t]And hast made us kings and priests to our God: and we shall reign on the earth.

12 Saying with a loud voice, [y]Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And [z]every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, I heard saying, [a]Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, to him [b]that sitteth on the throne, and to the Lamb, for ever and ever!

14 [c]And the four animals said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him [d]that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The opening of the seals in order, and what followed thereupon, containing a prophecy to the end of the world.

AND [e]I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as the noise of thunder, [b]one of the four animals, saying, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and behold, [c]a white horse: [d]and he that sat on him had a bow; [e]and a crown was given to him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, [f]I heard the second animal say, Come and see.

4 [g]And there went forth another horse that was red: and power was given to him who sat thereon to take peace from the earth, that they should slaughter one another: and there was given to him a great sword.

5 And when he opened the third seal, [h]I heard the third animal say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo, [i]a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four animals say, ‖A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and, [k]Hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he opened the fourth seal, [l]I heard the voice of the fourth animal say, Come and see.

8 [m]And I looked, and behold, a pale horse: and the name of him who sat on him was Death, and the grave followed with him. And power was given ‖to them over the fourth part of the earth, [n]to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with pestilence, [p]and with the wild beasts of the earth.

9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw under [q]the altar [r]the souls of those who had been slain [s]for the word of God, and for [t]the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, [u]How long, O Lord, [x]holy and true, [y]dost thou delay to punish and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?

11 And there was given to them a [z]white robe; and it was said to them, [a]that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, who were to be slain like themselves, should be filled up.

12 And I beheld when he opened the sixth seal, [b]and lo, there was a great earthquake; and [c]the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood,

13 [d]And the stars of heaven fell to the earth, as a fig-tree casteth her ‖untimely figs, when shaken by a violent wind.

14 [e]And the heaven ‖departed as a scroll that is rolled up; and [f]every mountain and island were moved from their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every slave, and every free-man, [g]hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 [h]And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 [i]For the great day of his wrath is come; [k]and who can stand?

CHAPTER VII.

3 An angel sealeth the servants of God in their foreheads. 4 The number of them that were sealed: of the tribes of Israel a certain number. 9 Of all other nations an innumerable multitude, which stand before the throne, clad in white robes, and palms in their hands. 14 Their robes were washed in the blood of the Lamb.

AND after this I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, [a]holding the four winds of the earth, [b]that the wind might not blow on the earth, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, [c]Hurt not the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, till we have [d]sealed the servants of our God [e]in their foreheads.

4 [f]And I heard the number of those who were sealed: and there were sealed [g]a hundred and forty-four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Asher were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Naphtali were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasseh were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zebulun were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and lo, [h]a great multitude, which no one could number, [i]of all nations, and tribes, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, [k]clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, [l]Salvation to our God [m]who sitteth on the throne, and to the Lamb.

11 [n]And all the angels stood round the throne, and round the elders and the four animals, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 [o]Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be to our God for ever and ever! Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying to me, These who are arrayed in [p]white robes, who are they, and whence came they?

14 And I said to him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, [q]These are those who come out of great affliction, and have [r]washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne will [s]dwell among them.

16 [t]They will hunger no more, and will thirst no more; [u]nor will the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lamb that is in the midst of the throne [x]will be their shepherd, and will lead them to living fountains of waters: [y]and God will wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, 2 seven angels had seven trumpets given them. 6 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow. 3 Another angel putteth incense to the prayers of the saints on the golden altar.

AND [a]when he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.

2 [b]And I saw the seven angels who stand before God; [c]and there were given to them seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given to him much incense, that he should ‖offer it with [d]the prayers of all the saints upon [e]the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And [f]the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, went up before God from the angel's hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and threw it ‖into the earth: and [g]there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, [h]and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, [i]and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast [k]upon the earth: and the third part [l]of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, [m]and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was thrown into the sea: [n]and the third part of the sea [o]became blood;

9 [p]And the third part of the creatures in the sea, that had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, [q]and there fell from heaven a great star, burning like a torch, [r]and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters;

11 [s]And the name of the star is called Wormwood: [t]and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 [u]And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so that the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, [z]and heard an ‖angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, [y]Wo, wo, wo, to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

CHAPTER IX.

1 At the sounding of the fifth angel, a star falleth from heaven, to whom is given the key of the bottomless pit. 2 He openeth the pit, and there come forth locusts like scorpions. 12 The first wo past. 13 The sixth trumpet soundeth. 14 Four angels are let loose, that were bound.

AND the fifth angel sounded, [a]and I saw a star fall from heaven to the earth: and to him was given the key ‖of [b]the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; and [c]there arose a smoke from the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened from the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke [d]locusts upon the earth: and to them was given power, [e]as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them [f]that they should not hurt [g]the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree; but only those men who have not [h]the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And it was given to them that they should not kill them, [i]but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days [k]will men seek death, and will not find it; and will desire to die, and death will flee from them.

7 And [l]the shapes of the locusts were like horses prepared for battle; [m]and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, [n]and their faces were as the faces of men;

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and [o]their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breast-plates, as it were breast-plates of iron; and the sound of their wings was [p]as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: [q]and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 [r]And they had as king over them, [s]the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue he hath his name ‖Apollyon.

12 [t]One wo is past; behold there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altars which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, Loose the four angels who are bound [u]at the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, who were prepared ‖for the hour, and day, and month, and year, to slay the third part of men.

16 [z]And the number of the army [y]of the horsemen was two hundred thousand thousand: [z]and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those sitting on them, having breast-plates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: [a]and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and from their mouths issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued from their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: [b]for their tails were like serpents, and had heads, and with them they hurt.

20 And the rest of the men who were not killed by these plagues [c]yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship [d]demons, [e]and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and wood: which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Nor repented they of their murders, [f]nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

1 A mighty strong angel appeareth with a book open in his hand. 6 He sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that there shall be no more time. 5 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: [a]and a rainbow was upon his head, and [b]his face was like the sun, and [c]his feet like pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: [d]and he set his right foot on the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he cried, [e]seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying to me, [f]Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the earth, [g]lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And swore by him who liveth for ever and ever, [h]who created heaven, and the things that are therein, and the earth, and the things therein, and the sea, and the things therein, [i]that there should be time no longer:

7 But [k]in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God is finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And [l]the voice which I heard from heaven spoke to me again, and said, Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel who standeth on the sea and on the earth.

9 And I went to the angel, and said to him, Give me the little book. And he said to me, [m]Take it, and eat it up; and it will make thy stomach bitter, but it will be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book from the angel's hand, and ate it up; [n]and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it [o]my stomach was bitter.

11 And he said to me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER XI.

3 The two witnesses prophesy. 6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not. 7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them. 8 They lie unburied, 11 and after three days and a half rise again. 14 The second wo is past. 15 The seventh trumpet soundeth.

AND there was given me [a] a reed like a rod: and the angel stood, saying, [b] Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and those who worship therein.

2 But [c] the court which is without the temple, † leave out, and measure it not; [d] for it is given to the Gentiles: and the holy city they will [e] tread under foot [f] forty-two months.

3 And ‖ I will give power to my two [g] witnesses, [h] and they shall prophesy [i] a thousand two hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the [k] two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any one will hurt them, [l] fire proceedeth from their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: [m] and if any one will hurt them, he must thus be killed.

6 These [n] have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and [o] have power over the waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they [p] shall have finished their testimony, [q] the beast that ascendeth [r] from the bottomless pit [s] will make war against them, and overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies will lie in the street of [t] the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, [u] where also our Lord was crucified.

9 [x] And those of the people, and tribes, and tongues, and nations, will see their dead bodies three days and an half, [y] and will not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 [z] And those who dwell upon the earth will rejoice over them, and make merry, [a] and will send gifts to one another; [b] because these two prophets tormented those who dwelt on the earth.

11 [c] And after three days and an half [d] the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon those who saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying to them, Come up hither. [e] And they ascended to heaven [f] in the cloud; [g] and their enemies beheld them.

13 And in that hour [h] there was a great earthquake, [i] and the tenth part of the city fell, and there were slain in the earthquake seven thousand†: and the rest were terrified, [k] and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 [l] The second wo is past; behold, the third wo cometh quickly.

15 And [m] the seventh angel sounded; [n] and there were great voices in heaven, saying, [o] The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; [p] and he will reign for ever and ever!

16 And [q] the four and twenty elders, who sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, We thank thee, Lord God Almighty, [r] who art, and wast, and art to come, that thou hast taken to thee thy great power, [s] and hast reigned.

18 [t] And the nations were enraged, and thy wrath is come, [u] and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to those who fear thy name, [x] small and great; [y] and shouldest destroy those who ‖ destroy the earth.

19 And [z] the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his covenant: and [aa] there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, [b] and great hail.

CHAPTER XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth. 4 The great red dragon standeth before her, ready to devour her child: 6 when she was delivered she fleeth into the wilderness. 7 Michael and his angels fight with the dragon, and prevail. 13 The dragon being cast down into the earth, persecuteth the woman.

AND there appeared a great ‖ wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she, being with child, cried, [c] being in pangs, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another ‖ wonder in heaven; and behold, [b] a great red dragon, [c] having seven heads and ten horns, [d] and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And [e] his tail drew the third part [f] of the stars of heaven, [g] and threw them to the earth: and the dragon stood [h] before the woman who was about to be delivered, [i] to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she bore a male child, [k] who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up to God, and to his throne.

6 And [l] the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared by God, that they may sustain her there [m] a thousand two hundred and sixty days.

7 And there was war in heaven: [n] Michael and his angels fought [o] against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; nor was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And [p] the great dragon was cast out, [q] the old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, [r] who seduceth the whole world: [s] he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, [t] Now is come salvation, and power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ! for the accuser of our brethren is cast down [u] who accused them before our God day and night.

11 And [x] they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; [y] and they loved not their lives to the death.

12 Therefore [z] rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. [a] Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea! for the devil is come down to you, having great wrath, [b] because he knoweth that he hath but a little season.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast to the earth, he persecuted [c]the woman who bore the male child.

14 [d]And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, [e]that she might fly [f]into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished [g]for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent [h]cast out of his mouth water as a flood, after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away by the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman; and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast from his mouth.

17 And the dragon was enraged at the woman, [i]and went to make war with the rest of her seed, [k]who keep the commandments of God, and have [l]the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns, to whom the dragon giveth his power. 11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth: 14 causeth an image to be made of the former beast, 15 and that men should worship it, 16 and receive his mark.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw [a]a wild beast come up from the sea, [b]having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the ‖name of blasphemy.

2 [c]And the wild beast which I saw was like a leopard, [d]and his feet were as the feet of a bear, [e]and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and [f]the dragon gave him his power, [g]and his seat, [h]and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads [i]as it were †wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and [k]all the world wondered after the wild beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon who gave power to the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, [l]Who is like the beast? who can make war with him?

5 And there was given to him [m]a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given to him ‖to continue [n]forty-two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, [o]and his tabernacle, and those who dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given to him [p]to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: [q]and power was given him over all tribes, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all who dwell on the earth shall worship him, [r]whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain [s]from the foundation of the world.

9 [t]If any one hath an ear, let him hear.

10 [u]He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: [z]he that slayeth with the sword, must be slain with the sword. [y]Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I saw another wild beast [z]coming up from the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spoke as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast in his presence, and causeth the earth and those who dwell therein to pay homage to the first beast, [a]whose deadly wound was healed.

15 And he had power to give †life to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, [g]and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be slain.

16 And he causeth all, small and great, rich and poor, free and slaves, [h]†to receive a mark on their right hand, or on their foreheads;

17 And that none might buy or sell, but he who had the mark, or [i]the name of the beast, [k]or the number of his name.

18 [l]Here is wisdom. Let him who hath understanding count [m]the number of the beast: [n]for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred and sixty-six.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The Lamb standing on mount Zion with his company. 6 An angel publisheth his message. 8 The fall of Babylon. 15 The harvest of the world, and putting in of the sickle. 20 The vintage and wine-press of the wrath of God.

AND I looked, and lo, [a]a Lamb stood on the mount Zion, and with him [b]an hundred and forty-four thousand, [c]having his Father's name written on their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, [d]as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of loud thunder: and I heard the voice of [e]harpers harping with their harps:

3 And [f]they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four animals, and the elders: and none could learn the song [g]but the hundred and forty-four thousand, who were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they who have not defiled themselves with women; [h]for they are pure as virgins. These are they [i]who follow the Lamb wherever he goeth. These †[k]were redeemed from among men, [l]being the first-fruits to God and to the Lamb.

5 And [m]in their mouth was found no guile: for [n]they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel [o]flying in the midst of heaven, [p]having an everlasting gospel to publish to those who dwell on the earth, [q]and to every nation, and tribe, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, [r]Fear God, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgment is come: [s]and worship him who made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, [t]Fallen, fallen is Babylon, [u]the great city! because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication!

9 And a third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, [z]If any man worship the wild beast and his image, and receive his mark on his forehead, or on his hand,

10 He himself [y]shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is [z]poured out without mixture into [a]the cup of his indignation; and [b]he shall be tormented with [c]fire and brimstone before the holy angels, and before the Lamb:

11 And [d]the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and those have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 [e]Here is the patience of the saints: [f]here are those who keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me, Write, [g]Happy the dead [h]who die in the Lord ‖from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, [i]that they may rest from their labours; and their works follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat [k]like the Son of man, [l]having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel [m]came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him who sat on the cloud, [n]Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest [o]of the earth is ‖ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, having himself also a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, [p]having power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, [q]Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into [r]the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20 And [s]the wine-press was trodden [t]without the city, and blood came out of the wine-press, [u]up to the horse-bridles, for a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues. 3 The song of them that overcome the wild beast. 7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

AND [a]I saw another sign in heaven, great and wonderful, [b]seven angels having the seven last plagues; [c]because in these is accomplished the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were [d]a sea of glass [e]mingled with fire: and those who had gained the victory over the wild beast, [f]and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, [g]having harps of God.

3 And they sing [h]the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, [i]Great and wonderful are thy works, Lord God Almighty; [k]just and true are thy ways, thou King of ‖saints.

4 [l]Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for [m]all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after this I saw, and behold, [n]the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 [o]And the seven angels, who had the seven plagues, came out of the temple,

[p]clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 [q]And one of the four animals gave to the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, [r]who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And [s]the temple was filled with smoke [t]from the glory of God, and from his power; and none could enter the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were accomplished.

CHAPTER XVI.

2 The angels pour out their vials full of wrath. 6 The plagues that follow thereupon. 15 Christ cometh as a thief. Blessed are they that watch.

AND I heard a loud voice from the temple, saying [a]to the seven angels, Go, and pour out the vials [b]of the wrath of God upon the earth!

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial [c]on the earth; and [d]there fell an evil and grievous sore upon the men [e]who had the mark of the beast, and those [f]who worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial [g]upon the sea; and [h]it became as the blood of a dead man; [i]and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial [k]upon the rivers and fountains of waters: [l]and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, [m]Thou art righteous, O Lord, [n]who art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast inflicted these judgments.

6 For [o]they have shed the blood [p]of saints and prophets, [q]and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy!

7 And I heard another from the altar saying, Even so, [r]Lord God Almighty, [s]true and righteous are thy judgments!

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial [t]upon the sun; [u]and power was given to him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were ‖scorched with great heat, and [x]blasphemed the name of God, who hath power over these plagues: [y]and they repented not [z]to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial [a]upon the seat of the beast; [b]and his kingdom was filled with darkness; [c]and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And [d]blasphemed the God of heaven, because of their pains and [e]their sores, [f]and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial [g]upon the great river Euphrates; [h]and its water was dried up, [i]that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unclean [k]spirits like frogs come from the mouth of [l]the dragon, and from the mouth of the beast, and from the mouth of [m]the false prophet.

14 ([n]For they are the spirits of demons, [o]working miracles,) going forth to the kings of the earth, [p]and of the whole world, to gather them to [q]the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 ([r]Behold, I come as a thief. Happy is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, [s]lest he walk naked, and they see his shame:)

16 [t]And he assembled them into the place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a loud voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, [u]It is done!

18 And [x]there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; [y]and there was a great earthquake, [z]such as was not since men were upon the earth; so great was the earthquake.

19 And [a]the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and Babylon the great [b]was remembered before God, [c]to give to her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And [d]every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 [e]And there fell upon men a great hail from heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and [f]men blasphemed God because of [g]the plague of the hail; for the plague of it was exceedingly great.

CHAPTER XVII.

3, 4 A woman arrayed in purple and scarlet, with a golden cup in her hand, sitteth upon the beast, 5 which is great Babylon, the mother of all abominations. 9 The interpretation of the seven heads, 12 and the ten horns. 8 The punishment of the harlot. 14 The victory of the Lamb.

AND there came [a]one of the seven angels who had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying to me, Come hither; [b]I will shew thee the judgment of [c]the great harlot [d]that sitteth upon the many waters;

2 [e]With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and [f]the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the spirit [g]into the desert: and I saw a woman sitting [h]on a scarlet-coloured beast, full of [i]names of blasphemy, [k]having seven heads and [l]ten horns.

4 And the woman [m]was arrayed in purple and scarlet-colour, [n]and †decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, [o]having a golden cup in her hand [p]full of abominations and the impurity of her fornication:

5 And on her forehead was a name written, [q]A SECRET, BABYLON [r]THE GREAT, [s]THE MOTHER OF ‖HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw [t]the woman drunken [u]with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of [x]the martyrs of Jesus: and I wondered at seeing her, with great wonder.

7 And the angel said to me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee the secret of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, that hath the seven heads, and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not; and [y]will ascend from the abyss, and [z]go into perdition: and those who dwell on the earth [a]will wonder, (whose [b]names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world,) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And [c]here is the mind which hath wisdom. [d]The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And they are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short time.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, [e]and goeth to perdition.

12 And [f]the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, who have as yet received no kingdom; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and will give their power and strength to the beast.

14 [g]These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them: [h]for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: [i]and those who are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith to me, [k]The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, [l]are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, [m]these will hate the harlot, and will make her desolate [n]and naked, and will eat her flesh, and [o]burn her with fire.

17 [p]For God hath put it in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom to the beast, [q]until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman whom thou sawest [r]is the great city, [s]that reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER XVIII.

2 Babylon is fallen. 4 The people of God commanded to depart from her. 9 The kings of the earth, 11 with the merchants and mariners, lament over her. 20 The saints rejoice for the judgments of God upon her.

AND [a]after this I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power; [b]and the earth was enlightened with his glory.

2 And he cried loudly with a strong voice, saying, [c]Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and [d]is become the habitation of demons, and the hold of every foul spirit, and [e]a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations [f]have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, [g]and the merchants of the earth have grown rich through the ‖abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, [h]Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 [i]For her sins have reached to heaven, and [k]God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 [l]Reward her as she rewarded you, and give her double according to her works: [m]in the cup which she hath filled, [n]fill to her double.

7 [o]As much as she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a [p]queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come [q]in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and [r]she shall be utterly burned with fire: [s]for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And [t]the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, [u]will bewail her, and lament for her, [x]when they see the smoke of her burning,

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, [y]Alas, alas! the great city Babylon, the mighty city! [z]for in one hour is thy judgment come!

11 And [a]the merchants of the earth will weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 [b]The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all ‖thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13 And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and ‖slaves, and [c]souls of men.

14 And the fruits that thy soul desired are departed from thee, and all things sumptuous and splendid are departed from thee, and thou shalt no longer find them.

15 [d]The merchants of these things who became rich by her, will stand afar off, for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas! the great city, [e]that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17 [f]For in one hour so great riches are destroyed! And [g]every ship-master, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,

18 [h]And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, [i]What city is like the great city!

19 And [k]they threw dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas! the great city, in which all who had ships in the sea were made rich from her magnificence! [l]for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 [m]Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for [n]God hath avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great mill-stone, and cast it into the sea, saying, [o]Thus with violence shall Babylon, the great city, be thrown down, and [p]shall be no longer found.

22 [q]And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be no longer heard in thee; and no craftsman, of whatever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a mill-stone shall no longer be heard in thee;

23 [r]And the light of a candle shall no longer shine in thee; [s]and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be no longer heard in thee: for [t]thy merchants were the great men of the earth; [u]for by thy sorceries were all nations seduced.

24 And [x]in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all who [y]were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great harlot, and avenging the blood of his saints. 7 The marriage of the Lamb. 10 The angel will not be worshipped. 17 The birds called to the great slaughter.

AND after this [a]I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia! [b]Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, to the Lord our God!

2 For [c]true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great harlot, that corrupted the earth with her fornication, and [d]hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia! And [e]her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And [f]the four and twenty elders and the four animals fell down and worshipped God who sat on the throne, saying, [g]Amen; Alleluia!

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, [h]Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye who fear him, [i]both small and great!

6 [k]And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Alleluia! for [l]the Lord God omnipotent reigneth!

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give him honour: for [m]the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath prepared herself.

8 And [n]to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and ‖white: [o]for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 And he saith to me, Write, [p]Happy are they who are called to the marriage-supper of the Lamb. And he saith to me, [q]These are the true sayings of God.

10 And [r]I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said to me, [s]See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren [t]who have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 [u]And I saw heaven opened, and behold, [x]a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called [y]Faithful and True, and [z]in righteousness he judgeth and maketh war.

12 [a]His eyes were as a flame of fire, [b]and on his head were many crowns; [c]and he had a name written, that no man knew, but himself.

13 [d]And he was clothed with a garment dipped in blood: and his name is called [e]The Word of God.

14 [f]And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, [g]clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And [h]from his mouth goeth forth a sharp sword, that with it he may smite the nations: and [i]he will rule them with a rod of iron: and [k]he treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And [l]he hath on his garment and on his thigh a name written, [m]KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying [n]to all the birds that fly in the midst of heaven, [o]Come, and assemble yourselves to the supper of the great God;

18 [p]That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of those who sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and slaves, both small and great.

19 [q]And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him who sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 [r]And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet who wrought miracles before him, with which he seduced those who had received the mark of the beast, and [s]those who worshipped his image. [t]These both were cast alive into a lake of fire [u]burning with brimstone.

21 And the rest [x]were slain with the sword of him who sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded from his mouth: [y]and all the birds [z]were satisfied with their flesh.

CHAPTER XX.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years. 6 The first resurrection: they blessed that have part therein. 7 Satan let loose again. 8 Gog and Magog. 10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 12 The last and general resurrection.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, [a]having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on [b]the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and [d]set a seal upon him, [e]that he should seduce the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled; and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw [f]thrones, and they sat on them, and [g]judgment was given to them: and I saw [h]the souls of those who were beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and [i]who had not worshipped the beast, [k]nor his image, nor had received his mark upon their foreheads, or on their hands; and they lived and [l]reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Happy and holy is he who hath part in the first resurrection: on such [m]the second death hath no power, but they will be [n]priests of God and of Christ, [o]and will reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, [p]Satan will be loosed out of his prison,

8 And will go out [q]to seduce the nations in the four quarters of the earth, [r]Gog and Magog, [s]to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 [t]And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and encompassed the camp of the saints, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 [u]And the devil that seduced them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, [x]where the beast and the false prophet are, and [y]will be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him who sat on it, from whose face [z]the earth and the heaven fled away; [a]and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, [b]small and great, stand before God; [c]and the books were opened: and another [d]book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged from those things written in the books, [e]according to their works.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 A new heaven and a new earth. 10 The heavenly Jerusalem, with a full description thereof. 23 She needeth no sun, the glory of God is her light. 24 The kings of the earth bring their riches to her.

AND [a]I saw a new heaven and a new earth: [b]for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw [c]the holy city, [c]new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared [d]as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a loud voice from heaven, saying, Behold, [e]the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself will be with them, and be their God.

4 [f]And God will wipe away all tears from their eyes; and [g]there will be no more death, [h]nor sorrow, nor crying, nor will there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And [i]he that sat upon the throne said, [k]Behold, I make all things new. And he said to me, Write: for [l]these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said to me, [m]It is done. [n]I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. [o]I will give to him who is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit ‖all things; and [p]I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 [q]But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in [r]the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came to me one of [s]the seven angels, who had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee [t]the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away [u]in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me [x]the great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 [y]Having the glory of God: and her light was like a stone most precious, like a jasper-stone, clear as crystal;

12 And it had a wall great and high, and had [z]twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

13 [a]On the east, three gates; on the north, three gates; on the south, three gates; and on the west, three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and [b]in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me, [c]had a golden reed to measure the city, and its gates, and its wall.

16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured its wall, an hundred and forty-four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like clear glass.

19 [d]And the foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with every precious stone. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; each single gate was of one pearl; [e]and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 [f]And I saw no temple in it: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 [g]And the city hath no need of the sun, nor of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God enlighteneth it, and the Lamb is its light.

24 [h]And the nations of those who are saved will walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth bring their glory and honour into it.

25 [i]And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for [k]there shall be no night there.

26 [l]And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And [m]there shall by no means enter it any thing that defileth, or that worketh abomination, or maketh a lie; but those who are written in the Lamb's [n]book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The tree of life. 5 The light of the city of God is himself. 9 The angel will not be worshipped. 18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

AND he shewed me [a]a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 [b]In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there [c]the tree of life, which beareth fruit twelve times, yielding its fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were [d]for the healing of the nations.

3 And [e]there will be no more curse: [f]but the throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it; and his servants will serve him:

4 And [g]they will see his face; and [h]his name will be on their foreheads.

6 And he said to me, [m]These words are faithful and true. And the Lord God of the holy prophets [n]sent his angel to shew to his servants the things which must shortly happen.

7 [o]Behold, I come quickly: [p]happy is he who keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I heard and saw, [q]I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel who shewed me these things.

9 And he saith to me, [r]See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of those who keep the words of this book: worship God.

10 [s]And he saith to me, Seal not the words of the prophecy of this book: [t]for the time is at hand.

16 [g]I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify to you these things in the churches. [h]I am the root and the offspring of David, [i]the bright and morning-star.

17 And the Spirit and [k]the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. [l]And let him who is athirst come. And whoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify to every one who heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, [m]If any one add to them, God will add to him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any one shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, [n]God will take away his part ‖from the book of life, and from [o]the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He who testifieth these things saith, [p]Surely I come quickly: [q]Amen. [r]Even so, come, Lord Jesus!

21 [s]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

THE END OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

APR 18 1950

GENERAL INDEX OF PLACES AND RIVERS.

ABARIM, a ridge of mountains between the rivers Arnon and Jordan, including Nebo and Pisgah. See Deut. xxxii. 49, 50; xxxiv. 1; compared with Num. xxxiii. 47.

Abel signifies mourning, and is applied to several places remarkable for great lamentation; as, Abel-mizraim, the mourning of the Egyptians. Gen. l. 11.

Abilene, the tetrarchy of Lysanias, of which Abila was the capital. Luke iii. 1.

Accho, a sea-port of Galilee: when rebuilt by Ptolemy Philadelphus, it was called Ptolemais, and is now called Acre, or St. John d'Acre.

Aceldama, the field of blood; a certain field without the south wall of Jerusalem. Compare Mat. xxvii. 7, 10. Acts i. 19.

Achaia Proper, was a province running westward along the Bay of Corinth; but the term Achaia is often used to include the whole of Greece.

Achor, a valley near Jericho. See Josh. vii. 1—26; xv. 7.

Adam, a city (or town) near Jericho. Josh. iii. 16.

Adamah and Adami, two towns in the tribe of Judah. Josh. xix. 33, 36.

Adria, a city of Italy, which gives its name to the Gulf of Venice, or Adriatic Sea. It was formerly given to the whole of the Mediterranean. Acts xxvii. 27.

Alexandria, a city of Egypt, built by Alexander the Great, and made the capital of the kingdom under the Ptolemies.

Amalekites, the children of Amalek, who dwelt in Arabia Petræa; but frequently wandering like the Arabs. See Gen. xxxvi. 12, 16. 1 Sam. xv. 5, 7. 1 Chron. i. 36.

Ammonites, a people like the preceding, who inhabited, in distinct tribes, probably, the mountains of Paran and Gilead. See Josh. xiii. 25. Judg. xi. 13—23.

Amorites, a race of giants who peopled the mountains west of the Dead Sea, and some parts of the east. Num. xiii. 29. Josh. v. 1.

Anathoth, a city of the priests in the tribe of Benjamin, about three miles north from Jerusalem. 2 Kings ii. 16.

Antioch, a city on the banks of the Orontes, the metropolis of Syria, and, according to Josephus, the third city of the Roman empire. See Acts xi. 26.

Antioch, in Pisidia. Acts xiii. 14. There were several other cities of this name not mentioned in Scripture.

Antipatris, a city in the road from Jerusalem to Cæsarea, and seventeen miles from Joppa, according to Josephus. Acts xxiii. 31.

Appii-forum, a town about forty miles from Rome.

Ar, Areopolis, or Ariel of Moab, a chief city of the Moabites, on the south of the river Arnon. Num. xxi. 28.

Arabia, an extensive country, reaching from the Euphrates to Egypt, and from the Red Sea to the Persian Gulf. It is usually divided into three parts:—1. Arabia Deserta, lying nearly to the east of Judea, and whose inhabitants dwell in tents. 2. Arabia Petræa, or the Rocky, including Mount Sinai. 3. Arabia Felix, or the Happy; so called from its fertility: this was the southern part of Arabia.

Ararat, the mount on which the ark rested. Gen. viii. 4.

Arimathea, a city between Lydda and Joppa, or, as others think, between Joppa and Jerusalem. Luke xxiii. 50.

Armenia, a province of Asia, in which are the sources of the Tigris and Euphrates; and, as many think, it included Eden. See Gen. ii. 10, &c.

Ashdod, or Azotus, a city of the Philistines. Josh. xi. 22; xv. 46. 1 Sam. v. 1.

Ashtaroth, a city of Moab, where that idol was worshipped, allotted to the half tribe of Manasseh. Deut. i. 4. Josh. ix. 10.

Asia, one of the four quarters of the world, as they are usually called; but, in the New Testament, usually confined to Asia Minor, or the Proconsular Asia, comprising Phrygia, Mysia, Caria, and Lydia, in which were planted the seven churches mentioned in the Revelation of St. John.

Assyria, an ancient and immense empire, of which Nineveh was the capital. It was bounded on the north by Armenia, south by Susiana, (or Persia,) west by the Tigris, and east by Media.

Athens, a celebrated city of Greece, the capital of Attica, and the seat of learning, science, and the arts. Here Paul preached. Acts xvii. 16—22.

Baal-peor, a mountain to which Balak brought Balaam, that he might curse Israel. Num. xxiii. 28. The name of this idol (Baal) is also prefixed to several other places where he was worshipped.

Babel, and Babylon: the former name describes a tower built soon after the flood. Gen. x. 1—9. It originally formed the centre of the great city of Babylon. Dan. iv. 30.

Bashan, the country of Og, which lies between Gilead and the Jordan. Num. xxxii. 33.

Beersheba, a city of Syria, in the south extremity of Canaan, about twenty miles from Hebron, where Abraham made a covenant with Abimelech. Gen. xxi. 22—34.

Berea, a city of Macedonia, in the neighbourhood of Athens. Acts xvii. 11.

Bethabara, a village beyond the Jordan, where John baptized, and whither Jesus sometimes withdrew. John i. 28; x. 39, 40.

Bethany, a village on Mount Olivet, where Lazarus dwelt. John xi. 28, 44.

Beth-el, the place where Jacob was favoured with a heavenly vision, supposed to be on the north border of Benjamin. Gen. xxviii. 19.

Bethesda, a pool in the east of Jerusalem.

Bethlehem of Judah, the city of David and of Christ, formerly called Ephrath, or Ephratah. Mic. v. 2. Mat. ii. 1, 6. It is about six miles south of Jerusalem. But there was another Bethlehem in the tribe of Zebulun; and the word Beth, which signifies a house or temple, is prefixed to many other names, as Beth-shemesh, or the City of the Sun; which answers to the Greek Heliopolis.

Bethsaida, the town of Peter, Andrew, and Philip, on the borders of the lake Gennesareth, where our LORD wrought many miracles. Luke x. 13.

Bochim, a place of weeping. Judg. ii. 1—5.

Bozrah, a principal city of Edom, or Idumea, and probably a contraction from Beth-ashtaroth, the temple of Ashtaroth, or Astarte.

Cæsarea, a city in Palestine, formerly called Strato's Tower, but rebuilt by Herod the Great, and thus named in honour of Cæsar. It became the residence of the Roman proconsul, and the metropolis of Judea.

Cæsarea-Philippi, was first called Lesbem, and afterwards Dan, Josh. xix. 47. Judg. xviii. 29; and being afterwards rebuilt by Philip the tetrarch, he called it Cæsarea, in honour of Cæsar, with his own name subjoined.

Calvary, the same as Golgotha, is supposed to have been a hill, just without the city walls. Mat. xxvii. 33. Luke xxiii. 33.

Cana, a town of Galilee, where Jesus wrought his first miracle. John ii. 1—11.

Canaan, in its more contracted sense, as divided by Joshua, is calculated to have been not above 160 miles long by 50 broad; but in its more enlarged sense, it extended south to the desert of Kadesh, north to Lebanon, east to the Euphrates, and west to the Mediterranean. Gen. xv. 18. Deut. xi. 24, &c.

Capernaum, a town on the sea of Galilee, and chiefly inhabited by fishermen, &c. Mat. iv. 15, 16.

Cappadocia, a kingdom famous for horses and flocks. It is mentioned in connexion with Pontus, Galatia, and Bithynia, to which it joined. Acts ii. 9. 1 Pet. i. 1.

Carmel, a mountain on the west side of the Holy Land, rendered famous in the history of Elijah. 1 Kings xviii. 19—46.

Chinnereth, Lake of, the same as Gennesareth, which see.

Cilicia, a country of Asia Minor, having Mount Taurus on the north, and on the south the Cilician Sea, mentioned Acts vi. 9.

Colosse, a city of Phrygia, not far from Laodicea. Col. iv. 13.

Corinth, a rich and noble city of Achaia Proper, where many Jews resided and had a synagogue. Acts xviii. 8.

Crete, an island in the Mediterranean. Of the inhabitants, see Tit. i. 12.

Gath, an ancient city of the Philistines, whose king afforded to David an asylum. 1 Sam. xxvii. 5, 6.

Gaza, another chief city of the Philistines, the scene of Samson's chief exploits. Judg. xvi.

Gehenna. The Gehenna of fire refers to the dreadful punishment of being burnt alive in the valley of Ben Hinnom; a valley on the south-east of Jerusalem, in which the idolatrous Jews sacrificed their children by fire to Moloch, Baal, and the sun. In one spot, called Tophet, was a fire-stove, in which idolaters and other culprits were occasionally burnt. In it Josiah ordered all the offal, bones, carcases of dead dogs and animals, and other filth to be consumed; and to prevent the evils that might result from putrefaction and worms, the fire was never allowed to go out, but was kept incessantly burning, and thus it was a very fit and striking emblem of the everlasting fire of hell. See Lev. xx. 14; xxi. 9. 2 Kings xxiii. 10. 2 Chron. xxviii. 3. Isa. xxx. 33. Jer. vii. 30, 32; xix. 5, 6; xxxii. 35. This passage (Mat. v. 22) refers to three degrees of punishment among the Jews:—1. The city council, an inferior court consisting of twenty-three judges; 2. The Sanhedrim, or great council of the elders of the people, the chief priests, and the scribes, consisting of seventy-two members; and, 3. To the Gehenna of fire: and by these allusions Jesus teaches that under his spiritual reign rash anger, anger contemptuously expressed, and anger with manifest malice, would subject men to such diversities of punishment, as the Jews themselves were accustomed to apportion to atrocious actions, according to their views of criminality.

Gennesareth, (called also Chinnereth,) the Lake of Galilee, about twenty miles long and six broad, surrounded by pleasant towns. See Luke v. 1, &c.

Gerar, the royal city of Abimelech. Gen. xx. 2.
